Daily Press Advertising PAYS

Progressive merchants know this is true. It is proven instantly by a glance through the columns of the paper every day. See the announcements of the many up-to-date business houses of Plainfield and other cities.

We believe in advertising—"blowing our own horn" if necessary. That's why these talks are appearing from time to time. That's why the advertising in the Daily Press has already reached a point where it becomes necessary to print ten pages every night in the week, when a month ago it was seldom necessary to print more than eight.

THE BUSINESS MAN WHO "KNOWS HOW" TO ADVERTISE NEVER FAILS

He also must recognize the best medium for his announcements, and it has only taken six weeks to arouse the advertisers to the fact that Plainfield has a REAL newspaper at last. The Daily Press occupies a unique position in the local field. It goes direct into the homes of the people who have the money to buy. Talk to the women of the family every evening through the NEWSPAPER THAT SHE READS.

Marshall Field said: "I would rather advertise in one newspaper delivered to a home than in a dozen sold in the streets." THE DAILY PRESS GOES INTO OVER TWO THOUSAND HOMES IN PLAINFIELD AND NORTH PLAINFIELD EVERY NIGHT, which means over ten thousand readers, at the least, figuring five to a family. These people read the Daily Press. They do not glance at the headlines and throw it aside, for they know that every item of local news contained therein is prepared by a staff of newsgathers who are sure of their facts before publishing them, and are not constantly printing things which have to be corrected later. It is the same way with the advertisements. The Daily Press has always refused take patent medicine and similar advs. and will continue to do so. The announcements made in this paper are known to be genuine, made by reputable dealers.

Think it over and make up your mind to use the newspaper that has the confidence of the people.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. John Arden and daughter, of Park avenue, have returned from a visit at Yonkers, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour VanBlake, of East Third street, are parents of a boy, born to them yesterday.

Former Deputy Sheriff P. V. Weaver, who has been critically ill, is reported to be slightly improved.

Mrs. Sarah Welsh, of Grant avenue, who has been visiting relatives at Bound Brook, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dumont, of Road Ending, are enjoying the winter months at Jamaica, West Indies.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, of Newark, who has been spending the past week with friends in this city, have returned.

William Lawrence, of Astoria, L. I., has returned home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Warnock, of Craig place.

Mrs. Richard Waring and children, who have been living in Texas, are visiting relatives in Plainfield. Mr. Waring expects to come home later.

Mrs. Martha Furman, of Rockaway, N. J., has returned home after spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. V. W. Nash, Jr., of North avenue.

James Fitzpatrick, of No. 3 fire house, is in Trenton today, as the Plainfield representative at the meeting of the Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association.

Mrs. W. H. Sadler, of the New Madison, entertained a few friends at bridge whist last night. Eight people engaged in play and favors were presented to the winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Murphy are living in an apartment in the Jackson building for the winter. In the spring they will remove to the east end of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bauer and children and Mr. Bauer's mother, of Somerville, have been visiting Mrs. Bauer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, of East Front street.

Mrs. Sarah Knight, of Elmwood place, who fractured her arm a few weeks ago by a fall on the icy pavements, has about recovered the use of the arm. The break was not a bad one.

Moses Schloss, of the firm of S. Scheuer & Co., who has been seriously ill with congestion of the liver, has been removed to Muhlenberg hospital. His condition is reported as slightly improved.

Louis Einstein, of West Fourth street, who recently fell and fractured his spine and later was operated upon by Dr. Albee, a New York specialist, is reported as not being so well. The operation relieved the pressure, but the man's general condition is not so favorable.

Mrs. V. W. Nash, Sr., and her daughter, Miss Margaret C. Nash and son, Augustus C. Nash, of Prospect avenue, leave tomorrow for Bermuda.

Secretary Filed Report.

J. V. E. VanDerhoef, secretary of the Union Building and Loan Association, filed his annual report with the auditing committee last night at the regular meeting. As soon as the committee goes over the report it will be made public.

REMINISCENCES OF EARLY BASEBALL

Discoverer of Curve Ball Tells of Find and Experiences With it.

HE HAS CONVINCING PROOF

Learned Throwing Clam Shells and Applied it to Baseballs, Developing an Art That Revolutionized the Game.

In a modest little cottage in the town of Athol, Mass., lives one of the greatest inventors of the world. While no factories turn out the product of his invention, his discovery is used nearly the world over and from it men have made thousands of dollars and derived national fame.

This inventor is William Arthur Cummings, the discoverer of the curve ball, which revolutionized the great national game of America. If this invention could have been patented and royalties sold, Cummings would have been a millionaire. No ball game of the present day is without the twirler who can shoot a ball across the plate, as master of the curve, which owes its birth to Cummings and a clam shell.

While others have tried to father the honor of inventing the curve ball, Cummings has such convincing proofs—being supported in his claim by some of the best veterans of the field—that he is recognized by authorities as the man who threw the first curve ball. Among the veterans who would tell you that it was Cummings who first publicly displayed how he could make a ball curve in or out are George Wright, John C. Chapman, A. G. Spaulding, "Doug" Allison, N. E. Young, A. C. Anson, Weston Fisler, Thomas Pratt and James White, all of whom formed baseball history in the 70's.

Here is his own story of the discovery of the curve ball:

"It was in the 60's that I discovered the curve ball and, strange to say, it was the idle throwing of half a clam shell that gave birth to such an idea. As I watched the shells sail through their irregular course, the theory developed in my mind that I might apply it in baseball. After watching the shells follow their snaky course I decided that I would try and see if I could throw a ball in a similar manner. I was laughed at by scientific men and baseball experts, but I finally proved to them that the stunt could be done and for a long time I was known as the boy wonder.

"Like all boys, I showed much interest in baseball, and when a little fellow in my native town—Ware, Mass.—I played the old-fashioned round ball that prevailed in the old Bay State. The game consisted of having four stakes for bases. The bat was flat and the batter ran on fouls as well as fair balls. The ball was thrown at the runner, and if he was hit he was called out. In my early 'teens I went with my folks to New York, and it was there that I really got into baseball, and into the best teams in the country.

"My first experience in a club of any note was with an organization called the Carrolls, after Carroll Park in Brooklyn. In the following spring I joined the Star Juniors, which won 37 out of 39 games played. No regulation suits were worn at that time. It was while I was with the Stars that Joseph Leggett, of the Excelsior Club, saw the boys at play, and seemed so impressed with Eddie Booth's and my own playing that he got the consent of our parents to have us join the Excelsiors.

Joins New York Excelsiors.

"You must remember that at this time there were no big leagues playing under the names of cities. The Excelsior was considered one of the strongest teams in New York. I participated in these games during part of '66 and '67 and pitched in a few of them.

"I well remember the first game I pitched. Brainard, who held a national reputation as a boxman, failed to show up and I was substituted. I only weighed 117 pounds, and my opponents—the Eurekas, of Newark, N. J., a strong nine—expected an easy victory. My youthful appearance caused smiles of derision at first on the faces of the batsmen as they noted my delivery, but before the game was over they found they were up against more than they expected, and they went home with a defeat of 24 to 12.

Pitches for Champions.

"I joined the famous Star Club, of Brooklyn, in 1868, and was with it for four years. The club did not lose a series of games, and during all that time won the championship of America and Canada. In 1870 the stars defeated the crack Mutual team of New York, 24 to 12, and in 1871, when the New Yorks won the championship, the Stars beat them 14 to 3. In 1872 I joined the Mutual team, of New York, and pitched every game but one that season.

"The team was composed of Charley Miller, catcher; Nat Hicks, catcher; Cummings, pitcher; Joe Stark, first base; J. Hatfield, second base; Boy, third base; D. Pierce, shortstop; McMullens, left field; Dave Egler, centre field; George Bechel, right field. We finished either third or fourth. In 1873 I went to Baltimore, and was the only pitcher until August, when we got Brainard to help. In 1874 I went to Philadelphia and pitched every game except one, and we finished fourth. In 1875-76 I was with the Hartford team, and we had Tommy Bond to help out in the pitching for a while, but he soon left us.

"We stood second in the race in 1875, and in 1876 second. These games were of the importance of the American and National games of today. I next went to Lynn and was sent as a delegate to the baseball convention in Pittsburgh, where we formed the International Association, a forerunner of the American Association. I finished the season with Cincinnati. In 1878 I played in Albany, N. Y., and was elected president of the association.

"I secured my release from Lynn in July and finished the season with Cincinnati. In 1878 I played in Albany, N. Y., and it was at this time that my health gave out, and I retired from the diamond going to my native town of Ware, and then to Athol.

"After my retirement from the game I did not touch a ball for eighteen years, or until I was invited to take part in a game in Boston, April 13, 1896—Harry Wright day. I went to that city for the purpose, and with a number of National players who were in Boston at the time, played the Harvard team. I was greatly handicapped by the extra fifteen feet in the pitching distance, and was unable to put up the game of old."

Up to 1874 Cummings alone knew the art of all the curves. Bobby Matthews, a Baltimore pitcher, who later went to the Philadelphia Athletics, had mastered the raise ball and was very effective against Strong teams of that time. It was a number of years though before Matthews understood the art of all the curves.

HANK O'DAY'S MANAGERIAL VENTURE CLOSELY WATCHED

Umpire Hank O'Day's appointment as manager of the Cincinnati Reds recalls the fact that few, if any, umpires have made good as baseball managers. Twenty-five years ago "Honest John" Kelly, then king of the umpires, signed as manager of the Louisville American association team and made such a fearful failure that he retired from baseball and became a pugilist referee.

In 1898 Tim Hurst, after gaining great prestige as an umpire, signed as manager of Chris Von der Ahe's Browns. Von der Ahe and Ben Muckenfuss handed "Tiny Tim" an awful team. Hurst did the best he could and always claimed that he was entitled to credit for keeping the team intact and playing out its full schedule. The Messrs. Robinson secured control of the club in 1899 and Tim went back to the umpiring end of the game.

Joe Cantillon, one of the most successful minor league baseball men in the history of the game, took one flier at the big ring and fell down hard. Joe made his reputation in Des Moines and Minneapolis. He owned the Des Moines team the year "Lefty" Leifield, Art Hofman and Claude Rossman landed the Western league pennant for the Iowa aggregation.

Joe's great record in the tall grass resulted in the Washington club engaging him for three years at $10,000 per annum. Cantillon's Washington club had a mortgage on last place while Joe was at the helm. But Joe more than earned his salary when he picked up Walter Johnson for the Nationals. Washington would have no trouble now peddling Walter Johnson for $30,000.

PLANS TO GIVE RUTGERS COLLEGE GYM TEAM TRYOUT.

If the plans of V. S. Ross, manager of the Rutgers College gymnasium team, do not miscarry, the squad will have an exhibition with a team representing the Barringer High School, of Newark, at that place early in March. This proposed meet would give the college athletes a tryout before the big event of the year, the intercollegiates, which comes off at the end of next month.

Manager Ross has been unfortunate in having several exhibitions cancelled, among them being the ones with Harvard and the West Side Y. M. C. A., of New York. The usual annual meets with Yale and Columbia will also be omitted this year, so that no tryout work has been provided for the freshmen members of the squad.

Wauseka Trying for Scranton Team.

Chief Wauseka, the former Carlisle Indian football and baseball star, who had a brief tryout with Scranton two years ago, is seeking another trial, and has made application to Owner Coleman for a berth. Wauseka played part of a season with Harrisburg, when Buck Freeman, now manager of the Miners, played first base. It is probable he will get a chance.

WHAT THE SPORTS EDITOR HAS TO SAY

Peter Maher, the old time heavyweight with the terrible wallop, says he is coming back. He is firm in his intention to again enter the roped arena and wade through the heavyweights of the day. "I can lick a lot of them yet," he declared. If you can Peter, you are a better man than many give you credit of being.

Hoboken bids fair to jar Plainfield out of first place in the Elks' bowling race tonight. The Germans will take on the tailender quintet on their own alleys and do not reckon on shooting very much above form to take all three. The New York team will roll the Jersey City Elks at the latter place, but the result of this meeting cannot affect Plainfield.

In addition to passing Plainfield, Hoboken has a fine chance to get a good lead on the Rutherford crowd, with whom they are sharing second place honors. As Rutherford bowls here Thursday night it fixes up a nice card for the tournament this week. The other games are Queensboro at Newark and New Brunswick at Paterson, Friday night.

The "fans" always look forward to the publication of the big league schedules and they should appear shortly after the meeting of the big moguls of the National at the Waldor Astoria today, while the magnates of the American convene in Chicago. The joint rules committee will also be in session in New York during the conclave but there is no indication of important changes in the code. Neither are there any quarrels between the magnates, for which the fans are truly thankful.

That it's an ill wind that blows nobobdy good has been demonstrated in the failure of Camden fans to buy the franchise of the Lancaster team in the Tri-State League. It could have been secured for $4,000. After a canvass of the business men of Camden, $2,000 was all that could be raised towards placing a first-class team on the circuit and this was contributed by one fan. Lancaster will now retain the team in the league.

Howard Craig, who played third base for the Plainfield Elks and left field for the Westfield team last season, is limping about with a sprained ankle received in a collision while skating on the ice. He thinks it will not keep him out of the game this season.

Chicago fans as well as many in other cities are rejoicing over the reconsideration by Mordecai Brown of his determination to quit the game. The three fingered one is still considered a great pitcher and without him the Cubs would be considerably less feared by opponents. In addition to being in the foremost rank of twirlers he is a fine type of man and a credit to the sport.

Former heavyweight champion James J. Corbett has an athletic club named after him. It was formed last week in Bayside, Long Island, where Gentleman Jim resides. He refused the presidency of the organization because his theatrical engagements take him away from home so much.

SNOW PREVENTS QUAIL FROM FINDING FOOD.

Quail and other game birds are suffering severely during the cold weather, according to reports from various parts of the country to the United States Biological Survey. Dr. Hensaw, chief of the bureau, said Saturday that much was done through the National Association of Audubon Societies and in other ways to preserve the birds, but that the measures taken were inadequate. Provision should be made early in the season, he said, for feeding birds in severe weather and such precautions should be more systematic and thorough.

There has been no loss by starvation of elk in the Jackson Hole region, Wyoming, such as characterized the preceding two winters ago and the animals there thus far have been in good condition, Dr. Henshaw reported. Hay was stored early in the season at various points near the wintering grounds of the big elk herd and they were fed when they could not rustle for themselves.

Youth Comes and Vet Goes.

The Phillies have obtained the services of 17-year-old William Loan, captain of the Southern Manual Training School nine. The lad, who is a catcher, has the reputation of being the youngest player in the major leagues. Loan's guardian did not formally sign a contract, and he will be eligible to play on his school nine next spring. It is hardly likely that he will receive a trial this year. Fred Beck has been transferred to the Buffalo Club, of the International League. Beck had to go to make room for Cravath, who Manager Dooin considers a better player. Beck is a hard hitter, but proved slow and dense in grasping the fine points of the game.

DECISIONS ON TWO RULES AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Rule sharks are awaiting with much interest the decision on the difference, in interpretation of a rule, between Umpire Connelly, of the American League; President Lynch, and Rules Committee Chairman Ward. The tangle will be put up to the rules committee at its meeting next week.

With one out and a runner on first at Boston last season the batter hit a home run. The man on first did not touch second in scoring. Ward and Lynch declare both he and the man who followed him in were out. Connelly says the second runner was safe. The decision to be rendered will settle all doubt regarding the rule.

Another much mooted question to be discussed will be the infield fly. Opinions differ as to just what constitutes an infield fly and its being automatically an out with first and second or first, second and third bases occupied and only one man down.

The Pittsburg Pirates protested a decision under the rule last year, but it was not upheld by President Lynch. It appears that in a game with Cincinnati, the Reds had two men on bases when the batter in an attempt to bunt put up a little pop fly in front of the plate, which Gibson, the Pirate catcher, just failed to reach. Both runners advanced a base and the game eventually went to the Reds. Fred Clark, manager of the Pirates, insisted that the batter was out on the infield fly ruling, but the umpire ruled otherwise and was sustained.

LITTLE BROWN BROTHERS LIKE AMERICAN BASEBALL

Cuba and Japan are not the only islands which baseball has captured. Colonel Manuel Quozon, one of the two commissioners from the Philippines, said in the course of a recent address in Boston:

"Did you know that the Filipino boy takes to your national game as a duck takes to water? In this sport the young men are encouraged by their elders, and it is a common thing to see from 4,000 to 5,000 persons witnessing an important game. The public already understands the fine points of the game, which is, in fact, becoming the national game of the islands. We have several leagues and teams that can hold their own with the teams from the warships.

"Nothing less than a miracle could bring freedom to the Filipinos—lasting freedom, I mean, safe and sure—so quickly as a race of men trained early on the athletic fields, with the game of baseball as the basic sport."

Jack Donaldson a Speed Marvel.

Jack Donaldson, the "blue streak," so called, of Victoria, is a marvelous sprinter, as shown again in his recent contests with A. B. Postle and C. E. Holway at the Jubilee oval, Adelaide, South Australia, when Donaldson won three races. He was first in the 100 yard dash by two feet in 9 7-10 seconds, won the 110 yard dash by a foot in 10½ seconds and captured the 130 yard dash by three feet in 12 3-10 seconds.

Umpire Is Athletic Instructor.

Baseball Umpire John E. Rudderham of Randolph, Mass., is athletic instructor at the University of Illinois. He has full charge of athletics and will have entire supervision of the physical condition of the members of the football, baseball, track and basketball teams. Rudderham last fall trained the football squad, but now has an all the year round position.

American League Wants Murray.

James Murray, of Chester, Pa., an International League umpire, has been tendered a position as a handler of the indicator in the American League. He has a two-year contract with the International League, and this will no doubt prevent him from accepting the more lucrative position unless President Barrow consents to his release.

Will Start Baseball School.

Something new in baseball has been sprung by the formation of the Sweeney Baseball School, in East Liverpool, O., which has applied for an Ohio charter. The dean of the school will be Catcher Ed Sweeney. It is planned to give a series of lectures and actual playing practise to the pupils.

Schuykill Regatta May 25.

The board of stewards of the American Bowling association has selected Philadelphia, May 25 next, for the next annual regatta. It will be held over the association course on the Schuylkill, and the events will be the same as last year.

Stanford Has New Shell.

Stanford university of California, which annually rows against the University of California crews, has received a new eight oared shell from England.

CARL MORRIS SHOWED TO SPLENDID ADVANTAGE

Carl Morris, the Oklahoma giant, outpointed Jim Stewart in their 10-round meeting last night at the Carlyle A. C. in Brooklyn. He forced the issue from start to finish and showed a big improvement in skill. In spite of Stewart's cleverness, the big fireman outboxed him and left no doubt as to his superiority. In each one of the rounds all of which were warm, he had the better of the Brooklyn heavyweight.

While the blows exchanged were hard, none of them drew blood. The winner received $1,800 for his share of the $3,000 purse and the loser $1,200. Two thousand fight fans saw the bout.

BIG POLISH GRAPPLER BESTED ITALIAN CHAMP

With a half-nelson, a leg hold and an inside crotch hold, Stanislaus Zbyszko, the heavyweight champion wrestler of Poland, won over his adversary, Giovanni Raicevich, champion heavyweight grappler of Italy, in Madison Square Garden last night in 54 minutes 52 seconds. After downing his man, the Pole stayed in the ring while the Italian limped to his dressing room and a few minutes later sent word to referee Tom Jenkins that a strained tendon would not permit him to go on again.

It is possible that Frank Gotch will give the winner a bout in the near future for the heavyweight title of the world.

P. H. S. LEADS IN CITY CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The Plainfield High School basketball team won the first of the series of games for the city championship yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A., defeating the Ajax five 37 to 26. The score at the end of the first half stood 23 to 13 against the victors. In the second half the pupils went at the Y. M. C. A. athletes and by closely sticking to their men and ignoring individual playing soon closed up the gap on the score board. This new method of playing the game was followed throughout the period and resulted in pulling a win out of what looked like a loss.

The winners of the citychampionship will receive medals and a cup, donated by the Ritz Company. The lineup follows:

P. H. S.—Zerega and Ricketts, forwards; Good, centre; VanZandt and Nash, guards. Ajax—Peacock and McNamee, forwards; Dunning, centre; Glover and Bryniarski, guards. Referee, Paul Collier; timers, Lindzey and Dickenson.

PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Elizabeth, Feb. 13 (Special).—The Presbyterian Brotherhood of New Jersey held its sixth annual convention in Westminster church here yesterday. There were three sessions and a large number of delegates not only from Elizabeth and Newark, but from all parts of the State attended them.

Following is the complete program of the day:

10:15 to 10:30 A. M.—Devotional and song service, the Rev. Dr. E. B. Cobb; music, under the leadership of Thomas A. Wilson.

10:30 to 10:50 A. M.—Appointment of committees on resolutions, enrolment and advisory; report of executive council, John Findlay, secretary; report of treasurer, Joseph Weber, Jr., treasurer.

10:50 to 11:15 A. M.—Address, "Personal Evangelism," the Rev. Dr. John F. Carson, moderator of the General Assembly.

11:15 to 11:30 A. M.—Discussion, "Personal Evangelism," led by the Rev. James Dallas Steele, Ph. D., of Passaic.

11:30 A. M. to 12:00 M.—Address, "Bible Study," the Rev. Dr. Ford C. Ottman, of Stamford, Conn.

12:00 M. to 12:15 P. M.—Discussion on "Bible Study," conducted by Dr. Ottman.

12:15 to 1:30 P. M.—Luncheon served; guests of the men's clubs, of Elizabeth.

1:30 to 1:45 P. M.—Devotional and song service, the Rev. Louis B. Crane.

1:45 to 2:15 P. M.—Address, "Boys' Work," the Rev. Alexander H. McKinney, Ph. D.

2:15 to 3:00 P. M.—"What Is Social Service?" Nolan Rice Best, editor of the Continent.

3:00 to 3:15 P. M. Report of nominating committee and election.

3:15 to 3:45 P. M.—Address, the Rev. Robert Brewster Beattie, minister of the Munn Avenue Presbyterian church, East Orange.

3:45 to 4:00 P. M.—Reports of committees and miscellaneous business.

Closing hymn, prayer and benediction by the Rev. Dr. John T. Kerr.

New Soloist at First M. E.

Miss Lois Samuel, of Somerville, has been secured as the soprano soloist for the First M. E. church beginning next Sunday. She will succeed Mrs. June Bilby, who has resigned. Raymond A. McGee, Mrs. Charles Austin and Aleck McGowan will be the other members of the quartet.

TAFT REPLIES TO HIS OPPONENTS

Not Progressives, but Extremists, He Says.

CASTS SCORN ON RECALL.

President In Ringing Speech in New York Makes Declaration of Principles That Ex-Senator Depew Characterizes as Republican Textbook of the Coming Campaign.

New York, Feb. 13.—In a ringing speech President Taft replied to all who are opposing his election under the guise of progressives, whether Republican or Democratic. He mentioned no names and made no accusations of disloyalty, but as he cast scorn on the doctrine of the recall of the judiciary his audience thought of Oyster Bay and cheered loudly. He was speaking before the Republican club at its Lincoln dinner in the Waldorf, and after a visit to Newark. He went on to the dinners of the Dry Goods association and the Graduates' club, but the speech which ex-Senator Chauncey M. Depew declared afterward would be taken as the "textbook of the campaign" was delivered to the representatives of his own party.

Reading from Colonel Roosevelt's recent Lincoln quotation that "gold is good in its place, but living, patriotic men are better," Mr. Taft said:

"It has been said and it is a common platform expression that it is well to prefer the man above the dollar, as if the preservation of property rights had some other purpose than the assistance to and the uplifting of human rights. When therefore the demagogue mounts the platform and announces that he prefers the man above the dollar he ought to be interrogated as to what he means thereby, whether he is in favor of abolishing the right of the institution of private property and of taking away from the poor man the opportunity to become wealthy by the use of the abilities God has given him."

The president was speaking at the first of three dinners he was to attend, those of the Graduates' club and the National Retail Dry Goods association being the others, but he did not spare his voice as he went on to declare that the "old" Republican party is the only truly "progressive" party and denounced the kind of progressives who desire "to make the selection of candidates, the enactment of legislation and the decision of courts to depend upon the momentary passions of the people."

The ballroom at the Waldorf was crowded with the club members and their guests when the president arrived. In the Astor gallery were the wives of the club members and their guests, who filled the boxes in the ballroom when the speaking began. It was the club's twenty-sixth annual Lincoln dinner.

Just before President Taft came in he was informed by his secretary that dispatches had been received saying that the Colorado state central committee had voted 105 to 10 to send Taft delegates to the national convention, that the Republicans in Alaska had taken similar action and that the Eighth Virginia district, that of Alexandria, had voted to instruct its two delegates for Taft. The news served to put Mr. Taft into a very pleasant humor, if anything was needed to do so, and the Taft smile was very much in evidence when he posed with Mr. Bannard for the flashlight picture.

MAINE WRECK FLOATS.

Water Let Into the Cofferdam and Remains of the Battleship Rise.

Havana, Feb. 13.—The wreck of the Maine floated free of the mud when water was turned into the dam surrounding it.

The water is up to the harbor level, leaving nothing more to be done except to break the dam and float out the ship, but she will remain within the dam until an order comes from Washington to float her out.

Water was forced into the dam through a system of pipes on the ship's bottom by a pump recovered from the wreck. The ship began to rise almost immediately.

MALE SUFFRAGETTE INSANE.

In Jail For Smashing Windows, He Refused to Eat.

London, Feb. 13.—The militant suffragettes became very much agitated on learning that William Ball, one of their male adherents, who was sentenced to two months' imprisonment for window smashing during the suffragette riot in December, had gone insane while in prison and had been sent to an asylum. Ball followed the tactics of the suffragettes and refused to eat, and the prison authorities had to use force.

His wife ascribes his insanity to this treatment. The suffragettes demand an inquiry into the case.

Big Canal Ousts Railroad.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Work on the Panama canal has advanced so far that the Panama railroad is being worked out of its old right of way. On Feb. 15 the railroad will begin using the section of the relocated track between Gorgona and Gatun, and by April 1 the section of old track will be entirely removed.

There seems to have been a mistake. It isn't Senator Lorimer that's being investigated, but a stenographer named Blumenberg.—New York Evening Telegram.

BRANDT IN COURT TO GAIN FREEDOM

Alton B. Parker Urges Dix Not to Issue Pardon.

CARMODY SEES INJUSTICE.

Convict Who It Is Said Was Railroaded to Prison to Prevent Scandal Appears In Court on Attempt of Attorney to Reopen His Case.

New York, Feb. 13.—Foulke E. Brandt, the former valet of Mortimer Schiff, son of the banker, who is serving a thirty year sentence for burglary in his employer's home, is here today to attend the hearing that may result in his release or pardon. Attorney General Carmody will report to Governor Dix that Brandt is the victim of improper influences used to convict him five years ago.

It was learned that the governor is wavering. On one side of him is the attorney general demanding complete publicity in the Brandt case and an open investigation. On the other are close friends of the governor, among them Alton B. Parker, who are advising the governor to pay no attention to popular clamor, stand by his decision and keep the papers sealed. They are using as their principal argument upon Governor Dix that full publicity in the Brandt case would mean a scandal.

Attorney General Carmody, who is here, said that he believed the governor would be swayed eventually by the facts in the case, not by what either the friends of the Schiffs or of Brandt might say to him. Mr. Carmody will ask Supreme Court Justice Gerard today to delay his decision on the writ of habeas corpus in order that the case might go back to the governor, who is contemplating a review of the proceedings.

"I believe," said Mr. Carmody, "that the pardon will be granted. The governor knows that misrepresentations were made to him, but he is beset by people who tell him that it would be wrong to stir things up again on account of scandal. However, the governor has put the case in my hands. I tackle it for the first time. I am already convinced that Brandt was the victim of what looks like a conspiracy.

"The issues in this case are more important to the state than they are to the unfortunate young man, Brandt. There appears to have been a misuse of the courts. Every ounce of authority in my office will be used to find out who engineered this business."

WILSON IN ILLINOIS.

Opens Campaign In That State at Chicago Banquet.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Governor Wilson of New Jersey fired the opening gun in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination in Illinois in an address delivered before the Iroquois club.

"I believe in the initiative and the referendum because they will give the people real representative government," said Governor Wilson. "They are state and local questions and are designed to give the people the power in localities where special interests have obtained control of public affairs. I have never heard them suggested as a substitute for representative government. In fact, they will safeguard the people in preserving representative government wherever and whenever it is necessary.

"I have never favored the recall of judges because they are not administrative officers of the government. They simply interpret and enforce the law. To urge the recall of judges is to treat a symptom rather than the disease. My idea is to abolish the laws that make it possible for special interest to control the judiciary."

HOLD BOY FOR MURDER.

Frederick Nye Under Arrest at Shamokin Arouses Big Crowd.

Shamokin, Pa., Feb. 13.—Frederick Nye, eighteen years old, is under arrest here charged with murdering Henry Miller in his bowling alley, at Sunbury, Sunday, and then robbing the place. A loaded revolver was taken from Nye when arrested.

One thousand angry people surrounded the train as he was taken to jail at Sunbury. Some wanted to lynch him. He was on parole from a reformatory, having committed burglary several years ago. Miller was a prominent resident of Sunbury.

"IMMORTAL" DIES AT 73.

General Hippolyte Langlois Was French Senator and Military Expert.

Paris, Feb. 13.—General Hippolyte Langlois, senator from the department of Meurthe-et-Moselle and member of the French academy, is dead. He was elected one of the forty "immortals" on Feb. 9, 1911, in succession to Costa de Beauregard.

He was an authority on military strategy and tactics, and his works on modern warfare are widely known. He was born in 1839 and was a grand officer of the Legion of Honor.

Colonel W. M. Bunting Dead.

Boston, Feb. 13.—Colonel William M. Bunting, a leading figure in life insurance circles in New England, died suddenly.

HOSPITAL $90,000 FUND

of workers at the dinner last night and there was no lagging in the enthusiasm which marked the opening of the campaign. Rev. C. S. Kemole, of the Monroe Avenue church, offered the customary prayer. After the excellent dinner was served by the committee of women, George P. Mellick, general chairman, who presided, announced that during the campaign only contributions of $1,000 or more would be made public, but afterward every contribution would be published, even to the smallest amount.

Mr. Mellick said that some one had wondered if it was necessary to have the daily dinners, remarking that they had heard that it would cost $3,500 for the dinners served. By way of explanation, Mr. Mellick said that the committee had found it to be a practical way of securing co-operation in the movement, that the dinners cost the modest sum of fifty cents each and he hoped no one would get the idea that they were costing $3 or $4 a plate.

Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, who sat at the officers' table, was called upon by Mr. Mellick to say a few words. He said that the scene was an inspiring one and suggested one of two things to him, that those present were very hungry or else much interested in the movement. He called the attention of the workers to a text displayed in the hall: "We Can if We Will," adding that it had impressed him very much. He said that even if the $90,000 should not be raised the movement would be a great gain to the people. For the man who gives it would mean pleasure and for the one who collects the money it would prove how easily money can be secured under the inspiration of a proper organization, but he felt sure that the movement would not fail.

Referring to the important part the women have in such a movement, Mr. Gilbert said that he himself had not yet announced his contribution to the fund. "But," he continued, "I am in the toils of a strong and handsome woman and I cannot get away. I believe that many are held as I am. When a woman enters such a contest as this she carries a weapon that one cannot resist.

"Plainfield has just discovered how to do the trick. The movement is interesting everyone. You cannot select a certain class and hope to succeed. It is only by getting everyone interested that this can be done."

Former City Judge William N. Runyon, who has been selected for that duty, then called for the day's contributions through the various captains. While the different amounts were being anounced, there was almost continuous applause as one after another of the captains made known the subscriptions secured by their workers. In answer to a question by one of the workers, Mr. Mellick explained that contributors could subscribe upon the condition that the whole of $90,000 was raised or not just as they pleased, the only difference being that if conditions were imposed it would mean that much harder work for the various committees. However, he expressed the belief that there was no longer any doubt as to the final success of the campaign, for he felt sure that the $90,000 would be secured within the prescribed time.

Below is the relative standing of the companies and teams so far in the campaign:

PRESIDENT OF CHINA AN AMERICAN CITIZEN.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the Chinese republic, is a naturalized American.

The department of commerce and labor so held in 1904, on the ground that Dr. Sun, who had been born in the Hawaiian Islands, had been endowed with American citizenship by the act of 1900, which provided a government for Hawaii and declared all citizens of the territory to be citizens of the United States.

Rode On Walk; Fined.

Rudolph Heinold, of Duer street and George Wilson, of Somerset street, two special delivery boys at the local postoffice, were fined one dollar each by Recorder M. F. Gano in the borough court, this morning. They were arrested for riding bicycles on the sidewalk.

The secret is out at last. The tottering Chinese throne is operated on the gyroscope principle—New York Herald.

FRANK COFFYN.

Aviator Who Takes Motion Picture Operator to Visit Goddess.

MOTION PICTURES IN AIR.

Coffyn and Duff Circle Miss Liberty With Reel Going.

New York, Feb. 13.—Frank Coffyn in his marine biplane played hide and seek with the sea gulls and flirted with Miss Liberty, while A. C. Duff, an American Press Association photographer, took moving pictures from above. Coffyn was up 14 minutes 37 3-5 seconds, during which time he circled the bronze goddess, flew to Ellis Island and made two calls at Governors Island.

Both Coffyn and Duff were well chilled when they landed and drank considerable hot coffee. Eagerly waiting at the pier were Mr. and Mrs. George Coffyn, parents of the aviator, and his sister, Miss Harriet Coffyn. Mrs. Coffyn explained that Coffyn was spelled with an "i," but Frank preferred spelling it with a "y." It was the first time Mr. and Mrs. Coffyn had seen their son fly, and their eyes never left him for an instant.

This is the first time that moving pictures have been taken of Miss Liberty from an aeroplane, and in the torch of the statue was another motion picture camera taking pictures of the aeroplane. The Battery wall was crowded with spectators.

BAR AMERICAN WIFE.

Earl of Granard May Not Become Lord Chamberlain.

London, Feb. 13.—There are reports in society that the Earl of Granard, who has just resigned, is not likely to be appointed because of the fact that his wife, who was Miss Beatrice Mills, is an American.

It is rumored that the specific objection to him is that it would be impolitic to have an American woman in a position to influence the lord chamberlain, who is the practical arbiter of British society through his power to determine who shall be commanded to attend court functions. The story has received much currency, but so far is not backed by anything authoritative.

NOTED SCIENTIST DIES.

Dr. G. Armeauer Hansen Discovered Bacillus of Leprosy.

Christiania, Feb. 13. Dr. G. Armeauer Hansen, the biologist, and discoverer of the bacillus of leprosy, is dead. He was the head of the leper hospital at Bergen, Norway.

During the excitement in Washington and New York in 1909 over the case of John Early, the supposed leper, Dr. Hansen declared he had found the bacillus of leprosy in a piece of skin from Early. It was supposed at the time that Early had contracted the disease in the Philippines while serving in the American army there.

NO DOLLAR A DAY PENSIONS.

Senate Committee Rejects the Sherwood Bill.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The Sherwood "dollar a day" pension bill was rejected by the senate committee on pensions and another measure, which would involve an annual expenditure of $24,000,000, proposed as a substitute by Senator Smoot of Utah, was adopted.

Senators Brown (Nebraska) and Curtis (Kansas) gave notice that in the senate they would press the Sherwood bill as a substitute for the Smoot bill.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

NOVEL BAKED POTATOES.

BAKED in the skins, potatoes are delicious and appetizing, but there are other ways of baking them that will appeal to the housekeeper in these days when nutritious vegetable dishes are in demand.

Culinary Hints.

Cold baked potatoes can be utilized in several ways. One of them is given here.

Potatoes Stuffed.—Cut the baked potatoes in half, take out the inside of each and, after heating, place in a mixing bowl with some melted butter and salt to taste. A little sweet cream may also be added. Mash the potatoes and whip until light and flaky.

Take the empty potato shells, dust the inside with Parmesan cheese, fill with the potato mixture and cover the top with cheese sprinkled with cayenne pepper. Place in the oven to brown and serve hot. The whites of one or two eggs beaten and added to the potatoes will add to the value of this dish.

In Individual Vessels.

Browned Mashed Potatoes.—These are nice served in individual baking dishes and garnished with sprigs of parsley. A nice way of preparing the mashed potatoes for browning is to add to them a teaspoonful of salt and half a cupful of cream to the quart of mashed potatoes.

Then put into the baking dishes or baking dish, if only a single large one is used, furrow with a fork, place a few little pieces of butter on the top and set in the oven to brown.

Delectable Dishes.

Royal Potatoes.—While there may be nothing in a name, these potatoes are certainly worthy of the one they bear. They are prepared as follows: Take a pint of medium sized potatoes, one egg, a teaspoonful of butter, half a teaspoonful of salt and a scant saltspoonful of white pepper. Wash, pare and boil the potatoes; when dry put in the butter, salt and pepper and mash quickly. Add the egg well beaten and three tablespoonfuls of cream or milk.

Mix and form into a flat cake half an inch thick. Cut into oblongs or squares or shape into balls, brush over with white of egg or milk and bake in a hot oven until a delicate brown.

of velvet, some of the hats of picture dimensions having streamers which sometimes fall to the hem of the dress.

The malines chou for the collar bow is sometimes centered with a silk rose that has regular artificial flower stamens. This is one of the newest fancies.

The blouse made with raglan sleeves is the very latest. This one includes a pretty pointed collar. In the illustration it is made of Scotch flannel, but it will be found adaptable to all wash materials. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FROM THE OVEN TO THE TABLE

Food Deliciously Cooked May Now Be Served Piping Hot In the New Silver Mounted Casserole Dishes.

THE popularity of casserole cooking has inspired designers to devise many new table accessories in this line. The casserole dish not only comes in many pleasing forms, but it is supplied with silver mounts or stands in which the covered earthenware dishes may be placed when they come hot to the table. The casserole is simply an earthenware cooking dish.

Casserole cooking has many advocates because of its alleged hygienic advantages. Food prepared in casserole dishes may be cooked either in the oven or on top of the range. The food in a covered vessel must, of course, be cooked longer than in an open one. The process is therefore more thorough and one calculated to retain the individual flavor of the foods.

Some special recipes for casserole cooking may be appreciated by those who are new to this form of cooking. Mutton served en casserole is appetizing. To prepare it take three to four pounds of mutton from the neck. Remove the fat and cut the mutton into cutlets. Fry them a nice brown in a little butter. Place them in a casserole with one onion stuck with three cloves, a small bunch of parsley and sweet herbs, one carrot, two small turnips and half a pint of small beans that have been soaked in water all night. Add enough white stock to cover the meat, let it simmer for one and a half hours, add salt and pepper to taste and serve in the casserole.

To cook beef in the casserole dish use one of the cheaper cuts of steak, rump or chuck. Take some chopped onion, seasoning herbs and about three ounces of butter. Place these in the casserole dish with the beef on top. Cover with the lid and place in a hot oven until the meat is nicely browned, which will take about half an hour. Then pour off the fat and add about a pint and a half of thick brown sauce. Let it cook in the oven for one and a half hours. Pour a tablespoonful of lemon juice over the meat before serving.

An old chicken will taste like a tender young fowl if cooked in the casserole dish. A plump fowl is the best for this purpose. It should be prepared as for roasting. Cut three thin slices of bacon into small cubes and drop into the casserole dish with a half pound of butter. When the butter is melted add the trussed fowl. Put the lid on the dish and place it in the oven or on top of the stove and let it cook until the chicken is golden brown all over. To accomplish this the fowl must be turned occasionally. Put in the pan six peppercorns and one clove, untruss the fowl and cut it into joints, replacing it in the pan with half a teacupful of good stock. Secure the lid firmly and let it cook slowly for an hour, and before sending it to the table remove fat and season to taste.

Delectable Desserts.

The recipes given here are for excellent light desserts:

Pineapple Cup.—Pare and cut out the eyes of ripe pineapples. Strip all the pulp from the core with a silver fork. To a pint of this add a pound of granulated sugar. Stir constantly until sugar is dissolved. Put into fruit jars. This will keep a long time.

Coffee Soufflé.—Heat a pint of cold coffee with a tablespoonful of gelatin and half a cupful of sugar. Pour on to the slightly beaten yolks of two eggs and cook over water until thickened. Remove from the fire, add a teaspoonful of vanilla, an eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and allow the mixture to cool. As it begins to stiffen fold in a cup of stiffly beaten cream. Mold and chill.

Chocolate Pudding.—Beat one egg with half a cupful of sugar and mix with one cupful of milk. Pour this gradually over two cupfuls of flour sifted with three scant teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a little salt and add two squares of melted chocolate. Place in buttered mold and steam for an hour and a half. Turn out carefully and dress with cream sauce made as follows:

Cream half a cupful of butter and beat into it one cupful of sugar and one-fourth cupful of milk or cream. Heat over hot water and flavor as desired.

Smocking For Dresses.

Smocking and braiding are trimming that have lately had a revival not only for children's dresses, but for blouses and matinees.

The Home Building & Loan Association
Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),
He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent.	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 109 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. YOUNG WOMEN IN DARK DISGUISE

Girls of St. Joseph's Parish Put on Burnt Cork in Minstrel Show.

MIXED CHORUS DOES FINELY

Performance for the Benefit of Church Building Fund Scores a Decided Hit Before Audience That Fills Debele Auditorium.

The minstrel performance given last night by the young people of St. Joseph's parish, for the benefit of the building fund, scored a decided hit. Every seat in Debele's auditorium was occupied and late comers lined the aisles.

Following the "essence of ole Virginny," the floor was cleared for dancing. The show will be repeated tonight.

Something of a novelty was sprung on the audience in the shape of a mixed chorus. The young women gamely rubbed on the burnt cork, and while the smudge marred their appearance by obliterating all of their natural beauty, the property effect of a southern scene was enhanced. They sang finely.

The program contained fourteen numbers, all good. Charles Pagliuca, six years old, took the house by storm with his song and dance.

The cast was coached by L. F. Barrett, Jr. He was assisted by Miss Marguerite L. Walsh. E. A. Paraubek's orchestra played the accompaniments and dance music. L. F. Barrett, Sr., was interlocutor, E. J. LaPorte, F. J. Bailey and L. F. Barrett, Jr., were the "bones," and James Moore, R. S. Hamilton and J. P. Connelly jingled the tamborines. Messrs. Cutting, Todd, Blimm and Smith comprised the Elks' quartet. Those with solo numbers were Miss Julia Smith, Miss F. Hogan, John D. Vardon and S. Grosse.

The rest of the troupe follows: The Misses H. Brynearski, A. Barrett, K. Egan, J. E. Day, A. Cooper, M. Utzinger, J. Quinn, K. Kelley, C. Sutton, K. Conshay, K. Leahy, K. Ryan, F. Newman, M. Hogan, H. Hogan, M. Carney, F. Utzinger, C. Hogan and Messrs. A. Kienzle, G. A. Keating, S. Beatty, G. Ball, F. Hart, Jr., J. W. Richardson, W. H. Walsh, J. J. McCullough, R. Fahn, E. H. Fahn, J. E. YANKED SMALL TRAVELLER FROM A MOVING TRAIN

Gustave Martin, ten years old, of 546 East Twelfth street, Newark, is being held by the police to await the coming of his mother. A policeman yanked the ten-year-old from the bumper of a car as a slow freight lumbered by the North avenue station late last night.

Gustave told the policeman that he slipped away from home yesterday, rode to Hampton Junction on a freight train, debarked there and was on his way back home when the cop interrupted the trip. Headquarters here notified headquarters in Newark, and the Newark police carried word of her son's whereabouts to Mrs. Martin.

RECEPTION TO MISSIONARIES AT CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH

Mrs. Gilbert Lovell, who recently returned from China, where she and her husband were engaged in mission work for nearly eight years, gave an informal talk on her work before the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday afternoon. Following the talk an informal reception was given to Mrs. Lovell and her husband. The women of the missionary societies of Warren and Hope chapels were present.

Tea was served, Mrs. Daniel F. Ginna being in charge. Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Orton G. Dale poured and they were assisted by Miss Fredericka R. Mead, Miss Mary Runkle, Miss Carolyn Martin and Mrs. Leslie Hallock. Mrs. E. G. Read as president of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, was in charge of the meeting.

Chas. Prentiss' Funeral.

The funeral services of Charles W. E. Prentiss were held this morning at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Carl Ebel, in East Second street, and at St. Mary's church, where Rev. Vincent Sciolla celebrated a requiem mass. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery. The bearers were Clarence LaRue, Geo. Rowe, Thomas Connolly, George Neal, James Mathney and Robert Skinner.

277 Subscriptions; total for the day	$ 5,385.97

There were several pleasant surprises for the workers in the twelve-day campaign for Muhlenberg hospital, when they gathered for the daily dinner at the Y. M. C. A., last night. Among them was one from Judge William Newcorn, captain of Co. D, when he announced that among the contributions received during the day was one for $1,000 in the form of a check from Thomas A. Sperry, of Cranford, of the trading stamp firm of Sperry & Hutchinson. This report together with the statement that the total amount secured toward the fund of $90,000 was $80,078.92, brought forth great applause.

Louis K. Hyde.
Chairman Publicity Committee.

When the reports from the various captains were called for all were eager to learn the result of the day's work. Workers with a superstitious streak were apprehensive that the date—the 13th—had had some effect on the collections, but they were agreeably surprised. The day's subscriptions were reported to be $5,385 from a total of 277 contributors.

The Citizens' Committee secured $3,917.00, while the Young Business Men's Committee collected $1,468.97.

When Captain George O. Stevens of Team No. 6, reported the sum collected by his co-workers, he added that most of the money had been received from children. Capt. Joseph O'Keefe, of Team No. 5, brought forth hearty applause when he stated that included in the amount collected by his workers was $100 from a person whose name had been returned as among those who would give nothing. There were several favorable reports on "turned down" cards, by workers who had been successful where others had failed.

Prior to the serving of the dinner by the committee of women, Rev. William S. McCoy, rector of the Holy Cross church, invoked the divine blessing.

After the dinner, Wilbor Bowen, the paid secretary, who is really directing the campaign, made a few brief suggestions to the workers. He said that possibly the last three days would be designated as "free-for-all," that is workers would be privileged to go anywhere and get subscriptions and not be confined to their cards. He urged them to make personal calls and reserve the use of the telephone until the last minute.

Mr. Bowen also touched upon Westfield as a possible field for work. This brought up the question as to Westfield people being extended privileges of the hospital. Samuel Bingaman said that he had learned that there were Westfield physicians on the staff of the Elizabeth hospitals and hence they favored those institutions.

Dr. F. C. Ard said that many Westfield people had been received at Muhlenberg hospital for treatment and that Dr. Harrison, of that place, had always favored the local hospital. James Everitt Kimball said that only yesterday he had called on Dr. Kinch at Westfield and he had given

PICTURESQUE OLD HOLLAND

Must be Seen to be Appreciated; Description Can't do it Justice.

AND TOURISTS WILL SEE IT

Second Count of Votes in the Press Contest Will Be Made Tonight and the Result Will Apepar in Tomorrow's Paper.

The quaint characters and customs of Holland have always been of interest to those who are acquainted with them, but to fully appreciate the many picturesque features of the country one must see it. The knowledge gained by reading books on the subject is necessarily incomplete. Of all the countries in Europe which the Press party will visit, Holland probably possesses the most characteristics peculiar to itself, and which are found in no other place.

Everyone has seen pictures of scenes in the Netherlands, but they convey but a faint idea of the real life in the city and country. The beautiful landscapes, dotted here and there with picturesque windmills, the interesting peasant life that may be observed, the dikes which keep the sea from overflowing the land, all comprise a wonderful picture which will ever remain in the minds of those who view them.

The party will visit The Hague and Amstedam, the principal cities, where side trips will be made to the interesting points. At The Hague, which is called the "Washington of the Netherlands," visits will be made to the Houses of Parliament, the Museum, the famous Spanish prison, etc., as well as the historic "House of the Woods," and Schevenigen, the fashionable seaside resort. Amsterdam, another large city, has been called the "Venice of the North," as it is divided by numerous canals into ninety-five small islands. Here the party will visit the Palace and various museums and art galleries, giving to the intelligent observer an education in itself. Carriages will be furnished for other points of interest as well.

When you stop to consider the value of such a trip as the winners

FOUR DECADES OF WEDDED HAPPINESS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cuming Celebrate 40th Wedding Anniversary.

FAMILY CIRCLE AT DINNER

Residents of Plainfield for 20 Years, and Active in Work of the Park Avenue Baptist Church—Those at the Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cuming of Putnam avenue, observed the fortieth anniversary of their marriage yesterday and last night at a family dinner. All the members of the family circle, including four daughters, two sons, three grandchildren and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ada Cuming, were present. Mr. and Mrs. Cuming received a number of handsome gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuming were married in Brooklyn, where they lived before coming to this city. For many years Mr. Cuming held a responsible position with the Equitable Assurance Company, of New York, which he resigned after coming to Plainfield. The couple have resided in Plainfield about twenty years, during which time they have been active in the work of the Park Avenue Baptist church. For some time Mr. Cuming was a deacon of the church.

Those present at last night's celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cuming and the following children and grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence VanDoren and son, Willard, of Long Island; Mr. and Mrs. James LaRue and daughter, Helen; the Misses Helen and Lillian Cuming and Harry and Walter Cuming and Mrs. Ada Cuming, a daughter-in-law, and her son, Thomas Wilbur Cuming, of this city.

'RECIPROCITY' MOTOR BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

After Two Hours Lively Debate Measure Goes Through by Decisive Vote--Union Solid For it--Somerset Against.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 14.—After debating for two solid hours on the question yesterday afternoon, the House passed the bill of Assemblyman Stickel, of Essex, granting non-resident automobilists the privilege of coming into New Jersey without paying a license fee if their own State grants the same right to the autoists from Jersey. The vote was 43 for and 14 against. Among those who voted "for" were the Union county members, Babcock, Otto and Groves. Among those "against" was Anderson, of Somerset county.

Mr. Stickel said that the present regulations had cost us an incalculable amount of money, which would have came to hotels, garages, etc., and has cost odium on the State among non-residents, who avoid passing through New Jersey. Our business men are discriminated against he held, and the Jersey autoists have to pay additional fees to motor in other States. The bill does away with the provision that the State Commissioner of Vehicles shall have the power of attorney, for the visitors, as Mr. Stickel claimed that this feature does not exist in any other State.

Majority Leader Wnyte asserted that while he is in favor of reciprocity, he did not like the particular brand contained in the Stickel bill, but the State should not be so generous as to exceed its means. He showed that Jersey autoists have to pay heavy tolls in Pennsylvania for passing over the roads and that New York and Pennsylvania have not had our experience in the use of stone roads. The counties are too heavily burdened now, he declared, and this bill would reduce the revenue. He objected to the abolition of the power of attorney and asked what was to prevent a visitor any length of time if there was to be no system of registration. "In five years," he said, "the mileage of State roads has increased thirty-three per cent, and the cost of repairs has increased 300 per cent. The repairs cost $1,800,000 annually, about 65 cents for every man, woman and child, or a man with four children in his family, $3.95."

MR. AND MRS. COSE MARRIED 50 YEARS

Celebrating Their Golden Wedding Anniversary at Daughter's Home Today.

A FAMILY DINNER TONIGHT

Three Generations Will Gather About the Table—Many Gifts and Bouquets Brought By Friends Who Shower Couple With Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob W. Cose quietly celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding today at the home of their daughter, Mrs. James Penney, of West Fifth street, with whom they are at present making their home. Tonight a family dinner will be held.

Throughout the day friends of the couple have called to extend congratulations. They were recipients of a number of handsome gifts and bouquets.

At the dinner tonight three generations will be represented. Mr. and Mrs. Cose are the parents of seven children, as follows: George Cose, of Schenectady, N. Y.; Mrs. T. J. Bird, of Easton; Mrs. James Brown, of West Third street, Mrs. Catherine Radford and Mrs. Harry Lister, of Grant avenue; John Cose, of Spooner avenue, and Mrs. James Penney, of West Fifth street. There are in all thirteen grand children.

Mr. and Mrs. Cose were married in Cokebury, N. J., just fifty years ago today. Twenty-eight years ago they removed to this city from Angendale. Four years ago Mr. Cose retired from active connection with the slating and roofing business in which he was the poineer in Plainfield, and which his son John is now conducting.

SUSPECTED FOOTPAD IS REMANDED A SECOND TIME.

William Johnson, colored, suspected of being the thug who fractured Michael Weber's skull before robbing him of $215 on West Fourth street Saturday night, was again remanded by City Judge William G. DeMeza in the city court today. His hearing is set for Saturday. The adjournement was taken at the request of Assistant County Prosecutor Hetfield, who appeared for the State.

WOMAN ARRAINGED WITH U. G. PIERSON

Mrs. Mary Vliet Said to Have Been His Companion in Flight.

REMANDED BY N. Y. COURT

Held for 30 Days to Await Extradition to This State on Warrant Sworn out by Mrs. Pierson—Husband Cool.

Mrs. Mary Huber Vliet, twenty-five years old, a recent resident of East Fourth street, is "the woman in the case" of U. Grant Pierson, who disappeared from this city seven weeks ago, leaving his wife to conduct his meat store on Watchung avenue. The police here gave out her name yesterday, after Detective Sergeant Flynn returned from a hearing at the Tombs police court in New York, where Mrs. Vliet was arraigned with Pierson under a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Pierson.

Pierson and Mrs. Vliet were remanded by Magistrate Breen for a month to await extradition proceedings. As has been told, Pierson was arrested in New York Monday. Mrs. Vliet was arrested shortly afterward in a little confectionery store at 85th street and First avenue, New York, where Pierson is said to have established her in business.

Piersons is alleged to have either left town with Mrs. Vliet or with the purpose of joining her in New York. While in New York, the police say, he and the woman have been living together. Pierson is said to have been working in the metropolis as a butcher.

Detective Sergeant Flynn said today that Pierson did not seem a bit cast down by the turn events have taken. The detective described his bearing as "brazen."

The police here anticipate no difficulty in having the couple extradited. Mrs. Vliet's husband is said to have left her some time ago.

SUBSCRIBE FOR WORK OF PLAINFIELD MISSIONARY

Under the auspices of the Young Women's Guild of Grace church and for the purpose of arousing interest and raising funds for a special home mission work near Stanaldville, Va., conducted by Miss Agnes Smith, of this city, and hospital work at Morganton, N. C., in charge of Mrs. Walter Hughson, a largely attended meeting was held in the parish house of the church yesterday. Both Miss Smith and Mrs. Hughson addressed the meeting. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector, presided.

There was keen interest in Miss Smith's work, because she is a member of Grace church and a resident of Plainfield. She has been engaged in the mission work in the south for three years. About $50 was given for Miss Smith's work, and she is virtually assured of receiving the $150 her work needs at this time.

Miss Marguerite Carpenter, president of the Guild, and Miss Barbara Fleming presided at a tea which followed the meeting.

THROWS KEROSENE ON FIRE; FOLLOWS THE USUAL RESULT

William Chamberlain, aged twenty years, son of James Chamberlain, of 401 Spooner avenue, was severely burned yesterday at the Potter Printing Press Works, where he is employed in the foundry. His eyebrows, eyelashes, hair, together with his head and face were generally burned. At first the boy's condition was thought to be serious, but a later examination showed the burns to be more or less superficial.

Chamberlain, engaged in building a fire in the core oven and having considerable trouble in getting it started, thoughtlessly threw a quantity of kerosene into the oven. A sheet of flame shot out and enveloped the youth's head.

He was hurried to the office of Dr. P. B. Cregar on Grant avenue. The physician relieved the sufferer and then removed him to his home.

Flemington Theatre Sold.

The State Trust Company announces the sale of the Opera House property at Flemington, to M. B. Overlack. It is Mr. Overlack's intention to spend considerable money on improvements and as soon as these are completed he will transfer his furniture business now on West Front street to that place.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. James Keiderling, of Church street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ethel Keiderling, and Frank Mesher, of Madison avenue. The wedding will take place Washington's birthday.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Created for laughing purposes only, "Over Night" comes to the Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and evening. The engagement is limited to two performances only. With the original New York company it should fulfill its mission, and furnish unlimited fun for the audience. It is Wm. A. Brady's (Ltd.) production, and it is said to be even more funny than "Baby Mine."

How the charm of a good woman whose influence revolutionizes the morals of the man; how his crooked financial schemes are suddenly transformed into sound business propositions and a Middle Western village aroused to the activities of a busy metropolis is the interesting story told in the comedy, "Get Rich Quick Wallingford," which will be at the Plainfield theatre, February 19.

"The Chocolate Soldier" is still the conquering hero in the vast army of light operas that assail the American theatre. When he holds his second reception in this city at the Plainfield theatre, February 20, it is no idle boast to predict that the throng of admirers who come to greet him will be fully as great as last year, for the charming warrier never wears out his welcome.

Harold McGrath, the author of "The Goose Girl," is very quick at repartee and as brilliant a conversationalist as any of his dashing heroes. A dramatic version of "The Goose Girl" will be seen at the Plainfield theatre soon.

The February White Sale

Opened up Yesterday Morning with a great rush of keen and eager shoppers. Many praiseworthy comments were made on the splendid values that we are offering you in this sale, and our urgent advice is, if you haven't yet attended this White Event, don't delay any longer—you naturally lose the best values if you wait.

THESE DAINTY UNDERMUSLINS ARE SPECIAL VALUES.

Splendidly made Underskirts, of good quality Cambric, cut full with deep flounce, either plain tucked or trimmed with pretty embroideries; a big value at regular price, $1.15; reduced for White Sale to 79c

Dainty Drawers, made of a superior quality Cambric, in open or closed styles, trimmed with lace inserted lawn ruffle and cut full; a special purchase, this number; worth at least 50c, in the White Sale at 29c

A CONTINUATION OF THE SALE OF BEAUTIFUL EMBROIDERIES

Made of fine quality Swiss and Nainsook and in a wonderful array of beautiful designs and patterns. They come in many widths and there's values in the lot worth up to 25c; White Sale price is.. 10c

IMPERIAL LONGCLOTH

This is a very fine quality fabric, beautifully sheer and the regular width. It comes in 12 yard lengths, with one cut and is worth regularly at least $1.65; White Sale price is $1.25

THE NEW LINGERIE DRESSES AT $6.98

Were the center of attraction to many yesterday, and all those who saw them said how dainty and what splendid values. They are really handsome garments, daintily made of only the right quality materials, in several very stylish modes, and will find all of the wanted sizes here; a White Sale special at $6.98

$1.49 NIGHT ROBES SPECIAL AT $1.00

This is one of the biggest values in the sale. They are made of fine quality Cambric, with tucked and inserted yoke, in Dutch style and kimono sleeves, lace and embroidery trimmed and inserted with pretty ribbons; altogether a beautifully dainty garment, and a splendid value at $1.00

FORMAL LAUNCHING OF TRAFALGAR LODGE TONIGHT

Officers will be elected and arrangements made for the installation at a meeting of Trafalgar Lodge, Sons of St. George to be held at 131 East Front street, tonight. James Waklett, of Trenton, grand secretary, will attend the meeting.

MISS THORNE WINNER OF "MOST POPULAR" CONTEST

The valentine social held last night at the parish house of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, under the auspices of the Women's Guild, was a most successful affair.

A voting contest for the most popular young woman present elected Miss Blanch Thorne. She received a sofa pillow as a prize. Miss Eva Chamberlain received the second largest vote. Refreshments were served under the supervision of Mrs. Michael Rimmer, Miss Julia Praed and Mrs. Otto Moore.

"EGYPTIAN PRINCESS" WAS HUGE SUCCESS.

The second and final performance of "The Egyptian Princess," given at the Hartridge Auditorium last night, by the members of the Cup Bearers' Circle of The King's Daughters, was even more successful than the previous night. The attendance was larger.

After the play there was a sale of candy in charge of Miss Helen Timpson.

O'CONNELL IN DOTY'S PLACE.

Brooklyn Physician Made Health Officer of Port of New York.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Dr. Joseph J. O'Connell of Brooklyn was nominated for health officer of the port of New York by Governor Dix to succeed Dr. Alvah H. Doty, whose term of office has expired. The nomination was sent to the senate for confirmation.

Governor Dix also sent to the senate the nomination of William Temple Emmett of New York as state superintendent of insurance to succeed William H. Hotchkiss, whose term of office expires next Saturday.

Women's Spring Suits Made to Measure At $25 and $35

Highest class materials and workmanship at a pronounced saving. Here is a proposition no woman should miss. It has a two-fold advantage: 1st, it saves you money and your suit is ready when you need it without the usual worry and anxiety that attends the usual to-order proposition; 2nd, it enables us to turn it out before the rush is on, which means that we can secure a more superior class of tailors now and give more attention to detail and workmanship. Fit equal to any custom made—no matter what the price.

Skinner satin or best peau de cygne linings to match or in contrast and every suit will have attached self color shields.

The assortment of materials include finest of French or men's wear serges, whipcords, Bedfords, checks and mixtures.

Prices quoted will include bust measure up to 42; larger sizes 44 and 46—10 per cent. extra and 48 and 50—20 per cent. extra.

DR. PRINCE IS RIGHT.

No observant man can question the correctness of Acting Governor John D. Prince's statement that the elementary schools are to be blamed when the university fails to fulfill its highest ideals. The best results there are impossible of attainment as he says, simply because of the superficial character of the high school or private school preparatory work. The fault is really chargeable to that unfortunate and foolish policy of rushing children through the lower grades to the high schools before they have mastered the "Three R's." This practise is not sectional it exists almost everywhere in the country. It is enough to make one shudder, for instance, to read some of the compositions of high school graduates, the spelling in particular frequently being the saddest part of all. But this is but one mere detail. The fund of knowledge of things in general, which pupils should obtain in the elementary schools, is not by any means possessed by them when they matriculate at college. And then the higher institution of learning has poor material to deal with.

Dr. Prince is well qualified to pass an opinion on the lower schools training for he has had abundant experience with their products as a professor of languages at Columbia university. "I have had men come to me," he says, "to study the most abstruse problems of philology, whose knowledge of the English language and literature was simply lamentable. You will hear the same complaint from University professors in almost every branch of science.

"Herein lies the main defect of the American University and this is the reason why the general public is apt to sneer at the man of University training. The fault, however, is with the general public itself, whose first duty it is to see that its schools are manned by competent teachers and that methods of learning are inculcated in such schools, instead of fads which lead nowhere. The quality of the average American school teacher at present is not in any way up to the standard of his continental counterpart. I have heard English taught in our public schools here in our own State by teachers whose diction was enough to make the fathers of English speech shudder in their graves.

"As to the effect of the higher training on our citizenship, I am convinced that when a man has really had the proper training in his schools and college, and subsequently in his special work at the University, he is admirably equipped to meet almost any modern exigency. Above all balance must be the keystone of such a man's character, for he could never have got through his special work successfully without this quality."

When Governor Wilson was campaigning for the gubernatorial chair, his enemies went to the extreme in an effort to arraign organized labor against him. His writings and college addresses were distorted to give the impression that he was antagonistic to labor unions. But the candidate was more than a match for his enemies and the attempt was a dismal failure. Where the Governor really stands has been clearly proven on many occasions since he assumed office and now comes along the New Jersey Federation of Labor to publicly acknowledge his friendliness to the cause. Yesterday the officers of that powerful organization waited on Mr. Wilson to let him know that they fully appreciated his acts and they mentioned the fact that during his administration sixteen or seventeen laws had been made which beneficially affected the labor interests. They discussed at length measures now pending, including the Edge bill prohibiting any woman working more than ten hours a day, the Ford bills giving the attendants in penal institutions an eight hour day, increasing the number of factory inspectors and the measure regulating the employment of strike-breakers. Before the conference was ended the Federation's officers presented the Governor with resolutions of commendation "for his unremitting and untiring efforts in assisting to bring about better conditions for the wage-earners of New Jersey." Copies of these resolutions will be sent to every State Federation and it can be relied upon that his Presidential candidacy managers will make the best use of them.

The trustees of Lafayette College have very properly decided to erect a bronze statue of the late Professor Francis A. March on the campus. Their action brings to mind the thought that as a nation of hero-worshippers we are ever too ready to honor the men who have fought our battles on land and sea, our statesmen and our politicians, and that we neglect to pay similar tribute to scientists and men of letters. As a scholar Prof. March ranked with the best in his particular field. As a lexographer he occupied the foremost position in the world. His philological contributions will keep his memory green among learned men for centuries to come. Lafayette does well to plan a fitting memorial.

When manufacturers of safety razors read a few days ago that Governor Wilson had cut his lip while shaving they showed their true Yankee shrewdness by sending him with their compliments safety razors of expensive design. Now the Governor probably believes more than ever in publicity.

Yes, of course, the sole reason that no progress is being made this week in the plan for municipal control of the water supply is that the people's attention is riveted on the hospital campaign.

women, George P. Mellick, chairman of the executive committee, who presided, said:

"Some are asking what will be done with an excess over $80,000. Any sums received over this amount will be judiciously used for future improvements and necessities. You must remember that although great care has been exercised when considering estimates for the present proposed changes and improvements we can readily go further in adding to the facilities of the hospital, always having in mind however, not to increase the operating expense of the institution. Some day another contagious ward will be required, other demands are certain to come upon us, and the governors of the hospital do not want to call on the people for a long time to come. Remember Governor Fort's remarks. 'That big things were expected of Plainfield because it has always stood for the highest and best in the State,' therefore, let us make a big

There was plenty of evidence of sustained interest in the campaign each company and team is vying with the other to raise the largest sum. Thus far E. H. Ladd, Jr., leads the companies, while J. Hartle Mellick's team leads the other teams, being under the direction of the Young Business Men's committee. Through an oversight, the $1,000 contributed by T. J. Mumford yesterday was credited to Mr. Mellick's team, instead of Co. K, when as a matter of fact the team raised $1,114 exclusive of that sum. Yesterday's records follow:

BILL FOR INDETERMINATE FRANCHISES INTRODUCED

Trenton, Feb. 14.—Senator Pierce of Union, and Assemblyman Babcock of the same county, introduced in the Senate and House respectively yesterday afternoon an indeterminate franchise bill, which repeals all exclusive conditions of existing franchises and providing that all new franchises, except to steam railroads, shall be indeterminate grants, subject to the right of purchase by the municipality granting them or for the municipality in which the major part of the company's property is situated. The present laws for the granting of franchises are all repealed.

Senator Gebhardt introduced the local option bill and it was also introduced in the Assembly by Mr. Smith of Salem county. It is practically the same as the measure of last year.

EDMUND RUSHMORE

Singer Building, New York — 212 Park Avenue, Plainfield

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. Cabri I R'di Magdi, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, spoke in the Bergen Baptist church, last night.

The topic at the mid-week meeting at the Park Avenue Baptist church, tonight, will be "God's Purpose and Chastening."

A Board of Education has been formed in the North Baptist Convention, and has just held its first meeting. It is now in search of a general secretary. When he is found headquarters will be established and a new branch of Baptist work founded. The Northern Baptist Convention meets at DesMoines in May, at which time the new board will be fully constituted. The purposes of the new board are to look into conditions of all colleges claiming Baptist support and patronage, and to take hold of Christian work among students in educational institutions.

Bishop Anderson, of Chicago; Bishop Vincent, of Cincinnati; Bishop Brent, of the Philippines, and the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, New York, have been appointed by the Episcopal Commission named in 1910 to further the cause of Christian unity, to visit England this summer and there explain the purposes of the proposed World Conference on Faith and Order. Bishop Anderson is president of the commission and Bishop Vincent is chairman of the Episcopal House of Bishops. Committed to send delegates to this Conference on Faith and Order are practically every non-Catholic religious body in America.

Methodists will be active in New York next week. Twelve hundred Sunday-school experts will sit in a convention that opens Monday. The Sunday-school experts will represent all nearby district conferences, and will meet the educational leaders of Methodism. Sessions will be held in Grace church. The convention is on a scale never before attempted by Methodists in the East. The meetings are primarily for superintendents, and religious education will be gone over thoroughly. The instructors include the Rev. Dr. D. G. Downey, secretary of the Methodist Board; the Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut, the famous expert, and Frank L. Brown, who is at the head of a Brooklyn school of 4,000 pupils.

Miss Mabel Stutsman, of East Sixth street, is convalescing from a threatened attack of appendicitis.

Herman Kellar, cigar manufacturer of Somerset street, is slowly improving from a critical illness, which has detained him from business for the past three months. His brother, Frank Kellar, is managing his business.

The Kitchen Cupboard

EGG DISHES FOR LENT.

LENTEN fare necessarily includes egg dishes, and an effort should be made to have them appear on the table in as many different forms as possible. There are scores of ways of serving this food, and there is no reason that the unskilled housewife should hesitate to attempt anything in this line, for eggs are simple to prepare even when they are cooked in unusual ways.

Eggs With Sauce.

The flavor of eggs may be varied by the use of sauces. White, bechamel and tomato sauces are the most satisfactory. When making the sauces the Lenten idea may be carried out in using milk or cream in their composition instead of stock.

Eggs au Gratin.—Cut six hard boiled eggs into thick slices. Put three large spoonfuls of bechamel sauce in an enamel saucepan and place it on the fire. Stir into the sauce the yolks of three eggs. This mixture must not boil.

Take a casserole dish and spread some of the sauce on the dish, then add a layer of the sliced eggs and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Spread on some more sauce, then more eggs and cheese. So continue until the dish is filled, taking care that the last layer is cheese. Place the dish in the oven and when well heated brown the top with a salamander or redhot shovel.

Egg Cutlets.—Chop a half dozen hard boiled eggs and add a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Add a cupful of white sauce and season with salt, paprika and onion juice.

Spread on a buttered pan and set away to cool. Dust the hands with flour and shape spoonfuls of mixture in small cutlets. Dip each cutlet in beaten yolk of egg, then in cracker crumbs; fry in hot butter to a golden brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

Eggs With Mushrooms.

Savory Eggs.—Take sandwich bread in slices two inches thick, shape the slices into ovals and make cups of them by scraping out the centers with a knife and teaspoon. Fry the ovals in butter until they are nicely browned. Half fill them with mushroom sauce and place on each a poached egg which has been dipped in eggs and rolled in a mixture of breadcrumbs and Parmesan cheese and browned one minute in butter.

Grilled Eggs With Mushrooms.—Grill some large fresh mushrooms and sprinkle them with a little salt and pepper. Break three eggs for each six mushrooms. Beat them only just enough to mix the yolks and whites, adding a tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan, pour in the eggs and stir gently till creamy and thick. Place a large spoonful on each mushroom and serve hot.

SHOE NOTES.

Black and White Footwear the Smart Spring Fad.

Some of the smartest of the new kid low cut shoes have white uppers, but shiny black heels and a mere line of black kid about the top.

An ultra smart model has the vamp of soft finish black and the uppers—side and back—of white.

The black heel will be seen on some of the white canvas and buckskin shoes in place of the tan or white covered heel.

The two piece skirt is a pronounced favorite. It gives the seamless effect at front and back that is so much liked, it is simple and easily made, and it has, indeed, almost every advantage to commend it. This one can be made with pointed extensions on the front that lap into the back and form a novel trimming or plain, just as preferred.

HANDKERCHIEF BAG.

A Clever Contrivance For the Use of Travelers.

The dainty handkerchief bag illustrated here is crocheted in a simple pattern with pale blue silk. The bottom of the bag forms a square, and the sides are crocheted round and round this and finished off with a simple scallop. A square of cardboard is fitted with wadding sprinkled with sachet powder, covered with silk and placed inside the bag. The square is the size of a folded handkerchief, and when the handkerchiefs are placed in the bag and the ribbons that are run through the top are drawn together the linen can be packed away with the assurance that it will not be wrinkled or mussed when taken out for use. The handkerchief bag shown here is carried out in rows of triple crochet, each of the bars of triple crocheting being about three stitches apart to form a square mesh. This bag takes up little space and is a great convenience for carrying handkerchiefs when traveling.

DRESS IN INDIA.

Fashions Never Change, So Women's Garments Do Not Vary.

In the Indian woman's style of dress there has been no change for 4,000 years. They all wear the "sari," which forms the skirt, the waist and the headdress.

The sari is a beautiful garment draped about the form as the Indian girl or woman knows how to drape it. It is a strip of fabric a yard and a quarter wide and from ten to thirty yards in length.

It first is plaited with the fingers into accordion folds, then bound round and round, following the contour of the body, and the end is tossed over the head to form the veil.

This end usually is embroidered or woven with gold if the woman is wealthy; if not, colored cottons or silks are used to adorn it.

The sari may be of cotton, of cloth, of silk or even of cloth of gold if it drapes a royal form.

Sometimes little pearls are sewed into it, sometimes spangles. Some saris cost only a few copper coins; others are worth thousands of rupees. The Indian woman dresses without the aid of a pin, hook, string or button, and the beauty of her gown depends almost solely on the lines of her figure.

Rag Carpet Popular.

Rag mats are favored at present among practical housekeepers for the reason that such mats are easily cleansed of mud or dust.

The art of making rag carpets is being revived in various parts of the country with excellent results. In the sewing schools of Michigan and Wisconsin the art of making curtains and portieres out of silk and ribbon strips is being taught.

They are ideal drapings for the living room and supply a practical way of getting rid of old silk petticoats, old gowns and evening wraps of lively hues.

Odd trimmings of hats also may be pressed into service, and even faded artificial flowers can make a part of these odd but artistic looking curtains. They are pieced together just as the rag carpet or mat, though the work is more dainty and must be perfect on both sides.

Helpful Hints.

Borax water will restore the gloss to sateen in washing.

Use warm water to sprinkle starched clothes and the effect will be twice as satisfactory.

To make glassware clear and sparkling add a bit of bluing to the soapsuds when washing.

A painter's brush may be used to dislodge dust from cracks and crevices about the house.

Try removing mildew by soaking in a weak solution of chloride of lime, then rinsing in cold water.

To remove stains of blood soak them in cold salt water, then wash in warm soapy water and finish by boiling.

By slipping stiff collars into a glass tumbler after they are ironed and allow them to thoroughly dry they can be made to keep their shape.

Elasticity is restored to rubber by soaking it in one part ammonia and two parts clear water until the desired results are obtained. This is specially true in the case of rings or other articles that have become stiff and brittle.

WILLIAM G. HOFF DIES IN A NEW YORK HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Charles O. Pearson, of West Fifth street, received word last night of the death of her brother, William Garretson Hoff, in the Presbyterian Hospital in New York, where he had been a patient for several weeks suffering with blood poisoning from paring a corn. The funeral will be held from his late residence, No. 330 St. Nicholas avenue, New York, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Burial will be made privately Friday morning in the New York Bay cemetery at Greenville.

Mr. Hoff was widely known in this city, having been a former resident. He was forty-four years old and unmarried. Mrs. Pearson is the only surviving relative.

SAYS FARM-HAND RAN OFF WITH $304 AND A WATCH.

Frank De Fillipo, who lives on the William McAdams farm in South Plainfield, is looking for a farm hand, who he charges with skipping from his place with $304 belonging to his De Fillipo's nephew, an $80 gold watch and a hat.

The farm hand was hired last summer. Last Friday the nephew, John De Fillipo, came from New York with the $304, with which to buy a team of horses. The farm-hand is said to have learned of the fact. Young De Fillipo still had the money next day.

Sunday morning, John De Fillipo alleges, the $304, the gold watch and one of his hats were gone, and so was the farm-hand.

De Fillipo has given the farm-hand's name and description to the police of Plainfield and New Brunswick.

SAINT VALENTINE IS NO FRIEND OF THE POSTMAN.

The local postoffice is experiencing the expected rush in valentine mail, and Postmaster E. H. Bird in speaking of the matter today said that he thought the business was ahead of that of last year. An evidence of the volume of business transacted at the office is shown by the fact that yesterday 10,000 one cent postage stamps were sold.

On the first and second outgoing mails this morning up to 8 o'clock 5,000 pieces of mail went through the cancelling machine, most of which was valentine mail. The local dealers also report a large sale of valentines this year.

Free Illustrated Lecture.

The next lecture in the free public school lecture course will be given by George N. Cross tomorrow evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Washington School auditorium. Mr. Cross is one of the most popular lecturers on the platform. His subject is "Splendors of the Alps" and he shows the views and recounts experiences obtained from two summers' tramps and climbs through the Alps with camera and alpenstock. The lecture will be beautifully illustrated.

Necessitate Strengthening Offensive Playing as Line Rushes are Restored

NO MORE FREAK GOALS

Forward Pass Improved, Onside Kick Eliminated, Length of Field Shortened, Kickoff Changed and Number of Downs Increased.

Surprising seems to be the word best fitted to describe the changes in the football rules announced by the solons after they finished their two day session in New York recently.

Not only removing the game's vermiform appendix by cutting out the onside kick, the gridiron doctors made several other sweeping changes in the rules. With the abolition of the onside kick went the elimination of the twenty yard zone. A forward pass now can be made across the goal line provided the pass is completed within ten yards beyond the goal lines. Hereafter the teams will be allowed four tries instead of three to make the necessary ten yards. The playing field was shortened from 110 yards to 100 yards and the value of a touchdown was increased from five points to six points.

These changes, together with the elimination of the field judge from the officials, the shortening of the intermissions between the first and second quarters and the third and fourth quarters from two minutes to one minute, the limiting of men on the side lines to one instead of three, the institution of the kickoff from the kicker's forty yard line instead of at midfield, as hitherto, and the putting of the ball into play following a touchback from the twenty yard line instead of from the twenty-five yard line were the principal changes made at the meeting.

The rule regarding drop kicking was made more specific. No weird kick like that which came from the toe of De Witt in the Princeton and Dartmouth game last fall, the ball striking the ground and bounding over the crossbar, will be allowed to count as a field goal hereafter, as the committee has ruled against a bounding ball.

It is the opinion of the committee that the changes will make a better balance between the offense and the defense than was shown in the game played under last year's rules; will enable the stronger team to show its superiority over a weaker eleven and will improve the running play of the game without weakening the kicking department and without reverting to the pounding attack of the so called "old" game. With the abolition of the twenty yard zone football will be made more open than it was, but more stress will be laid on the running game without weakening the kicking department.

The shortening of the playing field from 110 yards to 100 yards was made necessary by the rule permitting a forward pass to be made across the goal line, provided the pass is completed within ten yards beyond the line. Some football fields will not permit of ten yards beyond the goal lines, so the goal posts had to be brought in five yards at each end, making a distance of 100 yards from goal post to goal post. The five yard rule behind the line of scrimmage governing the forward pass was retained, as also were other rules regarding the forward pass, with the exception of the one that did not permit a pass to be made across the goal line.

Provided a forward pass made across the goal line is not completed within ten yards beyond the line the pass will not count as a touchdown, but will be considered as a touchback, and, according to the new rules, the ball must then be put in play from the twenty yard line instead of from the twenty-five yard line, as hitherto followed the making of a touchback.

With the abolition of the onside kick and the wiping out of the twenty yard zone the duties of a field judge were nullified, and hence the committee decided that a field judge no longer will be needed. Henceforth the linesman will have jurisdiction over offside play and also will keep time. The duties formerly placed on a field judge will be divided among the linesmen, umpire and referee.

Instead of kicking off from midfield as hitherto the kickoff will be made from the kicker's forty yard line or at a point sixty yards from opponents' goal posts. This rule, according to the intent of the committee, will lessen the kicking strength and increase the running strength of a team. By allowing an eleven four downs instead of three to make the necessary ten yards the committee is of the opinion that a better balance between the attack and the defense will be instituted without reverting back to the old mass plays.

The only other change in the rules not hitherto mentioned is the change regarding the toss for goal or kickoff. The winner of the toss at the start of the game, as usual, will have the privilege of choosing for goal or kickoff, but the captain who lost the toss at the start of the game will have the choice for goal or kickoff at the beginning of the second half.

Taking all the changes into consideration, the rules committee should be congratulated on having solved the question of equalizing the offense and defense. Of course it remains to be seen how the new rules will work out.

CRABS AND WEAKFISH LIKELY TO BE SCARCE

There is but slight encouragement for crabbers in the news that the Forest, Fish and Game Commission, now called the Conservation Commission, gathered practically no eggs for hatching purposes last year, because the crabbing season was so poor. Unless vast schools of the sweet tasting crawlers come into the Sandy Hook waters to make their homes, the season of 1912 will be no better than was that of last year, the old timers say.

The last weakfish season was not up to standard either, according to observing fishermen, who point to the unusual number of blue fish and blame that variety of the finny tribe for spoiling the sport. No more hope for a betterment of the weakfishing is held out than for a betterment of crabbing and the poor catches that were the rule last year are expected to prevail again this summer, according to an exchange.

NATIONAL'S CLUB OWNERS ADOPT PLAYING SCHEDULE

New York, Feb. 14, (Special).—Chairman Barney Dreyfuss and Secretary John A. Heydler, who drew up the playing schedule for the National League, were confronted with a number of objections at the meeting of the team owners yesterday at the Waldorf Astoria. After a four-hour discussion the schedule was unanimously adopted without a change and as Jim Gaffney, new owner of the Boston Nationals said, "the meeting ended with the magnates having their arms around each others necks, preaching the interests of peace. It was a beautiful sight."

The real surprise of the schedule was that the Giants are slated to open the season in Brooklyn on April 11. It is the first time in more than half a dozen years that the Dodgers have opened with the New York club. After three days in Brooklyn, the National League champions will go to Boston. The first date at the Polo grounds will be Thursday, April 18.

According to the rule whereby each city's teams alternate from year to year on the opening date, the New York Americans will open on the Hilltop with the Boston Americans.

SECRET SERVICE AGENTS TOOK JOHNSON'S JEWELS.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Secret service agents yesterday raided the home of Jack Johnson the negro pugilist champion, and seized a $5,000 diamond necklace, which, it is charged, was summoned into this country.

It is said that if Johnson redeems the necklace he will have to pay $12,000 in duty and penalties. Government agents say that Johnson attempted to reach a settlement and offered $1,000 for the release of the jewels. This was refused. No criminal charge has been made against the negro champion.

Herrmann Buys Newspaper.

The Cincinnati club will have one newspaper in the city to boost the Reds along this season. For years it has been the policy of the baseball scribes in Redland to roast the managers and members of the Cincinnati team. Now Garry Herrmann, owner of the Reds, is head of a company that has purchased the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune. Associated with him will be Julius Fleischmann, Rudolph Heniska and several other business men of Cincinnati.

Carnegie Gives $500.

In response to the appeal which the Olympic committee sent out several days ago, Andrew Carnegie yesterday forwarded a check for $500 to be used in defraying the expense of sending to Stockholm a team of athletes that will be truly representative of this country. The committee estimates that $50,000 will be needed to have America represented at the games in Sweden next June.

Gus Ruhlin Loses Last Fight.

New York, Feb. 14.—Gus Ruhlin, the one-time noted heavyweight fighter, died at his home in Brooklyn at 7:30 o'clock last night. He had been ill only a short time. He was 40 years old and was born in Akron, Ohio. Since his retirement from the ring he has been in the liquor business.

Perfect Score at Traps.

The performance of C. D. Sayre, who scored a full score for the February Cup at the Bergen Beach traps Monday, is attracting attention from marksmen all over the country. Out of 100 targets, Sayre didn't have a miss. This is the first time in ten years the record has been made at the same traps.

WHAT THE SPORTS EDITOR HAS TO SAY

Here's the season's first prophecy: "I have never ventured a prediction before," said Secretary Davis of the Highlanders, "but I believe that the coming season will find us in the fight for the pennant from start to finish. Any team that has such players as Ford, Caldwell, Fisher, McConnell, Sweeney, Chase, Cree and Wolter certainly ought to give a good account of itself under proper management. We are out to win and we are going to give several teams all the trouble for which they are looking."

"They are all willing to talk trade but they always start out by offering me the choice of their bush leaguers and a bat bag for Daubert, Rucker and Hummel, so we don't get very far," said Col. Ebbets in summing up the many rumors about trades. Yawning behind his hand, he had closed a conversation with a trade seeking owner a moment before.

And still George Stovall's fate is undecided. Harry Davis offered him to Detroit for Moriarty and Navin wired back the deal would go through if Davis tossed in Graney for good measure. When Davis scorned this proposition Navin volunteered to exchange Moriarty and Drake for Stovall and Graney. Davis also failed to see this deal and offered Stovall to the Chicago White Sox for Rollie Zeider. Comiskey wired back "nothing doing."

Listen to Jim Gaffney, new owner of the Boston Nationals, and conjure, if you can, a picture of him being done out of anything by any other member of the magnate family. "These magnates were very profuse in their promises before I became one of them, but I have found out since that they wouldn't give up anything or anybody to save the life of a poor, shipwrecked cuss. Not that I consider myself by any means shipwrecked, but the point is they'd want a pack of foxhounds for a drove of fleas."

Scouts were unknown in baseball ten years ago, but they have come to be an important factor in the game today and some of them draw handsome salaries. George Huff, it is said, is to get the largest ever paid a scout from the Cleveland club the coming season. Neither the club owners or Huff have made the amount public.

While neither Ed Sweeney nor Johnny Warhop have signed their contracts, they are not considered hold-outs, although it is hinted that they are not entirely satisfied with the salaries offered. It is expected that Frank Farrell will see the players in Chicago and adjust all difficulties, bringing back the signed vellums on his return to New York.

Hank O'Day is credited with having said that the Reds are overloaded with pitchers and that at least eight of them will have to go. "Five or six good boxmen are all a team needs," he said, "and some first-class clubs have been wrecked on account of carrying more." O'Day is not alone in this opinion.

Great things are exepcted of Topsey Hartsel in Toledo on account of his inside information of the Connie Mack system. In addition to his knowledge of the world's champions manager's methods, Topsy is considered somewhat of a brainy player on his own hook.

With Jim Magee, a brother of Sherwood Magee, famed slugger of the Phillies, in a Brown's uniform and hitting up to his .307 average, the good old Irish name should be engraved deep and high up in the Swat hall of fame.

Hiring Managers by Weight.

George Moreland tells a good story of one of the owners of a franchise in the new United States League. This individual telephoned him to inquire as to the capabilities of a certain man whom he was considering as a manager. "How big is he?" the magnate inquired. "Oh, he's big enough for the job. He's all right. You needn't worry about him," replied Moreland. "Yes, but how tall is he?" "Oh, I don't know. About 5 feet 10." "How heavy is he?" "I should think about 180 pounds." "Now," inquired the new magnate, seriously, "in your opinion, is that heavy enought for a manager?"

Demarest After the Title.

Calvin Demarest, whose meteoric career as an amateur billiard champion led him into the professional ranks, where he won the 18.2 balk line championship title only to lose it again, has challenged Willie Hoppe for that title. Hoppe has already accepted it unofficially, and it is likely that the match will be decided about the middle of April in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor.

Miss Eva Chamberlain, of Harborton, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. H. K. Higgins, of East Fifth street.

BOB FITZSIMMONS' SON IS FUTURE "WHITE HOPE"

That the name of Fitzsimmons is not to fade from the prize ring horizon, boxing fans learned recently, when the news that the former champion is devoting considerable time in secretly training his son, "Bob" Jr., and soon expects to back the husky youngster as the latest "white hope."

"Bob" Jr., is not old enough yet to enter the roped arena although he is six feet tall and weighs 160 pounds. If he has inherited and can acquire a fair share of the ring craft and generalship his father possessed, young Fitz should make a bid for heavyweight honors that will make them all sit up and take notice.

The news of the secret training came out when Bob was recently asked about the rumor regarding his re-entering the ring. Peter Maher has announced himself as "coming back" and it was thought that a match between he and the freckled one would prove a winner. Fitz, Sr. then said that he was coming back all right, but by proxy, and then let out the hopes centred on his son.

"STRIKE," PREXY TELLS STUDENTS

"Sophs" at Stevens Institute Hear Ultimatum.

ALL BECAUSE OF HAZING.

President Humphreys of Hoboken School Holds Interesting Session With Second Class Men—Makes Threats Against Member of Faculty For Siding With Students.

Hoboken, N. J., Feb. 14.—The faculty of Stevens institute failed to take decisive action in the cases of the thirty-eight members of the sophomore class who are under suspension charged with participating in the hazing bee that took place outside the old Stevens castle, now a college dormitory, after the sophomore banquet last Wednesday night.

Dr. Alexander C. Humphreys, president of the institute, however, summoned the sixty unsuspended members of the class to the lecture room and read to them a newspaper article in which it was stated that the sophomore class had decided to quit in a body if the guilty members of the class were expelled.

"Now, we might as well settle this here and now," said Dr. Humphreys when he had finished reading. "Has there been any talk of a strike?"

"Yes!" answered a chorus of sophomores, tempered by a few feeble "Nos."

"How many said 'Yes?'" asked the president. "Put up your hands."

All but three or four of the sophs raised their right hands.

"All right," replied Dr. Humphreys, "go ahead and strike; I guess we'll be able to run the institute without you. Another thing, one of the professors is quoted here as being in sympathy with the hazers and threatening to resign if they are punished. If I could find out who that man is he wouldn't have to resign; I'd fire him."

"Dr. Humphreys is a business man rather than an educator," an upper classman said to a reporter, "and he puts scholarship and discipline above all other considerations in his dealings with the students. He is just the kind of a man who would dismiss a good part of the student body if he believed that by so doing he would be serving any principle."

BLAZE DOES BIG DAMAGE.

Burlington's Fire Destroyed Furniture Warehouse.

Burlington, N. J., Feb. 14.—A fire which the chief of police, Joseph Shumard, asserts was of incendiary origin, started in a stable and warehouse owned by Charles Hiller, a furniture dealer here, and before it was placed under control had destroyed the building.

The contents of the building were completely destroyed, the loss including wagons, harness and a stock of furniture. One horse was burned to death. Mr. Hiller could not estimate the damage, but said it was partially covered by insurance.

The fire plugs were frozen, but the firemen ran a line of hose from their house, a square away, to the flames. The plug at the fire house is inside and is kept open in the coldest weather.

SCHIFF GIVES $5,000 MORE.

Tuberculosis Preventorium Only Needs $4,000 More to Complete Fund.

Farmingdale, N. J., Feb. 14.—Marcus M. Marks, president of the Tuberculosis Preventorium For Children here, has received a second contribution of $5,000 for the preventorium's new buildings from Jacob H. Schiff. Mrs. Schiff has also sent a check for $1,000.

This brings the fund up to $146,000, only $4,000 being required to earn the conditional subscriptions made recently by John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and others to the preventorium. The new buildings will be ready for occupancy March 1 and will give the preventorium accommodations for 172 children.

FUMES INTOXICATING.

Alcohol Makes Firemen Stupid While Fighting Blaze.

East Orange, N. J., Feb. 14.—Two firemen became intoxicated while fighting a fire in the storeroom of Charles M. Decker & Bros.' liquor store. A number of bottles were broken by the heat and the fumes of the liquor were strong in the air. Assistant Chief Flynn and Foreman Menzel inhaled some of the vapor and took on all the symptoms of real drunkenness. Their intoxication passed off quickly, however, and they were soon back at work, none the worse for the experience.

The fire caused a loss of $50,000. The entire loss is covered by insurance.

Prudential Beats Newark.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 14.—The state board for the equalization of taxes ordered a reduction of the assessed valuation of the Prudential Insurance company from $31,483,000 to $7,346,767.90. The company had asked the board that the assessment be reduced to $6,482,052.85. All the important contentions of the company as against the tax officers of the city of Newark are sustained by the board.

The blow that was dealt the Standard Oil Company by the Supreme Court does not appear to have sent it through the ropes.—Chicago Record-Herald.

HEED THE WARNING.

Many Plainfield People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they help sick kidneys, and rid the blood of uric poison. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Plainfield people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Albert Naylor, musician, 256 East Second street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Several years ago I suffered from an ache in the small of my back and sharp pains when stooping or lifting. I took Doan's Kidney Pills, as I was told that they were good for such troubles and by the time I had finished the contents of two boxes, I was feeling better in every way. I have often recommended this remedy to people I have heard complaining of kidney trouble."

A SALE TO DELIGHT YOU

2,500 Yards of Wild Silk at 16c

HAVE BEEN SOLD AT 35c—AND JUST IN TIME FOR EASTER DRESSES

These winsome Wild Silks have always delighted our patrons, and in previous offerings we have hardly been able to get enough of them to satisfy the extraordinary demand created by this low selling price.

Wild Silk are a roughish weave of brilliant silk chain on cotton—extra durable and will not fray or cut in the folds.

Wild Silk has a glistening sheen and we present it in the most charming shades in this sale, which are particularly effective under the evening light.

Wild Silk is the original and best blending of the silk and cotton raw silk and could not be bought at any such price as we offer it were it not for the fact that the mills were closing it out, and we took all they had.

It is fine for waists, whole frocks and slips under nets or laces. They may be had in a fine variety of colors, which we list below. There are many changeable iridiscent effects; also Cream, White, Green, Steel, Black, Pink, Lilac, Lavender, Old Rose, Wistaria, Gunmetal, Canary, Maize, Violet, Ruby, Light Blue, Old Blue, Cadet Blue, Sapphire Blue, Peacock Blue.

Do not fail to partake of this distribution of these superb fabrics. Come, send or 'phone for Wild Silks and order more than one dress while they are so cheap. Don't let everyone else get ahead of you, and don't wait until these are all gone, for there will be no more material like this for 16c in the Daily Press European tours contest will be given, and also consider the fact that they will be under the auspices of Thomas Cook & Sons, a tourist company without a peer, you will admit that it is worth many times over the effort required to win. The contest is not yet fairly under way, as the vote standing will show. In fact, it only goes to show that now is the time to begin with a spirit of enthusiasm, and if you go about it in the right way you are sure to land at the top of the list. There are a number who have not yet entered the race, and it is to them that we say to give the matter careful thought, and be convinced that this opportunity is nothing short of wonderful. Each day friends who are interested in the different candidates, 'phone to this office to find out if this one or that one is going to work, and if you will only get in touch with these friends you will find that the securing of votes is really an easy matter. Make it a business proposition. The trip is worth a large amount of money to the winners. Organize a systematic campaign, and have your friends work with you. They will do it gladly. Make the minutes count.

Tonight the second count of votes will be made, and the result published in tomorrow's issue. See that you have a good showing of votes by the end of the week. The votes will be counted every night hereafter and published in the following day's issue. Every little helps. A little every day will keep you near the top. See that you get yours.

The above list contains names received at this office. We would appreciate the correction of any names misspelled or in wrong district.

We know that a good live newspaper is a good thing for a town and community—good for everybody, especially so for business men, who are after more customers. To have a progressive newspaper reaching thousands of homes at the time of day when there is plenty of opportunity for reading is a good proposition for every advertiser whose business is represented in its columns. The people want a paper which handles the local news in the manner that the Daily Press does.

Do yourself a favor by subscribing for the Daily Press, as you can keep in touch with the events in Plainfield, as well as those in the world outside. At the same time you can aid your favorite in the contest by giving her the benefit of the votes thus secured.

THE SEARCH FOR TRUTH

BY

CHARLES S. KEMBLE

PASTOR OF THE MONROE AVE. M. E. CHURCH.

Adventurers have sailed to unknown lands,
Have dared the dangers of the trackless seas,
Have grudged no labor of the brain or hands,
Forsaking lives of luxury and ease,
Allured by naught but gross material gold.
Shall golden truth less anxiously be sought?
Its price is earnest search; it is not sold
In any mart of trade, cannot be bought
Nor found by one whose search is mere pretence
For confirmation of endangered creed
Or palliation of a past offense.
Such truth as dazzled Saul is what we need
To check our course in sin, our error show;
Such truth as hides beneath the rainbow's arch
Whose lustre makes the heavenly pavements glow
And all the pathway there; for this we search.

I ask my inner soul—O Conscience bring
From out thine undiscovered source above
And with thy crystal waters outward fling
In coruscating grains the truth I love
Says Conscience, Nay I cannot give it birth
I mint the gold and like the mercury I
The truth assimilate assay its worth
But others bring to me the gold I try.

Ye everlasting hills I turn to you,
Have your rough rock-ribbed depths the truth concealed?
The earthquake yawning brought their depths to view.
Their hidden treasures stand at last revealed,
And well has Science read the tale there told,
But as she shouts exultant o'er her prize,
I cry—Can earth no more than this unfold?
And for still higher truth I lift mine eyes.

Eternal One of infinite control
Enthroned between the cherubim in cloud
Hast Thou no answer for the anxious soul
Whose zeal Thyself inspired? The Son of God
To Pilate's "What is truth?" no answer made
But to sincerer Thomas said in sooth
"I am the truth," and for them all He prayed.
"O sanctify them Father through Thy truth
Thy word is truth." Ah! now the field is found,
His Word's our Eldorado, where the veins
Of richest truth in every path abound
Which followed deeper yield increasing gains.

Discouraged one, the Spirit is thy guide;
He'll give thee grace to follow where He leads,
Help thee to gather truth on every side
In precious nuggets yet uncoined in creeds.

And thou, poor wanderer, Satan's fleeing slave,
Repentant tears will open up to thee
The way to thy Redeemer, strong to save,
Thou'lt find the truth and truth shall make thee free.

Toil on, faint not though blood drops mingle with thy sweat
Though shelterless thou push through snow and rain
And jagged rock-points lacerate thy feet
The riches amply recompense the pain.

This wealth possessed no waters shall destroy
The alien air shall pass it hurtless by,
The fiery furnace burn but base alloy,
For truth's immortal—it can never die.

NO HOPE FOR RICHESON.

Governor Foss Refuses to Save Avis Linnell's Slayer.

Boston, Feb. 14.—Governor Foss will not commute the death sentence of Clarence V. T. Richeson, the murderer of Avis Linnell, who has been sentenced to die in the electric chair in the week of May 10.

He told William A. Morse, junior counsel, that there is not the slightest chance to save the life of the former Baptist minister.

The governor will not submit to the executive council any petition favoring commutation of the death sentence. He is satisfied that the sentiment of the state favors the death penalty.

German Government Acts.

Berlin, Feb. 14.—The foreign office announces that an investigation of the murder in Mexico of German subjects has been ordered.

OVER AND UNDER BRIDGES.

Coffyn Gives New Yorkers View of New Air Stunts.

New York, Feb. 14.—Frank Coffyn showed New Yorkers a new air stunt when in his Wright hydroplane he looped the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges after a flight around the Battery from Pier A.

Coffyn was flying at a low elevation when he left the Battery, but continued to increase his altitude until his aneroid registered the 1,500 foot mark as he passed over the Brooklyn bridge. He made a turn at the navy yard and volplaned from such a steep angle that it looked as if he would take a tumble. He dropped to within few feet of the water and again raised his plane and passed under the Manhattan bridge, missing it by such a close margin that he was pulled from his seat by the suction. He said he was only about fifteen feet from the bridge. As he passed under the second bridge he was about midway of the water and the bridge, but experienced the same discomfort from the air currents. As he approached the Battery he was flying low and hurdled a ferryboat that was plowing the waters just ahead.

BANKER MORSE SAILS FOR EUROPE TODAY

With Wife and Son Pardoned Man Slips to Pier.

New York, Feb. 14. — Charles W. Morse, his wife and Harry F. Morse, his son, slipped out of their apartments on Fifty-eight street and went across the river and boarded the Hamburg-American liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, which sailed for the Mediterranean this morning. No one was around to see the Morse family leave.

A big automobile came in the darkness to the Milano apartment at 127 West Fifty-eighth street. Morse in his invalid chair was helped in, Mrs. Morse and her son followed, and the machine whirled downtown, bound for the Christopher street ferry to Hoboken.

REBELS IGNORE GONZALES.

Governor of Chihuahua Fails to Get Peace by Purchase.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 14.—Western Chihuahua is still in rebel hands and Governor Abram Gonzales has so far failed to induce the rebels to come in from the hills and accept the money he brought from Mexico.

Throughout northern Mexico the condition is becoming more alarming. At Torreon dozens of bands of men opposing the Madero government are riding the country robbing and looting, declaring they are part of the new army of Emilio Vasquez Gomez and that they mean to establish a new government with Gomez at its head. Railroads are tied up, bridges burned and the express companies have ceased to handle valuables.

ROAD SINKS IN ITALY.

Many School Children Killed and Hurt at San Remo.

San Remo, Italy, Feb. 14.—While forty-five school children were promenading the San Remo roadway a large part of it collapsed and all of the children were carried down.

The accident was due to subterranean sea erosion which had undermined a considerable part of the district.

It is feared that a large number of the children have been killed. Five corpses have been taken out. Ten injured children have been rescued and taken to nearby hospitals.

All of the children were swallowed up in the underground sea when the road sunk.

SCHIFF BURGLAR GETS NEW TRIAL

Judge Who Gave Valet Thirty Years Reconsiders.

TO PLEAD THIS AFTERNOON

Alton B. Parker Appears For Son of Banker Who Accused His Ex-Servant—Assault Charge to Be Pressed In Brandt's Second Trial—Unprecedented Legal Proceedings.

New York, Feb. 14. — Folke E. Brandt, the convicted Schiff burglar, is to be given a new trial. Judge Rosalsky, before whom he was convicted five years ago and sentenced to thirty years, granted a retrial at the end of two unprecedented proceedings in the courts of this city.

In granting the motion for a new trial Judge Rosalsky pledged himself to aid a full and fair investigation of the whole Brandt matter from start to finish.

Mortimer L. Schiff, whose house Brandt, a former employee, entered, joined through his counsel in the movement to give Brandt a new trial. Judge Alton B. Parker, representing Mr. Schiff, said his client was anxious that the public shall have a complete understanding of the case in order that the honor of Mr. Schiff and his wife, which have been attacked by Brandt, be vindicated.

Previously there had been before Justice Gerard arguments on the motion of Mirabeau L. Towns for a writ of habeas corpus to reopen the Brandt case. Justice Gerard reserved decision, and it is the opinion of lawyers that he will grant the writ.

If he does legal entanglements are likely to result. However, Brandt was arraigned in the court of general sessions at 3 o'clock this afternoon before Judge Rosalsky to plead to two indictments, one charging burglary in the first degree, the other charging felonious assault.

The burglary indictment is the old one, found five years ago. Brandt's counsel will demur to it on the ground that the facts alleged in the indictment do not constitute burglary in the first degree. This demurrer will act as a stay to the plea, but Brandt will have to plead to the assault indictment, and on this he will be held.

Then the demurrer will be argued. If the burglary indictment is sustained District Attorney Whitman will move the transfer of both indictments from the court of general sessions to the criminal branch of the supreme court. It is the expectation of the district attorney to retry Brandt on the burglary charge before Justice Davis next month.

DIX REOPENS CASE TOO.

Governor Decides to Reconsider Application For Pardon.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Governor Dix has decided to reopen the application of Folke E. Brandt, the former valet of Mortimer L. Schiff for executive clemency, which he denied one week ago. The governor also appointed Justice James W. Gerard of the supreme court as special commissioner to review all facts in connection with Brandt's application.

The governor took this action after consultation by telephone with Attorney General Carmody, who is in New York city and who represented the agent and warden of Clinton prison at the habeas corpus proceedings there. The governor states that he decided to reopen the case and to appoint Justice Gerard as special commissioner before he was informed of the fact that Justice Rosalsky, who five years ago imposed a thirty year sentence on Brandt when he pleaded guilty to the charge of having entered the home of his former employer for the purpose of burglary, had in New York city decided to give Brandt a new trial.

PARLIAMENT OPENS TODAY.

Three Great Questions Will Necessitate Night Sessions.

London, Feb. 14.—The session of parliament, which opens today, promises to be a momentous one on account of the three important measures—home rule, the disestablishment of the Welsh church and manhood suffrage—which the government is pledged to carry through. Any one of these measures a few years ago would have been considered ample work for the whole session.

Many all night sittings will be necessary to complete the legislative task before December, unless something occurs in the meantime to bring about a general election, which the Unionists are already forecasting.

Buying Real Estate

is easy. If you have the money you can find plenty of people who are ready to help you BUY.

SELLING is a different matter. In this transaction you need to take advantage of every material aid.

A GUARANTY OF TITLE is often an assistance in selling real estate. It at least removes any objection growing out of a possible defect in title.

When you buy secure a Guaranty of Title. Then it will follow the property when you sell.

Come in and talk it over.

Daily Press Advertising PAYS

Progressive merchants know this is true. It is proven instantly by a glance through the columns of the paper every day. See the announcements of the many up-to-date business houses of Plainfield and other cities.

We believe in advertising—"blowing our own horn" if necessary. That's why these talks are appearing from time to time. That's why the advertising in the Daily Press has already reached a point where it becomes necessary to print ten pages every night in the week, when a month ago it was seldom necessary to print more than eight.

THE BUSINESS MAN WHO "KNOWS HOW" TO ADVERTISE NEVER FAILS

He also must recognize the best medium for his annoucements, and it has only taken six weeks to arouse the advertisers to the fact that Plainfield has a REAL newspaper at last. The Daily Press occupies a unique position in the local field. It goes direct into the homes of the people who have the money to buy. Talk to the women of the family every evening through the NEWSPAPER THAT SHE READS.

Marshall Field said: "I would rather advertise in one newspaper delivered to a home than in a dozen sold in the streets." THE DAILY PRESS GOES INTO OVER TWO THOUSAND HOMES IN PLAINFIELD AND NORTH PLAINFIELD EVERY NIGHT, which means over ten thousand readers, at the least, figuring five to a family. These people read the Daily Press. They do not glance at the headlines and throw it aside, for they know that every item of local news contained therein is prepared by a staff of newsgathers who are sure of their facts before publishing them, and are not constantly printing things which have to be corrected later. It is the same way with the advertisements. The Daily Press has always refused fake patent medicine and similar advs. and will continue to do so. The announcements made in this paper are known to be genuine, made by reputable dealers.

Think it over and make up your mind to use the newspaper that has the confidence of the people.

BALLOT BOX AGAIN OPENED

Candidates For the Press Free European Trips Forging Ahead.

SOME ADVICE TO CONTESTANTS

Make a List of Prospective Subscribers and Get Your Friends to Use Their Influence with Them—Series B Expires Saturday.

The result of last night's count of votes in the Daily Press European Tour Contest, show that new candidates for this inviting trip are entering the lists and becoming active every day. The ballot box is doing its duty of receiving the little slips of paper that measure the chances of the candidates, as well as record their energy and ambition. The ballots will be counted every night from now on, and the result will be published in the issue of the following day.

Now that the voting is fairly under way, a few words of advice to candidates is not out of place. Make a systematic and careful list of prospective subscribers, getting your friends to use their influence with their friends, and before you realize what has happened you will have an endless chain of workers in your behalf. If you are not supplied with circular letters and subscription blanks, notify the contest manager and he will gladly furnish you with all the material you will need to assist you in your campaign.

When ballots are cut from the paper, be sure that they are trimmed neatly along the border, and keep them flat. Do not fold or roll them. Tie them securely together before depositing in the box. Remember

INDETERMINATE SENTENCE FOR HANDBAG SNATCHER

Robert J. Burton, the young negro who snatched a handbag from the grasp of Miss Pauline French on West Second street, two weeks ago was sentenced by Judge Atwater in the Court of Quarter sessions at Elizabeth yesterday, to serve not less than a year and a half nor more than fifteen years in State prison.

Burton had pleaded non vult to the allegation and had waived examination by the Grand Jury.

He was convicted of larceny in the Essex county courts a few years ago.

The police of this city believe Burton was the man who snatched a silver mesh bag from the hand of Miss Sadie Coyle on West Front street a week before the theft from Miss French.

JOHN GALBRAITH'S ILLNESS TAKES SUDDEN FATAL TURN.

After an illness of several weeks, John Galbraith died last night at his home on West Fourth street, in his seventieth year. There were no indirations that his illness would result fatally until he took a sudden turn for the worse several days ago. The funeral will be held from his late residence at 8:30 and from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. Galbraith had been a resident of Plainfield for many years and was widely known. Surviving are the following children, Martin, of New York; Patrick, of Newark; John, of West Third street, and Miss Mary Galbraith, of West Fourth street, this city.

HE GIRDLED THE GLOBE; GIVES HIS IMPRESSIONS

W. L. Saunders Views Chinese Republic as Most Important Event in Modern History --Talks of Japan, Germany and Russia.

William L. Saunders, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Jean Saunders, returned yesterday on the Steamship Olympic, concluding a delightful six months' tour around the world. The former mayor and his daughter left here last September in company with representatives of the Institute of Mining Engineers, the party going to California. They went from San Francisco to Hawaii, thence to Japan, where the Government gave them a royal reception; then to Corea, to China, thence north to Siberia to Moscow to Germany, France, Belgium, Switzerland and then to England and home.

Questioned as to the industrial conditions abroad, Dr. Saunders said that they were in a good, healthy condition, more so than in this country. There is no agitation for tariff changes, neither are the people on the eve of any government changes as in this country, and on the whole conditions are very satisfactory.

In reply to a question as to his impression of the Japanese, Dr. Saunders said that his ideas were distinctly different from what he had before visiting the Flowery Kingdom. "The Japanese are extremely aggressive, the greatest in the Orient," he said. "They are a hospitable people and as a race the hardest working on the Globe. They can get more out of a foot of soil than any one else.

"When one remembers that Japan was opened up only about fifty years ago, the progress of the country is all the more remarkable. The people have all the latest improvements, are up-to-date, a loyal, consecrated people and a unit for civic pride.

You ask me what I think of the Chinese Republic? Well, I think mighty well of it. It is the most important event in modern history. The mass of the people favor a Republic. There is no divided sentiment among the rank and file. It has only been in the royal family that there was opposition to the change.

"I believe that Yuan Shi Kai, who I understand is to be elected president of the Chinese Republic today, is an able and astute statesman, and that he was working among the members of the royal family to get their consent for a republican form of government. The Chinese have the confidence of the large banking institutions. They are absolutely honest, intelligent and patient. They are not agitators in any sense, but they realize they have suffered for years from the old form of government and when they saw the opportunity decided to break away and establish a republic.

"I was much impressed with conditions in Germany. I happened to be there at the time of the election the middle of January and the fact that the Socialists were victorious seemed significant to me. About one-third of the representatives in the Reichstag are Socialists. The Emperor don't like this, but it must be borne in mind that the large Socialist vote was a protest against the autocracy and military system of Germany, and the natives believe that a vote for the Socialist ticket is their only means of striking that autocracy. The Emperor believes that he is a child of God called upon to rule his people in an autocratic way.

"As to the attitude of Europe toward the Panama Canal I might say that it is passive. The English people feel that as long as the United States has acquired the canal, and is willing to spend its money in building it that it is wholly the business of our people. While there is no unusual interest among the English people in the building of the canal, they believe that it is a great thing."

Referring to the Russian policy regarding the American Jew, Dr. Saunders said that because of the action of Congress there was a strong feeling in Russia against Americans. He said that he had no sympathy for Russia's attitude, and in his opinion that country is hopelessly archaic and autocratic. He said that there are new 80,000,000 uncivilized people in Russia and the progress of the country has been and will be slow. The people generally consider the Czar a weakling and in the strong grasp of others who use him to suit their own purpose.

NEW BUDGET PLAN FOR THE BOROUGH

Inaugurates System That is Expected to Keep Expenditures Down.

CALLS FOR EARLY ESTIMATE

Committee Chairmen to Figure on Sums Their Departments Will Need in March Instead of in August—Borough Bill Amendment.

In line with his policy of economy, Mayor Robert Clark, of North Plainfield, last night made a suggestion to the Borough Council which was adopted, and which the executive and members think will result in a reduction of the annual expenditures.

Mayor Clark asked the chairmen of the different committees to be prepared at the March meeting to submit tentative figures on the money each committee will need during the remainder of the year. The plan heretofore has been to fix the budget in August.

Mayor Clark feels that the plan of setting aside the appropriation for each committee at the beginning of the year, will have a tendency to keep the expenses of each committee within that amount. Under the present plan the expenses are met and then the appropriation made to correspond.

Councilman Suttheu explained an amendment to the borough laws presented to the Senate by Senator W. W. Smalley on Tuesday last.

The amendment does away with securing of popular consent, at special elections; for public improvements, and gives the governing body of a borough the right to proceed with any contemplated improvement providing fifty per cent of the property owners do not protest within twenty-five days of advertised notice. The amendment was endorsed by resolution.

ADDITION TO COLUMBUS CLUB'S HOME PLANNED

The members of the Columbus Club have adopted plans for an additions to their handsome clubhouse on West Front street. It is hoped to start the work early in the spring and have the addition completed and ready for occupancy by fall. The addition, while it will be a separate building, will be connected with the present clubhouse. It will be erected on the west side of the lot.

The tentative plans call for a structure 110x50, two stories high. The first floor will be devoted to bowling alleys, pool tables, a shuffleboard and in the rear there will be a complete kitchen and equipment.

The second floor will be reserved for a large auditorium and stage, where entertainments, banquets and dances can be held. The stage will be fully equipped with all modern appliances so that the club will be able to give dramatic performances. The new building will be furnished throughout in harmony with the present clubhouse, adding much to the attractiveness of club life.

CAMPAIGN DIRECTOR PAID FAIR SALARY.

There being a rumor in circulation that Wilbor Bowen, the paid director of the twelve-day campaign for Muhlenberg Hospital, is employed here on a percentage basis, George P. Mellick, chairman of the executive committee, desires the statement made that Mr. Bowen receives a stated weekly salary for the time he is engaged in this city. Mr. Mellick added that the compensation is only fair and not exorbitant.

It makes no difference what amount is raised for the hospital, Mr. Bowen will receive only the stated amount fixed upon by the committee.

WESTFIELD HAS CONTRACT

All the Municipalities Depending in the Plainfield-Union Company for Water Are Expected to Send Representatives to Trenton Hearing.

The councilmanic special water committee met last night to discuss certain features of the proposed condemnation proceedings against the Plainfield-Union Water Company. So much time was taken up in the discussion that the street and sewer committee was unable to consider several matters as to new work and the proposed opening of streets.

Among the problems discussed was one in reference to the rights of the city to condemn the local plant and shut off the supply to towns between Plainfield and Elizabeth. It was stated that Westfield has a thirty-year contract with the company. Cranford, it was reported, has no contract.

The towns depending on the local company for their supply will no doubt arrange to be represented at a hearing at Trenton in March, when it is expected that the question of the city's rights will be decided.

Frank Bergen previously stated that under the law, the water company has the right to dig wells in any part of Union county and pump water therefrom and supply the same to municipalities. This will have an important bearing on the condemnation proceedings, for if the city should get the local plant, there would be nothing to prevent the company from building another plant elsewhere, even in this city, and continue to pump and supply water to Plainfield or other towns.

Another question raised last night was whether the water company could refuse to continue to supply Plainfield with water after May 1 next when the city's contract expires provided it was not renewed. It seemed to be the opinion that the company could not shut off the supply.

MAYORS ENDORSE HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN

Mayor Moy, of this city, and Mayor Clark, of the borough, both heartily endorse the Muhlenberg Hospital Campaign. Letters received from them were read amid rounds of applause at the daily dinner in Y. M. C. A. hall last evening. Mayor Moy is a member of Co. J of the citizens committee; and Mayor Clark belongs to Co. C. Both Mayors have entered earnestly into the work.

Mayor Moy wrote: "There can be no object more deserving of sympathy and support than that of extending relief to the sick, in saying which I am simply voicing public sentiment. This charity puts us all on a common ground and brings every individual in the community shoulder to shoulder with his fellow in a fight for the general good. The success of the movement is already assured, and this letter therefore, is really one of congratulation. I would like to feel that every person in the community had a part, however small, in making up the fund asked for. The potential force of a gift should not be governed by the amount, but rather the motive which prompts it. I feel that this campaign will develop in the hearts of the people of Plainfield an appreciation of the work of Muhlenberg Hospital never before attained."

Mayor Clark said:

"I note with pleasure and movement that is being inaugurated to raise the sum of ninety thousand dollars for Muhlenberg Hospital. It seems to me that the appeal should not go unheeded, for of all the institutions designed to help mankind, next to the church, there is no institution that appeals to our sympathies more strongly that the institution whose chief aim and object is to alleviate suffering. I trust that there may be such a spontaneity of feeling on this matter that this movement may totally eclipse all former efforts."

Funeral of Miss Remsen.

The funeral of Miss Letitia Remsen was held at the late home on Westervelt avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which Miss Remsen was an active member, officiated. The burial took place in Cypress Hills cemetery, New York.

UNION COUNTY FOR TAFT SAYS PARTY'S CHAIRMAN

Frank H. Smith, After a Canvass Among Over 500 Voters Declares He Finds No Roosevelt Sentiment Exists.

Having made a canvass among more than 500 Republicans throughout the county, Frank H. Smith, chairman of the Union County Republican Committee, stated today that he found the sentiment practically solid for the renomination of President William H. Taft. Only in two instances did he run across a Roosevelt shouter and in each case he asserted the "T. R." man could not be labelled a simon-pure Republican.

Frank H. Smith.

"I wanted to find out for myself," said the County Chairman, "just what this Roosevelt talk amounted to. During the past two weeks I have made it my business to see as many men as I could here and there about the county. What I learned was that there is nothing in this Roosevelt talk. Out of more than 500 Republicans I only found two men who favored Roosevelt and those two are what I call near-Republicans. They are the only two that told me that they would not vote for Taft. I can't tell you how many told me that they would not vote for Roosevelt but would rather vote for a Democrat.

"The Roosevelt sentiment, so-called, is purely among the Independents, not among the Republicans. The Republicans feel that Taft has made good and is entitled to a re-election. They do not see what claims Roosevelt has."

NEW SUSPECT IN HUNT FOR FOOTPAD

Johnson Freed and Police Search For Jasper Williams, Also Colored.

FRANKNESS WINS RELEASE

Prisoner Quits Lying and Tells Where He Spent Last Hour of Saturday Night—Williams Seems to Have Talked Too Much.

William Johnson, arrested Saturday night as the suspected assailant of Michael Weber, who was knocked down and robbed of $215 on West Fourth street, has been released, and the police have turned their attention to a hunt for another colored man. They are convinced that the latter is the footpad, and they have no further interest in Johnson.

Johnson had a fit of frankness yesterday when Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., questioned him. Until the assistant prosecutor examined him, Johnson had been steadily lying to the police with regard to his whereabouts on Saturday night. He told Mr. Hetfield the truth and after his statements had been corroborated the slender case against him collapsed, and the assistant prosecutor ordered his release.

Jasper Williams is the man the police are now seeking. He is said to have shown a large sum of money within a day or two, and statements he has let drop, as reported to the police by some of his companions, are of sufficient significance to warrant his arrest on sight. If Williams is in town he will be picked up before night.

Weber, the footpad's victim, is slowly recovering fro ma fractured skull at his home on Spooner avenue.

REGISTRATION BY PROXY IF BABCOCK BILL PASSES

Two amendments to the Geran election law were introduced in the lower house of the Legislature last night by Assemblyman George L. Babcock, of this city. One provides that a voter may register by proxy by means of an affidavit, when circumstances prevent his appearance before the registration board. An friend, whether a voter or not, may take the affidavit, which may be sworn to outside the State if necessary and file it with the board.

On election day when the voter has registered applies for a ballot the board is required to compare the signature on the affidavit with that placed on the voting book.

Mr. Babcock's other amendment provides for printing the square in which the voter marks the cross designating his choice on the left-hand side of the candidate's name instead of on the right-hand side.

TO DELIVER ADDRESS ON WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

Miss Rose Schneiderman, of New York, has been invited by the Equal Suffrage League of this city to address the business women of Plainfield. Her subject will be "Suffrage in Relation to the Business Woman." Miss Schneiderman will be recalled in connection with the shirtwaist strike last winter, when she made a reputation as an orator by her sturdy common sense mingled with fervent zeal for fair play.

The subject of votes for women has not been presented before in Plainfield by a member of the working class and Miss Schneiderman's speech promises to be one of peculiar interest. The meeting will take place in the suffrage headquarters in the Babcock building tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. After the speech there will be music and refreshments.

Dance at Park Club.

An informal dance was given at the Park Club, last night, under the direction of the entertainment committee, of which Mrs. Samuel Townsend is the chairman. There were about 150 guests. The patronnesses were Mrs. Charles P. Titsworth, Mrs. E. M. Daniel, 2d, Mrs. George L. Babcock, Mrs. Donald A. McGee and Mrs. W. J. Roome.

RECOGNITION SERVICE FOR FIRST BAPTIST'S PASTOR.

The members of the First Baptist church at a parish meeting, last night, ratified the action of the special committee in extending a call to Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong as pastor, and Tuesday night, March 5, was fixed as the date for the recognition service. The committee also hopes to secure Rev. Dr. Judson, of New York, and Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Villers, of the Peddie Memorial Baptist church, Newark, for speakers on that occasion.

Dentists' Banquet.

The quarterly dinner and meeting of the Plainfield Dental Society was held at The Homestead on Washington avenue, last night, when Dr. William Russell, professor of chemistry at the New York Dental College, gave a talk on "The Theory of Ionization."

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

'Plains & Fanwood.

The ladies of All Saints' Episcopal church held a successful supper last night in the Fanwood fire house. The menu offered was tempting to many and the hall was filled with diners between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock. Following the supper the young people enjoyed a dance, which was continued until near the midnight hour.

It is reported that the North Plainfield Township authorities intend to post Spencer's Hill, forbidding coasting, on account of the accident Monday afternoon when Frank Hengler was injured.

New Providence.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Michaleangelo Anudeo, of Berkeley Heights, for the marriage of their daughter, Theresa Anudeo, to Carmine Tortoviello, of Newark, at St. Mary's church, Stony Hill, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Isaac N. Thorp, of Springfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carolyne Hayes, of New York.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

It is glad news for the theatre-going public that Wm. A. Brady (Ltd.) is bringing another of his season's successes to Plainfield. This time it is "Over Night," the sparkling comedy which is coming to the Plainfield theatre and which will be there Saturday afternoon and evening next. Heralded as great, if not a greater success than "Baby Mine," "Over Night" was received with tremendous favor in New York, Boston and Chicago. It is pleasant to note that the company coming to Plainfield is the original New York company and not a second or third road company.

The superb operatic mixture of Viennese melodies and Celtic wit and satire, with Bulgarian scenes, manners and customs in "The Chocolate Soldier," forming a splendid background of romance, is the work of Oscar Straus, the composer of Vienna, and Bernard Shaw, the Irish wit and playwright, from whose romantic satire, "Arms and the Man," the libretto of "The Chocolate Soldier" is derived. It is chiefly the music which has given the opera its remarkable reputation. The opera will be at the Plainfield theatre February 20.

Geo. M. Cohan's comedy, "Get Rich Quick Wallingford," holds the record for play runs in New York and Chicago. For nearly two years in New York and one in Chicago the insistent appeal of this delightful entertainment demonstrated its superiority by attracting housefull audiences and its vogue over all America seems epidemic. It will be at the Plainfield theatre February 19.

"8 HOURS FOR WOMEN" BILL HEARING A LIVELY ONE.

Trenton, Feb. 15.—Senate bill 61, by Senator Edge, limiting the employment of women in stores, factories, bakeries, laundries or restaurants more than ten hours a day or eight hours a night, was the subject of a lively discussion at a public hearing before the Senate Committee on Corporations, of which Mr. Edge is chairman. The measure provides a penalty of $25 to $50 fine for the first violation; and $50 to $100 fine for the second violation. Notice of the hearing had been broadcasted over the State and many women were present as well as representatives of merchants and manufacturers.

BALM IN HIS BREATH

Hospital doctors and nurses are brought in contact daily with the most solemn and serious aspects of life, but that this is not always the case is illustrated by an incident at Muhlenberg which is just now beginning to go the rounds.

An Irishman living not many miles from Netherwood has been in the habit of bending his elbow so often and to such good purpose that he was taken to the hospital one day last fall suffering from what an old lady living in his neighborhood innocently called the "delicious trimmin's." Pat had been on his back two weeks or more and was gradually recovering his balance—although rather weak from the reaction—when a man who had formerly employed him called to cheer him up. The good samaritan, thinking it might be a fine opportunity to urge the patient to reform, said, as he bent over the cot:

"Now Pat you've been a hard drinker in your day and you see where it's brought you, why don't you give it up?"

"What's that you say?" asked the patient.

"I asked you to give up the stuff, to reform?" remarked the visitor, bending a little closer.

"Come down and whisper it in my ear," said Pat.

"Is it possible that drinking has made you deaf?" returned the good samaritan in a louder voice.

"No, it isn't exactly that," replied Pat with a grin, "but you see I have been lying here on my back for the better part of three weeks without as much as a drop of the good old stuff to wet my lips, and the smell of your breath is like a balmy breeze from Heaven."

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church will hold a Valentine social at the church tonight.

"Aunt Polly Bassett's" singing school will meet tonight and tomorrow night in Hope chapel and render a program of old time as well as present day melodies.

Mrs. George Staats will give an account at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. this afternoon of her recent visit to the W. C. T. U. at Washington, D. C., and will read a letter from Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, who is stationed at Washington in the interest of the W. C. T. U. to watch legislation.

J., at a meeting held February 9, 1912, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, the fourth day of March A. D. 1912, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for furnishing the following, that is to say:—

1,000 Bags of Oats, more or less, of best No. 2 quality.

50 Tons of Hay, more or less, of best quality.

25 Tons of Straw, more or less.

To be delivered at the various engine houses, in quantities as required by said department, from the date of receipt of bids to August 1st next.

Upon receipt of bids or proposals the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, product and parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council. The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council. Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Oats, Hay and Straw."

By order of the Common Council.

JAMES T. MacMILLAN, City Clerk.

Dated, Plainfield, N. J., February 9, 1912.

RICHARD E. SLOAN.

Named by Taft For Federal Judge In Arizona.

ARIZONA A STATE NOW.

President Taft Signs Proclamation Admitting Forty-eighth Star.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Taft signed the proclamation admitting Arizona to the Union.

He used a gold pen, which is to be given to Postmaster General Hitchcock.

Thus Mr. Taft added the forty-eighth star to the flag and brought within the sisterhood of states the last bit of territory within continental United States.

There were three moving picture operators in the president's office and half a dozen photographers lined up with them on either side of his desk.

It was announced that the president would send the nomination of Richard E. Sloan, former governor of Arizona, to be United States district judge for the new state to the senate.

NEW LORD CHAMBERLAIN.

Lord Sandhurst Gazetted to Succeed Earl Spencer.

London, Feb. 15.—Lord Sandhurst is gazetted as lord chamberlain to succeed Earl Spencer, who retired a few days ago.

He was born in 1855, has been a sub-lieutenant in the Coldstream guards, a lord in waiting, undersecretary for war and governor of Bombay. He was the civil attache to John Hays Hammond, the American special ambassador at the coronation of King George. His present wife is a daughter of the late Mathew Arnold. His first wife was a daughter of the fourth Earl Spencer.

Lord Sandhurst is interested in theatrical matters and the turf. He is a member of the Garrick and Turf clubs.

LOCAL OPTION BILL UP MONDAY

Antisaloon League Had Planned to Defend It.

NOT HELD IN COMMITTEE.

Senator Leavitt, Mindful of Former Years, Sends Measure Back to Senate and It Reaches Third Reading—No Hope For Its Final Passage.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 15.—Although for years they have been pleading that the measure be not permitted to die in committee, friends of local option were chagrined when the bill which had been introduced in the legislature was reported out, put on third reading and made ready for final vote on Monday evening.

As soon as the measure made its appearance in both houses members of the Antisaloon League of New Jersey and other advocates of the movement made arrangements for defending the bill at a public hearing, which they confidently expected would be announced. The bill was referred to the municipal corporation commission of the senate, of which Harry D. Leavitt of this city is chairman, and he, mindful of the appeals of past years, lost no time in having it brought out. This blocked any chance for a hearing, and it is now believed that the bill will be beaten on Monday as in preceding years.

Governor Wilson, before his departure for Concord, N. H., met all of the Democratic assemblymen except the Monmouth county delegation, which is supporting David Crater. He was urged to name Senator Stizer to succeed Colonel Samuel Dickinson as secretary of state.

The senate received the following nominations from Governor Wilson:

Harry W. Lange, to be judge of the district court of Hoboken.

Alexander McAllister, M. D., of Camden county, to be a member of the state board of medical examiners.

George Mason Lemonte of Somerset county and Joseph Olone of Hudson county, to be members of the prison labor commission.

The house bill allowing Hudson county to raise money by bonds in excess of the appropriations of last year brought on a spirited debate in the senate. Senator Edge of Atlantic declared that the measure would cause extravagance, and Senator Nichols of Cumberland asserted that it was a "mortgage of future generations." The bill went over for consideration next week.

Two of the most important bills passed by the senate were the measure providing for the compensation of persons wrongfully imprisoned at the rate of $1 a day and $1,000 damages and providing that the public utility commission may not forbid railroads to carry clergymen at reduced fare.

The house passed a bill fixing the salary of the mayor of Newark at $10,000 a year.

BREACH OF PROMISE PLEA.

Westfield Girl In Tears Asks Judge to Send Lover to Jail.

Westfield, N. J., Feb. 15.—Anna Sellchow of this place in tears entreated Judge Owen Mahon to put into practice her theory of punishment against John Culiago, whom she is suing for breach of promise.

"Please, Judge, send him to prison," she sobbed. "Send him one day for every day that we were engaged. He kept company with me for a year and four months. Won't you send him to prison for just that length of time?

"I want him to marry me," she said, "and he won't, so I want him where no one else can get him." He loves another girl, she added, but she refused to give her name. The girl heard rumors of an intended elopement. Culago was held under $500 bonds.

DR. BABCOCK IN ACCIDENT.

Train Grazes Motor, but Physician Escapes Uninjured.

Woodbury, N. J., Feb. 15.—Dr. W. Wayne Babcock of Philadelphia narrowly averted a serious accident at the railway crossing here when a northbound accommodation train from Glassboro grazed his motor car and bent the axle.

The car contained two physicians and drove up to the crossing an instant before the train was due. The gate was open, and Dr. Babcock was about to cross the tracks when he saw the flagman signaling and stopped.

The step of the first car struck the automobile, turning it completely around. Neither of the occupants was thrown out or was the car overturned. The damage to the machine was slight.

HOLD WOMAN UP IN PARK.

Screams Frighten Highwayman Off, but He Hits Her.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 15.—Mrs. Julius Geissler, wife of a merchant, is prostrated in her home at 24 Sherman avenue here. While on her way home from the Central M. E. church on Tuesday night a young man held her up in the park and demanded her valuables, at the same time commanding her to throw up her hands.

Instead of complying Mrs. Geissler screamed. The highwayman hit her a severe blow over the heart and fled.

—Blobbs—"I'm in a peck of trouble. I don't know what to do." Slobbs—"Why don't you resort to other measures?"

DON'T NEED CASH TO BUY GAS RANGE

Plainfield, N. J., February 16, 1912.

That the State of New Jersey has no bonded indebtedness should be a matter of patriotic pride to every citizen of the State. Let us keep the State free of debt. While other states are plunging in debt, New Jersey is reserving her resources for the future and hence is an object of both envy and admiration. The proposition to bond the State for $10,000,000 to build roads should be rejected swiftly and emphatically. Judging by the past, the roads at the end of two or three years would be worn out and the situation would be like that which now exists with the serious exception that the State would be loaded down with a $10,000,000 bond issue and nothing permanent to show for the money.

Good roads are necessary to the State. The business-like plan would be to arrange a system whereby the traffic must pay for the road and its damage, without mortgaging the people's future. If the State is to be bonded, it should be for some lasting work of great importance, such as the conservation of the forests or the impounding of the potable waters of the State—or from health reasons such as trunk line sewers. Let us not throw away our assets. Let not "Haste and Waste" be the policy of New Jersey.

The testimony being given at the packers' trial in Chicago gives the public some inkling of the reason why the price of meat is so high. It confirms the retailers' claims that the packers are to be blamed for the prevailing high prices. The manager of one of the largest houses admitted on the witness stand yesterday that at times he ordered flat increases and reductions in prices of dressed beef regardless of the quality or grade of the product. He even went so far as to say that he acted solely on his own judgment in changing the price to meet what he considered market conditions. Another witness stated that the concern had two test costs—one the actual cost, which is used in the company's ledges, and the other the memorandum cost, which is sent to district superintendents and branch house managers. The memorandum cost he added was always the higher. The least that may be expected from these trials is that they will be the means of setting the retailer straight before the public but the real aim of the Government is to break up the combinations by sending some of the responsible men of the concerns to jail.

It is extremely probable that the express companies will not be able to compel the public to pay exorbitant charges for the transmission of packages much longer. A bill prescribing the rates to be charged by express companies engaged in interstate traffic will shortly be reported to the Federal House by the interstate commerce committee and if it goes through Congress the present rates will be cut in half. The committee has collected some facts and figures showing the enormous profits and of the management and practises of these carriers. The bill in question provides that packages of certain weight, the contents of which do not exceed $80 in value shall be carried for distances of 2,000 miles and over for $1.20; just under 2,000 miles, 75 cents; not more than 1,200 miles, 50 cents; not more than 75 miles, 35 cents; not more than 500 miles, 25 cents.

Encouraged by the enthusiasm displayed by the people in helping the cause, the Muhlenberg Hospital campaigners have adopted as their slogan "The Sobel Mark." That means simply that the goal will not be reached until $125,000 is subscribed. Sobel, be it explained, is the man from Erie, Pa., who aroused the citizens gathered at a banquet on the eve of the campaign to a high pitch of enthusiasm. Having experience in raising funds of the sort he proclaimed, after glancing over the crowd, that the people of Plainfield were going to give $125,000 for their hospital's needs. So now the goal is the Sobel Mark.

An oxygen pumping device for coaxing back life has proven a successful experiment in the hands of officials of the Federal Bureau of Mines. More than 30 persons who had ceased breathing were restored by the use of the pump, which will be distributed widely in the near future. In drowning cases, electrocution accidents and gas poisoning it should prove invaluable. The machine works automatically filling and emptying the lungs. Oxygen is forced in and the poisonous gas, for instance, forced out until normal breathing is finally restored.

Dr. Willis Fletcher Johnson, president of the State Civil Service Commission, had the sublime courage the other night at a banquet to characterize Abraham Lincoln as "a political boss, a successful and persistent log roller." If such were the case how in the name of heaven did he "put up" with Seward?

Our friends, James E. Martine and Samuel S. Swackhamer, missed a field day at Trenton yesterday. Patriotism filled the air of the Senate chamber for several hours when the solons raised their voices in behalf of bills relating to the American flag and a Washington monument.

The price of silver spoons have gone up since the time of Ben Butler. In London the other day three of an ancient make brought $3,500.

Miss Taft was "induced" yesterday to pose for the moving picture men. Are we to have another "Princess Alice?"

NO LET UP BY FUND WORKERS

selves and he felt sure that the lodge would subscribe.

Charles W. McCutchen, of the Executive Committee, occupied the seat at the head of the officers' table at the daily dinner in the Y. M. C. A. last night, taking George P. Mellick's position as presiding officer. After the divine blessing was invoked by Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, and an extra good dinner was enjoyed, Mr. McCutchen's remark that there were 135 men and 34 women present, called for hearty applause.

Mr. McCutchen read congratulatory letters from Mayor G. W. V. Moy, of Plainfield, and Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of North Plainfield, showing their interest in the campaign and wishing a "good-old" termination. Another letter from Captain and Mrs. S. A. Hewitt, of the Salvation Army, accompanied by a subscription, was the signal for another round of applause.

Wilbor Bowen, director of the campaign, announced that beginning Monday and continuing up to and including Wednesday night, would be "free-for-all" and workers would be privileged to go where they please.

Addressing the workers again, Mr. McCutchen gave them a new motto: "Don't let up." He further stated that tonight four directors of the Staten Island Hospital would be guests, to get pointers on the campaign and he hoped that all would be on their good behavior.

Then followed what proved to be one of the most amusing features of the campaign. Former City Judge William N. Runyon, whose talent is never lacking when the opportunity presents itself, had previously written original verses, appropriate to the occasion, which were found at each plate. They were in the shape of valentines and each one bore a picture of cupid. The verses were exceedingly clever and pertinent to the occasion. In addition Mrs. Frederic W. Butler distributed among the workers small red hearts suspended from a string. Prior to calling for the reports from the various captains, Mr. McCutchen requested Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, who he disignated as "his secretary" to read a few of the verses written by Judge Runyon.

Henry A. McGee, chairman of the Citizen's Committee, was designated to call for the reports of the captains of the various companies, while Judge Runyon filled his customary role in calling the names of the captains of the teams.

Beginning this afternoon at 1 o'clock the committee of one hundred women held its first luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. to make its report of money collected. This is the "trump card" of the executive committee in making a whirlwind finish to the campaign and it is confidently believed will work wonders. The women will meet every noon now, except Sunday, until the close of the campaign, and the result of their work will be watched with unusual interest, for they are determined to give the men folks a great surprise.

Another Lodge, No. [illegible] F. and A. M., through its officers and members, will subscribe $100 to the campaign fund. This is the second lodge to subscribe as a body.

It is understood that a majority of Plainfield's secret and social organizations, as well as all the associations of city employees, are anxious to be represented in this movement.

It has also been learned that there is great rivalry between the teams captained by George O. Stevens and H. W. Marshall, for former Mayor C. J. Fisk has promised $50 to the team securing the greatest number of contributors during the whole campaign.

There were 136 women and four men at the first luncheon today. Mrs. Henry C. Irons presided and Rev. C. L. Goodrich invoked the divine blessing. After the luncheon Samuel Townsend and Wilbor Bowen made brief addresses more in the line of instructing the women as to their line of work. The women will make their reports beginning tomorrow afternoon.

Below is the relative standing of the Companies and Teams so far in the campaign:

THREE SEASONABLE HATS OF RIBBON AND CHIFFON

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOME MILLINER.

THE three hats shown here are of the kind that are likely to be popular for spring wear. The first two are of straw trimmed with ribbon, the large one that comes down well over the face being decorated with flat bows of a new kind of striped material that resembles peune velvet. The third hat, which is suitable for dressier occasions than the other two, is of chiffon in two different shades, the plaited frill around the edge of the brim being very effective.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

CONCERNING CLAMS.

THOSE who are fond of clams will appreciate the fact that they are abundant and cheap at present. Many persons prefer clams to oysters, and there are many ways of cooking them.

Nearly every family that is fond of chowder has its own way of making it, so a recipe for chowder would be like bringing coals to Newcastle.

In trying the following recipes it is well to say that where fresh clams are not to be had the canned ones may be used instead.

Thin shelled clams are the best and most easily opened.

Cooked In the Shells.

When clams are to be steamed or the shells figure in the cooking process they should first be well scrubbed.

Steamed Clams.—Place the clams in a vessel on the fire and without water. Cover and cook until the heat compels the clams to open their shells. Then take the clams out, pour the clam juice into another vessel and let it stand until it settles.

Now take the clams out of the shells, peel off the thick skin on the edges and cut off the black ends with scissors.

Rinse the clams in a little of the clam juice. When the rest of the juice is clear pour it carefully into a saucepan so that none of the sediment follows, add the clams and put on the stove to heat again.

The steamed clams should be seasoned at the table by each individual to suit taste. They are served with brown bread or toasted crackers.

Clams For Luncheon.

Clam Croquettes.—These are made with steamed clams which have been taken out of the shells and trimmed. With the scissors cut the clams into small bits. Mix these with a thick cream sauce and season. Shape into rolls, roll in fine breadcrumbs and dip in beaten egg, then roll in crumbs again. Fry in hot lard.

Escalloped Clams.—For this also the clams should be steamed. They are then placed in a shallow baking dish covered with white sauce and a layer of buttered crumbs and so on in alternate layers until the dish is filled. The dish is then placed in the oven and baked until brown.

Anna Thompson.

Cooking Sweetbreads.

Sweetbreads may be larded. The larding should be done before they are parboiled.

If they are braised, slices of lemon placed upon the sweetbreads while they are braising will heighten the flavor and keep them white as they are preferred when served with white sauce. Plenty of herbs for flavoring should be used when the sweetbreads are braised.

Baked Sweetbreads.—Take the fat, the fibers and the windpipe from sweetbreads and parboil for fifteen minutes. Lard them and place in a baking pan. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Pour into the pan enough veal stock to cover the bottom. Bake for about three-quarters of an hour, basting often. Serve with peas.

FRIBBLES OF FASHION.

What the Shops Are Showing In New Dress Materials.

In silks taffeta is announced as the material par excellence—chiffon taffeta, glace taffeta, changeable or chameleon taffeta, shaded taffeta and taffeta reversible. A distinct novelty is the changeable double faced taffeta. This fabric has two surfaces, both changeable, but different in colorings, giving two surfaces of equally interesting colorings.

Along with the Egyptian motifs popular in trimmings and fabric designs are the Turkish toweling effects and the crashes, over which Paris is most enthusiastic.

The Norfolk jacket is a becoming one to young girls, and the coat pictured is of this type with new and attractive features. It is made of corduroy and is wonderfully good either for a separate wrap or to be worn with a corduroy skirt.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for misses of fourteen, sixteen and eighteen years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7296, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

The Crochet Rose.

Many are the uses for the silky rose crocheted in baby Irish style out of the heavy mercerized cotton or twisted silk of white or cream color.

The bags on which it is the chosen trimming are among the newest designs to be seen in the shops, but a use still more novel is as the trimming for one's new girdle.

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:
If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),

He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 109 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. Further information may be had at that time or by applying to the secretary, Arthur E. Crone, care of the City National Bank. tu-th

Judge Hetfield Confirmed.

The State Senate at Trenton last night confirmed Governor Wilson's appointment of Walter L. Hetfield as judge of the Plainfield District Court. Judge William Newcorn, whom Mr. Hetfield will succeed, said today that in all probability Mr. Hetfield would receive his commission and be sworn in by the County Clerk before next Thursday, but if he did not Judge Newcorn would again sit.

Defends School Reforms.

Former State Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, who was chairman of the Senate committee to investigate the public schools and of the Senate committee on education last year, gave out a long statement today defending the plan his committees evolved governing examination for admission to high schools and other reforms in administration.

The Travel Club of the Congregational church will not meet tomorrow night, having postponed the meeting until Friday night, February 23, at the home of Mrs. A. N. Neilsen, of Watchung avenue.

SCOOP HAS A LIVELY INTERVIEW WITH A COAL MINER WHO DIDN'T TALK ENGLISH

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

BOXING DEAD IN ENGLAND, AMERICA BECKONS RINGSTERS

Another invasion of the United States by British ring lights is on tap. A letter received from Bombardier Wells, the British heavyweight champion, states that he will sail from England on March 2 and George MacDonald, manager for Matt Wells, writes he will start for America with the lightweight champion of England the latter part of February. With him will come Sammy Kellar and Harry Mansfield.

"The boxing game is on the decline here at present," writes MacDonald, "and I intend to put my string in action in America."

GIANTS GAMES TO START AT 3:30 THIS SEASON

Local fans hailed with delight the announcement that the baseball games at the Polo grounds during the coming season will in all probability start at 3:30 instead of 4 o'clock. This change has been suggested in the past, but was never adopted. Those from this city who have ever attended exhibitions in the metropolis have always experienced difficulty in arriving home early unless they left before the game was over.

Practically all the games in the West start at 3:30 o'clock, but there has been an old time fallacy in New York that the moment business stops in Wall street, everybody is free to attend the games and the management was afraid of lessening the receipts by adopting the earlier hour. As a matter of fact, the change will probably increase the attendance, because so many more from the suburbs will attend if they are enabled to reach their homes at a more reasonable hour.

WHERE THE BIG FELLOWS UNLIMBER AND REDUCE

The big league players will depart for the spring training camps next week. Of the sixteen major league clubs, the New York Giants will get under way first, having selected Marlin, Texas, as the place for pitching their tents and February 20 as the date. The Yankees will get in condition at Atlanta, Ga., after March 5. The other teams and their training grounds are as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Chicago, New Orleans, La. March 5.

Philadelphia, Hot Springs, Ark., March 1.

Brooklyn, Hot Springs, Ark., March 1.

Cincinnati, Columbus, Ga., March 1.

Pittsburg, West Baden, Ind., March 4; Hot Springs, Ark., March 17.

St. Louis, St. Louis, Mo., March 7.

Boston, Augusta, Ga., March 11.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Philadelphia, San Antonio, Texas, February 26.

Detroit, Monroe, La., February 27.

Chicago, Waco, Texas, March 1.

Cleveland, Mobile, Ala. March 7.

Washington, Charlotteville, Va., March 11.

Boston, Hot Springs, Ark., March 11.

St. Louis, St. Louis, Mo., March 7.

League Approves Umpires.

The staff of umpires, selected by President Tom Lynch, of the National League, has been approved by the league magnates. Clarence Owens, of Kansas City, formerly with the American Association, was appointed to take the place of Hank O'Day, who has become manager of the Cincinnati club, and G. S. Bush, of Davenport, Ia., was appointed an emergency umpire. All the veterans will be retained as follows: Jim Johnstone, R. D. Emslie, William Brennan, Mal Easton, William Finneran, William Klem and Charles. Rigler. Klem, Rigler and Owens each signed a contract for three years.

Capron Olympic Sprint Candidate.

Quarterback Ralph Capron of the University of Minnesota football team will enter the Olympic trials, which are to be held next May in Chicago. Capron, who has run the 100 yard dash in ten seconds, will compete in the 100 meter dash.

Eastern Olympic Tryouts.

The eastern tryouts for the big Olympic meet in Sweden next summer will be held at the Harvard stadium, Cambridge, Mass., June 8.

Japs Take to Basketball.

Japanese residents of San Francisco are playing basketball.

McVey and Langford Again.

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 15.—Sam McVey, the California pugilist and heavyweight champion of Australia, has signed articles for a match with James Barry, the Chicago heavyweight, to be fought on March 9, and also for a match with Sam Langford, the Nova Scotian pugilist and heavyweight champion of England, to be fought on Easter Monday, April 8.

PITCHERS WHITE AND JOHNSON HAVE NOVEL AGREEMENT.

Walter Johnson and Doc White agreed three years ago to pitch nothing but straight balls to each other. They have always held to their bargain, which looked like a bad one for Johnson, who is a better pitcher than the White Sox southpaw, while White is a better hitter than the Washington wonder, but Johnson has the only victory won by the agreement to his credit.

White and Johnson were the pitchers in a hard fought game in Chicago in 1910. White came up with a Sox runner on second base. He laid for Johnson's fast straight ball and made a single that put his team one run to the good. Johnson came to bat two innings later with two Washington players on base. He hit the first ball pitched for a single, scoring both runners and winning the game.

TAX WORLD'S SERIES CASH TO CREATE "WAR FUND"

New York, Feb. 15.—The National League baseball men, in session at the Waldorf-Astoria yesterday, provided for a "war fund," with which to cope with outlaw movements in future.

The owners voted to deduct from the champion club's receipts in the world's series each fall 25 per cent.

If this rule had been in effect last fall, for instance, John T. Brush, of the New York club, which received $90,000 from the world's series, would have paid more than $22,000 into the league's treasury.

In addition to this fund, to be collected annually, each National League club will be assessed to the extent of $5,000, "to cover league expenses," a total of $40,000.

Out of the latter amount must be paid the salaries and traveling expenses of officials and umpires, rent of local headquarters and other expenses.

P. H. S. HOCKEY TEAM SWAMP N. B. H. S. SEVEN.

The Plainfield High School hockey team won its first game yesterday afternoon by defeating the New Brunswick High School seven on the Cedarcroft rink, in a one-sided contest. The score was 11 to 1. Fast team work and accurate shooting against individual puck chasing and erratic advances told the tale.

N. B. H. S.—Harvey, goal; Van Derveer, point; Harkinson, cover point; Shultice, centre; Fisher, right wing; Landmesser, left wing, and Harris, rover.

GEHRING AND YOKEL WILL WRESTLE FOR TITLE.

Henry Gehring of Cleveland and Mike Yokel of Salt Lake City will wrestle for the middleweight championship in Cleveland Feb. 27. Gehring now holds the title.

In Salt Lake City a year ago the men struggled for four hours without either securing a fall. The bout will be two out of best three falls.

Raicevich Returns Home.

Giovanni Raicevich, the Italian wrestler, left for his home in Pisa, Italy, today on the steamship La Provence. Raicevich snapped a ligament on both sides of his right knee in his match with Zbyszko at Madison Square Garden on Monday night as the result of a "toe hold" used by the latter in gaining the first fall in 54 minutes 52 seconds, after which the Italian was unable to continue. Dr. John R. Bolognimo, of 311 West Twenty-eighth street, incased the injured member in a plaster cast and ordered Raicevich to quit wrestling and take an absolute rest for at least a month. Instead of remaining inactive here, Raicevich decided to return to his home in Pisa.

Changes in Trotting Rules.

At the biennial congress of the National Trotting Association held yesterday at the Murray Hill Hotel, New York, the rule prohibiting hobples, except for two, three and four year old classes, was raised. It was decided to make the official starter responsible for repression or misrepresentation of time under penalty of disbarment. On half-mile tracks horses will be allowed three seconds on mile-track records for purposes of entry, provided the entry's record is slower than the half-mile track record.

Poggenburg Won Match.

New York, Feb. 15.—J. F. Poggenburg, former national champion, yesterday defeated Edward F. Gardner in the international balk line championship tournament, 400 points to 358.

WHAT THE SPORTS EDITOR HAS TO SAY

Jim Gaffney, of the Boston Nationals, says that Mike Donlin is no hold-out. "He called me on the long distance 'phone from Chicago the other day," Gaffney said, "and gave me to believe that our differences of opinion could be easily adjusted. We need him I'll confess, but we do not need him as much as he needs baseball to keep before the public," continued the newest owner who has a way all his own of forming and expressing opinions.

The International League will have two catchers named Harry Smith the coming season. On of the backstops is with the Newark team, the other with Buffalo.

If reports from Ithaca can be relied on, that Dan Read will again act as head coach of the Cornell football eleven, with Dr. Al Sharpe, of Yale, as his first assistant, Cornell can be congratulated. Dan Read knows the players, and is well qualified to continue his labors with the team, while Dr. Sharpe knows football from the ground up. It looks like a happy combination.

A double attraction is offered enthusiasts of the bowling game tonight on the Olympia alleys. The match attracting the most attention is scheduled between the Plainfield and Rutherford Elks. The other will be a series between the South-Paw five and the Butchers.

No date has been set yet for the match between the Red Men and Knights of Columbus, postponed from last Friday night. This Friday night, the Indians will take on the Moose team in their second meeting in the fraternal tournament.

The scheduled ten-round bout between Hugo Kelley and K. O. Brown at Kenosha, Wis., next Wednesday, February 21, is attracting a lot of attention from followers of the boxing game in the East as well as West. Brown was obliged to give up training in Chicago on account of the edict against boxing and is now doing his work in secret. Kelly is said to be rounding into condition rapidly despite his long let-up from active work. Fans are somewhat doubtful, however, and are not posting many bets, fearing that Kelly will not have the stamina to carry him through ten rounds at top notch with the hard hitting Greek.

In the call issued for candidates to the Yale crew Tuesday, Coach Harriman urged the big men to turn out. Eighty students appeared, but the big fellows were conspicuous by their absence. Harriman said that if the graduate coaching system was to succeed it must be backed up in every way by the undergraduates and supported by the big men. Captain Romeyn agrees with the coach in desiring heavier candidates.

Bob Unglaub and Freddy Parent two old Boston players, will once more play on the same team, being booked for Baltimore.

Jules Fournier, the Canadian slugger, has changed his sox, having been released by the Boston Red Sox to the Chicago White Sox.

With Jim McGuire, Bobby Lowe and Joe Sugden doing scout duty there is no doubt that the Detroit Tigers will grab their share of promising youngsters this season.

English Olympic Trials May 18.

The English Amateur Athletic association trial races for the Olympic games, including the Marathon race, have been fixed to take place at Stamford Bridge on May 18. The general championship of England will be held on June 22. The Olympic committee of Great Britain has $22,500 to take the athletes to the Stockholm events.

Yale Stadium Will Seat 60,000.

Architects are preparing plans for the fireproof stadium to be built by Yale university in New Haven. It is to seat 60,000 and will be ready in 1915.

Arnst May Row Durnan.

Richard Arnst, the Australian world's champion professional sculler, has written to Eddie Durnan, Canadian and American champion, naming the terms on which he will row the Canadian on Toronto bay. Arnst demands a big share of the receipts from the boats which follow the race.

Will Bonhag Lower Shrubb's Mark?

Arthur Duffey, former amateur champion sprinter, thinks George Bonhag will lower Alfred Shrubb's record of 9 minutes 9 3-5 seconds for two miles probably at the Olympic games tryouts.

Favorable Report on Scalping Bill

The bill prohibiting the sale of baseball tickets at a price greater than that stated on the ticket was reported favorably to the New York Assembly yesterday.

AMERICAN LEAGUERS ADOPT THEIR SCHEDULE

According to the schedule adopted yesterday by the American League club owners, 154 games will be played by each team. The season will open April 11 and close October 6. Opening games will find St. Louis at Chicago, Boston at New York and Washington at Philadelphia.

The Yankees will have twelve Saturdays and two holidays at home. Two games will be played with the Athletics at the Hilltop on Memorial Day, while Boston will be entertained for two games on Labor Day. Wolverton will lead his men to Washington to celebrate on July 4. New York will open the season at home with the Boston Red Sox, three games being scheduled. Washington will follow and then the Yankees will travel over to the Hub to open the new park of the Red Sox. The Athletics will appear on the scene in New York on April 22 for four games, after which the Yankees will play eight games abroad, four in Washington and four in Philadelphia. The St. Louis Browns will head the advance of the Western clubs to the Hilltop this year, engaging Farrell's minions for the first time on May 7.

CONROY, OF "CORNELL" TEAM, MADE PERFECT DIVE SCORE.

In the dive for form contest at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday afternoon, Conroy, of the "Cornell" team, alone made a perfect score. Each boy was allowed three dives and was marked on the basis of 10; 2 points for approach, 6 for dive and 2 for finish. There was 43 entries. Nine of the boys bunched for second position with 9 points and another group of 6 each have 8 points for third.

Those making second high mark were Coudray, Wheelan, Brower, Manley, Foster, Pennoyer, Sheng, Bierse and Murphy. McNamee, Tomlinson, Ryder, Rosenson, Cartwright and Hylan are those in third place.

The next event will be the 23-yard swim.

BROWN PECULIAR PUGILIST.

Beats Champions and In Turn Gets Trimmed by Third Raters.

Though there is not a fight expert who believes that there is championship class in "Knockout" Brown, the New York lightweight, yet that worthy has a record which would place him in the front rank. The fact that he twice outpointed Ad Wolgast, knocked out Tommy Murphy and scored over Abe Attell seems not to have changed the general opinion that Brown is a second rater at his best.

Brown, as far as boxing skill is concerned, should have been an easy mark for any of the fighters mentioned

ed. He has found Bert Keyes and Leach Cross, two third raters, tough propositions and has received one severe drubbing from One Round Hogan, who in turn was outpointed by Murphy. The mystery is, How has Brown prevailed over the leading boxers?

Packey McFarland is the latest of the lightweights to express a desire to get on with Brown. He offers to meet him at 133 pounds at 3 o'clock and expresses confidence that the awkward style of the New Yorker will not baffle him.

Where Ministers Bud.

"The Making of a Minister," was the subject of an interesting illustrated lecture given at Trinity Reformed church, last night, by Rev. Dr. John C. Gebhard, of New York, corresponding secretary of the Board of Education of the Reformed Church in America. The views showed the various academies, colleges and seminaries of the Reformed church.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF WALL STREET REGIMENT.

The Twenty-second Will Celebrate on May 28 Next.

The fiftieth anniversary of the departure from New York of the Twenty-second regiment engineers for the civil war will be celebrated May 28 next, when the survivors, who perhaps number less than 100, will be specially honored.

On that occasion the regiment will assemble at its armory and be reviewed by the veterans, after which there will be a short parade by a provisional Twenty-second regiment company of the veterans themselves and the existing regiment, the veterans forming the right of the line, followed by the other veterans, and these in turn by the members of the present regiment. In the evening there will be a collation, at which the veterans will be the guests of honor.

The original Twenty-second was what might be called a Wall street regiment. In April, 1861, when all the national guard were at the front, the banks, insurance companies and other institutions of New York decided to form and equip at their own expense a military organization for the defense of the city. In pursuance of an advertisement to that effect, a committee was formed, with Lloyd Aspinwall as president and Hugh N. Camp as secretary. Its membership included F. S. Winston of the Mutual Life, Morris Franklin of the New York Life, George T. Hope of the Continental Fire, Nathaniel Hayden of the Chatham bank, F. S. Lathrop of the Union Mutual Insurance company, Charles J. Martin of the Home Insurance company, John Wadsworth, E. A. Stansbefry of the Metropolitan Insurance company, James M. McLean of the Citizens' Fire Insurance company, and William H. Aspinwall.

This committee raised $18,000 and imported from England the necessary Enfield rifles and accoutrements at a cost of $17,624. The regiment itself, after its organization, raised $6,000 more.

Colonel James Monroe, who had served on General Scott's staff in Mexico, was appointed to command the regiment. He died of fever the following year while with the regiment in Virginia.

THE APPENDIX VINDICATED.

This Surgeon Finds It Useful In Operations For Pellagra.

Dr. A. D. Cudd, director of the Good Samaritan hospital, at Spartanburg, S. C., recently read a paper on pellagra, in which he said:

"I would suspect the majority of cases of pellagra to be a local malady with a general systemic manifestation, and upon this theory I performed nine operations with the loss of one patient and seeming recovery of the other eight."

In four of the operations the vermiform appendix was removed, after which an antiseptic solution was injected through the appendix into the colon, or lower end of the large intestine. In Dr. Cudd's opinion the colon is a breeding place for disease germs, and the appendix is so arranged that the surgeon can establish a natural canal through the abdominal wall through which to carry an antiseptic solution and destroy the germs.

WIRELESS PHONE 450 MILES.

Government Installs California's Invention on Two Cruisers.

Having demonstrated that it was possible to talk by wireless telephone from Mare Island to Point Loma, San Diego, 450 miles distant, the navy department has accepted installations of the National Wireless Telegraph and Telephone company, and the system immediately will be put into operation for government purposes at Mare island, Goat island, Farallone islands, Table bluff, Point Arguello and on two United States cruisers.

Experiments with the wireless phone, which is a Californian's invention, have been going on for months, the government requiring as a satisfactory test a thirty minute conversation over a distance of twenty miles. This test was easily met.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Congressman Doesn't Care Whether He's Called Democrat or Republican.

The new congressional directory has Representative Curry of New Mexico listed as a Republican. He is a Democrat and has the honor of being the first representative elected in the recently admitted state.

When Theron Akin of New York was elected to the house, the directory listed him as a Democrat. He insisted that the entire edition be reprinted to show that he was a progressive Republican.

When the mistake was brought to the attention of Mr. Curry he said:

"Oh, let it go at that. I don't care what they call me, as long as I know what I am."

UNION COUNTY COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Notice of Hearing Objections to Assessments for Street Improvements in the City of Plainfield.

Harry B. MacDonald, Joseph Harrigan and Andrew J. Gavett, the Commissioners appointed by the Union County Court of Common Pleas, by order entered on the eighteenth day of October, 1911, to estimate and assess benefits conferred by the permanent street improvements in the City of Plainfield, under the ordinances of said city specified in said order, (said ordinances being also hereinafter specified) and the character of the work and improvements for which said assessments have been made and a description of the sections of the particular streets and avenues thereof which are included in said assessment, being as follows, viz:

Thornton Avenue, from Park Avenue to Hillside Avenue;

Johnston Avenue, from North Avenue to East Front Street;

Jackson Avenue, from North Avenue to East Front Street;

Essex Street, from Darrow Avenue to Spooner Avenue;

Putnam Avenue, from Webster Place to Woodland Avenue;

Netherwood Avenue, from North Avenue to East Second Street;

Stebbins Place, from South Second Street to West Fourth Street;

South Second Street, from a point 50 feet east of Morris Street to Clinton Avenue;

Prescott Place, from South Second Street to West Fifth Street;

Randolph Road, from Park Avenue to Woodland Avenue;

West Fourth street, from Monroe Avenue to Clinton Avenue;

under the ordinances of said City entitled: "An Ordinance to authorize the issuing of municipal bonds for the purpose of obtaining money from the sale thereof for the permanent improvement of streets and highways of the City of Plainfield, pursuant to Chapter 300 of the Laws of 1898, during the year 1910," Approved June 7, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of Thornton Avenue, with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of Johnston Avenue, with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of Jackson Avenue with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of a Portion of Essex Street with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of a Portion of Putnam Avenue with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of a Portion of Netherwood Avenue with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of Stebbins Place with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of a Portion of South Second Street with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of a Portion of Randolph Road with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 16, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of Prescott Place with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 15, 1910;

"An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of a Portion of West Fourth Street with Durable Macadam Pavement," Approved July 16, 1910, which ordinances were adopted under and by virtue of the act of the Legislature entitled, "An Act to authorize the improvement of streets and highways in cities of this State, and to provide for the payment of the expense of the same, and for the assessment of the benefits of such improvement upon the lands and real estate benefited thereby," approved June 13, 1898, and the amendments and supplements thereto, having made and filed in the office of the clerk of said court a report in writing of their estimates and assessments, accompanied by surveys and maps prepared by the City Surveyor under their direction, showing lots or parcels of land and real estate peculiarly benefited by such improvements, respectively, the total cost of the whole work upon each of the sections of said streets or avenues improved as aforesaid, under the aforesaid ordinances; the portions assessed upon the City at large, the portion charged to the Public Service Railway Company, and the names, so far as ascertained, of the owners of the said lots or parcels of land and real estate, and the amount of the assessment to each owner for each of said lots or parcels of land and real estate for the said benefits and the excess thereof to be paid by the City at large, and raised by general tax, and the other matters required by said acts of the Legislature, as by reference to said report and maps will more fully and at large appear.

Notice is hereby given, that said Union County Court of Common Pleas has fixed the twenty-first day of February, 1912, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as the Court can attend to the same, at the Court House in the City of Elizabeth, as the time and place for hearing before said court any objections that may be made to such assessments, when and where all parties may be heard, and has directed the publication of this notice.

A RUSH FOR WILD SILKS 16c

THOSE PRETTY SILK AND COTTON STUFFS AT

You should have seen the fine response to the announcement of this sale of the rough weave silk-cotton Wild Silks today.

Such enthusiasm, such persistency, is seldom shown these days, for bargains have become such commonplace things.

But Wild Silks are different from a great many bargains. At 16c a yard they are enough to create a whirlwind—and they do. See how they are being swept off the counters, piece after piece.

Everybody seems to want a dress or two of them and waist lengths are bought by half dozens.

Plenty for all. Come Friday or Saturday.

Wild Silks are fine for waists, whole frocks and slips under nets or laces. They may be had in a fine variety of colors, which we list below. There are many changeable iridescent effects; also

Come, send or 'phone for Wild Silks and order more than one dress while they are so cheap. Don't wait until these are all gone, for there will be no more material like this for 16c

On Bargain Table No. 2.

ALL-WOOL DRESS GOODS

AT LITTLE MORE THAN HALF PRICE

Prepare yourself for a delightful surprise.

We've just bought from one of the best mills in the country a lot of 3,000 yards of strictly All Wool Dress Stuffs, in all the new Spring shades, made of fine grade yarns in 43-in. width, and tho they are really worth $1 a yard by any fair standard we are prepared to pass them on to you, Friday and Saturday, at the surprising price of 59c

You may have to wait your turn to get these, for there is sure to be a crowd around that famous BARGAIN TABLE, No. 2, from the moment they are put on sale tomorrow morning; but you should have YOUR SHARE OF THEM, so come and pick the shade you like best. Choose from—

ALLEGE NATION WIDE CONSPIRACY

Thirty-eight Arrests Made In Dynamite Probe.

NAME HOCKIN AS LEADER.

Great Case Will Begin In Earnest With Arraignment of Labor Leaders In Indianapolis March 12—Say McNamara's Successor Attempted to Obtain Immunity.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Thirty-eight arrests, with more to come, have been made on indictments returned by the federal grand jury that investigated the alleged dynamiting conspiracy. It is practically admitted at the federal building that fifteen or twenty more arrests will be made today and tomorrow. With few exceptions the accused men are now or were formerly affiliated with the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the International union; Herbert S. Hockin, secretary-treasurer; J. T. Butler, first vice president; Fred T. Sherman, business agent of the local union of ironworkers, and S. P. Meadows, business agent of the Carpenters' union, were arrested here and taken at once to the office of the United States marshal, where they gave bond, Ryan and Hockin in a sum of $10,000 each and the others in the sum of $5,000 each.

The arrests bring before the country the full extent of the alleged dynamite conspiracy and show what men the government accuses of having had a connection with a nation wide criminal organization formed among ironworkers and others to fight the battles of unionism with dynamite and nitroglycerin. Caught in the net of the government in all parts of the country are labor men who are accused here of having had a hand in the conspiracy or in overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy. Explosions which occurred in twenty or more cities in six years, and for which no one was punished, again spring up before the public, and local communities find that the government is attempting to bring to justice many men who have not hitherto been known to be connected with the dynamiting game.

A total of fifty-four men were indicted by the federal grand jury, it was learned at the federal building. District Attorney Miller, who has been in charge of the investigation, predicted that every man indicted would be under arrest by today. Few, if any, he said, were likely to escape arrest, although in one or two instances, he said a defendant might be out of his home city or not accessible to the marshals at once.

All defendants will be arraigned before Judge Anderson in the federal court March 12.

Herbert S. Hockin, the secretary-treasurer of the ironworkers, made many attempts to reach an agreement with the government after the inquiry began, but all overtures were rejected, as the officials believed him to be one of the leaders in the conspiracy and were certain of his indictment and punishment. It is no secret that he will make a clean breast of the whole conspiracy.

Hockin is charged with having gone to McManigal when the latter was a quarryman in Detroit and to have induced him to attempt the blowing up of a hoisting engine and some other machinery and designated the place where the explosive could be found. It is also charged that he induced McManigal to go to Buffalo and blow up the Lehigh Valley bridge. The dynamiter says Hockin was with him in Buffalo, but the explosion was arranged so as to give Hockin time to get to Canada.

It has been related by McManigal that Hockin aided in the actual transportation of the explosives. The taking of a suit case full of nitroglycerin to Cleveland for the Fourth of July "job" at Akron is one of the events in which Hockin figures.

Besides being a field general in the conspiracy, Hockin is alleged to have been in charge of a good deal of the work of keeping the conspiracy supplied with dynamite and nitroglycerin. He was back of the plan to establish a nitroglycerin storage house at Muncie, it is said, and, according to McManigal, was the man who made arrangements with C. C. Keiser, a well shooter, to obtain the "juice," consignments of nitroglycerin being transferred from one buggy to another along lonely roads during the darkness of the night.

For some time Hockin has been recognized as one of the most resourceful leaders in the Ironworkers' union, and as an international organizer was much in demand in all parts of the country.

MACFARLAND IN DEATH HOUSE

Newark's Convicted Wife Murderer In Trenton Prison.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 15.—Allison M. MacFarland of Newark, convicted wife murderer, is now in the state prison. He seemed cheerful. His counsel, Frank M. McDermitt, assured him that he would get him back to the Essex county jail within a day or two.

Ex-King Mataafa Dead.

Auckland, New Zealand, Feb. 15.—Mataafa, former king of Samoa, is dead on one of the Fiji islands.

SENATOR KNUTE NELSON.

Who Will Protect Rights of Countryman, Folke E. Brandt.

NELSON WATCHES CASE.

Minnesota Senator Demands Square Deal For Brandt.

Washington, Feb. 15. To correspondents here Senator Knute Nelson, himself a native of Sweden, the birthplace of young Brandt, the Schiff burglar, now seeking a pardon, declares he will appeal to the department of justice if his countryman is returned to prison.

Brandt is in the Tombs, New York, awaiting the outcome of the habeas corpus proceedings in his case to escape his thirty year sentence.

BILL TO CUT EXPRESS PROFITS IN HALF

Adamson Measure Based on Recent Hearing Findings.

Washington, Feb. 15.—A bill prescribing the rates to be charged by express companies engaged in interests of commerce will be reported to the house of representatives in the near future. The bill was introduced by Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

The measure was discussed at a hearing attended by Franklin K. Lane, a member of the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Lane submitted to the committee facts and figures collected by the commission incident to the conduct of its inquiry into the management and practices of the express companies.

The Adamson bill, if enacted into law, would cut the earnings of the express companies in half. The bill proposes a material reduction in rates, amounting in the aggregate to about 50 per cent. It provides that packages of certain weight, the contents of which do not exceed $80 in value, shall be carried for distances of 2,000 miles and over for $1.20; just under 2,000 miles, 75 cents; not more than 1,200 miles, 50 cents, and not more than 750 miles, 35 cents.

WANT INDEPENDENCE.

Porto Rican Papers Quote Senator Root as Opposing Citizenship.

New York, Feb. 15.—Porto Rican papers just arrived here tell of a statement made by Senator Root of New York in which he put his foot down on the idea of granting the Porto Ricans American citizenship and expressed himself in favor of granting them independence under an American protectorate.

Senator Root expressed his views to Roberto Todd, mayor of San Juan and member of the national Republican committee, when the latter was in Washington to attend the gathering of that body. Todd wanted some definite expression from him on the subject, and he got it.

Gonzalo O'Neill and D. Collazio, president and secretary of the Porto Rican alliance, are joyous over this reputed stand of Mr. Root. They are tired, they say, of just hoping for American citizenship for their fellow people. Ninety-five per cent of the Porto Ricans were in favor of independence, they say.

Clothes Save From Assassin's Shot.

New York, Feb. 15. His heavy clothing saved Emmanuel Oliver, a watchman, from death at the hands of an assassin who lay in wait for him at the door of his home. The fellow discharged both barrels of a double barreled shotgun at his breast. Oliver's heavy coat and clothing were torn by the heavy charge of birdshot, and he was knocked down, but his clothing stopped the shot.

Offers to Sell His Body For a Meal.

Philadelphia, Feb. 15. John McCarthy, an aged man, has offered to sell his body for $15 to the Pennsylvania hospital so that he might have just one good meal and one warm bed before he died. He was informed that hospitals did not purchase bodies for dissecting purposes.

"WHAT THE BIBLE TEACHES US"

BELIEF OF THE INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS.

The following, reprinted from the "The Watch Tower," is given out by the representatives of the International Bible Students' Association, who are conducting a series of meetings at Trades Council Hall, as explanatory of their position on the interpretation of certain portions of the Bible:

"Those who oppose our teaching are given to misrepresenting it. They do not wish to speak untruthfully, but desire to hinder our work, which they fail to recognize as the Lord's work.

"It is difficult to answer the arguments of our opponents in a few words, when they misunderstand our presentations of more than three thousand pages. If they cannot understand a detailed account, we have no hope of making a brief one satisfactory to them. However, we give here a synopsis:

1. We affirm the humanity of Jesus and the deity of Christ.

2. We acknowledge that the personality of the Holy Spirit is the Father and the Son; that the Holy Spirit proceeds from both, and in turn from all who are begotten by it.

3. We affirm the resurrection of Christ—that He was put to death in the flesh, but quickened in the Spirit. We deny that He was raised in the flesh, and challenge any statement to that effect as being unscriptural.

4. We affirm, with the Scriptures, that God alone possessed immortality, "dwelling in the light which no man ca approach unto." We affirm that this Divine quality has already been granted to the Lord Jesus and is to be the portion of the elect Bride, the "Body of Christ." As for mankind, we affirm the Divine provision for these and for angels to be everlasting life for the obedient. This, by many, is mistermed immortality. We follow the Scriptures strictly.

"5. We hold that the entire race lost life with Father Adam, as a result of his failure in Eden; and that Christ died to secure a second chance for Adam and an individual choice for all of his race, who lost their first chance in Adam when he sinned. "As all in Adam die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive." (1 Cor. 15:21, 22). A few of us, comparatively, having eyes of faith and ears of understanding, have had this second chance in the present life. Adam and the great mass of his posterity must get their second chance after being awakened from the tomb. But nobody is to get a third chance!

"6. We believe that the soul was condemned to death. 'The soul that sinneth it shall die.' We believe that this death would have been eternal, evrlasting dstruction, had it not been for God's mercy in and through our Lord's redemptive work. By reason of His death our souls do not die in this full sense of the word, but are Scripturally said to 'fall asleep, 'asleep in Jesus.' The awakening will be in the resurrection morning; and the interim will be a period unconsciousness, beautifully symbolized by a restful sleep.

"7. We believe in the "hell" of the Bible, sheol. This, the only word used for hell for four thousand years, is translated more than one-half the time grave in our common version and should always be thus translated. "Hades," in the New Testament, is its equivalent. "Gehenna fire," of the New Tetament, is a symbolical picture declared to signify the second death.

"8. We believe that God is able to destroy "both soul and body" in Gehenna—the second death. We consider it much more sane to believe thus, as it is more Scriptural, than to believe that in creating man God did a work which He could not undo; much more reasonable also than to believe He prefers to have the incorrigible suffer eternally, when their sufferings could no neither themselves nor others any good.

"9. We believe that, like the Father and the holy angels, our Lord is a spirit being. We are convinced that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God." We do not believe that our Lord has a flesh and blood body, a "little lower than the angels," and has thus been out of harmony with His heavenly environment for nearly two thousand years. We believe the Apostle's statement, "Now the Lord is that Spirit." This is the Jesus who will 'so come, in like manner,' quietly and unknown to the world, as He went away. We do not affirm, dogmatically, that He came in 1874, but we say that to us it is the evident teaching of the Scriptures. Our Lord warned us not to expect Him in the flesh; that men might say 'Lo, here' or 'Lo, there.' The Harvest work in the universal Church Nominal, the Laodicean period of the Church, well corroborates our expectations of what His work will be, as outlined in His parables, etc.

HALDANE'S VISIT ASSURES PEACE

England and Germany Are Friends, Says Asquith.

HOUSE OF COMMONS CHEERS

British Premier Makes Expected Announcement Concerning Visit of Viscount Haldane, Secretary of War, to Berlin—Admits Relations Were Strained Over Moroccan Question.

London, Feb. 15.—Premier Asquith relieved the curious members of the house of commons when in a speech he told of the visit of Lord Haldane, British secretary of war, to Berlin. He said Lord Haldane had conferred with the emperor and left it to be surmised that Germany and England had reached an agreement with regard to their mutual actions.

It is rumored that this is the last official act of Lord Haldane as secretary of war and that his assistant, Colonel John Bernard Seeley, will soon succeed him.

Continuing, the premier declared that the anticipations in regard to the results of Lord Haldane's visit to Berlin and an improvement in the friendly relations between Great Britain and Germany were completely realized. Lord Haldane, he said, freely and frankly conversed with a wide area of German officialism, and there was an unmistakable evidence of a sincere and resolute desire on both sides for a better footing for their relations, but at the same time without impairing their special relationships which each bore to other powers.

"Both countries are now engaged with a careful survey of the practical possibilities," was the concluding sentence of the premier's statement. As he resented himself on the bench cheers broke out from all parts of the house. The significance of the premier's words were instantly realized, and the unanimous approval which was given them on the spur of the moment showed that the sentiment in the house of common for better relations between Germany and England is almost unanimous.

FOREIGNERS IN DANGER.

Durango Now Storm Center of Mexican Rebellion.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Durango has developed into the greatest storm center in all disordered Mexico, according to advices received at the state department. Foreign life and property is reported in grave danger if help does not come in the form of federal troops.

Revolts have been reported at Cruces, Velardena, Hodeo, Catalina and Nazas.

At Torreon the situation is reported as very bad. Foreigners are seeking escape from the city, but as railroad communication has been cut it is believed many Americans will be obliged to remain there against their will for the present. It is reported that seventy rebels were killed near Torreon.

Matamoros is in the possession of more than 300 rebels, who have also captured several smaller towns. The plant of the Teneros mine at Velardena have been sacked.

Colonel Steever, commanding at El Paso, reports to General Wood that he has sent a troop of cavalry to watch a band of cattle thieves reported encamped near an American ranch opposite Columbus, N. M., eighty-six miles from El Paso.

AMERICAN WOMEN FLEE.

United States Cruiser Offers Shelter From Danger In China.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Because of great alarm among the foreign colony at Tengchowfu, the American women and children at that Chinese port have been taken on board the United States cruiser Cincinnati. Admiral Murdock reported this action to the state department from Shanghai.

The refugees will be taken by the Cincinnati to Chefoo, opposite Port Arthur and near the disturbed region. The revolutionists landed large bodies of troops on this coast recently. The sentiment of the territory is largely pro-Manchu, and the landing of the republican forces was met by a movement of imperialist forces to meet them.

Minister Calhoun, at Peking, has sent a circular note to all United States consular officers instructing them that their relations with either of the de facto governments and the administrative officers of each must be wholly informal. They have been instructed that they are nowise to afford or indicate recognition of either the Peking or Nanking governments upon the part of the United States.

Baron de Ri Branco's Successor.

Washington, Feb. 15.—It is reported to the state department from Brazil that Laure Miller of the state of Santa Catharina will be appointed minister of foreign affairs, succeeding the late Baron de Ri Branco.

Favorable to Herrick.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The senate committee on foreign relations by unanimous vote made a favorable report to the senate on the nomination of ex-Governor Myron T. Herrick of Ohio to be ambassador to France.

—The smallest electric battery ever constructed is in use in connection with a vest-pocket cigar lighter, which has just been brought out in France.

MRS. MABEL V. D. BELL.

Only Woman Endowed With Federal Judicial Powers.

WOMAN JUDGE MAKES GOOD.

Mrs. Mabel V. D. Bell Popular as a Commissioner.

Covington, Ky., Feb. 15.—The prediction that Mrs. Mabel Van Dyke Bell would not "make good" as United States commissioner, to which she was appointed by President Taft a month ago, has not been fulfilled. Attorneys practicing in her court are unanimous in declaring her capable and courteous.

Mrs. Bell so far as is known is the only woman in the United States endowed with federal judicial power.

ROOSEVELT'S FRIENDS BEGIN CAMPAIGN

Medill McCormick Sponsor For Statement.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The Roosevelt campaign against President Taft was formally opened here when the "Roosevelt national committee," a newly born organization, issued a statement assailing the administration.

This organization, which is backed by the men who have been trooping to the Outlook office in New York recently and which obviously has the permission of Colonel Roosevelt to use his name, brings the issue between the president and his predecessor squarely into the open.

The opening statement of the Roosevelt organization affords impressive evidence of the bitter personal character of the campaign that is to be waged. It describes the policy of the Taft administration as one of "political suicide and murder." Medill McCormick, who is temporarily in charge of the Roosevelt headquarters here, stands sponsor for the statement.

MEXICAN REBELS VICTORS.

Armijo's Small Army Is Ambushed at Higueron.

City of Mexico, Feb. 15. Forty-eight men under Captain Armijo, composing the advance guard of Cesio Roblo's columns, which were marching to the relief of Jojutla, near Cuernavaca, were ambushed by rebels at Higueron, near Tlenilitemengo, and before re-enforcements arrived thirty-five of the rurales had been killed and eleven desperately wounded. Not a single rebel was hurt.

Farther on the main federal column was ambushed and seven soldiers killed. No rebels were injured. The federal column succeeded in reaching Jojutla, causing great joy to the people, although the siege was not raised. Captain Armijo of the advance guard was killed in the first ambuscade. A successful maneuver by a young lieutenant named Miguel Hernandez alone saved the column from being massacred like the advance guard.

NEW HEAD OF REICHSTAG.

Dr. Kaempf, a Radical, to Fill Spahn's Place.

Berlin, Feb. 15.—Dr. Kaempf, a Radical, was elected president of the reichstag. He takes the place of Dr. Peter Spahn, who, though elected president of the house, resigned because he refused to associate with the Socialist vice president.

The Socialist vice president is Philip Scheidemann. He presided over the house, as Dr. Spahn had resigned before the meeting.

The above list contains names received at this office. We would appreciate the correction of any names misspelled or in wrong district.

We know that a good live newspaper is a good thing for a town and community—good for everybody, especially so for business men, who are after more customers. To have a progressive newspaper reaching thousands of homes at the time of day when there is plenty of opportunity for reading is a good proposition for every advertiser whose business is represented in its columns. The people want a paper which handles the local news in the manner that the Daily Press does.

Do yourself a favor by subscribing for the Daily Press, so you can keep in touch with the events in Plainfield, as well as those in the world outside. At the same time you can aid your favorite in the contest by giving her the benefit of the votes thus secured.

CAMPAIGN VERSE

BY WILLIAM N. RUNYON (AND ONE OTHER.)

Cheered not only by the feast day of St. Valentine, but by the assurance of triumph in their campaign, the hospital fund workers went in for a bit of play at their daily dinner last night. They had a sort of valentine party. Every worker got a valentine card, and with each card went an individual verse. Judge Runyon wrote all the verses, except one for himself, and a commentator, after sighting down the tables, guessed that the Runyon muse is an able-bodied goddess. Six of the verses, addressed to officers of the campaign forces, follow:

When Gabriel blows his golden trump,
The good, they say, will rise,
And follow him in triumph
To a home beyond the skies.
But some of us may not connect,
And so it's sort o'cheerin'
With Heaven's Gabriel far away
To have one here from Erin.

All cases at the hospital, from heart disease to bunyon,
Command the zealous sympathy of Colonel William Runyon.
And so he sends the order forth the coffers full to fill.
We certainly can do it, and do it Will, we will.

While he's not a bit loquacious,
He is very efficacious
When it comes to start a lot of people goin'
So we testify with pleasure
We have found a perfect treasure
In the man who's awakened Plainfield—Mr. Bowen.

A toast to old Muhlenberg's pirates!
A toast to the Captain and crew!
A nervier bunch of marauders
Our city has never gone through!
They hew down their victims with pencils.
They bleed 'em with little white cards,
Long life to your crew, Captain Mellick,
And to you our most loving regards.

Hello, Central, give me 90,
Mr. Townsend, please.
Hello Townsend, you're a pippin,
You're the real cheese.
Always striving, always doing,
Always "Do or die!"
Ne'er a blunder; you're a wonder!
Thank you, Sam! Good-bye.

He's an optimist yes and a booster;
No better man ever was made.
Be it horse show or church, no one's left in the lurch,
With him always ready to aid;
When history comes to be written
Or those who have ever been fair,
Most everything touchin' on Charlie McCutchen
Will show him as right on the square.

WEARYING OF SEWER DELAY

City and Borough Serve Notice on Objecting and Undecided Neighbors.

TIDEWATER PLAN SQUELCHED

Plainfield Cannot Be Held up any Longer Says Moy; Borough is Going Ahead, Says Clark; Dunellen Unreasonable, Says Buttfield.

That a trunk line sewer from Plainfield and vicinity to tidewater is not to be considered because the cost would be prohibitive, and that North Plainfield has decided to follow out its plans for constructing a system with disposal beds at the Cramer farm, with the possibility of Plainfield joining in that system, was brought out at the sewer conference held in the Common Council rooms last night.

The representatives from Somerville, after expressing an indefinite opinion, showed a feeling of keen disappointment at the turn of events went home early. Plainfield, North Plainfield, Dunellen, East Bound Brook, Bound Brok, Raritan and Somerville were represented at the meeting and upon the invitation of Mayor G. W. Moy, who was chosen chairman, the representatives were given an opportunity to express their opinions.

John F. Reger, of Raritan; Mayor W. V. Steele and John F. Griggs, of Somerville, the first speakers, thought that a tidewater plan would be the best, provided the cost was not prohibitive, but in the absence of accurate figures they did not want to commit themselves.

E. F. Feickert, representing North Plainfield township, had a report prepared by Hering & Fuller in 1909, from which he read extracts and quoted figures. This plan provided for a disposal plant about three miles below Bound Brook, but the figures did not impress others present as being applicable to conditions today.

Dr. T. J. Hogan, of Dunellen, said that the people of his town favored the tidewater plan, that nothing was considered prohibitive to accomplish this result. Mr. Feickert said that North Plainfield township had nothing constructive to suggest, but did oppose any municipality locating sewage beds in the township.

Councilman F. L. Holt, speaking for Plainfield, said that the tidewater plan was considered out of the question owing to the cost, and unless there were some new figures, revising the former estimate of three years ago, he felt sure that such a plan could not be adopted.

"I will be frank with you, gentlemen," said Mayor Moy, "and say that I did expect new tidewater figures and additional information on the subject. The city and borough have been through the question, spent time and money and I find nothing different from what is already known.

"Plainfield has reached that point where it cannot wait any longer. We must care for our sewage, either by enlarging the present system or by removing elsewhere. In the absence of other figures it looks as though Plainfield must 'stand pat.' We don't like to be compelled to place any sort of a nuisance near a neighbor. I want the respect of my neighbor and I want to respect him, but Plainfield cannot be held up any longer. We must take a stand and cannot agree to hold the matter up beyond a reasonable time."

Maryor Robert Clark, Jr., stated that the borough had gone into the matter exhaustively and adopted plans whereby it proposed to go to the Cramer farm. He said that the borough was committed to that plan and intended to follow it. It was opposed to a tidewater plan, believing that its plans recently adopted offered the only practical solution to the question.

Councilman William J. Buttfield, of the borough, who was called upon to speak said that he did not care to

DYNAMITE JAR IN WESTFIELD

Explosive Let go in the Backyard of an Italian Bake Shop.

AND WINDOW PANES SUFFER

Nobody Injured and Nobody Arrested As Hectic Accounts in New York Papers Recounted Today—Police Say the Explosion was Accidental.

Westfield was startled last night by an explosion in the Italian quarter which shattered windows in surrounding houses and threw the easily excited residents momentarily into a state bordering on panic. They soon calmed when it was learned that aside from the broken glass no damage was done and that inspection by the police failed to find any indications that any loss of life or property was intended.

Stories published in New York morning papers today regarding the explosicus, were much exaggerated. They are flatly denied by Chief O'Neill, of the Westfield police, in all details except that an explosion occurred.

The exact cause of it, Chief O'Neill said, he has not learned, but he is satisfied that it was purely accidental. He can't account for the presence of the explosive in the neighborhood, except that it must have been carried home by some of the men who are employed in stone quarries in the vicinity. He said that it might have been set off as a joke. No one has been arrested.

The building on the lot where the explosion took place is occupied by Frank Caponnetti as a bakery Caponnetti denied that he had received any black hand warning, as the published stories allege.

SENATORS LISTEN TO D.E. TITSWORTH

As Spokesman of Press Manufacturers He Protests Against Tariff Changes.

BEFORE FINANCE COMMITTEE

If Presses Come in Free, Potter Work's Manager Tells Statesmen. It Will Work Distinct Injury to Makers and Employees.

Washington, Feb. 16.—As the spokesman for fifteen printing press manufacturers, five of whom operate in New Jersey, David E. Titsworth, general manager of the Potter Printing Press Company, of Plainfield, was heard by the Senate finance committee yesterday in opposition to the plan of putting printing presses on the free list, as proposed by the Democratic House Metal Schedule Bill.

Mr. Titsworth told the committee that if printing presses could be imported without paying a duty, it would work a distinct injury to the owners and employees of the industry. He said that the thirty per cent tariff now in force ought to be retained, as it was a fair and reasonable insurance against opening up the field in this country to foreign manufacturers whose scale of wages was from a half to a third less than the pay received by the printing press mechanics in this country.

Time Is Short.

It is only a short while longer. As the new building is nearly finished, The Paris Store, at 214 West Front street, must get rid of the entire stock they have on hand.

$90,000 MARK IS PASSED; $125,000 GOAL IS IN SIGHT

The "Erie Whirlwind" Wires to Pull Down the Old "Clock" and Put up a Bigger One--Teams Collected Nearly $7,000 During the Day.

Passing the $90,000 mark, a figure which eight days ago appeared far off to the 200 workers who have been soliciting funds for the Muhlenberg Hospital campaign, the workers, at the regular evening dinner held last night at the Y. M. C. A. went forth determined to raise $125,000 for the cause by the time next Wednesday night rolls around. Spurred on by encouraging remarks from several speakers, and by a long telegram from Isador Sobel, who has been termed the "Erie Whirlwind" by the workers, because of his residence in the Pennsylvania city, ev-every man left the hall ready for strenuous action during the remaining days.

One contribution of $1,000, given by Henry P. Talmadge, of Belvidere avenue, was reported, coming through Company K, and the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association was represented when team nine reported by a subscription of $125. The association consists of members of the departments in both city and borough. The Plainfield Dental Association gave $100, dividing it up into three contributions, because members of the association were on teams 2, 7 and 9.

Rev. Charles E. Herring said grace at the opening of the dinner.

George P. Mellick announced that a total of 1641 subscriptions had been received to date. He also brought forth applause for the members of the women's teams, congratulating them as he announced that out of a total membership of 106 on their teams, only five were absent at the first luncheon yesterday. He said that the work which fell upon them, that of cleaning up the odds and ends was no easy task, but said they should not be discouraged, because the names given them do not offer large opportunities to secure a large sum in the aggregate.

The team announcements were then called for, and showed a total of $5,080.75 for the citizens' com-

WARM WELCOME TO NEW RECTOR

Holy Cross Parishioners Give Reception For Mr. and Mrs. McCoy,

CITY AND BORO CLERICS THERE

Vesterymen and Their Wives Assist Pastor and His Wife in Receiving —Parish House Elaborately Decorated for the Occasion.

Parishioners of the Church of the Holy Cross and members of other city and borough church congregations, estimated at five hundred in number, greeted Rev. William S. McCoy, the new rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, last night at the parish house, where a reception and formal welcome was extended him and Mrs McCoy. They were assisted by the vestrymen and their wives in receiving.

The Y. W. C. A. orchestra furnished music for the affair the success of which established a new social mark for the parish. The Young Women of the Guild rendered valuable assistance to the committee of women who arranged the reception and assisted in serving the refreshments.

Among the visiting members of the clergy present were Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church; Rev. Cortlandt H. Mallery, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, and Rev. C. H. Schneegas, pastor of the German Reformed church.

The members of the vestry present and assisting with their wives were Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Carman, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. VanMater, Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Sill, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Langford, Wesley Hegeman, Miss Burt, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Murray and J. Brognard Betts. Mrs. Wood, Mrs. C. G. Emil Larsson, Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. William and Mrs. Barlow, also assisted in receiving.

Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Conklin poured coffee. The committee of arrangements, Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Mrs. Herbert Longford and Mrs. Frank Ball, were assisted by Mrs. Codington and Mrs. Allen in serving refreshments.

White Store Announcement.

Elmer E. Cutting, who has successfully managed The Review since David J. Carney became its owner and editor, has resigned to take a position as superintendent at A. E. Force & Co.'s White Store. He has had much experience in various fields. At various times he has held responsible positions with the telephone company, the F. L. C. Martin garage and earlier at the department store, of which A. E. Force is the head, when it was owned by Mr. White. The White Store is a progressive, substantial and a foremost store in Union county and in Mr. Cutting it will have an aggressive and obliging superintendent.

Economy Day.

The Paris Cloak Store is disposing of their entire stock. This week the $30, $35 and $40 suits are slaughtered $9.98. See window display at 214 West Front street.

TOWER OF LONDON GREAT IN HISTORY

Daily Press Tourists Will Find in it Most Famous Site in England.

LONG GLOOMY STATE PRISON

William the Conquerer Built White Tower Where Are the Crown Jewels—An Ancient Fortress Now An Arsenal.

The Tower of London, the ancient fortress and gloomy state prison, historically the most interesting site in all England, will be visited by the Daily Press European tourists. At first it was a royal palace; today it is a government arsenal. It covers thirteen acres. The Square White Tower, built by William the Conquerer, stands in the centre and was begun in 1078. In the Royal Residence, torn down by Cromwell, Ann Boleyn was tried. Sir Walter Raleigh was imprisoned in the White Tower and there wrote his History of the World. Guy Fawkes was confined in a dungeon there. It was in the Wakefield Tower, nearby the White Tower, that Richard II abdicated. Beneath a staircase the bones of the two young princes murdered by their uncle, Richard III, were found. The Royal Crown Jewels, worth a fabulous sum, are in the Record Tower. Together with the Royal Regalia, they are preserved in glass cases and will be seen by the Daily Press tourists.

The Tower of London's attendants are known as the "Beef-Eaters." Their uniforms are those of the style of Henry VIII's time.

Minute by minute, hour by hour and day by day a steady stream of subscription votes and ballots continues to find its way into the ballot box, and the task of sorting and counting them each night grows more and more arduous. The people fully appreciate the fact that the Daily Press European Tour contest is by far the highest class circulation campaign ever conducted in Plainfield, and they are not slow in showing the depth of such appreciation. They are also showing at the same time that

W.S. TYLER HEADS EDUCATION BOARD

He Chosen by Acclanation as the Successor to Leander Lovell.

NO VICE CHAIRMAN SELECTED

New President Active for Years in Civic Work and His Election Means Much for the Public School System.

William S. Tyler was elected president of the Plainfield Board of Education at a meeting of that body last night. He succeeds Leander Lovell, who resigned recently because of ill health after many years of splendid service.

Mr. Tyler had occupied the position of vice-chairman and he was the unanimous choice of his colleagues for the presidency, the selection being made by acclamation when Mr. Tyler was nominated by Floyd T. Woodhull. The new head was formerly a member of the Common Council, where he rendered valuable services to the taxpayers. He resigned from that body to accept a place on the school board. Mr. Tyler is president of the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis Society and is active in the Plainfield Charity Organization Society and other societies devoted to civic work. He practices law in New York city.

There was some discussion regarding the proposed site for a new school house in the southeast end of the city, but nothing definite was done. Routine matters occupied the major part of the meeting.

MISS RICHARDS TALKS ON CHINA'S GOVERNMENT

Addressing a large company of women at the Hartridge Auditorium, yesterday afternoon, Miss Janet Richards, who is givign a series of talks on current events, held the close attention of her audience as she told of interesting incidents of the past few weeks. She touched on western affairs, the recent trouble in Mexico, the settlement of tentative peace in Cuba, referring briefly to the feeling of unrest in San Domingo.

Miss Richards discussed China and incidents leading up to the establishment of a republic. She traced the history of the dynasty just closed, touching upon the many changes in custom and spoke especially of the great work performed by Dr. Sun Yat Sen and Wu Ting Fang, describing in eliquent terms of their services to China.

Taking up English affairs, Miss Richards described the opening of Parliament, and quoted from the King's speech to show that while it appeared to be written to be colorless, between thees lines one could get an idea of the trend of affairs in England.

CONFESSES TO ROBBING WEBER

James Springs Acknowledges Guilt Under Examination by Hetfield and Keily.

HE IMPLICATES TWO OTHERS

But Police Doubt Story of Alleged Conspiracy and Accused Couple Say They Have Complete Alibi—Arraigned Tomorrow.

Accused by the police of being the assailant of Michael Weber last Saturday night, James Springs, colored, of 319 Liberty street, was arrested last night by Detective Sergeant Flynn and Roundsman Higgins. He made a confession today implicating George Gilbert and William Harvey, both colored, of 304 Plainfield avenue, and they were taken into custody.

All three men were held for a hearing tomorrow morning, although Assistant Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., and Chief of Police P. S. Kiely are of the opinion that Springs alone did the job.

The police said yesterday for publication that they were after a negro named Williams, to throw Springs off his guard.

According to the story told the police by Springs, the plan to hold up and rob Weber was formulated last Saturday afternoon in a pool room on Madison avenue. Harvey was selected as the man to wield the club, Springs is alleged to have confessed, and did so, while he and Gilbert watched from across the road.

After securing the money and fleeing, Harvey, said Springs, met him and Gilbert under the Plainfield avenue bridge and the money was divided. The sum stolen was $215.

This story is denied absolutely by both Harvey and Gilbert, who state that they were in their homes all of Saturday night after 8 o'clock.

SINGIN' SKEWL SCORES BIG HIT AT HOPE CHAPEL.

"Aunt Polly Bassett's Singin' Skewl" lived up to its reputation as a mirth-provoking entertainment at the initial performance given under the joint auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society and Howard McWilliams' Bible class at Hope chapel last night. The audience, collectively and individually laughed almost continuously at the lines said and the songs. This quaint performance will be repeated tonight at 8:15 o'clock. It is worth seeing.

About sixty chapel members are in the cast, including some of the older and prominent members.

Clifford A. Braider, presiding at the piano, added largely to the success of the performance.

Those who took prominent part in the program included Jed Bassett, Betsy Ross, Harry Kartcher, Mrs. Donald McInnes, Frederick Duncan, Miss Edna Eckert, Harold Brownell, Thomas Hendry, Miss Eunice Eckert and Miss Elizabeth Slorah.

—Van Arsdale has bunched together a lot of men's, women's and children's shoes in his February sale at a price far below their value; it will pay anyone to buy freely if their size is among them.

DR. MAXSON A CONTRIBUTING EDITOR

The editorial columns of the Daily Press on Saturdays are conducted by men prominent in various fields of effort, leaders in the community. For tomorrow's issue, Henry M. Maxson, Ph. D., Superintendent of Schools of the city of Plainfield, will be the contributing editor. Dr. Maxson needs no introduction; his career as head of the schools here speaks for itself. The public generally will be interested in what he has to say. The topic he has chosen is a timely one and his ideas will be expressed in his usual excellent literary style.

On each succeeding Saturday's issue readers may expect to find editorials of absorbing interest written by prominent citizens of Plainfield.

discuss any other plans than those presented whereby Plainfield and North Plainfield could join in a sewer system. He said that the tidewater plan was not practical and no matter what kind of a system is installed opposition must be expected.

"We visited Somerville in 1908," said Mr. Buttfield, "and tried to interest that municipality in a sewage system, but we were told to run away, that Somerville could take care of its own sewage. As for Dunellen I do not think the people there are reasonable. The plans call for the removal of the Plainfield beds from Dunellen's front yard to a point more than a mile away. North Plainfield township has been treated fairly and there is nothing else left to do but cary out our plans."

A general discussion followed which was closed with a statement from Mayor Moy that Plainfield must act at once.

The Common Council will hold an adjourned meeting Monday night to further consider the sewer proposition as made by North Plainfield.

The following representatives attended the conference:

Mayor G. W. V. Moy, Councilmen R. I. Tolles, Fred Endress and F. L. Holt and Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett, of Plainfield; Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., Councilmen W. J. TOWER OF LONDON

they value a real newspaper, a live newspaper, a newspaper in which they get a comprehensive account of all local happenings which are of interest to the community. And the Press is growing bigger and better every day.

The contestants are finding it an easy matter to get subscriptions to the Daily Press, and thus secure the votes which may give them a trip to Europe. Eight weeks of unalloyed pleasure in foreign lands, right in the vacation period, is worth a great deal to the winner in an educational way as well as from the standpoint of recreation. Every cent of necessary expense is paid by this paper. That the party will be in charge of Thomas Cook & Sons is ample guarantee that the best of everything will be theirs.

Energy and effort are what count in securing the votes which will mean so much to you, and those who have as yet neglected to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity will be surprised beyond measure at the result if they will but devote a short time each day to telling their friends of the great prize for which they are working, enlisting their support and having them use their influence in getting the support of others. None of the fields have been worked as yet, and the out-of-town districts especially present a fruitful territory. Here the competition is not so keen, and the ones who get busy now have as good an opportunity of winning the high vote and appointing the chaperone as the town girls have. Remember that one girl is bound to go from each district—so why should it not be you?

Enroll at once if you are not already entered.

The manager of the tour department is being kept busy explaining the particulars of the contest to the candidates, supplying them with the "ammunition" for the peaceful conflict and settling questions which arise, and he is perfectly willing to be kept still busier. If there is any point about which you are at all uncertain, it will be well to have an interview with him at once. The office will be open every evening for your convenience.

WAIT FOR HIS SPEECH.

Roosevelt Will Make Position Clear at Columbus Feb. 21.

New York, Feb. 16.—Colonel Roosevelt is taking things easy in a political sense, following his labors of Wednesday in revising the platform of the progressives, which it is understood he will present in his speech at Columbus on Feb. 21.

"Wait for the speech," is his only answer to questions. He is equally reticent when asked about the opening of Roosevelt headquarters in Washington and the statement of Medill McCormick for the organization.

EPIDEMIC IN MADRID.

Typhoid Traced to Oyster Beds Which May Be Destroyed.

Madrid, Feb. 16.—There is a typhoid epidemic here among society people. It has been traced to oysters, and a laboratory examination of them shows that 75 per cent are infected.

The authorities are now inspecting the oyster beds, and many of them may be destroyed.

GIVES CHLOROFORM TO WRECK VICTIM.

Portland Physician Relieves a Doomed Fireman.

Portland, Me., Feb. 16.—Pinioned beneath wreckage of freight cars following a head-on collision of two freight trains on the Grand Trunk road at North Yarmouth, Arthur Corliss, a fireman, realized that the efforts to rescue him from the flames, which were directly over his body, would fail, and he pleaded for an hour and a half for physicians to give him something to put him out of his agony.

After all efforts to remove the heavy timbers from the man's body had failed, Dr. Edgar E. Barker of Portland crawled through a tunnel of grain and wreckage to Corliss' side and passed him a handkerchief saturated with chloroform. By that time flames were lapping the lower part of Corliss' body.

"When I passed him the saturated handkerchief he did not hesitate a second, as he knew that he would be burned almost by inches," said the physician. "It was the last resort to relieve a doomed man."

Corliss was on of three to lose their lives in the wreck.

Buying Real Estate

is easy. If you have the money you can find plenty of people who are ready to help you BUY.

SELLING is a different matter. In this transaction you need to take advantage of every material aid.

A GUARANTY OF TITLE is often an assistance in selling real estate. It at least removes any objection growing out of a possible defect in title.

When you buy secure a Guaranty of Title. Then it will follow the property when you sell.

Come in and talk it over.

THIS GREAT SALE

INVOLVING THE QUICK DISPOSAL OF THIS ENTIRE MAGNIFICENT

$250,000 STOCK

OF WELL-MADE, HIGH-GRADE

Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, Bedding, Etc.

Although the fire next door never touched us, we were unable to escape the smoke and water—that, from a commercial standpoint, stamps our stock as damaged. As far as the goods are concerned, you would never discover the fact did we not tell you. The KIRCH methods of doing business are founded on honesty, and for this reason we tell you frankly that these goods have been through the smoke, and our salespeople will point out to you the damage, however slight. It's for this reason that we place at your disposal this splendid stock

REGARDLESS OF COST

Hundreds of people have already taken advantage of the wonderful offerings embraced in this most extraordinary sale, meeting present needs and anticipating future wants. Don't wait—quick action is necessary—values like these can't last always. If it is not convenient to have your purchases delivered at once we will hold them until desired. Not a reservation or exception made. Floors must be swept clean for new goods that will soon begin to arrive.

LOCAL OPTION'S DOOM.

Local optionists throughout the State are naturally much disappointed to learn that they will have no opportunity to have a say before action on their bill is taken by the Legislature. The reason that there will be no public hearing is that the committee on municipal corporations, which has the measure in charge, is not opposed to reporting it and under the circumstances no hearing is considered necessary. At least that is the explanation furnished by Senator Leavitt, chairman of the committee.

The agitation for a local option law will end in the Legislature this session just as it did at previous sessions—without any results being obtained. The better opinion as to its fate is that there is absolutely no chance for the measure. In the Senate there are but seven members at the most in favor of it, and in the House, where there is a similar bill, the situation is comparatively the same. Senator Read, of Camden voices the general expression of the legislators when he says: "Prohibition does not prohibit as I have studied the question, but I believe a high license fee with the number of saloons restricted and the license laws strictly enforced would be a good thing."

As for our own city, the people are well satisfied with its present excellent high license and strict regulation ordinances, which are enforced to the letter, and no amount of local option legislation would be any inducement for a change.

Two important amendments to the Geran law are proposed by Assemblyman George L. Babcock, whose impression as a legislator is already being felt at Trenton. One of these commendable bills provides that the square in which the mark of the voter may be affixed be placed at the left of the candidate's name rather than at the right as at present. The other permits a voter absent from the State during the times of registration to answer the identification questions as exacted by the Geran law on a blank furnished for that purpose and to forward it to a person designated by him in the blank for filing after taking an affidavit to the statements he must make. At the last election many voters were denied a right to cast a ballot, although otherwise legally qualified, because they did not appear personally before the district election board on a registry day to answer the questions. This provision of the Geran law, for personal appearance, as at present framed is not only unreasonable but unjust.

A North Plainfield resident has sent to this paper a communication which we consider of sufficient importance to give prominence. The writer asks: Why is it when an order is issued concerning the muzzling of dogs that the dog catchers invariably take up the dogs for which they are quite sure a fine will be paid? These dogs usually belong to the well-to-do who give their pets care and a good home, and it is seldom that such dogs go mad, and on the other hand the poor half-starved animals that are a menace to the lives of everyone are allowed to roam at large and are seldom taken up. Any day you can see on the streets numbers of the poor starved, homeless dogs, who have neither collar, license nor muzzle, but still are allowed to remain and cause many of the so-called dog scares.

Why is it?

If there is one institution Plainfield is proud of it is its public school system, second to none in New Jersey and in the class with Montclair and East Orange—a class all by themselves. It is therefore a cause of much satisfaction that the Board of Education has elected William S. Tyler as president. Scour the city and no better man could have been found for the place; in fact it would be extremely difficult to locate one so superbly equipped. Mr. Tyler is a practical man of sound judgment and good business ability. His splendid education and his ripe experience in the city's affairs make him just the man for the responsible position. We can and do expect a broad and wise administration during his incumbency of that important office.

Our esteemed fellow-townsman, former Mayor William L. Saunders is probably right when he says, fresh from a trip around the world, that the transition of China from deified monarchy to a glorious republic is the most important event in modern history. The British Empire today is really a very mild form of a monarchy, its ruler's power being almost infinitesimal. The greatest evolution we could conveice of world be a democracy in Russia, but then with its eighty millions of densely ignorant subjects such a transformation would be disastrous. The degree of success of a republic depends upon the degree of intelligence of its people.

As the situation is at present, the correctness of the statement of Republican County Chairman Frank H. Smith, reported in this paper yesterday, that Union county is solid for Taft cannot be disputed. Whether there will be any change in the sentiment between now and the spring is purely a matter of conjecture, but there will have to be a mighty upheaval to bring it about. Roosevelt's friends are unfortunate in having no really popular man to lead them in Union county.

If you want to know how that "spirit of giving" is spreading, just note that the twenty members of the Plainfield Patrolmen's Association has contributed $125.00 to the Hospital Campaign Fund.

It's contagious in Plainfield. Mr. Tight Wad you are in danger.

FREEHOLDERS PASS ON MANY ROADS

Thoroughfares to be Improved Under Old Act and State Aid Plan.

SOUTH AVENUE AMONG THEM

County Makes Unsuccessful Effort to Get Four Highways Bettered With State Help—The Four Will Cost Between $97,000-$119,000.

The Union County Board of Freeholders at its meeting yesterday passed upon a large number of roads in the country for improvement during the coming year. The following were designated under the old county road act:

Newark avenue from North Broad street to city line; Rahway avenue from Broad street to city line; Westfield avenue, from Morris avenue to Bayway; all in Elizabeth; also South avenue, Plainfield from Richmond street to Terrill road, the total length of the roads named to be improved is four and a half miles.

The following are to be improved under the new State Road act:

Morris avenue, from Elizabeth to Meeker Inn, 2.10 miles; Morris avenue from Meeker Inn to Summit city line, 3½ miles; South avenue, Fanwood borough and Fanwood township, from Terrill road to Westfield line, 1½ miles, and Mountain avenue and Westfield avenue from Springfield to Scotch Plains, 6½ miles. The last named roads are to be built under the old county bonding act. The total cost of the work on Mountain avenue is to be $50,000, that of the first section of Morris avenue, $250,000 and that of South avenue $7,750. Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, of the road committee, has been largely instrumental in securing the adoption of many of these roads for improvement.

The committee took up with the State Road Commissioner Col. E. Stevens the question of getting State aid for improving South, Newark, Westfield and Rahway avenues. It was impossible to secure the approval of these streets by the commissioner and the freeholders therefore decided to improve them under the county bonding act.

The total estimated cost of the four streets was from $97,717 to $119,592, depending on material used.

MRS. TOWNER ENTERTAINS IN REMODELLED RESIDENCE

Mrs. Rutherford H. Towner, of East Seventh street, and Park avenue, entertained yesterday afternoon for the first time since taking possession of her handsomely remodeled home, formerly known as the Spencer property. The guests played bridge whist, there being eight tables.

Bridge was played in the Louis XIV drawing room, one of the most attractive in the sumptuous home. The prizes for the winners comprised sterling silver picture frames, shoe buckles and black and gold spangled fans. The favors were small red boxes decorated with roses and pictures of dolls. The rooms were elaborately decorated by Stanley, American Beauty roses, violets, pussy willow, jonquils and carnations being used in profusion.

HOW THEY WERE DERIVED

Adirondacks: Derived from the Canienga (Mohawk) Iroquois language, in which the original form is ratirontaks, meaning "bark eaters."

Allegheny: A corruption of the Delaware Indian name for Alegheny and Ohio rivers, the meaning of the name being lost.

Appalachian: The name was given by the Spaniards under DeSoto, who derived it from the name of a neighboring tribe, the Apalachi. Brinton holds its radical to be the Muscogee apala, "great sea," or "great ocean," and that apalache is a compound of this word with the Muscogee personal participle "chi," and means "those by the sea."

Blue Ridge: So called from the hue which frequently envelops its distant summits.

Catskill: The mountains were called kasbergs by the Dutch, from the number of wildcats found in them, and the creek, which flows from the mountains, was called Katerskill, "tomcats' creek."

Ozark: The aux arcs was said to refer to the bends in White River and was applied to the Ozark Mountains, through which the river pursues a wandering course—in other words, to the mountains at the bends of the river.

Sierra Nevada: A Spanish term signifying "snow-clad range."

(From Bulletin 197, United States Geological Survey).

James B. Duke Retires.

James B. Duke has retired as the head of the American Tobacco Company and at a meeting of the directors, Percival S. Hill was elected president of the company. Several new vice presidents were chosen and ten new members elected to the board.

LITERARY.

The March number of St. Nicholas has the first chapter of an enticing new serial, "The Townsend Twins—Camp Directors," by Warren L. Eldred. The first scenes are in New York city, with promise that the Townsend Twins and the readers of their experiences are to be carried up to a summer's good times on Lake Champlain. How all the readers of St. Nicholas will enjoy the March chapters of the other serials: "The Lucky Sixpence," "Crofton Chums," "The Knights of the Golden Spur," and "The Lady of the Lane!"

Sir Henry Norman, M.P., writing of an automobile journey in Africa in Scribner's Magazine for March says that "the comparatively small part of the Garden of Allah which exists outside of Mr. Hichens' luxuriant imagination" is within half an hour of the hotel. It was originally an old garden of the Biskra oasis and was walled around and elaborated at great cost by its eccentric owner, Count Landon. Nansen, the Arctic explorer, has written a paper in which he gives a most encouraging account of the chances of Scott and Amundsen to reach the South Pole now; in fact, the announcement of it is due in the very early spring. He describes the excellent equipment of each of them.

Sells Property to Railroad.

Elizabeth, Feb. 16.—Andrew Murray, a milk dealer at Elizabethport, has sold his property on the line of the New York and Long Branch Railroad to the Jersey Central Railroad. The price paid is said to have been $6,500.

SURPRISE AT VALENTINE PARTY OF THE Y.W.C.A.

The feast of St. Valentine was celebrated last evening at the Young Women's Christian Association with a party for the members and their friends. The rooms were prettily decorated with strings of red hearts.

"Progressive Conversations" occupied the first part of the evening. To the one doing the most talking, a box of candy hearts was given.

The last part of the evening's entertainment was a series of shadow pictures thrown upon a screen representing an old fashioned valentine. The shadow pictures were all of persons present and the onlookers had fun guessing the originals. The climax was reached when the last shadow proved to be Miss Amy Tapping, former general secretary of the Association. Miss Tapping's presence was a complete surprise. Her many friends were delighted to greet her.

J. C. Martin, who for the past ten years has been principal bass in Grace Episcopal choir, will sever his connection with that body on April 1st.

THE REMARKABLE STORY OF A DROWNING SKATER

SECOND SECTION

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1912.

New Mark for Hospital Fund.

"90,000 or more" has been the slogan of the present campaign. It remains for Plainfield to make good Mr. Sobel's prediction that not less than $125,000 would be raised. It will be remembered that Mr. Sobel was one of the speakers at the opening banquet on February 6th, coming all the way from Erie, Pennsylvania, to tell us about three similar campaigns which had been conducted there, at each of which the amount was substantially over-subscribed. He called attention to the fact that in figuring on a minimum amount of $90,000, the Campaign Executive Committee had asked for an amount sufficient only for the bare and immediate necessities. He prophesied that Plainfield would never be satisfied merely to provide the minimum requirements of the hour, but would arouse to a far greater degree of enthusiasm than could possibly be anticipated and endorse the work of the hospital by a substantial over-subscription.

And so, with five days to go, it remains for everyone to watch the Clock as the hands start off on the "second round" with the "Sobel Mark" of $125,000 as the final goal to be reached. The Hospital Governors can be entrusted to make a wise and effective use of an over-subscription of $35,000. If no part of this sum is immediately expended, the income alone will produce a yearly revenue of about $1,500. When in time an addition to the contagious ward or any other department of the Hospital becomes necessary, the moneys for such expenditures and improvements will be available from this reserved fund, without the necessity of appealing again to the public for aid.

The Hospital is bound to grow with the years to come, and as the demand for service increases with the growth of the community.

Now is the time to finish up this work of providing funds. We have the organization, the spirit, the enthusiasm, the confidence of success.

Just as the athlete plays the better game after he has warmed up to his work, so now let Plainfield get together in a splendid final spurt, and push over the goal-line for a last touch-down!

The "Sobel Mark" is ahead of us.

We can reach it and we will.

$90,000 MARK IS PASSED

mittee, and $1,850.66 for the young men, totaling $6,931.41 for the day and making the total well over $91,000.

The telegram from Mr. Sobel was read by Mr. Townsend, and in his characteristic manner, the Erie man offered his enthusiastic congratulations. "If the old clock is not big enough pull it down and put up a new clock for $150,000," was his message, "I was satisfied on the night of the banquet that $90,000 would not be sufficient for the work you have at hand. My experience teaches me that you need not less than $150,000. You can and are bound to get this amount. All that is necessary is for the workers to determine that they will get $150,000. My greetings to all and my fervent wish is that you do not stop one moment in this great work until the clock points to $150,000 on the night of the twelfth day."

Former Judge William N. Runyon was called on. He said that while no one had been smart enough to foretell that the $90,000 would come so easily, it must still be borne in mind that the most critical part of the campaign had been reached. One great feature of the campaign has been the unanimity with which the people have responded, "the responses having opened the eyes of the oldest inhabitant," said the speaker. He emphasized the fact that the list of things for which the $90,000 was asked merely represented only the matters of greatest importance. "Plainfield has just struck its gait. The people are close to Muhlenberg Hospital as never before, and a kinder feeling exists in every direction. For the Governors, it can only be said that they have the warmest feelings toward the people of the city and borough. We cannot let up in any way, and must keep up the enthusiasm, setting the new and higher goal. The governors have other things at heart, and they promise a judicious expenditure of any excess funds which may be pledged, guaranteeing the best kind of government for the hospital. Keep up your enthusiasm. Nothing is ridiculous of attainment. Don't give up for one moment. Make the hospital ready for every necessity and every emergency."

The appreciation of the Governors for what has been done was then expressed by Mr. Mellick, who said that he was sure the enthusiasm expressed by Judge Runyon was felt by all. John M. Whiton moved that a night letter be sent to Mr. Sobel thanking him for his part, and then the gathering adjourned.

The directors have asked that publicity be given to the fact that contributions from the lodges will be announced as made, and not held back to be made public later, when other contributors' names will be printed in book form.

Among the visitors last night at the dinner was N. S. Walker, Jr., of Staten Island, where it is proposed to run a campaign similar to the Plainfield one for the benefit of the Smith Infirmary.

General Baden-Powell and Two Big Boy Scout Associates

SETON. BADEN-POWELL. BEARD.

THE visit to this country of General Baden-Powell, the founder of the boy scouts, has greatly stimulated interest in the movement among American boys, who were already enthusiastic admirers of the hero of Mafeking. On his arrival in New York harbor he was met by a scout, who went down the bay on a tug and, boarding the incoming liner, welcomed Sir Robert in the name of the Boy Scouts of America and added naively, "And I am mighty glad to see you myself." General Baden-Powell visited Washington, where he and President Taft reviewed a large detachment of scouts in the White House grounds. Our photograph shows the general in company with Ernest Thompson Seton, who has been the leading apostle of the movement in the United States, and Dan Beard, beloved of American boys for his juvenile books and other outdoor writings.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"Over Night" is a pure, sweet, wholesome and up-to-date play, egregiously funny, full of laughs and it "gets you." At least, that is what Philip H. Bartholomae, the author says of it, and he ought to know. It is in three acts, and from first to last the fun is of the rollicking kind the lines and situations intensely humorous, and the complications absurdly funny. It appears at the Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night.

That the "Chocolate Soldier" has put to rout the growing distaste of the American people for light opera and has carried off the honors of war for the last two seasons, is evidenced by its third triumphal campaign, now well under way, with a veteran company of chocolate soldiers and Chocolate Soldieresses, under the direction of Mr. Whitney. The operatic band will be at the Plainfield theatre February 20, to win a second unconditional surrender from the music lovers of Plainfield to the charms of the Oscar Straus melodies and the thousand and one delights to be found in the comic situations of Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," from which the libertto of "The Chocolate Soldier" has been taken.

Funeral of Aged Clergyman.

Somerville, Feb. 16.—The funeral of the late Rev. Alexander McWilliam, former pastor of the East Millstone Reformed church, was held from his late home, on South street, Wednesday afternoon. Rev. W. S. Cramner, pastor of the First Reformed church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. E. G. Read, of Plainfield, and Rev. Dr. Y. Preston Searle, of New Brunswick. Mr. McWilliam was born in Stoney Kirk, Scotland, in 1826, and came to this country when a small lad. He graduated from Union College in 1850. Mr. McWilliam is survived by a widow, one son, Dr. J. F. McWilliam, and three grandchildren. The interment was made in the new cemetery in this place.

ROBERT LOWRIE'S WILL CUTS SON OFF WITH $10

The will of Robert Lowrie, who died on January 31 at Dunellen on the eve of his 99th birthday, has been probated by Surrogate D. W. Clayton in New Brunswick. The will has two codicils.

The will, dated June 4, 1902, bequeathes $7,000 and his household goods to his wife in lieu of dower and $10 to his son, George Elston Lowrie. He directs his executors, Isaac T. Gaddis, his son-in-law, and Lewis D. Walker to sell his real estate within two years and divide the proceeds into two parts, giving one-sixth to each of these five children: Cornelia Giles, wife of George Giles; David Lowrie, Emeliza Giddess, wife of Isaac T. Giddess, Louis Hunt, wife of Clark Hunt, Abner Lowrie and one-sixth to be divided equally among the children of his son, George Elston Lowrie—Robert, Susan and Elston.

In a second codicil, dated November 9, 1909, it was provided that whereas the testator had advanced during his life time a total sum of $9,125 to Abner Lowrie, of which only $5 had been repaid, on interest account, that amount and interest computed at six per cent. should be deducted from Abner's share of the estate.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF VICTIM OF THE TRACK.

High Bridge, Feb. 16.—The funeral of Edwin Adriance, sixty-three years old, father of Orville Adriance, of Plainfield, who was killed by a train, was held Wednesday night at the home of his son, Albert Adriance, in Hart street. Rev. John May, pastor of the local Methodist church, officiated. The body was taken to Reedsville, N. Y., for burial yesterday.

The mangled body of Mr. Adriance was found along the Central Railroad tracks Monday by his grandson. It is believed he was crossing the tracks near the station when the Harrisburg flier eastbound struck him.

Mr. Adriance was born in New York State and came here fifteen years ago. For several years he was in the employ of Dr. William C. Alpaugh. For the past two years he operated the High Bridge-Clinton stage. His wife died twenty-five years ago. He leaves two sons, Orville Adriance, of Plainfield, and Albert Adriance, with whom he made his home, of this place.

Reduced Fares For Clerics.

Trenton, Feb. 16.—The Senate has passed the bill by Senator Edge, of Atlantic, amending the new Public Utility law so as to permit the sale of reduced fare railroad tickets to clergymen. The passage of the law last winter took these tickets away from the ministers and sometime ago they started the movement to have them restored.

STEEL CARS SAVE MANY IN WRECK

Experts Study Pennsylvania Limited Accident in Which Many Were Injured.

ONLY THREE OF 102 KILLED

Seven Pullman Cars Plunge Down Thirty Foot Embankment—Sixty-Seven are Injured—Official Blames Broken Bar Under Engine.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 16.—Experts are making an investigation of the wreck of the Pennsylvania limited eastbound train at Warrior Ridge, four miles west of Huntingdon. Their report is expected to show that the steel cars prevented a greater loss of life.

A dining car and eight steel Pullman sleeping cars left the track and plunged down a thirty foot embankment to the edge of the Juniata river.

Of the 102 persons aboard three were killed and sixty-seven injured, several of these seriously. Thirty or more of the injured were taken to the Blair Memorial hospital at Huntingdon, where they were cared for by the local staff, supplemented by a corps of surgeons and nurses from Harrisburg and Altoona.

Following is a list of the dead:

Harry A. Nauss, New York city; Mrs. J. F. Tavenner, Cordova, Ill., and Mrs. Mary Hall, colored, matron on Pullman car.

The list of injured includes G. A. Yeatts, president of Fiske university of Nashville; Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Yeatts, the latter a sister of Dr. John Finney of Baltimore; Dr. Edward Leonard of New York and Dr. and Mrs. W. G. White of Pittsburgh.

The wrecked train, though behind time, was running at only ordinary speed. When as it passed between the end of the mountain at Warrior Ridge and the river the two locomotives and a combination and mail car parted from the remainder of the train, consisting of a dining car, eight Pullman sleepers and an observation car, all of steel. All except the observation car left the track and went over the bank, turning on their sides toward the water. The observation car toppled slightly, but did not go over. The locomotives and combination car kept the track, running several hundred yards before they could be stopped.

C. A. Preston, superintendent of the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad, reported officially to the state railroad commission that the wreck was caused by the breaking of an arch bar under the front truck of the locomotive nearest the train.

The wreck is likely to be carefully studied by experts, as it is the first big smashup of a modern all steel train. It is certain the showing will be distinctly favorable to the steel vestibule type of construction.

NEW SOLDIERS BLUNDER.

Infantrymen Cross Into Mexico and Cause Trouble.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 16.—Because nineteen infantrymen wanted to save a walk of three blocks and attempted to make the "Juarez loop" while going on guard duty, there came near being international hostilities between Mexico and the United States. Cars from El Paso to Juarez cross into Mexico and return after making a loop in Juarez over the Santa Fe street bridge.

These infantrymen, just arrived from Fort Whipple, Ariz., were assigned to guard duty at the Santa Fe street bridge. Instead of getting off at the Stanton street bridge and walking west to the Santa Fe street bridge on American soil, they remained on the street car, fully armed and equipped, and rode into Mexico. Lieutenant M. W. Fields was in command. The Mexican officials stopped the car at once and temporarily placed the United States soldiers under arrest. It was a serious situation for an hour or more and has not entirely quieted, as the Mexicans of the more ignorant class are not satisfied that the affair was anything less than a deliberate attempt at intervention.

NEW JAPANESE AMBASSADOR.

Viscount Chinda In San Francisco on Way to Washington.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—Viscount Chinda, ambassador to the United States from Japan, arrived in San Francisco on the liner Shinyo Maru.

Ambassador Chinda, who is accompanied by his wife, Viscountess Chinda, will be guests at the Fairmont hotel for several days before proceeding to Washington to assume his official duties.

MAYOR CLARK FINDS BORO DOG POUND IS ALL RIGHT.

Hearing of complaint that the place provided by the borough as a dog pound was unfit for the purpose, Mayor Robert Clark, yesterday, made a personal inspection. The borough executive's visit was entirely unexpected and he found that the complaints were absolutely without foundation.

There was plenty of water and food for the dogs in addition to a bedding of straw six inches deep.

MASKED MAN WIELDS BLACKJACK IN CALIFON

Califon, Feb. 16.—An attack was made here Wednesday night on former Postmaster John Neighbour, Sr., seventy-six years old, and his son, John, dealers in flour and grain. They had closed their place of business in Station square and had walked a short distance down Academy street when, opposite the home of Benjamin Robinson, a masked man attacked them from the rear.

A deep gash was inflicted on the elder Neighbour's head. Then the assailant turned to his son and landed a forcible blow on his head and shoulder, knocking him down to the ground.

The assailant retraced his tracks and disappeared in the darkness, near the railway station.

Mr. Neighbour bled profusely from a wound on his head and was taken to the office of Dr. Edward H. Crystall, who treated the injuries.

It is believed the assailant struck the blows with a blackjack. He was described as short, stout and heavy-set. He made no demands for money.

Personal grudge has been suggested as a motive.

A posse was organized and worked on several clues. Telephone messages were sent to Morristown and Somerville, asking for detectives, but officers were unable to come. Miller Neighbour, of Bernardsville, formerly of this place, brought the Roebling bloodhounds, used in the Ellis shooting case, and they were placed on a trail. Suspicion is held against a couple of men who, it is said, came from New York and had been hanging around the village and vicinity for the last fortnight.

FORD'S WIFE SUING HIM FOR ABSOLUTE DIVORCE

New Brunswick, Feb. 16.—Charging her husband with both desertion and infidelity, Mrs. Amy Ford, of Highland Park, has brought suit for divorce from her husband, William F. Ford, formerly of Plainfield.

Senator George S. Silzer represents Mrs. Ford in her suit.

Mrs. Ford is the daughter of D. J. Van Horne. She and one child of her union, a little girl, live with her parents.

About two months ago Ford took the little girl on a visit to his own people in Plainfield, and instead of bringing her back to Highland Park, took her to Frederick, Md. The child was located there by Detective John Ferguson, of New Brunswick, and brought back to the mother. Ford was arrested in New York on a charge of desertion. He spent some time in the Middlesex county jail then was released on parole, after promising to contribute to the support of his wife and child.

Ford was formerly a newspaper man and has been wandering about various parts of the country for years.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Miss Marie Cahill, a shade fairer, a shade more facetious and, yet, a shade fatter, is back to the Liberty theatre. "The Opera Ball" is her offering, and it is another variant of that old, old idea of husbands and wives who, unknown to each other, go to a naughty French ball, only to have their naughtiness discovered. The program gives five names for the making of this trifle, and the greatest of these is the fifth, Richard Heuberger, the composer, who has handled the musical idea in a new way, with fresh melodies of a captivating sort. It is Miss Cahill's lively presence and quick wit that keep the play obev the level of ordinary musical productions. As a gay widow whose obvious ruse brings the husbands to a ball, makes them flirt with their own wives and, finally, straightends out their entanglements, besides winning a new husband, Miss Cahill never suffered the play to drop. An excellent company supported Miss Cahill with an atmosphere that recalled the Manhattan Opera House. There was Josiah Zuro, for instance, who used to marshall Mr. Hammerstein's opera chorus; Miss Alice Gentle, who graduated from that chorus to grand opera, and Miss Olive Ulrich, who sang in "Hans the Flute Player."

Death of Amos Seals.

High Bridge, Feb. 16.—Amos Seals died at the home of William Naughright, Church street, this week, of Bright's disease. For many years Mr. Seals was chief mason on the High Bridge Branch Railroad. He was born in this vicinity seventy-three years ago. Several years ago he retired and made his home here. He was a large owner of real estate. His wife died twelve years ago. Two brothers, George Seals, of this place, and John A. Seals, of Califon, and one sister, Mrs. Kate Cassino, of Stone Mill, survive.

DUNELLEN CALL FOR CRANFORD PASTOR

Methodist Church Wants Rev. Herbert Rhinesmith as Mr. Knox's Successor.

HE IS WILLING TO ACCEPT

And District Superintendent Says the Bishop Will Probably Approve the Change—Excellent Preacher and Successful In Pastoral Work.

Cranford, Feb. 16, (Special).—The Rev. Herbert Rhinesmith, pastor of the First M. E. church, of Cranford, has received a call to the Dunellen M. E. church, which he has accepted subject to the approval of the Bishop at the coming Newark Conference in Montclair. The Rev. Mr. Rhinesmith has received the assurance of District Superintendent Randolph that he will be allowed to go to the Dunellen church.

Rev. Mr. Rhinesmith came here from the Methodist Epsicopal church of West Town, where he served three years. Not only is the Rev. Mr. Rhinesmith an excellent preacher, but he is also a good pastor and a man greatly interested in civic affairs. The First M. E. church here has grown during his term here. Mr. Rhinesmith was born in Midvale in 1879. He was graduated from Centenary Collegiate Institute at Hackettstown in 1898; from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., class of 1902 and from Drew Theological Seminary, class of 1905. He joined the Newark Conference in 1905 and was that year assigned to Forestburg, N. Y. The best wishes of the community will go with him from here to his new charge.

The Dunellen M. E. church is the only church of the Methodist Episcopal denomination in that town. The church has a membership of 200 and a Sunday school of 275 pupils. The Rev. Mr. Rhinesmith will succeed Rev. Mr. Knox, who has been pastor of the Dunellen church for the past three years.

SCHOOLS OF THE COUNTY HAVE EXCELLENT RECORDS

Commendable punctuality and regularity of attendance in the schools of the county, outside of the cities, were shown for the past month. Springfield, Roselle and Roselle Park headed the list in punctuality, while the leaders in regularity were Mountainside, Garwood and Cranford. The punctuality averages for the various schools for the month were as follows:

Springfield, .00158; Roselle, .00262; Roselle Park, .00323; Fanwood, .00375; Westfield, .00474; Kenilworth, .00627; Linden, .00707; New Providence borough, .00878; Cranford, .01066; Union, .01139; Garwood, .01263; New Providence township, .02906; Mountainside, .03686.

In regularity nearly all of the schools had good marks considering the severe weather. The averages for the month are as follows:

Mountainside, 93.388; Garwood, 92.06; Cranford, 91.097; Springfield, 90.538; Roselle Park, 90.396; Westfield, 88.299; Roselle Park, 90.396; Westfield, 88.299; Roselle, 86,815; Union, 86.023; New Providence borough, 81.251; New Providence township, 80.290; Linden, 79,797; Kenilworth, 79.429; Fanwood, 77.695.

SUMMIT WOMEN LEARN ONE "HIGH COST" REASON.

Summit, Feb. 16.—Presiding at the meeting of the Woman's Township Improvement Association at an open meeting of that organization in the Highland Club for the purpose of considering ways and means to bring about a reduction in the cost of living, Mrs. Lemuel Skidmore, head of the committee of the recently organized Housewives' League, declared that her investigation into the causes of the high prices had proved a revelation to her.

Mrs. Skidmore declared that she had found that one local market man sold goods one week in the amount of $425, all but $80 of which was carried on his books for longer than one month. In another week a marketman had sales of $487, of which $71 was in cash. The business man has running expenses of about $50 weekly for his clerical hire and keep of horses, Mrs. Skidmore said, and under that system it is not surprising, she asserted, that local merchants must necessarily charge such high prices in order to remain in business.

Widow Sues for $25,000.

Mrs. Hugh Mellein, of Bound Brook, has started suit against the Central R. R. to recover $25,000 damages for the death of her husband, who was killed August 29, 1911, at Fisher's Crossing.

RUTHERFORD OUTBOWLED THRICE BY PLAINFIELD ELKS

The Plainfield Elks took another three turn hitch around first place in the tournament last night by outshooting Rutherford in each of the three games rolled on the Olympia alleys. The visitors were shoved back past Elizabeth into fourth place. Prior to the match they divided honors for second place with Hoboken.

Each game was won by a safe margin and this without any of the "big five" extending themselves. A much harder contest was looked for, but the visitors, after a running start went up against some rocky luck.

In the second game Richter pulled the 6-7-10 split; in the third he made the 5-10. Zeigler, who last year rolled on the Olympia alleys for an average of 207 in three games, was the next biggest surprise of the meet, his average shrinking 57 points. Campbell goes to second place in the individual standing by his splendid pinning and all the other locals likewise swelled their averages, Stout included, who, by the way, made a record for splits on the local alleys, having no less than six in the first game.

The scores:

Plainfield.
Nash	176	177	178

JACK CHESBRO WANTS CHANCE TO "COME BACK"

Jack Chesbro, who in his day was one of the most famous pitchers in the country, after a three year layoff wants to come back. He will likely be taken south by Manager Wolverton of the Yankees, though it is extremely doubtful if the once great spitballer will ever be able to deliver the goods.

Chesbro, because of a sore arm, was forced to retire three years ago, and he was far from effective several years before he finally quit. Since then he has taken part in several semipro games, in which he has failed to show any of the effectiveness which once made him famous.

HONOLULU DUKE LOOKS LIKE SWIMMING WONDER

Jamison Handy of the Chicago Athletic association, former one mile swimming champion and record holder of America, who recently returned to this country from a trip around the world, has confirmed the cabled news of the sensational sprinting performances of Duke Kahanamoku of Honolulu and expressed the opinion that the times credited to the Hawaiian are in no way exaggerated.

Handy describes Kahanamoku as a giant ebony skinned native about twenty years old, standing over six feet in stockings, weighing about 190 pounds and a magnificent specimen of manhood, straight, well muscled and perfectly formed. He swims a smooth, rhythmic crawl stroke very much resembling that of Harry Hebner of the Illinois Athletic club, the national fifty yard champion and record holder, and goes through the water with his shoulders high above the surface, moving at fast speed.

BUT NOBODY HINTED THAT PENNANT POLE WAS NEEDED.

It is rumored that Charley Ebbets is collecting copies of New York and Brooklyn papers of January 3 when the plans of the new stadium at the Brooklyn ball park were detailed. He wants the papers to put in the corner stone, being of the opinion that the documentary evidence will furnish great reading for fans of generations to come.

According to one of the announcements, potted palms, wicker rockers, Persian rugs and a lobby, fashioned after those of the big hotels, will feature the structure and uniformed pages will be on the job to tell chauffeurs where to shunt the spectator's car.

NEW FOOTBALL CHANGES.

First.—Forward pass allowed over goal line for distance of ten yards.

Second.—Length of gridiron 100 yards instead of 110 yards.

Third.—Touchdown counts six points instead of five.

Fourth.—Four downs permitted to gain ten yards instead of three downs.

Fifth.—Onside kick eliminated.

Sixth.—Restriction of twenty yard zone on forward pass eliminated.

Seventh.—Intermission between first and second and third and fourth periods reduced to one minute.

Eighth.—Kickoff from attacking team's forty yard down instead of midfield.

Ninth.—After touchback ball goes in play on twenty yard line instead of twenty-five yard line.

Tenth.—Field judge dropped from list of officials.

Eleventh.—One coach allowed on side lines during game.

Twelfth.—Field goals which first hit the ground and bound over cross bars illegal.

ONLY HALF POINT FROM LEAD IN PARK CLUB FIVE-BACK

Dr. H. V. Hubbard secured the three points in the five back bowling tournament at the Park Club last night. H. C. Krebs won the second award of 2 points and J. V. Beekman, third, 1 point. Dr. Hubbard is now in second place only one-half point behind W. E. Benjamin. The number of enthusiasts was cut down somewhat by the other social attractions going on and the fact that the tournament has ten weeks yet to run, during which time all losses are figured on being overcome.

Those out and their scores follow:

BALK LINE FINALS AT PARK CLUB TOMORROW

The finals in the balk line tournament at the Park Club will be played tomorrow night between John W. Murray and D. W. Mulford, each of them having finished in the lead in their sections. They will play 150 up. As considerable interest is centered in the outcome, a large gallery is expected. Mr. Murray is to shoot 14 against Mr. Mulford's 14.

CAMP FIRE CLUB AIDS AT SPORTSMAN'S SHOW.

Without the sentiment and social phase highly developed no Sportsmen's Show could prove an unqualified success. That the 1912 exhibition opening in Madison Square Garden March 1, will possess these values above par is due to the hearty good will and co-operation of organizations of sportsmen and outers too many to name, but led by the Camp Fire Club of America. The New York State Fish, Game and Forest League deserves honorable mention, as also the newly organized American Game Protection and Propagation Association.

On the floor of the arena and in adjoining rooms and the basement will be a remarkable array of anything and everything that any outer wants, fancies or could possibly use, including 1912 novelties and inventions, shown by the leading makers of arms, ammunition, fishing tackle, camp equipment, and everything legitimately pertaining to the sportsmen's goods trade or that can be used by those who "take to the woods."

Murphy Apologizes to Bresnahan.

President Charley Murphy, of the Chicago Cubs, and Manager Roger Bresnahan, of the St. Louis Cardinals, met yesterday, and the Windy City magnate apologized for the remarks he made to Roger at the fall meeting of the National League, when Murphy accused Bresnahan of covering up players for the Toronto club of the International League. The St. Louis manager brought the attention of the National Commission, and the case was referred back to the National League.

Farrell Issues Statement.

Declaring that Wilkes-Barre was not the leader in the fight against the six-man limit resolution, President John H. Farrell, of the New York State League, in a statement yesterday, discussed the secret resolution for the first time since the league meeting at Troy. Farrell made it clear that the league was not against young players and that the organization wanted to give the youngsters all the chance possible.

—It's the under dog that always howls for the peacemaker.

—Even to take time by the forelock requires a certain amount of pull.

WHAT THE SPORTS EDITOR HAS TO SAY

The South Paw five will bowl a quintet picked from and representing the Rushmore Dynamo Works on the Olympia alleys tonight.

Plans for the duck pin tournament on the Olympia alleys are progressing nicely. Only a few more names are needed on the entry list to launch the schedule.

Odds of 3 to 1, that Charlie Faust would show up at Marlin, Tex., with the Giants whether he got a contract from McGraw or not, found no takers in New York yesterday.

An unruly player receiving the maximum fine of $200 and a suspension of ten days or more, may appeal from the decision of the president of the National League to the Board of Directors, according to a change made yesterday. This is a direct outcome of the Magee case and is not thought much of as it gives owners of other teams, who are members of the board, a voice in the management of clubs besides their own. It is also an indication that the National League runs its president, while the American League is run by the president.

The number of players a team may carry after May 15 has been increased to twenty-six. This is to the contrary notwithstanding all that old-time players have said regarding present teams being overloaded.

In case of a tie score between National League clubs this season, a ruling was made yesterday whereby the home team must immediately fix the date for the play off. This will obviate the controversies of past seasons as to which team is entitled to certain open dates.

The "War Fund" to be created by taxing the world's series cash will not in any way lessen the player's shares and will really benefit the other fourteen clubs not playing as the fund is divided between the league treasuries.

Ty Cobb will report late, says a Detroit story. The rival pitchers of the American League would not care a "rap" if he did not put in his appearance until the latter part of August.

The St. Louis Browns will have a recruit named Brief, who is six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds. No brevity about the name, but there may be as to the length of time he remains on the St. Louis pay roll.

Jack Sheridan, veteran umpire of the American League, says he will be back in the game when the bell rings, as Ban Johnson will need him when the fight grows hot.

Robert Hyatt, the West Point cadet, signed by the Tigers, does not confine his efforts to pitching. He has caught, played first and second at different times for the soldier team.

Because he heard that Ty Cobb sews a sheepskin in his trousers to save his hide when he slides, Jimmy Callahan has ordered a carload of fleeces for his base stealers.

The Yankees have signed a youngster named Edwin Bergen, who has promised that his name will not die out in the big league. Here's hoping!

JOHNNY M'GRAW POETICAL.

Giants to Have Uniform "Like the Early Dawn."

The haberdashery of the New York National league baseball players next summer will be more elaborate than has ever been worn by any baseball team heretofore. The home uniform is to be of a soft velvety flannel of colonial cream. The buttonholes will be worked in colored silk thread, and the monogram "N. Y." will be also worked in silk.

The road uniform is to be of stronger material than last season's. The color will be gray, "like the early dawn," is McGraw's description.

The home uniform will have a fine feather stripe on colonial cream background. The hosiery and caps will be novel and attractive.

VAN HALTREN AN UMPIRE.

Famous Old Time Player Catches on In Northwest.

George Van Haltren, the old time star outfielder of the New York Giants and of recent years identified with the Pacific Coast league as manager of the Oakland club and later as umpire, will handle the indicator in the Northwestern league next season.

Fans all over the northwest are acquainted with the veteran player, who appeared in Portland in the roles of player, manager and umpire. A member of the New York Giants years ago, with the reputation of being one of the hardest hitters and best base runners in the circuit, Van stayed in the big league for years, finally ending his big career in Pittsburg when he broke his leg sliding into second base.

FRENCH BILLS OF FARE ANNOY OUTFIELDER EVANS.

French bills of fare have ever worried ball players.

Steve Evans, fielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, went out to a swell joint with the Donlins one night last season. The bill of fare was all in French. Evans studied it awhile. Then he tossed it lightly to one side and said: "Waiter, bring me some meat and potatoes."

CAN JOHNNY KILBANE BEAT ABE ATTELL?

By TOMMY CLARK.

Now that Johnny Kilbane, the Cleveland featherweight, is to meet Abe Attell for the championship in Los Angeles Feb. 22, the question presents itself, What are his chances with the holder of the title?

There is a big diversity of opinion among the followers of the game throughout the country. Johnny has thousands of admirers who have absolute confidence in his ability to beat the wonderful little Hebrew fighter, and on the Pacific coast there are a good many who will support him in his dispute with Attell.

Viewed from a strictly unbiased point of view and with due respect to Abe Attell and the wonderful ability he has displayed in the past, it now looks as if Kilbane stands a good chance of winning the title that Abe has defended so valiantly for so many years. There are several reasons for this conclusion. In the first place, Kilbane has shown high class in every department of the game. He has proved to be an exceptionally brainy sort of fighter, possessed of the necessary speed, hitting power and ability to stand punishment. He has also shown remarkable endurance, for he has finished all of his battles in good condition and has not been fatigued to any extent.

Attell is reaching an age at which the average pugilist begins to retrograde, while Kilbane is just approaching his maturity as a fighter. The best fighters ever known to this country reached their best between the years of twenty-one and twenty-four. Kilbane is now going on twenty-two, and he is still gaining in strength and hitting power.

BADGER FOUND BY CHANCE.

Cleveland, Wisconsin's Track Captain, Discovered by Exercising.

In Clarence Cleveland the University of Wisconsin has one of the greatest distance runners in the middle west this year. This is Cleveland's third year in intercollegiate track work, and his performances heretofore have uniformly been of such high character as to warrant the declaration of his admirers that there is no two miler in the middle west who can compare with him.

Cleveland was discovered by chance two years ago. Prior to that time he had taken no part in track athletics, but by chance he took some exercise by running with the track men one evening, and the coach insisted that a man with the tremendous stride that he had and his perfect physical trim should try out for the college team.

This is Cleveland's last year in college, and as captain of this year's team he is determined to bring the championship home to Wisconsin for the first time in many years. The most optimistic doubt this possibility, but there are very few that doubt that Cleveland will register very creditably when the great conference event is pulled off.

Harvard's Coxswain Dead.

HIS SPEECH BY TELEPHONE.

Yale Alumni of Chicago to Hear President Hadley 1,000 Miles Away.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—A telephone speech by President Hadley of Yale from his home, 1,000 miles away in New Haven, will be the chief feature of the forty-sixth annual banquet of the Yale Alumni association to be held here tomorrow night.

Each diner will have a "watch case" telephone receiver and so listen to the speaker.

TO ASK IRONWORKERS FOR DEFENSE FUNDS

Ryan to Request a Fifty Cent a Month Assessment.

Indianapolis, Feb. 16.—Leaders of organized labor in this city, following a conference with the indicted alleged dynamiters, says there is strong indications that the men who are in the government's clutches will not only have the sympathy but the financial help of the leaders not indicted.

President Ryan of the ironworkers has decided to ask the 13,000 members of that organization to submit to an assessment of 50 cents a month to establish a fund for the defense of himself and members of the executive board, and it is said he has been assured that the heads of the organizations will either consider assessments or ask for voluntary contributions to such a fund.

Government officials expect some of the indicted men to plead guilty when the fifty-four are arraigned on March 12. They will not say who is likely to "come through," but it is generally believed that Herbert S. Hockin, present secretary-treasurer of the ironworkers, is one of the men who are ready to confess. It is said that Hockin has already made a confession to a Burns detective and that he made this the basis of his request for immunity when he conferred with the district attorney.

MRS. CLEVELAND AIDS WIFE.

Causes Princeton Farmer's Arrest Following Threats.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Grover Cleveland, widow of the late president, and Mrs. Patton, wife of the head of the Princeton Theological seminary, were instrumental in bringing about the arrest of William Lahey of Princeton township, who will be examined as to his sanity. Lahey is alleged to have made threats against the lives of his wife and three children. He is a farmer, owning a large truck farm.

Mrs. Lahey for some time has been serving Princeton village families with garden truck, and in the course of her trips told Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Patton, among others, of her troubles and of the fear she felt lest her husband should harm her and their children. They took action and caused the county authorities to place Lahey under restraint pending an examination as to his sanity.

FROST BITES WHISKERS.

Caldwell Man Goes to Barber's With Beard In Bag.

Caldwell, N. J., Feb. 16.—Charles Gordon of North Caldwell, who possessed the only complete set of pristine whiskers in Essex county, laid his fifty-year-old hirsute masterpiece on the altar of sacrifice and is now sheltered from the biting frosts of the Watchung range by only a meager goatee.

The tragedy occurred in Gus Oppenheimer's shop here. Mr. Gordon, who recently celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday, came in with his beard in a bag. When he untied the bag and let the mass of silvery whiskers fall, Oppenheimer was amazed to notice that the beard was cut to resemble a map of Europe.

"It's ruined," moaned Mr. Gordon. "Do me down to a goatee." Mr. Gordon hasn't been to the barber in fifty-five years.

DIPHTHERIA CLOSES SCHOOL.

Seven Cases In Passaic Since Jan. 3, With Two Deaths.

Passaic, N. J., Feb. 16.—Ulysses G. Wheeler, superintendent of the town schools, closed School No. 3 because of the prevalence of malignant diphtheria among the pupils. Since Jan. 3 there have been seven cases of diphtheria among the children in the Third district, and two of them have resulted fatally.

Last summer work was started on another story for the building. The work on this is not complete, although several weeks ago seven classes of children were put in the building owing to the need of school room. Dr. Nelson Elliot, city sanitarian, said that the diphtheria prevalent among the school children was due to dampness and cold in the unfinished schoolhouse.

AGED MAN TRIES SUICIDE.

John Kellar, Eighty-Fve Years Old, of Clarkesboro, Slashes Throat.

Clarkesboro, N. J., Feb. 16.—Despondent because of continued ill health, John Kellar, eighty-five years old, attempted suicide at his home here by slashing his throat with a razor.

Dr. Napoleon Boston, who was called in to attend the man, declared that he cannot recover.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 18, 1912.

Topic.—"No" and "Yes;" when to say them.—Ps. lvii, 1-11. (Led by the lookout committee.) Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

The question of when to say "No" and when to say "Yes" seems very simple, and yet the destiny of every man both for time and for eternity is determined by his ability to say each at the right time and to stand by what he says. When Jesus stood before Matthew, the publican, at the seat of custom and said "Follow me," everything depended upon the answer to be given. By action Matthew said "Yes," and from that moment the eternal salvation of his soul was assured. When the rich young ruler came to Christ and the Master said unto him, "Come, follow Me," the same issue was involved. In this instance the one addressed, wedded to his wealth, by action said "No," and this determined a contrary destiny for himself. Thus in each case the issue of eternity was involved in a "Yes" and a "No," and how vastly different the results! The supreme time to say "Yes" is when Jesus calls. The supreme time to say "No" is when Satan tempts us to disregard the call of Christ.

Times of decision are ever upon us. Life from almost every standpoint is constantly requiring of us a "Yes" or a "No." Virtue and vice are ever appealing to us in some form or another. In the intellectual world it is ever a question of right thinking and of wrong thinking. In the business world there is always the issue of honesty or dishonesty, in the social world always the problems of justice or of injustice. We cannot shun or ignore the questions of right and wrong, of good and evil, of serving God or of serving mammon, of belonging to the kingdom of Christ or the kingdom of Satan. Like the psalmist of old, each one of us also can say: "My soul is among lions. I lie among them that are set on fire, even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows and their tongue a sharp sword." But if, like the psalmist, amid all life's temptations and arrows we can exalt God in our hearts and in our lives, we need have no fear of the results. God delivered him, and He can and will also deliver us if we put our trust in Him.

"Yes" and "No" should never be decided by policy or custom. We should not be honest because honesty is the best policy, but because honesty is right. In Rome we should not do as Rome does, but always and everywhere do right regardless of the customs of those among whom we may be thrown if only for the time. Wherever and whenever a moral question is involved there is but one thing to do, and that is what is right, and if a question of doubt exists we should always give the benefit of the doubt to the side that seems to be right. Before saying "yes" or "no" when in doubt we may well ask ourselves the question, "What would God have us say?" The answer will usually be easily evident, and if we obey it there will be little danger of our making mistakes. Moreover, the grace of God is always sufficient to enable us to do the right and to shun the wrong if we are willing to say "yes" to the right and "no" to the wrong.

BIBLE READINGS.

Gen. xxxii, 24-32; Josh. i, 1-7; Ruth i, 16-18; Prov. i, 10-19; Isa. vii, 10-16; Dan. i, 8-15; vi, 40; Matt. vi, 33; vii, 7-12; Acts xvi, 8-10; xxvi, 12-20; Heb. xi, 24-26.

Better!

It was a splendid goal set up for the past two years of Christian Endeavor, that of increase—a splendid goal and splendidly attained.

Now we are to set our eyes upon a goal still higher, still farther distant, still more splendid—that of efficiency.

To get large numbers is essential. Christ urged it upon His followers. They are to compel men to come in; they are to go out through all the world and baptize all the nations.

But numbers are never to be sought at the expense of efficiency. Two or three met in Christ's name with Christ in the midst is a finer assembly than 10,000 delegates with Christ outside the auditorium.

So that with enlarged numbers there comes always the responsibility for enlarged efficiency, and the efficiency campaign set forth so fully in this number aims at that necessary end.

We believe that the appeal of this week will be heeded, that the Endeavorers everywhere will take up these large plans enthusiastically and that God will bless them to glorious results.—Christian Endeavor World.

Good, Better, Best.
By AMOS R. WELLS.

Lord of workers, endless wise,
It would be a wondrous prize
If our work so firmly stood
Thou couldst praise and call it good.

Lord of workers, whose design
Finer grows and yet more fine,
All our work with purpose fill.
Help us make it better still.

Lord of workers, pointing far
To ideal's perfect star,
Leave us no ignoble rest;
Lift our better up to best.

Lord of workers, joined with Thee
In endeavor's ecstasy,
Let Thy words that cheer and bless
Be our goal and our success.

MOTTO FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

Endeavor to be good and better still
And best. Success is naught; endeavor's all.
—Robert Browning.

Tiny Complete Watch Contained In a Pearl.

An example of ingenious craftsmanship in watchmaking is shown in the accompanying illustrations of a watch contained in a pearl, the illustrations showing about its actual size. It took fifteen months of the time of the best workmen employed by a French jewelry firm to complete it. The pearl in its native state weighed forty-five grains and measured 0.57 of an inch in diameter. The movement, which is 0.45 of an inch in diameter, is of special construction, of course, and represents the most patient and minute care. The piercing of the pearl, for instance, was exceptionally difficult. The watch is valued at $6,000.—Popular Mechanics.

The Game of Cherry.

If you intend having a few of your friends at your house on the afternoon of Washington's birthday send out your invitations on cardboard cut in the shape of a little hatchet. In one corner paint a little cherry tree and then write your invitation. Some fun can be had if, after your guests arrive, you play the game of "cherry." Buy a candy basket and fill it with candy cherries. Suspend the basket from the ceiling by a long string and let your guests, with hands tied behind them, try to catch the swinging basket with their mouths. The successful one gets the basket of cherries as a prize. Another form of this game is to hang the individual cherries from strings and allow the children to try to catch them in their mouths. Still another "cherry" game is to place a box on a chair at each end of the room and give each child a half dozen candy cherries, which he, at a distance, tries to throw in the basket.

Washington and the Poacher.

Washington was a fine shot, and the waters of the Chesapeake abounded in canvasback and other ducks. Washington would not allow other people to bring down his birds. He learned that one poacher was filling his game bags at his expense. Washington determined to end his fun. Hearing a shot one day, he mounted his horse and rode in the direction of the sound. The poacher discovered his approach and, entering his canoe, pushed a few yards out into the river before the master of Mount Vernon came in view. When Washington, with anger in his eye, came in sight the poacher raised his gun, cocked it and took deliberate aim. Washington did not show the slightest fear. He walked into the water, seized the canoe and pulled it ashore. Taking the gun from the poacher, he gave him so severe a chastisement that he never again repeated his attempt upon Washington's birds.

Conundrums.

When did Ruth treat Boaz badly? When she pulled his ears and trod on his corn.

Why is a convivial man like a Quaker? Because he is fond of the society of friends.

What is that which we all eat and drink, though it is sometimes a woman and sometimes a man? A toast.

Why would a tanner make a good chemist? Because he understands ox (hides).

When is soup likely to run out of the saucepan? When there's a leek in it.

What is that which you must keep after giving to another? Your word. —Philadelphia Ledger.

A Suggestion.

The next time the snow drifts into your yard instead of making a snow man try to make a snow pig. An oblong mass of snow forms the body, and the legs, nose and ears are made of sticks surrounded by snow. A bit of rope nicely curled will make a good tail. Various pigs can be shaped and carved, according to the skill of the young artist, and will give a lively and sociable appearance to your yard and cause the neighbors a great deal of amusement—at your expense perhaps.

Frost Pictures.

The other children like to write
Their names upon the pane
That's frosted over in the night.
Where you can see them plain.

They draw all sorts of awkward things,
But I would rather see
The pictures that the white frost kings
Have painted there for me.

I am afraid the fairy folk
That in these woods might play
By these ungainly crooked strokes
Will all be scared away.

RIBBON FRILLS INSTEAD OF LACE ONES FOR THE NEW BLOUSE

Ribbon Frills For Smart Blouses

RIBBON is to play an important part in the costume of the fashionable girl, and these dainty frills made of striped ribbon are one of the many ways in which the material is to be utilized. The ribbon frills are much more serviceable than the lace ones and if made of light and attractive fabrics are exceedingly pretty. The illustration shows how some of these frills are folded and put together. They are also seen on a modish chiffon blouse.

CHIC STYLES.

Fetching Ideas In Spring Neckwear. Velvet Fichu.

Rather a change from the usual order of things is a fichu of velvet, cut with care to avoid a heavy appearance, over a form of pale ninon, the coloring being straw and heliotrope.

Another fichu is of extremely heavy old venetian point, tinted a grayish shade over aluminium tissue, with silvered fringe to finish it.

A new and fetching idea for a collar is a piece of black velvet ribbon about three inches wide, twisted around the top of a standing collar and tied in a small bow at the back or slightly at one side, with long ends reaching almost to the waist line. These are worn with suits and simple cloth gowns.

Many of the newest side jabots are really not frills at all, but consist of a triangular piece of lace, suggestive of revers. Among other successful novelties in this line are those having the large revers on one side of a central strip of insertion, while the other edge is finished with a frill of matching lace.

The child's dress that is closed at the front is both a smart and a practical one. It is easy for the little wearer to slip on and off, and it is the height of style. The dress seen in the cut includes an unusually attractive collar and can be made from a variety of materials. JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls of eight, ten and twelve years of age. Send 19 cents to this office, giving number, 7301, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

OATMEAL FOR LENTEN SEASON.

OATMEAL is so nutritious that it can be commended for use when the regular meat diet is being curtailed or cut off, as it may be in Lent.

As a breakfast food it is superior to any form of wheat, which contains gluten, an element somewhat tough and sticky.

Oatmeal is rich in nitrogen and is ideal for children or for persons who exercise much. It is supposed to build up the muscles and the brain. Grits are oats from which the husk has been removed and is an especially digestible form of the food.

Ways of Serving.

Some unusual ways of cooking oatmeal are suggested here:

Oatmeal Mold.—Add a pinch of salt to one pint of boiling water and sprinkle in slowly one-half cupful of oatmeal.

Let it boil for three-quarters of an hour, stirring occasionally. When done add sugar to taste and the juice of half a lemon if it is liked.

Pour it, boiling hot, upon a well beaten egg, stirring with a fork until thoroughly mixed.

Return to the saucepan and let it come to a boil; then pour into individual molds wet with cold water.

When firm turn out on a glass dish and serve with whipped cream.

Oatmeal Flaked.—To a quart of very hot water add a pinch of salt. Sift into the water a cupful of finely ground oatmeal or rolled oats. Stir for a few minutes without its boiling hard that the flour of the oats may be soaked out into the water as much as possible. Let cook thoroughly, then stir through a wire strainer to remove the hulls.

Cereal and Fruit.

Bananas and Oatmeal.—Oatmeal may be served with fruit, and in this form its hygienic value is increased. Oatmeal and bananas are thus combined. Cook oatmeal in the usual way. After placing in the cereal dish slice bananas over the top, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with cream. If desired canned peaches may be added to the bananas.

Oatmeal Cakes.

Oatmeal Cookies.—For plain oatmeal cookies take two cupfuls of medium fine oatmeal, one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of butter, one-half cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, milk or water enough to mix, roll out and cut with round cutter and bake in very hot oven twenty minutes.

PROPOSALS FOR ADDITION TO THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

Sealed proposals for the addition to the High School will be received by the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a meeting to be held on Monday evening, February 26, 1912, at eight o'clock, at the Board room, in the High School building, corner West Ninth street and Arlington avenue.

Revised plans and specifications will be on file on and after February 10th, 1912, in the office of the Architect, James Gamble Rogers, 11 East 24th street, New York; also on file in the room of the Board of Education, West Ninth street and Arlington avenue, in the City of Plainfield.

All proposals to be endorsed, "Proposals for Addition to the High School Building," and addressed to the Secretary of the Board.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Secretary will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents, in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided such parties or their agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board. No bids will be received previous to the hour designated, and none will be received thereafter. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. Aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

HONOR MAINE'S DEAD.

Admiral Leutze Laying Cornerstone of National Monument.

TRIBUTE TO MAINE HEROES.

Cornerstone of Monument Laid by Army and Navy Men.

New York, Feb. 16.—The cornerstone of the Maine monument, which is to be erected at the Columbus circle entrance of Central park, was laid with interesting exercises. The exercises were in charge of the chairman of the monument committee, General James Grant Wilson, and the cornerstone was laid by Rear Admiral E. H. C. Leutze, U. S. N., commandant of the New York navy yard.

Major General Daniel E. Sickles, U. S. A., made the address, in which he paid a tribute to the heroes of the Maine and said that the blowing up of the Maine had been "simply the culmination of a long series of outrages perpetrated by the slaveholders of Cuba."

It was announced that the monument would be completed in the autumn.

GRAND JURY TO HEAR BRANDT

Will Be Questioned as to Whether He Is Victim of Conspiracy.

New York, Feb. 16.—Folke E. Brandt, who is now in the Tombs awaiting a pardon from the governor or a new trial by the supreme court, will go before the grand jury, which is inquiring as to whether he was a victim of conspiracy, to be questioned as to whether promises of leniency by Judge Rosalsky were held out to him by Mortimer L. Schiff's advisers.

Former Deputy Chief William W. McLaughlin was questioned by the district attorney as to who prepared the report on Brandt's alleged criminal record that influenced Judge Rosalsky to impose a sentence of thirty years.

Howard S. Gans, Schiff's lawyer in the Brandt prosecution, sent Delancey Nicoll to District Attorney Whitman to get Mr. Whitman's consent to permit Gans to testify before the grand jury. Mr. Nicoll carried a similar request from Mortimer L. Schiff. The district attorney said he wouldn't permit their appearance unless they waived immunity.

Judge Rosalsky denies vehemently that he conferred at the Criterion club with McLaughlin, Schiff, Gans and a Mr. Rothschild on the night of March 31, four days before he sentenced Brandt. Judge Rosalsky declined to sign a denial, saying he didn't want to talk for publication.

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN IN PARIS.

Mounted on Bicycles, Men Escape With Jewels Valued at $40,000.

Paris, Feb. 16.—Boulogne-sur-Seine, a suburb of Paris, was the scene of an audacious robbery by a gang of highwaymen who were mounted on bicycles. The men invaded the main street in broad daylight, alighted in front of a big jewelry store and after smashing the windows grabbed a lot of booty. The people passing in the street began shouting for the police, whereupon one of the highwaymen threw a powerful bomb in the crowd. Fortunately the bomb failed to explode.

On seeing this the robbers pulled out revolvers and frightened the crowd and police back. They then escaped with booty valued at 200,000 francs, or $40,000.

140,000 Hookworm Patients.

Washington, Feb. 16.—More than 140,000 persons in nine states of the south were treated for the hookworm disease by the Rockefeller sanitary commission last year, according to the second annual report of the commission. The commission and the states spent $148,000 last year, making the average cost of each person treated $1.27.

AINSWORTH OUT IN ARMY SCANDAL

Feud With General Wood Comes to Head.

STIMSON MAKES CHARGES.

Adjutant General and Second Ranking Officer of Army Is Relieved of Duties Court Martial For Insubordination Is Now Expected—Action Long Anticipated.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The Wood-Ainsworth feud has come to a head in the form of an order by Secretary Stimson relieving the adjutant general of the army of duty and directing him to await disciplinary action.

Orders for the court martial of General Ainsworth, who as adjutant general is the second ranking officer in the army, are expected to be issued within a few days. The charge will be insubordination based on derogatory references to the secretary of war, the chief of staff and officers of the general staff, which General Ainsworth incorporated into many of his official reports.

Hobson Denounces Ainsworth.

The announcement created a sensation in official Washington. It is considered certain that the Ainsworth case will develop into the biggest military scandal since the Sampson-Schley affair in the navy.

Almost simultaneously with the announcement of the dismissal of General Ainsworth, who has been in the army for thirty years, Representative Hobson of Alabama denounced that official in a speech on the floor of the house during the consideration of the army bill. Representative Hobson declared that General Ainsworth was guilty of conspiracy in taking part in the framing of the Hay bills for the reorganization of the military establishment and inserting a provision whereby he was enabled to retire with the rank of lieutenant general.

Just previously the house by a party vote had passed the second of the Hay bills providing for a change in the enlistment term in the army from three to five years. The discussion over this proposal while it was before the military affairs committee was marked by the opposition of President Taft, Secretary Stimson and General Wood to the measure, while General Ainsworth stood practically alone in advocating the plan. It has been repeatedly charged that General Ainsworth is the moving spirit behind the entire Hay military program, which has been stubbornly opposed by the administration.

The situation in the war department was apparently brought to a head by a memorandum written by General Ainsworth on Feb. 3, though called for last December, on the proposal of the general staff to make changes in the form of muster rolls. In this memorandum, called for by the chief of staff at the direction of the secretary of war, General Ainsworth makes statements that are construed by Secretary Stimson as an attack on himself and the chief of staff and the officers of the general staff.

Stimson Cites Reasons.

Whereupon Secretary Stimson went to the White House with the matter and made it an issue with President Taft. The president was told that either General Ainsworth must go or a new secretary of war must be found. The president immediately directed that General Ainsworth be relieved and held on waiting orders until disciplinary measures could be decided upon. It was also decided that the adjutant general's office be turned over to Colonel H. P. McCain.

In a letter addressed to General Ainsworth Mr. Stimson cites the passages of the adjutant general's memorandum deemed insulting to the secretary, General Wood and other officers. In these remarks Mr. Stimson declares:

"You impugn the fairness and intelligence of the secretary of war, under whose authority the proposition in question was submitted to you. You also criticise and impugn the military capacity and experience."

When the order had been made public General Ainsworth, who was in his office, declined to make any statement whatsoever. He denied himself to all callers. Secretary Stimson and General Wood decline to speak of the case in any way.

Entering the army as a doctor Nov. 10, 1874, General Ainsworth has risen to the second highest office in the war department.

HINT AT BEEF SCANDAL.

Meat Trust Trial Discrepancies Cause Federal Grand Jury Probe.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Glaring discrepancies in the testimony of witnesses in the beef trust trial has led to the ordering of a thorough investigation by a federal grand jury. This development from the trial of the ten meat packers charged with monopolizing the fresh beef industry and restraining trade is a surprise.

On a plea that "exigencies in the public service" demanded it District Attorney Wilkerson prevailed upon Judge Kenesaw M. Landis of the United States district court to issue a call for a special investigating body. A call for a special venire of fifty men was sent to the jury commissioners.

SALE OF SAMPLE JEWELRY

We have just purchased the sample line of a jewelry importer which brings to us in the neighborhood of 50 pieces—no two alike—and which includes Necklaces of various sorts, Beautiful Brooches, Bar Pins and Hat Pins. These would retail ordinarily at from 25c to 50c apiece and would be cheap at that; but they are all to go at the little price of 15c

There are also 1,000 pieces in a lot, including Lorgnette Chains, LaVallieres and Pendants, which would regularly retail at 50c to $1; these are to be priced in this sale, planned for tomorrow, only 25c

THERE'S AN EVERY-DAY RUSH FOR

$2 and $2.50 SHOES at $1.50

It's a little price to pay for good, substantial shoes, isn't it? $1.50. Why, it couldn't begin to pay for the leather in most of them! $1.50. My, it's a little price—and the shoes are mighty good—good looking, good wearing, good in style. It will be worth while picking up a number of pairs at this price.

There are only slight breaks in the lines, so you can come tomorrow assured of finding the best styles in the leathers you like most in the sizes you want.

Patent Leather, Gunmetal and Vici Kid Shoes, in button, lace and Blucher styles; plain and tipped toes; cloth and kid tops; a variety of heel and toe shapes and a full range of sizes; shoes that are universally retailed at $2 and $2.50; bought at a low price, enabling us to sell them at the little price of $1.50

ALL-WOOL DRESS GOODS 59c

Little wonder, indeed, that we should be selling so many, many yards of these beautiful, strictly wool dress stuffs at this more than moderate price. No wonder, when they are in all the new Spring shades, and when, on examination, you find they are made of fine grade yarns in 43-in. width, and when you really understand that they would be readily saleable at $1 a yard should we care to ask it.

You will have another opportunity tomorrow of buying these beautiful dress stuffs on Bargain Table No. 2, and you can pick from this fine array of colors—

PICK UP WILD SILKS at 16c

NO WOMAN SHOULD BE WITHOUT SOME OF THESE

Wild Silks—these roughish silk and cotton mixtures, come from the mountain districts of China. They are very strong and lustrous and most desirable for evening dresses, tea gowns, pretty frocks and vacation dresses.

Thousands have shown their appreciation of this remarkable sale by coming and buying these beautiful stuffs so much like Habutai in quantity, few taking less than two or three pieces. They are so beautiful, so rich in coloring, and so wonderfully cheap at our special selling prices—

The color range remains practically unbroken, so you can pick from these tomorrow again.

BE A HUSTLER.

Voting is becoming more active each day, as was evidenced yesterday by the mail received from the outlying districts. Many of the candidates are hustling, keeping their eyes open for every possible vote. However, there are quite a few who have been nominated who have not yet made a start. Quite a few telephone calls are received by the Tour Department each day, inquiring as to the interest this or that one is taking in the trip to Europe.

Now is the time to start, while your friends are interested. All of the districts present soft spots for live and energetic candidates to jump in and take the lead. Don't believe that "all things come to him who waits." It does—if you hustle while you wait. This wonderful opportunity will never again be yours. Graps time by the forelock. Act now.

Passing the twelve thousand mark, the highest contestant at the end of the count last night, in the Tour of Europe contest, which the Daily Press is conducting, the interest has reached the stage where the competition is becoming greater every day. This total has been reached by one contestant, and the nearest competitor is just above the 8,000 mark. The contest has been in progress such a short time, however, that this lead will amount to very little by the beginning of next week. When it

TWO TONS OF HAY BURN IN WEST 4TH STREET BARN

Fire destroyed a two-ton load of hay in the rear of Bernard Main's grocery on West Fourth street, this afternoon. The hay was being placed in Mr. Main's barn when sparks from a bonfire set it ablaze.

Before the fire department arrived the hay was entirely consumed and the firemen directed their attention to saving the nearby buildings.

While the chemical engine, in charge of Ollie Freeman, was turning from Park avenue into Fourth street, the horses slipped on the wet pavement and slid thirty feet before the apparatus was stopped.

P. H. S. ALUMNI PLANNING FOR TWO ANNUAL EVENTS

The executive committee of the Plainfield High School Alumni Association, of which Charles B. Morse is the president, has arranged the annual meeting and reception this year along different lines than usual. Instead of combining the two events on the evening of February 21, it has been decided to hold the prize speaking contest on Thursday afternoon, February 22, at 3:30 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

Four young women and four young men from the high school will participate. Two prizes, each of $10 in gold, are offered by the association. The admission to this affair will be by ticket, which may be obtained from Miss Grace A. TenEyck, 302 East Sixth street, who is secretary-treasurer of the association.

The annual meeting will be held immediately following the contest. In the evening at 8:30 at the high school will be held the annual reception and dance. Admission to this will be by invitation only and the invitations will not be transferable.

The committee of arrangements in charge of the dance comprise Orlando Lounsbury, chairman; Fred Loizeaux and Frank Wilcox. Charles Suhr's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance and Ben. Evans will serve the supper. The entire senior class has been invited to the affairs. Other undergraduates will not be invited.

HOSPITAL FUND SOARS ABOVE $100,000 MARK

Many More Subscriptions Reported by Campaign Workers--Four More Days in Which to Make Grand Total $125,000.

Upon the members of the women's teams who are striving to raise a fund of $125,000 for Muhlenberg Hospital, fell today the distinction of passing the $100,000 mark in the amount of subscriptions pledged. At the dinner held on Friday night the men reoprted that they had passed the goal originally set out to reach,

William R. Cock,
Hospital Governor.

$90,000. Yesterday the women's teams, as announced, added over $3,000 to this sum, and last night at the regular evening gathering of the men $4,452.60 was reported to have been gathered during the day, bringing the total last night up to $98,979.47. At the luncheon held today, the members of the women's teams made public that they had added $2,709.25 during the past twenty-four hours, making the grand total $101,688.82 and there are still four more days in which to collect.

Prior to the dinner last night Rev. Father Miller, of St. Joseph's church, said grace, and after the dinner Mr. Mellick made the usual announcements, following them by having a letter read which had been sent by

E. H. Booth,
Hospital Governor.

TWO HUNDRED AT A SOCIETY DANCE

First of Two Subscription Affairs at the Auditorium Proves to be Delightful.

PRESENTS ATTRACTIVE SCENE

Mrs. R. Story Rowland, Mrs. Daniel Runkle, Mrs. William B. Tyler and Mrs. Lewis E. Waring Act as the Patronesses.

The first of two subscription dances was given at the Hartridge Auditorium last night and it was largely attended. There were about 200 guests including about fifty from out of town, and the popular program of dances was enjoyed until 3 o'clock this morning. At midnight supper was served. The auditorium was attractively decorated with palms and flowers. The patronesses for last night's affair were Mrs. R. Story Rowland, Mrs. Daniel Runkle, Mrs. William B. Tyler and Mrs. Lewis E. Waring. The second dance will be given April 10.

Among those present last night were Mr. and Mrs. George Megrew, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hyde, and Mrs Thatcher N. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Austen Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman B. Joost, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ogden, Assemblyman and Mrs. George L. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Waring, Mr. and Mrs. Story Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Runkle, the Misses Finch, Perkins, Dorothy Fisk, Fleming, Suzanne Wharton, Helen Timpson, Marguerite Carpenter, Helen Harman, Edna Widey, Hope Ivins Curtis, Alice Smith, Aleverda Holland, Ursula Rowland, Elizabeth McGee, Duke, Mrs. Chapman Fisk, Mrs. H. NEW TERROR FOR THE HARASSED RICH

Thief Takes Eggs as Well as Money in Second Street House.

SWAG VALUES READAJUSTED

Modern Crook Scorns Silver to Make Room for More Expensive Product—Victims Having Safe Built for Their Butter, Maybe.

The home of F. W. Warnke on East Second street was entered Thursday night by a sneak thief who appreciates the priceless value of eggs. After examining a quantity of silver and other bric-a-brac on the ground floor, the burglar selected Mrs. Warnke's handbag and a purse containing in all about $15 in cash, and eight eggs and left without leaving any clue to his identity.

Their loss was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Warnke when they came down stairs yesterday morning. In the course of preparing breakfast Mrs. Warnke was unable to find the eggs. While searching, her attention was arrested by red wax dropped from a candle on the shelves of the pantry. Further investigation showed a lot more of the red tinted drops on the table and sideboard in the dining room. Then a window with the catch unfastened was discovered and the knowledge that their home had been burglarized was complete.

The police were notified and made an investigation. They are of the opinion that the job was done by the same crook that entered several houses a week or two ago.

The Warnkes think the crook has given his fellows a cue as to the proper estimate of present-day swag and they are having a safe built for their butter.

PLANNING TO PUBLISH HOSPITAL HONOR ROLL

The Hospital Campaign Executive Committee has decided to publish and distribute in pamphlet form, after the campaign has closed, an honor roll, containing in alphabetical order the names of all persons, firms and corporations which have contributed to the hospital fund.

Only the names are to be published. The amounts contributed will not be given. Only two classes are recognized in the present campaign, viz., those who give and those who do not. The small boy who contributes ten cents, thereby showing his interest in an institution which exists for the benefit of the entire community, will stand on this honor roll in the same class with the man who in his prosperity is able to contribute in three figures or even four.

It is not only the large subscriptions that are wanted. The small subscriptions will show just as much interest in the hospital; and it is their interest that Muhlenberg wants.

Subscribe one dollar or ten cents—if one cannot give more, and have his name inscribed on the honor roll.

Let it be seen, when this campaign closes, that Muhlenberg Hospital has the good will and support of all the people. If one has not yet been asked to subscribe, send a postal card to campaign headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building and ask for a subscription card. Or, if one prefers call and ask for Mr. Bowen, who will tell just what to do.

BRIDGE WHIST AND MUSIC AT MRS. HOPCRAFT'S STUDIO.

Mrs. McNeill Hopcraft was hostess at a bridge whist party yesterday afternoon at her studio in the Babcock building. Four tables were in play. The winners were given silk handkerchiefs and a tea set. At the conclusion of play, an informal musicale was given. Mrs. Arthur W. Opp and Miss Florence Cary sang.

Among those present were Mrs. Rutherford H. Towner, Mrs. Lamar Van Sickel, Mrs. M. F. Elderton, Dr. Nell S. Wilcox, Miss Florence Cary, Mrs. Arthur Wellington Opp, Mrs. A. W. Kenworthy, Mrs. Gertrude Quick, Miss Myers and Mrs. J. K. Roundey.

GIFT OF $5,000 FOR A MISSION HOSPITAL.

Plainfielders who are interested in the work of Dr. Paul W. Harrison, the missionary of Trinity Reformed church in Arabia, will learn with considerable pleasure today through an announcement by Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, that a New York business man has given $5,000 to establish a hospital at a new station at Kuwait, Arabia, and that Dr. Harrison is to have charge of the institution. The man who makes the contribution is a member of the Reformed Church in America, but desires to withhold his name.

WEBER'S ASSAILANT IN FEAR OF MOB VIOLENCE

Nervous at Sight of Court Room Crowd and Pleads For Quick Removal--Admits Undivided Guilt in Revised Confession.

As the confessed assailant of Michael Weber, who was knocked down and robbed of $215 on West Fourth street, last Saturday night, James Springs, the negro remanded yesterday, pleaded non vult to two charges of high misdemeanor before City Judge William G. De Meza today.

Springs revamped his first confession yesterday, and admitted that he lied when he named George Gilbert and William Harvey, two other negroes, as accomplices, in an effort to lessen the degree of his guilt. He was afraid his victim was going to die, and set out to shift the threatened murder charge. Harvey and Gilbert were released immediately after the prisoner made a clean breast of it.

Springs was a badly scared negro when he faced the court today. He had the fear of mob violence put in his soul yesterday afternoon, and the sight of the crowd that filled the court room "gallery" stirred his fears anew.

The colored highwayman's terror of lynching came to him yesterday afternoon when Roundsman Higgins and Patrolman Saffron took him to his home on Liberty street near Third, to recover some of the stolen money which he had hidden there.

Policemen and prisoner rode in a hack, Springs handcuffed between the bluecoats. A few minutes after the hack drove up to the house residents of the neighborhood, black and white, began to gather about the door. Before long Liberty street was jammed from curb to curb. The police say that at least 800 people were in the jam.

Springs saw the gathering of the crowd from a window, and his nerve wilted. By that time the bluecoats had recovered the hidden money—it amounted to $70—and were ready to go, but Springs begged them not to take him out until reserves had driven the crowd away.

The police say that if any one in the crowd made threats of violence they were mild and fell flat. Saffron scattered the "mob" single-handed, and he and Higgins hustled the shaking prisoner back in the hack and returned him to his cell. Nobody attempted to interfere with them.

The $70 which the police recovered at the thug's house was found hidden cunningly in cracks in a dry goods box and in the plaster of a closet. Springs says the rest of the $215 was "dropped" in a crap game in Newark on Monday.

The negro's revised confession, in which he shouldered all the blame for the robbery, was the result of a grilling through which Assistant Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., put him at police headquarters. The police and the assistant prosecutor never placed any faith in the prisoner's statement that Harvey and Gilbert were implicated, and the county official went at him hard to get the truth.

Confronted by Gilbert and Harvey in turn, Springs stuck to his story that the three conspired and that Harvey struck the blow.

"Mah God, man!" Gilbert gasped as Springs repeated his charge before him, "what you tryin' to put on me?"

Springs looked the other man in the eye, and stolidly repeated his accusation. Mr. Hetfield kept at him mercilessly, and suddenly Springs gave up.

"I'll tell the truth, Mr. Heffield," he said. "I did the whole thing."

"Hallelujah!" ejaculated Gilbert. "That man's lies has made me out the meanest cuss in town. Mr. Weber's been keeping me in meat this winter and I could never have gone for to rob that man."

Springs said he hit Weber with a piece of iron pipe. After the robbery he fled up Spooner avenue and across the railroad, throwing the weapon away along the tracks.

Mr. Hetfield prepared separate charges of robbery and atrocious assault with intent to rob against the negro. When the prisoner was brought into court to plead to them today, the space behind the rail was filled with spectators. Five policemen were scattered through the crowd, with orders to grab anyone who was foolish enough to hint at anything but the strict course of the law.

Before taking his seat Judge De Meza warned the spectators that the first man who made a threat or a threatening movement would be arrested immediately. The police had no occasion to act.

Springs shrank as he caught sight of the crowd on entering the court room. When the Judge read the charges and asked for his plea, the negro passed this note to the magistrate:

"Dear Judge: I don't want to stay out here more than five minutes. I am afraid of this crowd. I plead non vult and I want to be sent to the court at Elizabeth. I have nothing further to say."

Judge De Meza held the prisoner

GIVE A BRILLIANT RECEPTION AND TEA

Mrs Finch and Daughters Entertain Large Assemblage of Society Folk.

DECORATION ARE ELABORATE

Bevy of Young Women Assist Hostesses in Receiving—Guests Present From New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and the Oranges.

Mrs. Edward Lucius Finch and her daughters, the Misses Finch, gave a brilliant reception and tea, followed by a dinner, at their home on Park avenue, yesterday afternoon. The affair was largely attended by society people from the city and borough; also New York, Orange, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. The hostess and her daughters were lavish in their entertainment and the affair was one of the most notable of the season in local society.

The reception room, parlors and dining-room were elaborately decorated with choice flowers, the colored scheme being yellow. This idea was carried out effectively and was greatly admitted by the guests who thronged the house.

Mrs. Finch and her daughters were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Frank O. Herring, Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard, the Misses Tweedy, Mrs. Clifton Wharton, Jr., Mrs. E. Vicars Stevenson and Mrs. William T. Pelletier. The receiving party was assisted by a bevy of young society women comprising Miss May Rodman, Miss Ursula Rowland, Miss Ruth Titus, Miss Suzanne Wharton, Miss Louise Curtis, of this city; Miss Kathleen McDonough, of Philadelphia, and Miss Katherine Browning, of Orange; Miss Charlotte Delafield and Miss Charlotte Wyeth, of New York city.

The hours of the reception and tea were from 4 to 7 o'clock, after which a dinner was given, covers being laid for sixteen, the guests being the young women of the receiving party and in addition George Thatcher, Alexander Orr, Arthur Hunter and Edward R. Finch, of New York city; Rufus C. Finch, Henry L. Finch and William Palmer Smith, Jr., of this city.

One of the pleasant features of the reception was the music furnished by an orchestra. The program included many of the popular selections.

FOR A HEARTY LAUGH PRESCRIBE 'OVER NIGHT'

"Over Night," which will be seen at the Plainfield theatre tonight, is a pure, sweet, wholesome and up-to-date play, egregiously funny, full of laughs and it "gets you." At least that is what Philip H. Batholomae, the author says of it, and he ought to know. It is in three acts, and from first to last the fun is of the rollicking kind, the lines and situations intensely humorous, and the complications absurdly funny. Its first act is laid on a Hudson River steamboat, and the other two at a country hotel somewhere along the Hudson.

There are two bridal couples in the plot, the wife in one case and the husband in the other are left by mistake, on the wharf just before the boat starts, and the two who remain on the boat pretend to be husband and wife to avoid complications. Instead of avoiding complications, however, they get themselves into all sorts of unhappy situations, and the fun which is evolved from their unhappy predicament in the first act, becomes fast and furious as the performance proceeds. In the third act, through the manipulations of a hypnotist, the merry tangle is straightened out, and the climax is a happy ending for all concerned.

SOMERSET TEACHERS MEET IN BOROUGH HIGH SCHOOL.

The mid-winter meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association was held this morning in the Somerset Street School. Albert Early, instructor in mathematics in the North Plainfield High School, delivered an address on "The Teaching of Arithmetic." "The Teaching of Backward Children" was the subject of an address by Miss Ella Hamilton, of Jersey City, and George A. Merrick, assistant State Commissioner of Education, was the third speaker.

Following the speeches and business meeting, a luncheon was served.

COBBLER TRIES TO END LIFE

Rotchfort Turns One of His Knives on Himself in Fit of Depression.

SON WRESTS WEAPON AWAY

Would-Be Suicide Hurried to Elizabeth Hospital From Westfield Home—Daughters at a Dance When Father Makes Attempt.

Westfield, Feb. 17. (Special).—In a fit of depression Thomas Rotchfort, fifty-five years old, a shoemaker in Westfield, last night slashed his throat with one of his cobbling knives. That he did not reach a vital spot and die immediately was due to his sixteen-year-old son, Thomas, who wrested the weapon from him. The youth had three fingers nearly severed.

The elder Rotchfort was hurried to the Elizabeth General Hospital for an immediate operation in an effort to save his life.

His death is looked for momentarily, as several of the gashes caused him to lose much blood before the flow could be stopped.

Rotchfort gashed himself shortly after 11 o'clock. He retired shortly before as did his wife and son. Two grown daughters were attending the Westfield firemen's ball.

Being unable to sleep on account of his condition, the cobbler got up and went to his shop. His wife called to him, but received a reply that he would return shortly.

When he did not do so, she aroused her son and told him to see what his father was doing. Hearing his son approaching, the elder Rotchfort seized a shoe knife from the bench where he was sitting and slashed at his throat. He made several passes, inflicting great gaping wounds before the son could seize and stay his hand.

LONG DISTANCE RUNAWAY ROUTE

Percy's Dayton's Horse Travels on Ice Part of the Way.

BORO, VALLEY AND PLAINS

Run Takes in Four Municipalities—Pursuing Owner Finds "Ted" Waiting for Him at His Barn After Fruitless Chase.

"Ted," a sorrel horse owned by Percy Dayton, of Rockview avenue, made a new record locally for long distance runaways last night. For several hours he was lost to his owner, who followed after him with another horse and carriage.

Returning unsuccessful from the wake of Ted over hill and down dale, through Watchung and along various roads to Scotch Plains, finding only the damaged wagon ditched on Spencer's hill, Mr. Dayton, and Patrolman Muir, who went with him, found the horse waiting at the station apparently none the worse for his exercise.

The runaway's start was spectacular. Ted, hitched to a spring wagon and tied to a pole in front of his owner's place of business on Somerset street, was scared when Harry Seader, driving a cab, hooked a wheel of the wagon with a step of the cab.

The sorrel reared and plunged until loose. Leaving Somerset street, he took to the ice in the old mill race and ran to the rear of Woodhull & Martin's store, where he turned and followed the driveway back to Somerset street; thence to Watchung and over the hills to Scotch Plains. Near the fur mill he fell and was freed from the wagon. Just what route he followed to get back to the barn, Mr. Dayton has not been able to learn. The only damage done to the wagon was to break both shafts and ripe one broke out of the left front wheel.

Gave a Health Talk.

Carroll J. Minter.

Carroll J. Minter, fifteen years old, died yesterday at the home of his parents on East Fourth street, after an illness of several weeks. The funeral service will be held from Calvary Baptist church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in Hillside cemetery.

WOMEN'S VOTES WILL SOON COME

Amendment to State Constitution Proposed and Congress Becomes Interested.

MOVEMENT NOW FORMIDABLE

Wives of Prominent Jerseymen Supporting Gebhardt Measure—Senator Briggs, of New Jersey, Wants Congress to Investigate.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 17.—Many prominent women in various sections of the State are enlisted in the movement for the amending of the State constitution to permit women to vote as proposed in the concurrent resolution introduced in the Senate this week by Senator William C. Gebhardt, Democrat, of Hunterdon county. Senator Gebhardt presented the resolution on behalf of the Equal Franchise Society of the State, and the New Jersey Women's Suffragist Association, which has more than 1,000 members.

The president of the Equal Franchise Society is Mrs. A. Gussie Vickers, wife of Assistant Prosecutor George T. Vickers, of Hudson county. Mrs. Gebhardt, wife of the Senator, and his daughter, Miss Eleanor Gebhardt, who is a lawyer like her father, are both suffragists and are taking active part in the movement for the passage of the resolution. Mrs. Gebhardt is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Equal Franchise Society.

Some of the other women in the society who are interested in giving their sex the right to vote are Mrs. Caroline B. Alexander, of Castle Point, Hoboken, who is identified with many charitable and correctional organizations, and who is the first vice president of the society; Mrs. Everett Colby, wife of the former Senator, of Orange, second vice president; Miss Alice Lakey, of Cranford, third first president; Mrs. Harvey, wife of Colonel George Harvey, of Deal, fourth vice president; Miss Emma L. Richards, of Newark, recording secretary; Miss Beatrice Akin Koons of Jersey City, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Campbell, of Hoboken, treasurer.

Some of the other women who are backing the resolution are Mrs. Stewart Hartshorn, of Short Hills, Mrs. M. H. Kinsley, of Jersey City, Mrs. Amelia E. Du Bois, of Bayonne, and Mrs. Jesse Lynch Williams, of Princeton.

Washington, Feb. 17.—On the question of equal suffrage, Senator Briggs, of New Jersey, has shown that he is at least in favor of Congress taking up the subject for a serious investigation. As chairman of the Senate Committee on Contingent Expenses, Mr. Briggs has reported favorably on the resolution authorizing the committee on Equal Suffrage, of which Senator Overman, of North Carolina, is chairman, to conduct an inquiry during the present session to determine the merit of the demand of those who want women to vote, from a federal point of view.

The Equal Suffrage Committee has been regarded for many years as one of the non-active Senate Committees and its chairmanship has usually been paroled out to a member of the minority. The question of woman's right to vote has become so prominent and persistent in the last year or two that Senator Overman believes that it is high time for Congress to be thoroughly informed on the subject by a competent inquiry.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

New records in attendance are being made weekly at the Hippodrome where the great spectacle "Around the World" continues to please mighty audiences twice daily. This season has thus far surpassed all others at the big playhouse in point of receipts and there is no inclination of any abatement of interest in the splendid spectacles. Among the best liked features of the program may be mentioned the gorgeous Ballet of Butterflies, the great Sandstorm in the Desert, Venice by Moonlight, the striking Durbar pageant which for oriental magnificence has never been equalled on any stage, the scintillant water finale, etc. There are seventeen separte scenes, 1,200 people and two hundred animals in the great show.

These offerings are announced by the management of the Metropolitan Opera House: Today, matinee at 2—Tannhaeuser, Moren, Fremstad, Slezak, Weil, Griswold. Conductor, Hertz. Night, at 8:15—special performance, Tosca; Farrar, Martin, Scotti, Fini-Corsi. Conductor, Toscanini. Thursday at 8—Aida Destinn, Matzenauer; Caruso, Gilly, Didur, Connductor, Toscaffini.

TRYING TO SAVE LITTLE GIRL FROM WHITE PLAGUE

January was an unusually heavy month for the Charity Organization. One hundred and thirty-nine cases of distress came to the attention of the secretaries instead of about 100, which is the average number, the increase being from families heretofore unknown to the Society.

The society is at present greatly interested in a little girl of six years, whose parents were both tubercular, the father having recently died. She has developed a weakness in the lungs. An excellent country home has been found for the child where she will have the necessary fresh air, rest and plenty of good food. The board will be $5 a week which, considering the price of eggs and milk, is of course, extremely moderate and includes kind care. $2 a week has been assured. Sums of any amount to help assure the rest of the board will be gladly received.

STOKES AND SEN. NICHOLS SHAKING UP A PEACE PACT

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 17, (Special).—Former Governor Edward C. Stokes, who votes in Cumberland county, and State Senator Isaac T. Nichols, of that county, who have been political enemies for several years, have patched up a truce. It has been noticed for a week or two that personal relations between them were not so strained as formerly, and Senator Nichols today did not deny that they were on more friendly terms. The aspirations of each to seek on office is believed to have been one of the factors in bringing them together again.

Former Governor Stokes, as is well known, wants to succeed Frank O. Briggs as United States Senator, and has no desire of jeopardizing his hopes by any party factional contests in his own county. Senator Nichols has formerly announced himself as a candidate for Congress to succeed John J. Gardner, and so he stands in a similar position, where if he hopes to win, he must have the solid backing of his county. Thus it is that the old time enemies have come to be friends, more or less.

BOY PREACHES AT "KID" CHURCH

Hillsdale Pastor Lets Children Hold Own Service.

JUST LIKE GROWN UPS DO

The Rev. William Burd of Methodist Church Adds New Departure to Many Innovations to Interest Youths of His Flock—Hopes For Congregation of a Hundred.

Hackensack, N. J., Feb. 17.—The Rev. William Burd of the Methodist church at Hillsdale, who recently introduced a boys' whistling club at Sunday evening services, conducts services for children and he is delighted with the result, fifty-five boys and girls attending the first worship, which was held in the lecture room.

Floyd A. Burd, son of the pastor, led the services. He gave out the numbers of the hymns, read the lessons, and with dignity said, "James Titus will now take up the collection."

Edwin Joscelyn was the preacher, and he told of the missionary work being done in Korea. The little girls in the congregation seemed much interested when Master Joscelyn said:

"Korea is a queer country. Those enormous hats worn by the women make our doorwide productions look like a natty 'ding-a-ling.' The youth just entering into manhood, with his flowing coat, wide pantaloons and hat more ludicrous than 'the hat my grandfather wore,' gives dudedom in the states a handicap and comes in first. The queerest thing of all, however, is that in God's sight these folk are one with us."

Pastor Burd preached five minutes, and he told the little boys and girls how pleased he was at so large an audience.

"When the congregation gets to be 100 I'm going to give you all a fine treat, so do your best to get your young friends to come to your church. Don't forget the collection, and always bring at least a penny every week."

LANNING PASSES AWAY.

United States Judge Succumbs to Heart Disease.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 17.—United States Circuit Judge William Mershon Lanning of the Third judicial circuit of New Jersey is dead at his home here from heart disease at the age of sixty-three.

Judge Lanning was born on a farm in Ewing township, Mercer county, this state. As a boy he worked on his father's farm and attended public school. Later he attended the Lawrenceville high school. From 1868 to 1880 he taught in public schools, studying law meantime and being admitted to the bar in the latter year. He became city solicitor of Trenton in 1883 and held that office for four years. He was elected congressman for a term in 1903 and became United States district judge for New Jersey the following year.

Judge Lanning was appointed to the United States circuit court bench three years ago.

$2,000,000 FOR WATERSHED.

State Commissioner Urges Purchase of Wharton Tract.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 17.—Harry R. Humphreys, one of the members of the state water supply commission, has submitted a report in which he recommends the acquisition by the state of the Wharton tract of land in Burlington and Atlantic counties for the purpose of a watershed. This, he believes, would provide all the water that would be needed to supply cities south of the Raritan river.

The tract has an area of 170 square miles on the Mullica river and a drainage area of 350 square miles, which with proper storage would supply 240,000,000 gallons a day. The tract of land could be secured for less than $2,000,000. It is practicable to pipe water from reservoirs at this watershed to supply Camden, Atlantic City, Trenton and other municipalities.

The report was sent to Governor Wilson for consideration.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Mrs. Magnati of Newark Meets Doom In Factory.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Florena Magnati of 13 Mount Prospect avenue was crushed between a guard rail and a descending elevator in the cigar factory of the I. Lewis company, 156 Morris avenue, and died shortly after the accident in the City hospital.

Mrs. Magnati was employed on the first floor of the plant. She heard a shout from the elevator shaft and thought it was some one calling for help. She looked over the guard rail of the shaft as the car was descending.

Wilkesbarre Centenarian Dies.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Katharine Burns of Parsons, near this city, is dead at the age of 100 years. She and her late husband came to this city from Ireland in 1850 and later on resided in Parsons. She is survived by seven grandchildren and twenty-two great-grandchildren.

THE HOSPITAL AS A BENEFACTION.

Some think of the Hospital with dread. The sight of the building creates in them thoughts only of sickness and suffering, of sorrow and bereavement. To them the hospital is a dreadful place.

If I were to paint my view of the hospital, I should show a building fairly bursting with glorious light, against a background of hopeless darkness. I have spent many hours looking at the ceiling from a hospital cot. I have sat long by the bedside of those dear to me in a hospital room, but to me the hospital is a place of hope, of infinite promise, of gracious dispensation, a place where those over whom is hanging the sentence of death, as it were, have new years of happiness and opportunity added to their term of life. When I look at the hospital, I think not of the suffering and pain which I know must be there, since the building was erected to receive those who are sick. I think rather of the sick made well, of the weak made strong, of fathers and mothers, sons and daughters snatched from the verge of the grave and restored to those that love them. I think not only of the immediate sufferer, relieved of his pain and physical disability, but of the wider circle of those attached to him by ties of endearment or dependence, who are blessed by his restoration to health. I think of children saved from being orphans, if wives saved from being widows, of parents saved from years of mourning for a beloved child who is lost to them, of homes saved from dissolution, of families saved from the poverty and privation and misery that so often follow the loss of the breadwinner.

As I think of all these mercies and blessings that flow from the hospital to the rich and poor in all the surrounding territory, the hospital seems to me like a glorious beaconlight set on a hilltop proclaiming to all the world that this is indeed the age of the Good Samaritan.

What a privilege to bear a share in this beautiful beneficence. And every one does share in this great work who gives even the smallest sum to the fund that makes this work possible.

One of the beautiful things about the hospital benefaction is that it bestows its beneficence on the rich as well as the poor. It is not often that a benevolence touches both these classes, but the hospital does. The rich ask no favors of the hospital, financially, and they receive none, but in the matter of affording the most favorable conditions for recovery from serious operations and for the treatment of extreme ailments, the hospital confers a benefit on even the richest homes in the city, for the home of wealth can not give the hygienic conditions, the control of all the environment, the most favorable conditions for the patient's recovery so efficiently as does the hospital.

If a man earns a yearly wage of $500, we may assume that he produces that amount of value for society, but this is the same as the income from a four per cent. bond of $12,500; in other words, his investment value to the world is over $12,000. If the man's annual earning power is $1,000, then his investment value to society is $25,000. Although the investment value of a woman can not be measured definitely, in the same way, because so few women receive a definite salary, still, since the woman uses her time in making the home and furnishing conditions that make the man effective in his work, in rearing children and training them for effective manhood and womanhood, it needs no argument to show that she has a similar investment value to the world.

Every time, therefore, that a man dies before his time, there is a distinct money loss to the community, aside from the loss to his family. His investment value of $12,000, $25,000 or $50,000 is destroyed just as if real property of that value were destroyed by fire. Any institution which prevents such a death thereby saves the community the investment value of the man or woman so saved. When, from this standpoint, we look at the men and women who are saved from premature death by the facilities and advantages which the hospital offers, it is easily apparent that that institution saves to the world many times the original cost of the whole plant every year.

In its beneficience to the homes of the poor, the results can not be estimated. The home that is confined to two or three rooms can not, in th most serious cases, give the patient even a fair show. The family itself fills the whole space. The patient can not be given the quietness and care, the hygienic protection which he must have to give him every possible chance for recovery. More than that, the presence of a sick one, with the care and attention which it requires, loads many a family beyond the breaking point. One or more of the wage earners is prevented from winning his contribution to the support of the family, and the family finances are reduced below the self-sustaining level. The hospital, by removing the patient, permitting the family to follow its course, and devote its energy to sustaining the family life without the burden of the patient, saves many a family from requiring public help. There is no question but that the beneficence of the hospital in this way saves the city from largely increased cost in supporting the poor, which it would have to meet if there were no hospital to afford its assistance.

PREDICTS DEFEAT OF RECIPROCITY BILL

Assembly Anderson, of Watchung, Says it Will Not Pass Senate.

PASSED HOUSE SAFELY

This Was on Account of Favor Felt for It in Thickly Populated Counties With Larger Representation. Senate Make-up Different.

Judging from the prophecy made yesterday by Assemblyman W. de LaR. Anderson, of Watchung, the joy of local automobile enthusiasts over the passage of the reciprocity bill in the lower house will be short lived. They are all hopeful of a clear passage for the act through the Senate, but this Assemblyman Anderson predicted it will not have.

The reason the bill passed the lower house, according to his statement, was because the members of the thickly populated counties all voted for it. He meant Hudson, Essex, Union, Passaic and Atlantic, the members from each of those voting in favor of the emasure. In the Senate these counties have the same representattion that the more sparsely counties have and these are the ones opposing the passage of the bill.

Personally Mr. Anderson has gone into the requirements of the act quite thoroughly and is of the opinion that it should be defeated for economical reasons if for no other cause. Only two per cent. of the State's population owns automobiles and these owners represent only three per cent. of the ratables, he said, which means that ninety-seven per cent. of the people would not be benefited by the passage of the bill. In fact it's passage would be detrimental to them, he asserts, inasmuch as the revenue of the State would be reduced and the expense of maintaining the roads would be increased.

Under the present system the State road commission is running approximately one million dollars a year behind, he said, and if New Jersey is to be made a free path for the use of automobilists this deficit would increase by the increased travel.

Aside from the monetary feature he pointed out that the bill is lacking in other respects. In it there is no provision for any check registration on machine or driver, nor for a commissioner or any other person to be named with power of attorney for the State so that in case of accident the owner or driver of the machine could be traced and authority given for bringing suit in case of damage.

On the whole he thinks it a good instrument and is working against it's passage.

Keiderling's Business.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

In an article printed in your issue of Feb. 13, the statement is made that the official attention of The Building Trades Council has been called to the livery business of D. Keiderling & Co., and that the organization is opposed to any salaried employe of the city being engaged in any other business.

To the ordinary citizen, this seems like "a tempest in a tea-pot." How in the remotest way does the matter concern The Building Trades Council?

If Mr. Keiderling wishes to invest his savings, whose business is it other than his own? He takes no active part in the business mentioned and therefore can suffer no personal injury from it, and cannot possibly become a charge upon the pension fund on account of it.

Must an employe of the city forget that he is alive? Has he not the same rights as other citizens? It is a sin and shame that the time and attention of our Mayor and fire committee of the Common Council must be taken up by such trivial matters to satisfy the whims of meddlers.

MISSED PERFECT SCORE TWICE BY ONLY ONE PIN.

Bernie Maurer, of Syracuse, N. Y., in a match against Wilson, one of the Rochester cracks, in Syracuse recently got 11 strikes in succession, but failed to get the final one to give him a perfect game. He hit perfect for the final strike, but the 10 pin refused to fall, and he owned a 299 score.

This is the second time that Maurer has performed the feat, having a 299 score to his credit from last season, but never has he been able to get 12 strikes in succession.

Cannot Remember Accident.

Whitehouse, Feb. 17.—After lying in a comatose condition for several days as the result of a fall downstairs last week, Miss Minnie Cole, forty-two years old, who lives near Readington, is believed to be recovering. Just how the accident happened has not been determined as Miss Cole does not seem to remember anything about it. She went upstairs to do an errand and was found an hour later by her brother, Daniel B. Cole, unconscious at the foot of the stairway. It is supposed she slipped and in falling landed on her head. No bones were broken but she was badly bruised.

$85,000 for Seminary.

Rev. J. Y. Brock, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, accompanied by his brother, Rev. Albertus T. Brock, of Newark, Thursday attended the centennial banquet of the Society of Inquiry at the Theological Seminary, New Brunswick. At that time Rev. Dr. J. P. Searle announced an additional contribution of $85,000 for the endowment fund of the Seminary. It was made by a Philadelphia woman.

Announce Engagement.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Mrs. E. W. Banks, of San Francisco, and Curt Rosahl, of this city. Mrs. Banks is at present stopping at Truell Court. The wedding will take place in the early summer, after which the couple will leave for Berlin, Germany, where they will make their home.

DISTRIBUTION OF EXPORTS OF AMERICAN MANUFACTURE

Where Billion Dollars' Worth of Goods Made In This Country Went.

Comparative Figures Showing Growth During the Last Decade.

THE distribution to the world of the billion dollars' worth of manufactures exported in the year just ended is the subject of much inquiry among the manufacturers of the United States. The bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor recently announced that the value of manufactures sent out of the country had for the first time crossed the billion dollar line, the total for the calendar year 1911 of merchandise sent to foreign countries and to Hawaii and Porto Rico having been $1,002,000,000 and that this total is practically double that of a decade ago.

These inquiries as to the destination of the billion dollars' worth of manufactures sent out of the country and the various parts of the world in which this increase has occurred has led the bureau of statistics to the preparation of a statement showing the distribution, article by article, to the various sections of the world, grouping these for convenience of the study according to grand divisions, showing the value of exports to Europe, North America, South America, Asia, Africa and Oceania respectively in 1911 and at the earlier period in which the total was but half that of today.

Comparing the exports of manufactures in 1911 with those of earlier years, the bureau finds that they have increased 100 per cent, or doubled in value since 1902, and therefore compares in detail the figures of 1911 with those of that year. It finds that in this nine year period, in which the value of manufactures exported doubled, the increase, measured by percentages, is: To Asia, 36 per cent; to Africa, 64 per cent; to Europe, 70 per cent; to North America, 158 per cent, and to South America, 248 per cent. The actual gains are as follows: To Africa in 1902, $11,000,000; in 1911, $18,000,000, an increase of $7,000,000; to Asia in 1902, $44,000,000; in 1911, $60,000,000, an increase of $16,000,000; to Oceania in 1902, $29,000,000; in 1911, $57,000,000, an increase of $28,000,000; to South America in 1902, $27,000,000; in 1911, $94,000,000, an increase of $67,000,000; to Europe in 1902, $234,000,000; in 1911, $397,000,000, an increase of $163,000,000, and to North America in 1902, $109,000,000; in 1911, $281,000,000, an increase of $172,000,000.

The share which manufactures formed of the total exports of domestic merchandise to the various grand divisions at the two periods named was as follows: To Europe in 1902, 23 per cent; in 1911, 30 per cent; to North America in 1902, 53 per cent; in 1911, 61 per cent; to South America in 1902, 71 per cent; in 1911, 86 per cent; to Asia in 1902, 69 per cent; in 1911, 71 per cent; to Africa in 1902, 33 per cent; in 1911, 75 per cent; to Oceania in 1902, 85 per cent; in 1911, 86 per cent. Of the manufactures exported in the last fiscal year 43 per cent went to Europe, 31 per cent to North America, 11 per cent to South America, 7 per cent to Asia, 6 per cent to Oceania and 2 per cent to Africa.

The growth and changes in distribution of our exports of manufactures during the last decade are well illustrated by comparative figures covering a few of the more important articles. Of iron and steel manufactures, for example, the exports to Europe in the fiscal year 1901 were $44,000,000; in 1911, $51,000,000; to North America in 1901, $44,000,000; in 1911, $107,000,000, the growth in exports to Europe being slight, while those to North America more than doubled. To South America the figures for 1901 were $9,000,000, those for 1911 $20,000,000; to Asia $9,000,000 in 1901, $18,000,000 in 1911; to Oceania $9,000,000 in 1901, $19,000,000 in 1911, and to Africa $3,333,000 in 1901, $5,500,000 in 1911.

Our exports of copper and manufactures thereof are principally to Europe, the figures having grown from $41,000,000 in 1901 to $98,000,000 in 1911 and representing in that year over 90 per cent of the total exports of that article.

Of refined mineral oil the exports to Europe increased from $41,000,000 in 1901 to forty-eight million in 1911; to Asia, the second largest market, from twelve million to nineteen million, while to no other grand division were the figures for 1911 as much as $10,000,000. South America, however, being credited with nine and a half million against less than five million a decade earlier. Of leather and manufactures the exports to Europe increased from $21,000,000 in 1901 to thirty-three million in 1911, to North America from three and one-third to thirteen and two-thirds million, to South America from a half million to three million and Asia from one-third million to one and a half million.

Every part of the world is taking increased amounts of agricultural implements from the United States. To Europe the growth in the decade 1901-11 was from $10,000,000 to $17,000,000, to North America from two and a half to six million, to South America from one and three-fourths to nine million, to Asia from 190 thousand to three-quarters of a million, to Oceania from one million to one and three-fourths million and to Africa from one-fourth million to one and a half million dollars.

American cars and carriages, including automobiles, are also increasing in popularity abroad, the exports having nearly trebled in ten years. Of the thirty and one-half million dollars' worth exported in 1911 one-half went to North America, fifteen and a half million against three and a half million in 1901, to South America five million against less than one million a decade earlier and to Oceania three million against one and two-thirds in 1901.

NEW PAPAL DELEGATE.

Mgr. Bonzano of Rome to Succeed Cardinal Falconio at Washington.

Mgr. Giovanni Bonzano, who is rector of the Propaganda college, has been appointed the apostolic delegate at Washington to succeed Cardinal Falconio. Upon selecting him for the post the pope made him titular bishop of Meritue.

Mgr. Bonzano was born in Genoa about forty-five years ago and has been a priest for twenty years. He was for several years a missionary in China and left the work there to become the rector of the Propaganda college ten years ago. As rector of the college he is also chancellor of the Propaganda university, which includes all the national colleges in Rome, where young men are trained for the Catholic priesthood.

He is a noted linguist, speaking all the modern as well as knowing the classical languages and Chinese. He has made it a point, it is said, to learn two new languages each year. He is popular with students of all nations, and especially those from America. It was during his frequent walks with an American student in 1909 that he learned to speak English, and he is said to have become especially proficient in the use of that language.

Racing Cattle.

The eighteenth century experimented with bulls and cows as racing mounts instead of horses. The early nineteenth century saw an equally interesting substitute for the harnessed horse. Just a century ago a small farmer of the neighborhood drove into St. Albans on market day in a little car drawn by four hogs. Having toured the market place three or four times amid popular applause, he put his animals up in a stable, did his marketing and drove off again to the accompaniment of louder cheers, which did not make them shy. It had taken him six months to train them, and he refused an offer of $250 down for the vehicle and team.—London Chronicle.

RESTORING CONGRESS HALL.

Building to Appear as When Washington Took Oath as President.

Old Congress hall, adjoining Independence hall, Philadelphia, is undergoing repairs more extensive than have been made since 1820. At that time many changes were made in the building so that it might be used as a court room.

When finished the building will have been restored to the appearance it had when George Washington took the oath as president in an alcove of the senate chamber on the second floor.

The work is being done under the supervision of members of the Philadelphia chapter American Institute of Architects. For the next two months the work will be confined to ripping out and replacing structural supports. A scaffold has been erected on the ground floor, and the wooden pillars, which have stood since 1820, are being torn away, as they were not in the building as originally built.

At present there are wooden columns all through the building. Some of these were originally there, but have been transferred from former positions. They will be changed about and the others removed.

WOULD REINSTATE HAINS.

Resolution Returning Him to Army and Rank Now In Senate.

Peter C. Hains, who shot and killed William E. Annis, will be restored to his former grade and rank of captain in the army if a bill introduced by Senator Rayner becomes a law.

The bill provides that Hains be given the position he had at the time of his removal from the army. An extra number is allowed for the grade in order that no officer may sustain injury through this action.

After Captain Hains began serving his prison sentence an act was passed by congress providing that all officers convicted of criminal offenses in state courts should be removed from the army.

Up Against It.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

Woman's World

Mrs. Dewar Wins Fencing Laurels From Baroness.

MRS. WILLIAM H. DEWAR.

Mrs. William H. Dewar of Philadelphia recently won her way to the amateur fencing championship among women in a seven minute bout with the Baroness de Meyer of England.

The play with the foils came off at the Colony club, the fashionable woman's club of New York city.

Although the bout lasted only seven minutes, some of those who witnessed it said it was the most exciting seven minutes through which they had ever sat, bobbed, gasped and stared.

The opponents were well matched, each vigorously contesting every second of the time allowed them.

A handsome loving cup, the gift of Mrs. Payne Whitney, was awarded to Mrs. Dewar.

YEAR OF THE RAT.

How the Chinese Reckon a Child's Years.

The Chinese method of reckoning age is very curious. A Chinese child at birth is said to be one year old, and after it has passed one new year it is said to be two years old. The Chinese divide the years into cycles of twelve, each one of the twelve years being represented by the name of one of twelve different animals, and all people born in one year say that they belong to the class of corresponding animal. Thus the Chinese year corresponding to 1876 was a year of the rat, and all born in that year belong to the class rat; so also do all people born in the year removed from 1876 by any multiple of 12.

The twelve different animals are rat, ox, tiger, hare, dragon, snake, horse, sheep, monkey, fowl, dog and pig. Every one knows his corresponding animal class, for the information is necessary for arranging betrothals, fortune telling or choosing lucky days.

A source of error in age (with the exception of that in entering young children) is illustrated by the case of an old woman of the village of Chingtzu, known to be over a hundred, who insisted on the census enumerator entering her as ninety-nine. This was because it is a customary term of abuse to call a person a "hundred-year-old donkey" or "ten-thousand donkey," which has the same significance.

The only source of error in the division of sex is in regard to very young children. It is common for a Chinese mother to give a son the name of a girl, presumably to deceive the fates, for it is a common saying that a girl is easier to rear.

As to the size of Chinese families, the Chinese give much credit to a large family which is able to live together without dividing up the family property. There are many large undivided families in Weihaiwei. The largest is that of Meng Yu Shih, a widow of the village of Mangtao. Her family consists in all of sixty-six persons.

What the Eyes Tell.

Hazel eyes show steadiness and power of constant affection. Black eyes show strong intellect and passions.

The eyes of genius are said to be of varying tints, like the sea—sometimes blue, tinted with green or orange; in certain lights, or when affected by emotion, deep and almost dark.

It should never be forgotten that eyes are more capable of misleading than any other feature.

Widely expanded eyelids see much without reflecting greatly. They live in the senses and think little beyond the present moment.

Eyelids half closing over the eye denote less facility of impression, but clearer insight, more definite ideas, greater steadiness in action.

Deep set eyes, with wrinkles at the outer corners, show penetration and a sense of humor.

Eyes set near together, especially when there are wrinkles across the nose, are a sign of cunning and meanness in small things.

Set wide apart, the character will be generous; if too wide, careless and extravagant.

The proper distance between the eyes is the width of one eye.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PRACTICAL MACARONI RECIPES.

INNUMERABLE tasty dishes that will add zest to Lenten fare can be evolved with the use of macaroni.

Macaroni is nice in soup. It may be served as a vegetable. It may be an adjunct to a stew when meat is in use. With cheese or eggs it makes a good substitute for meat.

When macaroni is cooked it must not be thrown into cold water or it will become soggy and unappetizing. The water must be boiling, and when the macaroni is put in it must be cooked as quickly as possible.

As Italians Like It.

Boiled Macaroni.—Use large macaroni and cook in boiling salted water for about fifteen minutes. The macaroni must not be cooked so long that its firmness is lost. When done drain in a colander or sieve. When the water has run off put the macaroni in an enameled saucepan, together with a little butter. Butter a shallow baking dish and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese, then lay in a layer of macaroni and so continue until the dish is filled, the cheese forming the last layer. Place in the oven and bake. Serve hot.

Baked Macaroni With Cream Sauce.—Leftover spaghetti or macaroni is nice for luncheon cooked in a baking dish with a cream sauce and with shredded green and red peppers cut over the top. Sometimes cheese is added to the mixture, sometimes breadcrumbs.

Macaroni and Eggs.—Boil three ounces of macaroni till tender, then put it in a saucepan with nearly half a pint of white sauce, some grated cheese, pepper and salt. When thoroughly hot arrange on a dish, lay four nicely poached eggs on it, sprinkle a little chopped parsley over and serve.

Macaroni With Vegetables.—Cut two onions into small pieces and put in a casserole dish. Over the onions put one large stalk of celery with its leaves cut into small pieces. Next add a half cupful of canned tomatoes, also a large carrot cut into dice.

Salt and pepper to taste and add three-fourths cupful of butter. Cover tightly and put over a very slow fire for an hour.

Have ready one-third of a small package of macaroni which has been washed, soaked, boiled and drained. Dress the macaroni with vegetable sauce and serve very hot.

JACK MARTIN'S STOCK IS STRONG IN ROCHESTER

That Jack Martin is well thought of in Rocheter, where he is to go at the beginning of the season, may be gleaned from the following which appeared recently in the Rochester, Democrat-Chronicle:

"There is one young recruit that Manager Ganzell has drawn into his net that should give Tommy McMillan, last season's understudy to Eddy Foster, a real battle for the shortstop position while the Hustlers are on the spring training trip. The infielder in question is Jack Martin, whose signed contract was yesterday received by Manager Ganzell.

"Martin is one of the players who figures in the deal between Rochester and the Yankees. Playing in 118 Virginia League games last year, he stung the ball for 137 hits out of 431 times at bat for a batting average of .318. He needs to hit above .280 in the International to qualify for a regular berth.

"Besides hitting the ball safely to an average of one and one-quarter hits to a game, Martin stole 52 bases and brought home 77 runs in addition to driving home a whole lot more tallies with his trusty bat. In the field he had 290 putouts, 367 assists and 47 errors, for a fielding average of .933. He made one misplay in about every three games. We can stand for that and even more than that if he comes anywhere near fielding his position like that Foster marvel."

JIMMY EMORY JOINS RANKS OF THE HOLD-OUTS

Jimmy Emory recently received the second contract sent him from the Middleport-Pomeroy club in the Mountain States League, but up until last night he had not signed the document and was not very strongly inclined to do so. The salary named is in excess of that mentioned in the first one received several months ago, but is not yet up to the sum Jimmy wants.

He has a hunch that the only reason the twin town club wants him is because there is a chance to sell him to a club in another league. He did good work for this team last season and played no unimportant part in the series that landed the championship for it. At that time he was felt out by the manager regarding a return this season, and ever since has had a hen on that prevented his closing. Just what this is Jimmy declined to say.

OLYMPIA PINSMITHS TAKE TWO FROM MOOSE.

The Moose bowlers took on the Olympia five last night on the Olympia alleys after the Red Men had failed to appear and the series went to the L. O. O. M. quintet on a forfeit. They were only able to annex the last game. The scores follow:

Olympias.
Radin	171	226	165
Menzenbach	164	162	171
Mack	169	179	190
Mahoney	179	201	142

Smith	173	264	185
Vanderbilt	188	184	172
	858	847	907

INDIANS FORFEIT TO MOOSE IN THE FRATERNAL LEAGUE.

The series between the Moose and Red Men, scheduled for last night on the Olympia alleys, was forfeited by the Indians. This makes the standing as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Elks	5	1
Moose	6	3
K. of C.	3	3
Red Men	1	8

Woman Sues Milwaukee Club.

Milwaukee, Feb. 17.—Miss Edna Zimmerman, of this city, stepped on a rusty nail in the Milwaukee baseball stands last summer, and as a result was permanently crippled. She has started suit for $5,000. The club will fight the suit, claiming that she was trespassing, as the accident occurred when she ran into the grandstand from the bleachers to escape a rain storm.

Southpaw Bowlers Win.

The South Paw five took three straight from the Rushmores on the Olympia alleys last night, as follows: 676-634, 769-677 and 713-610. Ryno was high man for the Rushmores while Kuehn carried off the honors for the victors.

Mumps Disbands Team.

Bernardsville, Feb. 17.—The Bernards High School basketball team has disbanded on account of the prevalence of mumps among its members. Bernards finished third in the Tri-County League.

WHAT THE SPORTS EDITOR HAS TO SAY

Philadelphia's nose is bleeding yet from that wallop landed by three-fingered Brown.

Hans Wagner is even with "Pop" Anson's record of .300 or better for fifteen consecutive seasons.

A couple of benches will be installed in left field at the White Sox park in Chicago. They will be for the exclusive use of battery men between their warming-up sessions.

Rube Waddell's contract with the Minneapolis club calls for a $10 per week bonus as long as the Rube fights shy of funny cow's milk. At the end of the season the money is to be handed him in a lump. Manager Cantillion breaks into a cold sweat every time he thinks of what is going to happen when the bale of kale is handed over.

All American League teams will be given a fight all the way this season according to Manager Bobby Wallace, of the St. Louis club.

The decisive victory of the Plainfield Elks over Rutherford bodes nothing but good for the result of their showing in the Paterson International tournament next month.

The tickets for the pig roast to be given Tuesday night the the Berkley Hotel in Bound Brook for the B. P. O. E. pin knights are fast being snapped up.

Fred Merkle, first baseman of the Giants, is a "big gun" in Toledo, and is now wearing a diamond scarf pin as a token of the esteem in which he is held by his admirers of that city. He was the guest of honor at a dinner on Wednesday evening, at which the pin was presented.

It has been written that Warhop, the old Tri-Stater, keeps Ty Cobb closer to the sacks than any other pitcher in the American League.

It was announced yesterday that Willie Keeler will go South with the Superbas as coach and general adviser. If Willie can only teach the budding Brooklynites to hit with the same efficiency that he displayed when he was in his prime the National League pennant may cross the bridge.

Now that the magnates have finished arguing over various matters, they will turn their attention to the actual business of the year. Within two weeks all the teams will be hard at work in their training camps and the fans will be reading despatches from the front and making up their minds at long distance as to the merits of the new men.

Crew work started off with a rush at the University of Pennsylvania. 145 men turned in their names as candidates for the red and blue team. Of this number, 61 reported as varsity candidates, while the remaining 84 signed up for the freshman eight.

What is believed to be a world's bowling record for ten games was made at Detroit in a match between Louis Waldecker, of Detroit, and Nelson Cappe, of New York. Cappe's average for the ten games was 235.8 Waldecker's 220.

After a prolonged investigation Dr. William G. Anderson, director of Yale gymnasium, says he is convinced that athletes live longer than persons who take no part in sports. He finds that heart disease is not the usual cause of athletes' death, contrary to the general opinion. The majority of them are victims of lung trouble, he says, but he does not attribute this to the violent exercise they engage in.

TWO WORLD'S RECORDS BROKEN BY SWIMMERS.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Two world's records were changed in the open swimming meet held under the auspices of the Illinois Athletic Club. The new marks were established in the fifty-yard swim and the 150-yard back stroke, by Kenneth Huszagh, of the Chicago Athletic Association, and Harry Bebner, of the Illinois Athletic Club.

Huszagh bettered by 3-5 of a second the old mark of 24 2-5, held by Charles M. Daniels, of the New York Athletic Club. Hebner improved on his own record by going the 150 yards in 1.52. His old mark for this distance was 1.56 2-5.

CLIFF RANDOLPH SIGNED BY BINGHAMPTON AGAIN

Cliff Randolph has signed and mailed the contract sent him by the Binghampton club of the New York State League and has been ordered to report for spring training April 10. Late last season he was released by this team, but the fact that he is wanted again seems to be an indication that it was not on account of his not making good.

The Binghampton nine played through hard luck all season and as a result finished near the bottom in the standing and treasury. New management secured during the winter has injected some new blood and the season will be started with bright prospects. Cliff says he still has all the curves and speed of the old days with the Clinton avenue nine.

EDWARD ASHENBACH, WHO DISCOVERED MATTY, DEAD.

Edward Ashenbach, former manager of the Syracuse Club, of the New York State League, and said to be the discoverer of Mathewson, of the Giants, died yesterday at a hospital in Cincinnati, where he had been a patient for three weeks. He was a personal friend of Lou Wiltse, of this city, who was on the Syracuse pitching staff for a number of years, while the club was under Ashenbach's management.

When John T. Brush was president of the Cincinnati club, Ashenback was scout for the team and is reputed to have unearthed the great Matty.

N. P. H. S. GIRLS VICTORS OVER PERTH AMBOY FIVE

The N. P. H. S. girls' basketbal team defeated the Perth Amboy girls at that place yesterday afternoon by a 13 to 8 score. Both halves were without llines and all the young women put up a classy exhibition without the restraint.

The line ups: N. P. H. S.—Helen Hummel and Mildred McAuliffe, forwards; Bessie Carson, centre; Clara Smith and Elsie Debele, guards. P. A. H. S.—Pearl Conquest and Clara Hansen, forwards; Ida Denkelacker centre; Jane Earnst and Blanche Doris, guards.

N. P. H. S. FIVE HAND THIRD TRIMMING TO P.H.S.

The N. P. H. . basketball team defeated the P. H. S. five for the third time this season yesterday afternoon in Debele's auditorium. The score was 32 to 28 and tells a tale of a hotly contested exhibition. It was fast and rough in both periods and there was an abundance of fouls. The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 13 in favor of the victors.

RESULTS OF ELK LEAGUE MATCHES LAST NIGHT.

The Newark Elks on their own alleys took three games from Queensboro last night as follows: 969-728, 876-724 and 937-694.

Paterson Elks humbled the champion New Brunswick five at that place by these scores: 938-934, 959-915 and 929-901.

Post Forfeits Today.

Forfeits for the heavyweight championship match between Jack Johnson and Jim Flynn, it is said, will be posted in Chicago this afternoon. Twenty thousand dollars, according to reports will be placed in the hands of Alderman Al Tierney.

MRS. HUGH F. FOX GIVES A CHARMING RECEPTION

Mrs. Hugh F. Fox, of Central avenue, gave a reception at her home, yesterday afternoon, the affair being attended by nearly 150 society people. The home was made unusually attractive with floral decorations, pink being the prevailing color. Mrs Fox was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Miss Fox, and her cousin Mrs. Alfred Pinkerton, of Bayonne Mrs. William H. Murray and Mrs. Eugene H. Hatch.

Miss Katherine Forrest, of New York, poured in the dining-room, and she was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Poucher, of this city; Miss Jean Hayes, of State of Washington, and Miss Gertrude Dawson, of Bayonne The affair, which was held from 4 to 6:30, was marked by a delightful sociability among the guests and the lavish entertainment of the hostess.

L. A. RHEAUME, PIONEER LUMBER MAN, SUCCUMBS

Louis A. Rheaume, aged seventy four years, a resident of Plainfield for forty years, being one of the pioneer lumber dealers in this city, died yesterday at the home of Elie Loizeaux, a relative, at New Rochelle N. Y., who formerly resided here When Mr. Loizeaux removed to New Rochelle last spring, Mr. Rheaume accompanied him. He had been in failing health and during the past three weeks was confined to his bed.

Mr. Rheaume was a native of France and soon after coming to this country he located in Plainfield where he engaged in the lumber business. His yard was where Brokaw's auto garage is now situated on East Fourth street. Later he engaged in the coal business, his yards being located at South Second street and Muhlenberg place. He remained there until November, 1910, when, because of failing health, he sold out to Walter Temple, the present proprietor.

Mr. Rheaume was a member of the Plymouth Brethren, and the funeral will be held at the Brethren's meeting room, East Front street and Bank place, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

BLAZE BREAKS UP DANCE OF WESTFIELD FIREMEN.

Westfield, Feb. 17. (Special).—While the firemen's ball was in progress last night, in the hall over fire headquarters, the place was hastily cleared by the ringing of the town fire bell for a blaze in Robert Hohenstein's feed store. Although the firemen were soon on the job the flames gave them a stiff battle and did $3,000 damage before extinguished.

Mr. Hohenstein, owner of the damaged place, is a member of the Westfield Common Council and is chairman of the fire committee. He was present at the dance and assisted the firemen in fighting the flames. Fortunately his stock of hay and feed was somewhat low on account of a number of large orders having been filled during the day. Otherwise the loss would have been much greater. The fire effectually put an end to the ball.

Evangelist John M. Carnie will give a gospel address at the meeting-room, 110 Liberty street, near Front street, tomorrow night at 7:15 o'clock.

LEAPS OFF BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

Law Uses Parachute, However, and Is Picked Up by Tug.

New York, Feb. 17. Fred Law, a steeplejack, equipped with a parachute, made a safe leap from the south roadway of the Brooklyn bridge.

Law rode out on the bridge on a trolley car from the Manhattan side, with a bulky bundle under his arm. Reaching the middle of the span he jumped from the car, climbed over the railing and let himself drop toward the river.

A tug picked him up and steamed away with him. He recently jumped from the Statue of Liberty for motion pictures.

ROB DIAMOND DEALER OF $10,000 IN GEMS

Auto Robbers Make Another Rich Haul.

New York, Feb. 17.—A John street diamond dealer was blackjacked and robbed of $10,000 worth of unset diamonds in Thirty-fifth street just east of Sixth avenue by men who jumped out of an automobile and after the robbery escaped. This is the third highway robbery in New York streets within a week in which an automobile has been used by the highwaymen.

George T. Horth, the victim of the latest of these outrages, was unable to give the police much information to work on.

Horth cannot even say how many men took part in the robbery, except that there must have been at least two. He is sure that the machine in which they drove off was black in color.

RYAN DENIES HIS GUILT.

Head of Ironworkers Discusses His Union Correspondence.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 17.—President Ryan of the ironworkers, speaking of letters forming a part of the federal indictment against him and others in the dynamiting plot, declared that the government has used only parts of letters, and if all of the correspondence of which they are a part were known it would be seen that there is nothing relating to dynamiting in them. He said he could, and would at the proper time, explain satisfactorily all letters he has written concerning the work of the bridgemen and that he can show that they had no reference to dynamiting operations. Ryan refused to discuss specifically any of the letters or any statement in any of them, saying that he would not talk except under advice of his counsel.

BRYAN IS FOR WILSON.

Not Great Commoner, but Senator From Florida.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Senator Bryan of Florida, whom Speaker Clark's boomers have been claiming, has boarded the Woodrow Wilson band wagon.

"I favor the nomination of Governor Wilson," said Bryan. "I have been for him since I had the privilege of hearing his great speech delivered to the American Bar association at its annual meeting at Chattanooga in 1910 in advocacy of criminal prosecutions against individuals who in controlling trusts and combinations violate the provisions of the anti-trust law."

Oldest Elk In America.

Shenandoah, Ia., Feb. 17.—John H. Phipps, who celebrated his one hundredth birthday, was initiated into the local lodge of the Elks, making him the oldest Elk in the country.

Firemen Saved by Comrades.

New York, Feb. 17.—Four firemen were dragged, unconscious, by comrades from a fire which destroyed the office furniture fixture plant of E. Hamburger & Co., Brooklyn.

—It seems almost foolish to summon Mr. Bryan to Washington to tell what he thinks he knows when that is his constant occupation all over the country.—Providence Journal.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS.

Plainfield People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them.

Sick kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions are dark, contain a sediment.

Passages are frequent, scanty, painful.

Backache is constant day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells are frequent.

The weakened kidneys need quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Plainfield evidence proves their worth.

Mrs. P. Manchester, 120 Lafayette place, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I can again endorse Doan's Kidney Pills and willingly allow the further publication of my former testimonial for the benefit of other kidney sufferers. I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for a long time and I doctored without being helped to any extent. In July, 1905, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and deciding to try them, I got a supply. They greatly releived me and I have not had much need for a kidney medicine since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

HEAR BOTH SIDES OF TARIFF BILL

Sewing Machine Importer For Free List Provision.

TYPEWRITER MAN APPEARS

Senate Financial Committee In Hearing on Underwood Steel Bill Hears That Profits on Sewing Machines and Typewriters Do and Do Not Justify High Importing Duty.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Two New Yorkers—Charles Straus, representing typewriter manufacturers, and Robert Hearne, an importer of sewing machines—enlivened the hearing on the Underwood steel bill by the senate financial committee. The bill places sewing machines and typewriters on the free list. Mr. Hearne favors the bill, while Mr. Straus opposes it.

Mr. Hearne, who stated that he was a "rare bird" to appear before the committee in advocacy of lower duties, heartily approved of placing sewing machines on the free list. Mr. Straus, who is vice president of the Underwood Typewriter company, protested against removing the duties from these machines. Republican members of the committee went after Mr. Hearne vigorously, while Senator John Sharp Williams, a Democrat, questioned Mr. Straus sharply. The hearing was one of the most interesting held by the finance committee.

Mr. Hearne told the committee that sewing machines could be manufactured cheaper in the United States than in Germany, England and France, notwithstanding that labor in the foreign countries is 40 per cent cheaper than in America. He declared that family sewing machines which are retailed in America for $45 cost only $9 to manufacture.

Mr. Hearne was questioned closely as to the information upon which he based his claim that sewing machines can be manufactured cheaper in America than abroad. He said he based the statement upon his general knowledge of the business, extending over a period of thirty years and including several trips to Germany. He attributed the fact largely to the superiority of American workmanship, due to the fact that American labor is more experienced and better equipped to manufacture sewing machines. He declared, too, that the very fact that America exports annually $9,000,000 worth of sewing machines, meeting foreign competition in home markets, was conclusive proof of his statement.

Mr. Hearne made a passing allusion to typewriters, intimating that the free list was the place for them also. Mr. Straus protested vigorously against this reference when he addressed the committee.

Mr. Straus told the committee that he appeared as the representative of the Underwood, Remington, Monarch, Smith Premier, L. C. Smith, Yost, Standard, Sun and several other makes of typewriter. He declared that typewriters did not really belong in the steel schedule and asserted that practically all of the material used in their manufacture is dutiable. It would be unfair, he said, to place writing machines on the free list under the circumstances.

The witness told the committee that $35,000,000 is invested in the manufacture of typewriters in America and that about 29,000 high salaried men are employed in their manufacture, sale and distribution. He said that the average profit on high class machines varies from $10 to $12 per machine.

BEGS FOR ONE MORE LIFE.

Negro Convict In San Quentin Kills Fellow Convict.

San Francisco, Feb. 17.—While half a score of guards and many prisoners looked on but were not near enough to interfere, Ed Delehanty, a negro convict in San Quentin, killed William Kauffman, a fellow prisoner, and fatally wounded William Peterson, another convict. The weapon used was a file ground to a sharp edge. When finally overpowered the murderer was on his way to kill another prisoner, and he begged that he be permitted to "get just one more life."

The tragedy is the culmination of the most bitter prison feud in the history of San Quentin prison.

Lower California the Scene of Attacks by Mexican Bandits.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Disorders in Mexico have spread to Lower California, according to advices received at the state department. In an attack on several stores near Cananea by marauders three officers of the local guard were killed. The leaders of the bandits, who are believed to be former labor agitators, fled to the mountains.

Federal soldiers are reported to have left Magdalena for Cananea.

Senator Williams Frames Bill to Curb Big Combines.

Washington, Feb. 17.—John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, before the senate interstate commerce committee, outlined the terms of his bill which he said would remedy trust evils. He insisted that the federal government has the power to determine what corporations should engage in interstate commerce.

The Williams bill prescribes the conditions under which corporations may engage in interstate commerce.

AINSWORTH RETIRES TO END ARMY SCANDAL

Adjutant General Under Charges Robs Sensation Lovers.

Washington, Feb. 17. The hopes of Washington sensation lovers that the Wood-Ainsworth controversy would be aired in a court martial of the former adjutant general of the army, following his relief from office, were blasted by the announcement that General Ainsworth had applied for and received retirement from active service in the army.

As far as the army is concerned, this action ends the whole matter. General Ainsworth is now a retired officer and no longer under orders from the war department. He will not be tried by court martial, and no charges are pending against him. He will retire with the rank of major general, with pay of $6,000 a year.

T. R.'S NEPHEW TO RETIRE.

Young Robinson Won't Ask to Go to Chicago as a Delegate.

Utica, N. Y., Feb. 17.—It is stated here with apparent authority that there is a probability of Assemblyman Theodore Douglas Robinson of Herkimer county, nephew of former President Roosevelt, withdrawing his candidacy for delegate to the Republican national convention at the Oneida-Herkimer district.

Assemblyman Robinson announced his candidacy a few days ago, coupling it with a statement that he expected his uncle would again be a candidate for the presidential nomination, and he desired to go to the Chicago convention and vote for him. At the Little Falls conference between former State Committeeman Strobel, J. J. Gilbert, the old guard's candidate for delegate to Chicago, and D. H. Burrell, who is Assemblyman Robinson's political guardian angel, the advisability of his retirement was discussed at length. Mr. Burrell, it is understood, will urge Roosevelt's nephew to get out of the race, and his plea is expected to have great weight.

GEORGIA "RIPPER" AGAIN.

Another Victim of Supposed Maniac Is Found.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 17.—The sixteenth victim of the mysterious "Jack the Ripper," whose bloody murders have terrified the black population of this city for months, was found on the outskirts of the city. Alice Owen, a young mulatto, was the victim, and her body was discovered by a negro on his way to work. Her throat had been cut and her body mutilated by some one apparently skilled in the use of the knife. No clew to the ripper has been found, although the county and city officers are scouring this section of the country for the murderer.

PASSED 12,000 MARK

is considered that the balloting has been in progress less than a week, and that the unfair method of giving bonus votes will not be tolerated in the Press contest, it can readily be seen that unusual interest has been manifested.

One of the most happy and pleasant events in their lives is in store for the winners of the tours contest. This statement is made not only by the management of the Tour Department, but also by those who have taken these trips and know from their own experience. Indeed, it has been expressed by a number of the people of the town who are much surprised that more do not try for one of these trips, even though they think that there are a good many candidates and that their chance is not so good as that of some of the others. Success comes to those who work. Yet this is work which is pleasant and will repay one a thousand fold.

The enthusiastic contestants are getting busy now in dead earnest. The goal of success is nearer that candidate who thought yesterday her sister contestant had the advantage, or perhaps was indifferent to the proposition, when today some good Samaritan came along with a new subscription for a year or two, gave her renewed hope and started her off refreshed, once more on the road to success.

Surprises may be sprung any day. A girl who has but a few votes may, with a little effort, secure enough subscriptions to place her at the top of the list. And it is always the leaders who attract attention. Better to be leader for a day than never to have led at all.

This is the psychological moment in which to begin to work—before the lead of the others becomes too great to overcome. As yet no one is out of reach. Start the week with a determined effort to be in at the finish, and it is safe to assume that you will be.

Good News for Contestants.

Because of the withdrawal of a boat from the sailing schedule, Thomas Cook and Sons have notified the Daily Press that its tourists will next summer have even better accommodations on their trip abroad than was originally planned. The change will necessitate the party leaving Philadelphia one week earlier than originally announced, and they will sail from that city on June 22, on the American line steam Marion, a bigger and better boat than the Dominion, which was originally announced would carry the party. The accommodations on this boat are more expensive than on the Dominion, and therefore the Press is pleased to announce the change. This sailing will bring the party home one week earlier than originally planned, reaching Philadelphia in August. Splendid outside rooms have been engaged for the travelers, who will all be placed together on the ship. The accommodations are first class throughout.

GOOD MONEY

It is a well-known fact that we do save our customers good money all the time. Take a fair comparison on staple goods and our prices are always the lowest, but at this time we can do more--it's a saving of from $5, $10 and $15 on good bed outfits or an even amount on furniture of all kinds. This is the real bargain time here. Careful buyers are taking advantage of this sale.

WHY NOT YOU?

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Kidneys.

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.

Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say good bye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of the urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K1239 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.

FREAR ACCUSES KALANIANAOLE

Says Delegate Tried to Organize Anti-white Party In Hawaii.

Honolulu, Feb. 17.—J. Kuhio Kalanianaole, delegate to congress, says that he has received assurance from the administration that the charges of incompetency and favoritism preferred against Governor Walter W. Frear will be investigated fully before any appointment to the governorship is made. Frear's term is about to expire.

In reply to a cabled invitation from Secretary Fisher of the interior department asking Frear to reply to the charges against him, Frear declares that the trouble is the outcome of factional differences among the Republicans of the territory and accuses Kalanianaole of having tried to organize an anti-white party.

Rhode Island Jury Brings In Verdict of Manslaughter.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 17.—Herman K. Wagner, who was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in Judge Baker's court, is the first and only man ever brought to trial before a jury in Rhode Island under an indictment charging manslaughter as the result of killing through reckless driving of an automobile.

Wagner was driving a high power car belonging to Bartholomew Shea of Philadelphia when, shortly after midnight on the night of Sept. 7, 1911, he struck and killed Gilbert Mallette, a city street sweeper.

BILL TO PROPOSE NEW BATTLESHIPS

Committee Ignores Decree of Democratic Caucus.

FIGHT IS BOUND TO COME.

Seven Republicans and Four Democrats In Favor of the Alternative Plan, Which Calls For Two Battleships and Two Auxiliaries In the Form of Colliers.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The naval bill, soon to be reported to the house of representatives, will contain a provision authorizing the construction of possibly two new battleships, notwithstanding the resolution passed by the Democratic caucus recently.

The house committee on naval affairs, which is controlled by the Democrats, practically has decided to ignore the decree of the caucus that no addition to the fleet shall be made at this time. There is bound to be a big fight over the battleship provision of the naval bill, as up to this time no committee of the house has attempted to evade or violate the terms of a resolution passed by the Democratic party caucus. Whether the Democratic rank and file of the house will uphold the action of the naval affairs committee on this important question is uncertain now.

Democratic members of the naval committee urge in extenuation of their advocacy of an authorization for one or more battleships that the caucus did not give careful consideration to the question.

A canvass of the house committee shows that of the twenty-one members seven Republicans and at least four Democrats favor one battleship and will insist that such authorization be incorporated in the naval supply bill. The Democrats favorable to the project are Padgett of Tennessee, chairman; Talbot of Maryland, Hobson of Alabama and Estopinol of Louisiana. The seven Republicans who wil vote for two battleships and then for one if they fail to get two are Foss of Illinois, Kopp of Wisconsin, Butler and Bates of Pennsylvania, Roberts of Massachusetts, Loud of Michigan and Browning of New Jersey.

The action of the Democratic caucus in rejecting adversely the proposal to enlarge the battleship fleet has raised a storm of protest. Secretary of the Navy Meyer has denounced the plan as reactionary, while the Navy league has started a backfire that has given a good deal of trouble. Some of the conservative Democrats of the house are arguing that it might be desirable to convene another caucus for the purpose of reversing the action previously taken.

Present indications are that the naval bill will carry substantial sums for additions to the fleet. Two plans are under consideration. The first provides for one battleship, two colliers, one ammunition ship, one repair ship, four submarines and four torpedo boat destroyers. The alternative plan calls for two battleships and two auxiliaries in the form of colliers. Owing to the desire to curtail naval expenditures as far as possible the first plan will undoubtedly be adopted.

GETS MANY "TAKERS."

Offer to Wager on Roosevelt and Clark Doesn't Go Begging.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Ernest Poindexter, a lawyer of this city and a brother of Senator Poindexter of Washington, who is known as an extreme radical, offered to bet $2,000 even that Theodore Roosevelt would be the Republican presidential nominee and another $2,000 even that Champ Clark would be the Democratic selection. He is sorry now that he made the offer, for it is said that he has had more than $50,000 of good hard cash offered to him on the other end of the bet. It is not all Republican money, either, for it is understood that several local residents with no particular politics, but with a keen eye to the main chance, have offered to take up Mr. Poindexter to any amount he may name.

KNOX IN NO DANGER.

American Secretary's Visit Not a Risk, Says Valesquez.

Panama, Feb. 17.—Manuel E. Valesquez, minister of Nicaragua, who also acts as consul-general for Honduras, says there is no foundation for the report that Secretary Knox will run any risk during his visit to Central America.

He declares that in both Nicaragua and Honduras there is a friendly feeling toward the United States, and its distinguished representative will be received with pleasure by all social and political circles.

an who gets a pension of $12 a month, and who added his mite when he heard that the team had $390, in the desire to make the sum an even one. One contribution of $100 which came to Company E came unsolicited from out of town, the subscriber having become interested entirely through the publicity given to the campaign by the newspapers. Company J reported a $20 gift from the proprietor of a peanut stand, and Company K reported $500 from the borough government of Westfield.

After the teams had reported Mrs. J. Henry Irons, head of the women's part of the campaign, was called to the platform, and a speech was called for. She announced the amount the women had collected up to noon and said "Aren't you proud of us?"

It was stated in these columns last night that Henry P. Talmadge had given $1,000 to the cause. As a matter of fact his contribution was $2,500.

The relative standing of the men's teams, in total amounts received up to last night is as follows:

Denies Engagement.

An announcement of the engagement of Miss Ethel Keiderling, of Church street, and Frank Messler, of Madison avenue, was sent to this paper several days ago and published in good faith. Today the following letter was received from Mr. Messler with the request that it be published: "Kindly deny the annoucement of my engagement to Miss Ethel Keiderling, which you had in your paper February 14, as it is not so and I would like to have it corrected."

Basque Must Be Hard to Learn.

It is asserted by the Basques that their language, which bears a strong resemblance to certain North American dialects, is the oldest one in the world, and was spoken by Adam and Eve in the garden of Eden. They also boast that it is the most difficult of all languages to learn. According to a native legend, the devil lived among the Basques for seven years, and during that time learned only two words of their tongue, "bai" and "ez," "yes" and "no," and these he forgot within an hour of leaving the country.

John Galbraith Buried.

The funeral services for John Galbraith were held this morning at his late residence on West Fourth street and at St. Mary's church, where a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Daniel F. Horan. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery. Both services were largely attended. The bearers were Patrick Breen, Patrick Melden, Patrick Lawler, Frank Burke, John J. Gallagher and Patrick Corrigan.

Daily Press Advertising PAYS

Progressive merchants know this is true. It is proven instantly at a glance through the columns of the paper every day. See the announcements of the many up-to-date business houses of Plainfield and other cities.

We believe in advertising—"blowing our own horn" if necessary. That's why these talks are appearing from time to time. That's why the advertising in the Daily Press has already reached a point where it becomes necessary to print ten pages every night in the week, when a month ago it was seldom necessary to print more than eight.

THE BUSINESS MAN WHO "KNOWS HOW" TO ADVERTISE NEVER FAILS

He also must recognize the best medium for his annoucements, and it has only taken six weeks to arouse the advertisers to the fact that Plainfield has a REAL newspaper at last. The Daily Press occupies a unique position in the local field. It goes direct into the homes of the people who have the money to buy. Talk to the women of the family every evening through the NEWSPAPER THAT SHE READS.

Marshall Field said: "I would rather advertise in one newspaper delivered to a home than in a dozen sold in the streets." THE DAILY PRESS GOES INTO OVER TWO THOUSAND HOMES IN PLAINFIELD AND NORTH PLAINFIELD EVERY NIGHT, which means over ten thousand readers, at the least, figuring five to a family. These people read the Daily Press. They do not glance at the headlines and throw it aside, for they know that every item of local news contained therein is prepared by a staff of newsgathers who are sure of their facts before publishing them, and are not constantly printing things which have to be corrected later. It is the same way with the advertisements. The Daily Press has always refused fake patent medicine and similar advs. and will continue to do so. The announcements made in this paper are known to be genuine, made by reputable dealers.

Think it over and make up your mind to use the newspaper that has the confidence of the people.

TELLS WOMEN TO GET READY TO VOTE

Miss Sarah Parse Quite Sure Enfranchisement is Coming Soon.

SO PREPARATION IS TIMELY

Because One Doesn't Want to Get a Vote and Not Know What to Do With It—Mrs. Feickert On Progress in Jersey.

The instance of women being thoroughly prepared for suffrage when it is granted to them was emphasized by Miss Sarah Parse, of New York, in her address before the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield last night. There was no question in her mind, she said, but that women would soon be given the right to vote, and to her the all-important fact was that they be ready to exercise the privilege so that they will not be guilty of making a lot of foolish mistakes.

Miss Parse said that there was no doubt that woman's suffrage is needed, that women would be able to do their work much better when they get it. She believed, she said that people of today are "living in a most glorious time," and that a person does not have to reside in any particular place to enjoy all these privileges.

"What are we doing to do with woman's suffrage when we get it?" said Miss Parse. "We must not expect that it is going to cure all evil. We will need other things besides suffrage, but it will be a most important element in obtaining what we want. The trouble is most women do not realize the importance of their work.

"Of course there will be foolish and lazy women, just as there are men who will take no interest in affairs when they are given the right of vote, but the majority of women will become interested in affairs and they will care about them. They will want to secure the right kind of legislation and for that reason it is very necessary that women shall devote their time now to thorough preparation for that time. I am convinced that everyone present will live to see suffrage extended to women. Rapid progress is being made in that direction.

Miss Parse took the place of Miss Schneiderwind, of New York, as the speaker, the latter being called to Baltimore. The former is a member of the Bookkeepers and Stenographers' League of New York, and for several years has made a study of woman's rights. Prior to her arrival, the audience was addressed by Mrs. E. F. Feickert, who spoke of the progress made in woman's suffrage in this State, telling of Miss Mary Philbrook's work, and Mrs. Russell Dorr, read extracts from the writings of her cousin, Rheta Childe Dorr, assistant editor of Hampton's Magazine. A social hour followed the meeting, during which refreshments were served. Another evening meeting will be held by the league on Friday night, March 1, with a prominent speaker.

BACK FROM ITALY FULL OF TURKISH WAR NEWS

Ralph Di Arminto, for many years one of the best known tonsors in the city, is visiting friends in town today following his arrival in New York yesterday after a six months' stay at his old home in Italy. He brought with him interesting accounts of the military manouvres now in progress in the land of olives and sunshine in connection with the war against Turkey and has been been eagerly sought out by Plainfielders who have relatives in the field for fresh news of the latest engagements. The traveler made his return on the White Star line "Adriatic."

In speaking of the war, Mr. Di Arminto stated it was surprising how apathetic the Italian people are toward it. To the visitor, nothing out of the ordinary is apparent and only casualty is mention made of the held work in every day conversation. The war, however, is much more of a serious affair than Americans imagine, he says, and the country has been heavily drawn upon to supply the recruits, who are young men with the exception of one son in every family, who are pressed into service for the present Tripolitan campaign, which bids fair to bring about some heavy engagements. The former Plainfielder was seized upon by the authorities as a promising soldier soon after his arrival in Rome but was released on proving himself an American and an only child. He later contracted an illness which disabled him for many weeks even yet feeling the effects.

Mr. Di Armiento, or "Raffie" as he is known to all his local friends, was employed by William Feiring for several years and later formed a partnership with Frank Caruso on West Front street. He will return to Brooklyn tomorrow, where he has purchased a first class shop in the Bushwick section.

HOSPITAL FUND GROWS STEADILY; TOTAL $107,478

Women Report $1,975 Raised Since Saturday at Daily Luncheon--Workers Have 2,874 Pledges.

The workers in the twelve day campaign for Muhlenberg Hospital were much encouraged when they heard the reports on Saturday night that the total amount of money subscribed up to that time was $105,493.32, and all felt more assured of reaching the $125,000 mark by Wednesday night, when the campaign closes. In addition to the amount reported Saturday afternoon by the women, the men at their daily dinner in the evening swelled the grand total with subscriptions for the day amounting to $3,804.50.

The number of pledges previously reported was 1,411. Saturday night the Citizens' Committee reported 83 additional ones and the Young Business Men's Committee reported 122, which together with those presented by the women's committee, 258, made the total of subscribers 2,874.

Charles W. McCutchen, vice-chairman of the executive committee presided Saturday night and Rev. Royal A. Stout, of the Netherwood Reformed church, invoked the divine blessing. Rev. C. H. Mallery, of the Church of the Heavenly Rest was also present. Mr. McCutchen made a few pleasant remarks about the progress of the campaign, expressing the opinion that the women should have been given first choice in the distribution of names from whom subscriptions were expected. This struck a popular note as was evidenced by the applause.

Henry A. McGee, as chairman of the Citizens' Committee, also made a few remarks, expressing his pleasure in being put at the head of the committee. He said that he considered it a high honor. He also thanked all the workers. George P. Mellick, chairman of the executive com-

BOROUGH AUTHORITIES ATTACK CIGARETTE EVIL

School Superintendent Krebs, Mayor Clark and Chief Weiss Go After Four Dealers Who Have Been Selling to Minors.

Supervising Principal H. C. Krebs, of the North Plainfield schools, with the co-operation of Mayor Clark and Chief Marshal Weiss, started an active crusade in the borough today against the sale of cigarettes and tobacco to school children.

For some time Superintendent Krebs has been receiving reports from differene teachers that certain of the pupils in their rooms smelled strongly of tobacco, and this morning a number of the boys were summoned to the Somerset street school office, where they were given a long talking-to by Mayor Clark and Mr. Krebs.

A number of them held out for some time before admitting that they had used tobacco, and after confessing they needed considerable urging before telling where they were able to buy it. The names of four different dealers on Somerset street were finally given by the boys.

Mayor Clark and Chief Weiss personally visited the dealers and read the law, warning them that further violation would mean prosecution. The act of 1908, under which the borough authorities are prepared to act, reads as follows:

"Hereafter no person shall furnish cigarettes or cigarette paper, or tobacco in the form commonly known as cigarettes, by sale, gift, acting as agent or otherwise, to any minor under the age of eighteen years, and any person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50), of imprisonment in the jail of the county where the said violation was committed for a term not exceeding three months, or both, at the discretion of the court before which such offender or offenders shall be convicted."

CONTEST HAS NO HANDICAPS

All Have Equal Chance to Win Daily Press Free European Trips.

NOW THE TIME TO ENTER

The Last to Enter May Be Among the Winners—Some Suggestions for the Contestants and for Those Who May Become so.

Who does not wish for a perfectly arranged tour of Europe, embracing all the principal points of interest in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Germany, in company with a happy, congenial party of your own townspeople? So much has already been said of the trip and its enjoyable features that constant reiteration is unnecessary, but it is an assured fact that the winners in the Daily Press contest will be awarded a prize which is worth to them many, many times the effort required to win. There is no such thing as a handicap in this race; all have an equal chance. And the Press pays every cent of necessary expense while the party is en tour.

Candidates who lead one day need to fortify their positions lest the noiseless approach of opponents away down the line brings them past and captures their exalted positions. It is often the case that the last to enter proceeds on a triumphal march and by either steady gains or rapid strides advances to the front. The opportunity still exists as the contest is yet young. Better enter now and begin work at once.

Now is the Time.

Do not wait until after the con-

BLACK FEVER CASE; WESTFIELD SCHOOLHOUSE FUMIGATED

Westfield, Feb. 19, (Special).—Local health officers and medical men are discussing the case of John, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Knapp, of Downer street, who died Saturday afternoon. The lad's death is ascribed to black scarlet fever. It was the first case of the disease in the history of the town according to health officials.

Knapp was taken suddenly ill while at study in the Lincoln School Thursday and it was with difficulty he reached home. The school was fumigated yesterday by Health Officer Carney.

The boy's parents did not summon a physician until Saturday. Dr. J. B. Harrison informed the parents the case was beyond medical aid and the boy succumbed one hour later. The funeral was conducted yesterday.

HIS TOUR OF WORLD CHECKED BY BROKEN ANKLE

Theodore Metzena, aged 16 years while running away from his home a Evergreen, L. I., on Saturday, fell off a freight train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad at South Plainfield, and fractured his ankle. The lad was removed to the railroad station and Dr. F. J. Hughes, of Somerset street was summoned. The physician had the boy admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital, where the broken bone was set. His condition is favorable for an early recovery.

Metzena informed those in charge at the hospital that he left home Saturday morning for the purpose of seeing the world. His parents have been notified and will come to Plainfield today to see their injured son.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church realized $310 from the turkey supper and donated $200 to the church.

FOR TRUNK LINE SEWER SYSTEM

Edward F. Feickert Says Scheme is a Matter of Financial Expediency.

COST IS NOT PROHIBITIVE

The Greenbrook Plan, He Asserts, Would Only Solve Temporary Needs and Would Be the More Expensive in the End.

The proposition to locate a sewage disposal plant in the Greenbrook section of North Plainfield is not favored by many taxpayers, who hold that purely as a matter of financial expediency it would be preferable to go to tide-water. Among those who strongly favor the tide-water scheme is Edward F. Feickert, who has closely studied the problem since the agitation was begun some two years ago. When seen by a representative of the Daily Press today, Mr. Feickert consented to give his reasons for his opposition to the Greenbrook plan.

"There has been much discussion about the stand taken by Dunellen and North Plainfield township in opposing the location of sewage disposal beds on the Cramer farm," said Mr. Feickert, "but the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield seem to take merely a passing interest in the very serious problem of sewage disposal now confronting their respective Councils.

"The property owners of Plainfield and North Plainfield are surely more vitally interested in the proper solution of the question of sewerage disposal than the residents of the township, for it is not really so much a question of whether a desirable and picturesque country be spoiled as it is, shall the officials of the borough and city expend a large amount of the taxpayers' money in a solution of a temporary character.

"When the present Plainfield sewer beds were located some fourteen years ago, it was generally considered that the site chosen was a permanent one, whereas in this short time, and after Plainfield has spent some three hundred and fifty thousand dollars upon them, she now finds herself in a position where she is called upon to abandon this plant.

"Now the proposition which presents itself (to which North Plainfield is committed and which Plainfield is giving serious consideration) is that of spending some four hundred thousand dollars, 75 per cent. or $300,000 of which is to be borne by the city of Plainfield, to move this plant, and give both municipalities facilities at the Cramer farm only two miles further away.

"When this question was taken up in 1909, the officials in Plainfield took a broad view of the situation. They saw not only their own needs, but those of all the near-by communities as well, and the first plans that were considered were for a trunk line sewer to a point at tidewater three miles below New Brunswick. Surveys were made, and very careful and detailed report was submitted by Messrs. Hering & Fuller (the engineers now acting for the borough and city) which showed the cost of going to this site to be about one million dollars. They figured out very carefully what the cost

PICKS PITNEY FOR JUSTICE

New Jersey Chancellor's Nomination to be Sent by Taft to Senate Today.

(Special from Staff Correspondent)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—Mahlon Pitney, Chancellor of the State of New Jersey, will be appointed associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States to succeed to the vacancy caused by the death of the late Justice John Harlan. President Taft determined the latter part of last week that he would name Chancellor Pitney as a member of the Supreme Court and so assurred Senator Frank O. Briggs, of New Jersey, who had made a strong presentation of the New Jersey jurist's claims as to fitness and character. It is probable that the nomination of Chancellor Pitney will be submitted to the Senate in executive session late this afternoon.

Justice Pitney was born at Morristown fifty-four years ago and was graduated from Princeton University in 1879. He was admitted to the bar in 1882. In 1884 he was elected to Congress and re-elected two years later. In 1898 he went to the State Senate and became president of that body.

Governor Voorhees appointed him to the Supreme Court bench in 1901. Governor Fort selected him as Chancellor in 1908.

LANDSCAPE GARDENER DIES AFTER A WEEK'S ILLNESS

James Forristel, widely known in this city as a landscape gardener, died at his home, 927 Arlington avenue, yesterday, following an illness which began a week ago. Death was due to acute Bright's disease. Mr. Forristel was a native of Canada, and had resided in this city about thirteen years, during which time he was engaged in landscape gardening.

Mr. Forristel was a member of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus; Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, and Columbia Lodge, A. O. U. W. He was elected a member of Plainfield Lodge No. 885, P. B. O. E., a week ago and was to have been initiated at the meeting Wednesday night. The members of Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, will meet at Mr. Forristel's home at 8 o'clock tonight.

There survives two brothers, William H. Forristel, of this city; Edward Forristel and a sister, Mrs. Kearnney, of Eveleth, Minn.; two sons, Edward and Henry Forristel, and four daughters, Mrs. Theodore Martin Miss Amelia Forristel and Miss Ida Forristel, of this city, and Miss Lent Forristel, of Quebec. The funeral will be held at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and the burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Kordack—Boldvirski.

The wedding of Annie Boldvirski to Albert Kordack, both of South Plainfield, was solemnized at Sacred Heart church yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Miss Boldvirski was attended by Miss Mary Lick and Mr. Kordack by John Gotsup. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Kordack will make their residence in the village.

REV. MR. WARD AT ST. STEPHEN'S

New Rector Preaches His First Sermon as Head of Netherwood Parish.

ON SPIRITUAL DEVELOPMENT

Mankind Steadily Surging Upward, In Spite of Apparent Importance of Materialistic Forces—Appeal For Earnest Service In Local Field

Rev. Warner Esmond Lee Ward, the rector-elect of St. Stephen's church, has taken full charge of the parish, his call having been approved by Bishop Scarborugh. Mr. Ward occupied the pulpit at the church yesterday morning, and delivered a strong sermon on the growth and development of spirituality in man. At the close of his sermon there was a personal note. He urged his flock to join with him in earnest worship and service, that "St. Stephen's parish may prove to be a blessing, a comfort and a benediction."

Mr. Ward will remove to Plainfield tomorrow and arrange for the Lenten season. There will be a service at the church every Friday evening during Lent, and announcements of other services will be made later.

Mr. Ward's sermon yesterday was in part as follows:

"The soul has ever had its hunger for the good outside itself—for God. The form of worship was easily satisfied when Cain and Abel reared their primitive altar of the surface stones of the field and placed their offerings of their best upon it; but in the evolution of the centuries religion has grown more and more spiritualized and glorified until it attained its height of human expression when worship and works go hand in hand in the revealed religion of the Nazarane.

"Let American Christianity instead of trembling at any apparent depression, rather arise and take fresh courage to ride the shortly rising wave. Humanity has never yet striven with success to assay the mountain-top by materialistic advance alone. While matter is God's gift and God's creature, and brain and brawn can find rich pasturage in materialistic fields, the soul of man conscious of its birthright and eternal inheritance, absolutely refuses to be stifled by materialistic sophistries and loudly clamors for its true nourishment, and for its proper atmosphere of growth.

"A high civilization is a boon inestimable, amply repaying the strife and the struggles of the uncounted years that have flown since God looked upon the first man whose virginal feet timidly pressed this untried earth, and pronounced "good;" but a Christian civilzation is the acme of achievement. In this Christian civilization, St. Stephen's parish, and you—each one—and I, as individuals, haveour part and privilege. If men ask where is the need for the church in these days, I answer that the Christian church first of all rears her altars today as the untaught barbarian builed his, to testify to and uphold the norm and foundation of all religion viz: worship; and, secondly that Christianity is not primarily a philosophy, but a living force with a work of ministry and service to perform, a ministry and service to the whole common brotherhood of men in the name and by the Power of her Lord and Saviour Jesus

COMPANY K'S ANNUAL FAIR HAS AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING

The fair to be conducted all this week by Co. K opened under most auspicious circumstances Saturday night in the meeting room on West Front stret. There was every indication that the high standard established by like affairs of the past will be maintained or surpassed. Nothing has been left undone that would add to the pleasure of those who attend.

The chairmen of the different committes in charge are as follows:

General committee — Lieutenant Charles Peterson; floor committee—First Sergeant George L. Apgar; donations, Quartermaster Sergeant Arthur Dow; door committee, Sergeant Arthur Phillips; tickets—Sergeant Harry Manning; refreshments—Sergeant Leroy DeCamp; printing and advertising—Sergeant James L. Conkling; decorations—Corporal John Millwater.

POLITICS FORCES HIM OUT OF WESTFIELD JOB

Westfield, Feb. 19, (Special).—For political reasons, it is said, Borough Engineer Lewis T. Churchill, of Dunellen, who has been an assistant to Town Engineer Alexander Vars in the local street department for several years, has been obliged to cease work for the town.

Roy Collins, son of Recorder Collins, and secretary of the Westfield Democratic Club, is a seeker for Churchill's job and has the support of Mayor Dennis and other Democratic members of the Council. Collins is a civil engineer and he claims the job should be given to a local man in preference to an out of town resident.

Town Engineer Vars, on January 1, knowning the situation, did not submit Churchill's name for reappointment. He is in favor of the Dunellen man continuing in his department.

In connection with the Churchill-Collins incident, it was common report that Mayor Dennis was anxious to oust Vars, who is a Plainfielder, but the splendid work of the Plainfield man was recognized by a majority of the Council, and the ouster did not materialize.

TO RECRUIT MUSICIANS FOR SECOND REGIMENT.

Major William B. Martin has received authority from Colonel Horace Redding to recruit the field music of the Second Regiment. Twelve men, six buglers and six drummers, will be required, and applicants should make personal application to Major Martin.

The corp will be uniformed and a part of the regular militia organization, having the use of the new armory in Elizabeth and all of the advantages accruing to the other members of the regiment.

Recognition Service Plans.

Rev. Dr. T. J. Villiers, of Newark, and Rev. Dr. Judson, of New York, will not be able to take part in the recognition service for Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, at the First Baptist church, Tuesday night, March 5. Rev. Dr. William M. Lawrence, of Orange, will represent the State Baptist Association, while there will be representatives from the New York Baptist Association and several local ministers will take part.

MEMORIALIZE U. S. SENATE

Employes of Press Works in Plainfield and Vicinity Protest Tariff Cut.

SUPPORT THE MANUFACTURERS

David E. Titsworth, As Spokesman For the American Makers, Tells Senate Committee How Free Presses Will Menace U. S. Industry

Washington, D. C., Feb. 19.—(Special)—Senators Martine and Briggs today presented to the Senate an extensively signed memorial from the employees of the printing press industry of Plainfield and vicinity, protesting against the putting of printing presses and machine tools on the free list, as proposed by the House metal scnedule bill.

The memorial declares that "five thousand people in Plainfield, Dunellen and vicinity depend upon the printing press industry for their livelihood."

The action of the workers in protesting against free presses follows a protest of theld employers before the Senate Finance Committee. Last week as the spokesman for the fifteen chief press manufacturers of the country D. E. Titsworth, general manager of the Potter Press Works, of this city, presented the makers' side of the tariff question to the Senate Committee.

Mr. Titsworth spoke for these press manufacturers, who practically represent the printing press manufacturing industry in the United States. Potter Printing Press Co., Plainfield; Walter Scott & Co., Plainfield; Babcock Printing Press Manufacturing Co., New London, Conn.; C. B. Cottrell & Sons Co., Westerly, R. I.; Duplex Printing Press Co., Battle Creek, Mich.; Fuchs & Lang Manufacturing Co., Rutherford, N. J.; Goss Printing Press Co., Chicago, Ill.; Hall Printing Press Co., Dunellen; Harris Automatic Press Co., Niles, Ohio; R. Hoe & Co., New ork, N. .; Huber-Hodgman Printing Press Co., Taunton, Mass; Kidder Press Co., Dover, N. H.; Miehle Printing Press & Manufacturing Co., Chicago, Ill.; John Thompson Press Co., New ork, N. .; Whitlock Printing Press Manufacturing Co., Derby, Conn.

He said in part:

"Mr. Chairman and Senators:

I appear before you on behalf of the Printing Press Manufacturers of the United States, to respectfully and urgently protest against placing printing presses on the free list, as proposed in section 73 of House Bill No. 1,18642, as being a serious menace to an industry upon which product seventy-five to eighty per cent. is expended for labor, and twenty to twenty-five per cent material. The material used is practically all subject to duty, seventy per cent. of it being pig iron.

While the manufacturers in Germany have increased their exports by $3,000,000, the United States manufacturers, because of the high wages which they must pay to their employees, are absolutely unable to meet the foreign manufacturers in the open markets of the world. The effect of putting printing presses upon the free list will be to open the markets of the United States to the foreign manufacturers; and, inasmuch as the United States manufacturers have been unable thus far to mittee, took occasion to not only thank Mr. McGee, but all his workers for the great work performed.

It was announced that no luncheon or dinner will be served Wednesday, but the men and women workers will meet at the Y. M. C. A. in the evening and made final reports. From now on it is a "free-for-all" for the workers, they being privileged to go where they please.

Among the amounts reported Saturday night was one of $25 from the Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association, of Plainfield, and Judge William N. Runyon also made formal announcement of the contribution of $100 from Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E. Captain H. W. Marshall, of Team No. 1, reported the $25 contribution, through Judge Runyon.

Mrs. John Gray Foster has taken Mrs. Walter M. McGee's place as captain of Division W, of the Women's Campaign Committee for the closing days of the Muhlenberg Hospital campaign. Mrs. McGee fell on an icy sidewalk and although not seriously injured will be obliged to remain at home for several days.

compete with the foreign manufacturers in their open markets, they will be unable to meet the foreign manufacturers here in the United States.

"The wages per hour paid to mechanics in this industry in this country being two or three times that paid to corresponding skilled mechanics in foreign countries, as shown by the annexed schedule of labor comparison, clearly proves that without a reasonable measure of protection this important industry will suffer great and irremediable loss, and those employed in it will of necessity be compelled to approximate the foreign wage scale.

"The printing press industry is represented by manufacturers employing thousands of skilled workmen. They all operate independently, without any semblance of combination, trust or price agreement, and among them competition for the American market is of the keenest kind, which tends to keep down the prices to the American purchaser to a point where the profit is nothing more than a bare manufacturing one.

"If now, as proposed by the above-mentioned bill, this industry is to be attacked by the poorly paid labor of foreign countries, the inevitable result will be that the wages of the labor employed upon this important industry must of necessity be materially lowered.

"If the bars are thrown down to foreign competition, it would be of no benefit to the American people at large. The prices at which printing presses are sold has nothing to do with the ultimate cost to the consumer of the product of that press. Cheaper printing presses would not mean a cent's reduction in the price the public pays for printed matter.

"In considering this bill, gentlemen, it is a matter of interest and wonder to us why printing presses should have been placed upon the free list.

"What purpose could best be served thereby? Was it to obtain revenue? That cannot be, as it removes the possibility of what little revenue the imports now produce. Was it to penalize the industry because it sends to a foreign market a few thousand dollars worth of its product in exports, thus furnishing labor to its men and adding to the country's wealth whatever of profit the transactions may afford?

"Was it because of the fact that the products of our industry are inimical to the public good? This surely cannot be, because the industries to which it contributes are among the greatest forces for good in our nation.

"The only solution which appears in any way reasonable is that the honorable gentlemen who framed the bill inadvertently allowed this item to creep in without fully considering its true status, and we firmly believe that the consideration which this committee will give to the question will speedily result in its being stricken from the bill, and the scant measure of protection now afforded to the industry be allowed still further to stand in the interests of American labor."

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Rudolph, of Mountain avenue, are parents of a boy, born to them a few days ago.

would be to each of the diff[illegible] municipalities entering this sy[illegible] and showed that Plainfield's s[illegible] would be 62 per cent. ($620,[illegible] and North Plainfield's 18 per [illegible] ($180,000).

"Now would it not be better [illegible] the city of Plainfield to spend $6[illegible] 000 and locate their plant at a [illegible] that will be permanent for all [illegible] to come and detrimental to no [illegible] rather than to spend $300,00 fo[illegible] temporary makeshift, and for N[illegible] Plainfield to spend $180,00 as a [illegible] manent investment rather [illegible] $100,000 as a temporary one.

"A situation exists today w[illegible] may never again present itself. [illegible] wood, Scotch Plains, Plain[illegible] North Plainfield, Dunellen, Bo[illegible] Brook, East Bound Brook, Somer[illegible] ville and Raritan are all seeking to solve the vexed question of sewage disposal. In addition to this I learn on good authority that New Brunswick is also wrestling with the same problem. What could be a more reasonable solution than that they should all combine and establish one disposal plant, rather than build ten separate plants—ten separate nuisances—throughout this rapidly developing surburban section?

"Plainfield officials admit that the trunk line sewer to tidewater is the best solution, but they consider the cost prohibitive. Is $620,000 prohibitive? I submit as a business proposition, that an expenditure of this amount for a permanent plant is economical, as compared with an expenditure of $300,000 for a temporary one. The $300,000 proposition must be abandoned within the next ten or fifteen years, not necessarily because it will have been outgrown, but because the communities surrounding it will by that time have developed to such an extent that the State authorities will require its removal, as in the case of the present Rock avenue beds.

"As a tax-payer in Plainfield, I advocate the tidewater plan. I do not think that the cost is prohibitive, and from conversations which I have had with many property owners of both Plainfield and North Plainfield, I am convinced that the general sentiment is in favor of the larger and permanent plan."

WE ANNOUNCE THE FIRST SHOWING OF

Spring Dress Goods and Silks

A showing you can rely on as being authentic because it is announced by the leading and most complete Dress Goods Department in the City. We have, for this special occasion, made a careful study of fashion's trend and find that favored weaves, this early in the season, are whipcords, serges and broadcloths and taffetas are the favorite in the silks. Colors show a tendency to soften somewhat, and cream, navy and all brown shades will predominate in favor. We mention here many of the fabrics we are showing:

36-inch Cream Hair Line Suitings at, yard 59c
45-inch All Wool Cream Serge Suitings at, yard 79c
50-inch All Wool Cream Serge Suitings at, yard ....$1.00 and $1.25
36-inch All Wool Batiste Suitings at, yard 50c
36-inch All Wool French Weave Serge 59c
27-inch Changeable Stripe Taffetas 79c
Bordered Messalines, in full dress patterns $8.50

Blue Serges, Panamas, Broadcloths, Cheviots, etc., etc.

Beautiful All-over Laces and Matched Bands

We are showing a splendid assortment of the new ideas and designs in Laces for the coming season in both white and cream and ecru; all the favored styles are here, including the much worn Venise Laces, and in many instances we have the bands in one and two widths to match. We have chosen what we thought were the prettiest designs. In the matter of price we have marked the Allovers from 50c up to $1.50, and the Bands from 10c to $1.39

Advance Showing of the Early Models in Spring Suits

The early arrivals in fashion's offering for the ensuing season. Stunning models, made of fine quality materials, which include whipcords, serges, etc., tailored on mannishly plain lines, which will be favored this season, some having white piping at collar, all having the deep lapels. In the favored shades and also the regular sizes. Prices range from $14.50 all the way up to $25.00

One of These New Spring Lingerie Dresses at 6.98

Would be just the thing for a party dress and we take it there's many of you who will be invited out before the winter's really over. They are all very handsome garments, beautifully made of only good grade materials and we have them in several styles and sizes for both misses and ladies.

Miss Rose Lubonn with George M. Cohan's Comedy, "Get Rich Quick Wallingford," at Plainfield Theatre Tonight.

The Letter Song from "The Chocolate Soldier," at Plainfield Theatre Tomorrow Night.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Charles H. Bowers, who will play the title role in "The Chocolate Soldier" at the Plainfield Theatre tomorrow night, is a young man of diversified talents and has run the musical gamut from comedy to grand opera. Mr. Whitney says he is one of the best interpreters of the difficult role of Bummerli in the Straus opera who has yet appeared.

George Tallman has achieved an enviable record in the part of Alexius in "The Chocolate Soldier" which, those who have seen it will remember is a tremendous role, requiring not only a tenor of extraordinary ability, but an actor as well. When Mr. Tallman is seen at the Plainfield theatre tomorrow night he will have sung the part more than eight hundred consecutive times and this without missing a single performance since the opening night, September 5, 1909.

A very strong attraction presents itself for the approval of theatre goers Thursday afternoon and night at the Plainfield theatre in Mildred and Rouclere and their merry company in the glittering imaginative fantasy "Princess Iris." It is one of the novelties of the season presented by a selected company of well known performers all new scenery, electrical and mechanical effects. One continual laugh from the time the curtain rises until it falls. Mildred and Rouclere are considered the cleverest illusionists before the public.

"The Goose Girl," dramatized from Harold MacGrath's well known novel by George D. Baker, will have its first presentation in this city at the Plainfield Theatre February 26.

Of the main comedy successes of the past fifteen years "The Chorus Lady" has stood out as one of the most prominent of all, not only in New York, Chicago, Boston, but even in London, England, where so many American successes have not been received with favor. In that city "The Chorus Lady" had a run of over six months, and one of the main reasons for the favor it was received with, was the famous dressing room scene in the second act. "The Chorus Lady" will appear at the Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night.

The fascination of observing a smooth financial operator with an elastic conscience manipulating rapid wealth-acquiring plans in a small town forms the pivot of the plot in Geo. M. Cohan's much discussed comedy "Get Rich Quick Wallingford," which is to be seen here for the first time at the Plainfield theatre tonight.

FORMER GOVERNOR FORT TO ADDRESS BANQUETTERS.

Former Governor John Franklin Fort, of East Orange; Rev. Dr. W. H. Morgan, of Newark, and S. S. Swackhamer, of this city, will be the speakers at the annual banquet of the Dutch Arms, men's association, of Trinity Reformed church, Thursday night.

The committee in charge of the affair comprise F. S. Cutter, chairman; Arthur L. Titsworth, A. B. Cole, Chauncey F. Colthar. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee.

EXPECTS RUTGERS TO BE CO-ED INSTITUTION SOON.

Newark, Feb. 19.—That within a few years Rutgers College will be forced into becoming a co-educational institution is the statement of Professor Jacob J. Lipman, of the Rutgers faculty.

The statement carries added weight in that it followed a speech by Rev. Dr. William H. S. Demarest, president of the college, who, with Professor Lipman, represented the college faculty at the fifth annual dinner of the Newark Rutgers Alumni.

Professor Lipman, who is head of the agricultural department, referred to the surprising growth of the "short course" agricultural student enrolment, which has jumped in five years from twenty-three to about 225.

"It is not at all unlikely," continued the professor, "that within the near future we will be forced into co-education. As a State institution I cannot see how we could very well refuse to let the young women in. The short courses, as you all know, are already co-educational."

SAVES TWO BOYS ON DRIFTING ICE

Rescuer In Boat Wins Half Mile Race With Death.

HEARS SHOUTS OF DISTRESS

Samuel and Robert Lenox Are Marooned on Rapidly Diminishing Cake of Ice In Delaware River—Charles D. McClary Makes Thrilling Rescue, Endangering Own Life.

Trenton, N. J. Feb. 19.—Samuel Lenox, twelve years old, and Robert Lenox, eleven, cousins, had a thrilling escape from death when they were marooned in the Delaware river on a large cake of ice, which gradually diminished in size as it was swirled down the stream at a rapid rate. The boys were playing on the frozen surface of the river when the ice started to break up, leaving them on a floe.

Before they realized their predicament it was too late for them to jump over the widening breach, and in their distress they cried for help. Their shouts were heard by Charles D. McClary, who was on the river bank. He called to the boys not to jump into the river and, getting a boat, went to their rescue. After a race of nearly half a mile in his boat, which threatened every minute to be crushed, McClary reached the boys and got them safely to shore.

SCHNEIDER GOES FREE.

Brooklyn Man, Wounded In Waldwick, Refused to Make Charge.

Waldwick, N. J., Feb. 19.—Frederick Schneider of this place has been released from the Hackensack jail under bond, Frank Deegan having refused to make a complaint against him. Deegan is still a prisoner. His home is in Brooklyn.

Schneider shot Deegan in the abdomen and through the wrist Jan. 14, the result of a quarrel. Deegan was rescued from under an Erie passenger train after being shot just in time to save him from being ground to pieces. He was removed to the General hospital, Paterson, where for two weeks he was at death's door, during which time he married a young woman of Brooklyn. Schneider is a married man.

BOY SAVES TWO LIVES.

Frank Hague Rescues Truants From Canal, Making Record Six.

Ridgefield, N. J., Feb. 19.—Frank Hague, seventeen years old, was the hero in an exciting rescue from drowning. He saved the lives of George Haight and Elmer Carter, each about twelve years old, who ventured on the rotten ice in the Morris canal, near Bloomfield. This puts six lives to Hague's credit.

Haight and Carter had played truant from Sunday school. Venturing where the ice was weak, Haight broke through, and Carter, who went to his aid, also fell into the hole. Both boys clung to the edge of the ice. Hague heard their cries and with the aid of a shinny stick was enabled to rescue them.

GROUCH, NEARLY VALUABLE.

Metuchen Man's Gem Spoiled by Having It Cooked Twice.

Metuchen, N. J., Feb. 19.—Former Alderman George H. Hahn of this town is saying nasty things about his poor luck. The other day George told his wife he wanted oysters for dinner, and he got them. They had the bivalves warmed up for supper too.

"Great Scott, there goes one of those new store teeth!" he exclaimed as he made for the coal scuttle, grappling for the tooth on the way. But it wasn't a tooth. It was a pearl nearly a half inch in diameter. A jeweler told him if it hadn't been cooked twice it would have been worth at least $500.

FIRE DESTROYS "SURPRISE."

Bloomfield Man Had Remodeled House During Wife's Absence.

Bloomfield, N. J., Feb. 19.—The home of Andrew Sandee at 46 State street was damaged by fire to the extent of $4,000.

Mechanics had just finished extensive alterations and repairs, which included a new tiled bathroom and halls and polished hardwood floors. Mrs. Sandee has been in Europe all winter, and Mr. Sandee wished to surprise his wife when she returns next week.

Hayward Addresses Grange Meet.

Talleyville, N. J., Feb. 19.—West Brandywine grange held a farmers' institute here last Friday night, when addresses on subjects of special interest to the farmers were made by Director Hayward of the state experimental farm and others.

Saw Mutilates Man's Hand.

Newark, Feb. 19.—William Crow, Jr., while working at the plant of the Continental Fiber company, had his hand badly mutilated when it got caught in a band saw.

Candy Poisons Boy.

Riverside, N. J., Feb. 19.—As the result of eating highly colored candy, Augustus Myers, son of Frank Myers, has been critically ill from ptomaine poisoning.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY FOR CHURCHES, APR. 28

Sermons on the prevention of consumption will be preached in thousands of churches on April 28, when the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, according to an announcement made today, has set aside a Tuberculosis Day. The Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield and North Plainfield will join in this movement, as usual.

Last year out of 200,000 churches in the United States, over 50,000 observed Tuberculosis Day, and millions of churchgoers were told about this disease from the pulpit. This year will be the third observation of Tuberculosis Day. Plans are being made to have the Gospel of Health preached more widely than ever before.

The movement will be pushed through the 600 anti-tuberculosis associations allied with the National Association and through the boards of health, women's clubs, and other organizations in hundreds of cities and towns throughout the country. Through these various bodies the churches will be reached and interested in the tuberculosis campaign.

According to reports gathered by the National Association in 1911, practically 10 per cent. of all deaths in church congregations are caused by tuberculosis. In a study of 312,000 communicants of 725 churches in which there were 7,000 deaths in 1910, the death rate among these church-members was found to be 2.24 for every thousand communicants. This is higher than the rate for the Registration Area of the United States which was 1.60 in 1910.

"While these statistics," says the National Association, "are not comparable from the point of view of accuracy with those of the Bureau of the Census, sufficient credence may be given to them to indicate that one of the most serious problems the ordinary church has to consider is that of the devastation of its membership by tuberculosis. Every minister in the United States should give this subject some attention during the week preceding or the following April 30."

—"Is it really a pleasure for you to have me call?" inquired the young man. "Why, yes," answered the girl in some confusion. "Why do you ask such a question?" "Oh, nothing; only you seem to take your pleasures sadly."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—Aunt Spinsterly—"I hope that your opinions uphold the dignity of our sex, Mamie, and that you believe that every woman should have a vote?" Mamie—"I don't go quite so far as that, auntie; but I believe that every woman should have a voter."—McCall's Magazine.

Plainfield, N. J., February 19, 1912.

Regardless of the letter and the intent of the new primary law, the Morris county Republican organization purposes to select its own candidates for nomination. The scheme, so it is said, is to avoid hard feeling among the supporters of rival candidates by polling the sentiment and centering upon the strongest man, who would receive the party organization endorsement. Briefly stated, the plan is for the party committees to meet in convention in their respective districts after making an investigation as to the relative strength of ostensible candidates and as to the prevailing sentiment relative to a platform. The county committee will then meet in July and the choice of the majority of the members both as to candidates and platform will become the choice of the party. This convention, which is entirely unofficial, will prepare and have signed the necessary petitions which will be filed with the county clerk as provided by law. Of course, as the action of the county committee would have no standing under the present law, the field will be open to any independent candidate who may desire to run at the primaries. The effect of the scheme would be a return to the old method of party boss dictation and would be a direct violation of the spirit of the new primary law. It will be interesting to see how the Republican voters of Morris will take to it.

By an agreement among the powers, the world's opium trade will be controlled by the civilized nations. The express understanding was arrived at by delegates representing the United States, China, France, Great Britain, Germany, Holland, Italy, Japan, Persia and Russian and Siam at a convention at The Hague and the civilized powers not represented are expected shortly to join in the agreement. The nations agree to limit the number of ports where prepared opium may be exported and also to directly control the manufacture. The traffic in raw opium will be limited to authorized persons. Probably the most satisfactory feature of the conference's work was that which assures an early abolition of the Indo-Chinese opium traffic and the prohibition of the importation of morphine.

March 22, the date set by the Legislature for adjournment, is but a short way off. Yet up to the present time only two bills have become laws although it must be considered that there has been no undue waste of time for the committees in both houses have been unusually busy. There are several hundred bills to be acted upon and this means an extraordinary amount of work yet to be done.

Burglars in New Brunswick have mean dispositions. Not only have they ransacked the home of the county prosecutor but they have attempted to loot the residence of the assistant prosecutor. Why, they even broke into the Highland Park councilmanic police chairman's house when that official's committee was discussing plans for a police force.

Is it not about time that the city authorities decided definitely what should be done regarding the sanitary sewerage problem and then to go ahead and do it? The water problem scheme has become notorious for procrastination. Don't let the same be said of the sewage question.

The police have made two important captures and due credit should be given them for the speedy and effective work. They have got the "hand-bag man" and the highwayman, who made it unsafe for the pedestrian after night-fall.

"Do the Dead Come Back?" Such was the topic of a Philadelphia preacher yesterday. For expert handling, the has-been politician would be the best authority.

Certainly Japan has established her place among the civilized countries of the world. The first labor strike in its history took place a few days ago.

Headline writers should keep standing nowaways "The political pot begins to boil."

THE FORUM.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

In your article of the 16th inst. on "Local Option's Doom" you say "the agitation for a local option law will end in the Legislature this session just as it did at previous sessions—without any results being obtained. The better opinion as to its fate is that there is absolutely no chance for the measure." In this you are probably right, since New Jersey legislatures seem to relish dragging along at the tail-end of all the states in the matter of local option. They don't want prohibition, so they forbid the voter the opportunity to vote on the subject and deny him the right to express an opinion on the subject. What do you as a young Republican think of that? Is that liberty? It is not a question of prohibition that awaits settlement, but a far graver question, involving the right to use a freeman's vote on a question affecting the interests of the public.

And what sinister power in our little State says we cannot exercise this right? I am told it is the organized rum power—the brewers and distillers, who hold our politicians under their thumbs. Let their officers and agents deny it in the Press!

High License In Plainfield.

As a young editor starting out on a newspaper career in Plainfield you are undoubterly entitled to your opinion about conditions in our city, but your subscribers will expect intelligent and well-informed judgment when you discuss our greatest moral question. You say "as for our own city, the people are well satisfied with its present excellent high license and strict regulation ordinances, etc." That sounds much like the high license boasting of a little more than a year ago and yet in the meantime the most "excellent" of all these saloons was closed for breaking the sacred ordinances, and numerous speak-easies have been raided by the police.

It is true that Plainfield is not a Newark, a Hoboken nor a Jersey City, and all temperance folks are glad of that fact, but as a city of homes, we are far from requiring a dozen licensed places, five or six of which are bar-rooms of the common type, and hundreds, probably thousands, are not satisfied with license. How do you know that "no amount of local option legislation would be any inducement for a change?" Why not let us try and see? It has worked marvelous changes in other states as the rum-power well knows.

This is the day when the politician, and I sometimes fear the press, is bowing humbly to influences that are not for the public weal but it should be remembered that this vital question of the saloon invokes the sympathy of every lover of God and country, and even poor old Jersey, tardy, rum-ridden though she be, is heading toward redemption. So believing, the Christian men and women of this fine city will continue to work and agitate in full faith that the living Christ is with them in a winning fight, all the powers of evil to the contrary notwithstanding.

ALEX. MILLAR.

Feb. 17, 1912.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

In last Friday's issue of your paper you made the assertion in an editorial that the citizens of Plainfield are perfectly satisfied with the saloon traffic now existing in our city. This certainly is a broad assertion to make, for I believe if you were to make a canvass you would find a very large majority of our citizens who are not satisfied. The mere fact that a high license is an excuse is perfect folly. It only gives the saloon the purchased right of the City Council to carry on their ungodly business, while the so-called speak easies are ferreted out and punished for doing just what the saloonkeeper pays for.

Is there not a law compelling the windows and doors of the saloons to be free from screens or curtains, open to the view of the public? This is not enforced.

If you have a young son do you want him to take lessons from a professional burglar so that he may become an adept when he grows to manhood? Then your principle stands good. Please let the public know that, at least one citizen of Plainfield takes objections to your views on this matter, by publishing this letter.

SNEAKTHIEVES WORK AT TWO EAST END HOUSES.

Sneakthieves operated in the extreme eastern end of the city early yesterday morning. At the home of R. H. Gambling, St. Mark's place, a thoroughfare east of Leland avenue, they got a talking machine two silver napkin rings and a pair of gloves. At the home of Ernest Hand, Leland avenue, they made off with a bicycle. A package containing silverware, cut glass and a violin taken from the house, was found beneath a hedge, where the thieves threw it.

Funeral of Mrs. Adams.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Adams, widow of Peter C. Adams, was held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law, E. L. Suffern, Sycamore avenue. Rev. C. L. Goodrich conducted the service. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

SCHUYLER'S TOY CANAL.

It Made the Principle of Locks Clear to the Dutchmen.

It is not known who first conceived the magnificent idea of connecting by a canal Lake Erie with the Atlantic ocean. Experiments to improve the navigation of the Mohawk by means of small canals and locks had been tried years before De Witt Clinton built the Erie canal. The purpose, which was to connect Lake Ontario through the Mohawk with the Hudson, met with a formidable obstacle at Little falls, where the river descended for a mile or two over a series of rapids.

General Philip Schuyler of Revolutionary fame had planned a series of locks to overcome this descent of the river. Knowing that the success of the project would depend upon the favor with which the Dutch farmers, settled near the river, received it, he visited them. Calling a meeting at a tavern, he unfolded his plan. The old Dutchmen loved and honored Schuyler, for he was the head of an old Dutch family. They were delighted with the prospect of the commerce of the state sailing past their farms, but they could not comprehend how boats could ascend Little falls.

The general by means of drawings explained the principle of locks. It was in vain. The stolid Dutchmen shook their heads, saying that they did not believe a word of it. Water would not run uphill, and it was useless for the general to endeavor to make them believe that it would.

The general went to bed mortified at his failure. Turning over the thing in his mind, a happy thought suggested itself. He arose, lighted a candle, took a knife and a few shingles and went into the tavern yard. Digging a miniature canal of two different levels, he connected them by a lock of shingles. Then he summoned the Dutchmen, who came grumbling at being aroused from their slumbers. Pouring water from a pail into the little canal, he locked a chip through from the lower to the upper level.

"Vell, general, dot beats everything!" exclaimed the astonished Dutchmen. "Now ve understands und ve goes mit you unt your canal!"—New York Press.

HIDDEN HOARDS.

Fortunes Buried or Tucked Away In Wasteful Neglect.

None can estimate the wealth hidden in the days of the war between the states. Down mountain slopes, across the great plantations and along the streets of cities of the south are trails of lost fortunes. On the Mississippi river the shanty boaters tell tales of kettles of gold coin and money that were buried in the brakes or revealed in the caving bank of the Mississippi by a cascade of coin rushing down the crumbling slope into the flood. Now and then some sharp darky appears with a handful of old gold.

A mathematician might estimate the quantity of nugget gold hidden by the placer miners, the loggers, tinkers, tramps, soldiers—all the kinds of fortunes that are tucked away in useless and wasteful neglect in all parts of the country—in stockings, mattresses, old clothes, garrets, cellars, hollow trees, hovels, mansions, caches of desperadoes and hidings of foreigners. If only one in 10,000 hides $100 that is never found, and in every village and town the proportion is larger, among farmers and back country people much larger, the loss will amount to $900,000. The chances are that there is a hundred million dollars of hidden fortunes in this country now—gold, silver, precious stones and paper wealth. Many a farm, many a city property, goes into neglect and decay because the heirs never knew of it.—Raymond S. Spears in Harper's Weekly.

Falconry.

In mediaeval times falconry was exceedingly popular. To be seen with a hawk upon the wrist was the seal of a gentleman, and his rank was also known by the species of hawk he was using—for a king the ger-falcon, for a prince the falcon-gentle, for a duke the falcon of the rock, the peregrine falcon for an earl, for a lady the merlin, the nobby for a young man, the goshawk for the yeoman and for the serving man the kestrel.

Had to Swallow Many Things.

An amusing anecdote is related of the late Hungarian statesman Tisza, who when one day dining at the Hofburg with the Austrian emperor placed a large pear upon his plate at dessert. The emperor remarked to his minister that cold fruit after a hot dinner was injurious to the digestion.

Tisza replied, "The stomach of a Hungarian premier, your majesty, is obliged to be a strong ..."

Calvert on Health Trip.

Elizabeth, Feb. 19.—Much improved in health and with a decidedly optimistic outlook for a rapid recovery, County Clerk James C. Calvert left the Alexian Hospital Saturday, went to New York by automobile, boarded the steamship Arcadia, and sailed for Bermuda. Mr. Calvert is accompanied on his trip to Bermuda by Mrs. Calvert.

Changed Plans.

A Chicago banker was dictating a letter to his stenographer.

"Tell Mr. So-and-so," he ordered, "that I will meet him in Schenectady."

"How do you spell Schenectady?" asked the stenographer.

"S-c, S-c—er—er—er— Tell him I'll meet him in Albany."—Chicago Post.

Architecturally Speaking.

"I am the architect of my own fortune," said Mr. Dustin Stax.

"Well," replied Mr. Holden Howes, "by being your own architect you're liable to get some curious effects, but you do save a lot of money on plans and specifications."—Washington Star.

The Pity of It.

"Do you believe necessity is the mother of invention?"

"Yes, and she is also closely related to the promissory note."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

MAYOR GAYNOR'S LIST OF HELPFUL BOOKS.

There Are Sixteen of Them, Beginning With the Bible.

The Bible.
Euclid.
Shakespeare.
Hume's "History of England" (especially the notes).
Homer.
Milton.
Cervantes.
Rabelais.
Gil Blas.
Franklin's "Autobiography and Letters."
Plutarch's Lives.
The Autobiography of Benvenuto Cellini.
Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire."
Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations."
Bacon's Essays.
De Lome's British Constitution.

Here are the sixteen books which Mayor Gaynor of New York believes have had the largest effect on his life. They are mentioned in the order in which the mayor thinks he has been affected by them.

The list is contained in a letter which the mayor wrote to R. A. C. Smith, acknowledging a handsome edition of "Don Quixote," which Mr. Smith had sent him.

Some time ago the mayor and Mr. Smith fell into a book talk. Mr. Smith mentioned the "Don Quixote" of Cervantes and described the enjoyment he had found in reading it in the original Spanish. Mr. Smith found that Mayor Gaynor was just as great an admirer of Cervantes as he was, and the mayor confessed frankly that his inability to read "Don Quixote" in the original Spanish was one of the great regrets of his life.

Mr. Smith enjoyed the conversation so much that he bought the handsomest edition of "Don Quixote" in the Motteux translation he could find and sent it to the mayor.

DEATH OF BILLY DELANEY.

He Was Trainer of Corbett, Jeffries and Johnson, All Champions.

William Delaney, noted as a trainer and handler of famous prizefighters, who died recently, was born in New York and was about sixty years old. He first gained fame as the trainer of Jim Corbett and prepared him for the memorable fight with John L. Sullivan which Corbett won at New Orleans in September, 1892.

When Corbett was whipped by Bob Fitzsimmons at Carson City the former's sparring partner, James J. Jeffries, was taken in hand by Delaney, who announced that he would develop the boilermaker into a champion. Delaney trained Jeffries for the first battle with the Cornishman at Coney Island, and when Jeff won the title the veteran trainer embraced him in the ring. Delaney stuck to Jeffries all through his championship career, but when Jeffries retired and refused to box Bill Squires in San Francisco there came a serious breach.

Delaney assumed charge of Al Kaufman, the California heavyweight, then and proceeded to challenge Jeffries, offering to make a bet of $10,000 on the side and let the winner take all. When Jeffries refused this offer and made a match with Jack Johnson, Delaney lost no time in predicting the white man's downfall. Delaney, to square accounts with Jeffries, consented to act as Johnson's chief second at Reno, and when the negro won the trainer decided that it was time to retire. Previously he had turned down an offer of $10,000 to prepare Jeffries for the mill, giving as a reason that the boilermaker was lacking in gameness.

Delaney had a clean record in pugilism. He was a shrewd matchmaker and a clever judge of fighters.

93 YEARS OF LIFE FOR ALL.

Dr. Wiley Says Adoption of Hygienic Measures Will Bring Them.

Every citizen should have an expectation of ninety-three years of healthy, happy life, according to Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the chemistry bureau, who in a recent address came out as a strong disciple of Dr. Wu Ting Fang in his longevity doctrine. He made a plea for state and national control of the public health.

"By preventing contagious and preventable diseases, particularly among infants under one year of age," he said, "we can raise the average expectation of life from the present thirty-three years given us by the mortality tables to fifty-three. Personal hygiene and care will give us the balance.

"That it can be done is shown by the Panama canal. The French failed not because of lack of engineers, ability, workmen or machinery, but because of disease. We made the zone sanitary before work was started, and now Panama is a health resort. The death rate is almost nothing.

"It has been the same way in the army. Japan taught the world a lesson. In previous conflicts many more men died of disease than from bullets.

"Most diseases are avoidable. In the near future all of them will be. I prophesy that in twenty-five years we will be able to fight cancer as intelligently as we now fight fever. In the meantime we will stop the infant mortality, which is almost invariably due to some form of malnutrition when the babe is deprived of natural food."

1,300 Sailors Learn to Swim.

Rear Admiral Osterhaus, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, now at Guantanamo, Cuba, reports that 1,300 men of the fleet have learned to swim since they left northern waters.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON MEAT

What a Domestic Science Expert Has to Say In Regard to Cuts, Qualities and Methods of Cooking This Food.

THE department of domestic science of the Kansas Agricultural college has been making studies along the line of food economy, and Helen K. Huse of its staff has a number of interesting things to say in regard to how to save money on meat. She says:

The market value of meat increases backward from the head of the animal, but decreases downward toward the legs. This brings the choicest cuts in the upper back part of the beef and includes the ribs and the loin. The majority of the people of the United States demand cuts from the ribs and loin. At present 80 per cent of the demand is for these cuts, which form only 25 per cent of the carcass. Few understand that the cheaper cuts are as nutritious as the more expensive cuts and that it is only a matter of cooking and preparation.

By buying in large quantities it may be possible to procure meat at better prices than those which ordinarily prevail in the retail market. The whole side or quarter of an animal can frequently be obtained at less cost per pound than when it is bought cut by cut and can be used to advantage when the housekeeper understands the art and has proper storage facilities and a good sized family.

The housewife who provides a liberal mixed diet need not feel that she is failing in her duty if she furnishes a very small amount of meat. One-fourth pound a day (which is the amount of an ordinary serving) for each grown person, will yield one-third of the protein needed; bread, cereals, fruits and green vegetables will, together, furnish another third, and the remainder can best be obtained from such foods as eggs, milk, cheese, nuts, dried beans or peas.

The bits of meat not served with the main dish or remaining after the first serving can be seasoned and recooked in many palatable ways. By combining the meat with other foods the meat flavor may be extended through a considerable quantity of less expensive material which would otherwise be lacking in distinctive taste. Moreover, smaller quantities can often be bought than would be necessary were the meat served alone. Common methods of extending the meat flavor are to serve the meat with dumplings, generally in the dish with it, to combine the meat with crusts, as in meat pies or meat rolls, or to serve the meat on toast or biscuits. Borders of rice, hominy, macaroni or mashed potatoes are examples of the same principles applied in different ways.

In preparing left over dishes the following general rules should be kept in mind:

Remove all bone and gristle and, as a rule, trim off the fat. Save all bones for soup stock. Save the fat for trying out. Cut the meat in one-half inch cubes or chop fine, depending upon the way in which it is to be used. If the meat is tender and well cooked reheat only. If it is tough or underdone, simmer until tender, saving the cooking water to make a sauce. Season rather highly as much of the flavor is lost in the cooling.

When the housekeeper attempts to reduce her meat bill by using the less expensive cuts she commonly has two difficulties to contend with—toughness and lack of flavor or of agreeable flavor. Prolonged cooking at low heat makes the meat more tender. This may be done by cooking slowly on the back part of the stove, in a double boiler, in the fireless cooker or in a closely covered baking dish, as a casserole.

Chopping meat is another method of making tough and inexpensive meat tender—that is, dividing it finely and thus cutting the connective tissue into small bits. As for flavor, the natural flavor of meat even in the least desirable cuts may be developed by careful cooking, especially by browning the surface, and other flavors may be given by the addition of vegetables, condiments of various kinds or serving the cooked meat with well seasoned sauces.

In selecting meat a well marbled quality such as the loin and rib illustrated here are the best for household use.

—The modern prayer—Forgive us our debts as we forgive our creditors.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

WHAT PARIS DECREES IN REGARD TO SMART BLOUSES

NEW BLOUSE OF NET AND BOHEMIAN LACE.

THE blouse illustrated here contains many hints for the woman who likes to have her garments as up to date as possible. This Paris waist is of net trimmed with Bohemian lace and rows of tiny tucks. The waist has the new square armhole and double sleeve. Another novel touch is the use of the back frill, in this case of black lace, which falls jabot style between the shoulders. A row of black silk crochet buttons comes down the front of the blouse.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WHEN COOKING FISH.

THIS being the season when fish appears on most bills of fare with frequency, it may be useful to have a general idea of how the average fish may be prepared.

The abundance and cheapness of certain kinds commend fish for use in this season of high prices.

They are available in places remote from the ocean, for where sea fish are not to be had there are fresh fish and canned ones. In most towns of any considerable size even sea fish may be bought, thanks to the efficiency of the refrigerator car.

When Making Chowder.

For fish chowder fresh fish are needed. Cod, haddock or lake fish may be used. The following is a good general recipe for chowder:

Fish Chowder With Rice.—It is essential that the fish should first be cleaned and washed, then cut into slices about an inch thick. Put a layer of thin slices of salt fat pork in the bottom of a deep kettle. Then cover these with very thin slices of Irish potatoes. Add a layer of the fish, seasoned well with salt and pepper.

Sprinkle a little minced onion over the fish. Add a layer of cold boiled rice, then thin slices of dry bread, with salt, pepper and bits of butter.

Use another layer of pork, potatoes, and repeat with fish, rice, bread and seasoning. Add a pint of hot water. Cover the kettle closely, and let the contents simmer gently for half an hour. Remove the cover, add a pint of hot cream or rich milk and serve. The cream or milk may be omitted if desired.

Using Up Cold Fish.

Cold fish may make its reappearance on the table in the form of creamed fish.

Fish a la Cream.—Remove the skin and bone from the fish and break into small pieces. Make a good white sauce with a little cream in it and the yolk of an egg. Season with grated lemon peel, chopped parsley, cayenne pepper and salt.

Butter a dish for the oven, put a little sauce at the bottom of the dish, then a layer of fish, and continue till all the fish is used.

Shape, covering it with the remains of the sauce. Make all smooth with a knife. Scatter dried breadcrumbs and grated cheese over the top.

Pour over it a little dissolved butter, set in the oven till all is hot through, then brown the top with a hot shovel if you have not a salamander.

Scalloped fish is another dish in which cold cooked fish may be used.

Fish Rissoles.—Remove the skin and bones from a pint of cooked fresh fish. Flake fine, add a piece of butter the size of a walnut and season to taste, adding a little finely minced onion. Roll pie crust about one-sixth of an inch thick, cut into circles like a saucer, put a tablespoonful of the fish in the center, fold the edges together, dip in beaten egg and fry.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE MODE.

Colors That Will Be Modish This Spring—Smart Trimmings.

The new colors are prune, plum, raisin, bordeaux, stone and taupe gray and are very stylish both in plain and in changeable taffetas. White and ecru are strong favorites in cotton fabrics.

Fabric trimmings are largely used in small finger thick tubing or colored cord; also motifs and buttons.

There is an increasing representation of fancy trimmed styles in tailored suits.

Deeply plaited frills of net and lace, mounted to either high standing collar bands or very low bands, are expected to be fashionable.

The plain shirt waist that is made in mannish style is a smart one for many occasions. Here is a model that is made with the new turnover cuffs and collar, but the collar is adjusted over a neckband; consequently if it is not becoming it may be omitted.

THE REMARKABLE INTERVIEW WITH THE BOOB WITH THE BREAD KNIFE.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

THOUGHT STRANDED BY HEAVY WALLOP

Tommy Dixson Tells of Effects of a Terrific Blow.

LOST HIS MEMORY ENTIRELY

In One Fight Kansas Scrapper Scored Knockout in Fifth Round, but He Had Fought Mechanically After the First When He Got the Punch.

TOMMY DIXON, CRACK KANSAS CITY LIGHTWEIGHT.

How does a fighter feel when he gets a wallop that sends him reeling halfway across the ring and into the canvas? In answering that question some of the experiences of Tommy Dixon, the Kansas City lightweight, are interesting.

Tommy was engaged in a bout with a fighter named Lewis. In the first round Lewis landed a wallop on Dixon's head that left him stranded in the thought league. It was an awful wallop, but it didn't knock Dixon down; just stunned him. Tommy stalled through the first round and went back to his corner without knowledge of what he did. He went back in the second round and fought hard. He repeated in the third and the fourth and finally knocked Lewis out in the fifth.

A Crack on the Bean, Then Darkness.

"And to this day I have no recollection of entering the ring," says Dixon in speaking of that bout. "I got a crack on the bean right on the jump and knew nothing during the remainder of the bout. They say I fought hard, but it must have been mechanically, as I sure didn't know what I was doing. After the bout I went into a cafe to get something to eat. They asked me how I felt, but I couldn't remember being in a fight. I thought I had fallen and hurt my head and had not been allowed to enter the ring. I didn't know anything about it next morning, and I've never been able to remember anything of that fight."

Dixon tells of another bout in which he fought mechanically almost to the end. It was his last mill with Jack White, one of Cleveland's sturdy biffers and a heavier man than Dixon. The second round was on, and Tommy got in front of a blow that sent him to the mat. He got up with his customary speed, but again went down before a well aimed wallop. Another biff sent him to the floor a third time, and that was the wallop that sent Tommy's senses to the padded cell.

Covered Up and Fought On.

"I kept fighting," says Dixon, "but I didn't know much about what was going on. They say that I covered up most of the time and wasn't hit often after those three wallops in the second. But something happened after five rounds. It was in the eighth. White hit me another wallop that sent me reeling into the ropes just as the gong sounded. That blow brought my memory back. I felt the sting of the wallop, and suddenly I saw the ropes of the ring. A whole sea of faces rose up before me, and I noticed the gleaming lights for the first time since the second round. I went to the corner and asked what round it was. They told me it was the eighth, ninth coming up. I was surprised. In the next two rounds I stood and fought toe to toe with White. He beat me, but I came back strong after being absolutely out of the fighting for five rounds—that is, as far as I knew."

W. D. MULFORD CHAMPION BILLIARDIST OF PARK CLUB

In the balk line tournament finals at the Park Club Saturday night, W. D. Mulford defeated John W. Murray, 150 points to 120. Mr. Mulford is now champion billiardist of the club. He finished first in section one of the tournament while Mr. Murray lead the second division.

In the finals Mr. Mulford shot 14.2 against Mr. Murray's 14.1. A large gallery saw the contest which developed some clever cueing by both opponents.

LOCAL PINNERS SHOWING STRONG IN ELKS LEAGUE

Plainfield and Hoboken are dividing honors in the Elks' League race, both as to team and individual records. The locals, as a team, are leading with the Germans close behind. Miller, the Dutch anchor, still clings to stellar position in the individual competition with a mark of 193.28 for 33 games, but is being hard pushed by Johnny Campell, whose average for 30 games is 192.20.

The other members of both teams are showing well in the standing. Blatz, Kiely and Nash are bunched in 23, 24 and 25th positions respectively with the following averages: Blatz, 179 in 27 games; Kiely, 178.21 in 30 games; Nash, 178.11 in 30 games. Stout, who joined the big five several weeks late, is 37th with 173 for 18 contests.

"CUT OUT THE SQUAT", SAYS WHITE SOX MANAGER

Baseball is in danger of being shorn of a familiar feature through a suggestion recently made to catchers by Jimmy Callahan, manager of the White Sox, to "cut out the squat." When relieving himself of the idea, the Sox general also unloaded some arguments in support of it that sound so good that a number of backstops have decided to try the scheme during spring training.

Callahan has never attempted to estimate how many times a catcher drops on his haunches during a game and does not assume to tell them their business. But having been a pitcher of considerable repute in the majors before becoming a manager, he knows all about inside battery work and insists that an effective modern method of signalling, eliminating the squat, can be arranged.

Catchers as a rule have always been considered heavygaited, he said, and experts say that the squat habit acts on the muscles in the legs in such a way as to slow up a backstop faster than any other cause. Now that shin guards are becoming popular the strain on the wearer is even greater than without them.

The prolonging of catchers' careers, or at least increasing their activities, and at the same time the adoption of a signal system visible to the whole team, Callahan feels, would more than make up the loss of this noticeable action by the wearers of mask and pad to the spectators.

COULON KEEPS HIS TITLE.

Bantam Champion Wins Decision Over Frankie Burns.

New Orleans, Feb. 19.—Johnny Coulon, bantam champion of the world, retains his title here, but there are at least two-thirds of the 12,000 fight fans who witnessed the bout between the Chicago boy and Frankie Burns of New Jersey who believe the latter deserved something better than a defeat.

Referee Stout's decision in awarding the verdict to Coulon was met with a round of hisses, which were followed by cries of "Unjust."

Donlin Traded For Campbell.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 19.—Secretary Locke, of the Pittsburgh Club, announced Saturday night that Mike Donlin, of the Boston team, would play this season in a Pittsburgh uniform. Donlin has been taken over by Pittsburgh in exchange for Vincent Campbell, who played right field for Pittsburgh part of last season.

Ski-er Jumps 152 Feet.

Ironwood, Mich., Feb. 19.—Sigard Hansen, of Fergus Falls, Minn., equalled the American record, in the tournament of the Ironwood Ski Club here Saturday, by jumping 152 feet. James Presthus, of Ishpeming, in the amateur class, jumped 156 feet, but fell in alighting.

Jeannette Will Box Two.

Joe Jeannette, the colored heavyweight, will meet Chuck Carlton, the United States Navy fighter, and Morris Harris, three rounds each at the American A. C., Philadelphia, tonight.

First Yannigan to Report.

The first Yannigan to answer the call to the south by Connie Mack arrived Saturday. He is R. A. Chase, a pitcher, of the Orange High School, of Orange.

WHAT THE SPORTS EDITOR HAS TO SAY

Johnny Evers, is a basketball magnate, being owner of the Hudson, N. Y. team in the Hudson River League.

Duck shooting in Maryland is a much easier way of getting in condition than camping and practising at Hot Springs or elsewhere and that is the method employed by Fred Westervelt, Ban Johnson's new umpire.

"The best till yet," is what Russell Ford claims for his new "spitter."

News item says Frank Bowerman's wife is suing for divorce at Mt. Clemens. The place has long been advertised as a health resort, but never as a cure for martial troubles before.

"If you could pitch ball as well as you can write leters," wrote an American League club president in reply to a pitcher holding out for more money and who had stated his case in writing, "there wouldn't be anybody in the American League in your class." All of which goes to show how much some people appreciate "doing the best you can."

"Ty" Cobb strenuously objects to J. M. Ward's proposition to eliminate or shorten spikes. The speedy, aggressive Georgian, unshod, wouldn't be so much of a terror for harrassed basemen.

"Dots" Miller, Pirate second baseman, says he will leave no stone unturned to make good at first, where he is to be given a tryout. He has been bowling steadily at his home in Kearny all winter. The experience ought to help.

Red Murray, Giant fielder, says if there are any youngsters seeking his job they will have to sting the ball as this is to be his big year with the stick. Must have copped something from J. F. Baker during world's series.

What is supposed to be an Eastern record for duck pins was rolled on the Tuxedo alleys Saturday afternoon, when James Reilly handed in a 188 score. During the game he made six strikes, getting five of them in a row.

According to present indications there will be four hundred five-men teams, a thousand two-men teams and two thousand individual bowlers at the N. B. A. tourney in Paterson next month.

Jack Lelivet is to be given a tryout at first base by Manager Ganzel of the Rochester team. Lelivelt played left field for Washington last season.

Pittsburg fans have nothing to worry them. Marty O'Toole, the "$22,000 twirling beauty," has sent his signed contract to President Barney Dreyfus.

Ten of the sixteen major league managers have seen service with either the Chicago or New York National League clubs. Chance, Griffith, Kling, Callahan and Wolverton represent Chicago, and McGraw, Bresnahan, Davis and O'Day, New York, with Bill Dahlen a former member of both teams.

MURPHY AND JOHNSON NOW STRONG FOR PEACE

The long standing feud between Charlies Murphy, the president of the Chicago Cubs, and Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, came to a timely and yet belated end Thursday, when the National League, before completing its deliberations at the Waldorf-Astoria, unanimously passed a resolution threatening dire punishment to any of its members who dares to stir up any friction between the parties to the new national agreement which was adopted in full by the organization. Charles H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn Superbas, introduced the resolution, and in his new part as a pacifier of warring elements in organized baseball he appeared exceeding well. No armed peace is desired, but all members of organized baseball are to stand shoulder to shoulder for the good of the common cause.

Jeffries Won't Fight Again.

"Nothing doing for me in the fight line,' declared Jim Jeffries yesterday, after the usual monthly appearance of the old moss grown tale that he would return to the ring and fight Jack Johnson. "Why's it's hard enough for me now to win at pinochle," said Jim yesterday. "I don't know where any one got the idea that I was to fight again. I have not been downtown for two or three days, and no one has seen me about fighting again. None of that for me."—Los Angeles Times.

TRADING OF KNIGHT MAY GIVE MARTIN N.Y. BERTH

The trading of Jack Knight, the Yankee shortstop, to Washington for Catcher Charlie Street, will possibly give Jack Martin a chance to finish the season with the Highlanders, providing he makes good with the Rochester team in the International League. He is owned by the New York Americans, but has been farmed to the International League team and will compete for the position at short field with Tommy McMillan, understudy to Eddy Foster, the veteran in the position with the champions of the International.

The swapping of Knight for Street was consumated at Chicago between Managers Wolverton and Griffith. The latter wanted Jack because he is capable of playing first base or any other infield position. As Wolverton already has the premier first sacker of the league with him and was shy on catchers, the deal was easily arranged. That Wolverton has Martin to fall back upon for short stop may have helped the trade.

Knight was first discovered by Connie Mack of the World's champions. He was traded to Boston for the veteran Jimmy Collins, a move that the usually shrewd Mack has never ceased to regret. From Boston, Jack went to Baltimore and thence to the New York Americans.

UMPIRE CONNELLY'S PICK OF BEST AMERICAN LEAGUERS

Tom Connolly, the noted knight of the indicator, comes out with a list of the players who he considers the best in the American League. Here they are:

Classiest pitcher—"Chief" Bender.

Best "waiter"—Harry Hooper.

Best "squeeze" player—Hal Chase.

Best on hit-and-run play—Harry Lord.

Best all-around player—Ty Cobb.

All-American League team—Oscar Stanage, catcher; "Chief Bender and Ed Walsh, pitchers; Hal Chase, first base; Eddie Collins, second base; Jack Berry, shortstop; Frank Baker, third base; Crawford, Speaker and Cobb, outfielders.

Substitutes—Carrigan, catcher; Lajoie, infielder; Hooper, Jackson and Milan, outfielders.

In explaining his selection, Connolley said:

"If I had to pick my one choice from the American League pitchers I would call Bender. The "Chief," still a young man, is the classiest of them all. He has the speed of Walter Johnson, but does not need to use it; has the curves, and is always a cool master of the game. He knows every batter, the result of constant study. Johnson is an easy pitcher, with terrific speed, but give me Bender in a pinch.

"There never was a base stealer like Ty Cobb. There is nothing to touch but Ty's shoestring, so fast and clever is his slide. A Washington player remarked to me last summer that when Ty Cobb hits to pitcher, and there is no one ahead of him on the bags the safest way is to throw the ball to the plate.

"It is hard to pick out the best 'waiter' in the league, but a Boston man immediately comes to my mind. Hooper is about the best waiter in the world. Topsy Hartzel, just passing out of the league, was a grand little waiter and a hard man to pitch to. If Lajoie would wait for good balls he would hit for 1,000.

"New York has the best man in the league for the 'squeeze' play. He is Hal Chase, and is best at this game, because of his wonderful courage. Harry Lord is perhaps the best man at the plate on the hit-and-run play.

Elberfeld Balks at Minors.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 19.—Rather than play ball in a minor league, or, at least, the Southern Association, "Kid" Elberfeld, so it was stated, will retire from active baseball and will in the future serve as a scout for an American League club whose identity could not be learned. Elberfeld refused to discuss the matter but stated that he had informed the Chattanooga Club, who purchased him from Washington, that he would not play here.

World's Hurdle Record.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 19.—A new world's record for the 100-yard hurdle race on an indoor track was made Saturday night by Robert Eller, of Georgetown University, at the Johns Hopkins Fifth regiment games. Eller negotiated the distance in 11 4-5 seconds.

Kept an Eye on the Garden.

James T. Fields of the firm of Ticknor & Fields wore a flowing beard, as many men of his time did. He was scrupulous in the care of it and in the main managed it at the table with skill. His wife was always on watch for him, too, when they went out to dinner together. They had a pantomime code and a few expressive spoken signals. Should a breadcrumb catch in the floss Mrs. Fields would say:

"My dear, there's a gazelle in the garden."—Chicago Post.

PLAINFIELD ENTRIES IN NEW YORK'S BIG DOG SHOW

Entries from the Boreas, Meadowview and Midlothian kennels will be benched at the big Westminster show which opens in New York tomorrow morning. This show is said to have the largest list of exhibitors of any show in the world outside of the Crystal Palace show held in London. The quality of the dogs benched are the best bred in this country, Canada and many European countries.

The Boreas kennel entries will include the noted Russian wolf hounds that have made the kennel widely known. Meadowview's exhibit will be the English setters that have captured everything in their class where shown and the champion Scottish deerhounds of the Midlothian kennels will complete the Plainfield entries.

Kennell Club Delegates.

At a recent meeting of the Plainfield Kennel Club, R. W. K. Anderson, the president, was elected a delegate to the American Kennel Club. E. H. Hobbie, secretary, has been nominated for membership in the same organization for a Western club, thus making Plainfield well represented in the national association.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church will hold a social in the lecture room of the church Friday night.

The Philathea Bible Class of the Temple Baptist church will hold a Martha Washington tea at the church Thursday night.

The members of First M. E., Grace M. E. and Monroe Avenue M. E. church will hold a union service Wednesday night in Vincent chapel, when Rev. Dr. Edgar Blake, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the Methodist Board of Sunday schools will speak.

The Woman's Association of the Congregational church will meet at the church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the first of the programs on "India with Christ," in the Marathi Mission, will be begun. There will be a paper by Mrs. J. A. Robinson.

Appeals were read yesterday morning in the Catholic churches of the Diocese of Newark and elsewhere, in behalf of the negro and Indian missions of the United States. A collection is taken annually in the Catholic churches for this purpose, sufficient being procured to maintain the missions for the greater part of the year. Attention was called to the fact tha while evangelizing the negroes and Indians is growing rapidly, and the number of religious order workers and secular priests among them is greater than ever before, there is nevertheless a necessity for an increase of the missionary spirit.

C. E. Mass Meeting.

The Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union will hold a mass meeting at the Temple Baptist church, Friday night. Rev. A. M. Dixon, of Denison University will make the address. At that meeting the union banner and the worker's library will be awarded to the society having the highest percentage of active and associate members present at the meeting.

KANG YU WAI.

One Time Reformer Joins Movement Against Republic.

MONARCHY IN MANCHURIA?

Kang Yu Wai Joins Viceroy Against New Republic.

Tientsin, Feb. 19.—The situation in Manchuria is daily becoming more desperate. Kang Yu Wai, who led the reform movement in 1898, has thrown his influence in with that of Chao Ehr Sun, the viceroy, and together they will make a determined fight to resist the new order of things.

Chao Ehr Sun still refuses to meet the demands that he give up his office and with the aid of Kang Yu Wai purposes to rebel against the present plans. It is also declared that the object of the coalition of the two leaders is to establish a constitutional monarchy in Manchuria.

Prince Su, it is reported, is giving the two leaders financial assistance. The Hungutzes have resigned en masse and are openly denying the orders and authority of Yuan Shih Kai.

CORNELL MEN DROWNED.

Cayuga Lake Claims Two More Student Victims.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Cayuga lake claimed two more victims from the Cornell undergraduate body when Terry A. Converse of Buffalo and Charles W. Cetman of Richfield Springs, N. Y., broke through the ice a few miles south of King Ferry and were drowned. The third member of the skating party, Rodney N. Newman, escaped, but by the time he could summon help the other two had gone under.

The lake is said to be over 400 feet deep where the two young men were drowned. Not far from this place two boys were drowned in a canoe accident several years ago and their bodies were never recovered.

Cetman and Converse were juniors in the Cornell college of civil engineering.

Let Him Into a Secret.

A prominent member of the London Stock Exchange was a man who enjoyed his wine and always took great care of it when he happened to pick up a choice vintage. While living in a fashionable quarter of the west end he chanced to buy a large cask of very fine old port, which he placed at the extreme end of his cellar, and to make perfectly sure that it should not be touched he had a wall built across the cellar and so closed it in.

It was about a year or two later that one evening he accepted an invitation to dine with his next door neighbor when the latter brought out some very fine old port. Several glasses having been drunk, the man of stocks and shares asked his host where he could get some port like it.

"Well, old fellow," returned the other, "I will let you into a secret. I was having some alterations made in my cellar lately when we discovered that some old fool who lived in this house before me had built a wall round a large cask of port and forgotten all about it. This is some of it, but I am afraid there isn't much left."

His Losses.

A prominent Washington official was lunching at the Metropolitan club when he saw one of his society friends sitting near by and looking gloomy and disconsolate.

"What's the matter, Sam?" called out the official.

"Nothing much," sighed the saddened Sam, "only I took too much to drink yesterday. I lost a pair of glasses, a cane, a raincoat and a reputation."—Washington Star.

NURSE'S STORY HURTS GARDNER

Former State Senator Faces Conspiracy Charge.

ABOUT MILLION INVOLVED.

George H. Decker Makes Confession In Case Wherein New York Politician Is Held, It Is Alleged, For Influencing Aged Eccentric Invalid to Sign Away Property In a Will.

New York, Feb. 19.—Former Senator Frank J. Gardner was arraigned again at 9:30 this morning in the Adams street police court, Brooklyn, on the charge of attempting to despoil Samuel E. Haslett, the aged and dying millionaire of the "mansion of mystery" at 138 Remsen street.

By his side was George Decker, the professional nurse, with whose aid Gardner is accused of having gained entrance to the home of the recluse in the night hours; of having made the old man turn from his legal counselor of many years standing, John B. Lord, and sign two wills and a power of attorney, in which the helpless, seventy-six-year-old invalid practically gave to Gardner everything of the $1,000,000 and more of real and personal property that he owned.

The nurse has made a full confession.

Gardner was bailed out by a surety company. He refused to make public what his defense will be, but said that after he engages a lawyer he may have something to say in his own behalf. The nurse also refused to put himself right in the matter until he gets the money to engage a lawyer.

The court proceedings in Gardner's case were the briefest. He himself is a lawyer, and when his name was called he walked out of the court pen into the courtroom with a jaunty air, smilingly saluted Magistrate Kempner and said he would act for himself. Magistrate Kempner began to read the charge, a long affidavit sworn to by John B. Lord, the lawyer who has managed Mr. Haslett's affairs under a limited power of attorney for fifteen years and whose relations with his client were apparently severed when on Friday Gardner got a sweeping power of attorney which enabled the former senator to draw checks and to take charge of Mr. Haslett's property in any way he thought would be for Mr. Haslett's interest. Mr. Haslett is said to be worth well over $1,000,000.

Gardner asked that the case be adjourned for a day or two to give him a chance to get a lawyer.

"Then if I am not ready," he said, "we can easily arrange for another adjournment."

This seemed fair to Magistrate Kempner, and Mr. Lord, who was in court with Robert P. Vidaud, who has been a friend to Mr. Haslett for years, assented to any reasonable adjournment. Then Magistrate Kempner suggested that Gardner be arraigned again this morning with Decker, who had been held in default of $2,000 by the magistrate on Saturday. This was agreed to by both Gardner and Lord.

On the question of bail, Magistrate Kempner first set it at $5,000, which brought a protest from Gardner. The offense charged, although it is based on a paper which gave Gardner full grip on more than $1,000,000, is only a misdemeanor. Magistrate Kempner said that the assistant district attorney had suggested that the bail be large, but finally cut it down to $3,000. Gardner then spent some time telephoning, with the result that he got his bail.

TO COURT MARTIAL BLOOM.

Lieutenant Charged With Conduct "Unbecoming an Officer."

Cheyenne, Wyo., Feb. 19.—That rigid etiquette which forbids officers of the United States army to discuss military affairs with civilians is being faithfully observed at Fort D. A. Russell in regard to the case of Second Lieutenant Frank Bloom of Battery F, Fourth field artillery, who is reported to be slated to answer before a court martial the charge that he has been guilty of "conduct unbecoming an officer." The next general court martial at Fort Russell will convene as soon after Feb. 16 as is practicable.

Information originating at Fort Russell is that Lieutenant Bloom engaged in a physical encounter with a noncommissioned officer, but attempts to identify positively the source of this information, or to substantiate it by official confirmation, have proved futile.

KAISER BARS NEW SOCIALIST OFFICERS

German Elections In Reichstag Stir Up a Muss.

Berlin, Feb. 19.—The trouble which it was foreseen would result from the election of Philip Schiedemann, a Socialist, as first vice president of the reichstag has already broken out.

The kaiser, on the advice of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, has refused to receive Johannes Kaempf, the radical deputy from the emperor's own district who was elected president of the reichstag when Dr. Spahn declined to serve with a Socialist, and Heinrich Dove, the radical second vice president, because Herr Schiedemann declined to join them in the customary application for an audience with the emperor. This application, as is usual, was made after the officers of the reichstag had been elected. The Socialist party does not recognize court functions, and for this reason Herr Schiedemann refused to append his name to the official application.

The situation is unprecedented, and no solution of the difficulty can be foreseen at present. The Socialists interpret the action of the emperor as an attempt to prevent the ratification of the election of Herr Schiedemann, a formality which is necessary a month after he has been chosen by the reichstag, and to compel the election of some member other than a Socialist in his place. It would, however, be unprecedented to have the strongest party in the reichstag unrepresented among the presiding officers.

GENERALLY FAIR ALL WEEK.

Next General Storm Will Strike East About Friday.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The weather bureau issued the following weekly bulletin:

The distribution of atmospheric pressure as shown by the weather map of the northern hemisphere is such as to indicate a continuance of moderate temperatures throughout the country during the week, although it is probable that colder weather will appear in the northwest the latter part of the week.

The next general storm to cross the country will prevail in the north Pacific states Tuesday and Wednesday, the middle west about Thursday and the eastern states Friday. The precipitation attending this disturbance will be mostly rain, although snow is likely in northern states east of the Rocky mountains.

Stormy weather is indicated in the north Atlantic steamship routes east of the Grand banks this week.

MEXICO WANTS A LOAN.

Said to Be Negotiating With French Financiers.

Paris, Feb. 19.—It is alleged in financial circles that the Mexican government is making an attempt to negotiate an important loan in France, where the leading banks are said to be willing to take it up. On the other hand, the latest diplomatic and consular advices from Mexico received here say the situation there is in too critical a state for foreigners to make any loans and that it would be sheer folly for French bankers to advance any money.

Business men send word that Mexico is still upside down and advise France to follow Germany's action and send a gunboat to Vera Cruz. This advice is based on the belief that the United States is not likely to utilize the Monroe doctrine in the present Mexican turmoil.

Weather Forecast.

Cloudy today and tomorrow, with rain or snow in north; moderate temperature.

Black & Colored Spring Dress Fabrics

ALL TAKEN FROM OUR REGULAR STOCKS AND POSITIVELY REDUCED FROM REGULAR PRICES

This is not the time of year when you are expecting reductions on Spring dress fabrics. It is the time when the average merchant is looking for profits—the time when most people are making preparations for Spring and Summer, and willingly buying fabrics at regular prices.

Notwithstanding this we inaugurated this morning and will continue for three days—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—a far-reaching sale of our newest and finest Dress Fabrics, in both black and colors, cutting the prices in relentless fashion to make a sale at once notable and beneficial to our patrons.

It will stir the people to immediate action and start the dress goods season with a whirl, incidentally acquainting the people with the fact that we have here assembled the largest and finest collection of dress materials in the State, and it will prove to them that our regular prices are as low, and probably lower than any others in the State.

Our reductions are real ones—you can figure certain savings between the quoted regular prices and special prices.

COLOMBIA SNUBS SECRETARY KNOX

Visit to Republic "Inopportune," Says Minister.

OLD DISPUTE THE CAUSE.

Action of Senor Pedro Nel Ospina May Be Taken as Personal Affront to Secretary of State and Diplomatic Relations With Little Republic Severed.

Washington, Feb. 19.—Senor Pedro Nel Ospina, minister from the Colombian government here, has given an official snub to Secretary Knox, who is on his way to visit Colombia and other southern republics.

The minister has advised Acting Secretary of State Wilson that Secretary Knox's proposed visit to Colombia is "inopportune," which is the diplomatic method of saying that Mr. Knox is not wanted in Colombia. The minister explained, however, that he was acting on his own initiative in making this suggestion and will ask his government for definite instructions. He based his action upon the failure of the state department to make a reply to a diplomatic note which he submitted to the state department about three months ago requesting the arbitration of the pending questions between the United States and Colombia. The principal question in dispute between the two governments relates to the boundary line between Colombia and Panama, which has been unsettled since the secession of Panama from Colombia in 1903.

This action, it is predicted in diplomatic circles, will most likely lead to the minister's recall. The language of the note may be decided by the state department as a personal affront to Secretary Knox, in which case the Colombian government will be notified that he is persona non grata. If this action should be taken and the minister's position should be supported by his government it would mean the severance of diplomatic relations, and the minister would promptly be given his passports, as in the case of the Nicaraguan charge d'affaires two years ago.

In view of the Colombian minister's note Secretary Knox probably will abandon his proposed visit to Colombia. If the Colombian government upholds the stand taken by its minister here it will create a serious situation between the two governments which may result in the breaking off of diplomatic relations. If the Colombian government, however, repudiates the action of its minister it will not remove entirely the embarrassment created by the publication of the minister's note.

While officials of the state department declined publicly to comment upon the note they say that Mr. Knox probably will not visit Colombia as a result of the untoward incident.

KNOX BEGINS HIS TRIP.

Secretary of State and Party Sail For the South.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 19.—The United States armored cruiser Washington left the navy yard here at 8:30 this morning for Palm Beach, where Secretary Knox and his family will come aboard for his official tour of the Caribbean and Central American republics. Several newspaper men and Captain Powell Clayton, military aid to Secretary Knox, are with the secretary. The rest of the party will be taken on at Palm Beach Thursday.

According to the present itinerary, Secretary Knox will visit Mexico. Should conditions in Mexico, however, become so disturbed as to make it seem inadvisable for Mr. Knox to visit that country in his official capacity, the call there will be omitted.

The plan now is to make Vera Cruz the last stopping place of the trip. The Washington will probably arrive there April 21 and remain four days. Secretary Knox will go to the City of Mexico by rail and make a call upon President Madero and the other officials of the Mexican government. Leaving Vera Cruz about April 25, the Washington will proceed to Key West, where the trip will officially come to an end on April 28.

ROBBERS GET $5,200 CASH.

Four Masked Men Work Four Hours in St. Louis Theater.

St. Louis, Feb. 19.—Four masked men overpowered the night watchman, Alexis Johnson, and the assistant property man, Edward Mallette, bound them to chairs in the auditorium of the Columbia theater, a vaudeville house, in the heart of St. Louis' downtown district, blew the safe in the main office and, securing $5,200 in cash, fled in an automobile which was waiting for them behind the theater.

Despite the fact that the bandits worked in the theater for over four hours, remaining for almost an hour after the explosion of nitroglycerin had torn the safe to pieces, no one outside of the building was aware of the robbery until Mallette, one of the bound men, managed to free himself and notified the police a half hour after the bandits had departed.

Baby Hangs and Dies.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 19.—Pauline Sarder, eight months old, while sleeping in a cradle fell out and was hanged between the bars. The child was dead when found by its mother.

ALBERT J. SAUTER.

New York Banker Rounds Out Fifty Years With One Firm.

WITH ONE FIRM FIFTY YEARS.

New York Bankers Give Dinner For Albert J. Sauter.

New York, Feb. 19.—Albert J. Sauter, cashier for Speyer & Co., will today round out a half century of service with that banking house, and this evening his employers will give a dinner in his honor at Delmonico's. It will be attended by all of the partners and practically all of the firm's employees and by a few intimate friends who in former years were connected with the firm. This dinner will not be altogether a novel experience for the veteran cashier, for on his fortieth anniversary with the firm he was similarly entertained. He might have retired then without any anxiety as to his future comfort, but he felt so young that he decided to remain in harness for another decade or longer.

Mr. Sauter will be seventy years old next September. He was born in Pforzheim, Baden, Germany, and in 1848 came to New York with his father, Lawrence Sauter. On Feb. 19, 1862, he entered the employ of Philip Speyer & Co., as the firm was then known. He was made cashier twenty years ago.

BUSY WEEK FOR T. R.

Ex-President Will Outline Policies at Columbus.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Colonel Roosevelt is resting in preparation for the hard week ahead of him, during which he will, for the first time since his candidacy was announced by his friends, enter the lists in person. Tomorrow, after a last gathering of advisers about the contributing editor's desk at the Outlook office, he starts for Columbus, O., where on Wednesday he will present to the Ohio constitutional convention the platform of the progressives upon which he will stand if nominated. He returns to New York on Thursday and after a day's rest leaves for Boston ostensibly to attend a meeting of the overseers of the Harvard university. He will not return to New York until the following Wednesday, and in the meantime he may accept some of the many invitations he has had to make speeches in Massachusetts.

But before Colonel Roosevelt goes to Boston he will reply to the communication addressed to him by eight governors calling upon him to define his position as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Although the willingness of Mr. Roosevelt to accept the presidential nomination has long since been a matter of common knowledge, his political friends and foes alike await his letter to the so called governors' conference with interest.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel Roosevelt sail for Panama on Saturday for an extended visit, leaving Colonel Roosevelt footloose during what is looked upon as the critical weeks of his presidential boom.

HOME RULE CRY SPREADS.

Demand That It Be Extended to Scotland and Wales.

London, Feb. 19.—Home rule for Scotland and Wales, in addition to Ireland, was demanded at a Liberal meeting held in Trafalgar square.

Preceding the meeting an enormous parade was held. Among the orators were Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey, who defended his conduct of office vigorously, declaring that it was necessary for Great Britain to maintain her naval supremacy against any combination of rival powers.

Remembering the Absent.

"I guess I'm getting into this social game all right," said Mr. Cumrox. "Be polite and courteous, yet formal. That's the idea."

"What have you been doing?" inquired his wife sharply.

"You know them people who sent regrets because they couldn't come to our party?"

"Yes."

"Well, after I saw the party I sat down and sent 'em congratulations."—Washington Star.

Eight Hour Day In Prisons.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Attorney General Carmody rendered an opinion limiting the hours of labor required of prisoners in state penitentiaries, reformatories and prisons to eight hours a day.

MORGAN'S ART WORKS COMING

Collection Now in Europe to Be Brought to America.

TOTAL VALUE IS $60,000,000

New Wing to Be Added to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, In Which to House Them—Will Enter Duty Free.

The J. P. Morgan art collection, the blue ribbon collection of the world as private collections go, is coming to this country. This collection of art treasures gathered by Mr. Morgan in the last fifteen years is usually considered the finest individual collection in the world. It is conceded to be in many respects without an equal anywhere by all of the world's art connoisseurs who have been privileged to inspect not alone that portion of it which is in the Kensington museum, London, but also the objects forming, perhaps, the greater part of the collection with which his house at Prince's Gate is stored. All of these treasures, consisting of pictures, bronzes, tapestries and objects of art in general, are to find a home in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, for the instruction of the people of this country.

Few persons have been privileged to inspect closely this array of art treasures. Various estimates of their value as a collection have been made. An art connoisseur in a position to know whereof he speaks placed the value of the collection at $60,000,000.

The Morgan collection will be placed in the new wing now in course of erection at the north end of the Fifth avenue side of the building.

Not all of the collection is coming here at once. Immediate plans call for bringing to this country within the next three months only that portion of it which is in the South Kensington museum. This comprises about 500 objects. An art connoisseur thoroughly familiar with this portion of the Morgan collection placed a value on it of $10,000,000. It is only about one-sixth of the entire collection which Mr. Morgan has gathered since he began seriously to bring together art treasures some fifteen years ago.

Art dealers have been expecting for some time that the collection lent by Mr. Morgan to the South Kensington museum and forming perhaps the principal one on view in that museum would be brought over here by Mr. Morgan at an early date. They arrived at this conviction at the time the duty on works of art was removed. But that the entire collection acquired by Mr. Morgan, with the assistance of the foremost art connoisseurs and dealers of the old world, would be brought over here came as a distinct surprise to many.

Mr. Morgan's art treasures at present repose in many places. There are some on the continent and some in Glasgow, besides those in his London house and in the South Kensington museum. The removal of all of the collection will take considerable time and will cover a number of years.

The objects to arrive here first from the South Kensington museum in a general way were grouped by an authority familiar with Mr. Morgan's plans as follows:

First.—A collection of Italian bronzes of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, mostly of the Florentine and Paduan schools, comprising one of the finest private collections of bronzes in the world.

Second.—A collection of majolica of the fifteenth century, consisting of plates and tazzas.

Third.—A collection of objets d'art, consisting of rock crystals and wood carvings, bought en bloc from the Baron Oppenheim collection of Cologne.

Fourth.—A collection of marble figures and plaques of the fifteenth century, the bronzes by Berrochio and the marbles by Rosselino.

Fifth.—The tapestries purchased by Mr. Morgan from the Kann collection.

Sixth.—A collection of gold enameled jewelry and the champleve enamels from the thirteenth century, including a remarkable Byzantine specimen.

MAINE'S TURRET FOUND.

Missing Forward One Flung Thirty Feet Aft of the Ship by Explosion.

The missing forward turret of the battleship Maine, which the divers have been looking for since the work of removing the wreck began, was found in the mud twenty feet to the starboard of the ship and thirty feet aft.

The natural position of the turret is inverted, the barbette portion being uppermost. The guns are presumably in the turret, but this has not yet been determined.

The position of the turret suggests the idea that it was thrown aft the ship by the upheaval of the forward part of the vessel.

For Naval History of Revolution.

A complete naval history of the Revolutionary war, to be compiled and written by retired naval officers, is proposed in a bill introduced in the house by Representative Fordney of Michigan. The measure carries an appropriation of $10,000 and directs all government officials to furnish any records and papers that might be used in the work.

test and then say: "I wish I had been in it." The race has just commenced. The competition for these splendid prizes is certainly warming up, and all the candidates are out hustling for new subscriptions for it is the new ones which bring the most votes. What we mean by a new subscription is one who has not been getting the paper regularly when this contest began, either from this office or from an agent.

The Way to Vote.

Votes are issued only when subscription payments are made to the Press for at least ten weeks. Candidates are requested to have all subscription blanks made out properly, stating whether the subscriber is an old or new one, and being careful to give subscriber's full address. Regarding the coupons clipped from the paper, they should be kept flat, not folded or rolled, and tied securely together in packages of not more than fifty, with the number marked plainly on the outside. When this is done it will not be necessary to have the candidate's name written on every coupon. Bring the subscriptions into this office as soon as you get them in order that the paper may be started, and you will also get the benefit of the coupons. You may use the votes at any time you choose.

Contest Notes.

District five is waking up.

The race in district four is giving all indications of being a pretty warm one.

The number of coupons which had to be counted Saturday night certainly shows that the girls are busy every minute.

Miss Annie Singellton, of South Plainfield, district four, has the highest vote of all the districts, but it is safe to say that a number will pass her present mark before the end of the week.

The Scrap Book

Won by More Than a Hair.

Curtis Guild, former governor of Massachusetts, was once asked for the funniest story he ever heard. This is the story he told: "An Irishman and a Jew were discussing the great men who had belonged to each race and, as may be expected, got into a heated argument. Finally the Irishman said: 'Ikey, listen. For ivery great Jew ye can name ye may pull out one of me whiskers, an' for ivery great Irishman I can name I'll pull one of yours. Is it a go?' Ikey consented, and Pat reached over, got hold of a whisker, said 'Robert Emmet' and pulled. 'Moses!' said Ikey and pulled one of Pat's tenderest. 'Dan O'Connell,' said Pat and took another. 'Abraham,' said Ikey, helping himself again. 'Patrick Henry,' returned Pat with a vicious yank. 'The twelve apostles,' said Ikey, taking a handful of whiskers. Pat emitted a roar of pain, grasped Ikey's beard with both hands and yelled, 'The Ancient Order of Hibernians!'"

Two Ways.

Wouldst thou be wretched? 'Tis an easy way.
Think but of self, and self alone, all day—
Think of thy pain, thy grief, thy loss, thy care,
All thou hast to do or feel or bear.
Think of thy good, thy pleasure or thy gain,
Think only of thyself. 'Twill not be vain.

Wouldst thou be happy? Take an easy way.
Think of those round thee—live for them all day.
Think of their pain, their loss, their grief, their care,
All that they have to do or feel or bear.
Think of their pleasure, of their good, their gain,
Think of those round thee. It will not be vain.

Can't Beat the Lawyers.

On the occasion of a football match in England between a number of military officers and a team of lawyers the former had prepared a splendid lunch for the visitors before the game. Both teams did thorough justice to the lunch, and the legal gentlemen going in strong for champagne and cigars, the officers anticipated an easy victory. On looking toward the football ground, however, after lunch the officers espied a remarkably fresh looking lot of giants kicking the ball about and in amazement asked the guests who the strangers were. "Oh," replied one of them, finishing his last glass of champagne, "those are our playing team. We are only the lunching team, you know."

Committees Report $16,196.50 Addition to Muhlenberg Hospital Campaign Fund.

ONE MORE DAY FOR WORK

Five Thousand in Memory of Craig A. Marsh, late Corporation Counsel—Francis DuBois Cables from France a Similar Contribution.

The women's committee of one hundred reported $944.61 in subscriptions to the Muhlenberg Hospital fund when it met at the Y. M. C. A., making the grand total to date, $121,700.17. The women reported a total of 1,034 pledges since they began work last week, of which number 211 were secured since yesterday noon. Tonight the last daily dinner will be given. All the workers will meet at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Y. M. C. A. The women will sit in the centre of the hall, with the Citizens' committee on the right and the Young Business Men's committee on the left. Final reports will then be made.

It was learned today that among the contributors to the fund were United States Senator John Kean and Frank Bergen. The amount of their subscriptions were not sated. It was also announced this afternoon that L. W. Serrell had contributed a vacuum cleaner for the hospital and the gift was accepted with thanks. The detailed report of the women's work today follows:

Previously reported	$7,852.85
Women's Committee	944.61
Grand total	$8,797.46

The Divisions of the Women's Committee reported as follows:

Div. L. Mrs. E. H. Ladd, Jr.	60.00
Div. M, Mrs. T. H. Leggett	56.25
Div. O, Mrs. Isaac Schwerl	57.00
Div. R, Mrs. H. K. Tetsuka	229.50
Div. S, Mrs. Frank Warren	193.20
Div. T, Mrs. J. C. Gilbert	165.61
Div. W, Mrs. J. G. Foster	62.75
Div. X, Mrs. Daniel Runkle	83.19
Div. Y, Mrs. J. M. Whiton	12.70
Div. Z, Mrs. Charles P. Titsworth	24.50
	$ 944.61

The workers in the twelve-day campaign were given a great surprise at the daily dinner at the Y. M. C. A. last night, when amounts aggregating $15,251.89 were reported by the various captains, making the grand total up to that time, $120,754.06.

This big jump in the fund was made possible by two contributions of $5,000 each. One was received by cable from Francis DuBois, of Belvidere avenue, who is now in Southern France, and was announced by S. D. Lounsbery. The other $5,000 was given by Mrs. Mary C. Marsh, in memory of her late husband, Craig A. Marsh, and is to be used for the erection of a pathological pavilion. This sum will permit the erection of such a building fully equipped, and will make a fitting memorial to the late Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, who served the city so faithfully for many years. The contribution was announced by O. T. Waring, executor of the Marsh estate, and it was reported for Team No. 8, of which J.

PRES'T TAFT ENDORSED BY UNION CO. COMMITTEE

Resolution Favoring His Renomination and Election Unanimously Passed-Committee to Have New Headquarters on April 1.

By an unanimous vote the Union County Republican Committee, at Elizabeth last night, passed resolutions strongly supporting President William Howard Taft for a renomination and re-election. County Chairman Frank H. Smith, in presenting the resolutions, made a brief speech declaring that the sentiment throughout the county he had found by a careful investigation is united for Taft and that the party's voters generally approve of his administration of the nation's affairs. His remarks were roundly applauded and the resolutions which follow were speedily adopted:

"For half a century, excepting only the time covered by the administrations of President Cleveland, the Republican party has been continuously intrusted with the governmental affairs of this nation; the exceptional years and quick return to former policies but emphasize the confidence of our citizens in the Republican party. It has always been the party of progress. Its accomplishments in the past make the brightest pages in the Nation's history. In all times the development and adoption of true reforms has been progressive not spasmodic, gradual not instantaneous—along conservative, not anarchistic lines. The recognition of the absolute independence of the co-ordinate divisions of our government into the Executive, Legislative and Judicial as created by the Constitution is a fundamental requisite to the permanence of this government; the assumption by one, of the function and powers of the other, will lead to confusion and anarchy, despotism not liberty. No chief magistrate has manifested a greater desire to support the spirit as well as the letter of the Constitution, to uphold our laws and the courts enforcing them than our President; of calm and judicious temperament he has steadfastly and faithfully performed the arduous duties of his great office under trying circumstances, in accord with the laws of the land, and the solemn obligations he took when he assumed the duties of President. At home and abroad he is honored and respected because he has faithfully discharged the duties and maintained the dignity of his high office an-

SOCIALISTS DON'T MENACE AMERICA

Nothing to Fear From Them or Other Theorists, Says Mr. Fox.

THEY CAN TEACH US THINGS

German Socialism "a Perfectly Tame Reform Without a Drop of Blood" Class Hatred the Bane of the American Wing.

"Germany's Care of the Working Classes; State Socialism; Problems of the Employment of Women," was the subject of a lecture given by Hugh Francis Fox before the members of the Monday Afternoon Club yesterday. While Mr. Fox touched on all three phases of his subject, he dwelt most on the care of the working classes and tate Socialism. In part he said:

"The progress of socialism in Germany is really the progress of 'The Social Movement;' the rising tide of democracy. Prof. Simkhovitch in his recent reveiw of Spargo's 'Life and Work of Karl Marx,' declares that the literature on Marxism reflects the collapse of scientific socialism, and the general transition from revolutionary socialism to reformism. 'Marxism as a theory collapsed and was buried under the wreck of revolutionary socialism. What is called socialism today is a perfectly tame social reform without a drop of blood even in its cheek, but with the phrases and war-cries of the old fighters.'

"The socialist party in the United States is still too strongly imbued with the revolutionary spirit of former days to be willing to make any compromise. The bane of American socialism is class-hatred, which is constantly preached by the socialist organs, and by a large proportion of the socialist leaders. In German socialism, as we have seen from the development of the social democratic party, is no longer a science, but a rapidly changing popular movement.

"American socialism is still in its formative period, and while the cultured members of the party look to revisionism rather than revolution the majority of its adherents are bitterly narrow and opinionated, and their doctrines are for the most part bitterly impractical and Utopian.

"Socialism is a protest against the evils of organized society. The social democratic party in Germany has undoubtedly done great things for Germany, and I believe socialism is destined to do much for the United States, when it has found itself. We are too practical a people to be impressed by the doctrinaire socialism of the Marx type, but we are, at the same time, an open-minded and a political adventurous people. Indeed it seems to me that we are too easily allured by experiments in popular government, without having firm and well-informed convictions as to the functions and limitations of our government.

"This country is not only a crucible of the nations, but the malting pot for ideas and economic theories. Fortunately, we have very little pride of opinion, and under the logic of events, we can change our mind very quickly. We need not, therefore, fear such movements as socialism, or any other 'ism' that is put forth as a panacea. We shall, if we are wise, listen to the socialists, study them, and learn from them and then apply to our own needs and conditions, any of the principles and plans of the socialists that are immediately practical.

"Our government is destined to become more and more co-operative but it will take many years of training in the administration of public affairs before we can hope to develop the men and the methods that will insure the success of large communal undertakings. It must be remembered that the older nations evolved a governing class, which according to its lights was certainly efficient however unjust it may have been. Germany and England have evolved a civil service system out of this governing class, which is highly trained and professionally equipped for administrative work, while we in the United tates are only just beginning to learn that there is a science of government."

CHOICE OF PITNEY A GRATIFYING ONE

Gov. Wilson, Atty. Gen. Wilson and Others Warmly Approve Taft's Selection.

M'CARTER SAYS 'EXCELLENT

Many Men in Public Life Express Their Appreciation of Nomination for United States Supreme Court Bench.

Trenton, Feb. 20.—The appointment of Chancellor Mahlon Pitney yesterday afternoon by President Taft as Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was particularly gratifying to Governor Wilson. Last night the Governor commented on the appointment as follows:

"I have known Chancellor Pitney ever since we were young men together at college, and I feel that both in character and in attainments he is singularly fitted for the great position for which the President has chosen him. I think New Jersey is to be congratulated upon this choice of a representative and that the court will find itself enriched by his presence."

Attorney-General Edmund Wilson said: "It is a splendid selection. In my opinion Judge Pitney is a peer of the best of the many distinguished men who have served upon the Supreme Court bench."

Former Attorney-General Robert H. McCarter thought the appointment an excellent one.

William H. Corbin, of Jersey City, said: Mr. Pitney is a man of great vigor, a studicus and industrious lawyer and is a strong, learned and just judge."

These members of the New Jersey Legislature who are lawyers were pleased at the appointment.

Speaker Thomas F. McCran, of the Assembly, said: "It is a magnificent appointment."

Assistant Attorney-General Nelson B. Gaskill said: "It will be a great gain to the country and a great loss to New Jersey," he said.

Men to Cook.

The Dutch Aarms of the Netherwood Reformed church met last night at the home of E. D. Wills, in Summer avenue, and decided to hold a supper in the church on Thursday, March 7. The men will cook and serve the supper themselves.

LEANDER N. LOVELL DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Former President of the Plainfield Board of Education and One of City's Most Valuable Citizens Has Passed Away.

Leander Newton Lovell, for nearly thirty years a prominent resident of this city, died late yesterday afternoon at his home, 112 Crescent avenue, following a long illness. His death was due to complications. For some time it was known that Mr. Lovell's condition was such as to cause much anxiety among the members of his family and friends, and because of it he was recently compelled to resign as a member of the Board of Education.

Mr. Lovell was born in New England and early in life removed to New York, from which place he came to Plainfield about three decades ago. Throughout his entire residence here he was identified actively with the public school system and took a lively interest in city affairs generally. He was a member of the Board of Education for eighteen years, and president of the board since the death of Dr. John H. Probasco in 1908. He was president of the New Jersey Chapter of the Society of the Mayflower.

While a member of the Board of Education, Mr. Lovell gave to the work much judgment, energy and time and the successful plans of the board were in a large measure due to his foresight. In countless ways he helped to make the local school system the success that it has been and is today and in his retirement from the board the other members realized the great loss to the cause of education in this city.

Mr. Lovell was senior elder of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, and closely identified with the active work of the church and chapels. He was the first superintendent of Warren chapel in 1894 which position he held for nearly ten years. The work of the chapel progressed without interruption throughout his period of service here.

It has been said of Mr. Lovell that perhaps no one in the city possessed better business judgment and in his religious work he was a potent force in the community. He possessed sterling qualities that combined to make him one of the highest types of citizens. He rendered service in such a quiet way that only a few knew of his benefactions.

For many years Mr. Lovell was engaged in the wholesale coal business in New York, in which he was very successful. A few years later he entered the fire insurance business and became president of the Northern Insurance Co. of New York. He was ranked as one the authorities in fire insurance matters.

Besides his wife, Mr. Lovell is survived by five sons and three daughters. The sons are Rev. Gilbert B. Lovell, a missionary in China, who recently returned home; Richard Lovell, who is engaged in Y. M. C. A. work at Fall River, Mass., as physical director; Harry N. Lovell of Boston; Arthur Lovell, a New York lawyer, and Leander D. Lovell of this city. The daughters are the Misses Phebe, Laura and Helen LoLvell, all living at home.

The funeral will be held from the residence Thursday morning at 11 o'clock and the burial will be at Fall River, Mass.

SOME BEAUTIES OF SWITZERLAND

Lakes and Cities Abound in in Sights to Fill Tourists' Eyes.

CONTEST GETTING WARMER

Interest in the Race for the Guerdons of Popularity Becoming Keener Every Day—Competition Is Still Wide Open.

The scenery in Switzerland, which will be seen by the Daily Press European tourists, is generally conceded to be the most beautiful of any country in the world. Owing to the peculiar formation of the land there are innumerable lakes and rivers, and the majority of them are picturesque in the extreme.

The Rhine, of course, is the best known river, and the trip down the Rhine is in itself an event which will live in your memory for many years to come. The largest lake is Lake Geneva, on which the Press party will sail in going from Lausanne to Geneva.

Among the cities which the Daily Press party will visit in Switzerland are Lucerne, Vitznau, Interlaken, Alpnacht, Lungren, Meiringen and Geneva. In each of these cities are side excursions to interesting points and nowhere else are so many places of interest to be seen.

Perhaps the most picturesque places are Lausanne and Lucerne. Lausanne is noted for the Lausanne

LITTLE FIRE BUT MUCH EXCITEMENT

Three Children and a Stout Woman Are "Rescued" at a $75 Blaze.

HERO AND HIS BURDEN FALL

Firemen Clark and Heavy Mrs Brown Tumble from Ladder—Locomotive Engineer Brings Rescue Force out With His Whistle.

Four "rescues" marked a fire at 530 West Second street early today. The fire itself was a little one, but it sent the occupants of the house into wild excitement.

The engineer of a passing train saw it from his cab at 1:50 o'clock this morning and his whistle shrilled an alarm.

Patrolman O'Keefe heard the whistle and located the fire. The front door of the house was ablaze and the flames had begun to burn in the front hall. The house was full of smoke.

The dwelling is occupied by the families of Silas Brown and Lewis Payne, colored. When O'Keefe got to the house the families were awake but full of panic. O'Keefe ran inside and carried one of the Brown children out. Then he turned in an alarm.

When the firemen arrived two other children, and Mrs. Brown were still in the house. The men carried out the children, and Fireman Joseph Clark ran a ladder up to a rear window to get out Mrs. Brown, who was calling for help.

Mrs. Brown's build is of the style known as ample. Clark had to turn to get her through the window, and after going halfway down the ladder he and his burden fell. They were not hurt.

The flames were put out before more than $75 damage, confined to the door and parts of the front wall had been done. There was plenty of evidence, Chief Doane said today that the blaze originated in a fire started on the stoop close to the door. It looked a good deal like incendiarism, he said, but might have been the result of a locomotive spark.

Final Call.

MISS ADELE VonOHL IS A CLEVER ARTIST

Few persons are aware that Miss Adele VonOhl, of this city, is an artist of ability. While on her western trip last summer she painted in Los Angeles a number of pictures which were put on exhibition, receiving criticism most gratifying to an amateur. Her painting of "Aristocrat" her famous stallion may be seen in Rowley's drug store window next door to Proctors.

Miss VonOhl will give an exhibition or horsemanship at the Plainfield theatre on Washington's Birthday, matinee and evening. She will also recite "Pickett's Charge."

Dr. Ard to Lecture.

Under the auspices of the Mothers' association, Dr. Frank C. Ard will deliver an address at the High School building on Friday afternoon at 3:45. His subject will be "The Prevention of Disease in the Eye and Ear." A question box will be placed at the door and questions will be answered by the specialist. The public is invited. Dr. N. H. Probasco's second lecture has been postponed until March 22.

To Give a Recital.

Edward A. Mead, of New York, will give a recital of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," at the First Baptist church, Thursday night, February 29, under the auspices of the Men's Conference Class. This will be the first of a series of lecture-entertainments.

Only Those on "the Inside" Get Hint of the Action Beforehand—North Plainfield Invited to Join in New Plan.

The Plainfield Common Council at an adjourned meeting, last night, decided not to join with North Plainfield in building a trunk line sewer to the Cramer farm. A resolution was adpoted favoring a new plan, with what is known as the Darling or Leib property in Piscataway township, as the place for building the disposal works. The borough is invited to join the city in the latest plan.

To those who were not on the "inside" the new proposition was a surprise; especially to Borough Councilman Alexander Milne, who sat in the lobby.

Councilman W. L. Gloak showed displeasure over the delay in acting upon the resolution to join the borough and go to the Cramer farm, and forced a vote on that resolution. It was turned down by a vote of six to two, Councilmen Gloak and W. W. Wilson supporting the resolution and Councilmen Endress, Holt, Reille, Taylor and Tolles voting against its adoption.

Following an explanation by Councilman Holt that a new plan and site for a dispoal works had been considered and was favored by a majority of the members, he offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the Common Council that it is not desirable that the city of Plainfield should join with North Plainfield in a joint sewer system with disposal works to be located at the Cramer farm; but that the corporation counsel and the city surveyor be instructed to advise the Common Council with respect to the procedure and expense of locating disposal works at the Darling farm, in Piscataway township, and constructing a trunk sewer thereto, and that a sum not exceeding $500 be appropriated for that purpose."

Action was not taken until after the Council had devoted nearly fifty minutes to a recess to consider it.

It was explained by Mr. Holt that the Council had been trying to solve the sewer proposition in a satisfactory manner, but after careful consideration it was the opinion that the Cramer farm is not favored. He said that if the new plan was feasible it would mean a saving to Plainfield of nearly $60,000, the $33,000 to extend pipes and connect with the borough system at the Cramer farm and about $30,000 estimated cost for excavation.

Mr. Holt said that the Darling farm seemed to offer the greatest number of advantages, the site being further removed from Dunellen and Bound Brook, and in the opinion of those who had investigated the matter would meet with less objection than either the Cramer or Zvolenck farm. He said that the site is on low ground and would obviate the necessity of excavation.

It was further urged by Mr. Holt that if the new site was found to be desirable that favorable action be taken at once. He said that the sentiment of the Council was that it would be glad to have North Plainfield join with the city in going to the Darling farm. This site is located on the southeast side of Green brook, and therefore do away with the previous plan which provided that the city cross the brook in order to reach the Cramer or Zvolenck farm.

After the meeting Mr. Holt said that the proposed site would have to be secured through condemnation proceedings. A copy of the resolution adopted last night was ordered sent to the North Plainfield Council.

TWO AUTOS LOSE FRONT WHEELS THROUGH SKIDDING.

Wet pavements caused two accidents to automobiles today. One was to the machine of Dr. J. C. Anderson at Watchung and East Fourth street. The car skidded against the curb breaking the front wheel. Charles L. Stanley, driving on West Front street, slid into the curb in the same manner at Park avenue and also lost his front wheel.

Firemen Transferred.

James Fitzpatrick has been transferred from No. 3 fire house to No. 1 under Captain George Mehl, and William Jaeger, driver at No. 1 house, has been transferred to No. 3 house. This change is made owing to recent trouble between Jaeger and Captain George Feiring at No. 1 house.

TELL LEGISLATORS OF HARBOR NEEDS

Urge New Jersey and New York to Work Together.

PRESENT PORT CONGESTED

Governor Wilson, Mayor Donnelly, Head of Ship Canal Commission, and New York Dock Commissioner Speak at Meeting in Trenton to Plan Development of Dock Facilities.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 20.—Governor Wilson, Calvin Tomkins, dock commissioner of New York city; Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly of this city, president of the New Jersey ship canal commission, and Ernest J. Hephenheimer, president of the New Jersey harbor commission, were the speakers at a hearing in the assembly chamber at the statehouse on the projects of developing the port of New York and constructing a ship canal across the state from New York bay to the Delaware river. There was a large attendance of riparian owners, manufacturers and others interested in the proposal.

The governor referred to the importance of the projects because of the commercial and industrial development that are immediately ahead in America and because the changes when they begin will operate very rapidly.

These changes, Governor Wilson said, will come from two sources, and he said the commerce of this country, so far as international exchanges are concerned, is "about to burst its jacket." He said our exports of manufactured articles are increasing by leaps and bounds. He said that it meant that every harbor of consequence must be repaired and united with each other wherever possible. It means that mere seafaring traffic can no longer be depended upon, but that there must be intracoastal deep waterways.

The governor said the port of New York, with its present trade, was a thing congested and embarrassed by lack of development.

Calvin Tomkins asserted that the administration of the interstate port of New York and New Jersey is in reality an international responsibility. He said that on completion of the Panama canal New York will become the principal port of transhipment for oriental and occidental commerce, the world's greatest port.

"Terminal improvements at great seaports can be made to pay for themselves," Mr. Tomkins said, "but the initial credit must be publicly advanced. A recent constitutional amendment of the state of New York exempts self sustaining dock bonds from the debt limit of the city. This makes available for New York city a dock fund aggregating possibly $73,000,000. I venture to suggest the desirability of the passage of a similar constitutional amendment by the state of New Jersey to enable it to meet its port responsibilities. This suggestion will doubtless jar the sensibilities of many conservative people, but I believe such an amendment will ultimately be found necessary unless New Jersey continues to acquiesce in permitting New York to reap most of the commercial and industrial advantages which should be common to both."

THIEVES ENDANGER LIVES.

Almost Asphyxiate Score In Hotel by Opening Gas Meter.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 20.—Gas meter thieves, who have reaped a harvest in a series of robberies which have terrorized the central section of the city during the cold snap, endangered the lives of a score of guests at the Hotel Meyerdale, on South Carolina avenue.

In smashing the meter to get the quarters inside they disconnected the pipes, permitting the gas to flow at full pressure. The fumes aroused the suspicions of a milkman as he left his order at the house, and he aroused the occupants, who fought their way to windows in time to escape asphyxiation.

MAY SUCCEED PITNEY.

Believed That Mr. Walker, Vice Chancellor, May Get Place.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 20.—Following the selection of Mahlon Pitney for the supreme court of the United States it is regarded as likely that Vice Chancellor Edwin Robert Walker of this city will be appointed by Governor Wilson to the office of chancellor. Vice Chancellor Walker is fifty years old and a Democrat.

The practice has been to keep the chancery court evenly divided politically. If one of the Democratic vice chancellors is elevated to the chancellorship his successor probably will be a Republican.

WOMAN'S "RAT" SAVES LIFE.

Dancing on Atlantic City Pier, She Falls on Head.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 20.—A "rat" worn by Mrs. Florence Somers saved her from serious injury when she slipped and fell on the smooth dance floor of one of the piers here.

Her head struck the floor with fearful force, rendering her unconscious for a half hour. The physician who attended her declared that the "rat" acted as a buffer and saved her life.

Plainfield, N. J., February 20, 1912.

The attitude of the Republican organization in Union county on the party Presidential nomination preference was forecasted when the county chairman announced in this paper that a careful canvass made by him had brought out the fact that Union is overwhelmingly in favor of Taft. Accepting this as the prevailing sentiment, the county committee last night without a dissenting voice went on record as favoring a renomination. "In the firm conviction that the present and future welfare of our great and loved country will be best prompted," the party's organization pledges itself to not only support Mr. Taft's candidacy but to use every honorable effort to insure his re-election.

"No chief magistrate has manifested a greater desire to support the spirit as well as the letter of the Constitution; of calm and judicious temperament he has steadfastly and faithfully performed the arduous duties of his great office under trying circumstances, in accordance with the laws of the land and solemn obligations he took when he assumed the duties of President." In this language is the resolution couched. Its purpose is undoubtedly to make a comparison between Taft and Roosevelt from the standpoint of the Taft adherent.

The supporters of Taft have shown good judgment in marshalling their forces early. In so doing they will be in a position to battle against Roosevelt sentiment, wherever it may be found. So far, however, no concerted movement for the former President has been evident in Union county, for as we said the other day there is no leader and without an able and popular man in charge of their campaign the Roosevelt people can accomplish little if anything.

The New York Evening Mail printed a story on Saturday night in which it was stated that out of twenty-two Republican Governors of States in the Union only four felt sure that President Taft, were he a candidate for re-election, could carry their states. These were the executives of the rock-ribbed Republican states of Delaware, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont. On the other hand not one of the twenty-two would say that Roosevelt could not carry his State. Twelve were sure that Taft could not carry their states, and six doubted that he could be successful in the commonwealths over which they ruled. That seems to about sum up the Republican presidential situation today. In the mean time the nation is awaiting with interest the speech which Mr. Roosevelt will make tomorrow before the Ohio Constitutional convention.

President Taft has made a wise selection for the United States Supreme Court in the naming of Chancellor Pitney, of New Jersey, to the highest bench in the land. The Court will be materially strengthened by the addition of the New Jersey jurist, whose splendid decisions have brought forth praise from both laymen and lawyers ever since he was first appointed on the bench of the Supreme Court of the State, from which he was later elevated to the Chancellorship, to succeed William J. Magie. Throughout his entire career Chancellor Pitney has shone as a fair-minded and just man and judge. His record in Congress was of the best. The nation is to be congratulated upon securing the services of so great a jurist, and at the same time the New Jersey bench and bar will greatly regret the loss of so able a member.

In religious and educational work, Leander Newton Lovell, who died yesterday, made his impression upon the community. He was a man of large heart and pronounced interest in his fellow-men. For three decades he had worked constantly for the betterment of the comunity. Deeply religious he did much for the upbuilding of the Crescent Avenue church and its auxiliary chapels. It was, however, his efforts as a member of the Board of Education that he was best known. During the eighteen years of his service in that body he was an indefatigable worker and the present excellent standard of our public school system is in no small measure due to him.

Communications on timely subjects are invited by the Daily Press. The views of any resident on any current matter will be published cheerfully.

ashes will take place and distribution made at the close; special service and sermon by Rev. Father B. M. Bogan at 8 p. m., followed by a second distribution of ashes.

St. Joseph's church: Special mass and blessing of ashes at 7:30, followed by distribution of ashes; evening service and sermon on Lenten observance at 8 o'clock. Ashes will be distributed at the close to those not present in the morning.

The services at the Holy Cross church tomorrow, which will be in charge of the rector, Rev. William S. McCoy, will include Holy Communion at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, followed at 11 o'clock with litany, penetential office and sermon. The evening prayer and sermon will be at 7:45 o'clock.

Rev. C. H. Mallery, rector, will have charge of the services at the Church of the Heavenly Rest. At 10 o'clock there will be penetential office and Holy Eucharist and at 7:30 o'clock there will be evensong and address by the rector.

At Grace church the rector, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson and his assistant, the Rev. J. G. Currier, will be in charge of the services, which will be as follows: 7 a. m., Holy Communion; 10 a. m., notices and the Holy Communion; 12 noon, litany and Penitential office; 8 p. m. evensong and sermon by the rector.

The prescribed services will also be conducted at St. Stephen's church by the new rector, Rev. Wardner Esmon Lee Ward.

Council Authorizes Committee to Buy Him Car That Can be Counted on.

TREE CONSERVERS NEED $2800

John S. Dahl's Application for Petition as Building Inspector Referred to Committee—Adverse Report on Ice Company Siding.

Chief T. O. Doane is to have a "real" automobile, one that can be depended upon to take him to fires, without the possibility of a breakdown en route. The Common Council, at its meeting, last night, authorized the fire and building committee to purchase at a cost not to exceed $870, a 30 horse-power E. M. F. automobile of Andrew C. Thompson, of Park avenue, for the use of Chief Doane.

The Shade Tree Commission made a requisition on the council for $2,500 as the amount needed for its work during the coming year, and in addition $300 for the care of the city park, asking that those amounts be included in the tax budget The matter was referred

John S. Dahl made application for the position of building inspector and this was referred to the fire and building committee.

Ordinances, maps, specifications, etc., were presented by Councilman W. L. Gloak, chairman of the street committee, providing for the opening of Manson place, Halsey, McDowell and Bergen streets, between West Third and West Fourth streets. The ordinances were adopted on two readings, ordered advertised and Monday night, March 11, at 8 o'clock was fixed as the time for a public hearing.

Mr. Gloak reported adversely on the application of the Plainfield Ice Company for permission to build and extend a sliding over Richmond street to its plant. At the request of President Tolles the application will be considered further by the committee.

The council adjourned to meet on Monday night, February 26, when the liquor license applications will be acter upon.

conserved the true interests of the American people as well as insured respect and honor for our flag everywhere.

"Therefore resolved that we the Union County Republican Executive Committee in regular meeting assembled do hereby heartily endorse the administration of our President; and in the firm conviction that the present and future welfare of our great and loved country will be thereby best promoted, we do heartily favor the renomination of our President at the approaching National convention, and pledge ourselves not only to support the renomination but also to make every honorable effort to insure the re-election of William H. Taft as President of these United States."

In praising the President, the county chairman read a letter he had received from George P. Mellick, one of the foremost men of Plainfield.

Mr. Mellick's letter follows:

218 East Seventh street,
Plainfield, N. J.,
Feb. 16, 1912.

Mr. Frank H. Smith, Chairman,
Union County Republican Committee
Plainfield, N. J.:

My dear Mr. Smith—

I was much interested in reading of your canvas among the Republicans throughout the county, and to know that you are confident that public sentiment favors the renomination of President William H. Taft. It seems to me that there should be no wavering on the part of the Republicans of our State or of our country as to the renomination and re-election to the Presidency of one who has certainly endeavored conscientiously during his first term to live up to the policy of his party's platform, and to the faithful performance of the duties of his office. Mr. William H. Taft is the logical candidate and I certainly hope that the delegates of the State of New Jersey will be solid for his renomination as Presidential candidate.

Believe me to be,
Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) GEORGE P. MELLICK

It was decided to remove the county headquarters from the Dix building to the Woodruff building, which is also on Broad street. The latter is a three-story structure. The first floor will be arranged for parlors, committee rooms, secretaries' offices, etc. The second will serve as the county committees assembly room and the third will be the janitor's apartments.

While the rent is considerably higher the committee expects to meet it by voluntary contributions of $5 each from loyal Republicans throughout the county. These contributions may be sent to the county chairman or to the county secretary. The executive committee, whose report recommending the lease of the Woodruff building, was adopted, plans to hold numerous public functions of a literary and social nature and an entertainment committee will be appointed as will also a house committee.

The county committee will remove to its new headquarters on April 1. It was decided also to incorporate the county committee and authority was given the executive committee for that purpose.

VETERANS WHISKER'S TWITCHED BY A BULLET

Westfield, Feb. 20 (Special).—William J. Spofford, a local express messenger and a war veteran, counts himself a lucky individual. Last Saturday a bullet passed through his chin-whiskers, and Mr. Spofford shivers when he thinks about what would have happened had it gone a little higher.

The incident occurred on a Brooklyn elevated train. Mr. Spofford was reading a newspaper, when a sharp "crack" caused him to look up. At the same time his whiskers twitched.

Mr. Spofford returned to his paper. A passenger sitting behind him nudged him on the shoulder and whispered in a quaking voice:

"Good old boy, you had a narrow escape."

It was only then Mr. Spofford discovered that the noise he heard was the breaking of a car window when a bullet crashed through and embedded itself in the opposite side of the car. He hasn't any idea of where the shot came from.

Miss Elma Dufford, of West Front street, who has been detained at home by illness since Saturday, is improved and able to be out again.

SILVER CROSS CIRCLE HOLDS SUCCESSFUL SALE AND TEA

Under the auspices of the Silver Cross Circle of The King's Daughters, a successful sale and tea was held at the Park Club yesterday afternoon, and in addition, Edward A. Mead, of Newark, gave a delightful reading of "The Cricket on the Hearth." The affair was largely attended.

The entertainment committee comprised Mrs. W. R. Faber, Mrs. F. E. DuBois, Miss Susie P. DuBois, Mrs. H. E. Haws, Mrs. Lewis A. Williams, Jr., Mrs. T. E. Rhoades, Mrs. Howard Turrill, Mrs. A. B. Laing and Mrs F. W. French.

Mrs. F. W. French and Mrs. Henry C. White poured tea. Mrs. T. E. Rhoades and Mrs. Howard Turrill presided at the candy table. Other members of the circle assisted. Mrs. Everitt Murray, Mrs. W. J. Roome, Jr., and Miss Daisy Elsberg comprised the committee on decorations.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, expects to remove from Kingston, N. Y., to this city, soon. Miss White, of Kingston, a cousin, and Miss Lynden, of this city, a niece, will make their home with Dr. Strong.

BEAUTIES OF SWITZERLAND

Cathedral, which commands an extensive view of the lake and the Alps, while in Lucerne there are innumerable points of beauty and interest. The time spent in Switzerland by the Press party will be a treat which is alone worth more than the effort required to win the entire trip.

The girls who have been complimented by nominations in the Press European tours contest are realizing the exceptional nature of the opportunity presented to them, and many are taking up the work of seeking for votes as each day passes. Each one of the outside districts has been alloted one of these choice vacation tours, and it is apparent to the thinking person that the chances of the two months' tour of Europe going to the winning candidates in these districts is at least as good as those of the Plainfield districts. All it takes is a sincere, determined and continuous effort during the next few weeks to make the honor of membership in one of these representative parties yours.

Everyone is eagerly watching the race as the voting progresses from day today, and many are wondering why some of the contestants have not asked them for the subscription vote which is waiting for her. The people are always interested in leaders, and it is the candidate at or near the top who attracts attention. See that your name is not too far down in the list.

As has been said before, the entry list is still open. In some districts the name of the winner may not yet be on the list. Carefully consider your chances of winning, think of the work required, and then if you do not agree that the reward is worth many times the effort, it will show that you have not fully and comprehensively considered the proposition.

The vote today:

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Junior C. E. Society of Trinity Reformed church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 o'clock.

There will be a rehearsal of the "Singin' Skewl" entertainment at the Temple Baptist church, tonight.

Owing to the C. E. rally at the Temple Baptist church, Friday night, the teacher training class will not meet.

The women of the Park Avenue Baptist church will not meet at the church, Thursday, owing to that day being a holiday.

The Lord's Supper will be observed at Trinity Reformed church Sunday morning, March 3, with reception of members.

Owing to the present hospital campaign the regular offering for that institution will not be taken at Trinity Reformed church next Sunday.

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, will preach a five-minute sermon to boys and girls next Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire delivered a lecture in the Central Baptist church, Trenton, last night for the benefit of the Trenton City Mission Society.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Temple Baptist church will not meet with Mrs. Valentine Utzinger, of Grandview avenue, Thursday, owing to it being a holiday. The meeting is postponed one week.

The following have been appointed ushers at Trinity Reformed church for the Sunday evening services: LeRoy Woodhull, Harold W. Schenck, Louis R. VanNest, Allen Layton, Ralph D. Martin, William Tier, Jr.

The Plainfield Graded Union of Sunday School Teachers met at the Y. W. C. A. yesterday afternoon. Mrs. E. J. VanName led the devotions; Mrs. Miller the Bible study and Mrs. F. W. Jones taught the lesson. Mrs. J. W. Powlisen related the story about the lesson.

Captain and Mrs. Dent Bell, accompanied by several members of the New Brunswick Corps of the Salvation Army, will conduct a special service at the local corps tonight commencing at 8 o'clock. Several numbers of their life and drum corps will be present to furnish the music. The public is cordially invited to attend. At the service Sunday evening; which was well attended, Captain Hewitt enrolled four young people as junior soldiers of the local copps.

Edward Ten Eyck Surprised.

Edward Ten Eyck, of Maple avenue, South Plainfield, was tendered a surprise on Friday night by his friends. Those present were the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thorn, Mr. and Mrs. John Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Randolph and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clinger and children, Miss Lyda Faulks, Miss Grace Norman, Miss Marion Soper, Edward Horn, Monroe Pyatt, Howard Snowden, of South Plainfield; Harry Ten Eyck, of Manchen; Miss Florence Bunting and Mr. and Mrs. George Schenck, of New Market; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soper and family, of Jersey City; and Mrs. Bryant, of Plainfield. Mrs. Bryant is Mrs. Ten Eyck's grandmother and is ninety-three years old.

There will be initiation at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., Thursday night.

PLANTING SPRING BULBS FOR HOME DECORATION

HYACINTHS, TULIPS AND LILIES.

NOW is the time to set out bulbs for the spring garden. Tulips, hyacinths, crocuses, lilies, snowdrops, daffodils or narcissuses may be planted in bowls in the house, and if one is a little late the forcing process adopted by florists will bring them along rapidly, so that they will be ready to set out as soon as the weather justifies. Easter plants may be obtained in this way if one has been fortunate enough to think of planting the bulb in time. A light sandy soil is best and for the first few days seclusion from light. Hyacinths grown in water instead of in sand make pretty table ornaments.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SIMPLE BAKED PUDDINGS.

A CONVENIENT dessert for baking day is a pudding that can be slipped into the oven and browned while the baking is going on.

Of the baked puddings bread pudding is the best known and is perhaps the most popular if we except cottage.

Bread puddings are served under various names, depending on their flavor.

A Plain Dessert.

Bread Pudding.—Here is a simple recipe for bread pudding. Beat two eggs slightly and add to them a half cupful of granulated sugar. Stir in a quart of scalded milk, a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of spice and then grated breadcrumbs from which the crust has been removed. Place in a buttered dish and bake until a knife inserted in the pudding comes out clean.

A fruit pudding may be made by adding a cupful of mixed currants, raisins and citron to the mixture before baking.

The bread or fruit pudding may be further varied by putting only the yolks of the eggs into the pudding and beating the whites stiff with two and a half tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and spreading this over the top when it is almost done, then returning it to the oven until it is a delicate brown.

Crumb Pudding.—Soak half of a small baker's loaf in three cupfuls of milk for an hour. Mash and add another cupful of milk in which is stirred the yolks of four eggs and one-half cupful of sugar. Add four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-half cupful of shredded citron and one cupful of stoned raisins. Stir in at the very last the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs.

Have a mold with a central tube well buttered. Sprinkle with fine bread crumbs. Pour the pudding into the pan until about two-thirds full. Set the pan in the oven in a pan of hot water and bake thirty to forty minutes. Turn out into a shallow dish and serve with sauce.

New Silks.

In silks taffeta is to be the material par excellence—chiffon taffeta, glace taffeta, changeable or chameleon taffeta, shaded taffeta and taffeta reversible. A novelty is the changeable double faced taffeta. This fabric has two surfaces, both changeable, but different in colorings, giving two surfaces of equally interesting colorings.

Needlework Note.

Elderberries and their leaves make attractive designs for fancy work of different sorts. The berries themselves look natural because the wooden beads which are used to represent them are exact in size and colorings. Tan colored linen shows off this especial pattern to the best advantage.

—The La Follette candidacy might be got into the Republican convention on a writ of habeas corpus.—New York Evening Post.

MODISH FANCIES.

Features of the Spring Suits and Wraps—Shawl Draperies.

Novelty features in suit and separate coats consist of the sloping shoulders, belted and collarless effects, long rolling revers, side buttoning and large armholes.

Shawl draperies reign triumphant. They are made of the daintiest laces, rich brocades, soft silks and chiffons. Hardly an evening gown appears without this form of trimming.

The tunic dress is one of the newest and prettiest for little girls. This one is equally well adapted to one material throughout and to combinations. In the illustration it is made of striped voile, and the tunic is on straight lines, while the skirt is on the cross. It is a charming model for wash materials.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls of eight, ten and twelve years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7319, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

About Shoes.

Button gaiter boots are having a great vogue in Paris. The leading effect is perhaps mastic or ecru gaiter tops, with black patent leather fore part. Any number of new forms in gaiter styles are being shown, but a great vogue continues for the gaiter shoe which buttons in a straight line on the outside, with top and quarter of cloth, the fore part alone being of leather. Buttons on these models are large and flat.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

HE HELPS A FAT MAN.

GET A SUNDAY LID READY FOR BORO

Mayor and Police Chief Prepare to Enfore the Closing Ordinance.

ONE COMFORTING ASSURANCE

People Will Be Able to Get Papers and Necessaries—Fake Seventh Day Observers Will Feel the Official Lash.

The borough reform crusade, started yesterday against four storekeepers on Somerset street, for selling cigarettes to school children, assumed today a more sweeping aspect. Mayor Clark instructed Chief Marshall Weiss to notify all merchants who have been keeping their places of business open on Sunday to cease the practice, beginning Sunday, February 25.

In speaking of the order, Mayor Clark said that since the recent enforcement of the Sunday closing law by Plainfield, the borough has become a haven for a class that are not at all desirable and only make a convenience of North Plainfield business places, the proprietors of which, in many instances, have come to abuse the privilege extended.

The executive does not mean to make it harder for residents to secure their Sunday papers or impossible to purchase needed articles. What he means to put a stop to is the flagrant violation of the State law governing Sunday closing, and the trafficking in goods that can just as easily be procured on other days. The authorities will not permit specious evasion of the law by Saturday closing. General storekeepers who wish to keep open on Sundays will have to prove a real religious reason for closing on Saturday.

SOMERVILLE MAN KILLED BY A TRAIN AT DUNELLEN

The badly mangled body of John Martin, twenty-six years old, of Somerville, was found on the Jersey Central tracks a short distance west of the Dunellen depot at 6:15 last night. He had evidently been walking on the railroad and was struck by an east-bound express, the engineer failing to notice the fact. He had been extinct but a short time when discovery was made.

The victim's identity was established by means of cards and letters found in the pockets of the clothing. Relatives were apprised of the fatality by Undertaker W. G. Runyon, who first took the body in charge, and it was sent to Somerville this morning. It is not known how Martin came to be on the tracks at the point where he was killed.

RALPH ROSE TRYING FOR OLYMPIA TEAM

World's Champion Shot Putter Expects to be a Member.

CAN HE COME BACK? IS ASKED

Is Training Daily to Reach Form for Trials in San Francisco May 18—By a Severe Course Rose Hopes to Reduce From 310 to 250.

RALPH ROSE, WORLD'S CHAMPION SHOT PUTTER.

Can he come back? Ralph Rose, the greatest sixteen pound shot putter the world has ever seen, is in training for the Olympic trials in San Francisco May 18. The Rose of today is hardly a faded Rose of yesteryear; but, on the contrary, his former well known figure was but a shadow of what he is at the present time.

Today the mighty Rose weighs 310 pounds. His chest measurement is fifty-five inches, while his waist is a mere trifle of fifty inches. When in his prime Ralph always tipped the scales at over 250 pounds, and he stated recently that with the severe course of training that he intends to go through he can make his old weight without any trouble.

If Rose gets back into shape and is able to come near his world's record with the sixteen pound shot there should be no doubt that he will be named on the Olympic team to represent this country in Stockholm. The big fellow has always specialized in the shot event and is not backward in saying that if he can strike form he will win at Stockholm. He, however, expects a big struggle with the Finns and Swedes. The eastern weight men, McDonald of the New York Irish Americans, Beattie of the New York A. C. and Coe of Boston, are declared by Rose to have been the best shot men in this country during the past year. He thinks that Beattie has the best chance of the trio of placing in the Stockholm Olympiad.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY BUSY FOR TRAPSHOOTERS.

Local and suburban gunners are promised a good days sport at the Independent Gun Club traps on Washington's Birthday. Present indications are that if the weather is favorable there will be one of the largest fields after the blue rocks that has faced the traps in many a day. The severe weather put a damper on this pastime during the winter and all the marksmen are now keen for the smell of powder.

Fowling pieces that have been hung over fireplaces or stood up in corners of dark closets have been brought forth and burnished against the part they are to play in grassing the birds of clay.

LOCAL PINNERS RIGHT FOR ENDURANCE CONTEST

The endurance contest to be held on the Clympia alleys, Thursday, Washington's Birthday is arousing considerable interest among the local pin knights. It will start at high noon and will continue until midnight.

Ten teams will participate and they will be made up of the best talent in town. Some good pinning is looked for, as there is a decided rivalry existing both personally and between the teams in a number of instances, and the contest is expected to settle a number of arguments that have arisen on the drives during the season. The entry list closes tonight. Get in while it is good.

"MATTY" M'INTYRE HOME WITH PLANS AND CUBAN COIN

Friends here of "Matty" McIntyre, and they are not few, notwithstanding that he was rather unpopular on account of his prowess as a member of the Westfield team in 1897, where for the same reason he was an idol, will be glad to hear of his good luck during the winter. At the close of last season, which he finished with the White Sox, he organized a team and went barn storming in Cuba. Last week he returned to the United States with a well-filled purse and plans for a winter league on the southern isle after the season closes here.

The noble game of baseball has a strong grip on the Cubans and some classy teams are to be found in and around Havana and the other larger cities, Matty said. He went up against the best of them with his organization and made such a good showing that in nearly every town he received encouragement to come and stay. While in Westfield the other day looking over the field of his early conquests he met his old manager, Charles H. Denman, and to him confided the good news. It soon spread to this city and created complimentary comment among his friends.

EARL PITMAN TRAINING TEN EYCK'S RETA AMBULATOR

Westfield, Feb. 20, (Special).—John G. TenEyck, the local horseman, has shipped his classy bay pacer, Reta Ambulator, to Earl Pitman's training farm at Trenton. Pitman will get the local horse in shape for this year's campaign. Reta Ambulator has a matinee mark of 2.20¼ and its owner expects big things of the horse this season. Pitman, who was the biggest winner on one-half mile rings in the country last season will also handle the reins for Reta. Last season he scored big successes piloting Foote Prince, Helen Coastman, Annie C. and others.

Floreane, a green bay, out of Nellie Chimes, 2.11¾, by Chimes, which Mr. TenEyck recently purchased from Walter W. Mooney is also tipped to execute some creditable stunts on Jersey tracks next season.

Reta Ambulator had more "firsts" to her credit last season than any other Union county horse. She worked on all of the tracks in the county and also at Weequahic.

ELIZABETH ELKS TOOK TWO FROM QUEENSBORO.

Elizabeth Elks rolling on their own alleys last night captured two games from the Queensboro quintet as follows: 879-784 and 902-685. The visitors made a shift of Hogan and McGinnis in the third game, substituting Burke and Rittenhouse. The switch pulled out a win, 877-849.

The match scheduled between Jersey City and New Brunswick at the latter place was postponed.

Jeannette Easily Won.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—Joe Jeannette, an aspirant for heavyweight honors, had rather an easy time in defeating two boxers in the wind-up at the American Club last night. Jeannette's first opponent was Morris Harris, and the latter made a fairly good showing in the first round, but Jeannette easily had the better of the other two rounds. Chuck Charlton was Jeannette's second opponent, and though the first round was even, there was little doubt about the other two, which were Jeannette's by a good margin

Young Erne Saved from Knockout.

Easton, Pa., Feb. 20.—Only the interference of the referee saved Young Erne from a knockout in the third round of his bout with Pete McCarren, of Allentown, before the National A. C. here last night. Erne, his nose broken, both eyes closed and bleeding profusely, was completely at the mercy of his opponent when Referee Sheehan stopped the mill.

THE GINGER JAR

As being captain of the Yankees carries an additional $600 to the player's contract, there are two candidates for the job—Hal Chase and Harry Wolter.

Pitcher Slapnicka, the new Colonel, has been set down as an Austrian, a Bohemian, a Frenchman and an Indian. Louisville fans only hope he is a pitcher.

"They are too old and I don't want them around," is what Buck Freeman, manager of Scranton, is said to have said when offered Cy Seymour and Noah Henline by Baltimore. Come on fellows, here's a guy failing. Lets give him a push.

The Big Five of the local Elks, who will be one of the four hundred five-men teams in the N. B. A. tourney at Paterson next month ought to be able to show well to the front, judging from the way the lead is held in the Elks tournament and the fact that they are getting accustomed to attracting attention.

Do you like roast pig? Then I'll see you tonight at the Berkely in Bound Brook.

Yes, you can practice for that duck pin tournament some other night.

Manager Joe McGinnity and Business Manager Solomon, of the Newark International League club, will meet with the schedule committee at Providence tomorrow. They will endeavor to secure a game at Newark every Sunday during the season.

First Baseman George Stovall of the Cleveland Americans, has at last had his fate decided. He has been traded to St. Louis for Pitcher "Lefty" George.

Jack Doescher, former New Brunswick pitcher, yesterday signed a contract to pitch for the Jersey City team in the International League.

In the coming games with the Ajax basketball team, the P. H. S. five will greatly miss the services of Rickets. He has been banned from athletics for a violation of one of the school rules.

The Phillies have three pitchers whose combined height is eighteen and one half feet. They are Rasmussen, Ward and Hunt. Each one stands six feet two inches in his socks.

On account of the persistent hoodoo that has followed the Tiger captains, Manager Hughey Jennings says that this year the jungle band will be uncaptained.

The Tri-State league is to have an umpire who should be unterrified at all times. He is Tommy Keenan, the well known fight referee.

A FEW MORE DUCK PEN ENTRIES AND THEY'RE OFF.

Entries for the duck pin tournament are coming along nicely, only a few more being needed to fill and start the schedule. The little ones are finding much favor with the majority of enthusiasts, many of whom have been doing daily practice since the tournament talk started and are now fit to go in. The duckers make a better spring game than regular ten pins, so don't let the fever hold you back.

Fake Fight Man is Free.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 20.—F. Keenan, also known as the "Chicago Kid," was released from jail yesterday under the insolvency act. Some months ago judgment was secured against him for $15,000. It is alleged Keenan received this sum from Fritz Holznagle, a Scranton hotel man, when the latter was induced, at Newark, N. J., to post $15,000 on a fake prizefight at Bridgeport, Conn.

To Bowl Finals at Park Club.

The finals in the Park Club bowling tournament will be rolled tonight, the competing teams being the Long, Lyman and Mulford quintets. Captain Mulford's five by winning 26 and losing 4, holds the lead. Captain Long has 14 victories against 16 losses and the Lyman quintet can show 12 wins against 18 defeats.

Old Rivals Clash Tonight.

The noted rivals—South Paws and East Ends—will clash again tonight on the Olympia alleys in their third meeting. The left handers were victorious both times, but it will be different this time, say the vanquished.

Girls' Teams to Play.

The N. P. H. S. and P. H. S. girls' teams will clash Wednesday afternoon in the city high school gym.

WALTER BRODIE TO COACH RUTGERS SQUAD

Three local boys, students at Rutgers who are candidates for the baseball team, having showed up with the other thirty-six contestants for positions when the first call was issued last week, will come under the tutelage of Walter Brodie, the one time member of the pennant winning Orioles and later a Pirate.

Brodie has coached college teams before and performed in that capacity for Princeton freshmen several seasons. He will take the Rutgers squad under his wing early in March. The local aspirants are H. W. Schenck, of West Front street; Harry B. Smith and Harry Jackson, former members of the North Plainfield High School nine.

NOTABLE EXHIBITION BY ATHLETES AT Y.M.C.A.

An athletic event of considerable interest to gymnasts in general is booked for the Y. M. C. A. for Thursday, February 29, when the gymnasium team of the International Y. M. C. A. College, at Springfield, Mass., will appear in the local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The team is comprised of twelve men and in order that the program of calesthenics may not become monotonous to the spectators, there will be fancy dancing and musical selections by members of the squad.

Charles H. Line, formerly boys' secretary at the institution, is a member of the team and was largely instrumental in arranging for the exhibition here, which will unquestionably be the biggest thing in the indoor athletic line Plainfield has seen in some time.

The tentative program as at present arranged consists of mandolin and zither selections, free hand drills, parallel bar stunts, club swinging, pyramid forming, horizontal bar exercises and a wand drill. The dances scheduled are the Dixie frolic and the Highland fling.

TRINITY JUNIORS SHINE IN THE BASKETBALL CAGE

The Trinity Juniors second basketball team defeated the Has-Beens last night, 9 to 0. Dawe and Day did good work as forwards for the victors while Worth shone at centre. McIntyre and Wagner were most effective as guards. The Has-Been lineup comprised Kenney and Sears forwards; Krausse, centre; O'Connor and McDonald, guards.

The Trinity Junior teams' game resulted in a victory for the first division five by a 34-4 score. The lineups: Seconds, Moore and Dawe, forwards; Patrick, centre; Kirch and Debele guards. First team, Day and McIntyre, forwards; Worth centre; Sears and Wagner, guards.

PROTESTED MATCH POSTPONED ON ACCOUNT OF PIG ROAST.

The meeting scheduled for tonight on the Olympia alleys between the Moose and Elks in the Fraternal league, to bowl off the protested series of February 2, has been postponed until next Tuesday on account of the pig roast to be given the antlered pinners at the Berkely Hotel in Bound Brook tonight.

Britton Collected.

Ed Britton won the merchandise prize for the Olympia alleys offered by George J. Finger with an average of 211½ for ten games rolled during the week. He only dropped below the double century once for 183. His highest mark was 246.

The girls' basketball team of the South Orange High School cancelled the game with the girls' team of the Plainfield High School, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Homer Stockmyer of Leadville, Colo., on their way to Buenos Ayres, South America, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vreeland, of Jackson avenue, the borough.

GLASSCRAFT WINDOW FOR A NEW RESIDENCE

The Clarke Glasscraft Company, of which Wallace R. Clarke, of West Front street, is the head, has just completed a beautiful stair-landing window for William Schlesinger's new home at New Brunswick, and it will be shipped to that place this week. The window shows a sunset scene of ruins in Athens, with the Acropolis in the distance.

The window is made in American masaic style, wherein the colors are obtained by the selection of pieces of glass in which the color has already been manufactured. Many parts of this window are "plated," a process which consists of using two or more thickness of various kinds of glass in order to obtain certain effects in color and value.

In "picture" or landscape windows of this kind, every piece of glass must bepersonally selected by the designer before being turned over to the cutter. The window just completed was adapted to stained glass by Mr. Clarke, from a painting by A. Wirth, and is considered one of the finest pieces of work of the kind yet produced.

PERSONAL.

Miss Hazelton, of Piermont, New York, was the guest of friends over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitely, of Steiner place, are the parents of a baby girl born Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. William H. Anthony, of Park avenue, are the parents of a son, born to them Saturday.

William Fisher, of Elizabeth, tenor, has become a member of the First Baptist church choir.

Miss Kathleen McDonough, of Philadelphia, has returned home after a visit of several days in this city.

Miss Marian White, of Englewood, spent the week-end with her cousin, Miss Reba White, of West Sixth street.

Miss Florence Dixie, of Westfield, was the guest over the week-end of Miss Blanche Heideloff, of East Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCutchen and family, of North Plainfield, left yesterday on an extended pleasure trip south.

Miss Lulu Haynes, of Arrandale, has returned home after a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Haynes, of Craig place.

PREPARE TO ACKNOWLEDGE EVERY FUND SUBSCRIPTION

A competent corps of clerks is busily engaged at campaign headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building, sorting, tabulating and checking the many subscriptions received for the Muhlenberg Hospital fund. More than 3,00 have been recorded to date and it is probable that several hundred more will be received during the closing hours of the campaign.

As soon as the necessary bookkeeping in connection with the work is at an end, acknowledgments will be mailed to those who make quarterly payments as soon as their checks reach Treasurer Erickson.

The Campaign Executive Committee has in preparation an alphabetical list of all who have contributed to the hospital fund. When this is completed and checked, it will be published as an honor roll of the friends of Muhlenberg, and mailed to all whose names are recorded. The maount of the subscription will not be given as the committee recognizes the spirit which prompted the many donations, large and small, rather than their size in any specific instance. One day remains for those who as yet have not decided just what they can afford to give in order that Muhlenberg may become the best equipped and most efficient hospital between Trenton and Jersey City.

WORK FOR THE EDITOR

Most any one can be an editor. All an editor has to do is to sit at his desk six days in the week, four weeks of the month and twelve months in the year and "edit" such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones, of Lost Creek, let a can opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry."

"A mischevious lad of Matherton threw a stone and struck a companion in the alley last Tuesday."

"John Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell, striking himself on the back porch."

"While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise home from a church social last aturday night a savage bull dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square."

"Isaiah Trimmer of Lebanon was playing with a cat Friday when it scratched him on the veranda."

"Mr. White, while harnessing a bronco last Saturday, was kicked just south of the corn crib."—Boston Globe.

MORGAN ESCAPES STEEL PROBERS

Stanley Committee Brings Investigation to End.

BEGIN WORK ON REPORT.

Some Important Recommendations For Changes In Present Anti-trust Laws Are Expected—Will Urge Law to Keep Industrial Corporation Out of Common Carrier Business.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The steel trust investigation, as far as the real probing is concerned, is ended. A few witnesses are yet to appear before the Stanley committee, but the main facts for the report are already in shape. Public hearing will come to a close next week.

When the investigations begun last spring Chairman Stanley planned to ask J. P. Morgan to appear as a witness. Mr. Stanley has entertained a number of millionaires, among them the late John W. Gates, E. H. Gary, Andrew Carnegie, George W. Perkins and James J. Hill, as well as such eminent publicists as Theodore Roosevelt and Louis D. Brandeis. Mr. Morgan will not appear in this investigation, because the committee does not believe his testimony is important enough to delay action on the report until his return to the United States.

It is the belief of the committee that James J. Hill's testimony demolished the theory that Mr. Morgan was instrumental in inducing the United States Steel corporation to take over the Hill ore leases. Mr. Hill denied absolutely that Morgan had anything to do with the negotiations between the Lake Superior Consolidated company, trustee of the Hill properties, and the steel corporation.

Important recommendations looking to changes in the anti-trust and commerce act may be incorporated in the report for the committee on inquiry. It is the understanding that the majority will recommend that the commerce act be so amended as to prohibit industrial corporations from engaging in the business of common carriers. If such a law were enacted it would compel the steel company to dispose of its roads in the Mesaba region. Members of the committee are unable to indicate at this time just what amendments to the Sherman law will be recommended.

Present indications are that the report of the Stanley committee will deal largely with proposed legislation rather than with disclosures of the practices of the steel corporation.

WANTS WILSON RECALLED.

Citizen of Mexico Takes Rap at American Ambassador.

City of Mexico, Feb. 20. The Daily Mexican publishes a communication containing the following:

"What is the American ambassador, officially or personally, now doing to lessen the stream of exaggeration, misrepresentation and sensationalism which, I regret to say, there is every reason to believe is pouring into the state department at Washington from Mexico?

"If the president of the United States has in Mexico a friend in whom he has confidence, whose judgment is unbiased and sound, let that friend communicate with him and tell him:

"'First—To keep Philander C. Knox out of Central America, or at least out of Mexico.

"'Second.—To send an ambassador here in whom the Mexican government and the Americans here have confidence.

"'Third.—To keep the United States troops out of Mexico until American citizens are hurt through causes other than those proceeding from their own folly.'"

LORD DE WALDEN WEDS.

Richest Peer In England Married to Rich Society Girl.

London, Feb. 20.—The marriage of Lord Howard De Walden, one of the richest peers of the United Kingdom, to Miss Margherita Van Raalte, a wealthy society girl who has not passed her twenty-first birthday, took place here.

Lord De Walden is one of the most unique characters in England. While he has an income which is estimated at $25,000,000 annually, he is ranked as a radical in politics, with democratic tendencies. Much of his great wealth is invested in the business district of London and in the residential districts in the west end.

T. R.'S ANSWER IN TEN DAYS.

Washington Expects Ex-President to Run Against Taft.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Definite information from New York is that Colonel Roosevelt will within ten days make reply to the call addressed to him by the eight governors and that he will from that time on be in the race against President Taft without reservation.

The progressives have been nervous since the collapse of the La Follette boom. Practically all of them have served notice on Senator La Follette that they have decided to turn to Mr. Roosevelt.

The Home Building & Loan Association

Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),

He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months.....$1,440.00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent.. 1,440.00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about 25.00

Total amount paid $2,905.00
He has the use of 2,000.00

At a cost for 12 years of .....$ 905.00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 139 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. Further information may be had at that time or by applying to the secretary, Arthur E. Crone, care of the City National Bank. tu-th

TRISTATE LEAGUE MEETING.

Eight Cities In Circuit Plan For 1912 Season.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—Representatives from each of the eight cities that have teams in the Tristate league met at the Hotel Walton here to decide momentous matters upon the race of 1912. The circuit will remain the same, representatives from Altoona, Johnstown, Harrisburg, York, Lancaster, Wilmington, Trenton and Reading assuring the league of their intention of sticking for another year.

As far as the playing schedule for 1912 goes President Carpenter drafted one apportioning the holidays impartially and as far as possible in accordance with the requests of the eight cities. The season will open May 1 and close Sept. 7. Each club will be required to file a bond of $2,000 to finish the season.

TAFT APPOINTS MAYER.

New York City Attorney Named For United States Judgeship.

New York, Feb. 20.—President Taft has nominated Julius Mayer of New York city to be judge of the United States district court for the southern district of New York. He succeeds the late Judge Adams.

Mr. Mayer was formerly attorney general for the state of New York. He was also at one time a judge of special sessions. He is a Republican and for years has been active in politics.

The salary attached to the judgeship is $7,500.

Two In Family to Wed.

Montclair, N. J., Feb. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. William S. Camp, residing here, announced the engagement of their daughter, Ethel Evelyn Camp, to Royal Wilbur Franco of New York and the engagement of their son, Arthur Dutton Camp, to Miss Dorothy Bingham of New York, formerly of this place.

NOW NEARING THE $125,000

Hartley Mellick is captain. The announcement of the two $5,000 contributors brought forth applause.

The contribution from Mr. DuBois is in addition to one of $2,500 given by the DuBois family earlier in the campaign to endow a bed at Muhlenberg Hospital.

The contributions reported yesterday were the second largest for any one day during the campaign. The largest amount reported previously was on February 8, when a total of $20,064 was announced at the close of the day. Yesterday's result now makes the workers confident that the final total will be close to $130,000.

Co. K, of which Edward H. Ladd, Jr., is captain, leads the other nine companies with total subscriptions amounting to $16,050.00, while Team No. 8, of which J. Hartley Mellick is captain, leads the other teams with total subscriptions of $8,441.80.

In proportion the other companies and teams have done equally good work.

George P. Mellick, chairman of the executive committee, presided last night. Prior to the dinner, Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church, invoked the divine blessing. After the dinner Mr. Mellick made a few appropriate remarks. Before the reports were called for, O. T. Waring made the special announcement regarding the contribution by Mrs. Mary C. Marsh.

Those in charge of the campaign are anxious that those who have not contributed and intend doing so, notify campaign headquarters, telephone No. 90, or present the contribution personally at the final meeting tomorrow night.

The women were assisted in their work yesterday through the use of Frank H. Smith's large touring car, which was loaned for the afternoon to help the workers in getting about the city and borough. The reports for yesterday are as follows:

Below is the relative standing of the Companies and Teams so far in the Campaign:

Citizens' Committee.
Co. K, Edw. H. Ladd, Jr.	$16,050.00
Co. E, S. D. Lounsbery	10,920.00

G. O. P. CLUBS LEAGUE FOR TAFT IN UNION CO.

The Republican Presidential campaign in Union county will be marked this year by the institution of a league of Republican clubs, extending into all sections of the district. The general plan will be similar to that so successfully employed four years ago, when a big majority was obtained for Taft over Bryan.

The energies of the Republican party in Union county will be unitedly devoted in the meantime toward furthering the candidacy of Hamilton F. Kean as delegate to the National convention in Chicago.

Capture Girl Fugitive.

Emma Jerolamon, seventeen years old, an escaped inmate of a Newark home for girls, was caught by the police on West Front street this morning. She escaped yesterday, and word of her flight was sent here at once. She was committed from this city. She is being held for agents of the institution, who are expected this afternoon.

Instituted in Goshen Charge.

Rev. Elory G. Bowers, formerly rector of St. Stephen's church, this city, was instituted as rector of St. James' church, Goshen, N. Y., on Wednesday, February 14. The service was largely attended. Rt. Rev. Charles S. Burch, Suffragan Bishop, was in charge.

Bonnie Burn Bids Postponed.

The calling of bids for the heating, power, hot and cold water plants and the fire service system at Bonnie Burn sanatarium, due tomorrow, has been put over until Thursday, February 29, at the courthouse in Elizabeth at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

LAWS OF PEOPLE UPHELD BY COURT

Oregon Initiative and Referendum Stands Test.

DECISION IS UNANIMOUS.

Pacific Corporation Loses Contention That Taxing of Gross Incomes as Provided For In Law Initiated and Adopted by People Is Contrary to Republican Form of Government.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The initiative and referendum laws of a sovereign state are valid, according to a decision of the United States supreme court.

The case arose in Oregon, where the popular theories of government have gone further, perhaps, than in any other state in the Union. The state passed a law taxing the gross income of certain corporations. The law was passed as a result of the initiative and referendum. The Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company, a corporation doing business in Oregon, was assessed. It refused to pay the taxes and was sued in the courts. The defense by the corporation was that legislation passed as a result of the initiative and referendum was unconstitutional. Judgment was awarded against the corporation in the local court of the state of Oregon, and the judgment was afterward affirmed by the supreme court of Oregon. The case came to the supreme court of the United States on a writ of error to the supreme court of Oregon. The arguments that were submitted in the present term called out many questions from the chief justice and other members of the court and resulted in colloquies that clearly foreshadowed the court's decision. The contention of the attorneys for the corporation was that legislation by the initiative and referendum was not a republican form of government such as is guaranteed by the constitution of the United States. Other questions were raised, among them that the corporation had been denied the equal protection of the laws in that they were being taxed under a law passed by the initiative and referendum method, while most of the other statutes of Oregon providing for imposition of taxes were passed in the usual way through the legislature without popular intervention, but the main controversy ranged around the question whether legislation by the initiative and referendum is a republican form of government.

The supreme court, in its unanimous opinion read by Chief Justice White, held that the "issues presented in their very essence are and have long since by this court been definitely determined to be political and governmental and embraced within the scope of the powers conferred upon congress and not therefore within the reach of judicial power. It follows that the case presented is not within our jurisdiction."

GRIEF CAUSES A SUICIDE.

Cincinnati Divinity Student Ends Life by Shooting.

Cincinnati, Feb. 20. Malcolm E. Errett, aged twenty-one, of Cincinnati, a divinity student in the sophomore class of Bethany college, Bethany, W. Va., committed suicide by shooting himself in the head in his room in the college dormitory.

Overwork and grief over the death of his brother in Detroit a year ago is said to be the cause. Russell Errett, Jr., died last year from injuries received in football several years ago.

Russell Errett, father of Malcolm, is head of the Standard Publishing company, which publishes the Christian Standard, the leading paper of the Disciples of Christ denomination. The father is now sick and probably will not be able to leave the hospital, where he has been for some time.

BIG GIFT TO ART.

Francis L. Leland Gives New York Museum $1,000,000.

New York, Feb. 20.—Robert W. De Forest, vice president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, announced that Francis L. Leland, president of the New York County National bank, made an unconditional gift to the museum of 1,200 shares of the stock of the bank, valued approximately at more than $1,000,000.

Mr. De Forest and J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., at the conclusion of the annual meeting of the museum, were invited to call upon Mr. Leland at his residence, 137 Riverside drive, in regard to a gift to the museum.

Recent Floods In Spain Send Vivtims to King's Kitchen.

Seville, Spain, Feb. 20.—The kitchen in the king's palace here is thronged daily by the victims of the recent floods. Provisions are handed out and bread is supplied to needy thousands.

The English colony here is feeding 500 persons daily.

Express Revenue Tax Upheld.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The Minnesota gross revenue tax law, as applied to express companies, is upheld as constitutional by the supreme court. The state will recover about $100,000 in taxes from the express companies as a result.

CONGRESSMAN HARRISON.

Who Opened Debate on Latest Revision Measure.

TARIFF DEBATES BEGIN.

Harrison of New York Explains Chemical Schedule.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Democratic tariff legislation got a running start in the house, with prospects of a good week's work on two important schedules, chemicals and sugar.

Chairman Underwood called up the chemical schedule, framed by the ways and means subcommittee headed by Francis Burton Harrison of New York.

With an agreement for seven hours' general debate, Harrison explained the proposed revision in an hour's speech.

While refusing to disclose details, subcommittee members say they have solved the problem how to raise elsewhere the revenue which will be lost through sugar rates revision.

NOT TO TAKE ACTION ON MINISTER'S NOTE

General Ospina of Colombia Says He Meant No Insult.

Washington, Feb. 20.—From both the White House and the state department there comes the information that no action would be taken by this government, at least for the present, about the extraordinary note sent by General Pedro Nel Ospina, minister from Colombia, to Assistant Secretary of State Huntington Wilson, informing this government that the proposed visit of Secretary Knox to Colombia would be "inopportune." The note had only one visible effect and that was in the announcement from the state department that Secretary Knox would cut out of his itinerary the proposed stop at Cartagena, Colombia.

For General Ospina returned to the charge with a statement, in which, while denying that his note to Mr. Wilson was intended to be or was insulting to Secretary Knox or the United States, he repeated the declaration that a visit by Mr. Knox at this time would be inopportune "because the citizens of Colombia are naturally deeply aggrieved to find their country the only one in the whole world with which the United States refuses to enter into a treaty of arbitration."

PLANS PERILOUS FLIGHT.

Atwood Believes He Can Cross Atlantic In Thirty Hours.

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 20.—"Believing that I can best prove to the people that the aeroplane has come to stay by making a cross-Atlantic flight, I shall attempt such a trip during the early part of May," said Harry N. Atwood. "I believe I have the machine which will accomplish this feat in thirty hours, with but one stop, under favorable conditions, between the two points of land."

Atwood confessed that the machine would probably be larger than any previously flown in this country. He said he would carry sufficient gasoline to make a 900 mile continuous flight and when he found his fuel getting low would make a landing near some ocean liner. He declares that there will be about twenty liners plying across the ocean at that season of the year, and it will be an easy matter to pick up one of them.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR LENTEN SEASON

Missionary Series, "Church's Battle Line" to be Held at Grace Church.

OTHER PROGRAMS OUTLINED

Four Lectures on "The Land and the Book," by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, on Wednesday Evenings—Holy Cross Services.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, has announced his program of services for the Lenten season, beginning today. In addition to the regular services there will be a special program of missionary meetings at 3 P. M., to be conducted by Mrs. E. F. Feickert, under the general topic: "The Church's Battle Line." The program follows:

February 27, "The People of Our Own Race at Home and Abroad." Paper, "The Snow Trails of Alaska," by Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard. A review of "The Church's Mission to the Mountaineers of the South," Mrs. E. Vicars Stevenson; paper on "Our Own in Foreign Lands," Mrs. C. L. Sykes; current topic: Women Workers in the South and Alaska."

March 5, "The Black Man and the Red Man;" paper, "Helping the Negro to Help Himself," Mrs. Allan Coperthwait; paper, "Personal Recollections of the Early Western Bishops," Mrs. A. E. Barclay; paper, "Present Day Work for the Indians," Mrs. S. K. Monroe; current topic: "Woman Workers Among the Negroes and Indians."

March 12, speaker to be announced later, March 19, "The Native in Our New Possessions;" paper, "The Crossroads of the Pacific," Mrs. Edward V. Cox; paper, "Our Island Neighbors," Mrs. William F. Taliaferro; current topic: "Women Workers in the Philippines and Cuba."

March 26, foreign missions; paper, "China, Our Great Opportunity," Mrs. D. H. Rowland; paper, "The Flowery Kingdom," Mrs. H. S. Fullerton; paper, "The Story of the New Jersey Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary," Miss Isabel Tweedy; current topic: "Women Workers in Foreign Lands."

April 2 "The Church's Battle Line." A stereoptician lecture illustrating the church's mission work all over the world, by Mrs. E. F. Feickert.

Throughout Lent there will be services all week days at Grace church at 5 o'clock in the afternoon; also Wednesdays at 8 p.m., and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 10 a. m. On Sunday there will be Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m., matins, litany and sermon at 11 a. m., and evensong and sermon at 4:30 p. m.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson will preach at 8 o'clock tonight, and at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Rev. J. G. Currier, curate, will preach at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The rest of the program follows:

Sunday, March 3, 11 a. m., the rector will preach; 4:30 p. m., Rev. W. S. McCoy; Sunday, March 10, 11 a. m., and 4:30 p. m., the Rt. Rev. C. P. Anderson, D. D., Bishop of Chicago; Sunday, March 17, 11 a. m., and 4:30 p. m., Rev. Karl Reiland, of Yonkers, N. Y., will preach. Sunday, March 24, 11 a. m., Rev. Dr. John R. Harding, secretary Second Missionary Department; 4:30 p. m., the rector; Sunday, March 31, 11 a. m., the Rt. Rev. Dr. F. S. Spalding, Bishop of Utah; 4:30, the rector.

The rector has also arranged for four lectures on Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock on "The Land and the Book," as follows: February 28, "From Hermon to the Sea;" March 6, "Round About the Sea of Galilee;" March 13, "Samaria and Samaritans;" March 20, "Jersualem at It Is." March 27, evening prayer and sermon, preacher, the Very Reverend Frank DuMoulin, D. C. L., of Cleveland, Ohio. During Holy Week, there will be services every morning at 10 o'clock, Saturday excepted, and every evening at 8 o'clock, Good Friday excepted. On Good Friday there will be services at 9 and 10 a. m., 12 noon, 3 and 5 p. m. At 12 noon and 3 p. m., there will be a Passion service, with addresses by the Rev. Melville K. Bailey, of Grace church, New ork. On Easter Day there will be services at 7, 8 and 11 a. m., and 4 p. m.

Rev. William S. McCoy, rector of Holy Cross church, announces Sunday services in Lent at 7:30, 11 a. m., and 7:45 p. m. This morning there was Holy Communion at 7:30, followed by litany, penitential office and sermon at 11 o'clock. There will be evening prayer and sermon at 7:45 o'clock.

The week day services will be as follows: Mondays 4:30 p. m., Young People's service with brief address on "Boys and Girls Who Have Made History;" Tuesdays, evensong, 4:30; Wednesday, litany, 9:30 a. m.; Thursdays, Holy Communion, 9:30 a. m.; Fridays, 4 p. m., organ recital, W. S. O'Brien; 4:30, evensong.

Good Friday, April 5, service for young people, 10 a. m.; three-hour service, 12 to 3 p. m.; evening pray-

ONLY A HAIR'S BREADTH FROM THE $125,000 MARK

Last Day of Hospital Campaign Dawns With Subscriptions Less Than $1,000 Away From New Goal--Final Reports Tonight.

The Muhlenberg Hospital fund lacks just $977.43 of the desired $125,000 asked for by those in charge, and it is confidently believed that when the workers meet at the Y. M. C. A. tonight for the last time in the twelve-day campaign their hopes will have been realized.

At the daily dinner, last night, there were no unusual contributions, such as have marked some days of the campaign. The total reported for the day was $2,287.40, of which the Citizens' Committee raised $1,310.50, the Young Business Men's Committee, $976.90 and the Women's Committee, $979.61. This brings the grand total to date, $124,022.57.

The greatest amount raised by any one company is that of Co. K, of which E. H. Ladd, Jr., is captain. It tops the list with $16,325.00, S. D. Lounsbery's workers, Co. B, are in second place with $10,942.00. Team No. 8, J. Hartley Mellick, captain, heads the list of teams with $8,513.80, while Team No. 8, Asa F. Randolph, captain, and Team No. 9, J. W. Kirkner, captain, are close rivals with $2,855.58 and $2,605.50 respectively to their credit. The total number of subscribers up to last night was 4,103.

George P. Mellick, chairman of the executive committee, again presided at the daily dinner, last night, and Rev. B. M. Bogan, pastor of St. Mary's church, invoked the divine blessing. After the dinner, Mr. Mellick requested all the workers, men and women, to be on hand promptly tonight at 8:30, when the final reports will be made. His motto to the workers was "Be not weary in well doing, for in due season ye shall reap if ye faint not."

Mr. Mellick thanked everyone heartily for what had been done. When the reports were made there were many interesting and amusing incidents. Asa F. Randolph reported that out of the subscriptions turned in by his team, the majority were from the Spicer Manufacturing Company plant, and one from the branch of the company at South Plainfield.

Another captain reported that one of his subscriptions, fifty cents, came from a two-year-old girl, while another captain reported that two of his subscriptions were from two tramps stopped while passing the poor farm. Another contribution, $50, came from the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church.

When Captain Walter M. McGee's report was made by his brother-in-law, James R. Joy, it occasioned much laughter. In commenting on the fact that Mr. McGee was the grandfather of a Chinese granddaughter, he announced a contribution of $15 in the name of Mildred Muhlenberg McGee, of Neuchwang, China. He also called attention to the decoration of Chinese flags at the table of Co. H, and Mr. McGee in responding to a call for a speech,

SOME POINTS HERE FOR CONTESTANTS

Suggestions to Those Who Seek to Win Daily Press European Tours.

TO BE PERSONALLY CONDUCTED

Thomas Cook & Sons, World's Greatest Tourists' Agency, to Have Full Charge of First-class Trip Through European Countries.

POINTS TO REMEMBER.

Remember that one contestant in each of the five districts named will win one of these choice European Tours, and that the one receiving the highest vote of all the district winners will select the chaperone.

Remember that you can get your votes and subscriptions anywhere and that each girl is competing only with those in her own district.

Remember that two full months will be spent on this trip and that the principal points in England, France, Germany, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland will be visited, including the beautiful trip down the Rhine.

Remember that every cent of the necessary expense will be paid by this paper, from the time of leaving home until the return.

Remember that this is the sonally conducted tour of the weil known Cook standard, which means the maximum of comfort and pleasure with the minimum of worry and discomfort.

Remember that there is no restricted territory in getting votes or subscriptions, and that each girl is competing only with those in her own district.

Remember that every candidate will get a square deal; that there will be no favorites and that every contestant will win only her merits.

Remember that this is the opportunity of a lifetime, and that now is the time to start, while the race is yet young.

How often has one said to herself: "I would like to go to Europe." Probably there is no one who has attained the age of maturity who has not expressed this desire. And now, within the reach of every young woman of Plainfield and vicinity, comes an opportunity to gratify this long-wished-for desire, with no expense to you, in payment for a few short hours' work in your spare time. The conditions of the European Tour contest now being conducted by this paper have been fully explained, but those who do not understand all the conditions may

PRIEST AS EDITOR.

The Daily Press takes pleasure in announcing that the editorial columns on Saturday will be conducted by Rev. Bernard M. Bogan, rector of St. Mary's church. Father Bogan will have something to say to the people of Plainfield on one of the most important social subjects of the day. As the scholarly and popular priest is as gifted a writer as he is a speaker, the local public will be eager to read what he has to say.

Father Bogan's editorials will be the third in the series for Saturdays contributed by prominent Plainfield men. The Saturday Contributed Editorials have already proven extremely popular.

WANTED TO WED JAILED SWEETHEART

Seventeen-Year-Old Emma Jerolomon's Plan to Aid Young Man in Trouble.

ESCAPES FROM GIRLS' HOME

Police Here Nip Budding Prison Romance When They Catch Fugitive Maiden On East Front Street—Back to Institution.

When Detective Sergeant Flynn caught Emma Jerolomon, seventeen years old, an escaped inmate of the Florence Crittenton Home, Newark, on East Front street yesterday he nipped a budding prison romance.

The girl told the police after her arrest that she ran away to marry Harry Connors, a young man, who is confined in the Somerset county jail at Somerville, on a larceny charge. The two were sweethearts before the girl was placed in the home, and when she heard he had gotten into trouble, she said, she worried over means of helping him out of it. She finally concluded that she might be able to win his freedom with a sympathy plea. If she went to the authorities as his bride. So she ran away to put her plan into operation.

Letters she left behind in her effects at the Home gave the authorities at the institution a hint of her object, and knowing that she had friends and relatives in this city they wired the police here to watch for her.

She ran away Monday afternoon. That night she stayed at the home of a married sister of Connors in Watchung. She was on her way to Somerville when Flynn got her on Front street yesterday.

She was taken back to the Newark home today by a woman agent of the institution.

TWO STATE SENATORS ARE FACING CHARGES

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21.—Sensational charges were made against two of the Democratic members of the state senate. Senator Richard Fitzherbert of Morris county faces a legislative inquiry in an alleged attempted bribery case, while Senator William C. Gebhardt of Hunterdon county has been attacked in the supreme court in disbarment proceedings.

Robert H. McCarter, formerly attorney general, presented the papers in the latter action. It is charged the Hunterdon senator is guilty of unprofessional conduct in seeking to influence the selection of a jury in the courts of which county he had many cases to try. Senator Gebhardt declined to discuss the case.

The other matter, which caused intense excitement, came during a hearing by the judiciary committee on senate bills Nos. 79 and 110, both of which were introduced by Senator Fitzherbert "by request." The first prohibits railroad companies in this state from using acetylene gas to illuminate passenger trains, while the other measure prohibits the manufacture of this gas for commercial purposes in any building within a thousand feet of any house, factory or street. It is alleged both bills were introduced as "strike" bills against the Acetylene Gas company of 80 Broadway, New York.

Oscar F. Ostby, general manager of that gas company, testified of a conversation with a Dr. George Ridner of Succasunna, who, he alleges, told him the bills were to be introduced and that they could be held up for $1,500. Senator Fitzherbert admitted he had been indiscreet.

Boarder Won Suit.

In the suit to recover board alleged to be due Mrs. William C. Tunison from Mrs. Helen Krewson, which was tried this morning in the District Court by Judge William Newcorn, a decision of no cause for action was rendered. The amount claimed was $26.90.

HEARING ON SEWER BILL CONCERNS CITY AND BORO

Measure Would Enable Objecting Municipalities to Bar Disposal Plants--Mr. Buttfield Suggests Amendment.

While in Trenton yesterday on a personal business matter, Mayor G. W. V. Moy learned by chance that a hearing was being held before the House committee on House bill No. 261, designed to prevent one municipality from locating sewage disposal works in another municipality without first getting the consent of the municipality wherein the works are to be located.

As this bill, if it became a law, might seriously affect Plainfield in its plan to locate sewage disposal beds out of the city, Mr. Moy went to the hearing. He was met there by Councilman William J. Buttfield and Alexander Milne, of North Plainfield, who were on hand to represent the borough.

The hearing was given to permit representatives of Montclair, Belleville and Nutley to present arguments in favor of the passage of the bill, against the protest of representatives from East Orange and Orange. The two latter municipalities have plans for a sewer which would take a part of the plant within the territory of the other municipalities, hence the protest. The hearing was marked by spirited debate on the part of all the representatives.

Mr. Buttfield suggested an amendment to the bill, so that if it becomes a law it will not affect municipalities who have plans underway for such sewer improvements. The amendment would thus let North Plainfield out of a difficult situation, provided the measure was passed.

While in Trenton, Mayor Moy called on the State Board of Health in its plan to locate sewage disposal for the Plainfield Council in picking a new site for its sewage disposal works on what is known as the Darling farm. The State Board of Health now has for consideration Plainfield's plans for enlarging the present in this city, a formal hearing on which will be given by the State board on Tuesday.

Mayor Moy has not yet signed the resolution adopted by the Common Council at its meeting this week, in which the Darling farm is selected as a site for the sewage beds. He is given ten days in which to approve or reject the resolution. When questioned today on the matter, Mr. Moy said that he had not yet decided what he would do with the resolution.

MT. ST. MARY'S SENIORS BANQUET

Annual Dinner of Graduating Class Marked by Cheering Building Report.

RESTORATION NEARLY DONE

Rebuilt Burned-Out Structure to Be Ready For Occupancy In May—Speeches By Members of the Faculty and Students.

The senior class of Mt. St. Mary's College held its annual banquet last night at the temporary quarters on Fairview avenue. A most gratifying report was received regarding the restoration of the burned college building. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy in May.

It was announced that the members of the class of 1912 would be the first graduates of Mt. St. Mary's College to receive the degree of A. B.

The dining room at the Fairview avenue quarters, which is one of the several cottages used by the college since the big fire, was arranged as the banquet hall. It was beautifully decorated with the class colors, red and white. The favors were American Beauty roses, the class flower. All members of the class and a number of the faculty were present. Toasts were responded to by different members of the class and faculty and following the repast an informal dance was enjoyed.

The committee in charge of the affair comprised Mlle. Laccard, Miss Loretta E. Nolan and Miss Irene M. Duchesne.

BRILLIANT RECEPTION FOR MRS. BABCOCK'S GUEST

One of the brilliant social functions of the pre-Lenten season was a reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. George L. Babcock, of West Eighth street, in honor of Miss Marguerite Duke, of Monticello, Arkansas, who has been her guest for several days. There were about two hundred guests, including those prominent in city and borough society.

Mrs. Babcock and Miss Duke received the guests, and they were assisted by Mrs. B. VanD. Hedges, Mrs. Frank C. Ard, Mrs. Charles Potter Titsworth and Mrs. Eugene H. Hatch, who poured in the dining-room. Throughout the hours of the reception an orchestra rendered a program of popular selections.

The home was elaborately decorated for the affair by Stanley. In the hall and dining-room jonquils and pink roses, while in the library red carnations and red roses were used with striking effect.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD A JEFFERSONIAN DINNNER

The Plainfield Democratic Club at its meeting last night discussed informally plans for a Jefferson dinner in April, and it was proposed that a smoker be held on a date after the dinner, to which all the Democratic clubs of the county will be invited. The date for the dinner will be announced within a short time.

The reason for withholding the date at present is that Jefferson's birthday falls on Saturday, April 13, and that is not considered a convenient date for the affair by the members of the club and their friends. It is practically assured that another day will be selected.

Glee Club Concert.

The Glee and Musical Clubs of Pennington Seminary will give a concert at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, on Friday night, March 8. Rev. Frank McDaniels is president of the Seminary and he will accompany the club to this city.

MOURN THE LOSS OF LEANDER LOVELL

At a special meeting of the Board of Assistants of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of New Jersey, this twentieth day of February, 1912, the following resolution was adopted:

That in the death of our beloved Governor, Leander N. Lovell, this society loses a wise leader, a courtly gentleman and a genial comrade, whose ever present influence, during his many years of active service, in encouraging the best ideals of friendship has become a permanent heritage of our membership.

To his bereaved family we express our deep sorrow and extend our heartfelt sympathy.

HALF-MINUTE INTERVIEWS.

A. G. Hooley—If my dogs keep on winning cups I'll have to open a silversmith's shop.

A Plainfield Celebrity.

Miss Adele VonOhl, Plainfield's great exponent of horsemanship, will appear for one day only at the Plainfield theatre Washington's Birthday, Mildred & Rouclere's entertainment, "The Flight of Princess Iris," as an added attraction to that popular company. Miss VonOhl will recite "Pickett's Last Charge" while seated upon her famed Arabian charger, "Aristocrat," and will give a very interesting exhibition of equine training, and fearless horsemanship. This Plainfield young woman has been touring the country and meeting with much success. Manager Sanderson has been at much expense to secure her appearance as her engagements will not permit of her again appearing in Plainfield for several seasons.

Two More New Features

Two more features of the new Daily Press appear with this issue. One is devoted to Mothers' Work. This department, conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association, will contain news and notes pertaining to the mothers' and parent-teacher associations movements. The editorial board in charge consists of Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr. This department will be a feature of each Wednesday issue.

The Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield conducts the other new department, "Votes for Women." Hereafter this will be a feature on Thursdays. The editorial board consists of Mrs. E. F. Feickert, Mrs. Champlain Riley, Mrs. Charles L. Seldon, Mrs. Russell Dorr, Mrs. Vernona R. Henry and Miss Zoe Bateman.

FLAMES SWEEPING OVER HOUSTON, TEX.

Fire That Starts Beside Southern Pacific Tracks Rages Beyond Control.

$10,000,000 LOSS ALREADY

Thousand Families Homeless As Result of the Conflagration—High Wind Baffles Efforts to Check the Spread of Destruction.

Houston, Tex., Feb. 21, (Special).—Fire which started at 1 a. m. today and is still raging with great fury, has already done $10,000,000 damage. The flames have eaten up nearly all the buildings covering seven squares and swept a mile across town. A high wind is blowing.

More than a thousand people are homeless through the destruction of nearly 200 residences.

St. Peter's Catholic church and buildings adjoining including the Catholic school, have been gutted. The Cleveland and McFadden compresses, filled with cotton are in ruins. The Houston Co-operative Manufacturing Company, covering a square, is entirely wiped out as is also the E. H. Lumber Company's plant, including mills and yards covering three squares. Both were operated by Abel brothers.

The fire started in a one story brick building adjoining the Southern Pacific tracks and spread rapidly among frame houses adjoining. The houses burned ranged from four room cottages to twenty-room boarding houses. The burned district is largely populated by working classes.

SAYS HE WAS BUNCOED OUT OF $300 IN NEWARK

A man who described himself as George Leland, of West Fifth street, this city, reported to the Newark police yesterday that he had been buncoed out of $300. The police here have no knowledge of the supposed Plainfielder's loss beyond the meagre information furnished in a message from the Newark authorities. They have been unable to discover any trace here of a George Leland answering the description of the man who complained to the Newark police.

HOLY CROSS AMATEURS CLEVER IN TWO FARCES

"The Sleeping Car" and "A Proposal Under Difficulties," two farces, were given with much success in the parish house of the Holy Cross church, last night, under the auspices of the Young Women's Guild. The cast was excellent in this sketch as well as in the second one. The members of the casts follow:

"The Sleeping Car"—Miss Rae Plade Villars, Miss Agnes VanNorden, Alden E. Moore, Ray Kline, Ashley Burner, Charles Kregar, Duclos VanMater.

"A Proposal Under Difficulties"—Earl Moran, William Little, Miss Dorothy Randolph, Miss Katherine Overton, James Findzey.

The refreshment committee comprised the Misses Dorothy Langford, Annette VanMater, Katherine Sill, Lois Peck and Bertha Kellar. The ushers were the Misses Sue Bennett, Margaret Hawkins, Kate Elliott, Irene Samuels and Helen Sutton. The coaches for the plays were Miss Iola Moore, Miss Helen Carman and William S. O'Brien.

Edward O'Loughlin is spending a few days with his friends in this village.

Westfield.

Spectators at the meeting of the Westfield Town Council Monday night were jarred when Councilman Harry W. Evans got warm and said "hell." Mr. Evans, who is chairman of the road and sidewalk committees became perturbed when Levi Hart, attorney for New street residents, protested again the laying of concrete sidewalks on that thoroughfare, although they had asked for improvements. Eight of the nine property owners, were willing to have the walks if paid for by the town, but objected to bearing the expense themselves.

When Mr. Hart completed his remarks Mr. Evans jumped out of his seat and shouted: "They do not know what in the hell they do want! Well, let them do without it." As a result of the dispute cinder walks will be laid, and at the suggestion of Councilman Oswald, the town will render bills to the property owners for the work, as heretofore. Some of the objectors were Mrs. Jane Wilson, Edward S. Welch, Myron B. Miller and Carrie Hart.

Contrary to general expectations there was no concerted objection to the granting of liquor licenses at the meeting of the Town Council Monday night. The Civic League, in the lone protest, objected to the granting of all licenses. All of the old establishments were granted renewals: John H. Willett, wholesale and retail; Walter W. Mooney, Theresa Borcherding and John Schmitt, retail, and J. Schlinger, wholesale. Mr. Lack voted against the Schmitt place and Mr. Lack and Mr. Casey opposed Mr. Borcherding's application, which is located near the trolley junction. The 1912 budget, subject to amendment was adopted as follows: Lights, $9,000; police, $8,000; fire, $6,000; streets, $16,000; poor, $1,500; water, $2,300; interest, $3,429.42. Board of Health, $1,500; parks, $1,000; general expenses, $15,000.

The plan to reorganize the Westfield Club and build a clubhouse have fallen through and the matter abandoned. Those having the project in hand state that they cannot get the amount of funds necessary pledged to warrant going ahead.

Councilman Robert F. Hohenstein has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who set fire to his hay storage house last Friday night.

RUN DOWN BY OWN AUTO.

Griesen's Car Starts Suddenly as He Tries to Crank It.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 21.—Enguard Griesen of Perth Amboy stopped his automobile at the corner of Broad and Market streets in compliance with traffic regulations. When the signal was given to proceed the car refused to start and Griesen went to the front of the auto to crank it. Suddenly the car plunged ahead, with Griesen clinging to the front spring.

Policemen, car inspectors and hundreds of pedestrians gave chase. After the auto had run about 200 yards an automobilist coming in the opposite direction took in the situation, sprang from his car, leaped on the runboard of the runaway machine and stopped it. Griensen was taken to the City hospital. He has a bad scalp wound, his legs are injured, and there are contused wounds on his body.

Nine Line Up For Woman Whose Husband Asks Divorce.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 21.—John Fenner, Jr., of Pluckamin, Somerset county, was complainant in court here against his wife, whom he charges with desertion. He wants a divorce. The couple have been married thirty-seven years and have eleven children. Nine lined up in Mrs. Fenner's defense.

The couple have been separated five years. The trouble arose over the discovery of a letter Fenner had received from another woman.

Fenner claimed his wife had a code of signals by which she informed a man named Dolliver when he could come to the Fenner home. Fenner claimed he set the signals himself one night and Dolliver walked into the trap. Mrs. Fenner denied all the allegations.

FOOD BETTER THAN JEWELRY.

Burglars In Orange Take Turn at Icebox.

Orange, N. J., Feb. 21.—Burglars here no longer look for the jewel box. They are turning their attention to the icebox as certain to yield a larger profit. Thieves broke into the home of William L. Lyman Monday night and took away three dozen fresh eggs. They passed by the jewelry and silverware.

From J. C. Emerson, who lives at Parker and Summit avenues, the thieves took some bread, some Swiss cheese and some beer.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD SON OF FRANK HAMMANN DIES.

Henry P. Hammann, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hammann, of West Seventh street, died suddenly yesterday of peritonitis which developed on Friday last. Just previous to his death he was thought to be improving, but there was a sudden change for the worse.

The boy attended the Washington School. He is survived by his parents and a twin-brother, John Hammann. His father is the general passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad in New York.

The remains will be taken to Bethlehem, Pa., where the funeral and burial will take place on Friday.

WE ANNOUNCE THE FIRST SHOWING OF

Spring Dress Goods and Silks

A showing you can rely on as being authentic because it is announced by the leading and most complete Dress Goods Department in the City. We have, for this special occasion, made a careful study of fashion's trend and find that favored weaves, this early in the season, are whipcords, serges and broadcloths and taffetas are the favorite in the silks. Colors show a tendency to soften somewhat, and cream, navy and all brown shades will predominate in favor. We mention here many of the fabrics we are showing:

26-inch Cream Hair Line Suitings at, yard 59c
45-inch All Wool Cream Serge Suitings at, yard 79c
50-inch All Wool Cream Serge Suitings at, yard ....$1.00 and $1.25
36-inch All Wool Batiste Suitings at, yard 50c
36-inch All Wool French Weave Serge 59c
27-inch Changeable Stripe Taffetas 79c
Bordered Messalines, in full dress patterns $8.50

Blue Serges, Panamas, Broadcloths, Cheviots, etc., etc.

Beautiful All-over Laces and Matched Bands

We are showing a splendid assortment of the new ideas and designs in Laces for the coming season in both white and cream and ecru; all the favored styles are here, including the much worn Venise Laces, and in many instances we have the bands in one and two widths to match. We have chosen what we thought were the prettiest designs. In the matter of price we have marked the Allovers from 76c up to $4.50, and the Bands from 10c to $1.39

Advance Showing of the Early Models in Spring Suits

The early arrivals in fashion's offering for the ensuing season. Stunning models, made of fine quality materials, which include whipcords, serges, etc., tailored on mannishly plain lines, which will be favored this season, some having white piping at collar, all having the deep lapels. In the favored shades and also the regular sizes. Prices range from $14.50 all the way up to $25.00

One of These New Spring Lingerie Dresses at 6.98

Would be just the thing for a party dress and we take it there's many of you who will be invited out before the winter's really over. They are all very handsome garments, beautifully made of only good grade materials and we have them in several styles and sizes for both misses and ladies.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

The attraction at the Plainfield theatre tomorrow afternoon and night is entitled to the serious consideration of the theatregoers of our city who demand the best in theatrical endeavor. In the heralding of the coming of these careful and conscientious artists, Mildred and Rouclere and their company it is to be hoped that they will be received in a manner befitting their ability and talents.

The leading character in James Forbes' international success, "The Chorus Lady," is that of Patricia O'Brien, a member of the chorus, who speaks slang with amazing fluency. The chorus girl type, as portrayed in this comedy, is one of the most original characterizations that has ever been attempted. "The Chorus Lady" will be the attraction at the Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night.

Romantic drama in its most beguiling form is to be the offering at the Plainfield theatre next Monday when George D. Baker's dramatization of "The Goose Girl," Harold MacGrath's well known story of fiction is the attraction, and to those lovers of this form of entertainment, as well as the patrons of the theatre in general, the assurance of both theatre and company management is offered. "The Goose Girl" is a play that will appeal to all.

WEST IS SWEPT BY BLIZZARDS

Wind and Snow Storm Moving Rapidly Eastward.

CARS BLOCKED IN ST. LOUIS

Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas Report Heavy Fall of Snow, With Railroad Traffic Impeded and Much Suffering to Live Stock In Panhandle.

St. Louis, Feb. 21.—The Atlantic coast states are due for a cold wave. A blizzard from the west and southwest is moving eastward rapidly.

Street cars were blockaded in St. Louis for several hours by a blinding snow, which continues falling.

Snow has fallen in Colorado and the Rocky mountain region, and sleet and snow is reported in the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma and southern Kansas. Bad weather, with snow and cold, prevails over southern Missouri today.

The worst blinding snowstorm in five years is raging in the southwest. In southern Oklahoma the snow is driven by a strong wind and is piling the cuts on the railroad full of wet snow. Cattle will suffer much on the plains and in the feeding pens.

According to the records kept at the government fish hatchery in Neosho, Mo., the snow which has been falling there for twelve hours is the greatest in at least sixteen years. The snowfall at Neosho has reached sixteen inches and continues to fall. The snow was preceded by rain and accompanied by thunder and lightning.

EIGHT KILLED BY CYCLONE IN SOUTH

Fifty Others Injured From Result of Tornado.

Shreveport, La., Feb. 21.—Eight persons are dead and about fifty injured as the result of a tornado which swept through the western outskirts of Shreveport. All the dead are negroes, with the exception of the two-months-old baby of A. J. Manheim, whose home was demolished. The baby's body was found a block away from the Manheim residence. Several negro cabins were destroyed in the outskirts of the city and on nearby plantations.

The tornado approached Shreveport from the southwest, sweeping a path through two negro sections and crossing Red river, struck two plantations where negro cabins and barns were destroyed. In the city proper no damage was done.

Heavy Snowstorm Stops Traffic.

Dallas Tex., Feb. 21.—Trains were stalled in northwest Texas for many hours by one of the heaviest snowstorms in years. Drifts six feet deep are reported in the Texas Panhandle. At Amarillo, Tex., street cars are stopped. Dalhart schools are closed today.

Weather Forecast.

Rain or snow today and probably tomorrow; colder Thursday; northeasterly winds, becoming high in southern portion.

MISSOURI FOR CLARK.

Democratic Delegation Is Instructed For the Speaker.

Joplin, Mo., Feb. 21.—Eight delegates at large to the national Democratic convention at Baltimore, each with half a vote, were elected by the Missouri state Democratic convention here.

The delegation was instructed for Speaker Champ Clark for the presidential nomination.

Edwin F. Goltra, the St. Louis millionaire, was re-elected national committeeman by acclamation. He is a Princeton university official, supposed to be for Woodrow Wilson for president. He was a classmate of William J. Bryan.

ROYAL NURSE ILL.

Duchess of Aosta Served In Italian-Turkish War.

Naples, Feb. 21.—The Duchess of Aosta, who is officially known as "Nurse No. 3 of the Naples Red Cross," has been taken to the Capodimonte palace suffering from bronchial catarrh and fever, which she contracted while nursing sick and wounded soldiers on the hospital ship Menfi. The condition of the duchess, who was one of the first to volunteer as a nurse after the opening of hostilities between Italy and Turkey, is not thought to be serious.

King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena have visited the duchess.

Heike May Get New Trial.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The United States supreme court granted a writ of certiorari for a new trial to Charles R. Heike, former secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, convicted in connection with the sugar frauds.

TO OUR READERS.

Though the "re-built" Daily Press is less than two months old already many new features have been introduced. Yet the work is only just begun. We have made no promises except to give the people of Plainfield and vicinity a real newspaper—something they have demanded for a long time. With that as our object, many plans, carefully considered, will be introduced as soon as possible. First and foremost we aim to give all the news, without color or bias, and to be absolutely independent and fearless in its treatment. Then we aim to inaugurate special departments to be devoted to matters not strictly classed as news but of particular interest and importance to our readers.

With today's issue we present to our readers two new features. While primarily intended to interest the women of the community, they will prove attractive to the local public generally. One is a department called "Mothers' Work." This is conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association and is in charge of members who have made a special study of the movement. Matters pertaining to the work of the Parent-Teacher Associations will also be found in this department. The other department is "Votes for Women." The Plainfield Equal Suffrage League has charge of this feature and has arranged for an editorial staff of five members to act as contributing editors. "Mothers' Work" will appear regularly on Thursdays; "Votes for Women" on Wednesdays.

It is hardly necessary to call attention to the fact that the editors have introduced other live features within the last week or so. Among these is a ginger page of sporting news and comment; cartoons for the youngsters and a daily reproduction of some meritorious cartoon on matters of national and international importance, and last, but we think not least, a contributing editorial idea. On each succeeding Saturday, the editorial columns are in full and unconditional charge of some prominent resident of the community, who is free to express his views on any subject or subjects and at any length he may desire.

We repeat: Our work is only just begun. In the Daily Press the people of this community and the vicinity will have a real newspaper.

It is not within the province of the courts to decide whether a given State of the Union conducts a truly Republican form of government, as guaranteed by the United States Constitution, when the initiative and referendum prevails. So holds the United States Supreme Court, which by an unanimous decision dismisses the question on the ground that it is one solely for the legislative branch of the Federal Government to decide. In brief the opinion as handed down contains the ruling that the matter is purely a political problem with which Congress must wrest. The case in point arose in Oregon, where a corporation refused to pay a tax imposed upon it by the initiative and referendum plan. It was contended by the corporation's lawyers that the imposition of the tax in question was due to means other than that exercised by a Republican form of government and that therefore it was in violation of the Constitution.

Chief Justice White, speaking for the Court, summed up the reason for deciding against the corporation in this language:

"The defendant company does not contend here that it could not have been required to pay a license tax. It does not assert that it was denied an opportunity to be heard as to the amount for which it was taxed, or that there was anything inhering in the tax or involved intrinsically in the law which violated any of its constitutional rights. If such questions had been raised they would have been justifiable, and, therefore, would have required the calling into operation of judicial power. Instead, however, of doing any of these things, the attack on the statute here made is of a wholly different character. Its essentially political nature is at once made manifest by understanding that the assault which the contention here advanced makes it not on the tax as a tax, but on the State as State. It is addressed to the framework and political character of the Government by which the statute levying the tax was passed. It is the Government, the political entity, which (reducing the case to its essence) is called to the bar of this Court, not for the purpose of testing judicially some exercise of power assailed, on the ground that its exertion has injuriously affected the rights of an individual because of repugnancy to some constitution limitation, but to demand of the Government that it establish its right to exist as a State.

Had the decision been adverse to Oregon it would have seriously affected many other States where the initiative and referendum is in force. This would include Arkansas, California, Arizona, Maine, South Dakota, Missouri, Colorado, Montana and Oklahoma.

The Philadelphia Record explains why there is such a demand for bigger waste baskets these days. The reason given, particularly as it comes from a reliable source, is especially interesting to the business man and we therefore call the attention of advertisers to it.

According to a New England manufacturer of waste baskets, says the Record, the tendency of the trade is to demand larger receptacles than formerly, and the average size of his output has been increased 100 per cent. during the past year.

Every body knows what is the principal use of a waste basket in home or office. It is primarily to hold advertising circulars that have been discarded, for the most part unread.

When advertising was in its infancy and handbills and circulars were regarded as the most effective mediums—being in many cases the only available means of exploiting merchandise—small waste baskets sufficed to hold the discard. But nowadays people pay little attention to any advertising that does not come to them through up-to-date mediums, and such advertising must be disposed of as trash.

Every seller of merchandise who is stimulating the demand for larger waste baskets by wasting his advertising appropriation on futile circularization should look into the relative cost and the relative results of newspaper advertising. Such investigations add to the number of newspaper advertisers and tend to keep the size of waste baskets within normal bounds.

OHIO SOLONS MUST BE TRIED.

Supreme Court Decision Means Prison Term For Diegle.

Columbus, O., Feb. 21.—Rodney J. Diegle, former sergeant at arms of the Ohio state senate, must serve three years in the penitentiary. The state supreme court has affirmed the decision of the lower court which convicted Diegle of aiding in the bribery of State Senator L. R. Andrews.

This decision means that several members of the general assembly must stand trial. Attorney General Hogan of Ohio and E. C. Turner, prosecuting attorney of Franklin county say the other cases will be pushed.

Diegle's conviction was due principally to evidence secured by a phonographic device which recorded conversations between the alleged bribe givers and takers.

EXPECT INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

Engineers Demand For Higher Wages Cause Assigned.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Officials of the interstate commerce commission would not be surprised if a movement were inaugurated this spring by the railroads in eastern territory for a horizontal increase in freight rates.

The commission is paying close attention to a series of conferences now on between representatives of the eastern carriers and representatives of the locomotive engineers, who are demanding an increase in wages of from 20 to 50 per cent. According to the representatives of the carriers, the proposed increase in wages would amount to $10,000,000 a year. It is said that the carriers will decline to grant an increase and will base the declination not on the grounds that the engineers are not entitled to it, but upon the ground that they are unable to do so unless they are allowed to raise their freight rates.

The commission about a year ago handed down an opinion declining to approve general advances in freight rates on eastern and western railroads.

MRS. O'SHAUGHNESSY FREE.

Woman Who Killed Husband Liberated From Hospital For Insane.

New York, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Frances O'Shaughnessy, who shot and killed her husband, George, on May 5 last and was acquitted of a murder charge before Judge Foster last fall on the ground that she was insane, was released from the Manhattan State Hospital For the Insane on Ward's Island Feb. 14. The fact of release has just become known.

Immediately after her acquittal Judge Foster committed her to the hospital, where she was placed under observation. While in the hospital there were no signs of insanity, and the conclusion was reached that, although Mrs. O'Shaughnessy might have been insane at the time of the killing, her derangement was a form of emotional insanity, which passed away immediately after the shooting.

Representative Hardy of Texas Proposes a Broad Investigation.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A new move for an investigation of shipping combinations was started on the Democratic side of the house when Representative Hardy of Texas introduced a resolution directing the merchant marine and fisheries committee to make a sweeping inquiry into the relations between railroad and steamship lines.

The Hardy resolution calls for an investigation of the practices of shipping lines carrying overseas traffic and of American ships and railroads interested in controlling transportation.

SCHOOL EXERCISES HONOR MEMORY OF WASHINGTON

Exercises appropriate to the commemoration of the birthday of George Washington were held today in the Plainfield and North Plainfield schools.

Herbert Parker, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., spoke at the city school, and drew an impressive, instructive lesson from the life of the statesman. Rev. William S. McCoy, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, delivered the principal address to the borough High School pupils, combining the life of Lincoln with that of Washington as his subject.

Captain William S. Hand and H. Craig Smith were also present at the North Plainfield service. Each recited interesting personal experiences of war days and Mr. Hand told of a recent return to the fields made memorable in history. Patriotic songs completed the program.

At the Irving School at 11 o'clock a program of recitations, songs and other patriotic exercises was given. Those taking part were Albert Martin, Ida Mann, Ernest Pennoyer, Charles Lyles, Cecil McCall, Alis Spangenberg, Elsie Vail, Helen Rice, Lloyd Mundy, Mary Fitzpatrick, Marion Stine, Kathryn Endress, Wenas Neff, Michael Donato, Fred Sherman, Rosario Scavizzi, Ralph Jacobs and Margaret Cram.

Washington's Birthday Social.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Netherwood Reformed church will hold a Washington's Birthday social in the church tomorrow night. An appropriate program will be rendered.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Washington's Birthday exercises were held in the Plainfield High school this morning at the regular assembly exercises. Secretary Parker, of the Y. M. C. A., delivered the address. Patriotic songs completed the exercises.

Rehearsals are being held regularly at the Plainfield High School for "Pinafore," which will be presented on March 23. The first complete rehearsal was held Monday afternoon with a chorus of nearly forty. Besides the school talent there will be soloists from outside of the school to take the leading parts, including two members of the Lotus Glee Club.

Increased interest is being taken in the Chess Club at the Plainfield High School and it is rapidly gaining in membership each Friday at the regular meetings. It is thought that there will be no tournament this year but it is probable that after the members have had more practice that a team will be chosen to play in a tournament with the Leal's School.

The senior basketball team of the Plainfield High School will meet the faculty team Friday afternoon in another contest. The teachers won the last game and the seniors expect to retaliate in this game.

The annual Alumni Oracle will make its appearance tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Alumni prize-speaking contest and reception.

CO-OPERATION IN MONTCLAIR.

Citizens Subscribe For Stock In Store to Cut Cost of Living.

Montclair, N. J., Feb. 21.—Following a mass meeting at which the high cost of living was discussed, many persons here, including a number of women, subscribed to stock in a proposed co-operative store for this city.

Nearly $7,000 worth of stock has been already subscribed. The store is to be conducted along the lines of the co-operative societies of England.

Rev. Dr. Blake to Speak.

Rev. Dr. Edgar Blake, of Chicago, one of the traveling secretaries for the M. E. church Sunday-school, will speak in Vincent chapel of the First M. E. church, tonight, at a union meeting of the members of the three local Methodist churches. He will speak on Sunday-school work.

The convention choir met in the Seventh-Day Baptist church at 8 o'clock last night to hold a rehearsal.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association.

Editorial Committee

Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Plainfield Mothers' Association, of which Mrs. J. C. Pierson is president, has prepared a most interesting and instructive program for regular meetings in the High School building at appointed times. The program is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Morris Benton and has consisted of informal talks in child welfore subjects, with lectures by Dr. Harold D. Corbusier on "The Prevention of Disease in Young Children." These addresses will be followed by a lecture by Dr. Norman H. Probasco, who will continue the subject for children of high school age. Next Friday, February 23, Dr. Frank C. Ard will speak on "The Prevention in Eye and Ear." There will be a question box at the door and Dr. Ard will cheerfully answer all questions which are submitted.

Friendly Visiting Committees have been appointed by the Mothers' Association and every Parent-Teacher Association in the city, at the request of Miss Mabelle Phillips, secretary of the Charity Organization, to cooperate with the organization in visiting homes where school children need help of any kind.

The Board of Education has granted the use of the High School auditorium to the Mothers' Asociation free of charge for the evening lectre on "Child Hygiene," in co-operation with the State Board, having for its object the establishing of baby clinics and diet kitchens throughout the Sate. The speaker has not yet been selected, but an interesting meeting is promised to take place Tuesday evening, April 2. The Mothers' Association is very pleased with the liberal action of the Board of Education and the cordial attitude toward the work.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Managers of the State Congress of Mothers in Montclair, Dr. Schanffler, Dr. Kendall, State School Commissioners, and Dr. Marcy, of Riverton, were appointed as advisory members of the Congress. The next meeting of the board of managers will take place in Trenton. Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr., of this city, is a member of this State Board and represents the Plainfield Association work acceptably.

The Franklin-Whittier—Stillman Parent Teacher Association is to be congratulated in having among its members the Mayor of the city, several councilmen and men who are interested in the welfare of the city.

A committee on school legislation has recently been appointed, consisting of Howard H. Williams, G. W. V. Moy, Frank Holt. Their duties are to keep in touch with the school laws, keeping members of the association posted and advising any action that the association might take to advance the welfare of the school children. The next meeting of the asociation will be an afternoon social to be held in the Stillman school building.

Mrs. William M. Sandford, Jr., had charge of an informal meeting at her home in Crescent avenue last Friday of the presidents of the Parent-Teacher Associations of Plainfield, Rossele, Garwood and Westfield. Plans for future meetings and problems of the work were discussed. mutual benefit devised by the exchange of ideas and experience.

The enthusiasm engendered by the International Congress of Mothers held in Washington last Spring, has extended all over the United States and those foreign countries in close relations with us.

Persia has rewarded Mme. Khan for her services as a delegate with a seven-pointed golden star, "the first gold star of learning." As Mme. Khan is an American woman and the first so honored, the recognition is most interesting.

Vienna has introduced the subject of sex hygiene into the schools and has started a movement by which boys and girls leaving school at fourteen will have a knowledge of sexual matters.

In England the effects of room, light and air is being studied and infant mortality investigated to act as a preventative against an indiscreet.

The diversity of subjects taken up in our own country proves the interest to be vital. Each State is busy with the problem which seems most pertinent to it. In Oregon the extensive work of parent-teacher associations is progressing steadily and the education of mothers along practical lines is noticeable.

In California the Congress is occupied with emergency work, penny kitchens and day nurseries. The latter are maintained in the school which the little Russian mothers and fathers attend while the parents earn the bread for all.

In Ohio the Teachers' Institute passed a resolution to work for a mothers' club in every school in the State.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

ROYALTY LIKES TO HONOR HER

Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Friend of the Connaughts, Is Considered One of the Loveliest Women In American Society.

MRS. CHARLES DANA GIBSON, herself accounted to be one of the most beautiful women in America, recently started a dispute that is as old as the days of Troy. She undertook to select a group of the most beautiful young women in America to meet the Princess Patricia of Connaught at luncheon when the pretty English princess recently visited New York city. The interest that the public took in the choice probably surprised the lovely hostess, who had no intention of causing heartburnings or envy. So far Mrs. Gibson has refused to give the names of her guests for publication, and the latter are equally reticent. As a result, an earnest effort has been made to decide just who is who in beauty, and interviewers have been besieging artists and others supposed to be experts in the judgment of pulchritude, and in every case these modern Parises have awarded to the fair Mrs. Gibson herself a pre-eminence in beauty. She is said to have been the original for her husband's famous type, the Gibson girl.

MRS. CHARLES DANA GIBSON.

Whether or not Mrs. Gibson is, as some claim, the most beautiful woman in America, she ranks high in the list of America's beauties, and the attentions which she received from the Connaughts mark her as one of the socially elect. Not only did Princess Pat hasten from the assemblage of notables which had gathered to lunch with her parents at the Whitelaw Reids in New York, but at every function which they graced Mrs. Gibson was a guest favored by their particular attention. When the Connaughts returned to Canada it was to signalize their preference for the society of Mrs. Gibson by inviting both her and her husband to be their guests at Rideau Hall, the residence of the governor general of Canada. Such a mark of favor from the relatives of the king and queen of England would be enough to add immensely to the prestige of any society woman, but the fact that Mrs. Gibson was popular in London high society when she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Waldorf Astor, Jr., gives her further claim to be considered one of the queens of American society.

As it happens, Mrs. Gibson has no social ambitions, nor has her husband the wealth to support the position of leader as understood by plutocratic society in New York. She was one of the beautiful Langhorne girls of Virginia and brought no fortune to her husband, while his earnings, though very large, do not place him in the millionaire class. The Gibsons are simply a charming and well bred American couple, without affectations of any sort, and the tribute which royalty pays is to the genius of the husband and the loveliness of the wife. If American society in general was as discriminating it would speak better for our republican institutions, where the sparkle of a diamond tiara wins more respect than any scintillations of wit.

A Hat Box Table.

The huge hatbox of pasteboard may be transformed into an article of real usefulness. First the interior must be re-enforced with a lining of coarse crash, and the bottom of the box must be stitched, with the aid of a long needle and coarse thread, to as heavy a piece of cardboard as can be obtained.

Four flat and smoothly planed sticks eighteen inches long are then purchased at some small carpenter shop, and when these have been tacked against the sides of the box corners, if it is of square shape or at equal distances if the box is a round one, you will have a fairly substantial four legged low table, which must then be entirely covered with furniture tapestry, denim, raw silk or printed crash.

The box is not intended to hold any of the homely articles to be mended, like children's stockings and unhemmed kitchen towels, but it is a charming receptacle for the piece of silk embroidery, the strip of handmade lace or any other bit of ornamental catch-up work and is a prettier object in a drawing room than the ordinary workbox or workbag.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SOME TEMPERANCE SILLABUBS.

WHILE sillabubs generally have a flavor of liquor, they can be made otherwise and served without menace to the conscience in temperance households.

Sillabubs are so light and dainty that it seems a pity they should not be enjoyed by all. They are a particularly nourishing food for invalids because their chief constituent is whipped cream. White of egg is also used in some sillabubs.

When it is desired that the sillabub should not be so rich, fresh sweet milk is substituted.

The cream or milk is very often given a tang by the use of wine, cider, brandy or spices.

Lemon Dainties.

Lemon Sillabub.—This is made without liquor and as follows: Mix one cupful of powdered sugar with the strained juice of five lemons. Let the sugar dissolve and then pour in a pint of cream. Whip the whole to a froth. Let it stand for several hours and serve very cold.

Another recipe for a lemon sillabub is also given. It includes eggs and is a trifle richer.

Lemon and Egg Sillabub.—Take half a pint of thick cream, juice and rind of quarter of a lemon, three whites of eggs and powdered sugar to taste. Mix lemon juice and rind together with the cream. Sweeten to taste.

Whisk the whites of the eggs: add lightly to the cream. Whisk cream and eggs together, taking off the froth as it rises. Lay on a hair sieve to drain. When all the froth has risen have ready some custard glasses or cups filled about quarter full with any nice or well flavored custard. Fill up the glass with sillabub and serve.

Made With Fruits.

Banana Sillabub.—Beat a pint of cream to a stiff froth and separate into three equal parts. Then prepare three flavoring mixtures, one for each portion of cream.

The first flavor is made with two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and two of grated banana. Combine these with the first portion of cream and place in the bottom of a glass dish.

The second flavor is made with two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and two of strawberry juice. Mix with the second portion of cream and pour over the cream in the dish.

The third portion of flavor is made with two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and two of orange pulp with a bit of grated rind. Combine with the third portion of cream and place it in the dish over the other two. Garnish with apple, grape or currant jelly. Serve with angel food or sponge cake.

VOGUE POINTS.

Charming Combinations of Fabrics Appear In Wedding Gowns.

Many wedding toilets display a mingling of soft satin velvet brocade and plain velvet, together with lovely laces and filmy chiffons.

Especial note should be made of the long transparent sleeves, slightly mousquetaire, cut with a single seam, in a new blouse, and also of the high neck of the transparent waist.

Scarfs are an important article of the toilet this season. The straight satin scarf, which is from nine to twelve inches wide and 100 inches long, is not only fashionable and pretty, but serviceable and practical.

SKIRT WITH INVERTED PLAITS.

The skirt made with inverted plaits at the sides is much liked for the spring. It provides for the straight lines and slender effect that are so fashionable and at the same time allows freedom in walking. The skirt illustrated is in four gores.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7257, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

CURRENT LEGISLATION by

Mrs. E. F. Feickert

With the introduction in the New Jersey Senate by Senator Gebhardt, of Hunterdon County, on February thirteenth, of concurrent resolutions providing for an amendment to the constitution giving women the right to vote, the work for woman suffrage enters upon a new stage of its development. Of course, it must be passed by two Legislatures, and then voted upon by the people (that is, by one-half of the people) in 1914, before it can become effective, so complete success is still a long way off; but it is gratifying to have at least accomplished something as definite and tangible as this.

Most appropriately this resolution was introduced at the session nearest the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, because Lincoln, far-sighted in this as well as in other things, said over fifty years ago: "I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens, by no means excluding women!"

It is interesting to consider the present situation at Trenton, so as to see what is likely to be the fate of the suffrage resolution. In writing to Miss Edith Whitmore, of New York, about the woman suffrage the other day, our Governor said: "Allow me to acknowledge with real appreciation your letter of January 31st., in which you put me a very difficult question. I can only say that my own mind is in the midst of the debate which it involves. I do not feel that I am ready to utter any confident judgment as yet about it. I am honestly trying to work my way toward a just conclusion." Naturally, we are hopeful that that conclusion will be in favor of woman suffrage, for no man in public life has taken a firmer stand on direct primaries and on the initiative and referendum, which are "to give the right to represent themselves." In speaking for his pet measure, the Geran bill, he says: "This bill is in answer to my promise to the people to put the government of the State into their hands." We submit to Governor Wilson, are not women people? Most of them linger under the delusion that they are! As women are considered to be people in six States, and as a million and a half of these people of feminine gender will vote for Presidential electors next fall, it seems probable that Governor Wilson will follow the lead of Colonel Roosevelt and come out for equal suffrage, for surely he must consider the women of his own State as intelligent as the women of Washington, Colorado or California, of Utah, Idaho or Wyoming!

In the State Senate and Assembly the cause of women suffrage has several avowed friends and a few avowed enemies, and a great many legislators are sitting on the fence, which must be an uncomfortable seat. After the legislative hearing on suffrage however, we hope that most of them will get down on the right side of the fence. Three weeks ago a legislator from our own county wrote me as follows; "I am afraid I am awfully old fashioned and behind the times in this matter, but I have so much respect for women as they are, and admiration for what they now do and always have done in the way of unselfish good, indirectly to be sure, that I cannot bring myself to stand for changing their place in the makeup of our body special by risking, to my mind, what we know to be good and fine and one of the few things we have left at present to look up to and reverence, for a condition which might and probably eventually would be for the better."

If he admires what women have done for good (philanthropic work and moral reform I suppose he means) and does not object to their leaving the protecting shadow of their homes to do social service work—in the improvement of factory and store conditions, in securing stricter enforcement of laws for sanitation and health, in helping to abolish the White Slave traffic, in bettering the condition of poor-houses and jails—why stultify their efforts by limiting their power? Why make them work with only the left hand of persuasion and womanly influence, and tie behind their backs the right hand of the power of the ballot?

Is the risk to which this legislator refers the favorite bugaboo of many anti-suffrage speakers, "the danger that women will be coarsened by coming in contact with the rough element at the polls?" If the polls are so indecent that refined, respectable women could not go there, whose fault is it? Certainly not the womens. A New York women advanced this argument to me, and I said, "well my dear, when you vote I hope it will be in your own residence district, with your own husband, father, brother and friends. It won't be legal to vote anywhere else. The women of the slums who vote will feel more at home among the men of the slums than they would among your masculine friends."

Perhaps Mr. Legislator's argument is really the same as Mr. Asquith's eloquent refrain, "Men are men and women are women!" "What is good for men cannot be good for women," to quote a recent anti-suffrage article, "because they are so different so subtly, wonderfully, bafflingly different!" Oh, piffle! We admit it gladly, we glory in being different. I don't known a single woman who aspires to distinctively masculine prerogatives. Some woman do smoke (to cite the dearest of men's privilliges), but I have never known a suffragist who did. Are there not many activities and amusements unaffected by sex? Practically all sports (except prize-fighting!) are open to women. Both sexes go to school, to college and to church together. They work side by side in business and professional life, they go out together as missionaries and reformers. There is apparently no danger of contamination or coarsening in all this equal service, they can do all this and still be "looked up to and reverenced," but if they spend ten or fifteen minutes a year inside a polling place, surrounded by the men with whom they constantly come in contact in their daily lives, they would immediately fall from their high pedestals. Really, Mr. Legislator, none of us cares particularly about the pedestals. We really dislike an attitude of superiority as much as we do one of inferiority, all we ask is to be equal.

LILLIAN F. FEICKERT.

—A hot temper requires cool reatment.

—Unfortunately for him, Mr. Taft's neurotics do the voting.—New York American.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

YOUNGER SOCIAL SET AT RECEPTION TO FIANCEES

An event of unusual interest to those in the younger society set of the city and borough was the reception given yesterday afternoon by Miss Alice Titus, of Madison avenue, in honor of Miss Helen Stevens and Miss Anna Garrigues, both of whose engagements have just been announced. The guests numbered about sixty.

Miss Alice Titus and her mother, Mrs. Henry E. Titus together with Miss Stevens and Miss Garrigues received, and they were assisted by Miss Ruth Titus, Miss Katharine Titus, Miss May Faber, Miss Marion Brown and Miss Lucie Budlong, who poured in the dining room. The decorations were attractive, pink being the prevailing color. Sweet peas was the favorite flower.

Miss Garrigues, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Garrigues, of Watchung avenue, is engaged to Wharton Bickley, of Philadelphia, while Miss Stevens, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stevens, of Hillside avenue, is engaged to Benson Wigton, formerly of Philadelphia, but now of Boston. No dates have been fixed for the weddings, but they will probably take place in the early fall.

ONLY TWO COMMITTEES REPORT AT SEWER MEETING

Dunellen and North Plainfield Township special sewer committees appointed by the governing bodies of the municipalities, were the only ones to make reports at the sewer conference meeting held last night in Dunellen. Other municipalities with similar committees working in the same scheme are Plainfield, Fanwood, Bound Brook, Somerville and Raritan.

The Dunellen committee reported that the possibility of a trunk line sewer connecting all the municipalities was most remote, but that its opposition against Plainfield's beat Rock avenue and the enlargement of the same would be vigorously continued.

The North Plainfield Township committee reported continued opposition to the location of a sewage disposal plant on the Cramer farm. The meeting was not quite as largely attended as the one at which was proposed the project to have each town appoint a committee to consider the question of sewage and report back.

William Mazzocco, who has been spending the past two months in Plainfield, sailed yesterday morning on the Lamport and Holt line "Saravarsa" for Rio de Janeiro. He will be located in that city permanently as the Brazilian representative of several automobile manufacturers. A party of local friends saw Mr. Mazzocco off at the pier.

THE GINGER JAR

"Don't think of seeing uncle about that overcoat yet. Hold fast to it. Cold weather and storms are promised for Friday, or sooner.

Yes, it was almost baseball weather. Made bowlers and basketballists wish tournaments and schedules were ended. But, don't forget the blizzard. It came in March.

"My idea of really mean sarcasm," says Hank O'Day, "is a fellow who shakes hands with an umpire and then counts fingers to see if they are all there."

Using Jim Gaffney's remarks of the past as a criterion, a classic has been lost to baseball history through the suppression of the conversation between the Boston owner and Mike Donlin just prior to the swapping of Mike for Campbell.

A nine formed of Chinese students of the Hawaii College will tour the Eastern States during the summer, playing college and amateur teams wherever possible. When not possible, what? Laundries or chop-suey joints?

"Put the pitcher down on the level with the other infielders and the home plate," says umpire Bob Emslie, "and there'll be more batting. The pitcher has enough advantage now with the foul strike rule in effect." Get busy while the round is soft!

A fortress is only as strong as its most vulnerable part. Hence the "war fund" created by the baseball trust, or whatever you call it, to protect its interests in the four cities where only one ball club is now located under recognized, organized baseball.

Johnny Warhop, the diminutive Yankee twirler with the puzzling underhand delivery, has signed for next season. He was supposed to be a hold-out, but had a talk with Wolverton in Chicago and all difficulties were adjusted.

The whole Giant infield, consisting of Merkle, Doyle, Fletcher and Herzog have not yet signed the contracts sent them and "Big Chief" Meyers is still an outcast. McGraw is not worrying near as much about them, however, as he is about the non-arrival at Marlin of the uniforms and other playing paraphernalia.

Fred Snodgrass, of iron heel fame since the world's series and who has been playing winter ball in California, sent his signed vellum to the New York Nationals Tuesday with no promises or restrictions about keeping his feet on the ground.

While the dispatches don't even hint it, not much of a stretch is required to imagine the wrath of Muggsy. Under weather conditions most favorable, fairly pining for work after a long winter's layoff and cramped from the long jaunt to the camp, why—why should express companies exist, anyhow?

NO CHANGES LOOKED FOR IN TRI-STATE.

"I except that our meeting this afternoon will be cut and dried," said President Charles F. Carpenter of the Tri-State League at Philadelphia, yesterday. "The circuit will remain unchanged as Johnston has settled all differences and gotten into line."

President Carpenter also stated that on the salary question he did not expect any discussion as the club limit was fixed last year at $2,000 and the individual player could draw 175, captains $200. This year he said he thought it would be the same.

Flag Raising Days at Shibe Park.

The dates for the raising of the flags, emblematic of the World's and American League championships of 1911, have been selected by Manager Mack. On Tuesday, May 7, the American League championship pennant will be raised to the flagpole, the Cleveland team, headed by Manager Harry Davis, will assist in this function. On Wednesday, July 3, the pennant which declares officially that the Athletics are the champions of the world, will be flown to the breezes, the Boston Red Sox being chosen to take part in this ceremony.

Will Replay Soccer Game.

At a special meeting of the American Football Association in Newark, the protest of Wissinoming against Paterson Rangers for not having the grounds roped off in the cup game which was played February 11 was sustained and the game will be replayed in Paterson February 25. Paterson won the game by one goal scored from a penalty in the last five minutes of play.

JACK CURLEY SAYS FLYNN WILL BEAT JACK JOHNSON

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 20.—Asked for his opinion of Flynn's chances of separating Johnson from the heavyweight title Jack Curley said:

"Of course I think Flynn can wrest the title from Johnson. He has won twelve straight fights and has disposed of every one who has had a chance with him except Johnson. His record is every bit as good as that of other men who have aspired to the heavyweight championship and won it. Flynn has improved wonderfully and his fighting weight will be close to 200. I don't believe Johnson would fight if he could get out of it, but must do so to maintain his reputation, which is now earning him $2,000 weekly on the stage. When a man improves as Flynn has improved in the past two years, when he disposes of men like Kaufman and Carl Morris, touted as the real 'white hope,' the belief cannot but prevail that he is the only man in the ring today who can make Jack Johnson take the count."

RIDING AND DRIVING CLUB PICKS HORSE SHOW DATES

The Plainfield Riding and Driving Club will hold its ninth annual horse show on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 6, 7 and 8, at the show grounds on Woodland avenue and Randolph road. Plans are now under consideration by the club members to make the show the best in the history of the club.

The officers of the club follow:

President, Orville T. Waring; vice-president, Robert A. Fairbairn; treasurer, Edwin S. Hooley; secretary, Lewis G. Timpson; assistant secretary, Charles W. Smith. Horse show committee, Robert A. Fairbairn, chairman; William J. Buttfield, Edwin S. Hooley, Daniel Runkle and Henry L. Finch. Grounds committee, Lewis G. Timpson, chairman; Lewis E. Waring, George P. Mellick, Henry L. Finch and Charles J. Fisk.

CASTING TOURNAMENT AT SPORTSMEN'S SHOW.

Hand-in-hand with the shooting interest of the Sportsmen's show, opening in Madison Square Garden March 1, will be the casting tournament of the anglers. A real river will run the length of the big arena and in the purling waters the votaries of Izaak Walton may be expected to excell or to beat all previous records. There will be the champions, both professional and amateur, and arrangements will be made to have the tournament handled in masterly fashion by a joint committee representing various anglers' organizations, and with a superintendent to see that targets are in place, that tournament judges and officials are on time and that the novices will get every chance to win a cup.

MRS. WILLIAM H. DEWAR'S CHALLENGE UNANSWERED.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—Mrs. William H. Dewar, 3507 North 22[illegible] street, who won the title of champion amateur woman fencer of the United States when she drubbed the Baroness De Meyer before the fashionable Colony Club of New York, recently, has so far had no answer to the new challange she issued immediately after the Baroness had questioned the justice of the decision in the match.

Mrs. Dewar's defeat of the Baroness, who is said to be the greatest amateur woman fencer in Europe and who previously had defeated the best amateurs in New York society, was sensational in its completeness.

BASEBALL RECORDS SHOW.

The first no-hit college game ever pitched was by Joseph Mann, of Princeton, N. J., against Yale, at New Haven. The game was played in 1875.

In 16 years between 1877 and 1890 "Silver" Flint caught 835 games, and in 833 of them he wore neither mask, glove nor chest protector.

In the 16 seasons between 1876 and 1892 Adrian C. Anson played in 1,582 games and made 2,252 hits. His batting average for the entire 16 years was .344.

In 1875 Boston won every game played on the home grounds.

In 1,155 games, covering 12 consecutive seasons, Mike Kelley had a batting average of .321.

Hugh Duffy, with the Boston Club in 1894, had the unprecedented batting average of .438.

Second Game for Cup.

The second game for the city championship and the Ritz cup will be played between the P. H. S. and C. A. tomorrow afternoon.

N.P.H.S. FIVE WINS FROM SOMERVILLE; TIED FOR FIRST

The North Plainfield High School basketball team defeated the Somerville High School team at that place yesterday afternoon, 35 to 24. The contest was on the Somerset County Basketball Championship schedule and by merit of the victory, N. P. H. S. will now have to play off a tie for first honors with Bound Brook.

Yesterday's game was fast from start to finish. Somerville lead at the end of the first half 16 to 14.

In the second half N. P. tightened up, increased the pace soon evening the score and then passing the County Seat pupils.

The line ups: N. P. H. S.; W. and C. Taylor, forwards; Love, centre; Townley and Burner, guards. Somerville H. S.; Mantell and Kirchon, forwards; Bowlby, centre; Wachts and Kramer, guards.

CAPT. MULFORD'S BOWLERS PARK CLUB CHAMPIONS

Captain Mulford's quintet won in a walk over the other contestants for bowling honors in the Park Club ten pin tournament, the finals of which were rolled last night. Each member of the victorious five received a scarf pin neatly fashioned out of two ten pins and a ball. The members of the second victorious five, Captain Long's wood spillers, received silver toilet articles.

Although Captain Long's men took away two of the games last night, the lead held by the Mulford crowd could not be overcome. The scores returned are as follows:

Mulford Team.

NEWARK ELKS DROPPED TWO GAMES TO NEW YORK.

The New York Elks on their own alleys took two games from Newark last night as follows: 934-853 and 945-910.

In the third game Blum and Leick, for the visitors, hit for 224 each, pulling out a win 976-828. In this Kessler of No. 1 helped some by falling from 207 and 202 scores in the first games to 140 for the third.

FILES FAVORABLE REPORT ON POSTOFFICE INCREASE BILL

Washington, Feb. 21. (Special).—Senator Martine, for the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, yesterday reported favorably the bill introduced by Senator Briggs authorizing an increase in the limit of the cost of building and site of a postoffice at Plainfield, to $150,000.

The appropriation originally authorized was $100,000. Of this amount $35,000 has been spent for a site, leaving $65,000 available for a building. The committee decided that $65,000 is inadequate to construct a building fitted to properly serve the Plainfield territory.

For the Hospital's Benefit.

Special services under the auspices of the Lyceum (colored) will be held at the Calvary Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. Rev. J. E. Churchman, of Orange, will be the speaker. The program will be in charge of Miss Julia Basterfield. The other members of the committee comprise Dr. J. C. Anderson, W. J. Douglass, Alexander Stills, Solon Maben, N. F. Olden, Nathan Pollard and William Mayhew. The officers of the Lyceum are: President, G. H. P. Ganaway; secretary, Miss M. B. Cobbs; treasurer, W. G. Wright.

Tonsorial Parlors Improved.

The interior of Edward Maynard's barber shop on North avenue has been entirely renovated and presents a much improved appearance. Repainting and redecorating generally have done much for the old and reliable tonsorial shop.

Bishop Evans Tyree, of Nashville, Tenn., who is visiting New Jersey finishing up the work of the late Bishop J. W. Gains, will preach in Mt. Zion A. M. E. church tomorrow night. He will visit the churches in Philadelphia, New York, New England and New Jersey.

WALL STREET TO OPPOSE STARTING GAMES AT 3:30

Opposition to the plan of starting the baseball games at 3:30 o'clock next season is found in Wall street. A list containing four hundred names was posted on the floor of the Stock Exchange yesterday protesting against the change in time. It is expected that several hundred more names will appear on this list, while members of the Coffee, Cotton and Produce exchanges are working in harmony with the opposition.

The brokers declare that they will be compelled to miss the first few inning of a game if the time for starting is changed. On the other hand, there are thousands of commuters who are forced to miss the last few innings in order to catch suburban trains, so Joe O'Brien, of the Giants, and Tom Davis, of the Yankees, have a difficult task confronting them in trying to determine what the majority wants.

BOWLERS KNOCK STUFFING OUT OF YOUNG ROAST PIG

Fifty-one strong arm bowlers by actual count fell upon a roasted suckling pig at the Berkely Hotel in Bound Brook last night, where the porker had been made succulent in honor of the Plainfield Elks bowling quintet. All of the wood spillers were present as were a number of present and past day stars at the game from Bound Brook, New Brunswick, Somerville and this city. L. E. Bellis, Exalted Ruler of Plainfield Lodge No. 885, B. P. O. E., was toastmaster.

The Elks quartet sang selections and solos. Mein Host Leon DuFour and William Olmstead obliged with several duets. Freeholder S. P. T. Wilbur, Sammy Travenor, of the Rutgers alumni, George O. Stevens and in fact nearly every one present lent his talents to the gaiety of the occasion.

During a lull in the festivities Captain Blatz of the local pinners, and Jimmy Harkins, of New Brunswick, got together and arranged to roll the postponed match of February 6 next Monday night on Greenwald's alleys in New Brunswick. A special car will take the Plainfield delegation. It will leave the Watchung avenue club house at an hour to be announced.

LADIES' AID OF MONROE HOLDS ITS ANNUAL SOCIAL

The annual birthday social of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church was held in the church, last night, and was a success. The members of the society returned their offerings which amounted to $25. This is secured through an arrangement whereby each member contributes as many pennies as they are years old.

An excellent program was presented as follows: Piano solo, Miss Mabel Whitman; selections, James Fanton, J. W. Daub, Morris Warrick and Oscar Moore; reading, Mrs. W. B. Grannatt; soprano solo, Mrs. Elizabeth Boyd Edgar; vocal duet, Mrs. Mabel Whitman and Miss Whitman; vocal solo, James Fanton; reading, Mrs. W. B. Grannatt; vocal solo, Mrs. Elizabeth Boyd Edgar; selections, male quartet. Hatchet favors were distributed when refreshments were served.

AUTOMOBILE HITS HACK; PASSENGERS IN SCRAMBLE

A touring car driven by Frank Newman, turning from Watchung avenue into East Front street, struck a hack driven by Frank Peterson, colored, at 8:30 o'clock last night. The hack horse was injured and the conveyance damaged.

In the car with Newman were two young men and two girls. A passenger was in the hack. The two girls shrieked when the collision occurred, and jumping from the car ran into a nearby house. The hack passenger broke a door of the carriage in making a hasty exit.

One of the automobile party admitted to the police today that the car turned wrong in taking the corner. The car is owned by Elston M. French. He did not know it had been taken from his garage. Newman formerly worked for Mr. French as chauffeur, and the latter recently hired Newman to overhaul the car, giving him a key to the garage at that time. Newman said last night that he took the car out to test it.

Bridge Whist Party.

Miss Ethel M. Hudson, of Somerset street, was hostess at an afternoon bridge party, yesterday. Four tables were in play. Miss Hudson was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. W. J. Hudson. Mrs. J. F. Larkin and Miss Avis Aldrich were the prize winners. Following the play a light collation was served.

CHALONER WANTS PROPERTY.

Man of "Whose Looney Now?" Fame Loses Point In Court.

New York, Feb. 21.—All of that part of the Princess Troubetzkey's deposition having a bearing on John Armstrong Chaloner's physical and mental condition while she lived with him as his wife, and from whom she later was divorced, was ruled out by Judge Holt in the trial of Chaloner's $250,000 action for alleged conversion of funds against his committee, Thomas T. Sherman, in the federal district court.

The court held that such matters are wholly immaterial, as the only question before the court is that of conversion of funds and consequently the validity of the order of the New York supreme court adjudging Chaloner incompetent and placing his property in the hands of a committee.

SUGAR ON FREE LIST?

Democrats Would Raise $53,000,000 Lost Revenue by Duties on Luxuries.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Being unable to agree on a bill revising the sugar schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, the Democrats of the ways and means committee are now considering the wisdom of putting sugar on the free list and raising the $53,000,000 of revenue that would be lost thereby either through an internal revenue tax on the refined product or through the imposition of extremely heavy duties on silk stockings and other luxuries.

This question will be discussed Saturday by the committee, when Representative Hardwick of Georgia, chairman of the special committee which has just made its report after a long investigation of the activities of the sugar trust, will appear to argue that sugar be put on the free list and that one or the other of the alternatives mentioned be adopted.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. W. W. Newbury, of Nyack, N. Y., conducted a Bible reading at the church at Craig place and Duer street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

Miss Mary Angevine, a Bible teacher from Dr. W. W. White's Bible Teacher's Training School in New York city, has been secured to conduct at the Young Women's Christian Association six studies in the Gospel of St. Mark during the Lenten season. The first of these will be on Wednesday morning, February 28, at half past ten o'clock and will continue on the five successive Wednesday mornings. Miss Angevine has proved herself to be a teacher of much insight and power and her coming affords a real privilege to the women of Plainfield. All are cordially invited.

PLAINFIELD MOTORIST IS HELD FOR ACCIDENT

C. B. Brokaw, president of the Brokaw Automobile Company, who accidentally struck Mrs. Noble Beatty as she attempted to pass in front of an automobile which he was driving in Westfield avenue, Elizabeth, was arraigned in police court before Judge Mahon yesterday in Elizabeth.

Mr. Brokaw was held in bonds of $200, which he furnished, for appearance if wanted. His arrest was merely a technicality.

District Court Case.

Harry Cohen was awarded a verdict for $31.70 against Alfred and Henry Johnson this morning in the District Court by Judge William Newcorn for work alleged to have been done on a house on Liberty street while it was in the course of erection. Harry C. Runyon appeared for the plaintiff while Vincent W. Nash Jr., was counsel for the defendants.

DO IT NOW.

Plainfield People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms given place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells, if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. C. B. Corlett, 60 Manning avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they helped me after every other remedy had failed. I suffered from kidney disorders for years and the principal one was a severe backache. Since I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I have taken them off and on and they have always acted like magic, giving me prompt relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

WILL STEPHENSON RETAIN HIS SEAT?

Charges Against Him Have Not Been Proved.

SENATOR LEA RAPS HIM.

Spectacle of Youngest Senator Leading an Attack Upon the Oldest Member and Demanding That His Seat Be Declared Vacant Has No Precedent In History of Senate, Old Timers Say.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Senator Isaac Stephenson's election case is expected to attract as much notoriety in the next few weeks as that of Lorimer when it was the big subject for debate in the senate.

It looked for a time as if the Stephenson case would be allowed to go by default. A month ago nobody believed the senate would give any serious consideration to it, because it was understood that the charges of "corrupt methods and practices" had not been proved, and there was a general feeling that the charges against Senator Stephenson were inspired by his political enemies in Wisconsin, who had failed to produce the evidence to sustain the charges, but it is a serious question now whether Senator Stephenson can retain his seat.

The renewal of interest in the Stephenson case is due to the character of the reports submitted. The majority report briefly recites that the senator from Wisconsin is entitled to his seat and that the charges of corrupt methods and practices have not been proved. Senator Heyburn of Idaho felt impelled to submit his views as an individual member of the committee, and in it he condemned the expenditure of a large sum of money, which Senator Stephenson admittedly spent, and also took a whack at Stephenson's managers for carrying out of the state certain documents that might have been material evidence in the case. Then two other members of the committee, Senator Sutherland and Senator Pomerene, joined in a report which was even more scathing in its condemnation of the methods of Senator Stephenson's managers and especially as to the corrupt use of money. Finally a minority report from the whole committee went in, which recommended that Senator Stephenson be unseated on the ground that the evidence submitted before the investigating committee of the expenditure of so large a sum as $107,000 was prima facie evidence of corruption and that Senator Stephenson's managers had not produced evidence to overcome this presumption of guilt, and therefore he ought to surrender his seat.

Some of Senator Stephenson's friends are moving quietly around the senate urging senators to use their influence to bring an early vote on the case. Senator Lea of Tennessee, who joined in the minority report, will open the debate against Senator Stephenson. The spectacle of the youngest senator leading an attack upon the oldest member and demanding that his seat be declared vacant because it was obtained by corruption will be one that is probably without precedent in the history of the senate, so the old timers say.

MAY SERVE ON THE BORDER.

Bill Reported to Utilize Red Cross In Mexican Troubles.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A bill that will make the Red Cross service available for use in the troubles along the Mexican border was favorably reported to the house by the foreign affairs committee.

The present law allows the president to utilize the Red Cross only in actual warfare. The new bill, if passed, will allow him to call on the organization for aid in cases of threatened warfare.

The committee also brought in a favorable report on a bill extending the Burton preservation of Niagara falls act until May 1. Meantime the committee will hold hearings on proposed legislation to replace the Burton act.

FOR MERCHANT MARINE.

Lewis Nixon Favors Rucker Bill Now Before Congress.

New York, Feb. 21.—Lewis Nixon, president of the New York Shipbuilding company, appeared before the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries to oppose as harmful to American shipbuilding various bills admitting free to American registry foreign built vessels owned by American citizens.

Mr. Nixon spoke in favor of the Rucker bill to restore the American merchant marine, declaring it preferable to other legislation proposed.

URGE DIX TO PARDON BRANDT

Hearing In New York Suddenly Postponed, and Carmody Acts.

New York, Feb. 21.—Immediately after Judge Richard L. Hand adjourned the Brandt pardon hearing on the ground that Governor Dix must take the responsibility if Mortimer L. Schiff and Howard S. Gans are allowed to testify Attorney General Carmody went to Albany to tell the governor that unless Brandt is pardoned at once Supreme Court Justice Gerard will sustain the writ of habeas corpus and probably denounce the prosecution of Brandt as a travesty of justice.

The pardon hearing produced nothing save an acrimonious fight between Delancey Nicoll, Paul D. Cravath and John D. Lindsay, counsel for Schiff and Gans, and Attorney General Carmody and District Attorney Whitman, who were supported by Brandt's lawyers, Mirabeau L. Towns and Robert M. Moore. Mr. Nicoll led the fight to get Mortimer L. Schiff, Mrs. Mortimer L. Schiff and Howard S. Gans to appear as witnesses. He said they did not want immunity from prosecution and would not accept it.

ROOSEVELT IN OHIO.

Speech at Columbus Will Outline His Platform.

Columbus, O., Feb. 21.—Colonel Roosevelt speaks today at the Ohio constitutional convention here, where he will outline the platform of the Roosevelt progressives.

As to his Boston trip, which will last from Sunday to Tuesday night or Wednesday morning probably, Colonel Roosevelt said flatly that there wasn't to be a moment of politics in it. A pleasure trip to see old friends was all there was to it, he said, and he most certainly would not make any speeches.

He wouldn't talk about his answer to the eight governors who met recently in Chicago and sent to ask Colonel Roosevelt to say where he stood. He has promised to answer the governors soon, and as it is believed that his reply, while it may not contain a definite statement that Mr. Roosevelt is or is not an avowed candidate for the nomination, will say over his own signature what some of his friends have said for him. It is awaited with much interest.

FIEND AT WORK AGAIN.

Texas and Louisiana Negroes Terror Stricken by Murders.

Galveston, Tex., Feb. 21.—The mysterious murder of the Pattiedove family, colored, in Beaumont, Tex., consisting of mother, three daughters and one son, has aroused the people of the western part of Louisiana and eastern part of Texas. This makes the seventh family and thirty victims of this fiend within a dozen weeks, and in each case an ax was the weapon used. No motive has been discovered. The police are inclined to believe it is a religious fanatic, but so carefully has he covered up his tracks that the officers are without a clew.

It is believed to be the work of a white man, and rewards amounting to $25,000 have been offered for his capture.

In many of the negro sections the inhabitants are terror stricken and refuse to leave their homes and are arming themselves.

TWO SOLDIERS IN TROUBLE.

Privates Held at Newport on Burglary Charge.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 21.—Privates William R. Davis and Louis Otkin of the One Hundred and Thirtieth company, coast artillery, a part of the guard at Fort Wetherill, were arraigned this morning charged with breaking and entering the summer home of Isaac H. Clothier of Philadelphia at Jamestown. The men were discovered in the house by the town officers before they had had a chance to disturb anything and were arrested.

The Clothier home is one of Jamestown's largest summer estates and is but a short distance from the fort.

The more a woman knows about money the more she appreciates this return to her of 2½ per cent. on all purchases she makes in this establishment.

No simpler scheme could have been devised for sharing our profits with those who patronize us regularly. It is convenient, easily understood and works out to the advantage of everyone desiring to participate, and it is unlike any other plan used by other concerns, because here we offer you your choice of a whole store full of high-class merchandise when you present full books of Surety Coupons.

The return of 2½ per cent. is just as certain as returns would be from bonds, stocks or bank interest.

Every 10c purchase entitles you to a coupon.

Every $1 purchase entitles you to 10 coupons.

Every $100 purchase entitles you to a full book, which we exchange for a book of certificates that can be spent just like U. S. currency in any part of the store, except for groceries—twenty-five of these certificates being actually worth $2.50 to you.

People in all walks of life are gathering Surety Coupons—the man or woman buying $10 worth of goods a month and those buying $100 worth a month. They are not confined to any class. You need have no hesitation in asking for a book or in asking for coupons, for we want every regular patron of the store to participate in the benefits it confers.

A CHARTER OF DEMOCRACY.

Roosevelt's Address Before the Ohio Constitutional Convention.

FAVORS RECALL OF JUDGES.

Control of Trusts Should Be Administrative and Not Judicial—Lincoln Pointed the Way We Must Follow. Approves Initiative and Referendum, Direct Nominations and Popular Election of Senators.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Theodore Roosevelt addressed the Ohio Constitutional convention in session here at 11 o'clock this morning. His speech follows:

Mr. President and Members of the Ohio Constitutional Convention:

I am profoundly sensible of the honor you have done me in asking me to address you. You are engaged in the fundamental work of self government. You are engaged in framing a constitution under and in accordance with which the people are to get and to do justice and absolutely to rule themselves. No representative body can have a higher task. To carry it through successfully there is need to combine practical common sense of the most hard headed kind with a spirit of lofty idealism.

I believe in pure democracy. With Lincoln I hold that "this country, with its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it." We progressives believe that the people have the right, the power and the duty to protect themselves and their own welfare; that human rights are supreme over all other rights; that wealth should be the servant, not the master, of the people. We believe that unless representative government does absolutely represent the people it is not representative government at all. We test the worth of all men and all measures by asking how they contribute to the welfare of the men, women and children of whom this nation is composed. We are engaged in one of the great battles of the age long contest waged against privilege on behalf of the common welfare. We hold it a prime duty of the people to free our government from the control of money in politics.

This country, as Lincoln said, belongs to the people. So do the natural resources which make it rich. They supply the basis of our prosperity now and hereafter. In preserving them, which is a national duty, we must not forget that monopoly is based on the control of natural resources and natural advantages and that it will help the people little to conserve our natural wealth unless the benefits which it can yield are secured to the people. Let us remember also that conservation does not stop with the natural resources, but that the principle of making the best use of all we have requires with equal or greater insistence that we shall stop the waste of human life in industry and prevent the waste of human welfare which flows from the unfair use of concentrated power and wealth in the hands of men whose eagerness for profit blinds them to the cost of what they do. We have no higher duty than to promote the efficiency of the individual. There is no surer road to the efficiency of the nation.

Power Is the People's.

I am emphatically a believer in constitutionalism, and because of this fact I no less emphatically protest against any theory that would make of the constitution a means of thwarting instead of securing the absolute right of the people to rule themselves and to provide for their own social and industrial well being. All constitutions, those of the states no less than that of the nation, are designed and must be interpreted and administered so as to fit human rights. Lincoln so interpreted and administered the national constitution. Buchanan attempted the reverse, attempted to fit human rights to and limit them by the constitution. It was Buchanan who treated the courts as a fetish, who protested against and condemned all criticism of the judges for unjust and unrighteous decisions and upheld the constitution as an instrument for the protection of privilege and of vested wrong. It was Lincoln who appealed to the people against the judges when the judges went wrong, who advocated and secured what was practically the recall of the Dred Scott decision and who treated the constitution as a living force for righteousness. We stand for applying the constitution to the issues of today as Lincoln applied it to the issues of his day. Lincoln, mind you, and not Buchanan, was the real upholder and preserver of the constitution, for the true progressive, the progressive of the Lincoln stamp, is the only true constitutionalist, the only real conservative. If the constitution is successfully invoked to nullify the effort to remedy injustice it is proof positive either that the constitution needs immediate amendment or else that it is being wrongfully and improperly construed. I therefore very earnestly ask you clearly to provide in this constitution means which will enable the people readily to amend it if at any point it works injustice and also means which will permit the people themselves by popular vote, after due deliberation and discussion, but finally and without appeal, to settle what the proper construction of any constitutional point is. It is often said that ours is a government of checks and balances. But this should only mean that these checks and balances obtain as among the several different kinds of representatives of the people—judicial, executive and legislative—to whom the people have delegated certain portions of their power. It does not mean that the people have parted with their power or cannot resume it. The "division of powers" is merely the division among the representatives of the powers delegated to them. The term must not be held to mean that the people have divided their power with their delegates. The power is the people's and only the people's.

Make Popular Rule Effective.

I hold it to be the duty of every public servant and of every man who in public or in private life holds a position of leadership in thought or action to endeavor honestly and fearlessly to guide his fellow countrymen to right decisions, but I emphatically dissent from the view that it is either wise or necessary to try to devise methods which under the constitution will automatically prevent the people from deciding for themselves what governmental action they deem just and proper. It is impossible to invent constitutional devices which will prevent the popular will from being effective for wrong without also preventing it from being effective for right. The only safe course to follow in this great American democracy is to provide for making the popular judgment really effective.

Lincoln, with his clear vision, his ingrained sense of justice and his spirit of kindly friendliness to all, forecast our present struggle and saw the way out. What he said should be pondered by capitalist and workingman alike. He spoke as follows (I condense):

I hold that while man exists it is his duty to improve not only his condition, but to assist in ameliorating mankind. Labor is prior to and independent of capital. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the higher consideration. Capital has its rights, which are as worthy of protection as any other rights. Nor should this lead to a war upon property. Property is the fruit of labor. Property is desirable, is a positive good in the world. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built.

This last sentence characteristically shows Lincoln's homely, kindly common sense. His is the attitude that we ought to take. He showed the proper sense of proportion in his relative estimates of capital and labor, of human rights and the rights of wealth.

Prosperity Must Be Distributed.

The ends of good government in our democracy are to secure by genuine popular rule a high average of moral and material well being among our citizens. It has been well said that in the past we have paid attention only to the accumulation of prosperity, and that from henceforth we must pay equal attention to the proper distribution of prosperity. This is true. The only prosperity worth having is that which affects the mass of the people. We are bound to strive for the fair distribution of prosperity. But it behooves us to remember that there is no use in devising methods for the proper distribution of prosperity unless the prosperity is there to distribute. I hold it to be our duty to see that the wageworker, the small producer, the ordinary consumer, shall get their fair share of the benefit of business prosperity. But it either is or ought to be evident to every one that business has to prosper before anybody can get any benefit from it. Therefore I hold that he is the real progressive, that he is the genuine champion of the people, who endeavors to shape the policy alike of the nation and of the several states so as to encourage legitimate honest business at the same time that he wars against all crookedness and injustice and unfairness and tyranny in the business world, for of course we can only get business put on a basis of permanent prosperity when the element of injustice is taken out of it. This is the reason why I have for so many years insisted as regards our national government that it is both futile and mischievous to endeavor to correct the evils of big business by an attempt to restore business conditions as they were in the middle of the last century, before railways and telegraphs had rendered larger business organizations both inevitable and desirable.

The effort to restore such conditions and to trust for justice solely to such proposed restoration is as foolish as if we should attempt to arm our troops with the flintlocks of Washington's Continentals instead of with modern weapons of precision. Flintlock legislation of the kind that seeks to prohibit all combinations, good or bad, is bound to fail, and the effort, in so far as it accomplishes anything at all, merely means that some of the worst combinations are not checked and that honest business is checked. What is needed is, first, the recognition that modern business conditions have come to stay, in so far at least as these conditions mean that business must be done in larger units, and then the cool headed and resolute determination to introduce an effective method of regulating big corporations so as to help legitimate business as an incident to thoroughly and completely safeguarding the interest of the people as a whole. We are a business people. The tillers of the soil, the wageworkers, the business men—these are the three big and vitally important divisions of our population. The welfare of each division is vitally necessary to the welfare of the people as a whole. The great mass of business is, of course, done by men whose business is either small or of moderate size.

Should Be Fixed Policy.

The average business man of this type is, as a rule, a leading citizen of his community, foremost in everything that tells for its betterment, a man whom his neighbors look up to and respect. He is in no sense dangerous to his community just because he is an integral part of his community, bone of its bone and flesh of its flesh. His life fibers are intertwined with the life fibers of his fellow citizens. Yet nowadays many men of this kind when they come to make necessary trade agreements with one another find themselves in danger of becoming unwitting transgressors of the law and are at a loss to know what the law forbids and what it permits. This is all wrong. There should be a fixed governmental policy, a policy which shall clearly define and punish wrongdoing and shall give in advance full information to any man as to just what he can and just what he cannot legally and properly do. It is absurd and wicked to treat the deliberate lawbreaker as on an exact par with the man eager to obey the law, whose only desire is to find out from some competent governmental authority what the law is and then live up to it. It is absurd to endeavor to regulate business in the interest of the public by means of long drawn lawsuits without any accompaniment of administrative control and regulation and without any attempt to discriminate between the honest man who has succeeded in business because of rendering a service to the public and the dishonest man who has succeeded in business by cheating the public.

So much for the small business man and the middle sized business man. Now for big business. It is imperative to exercise over big business a control and supervision which are unnecessary as regards small business. All business must be conducted under the law, and all business men, big or little, must act justly. But a wicked big interest is necessarily more dangerous to the community than a wicked little interest. "Big business" in the past has been responsible for much of the special privilege which must be unsparingly cut out of our national life. I do not believe in making mere size of and by itself criminal. The mere fact of size, however, does unquestionably carry the potentiality of such grave wrongdoing that there should be by law provision made for the strict supervision and regulation of these great industrial concerns doing an interstate business, much as we now regulate the transportation agencies which are engaged in interstate business. The anti-trust law does good in so far as it can be invoked against combinations which really are monopolies or which restrict production or which artificially raise prices. But in so far as its workings are uncertain or as it threatens corporations which have not been guilty of anti-social conduct it does harm. Moreover, it cannot by itself accomplish more than a trifling part of the governmental regulation of big business which is needed. The nation and the states must co-operate in this matter. Among the states that have entered this field Wisconsin has taken a leading place. Following Senator La Follette, a number of practical workers and thinkers in Wisconsin have turned that state into an experimental laboratory of wise governmental action in aid of social and industrial justice. They have initiated the kind of progressive government which means not merely the preservation of true democracy, but the extension of the principle of true democracy into industrialism as well as into politics. One prime reason why the state has been so successful in this policy lies in the fact that it has done justice to corporations precisely as it has exacted justice from them.

This is precisely the attitude we should take toward big business. It is the practical application of the principle of the square deal. Not only as a matter of justice, but in our own interest, we should scrupulously respect the rights of honest and decent business and should encourage it where its activities make, as they often do make, for the common good. In other words, our demand is that big business give the people a square deal and that the people give a square deal to any man engaged in big business who honestly endeavors to do what is right and proper.

On the other hand, any corporation, big or little, which has gained its position by unfair methods and by interference with the rights of others, which has raised prices or limited output in improper fashion and has been guilty of demoralizing and corrupt practices, should not only be broken up, but it should be made the business of some competent governmental body by constant supervision to see that it does not come together again, save under such strict control as to insure the community against all danger of a repetition of the bad conduct.

Control Should Be Administrative.

All business into which the element of monopoly in any way or degree enters and where it proves in practice impossible totally to eliminate this element of monopoly should be carefully supervised, regulated and controlled by governmental authority, and such control should be exercised by administrative rather than by judicial officers.

In emphasizing the part of the administrative department in regulating combinations and checking absolute monopoly I do not, of course, overlook the obvious fact that the legislature and the judiciary must do their part. The legislature should make it more clear exactly what methods are illegal, and then the judiciary will be in a better position to punish adequately and relentlessly those who insist on defying the clear legislative decrees. I do not believe any absolute private monopoly is justified, but if our great combinations are properly supervised, so that immoral practices are prevented, absolute monopoly will not come to pass, as the laws of competition and efficiency are against it.

The important thing is this—that under such government recognition as we may give to that which is beneficent and wholesome in large business organizations we shall be most vigilant never to allow them to crystallize into a condition which shall make private initiative difficult. It is of the utmost importance that in the future we shall keep the broad path of opportunity just as open and easy for our children as it was for our fathers during the period which has been the glory of America's industrial history.

In a word, then, our fundamental purpose must be to secure genuine equality of opportunity. No man should receive a dollar unless that dollar has been fairly earned. Every dollar received should represent a dollar's worth of service rendered. No watering of stocks should be permitted, and it can be prevented only by close governmental supervision of all stock issues so as to prevent overcapitalization.

We stand for the rights of property, but we stand even more for the rights of man. We will protect the rights of the wealthy man, but we maintain that he holds his wealth subject to the general right of the community to regulate its business use as the public welfare requires.

Welfare of Labor.

We also maintain that the nation and the several states have the right to regulate the terms and conditions of labor, which is the chief element of wealth, directly in the interest of the common good. It is our prime duty to shape the industrial and social forces so that they may tell for the material and moral upbuilding of the farmer and the wageworker, just as they should do in the case of the business man. You, framers of this constitution, be careful so to frame it that under it the people shall leave themselves free to do whatever is necessary in order to help the farmers of the state to get for themselves and their wives and children not only the benefits of better farming, but also those of better business methods and better conditions of life on the farm.

Moreover, shape your constitutional action so that the people will be able through their legislative bodies or, failing that, by direct popular vote to provide workmen's compensation acts, to regulate the hours of labor for children and for women, to provide for their safety while at work and to prevent overwork or work under unhygienic or unsafe conditions. See to it that no restrictions are placed upon legislative powers that will prevent the enactment of laws under which your people can promote the general welfare, the common good.

So much for the ends of government, and I have, of course, merely sketched in outline what the ends should be. Now for the machinery by which these ends are to be achieved, and here again remember I only sketch in outline and do not for a moment pretend to work out in detail the methods of achieving your purposes. Let me at the outset urge upon you to remember that, while machinery is important, it is easy to overestimate its importance and, moreover, that each community has the absolute right to determine for itself what that machinery shall be, subject only to the fundamental law of the nation as expressed in the constitution of the United States. Massachusetts has the right to have appointive judges who serve during good behavior, subject to removal, not by impeachment, but by simple majority vote of the two houses of the legislature whenever the representatives of the people feel that the needs of the people require such removal. New York has the right to have a long term elective judiciary. Ohio has the right to have a short term elective judiciary without the recall. California, Oregon and Arizona have each and every one of them the right to have a short term elective judiciary with the recall. Personally of the four systems I prefer the Massachusetts one if addition be made to it as I hereinafter indicate.

In the first place, I believe in the short ballot. You cannot get good service from the public servant if you cannot see him, and there is no more effective way of hiding him than by mixing him up with a multitude of others so that they are none of them important enough to catch the eye of the average workaday citizen. The crook in public life is not ordinarily the man whom the people themselves elect directly to a highly important and responsible position. The type of boss who has made the name of politician odious rarely himself runs for high elective office, and if he does and is elected the people have only themselves to blame. The professional politician and the professional lobbyist thrive most rankly under a system which provides a multitude of elective officers, of such divided responsibility and of such obscurity that the public knows and can know but little as to their duties and the way they perform them.

Direct Nominations.

I believe in providing for direct nominations by the people, including therein direct preferential primaries for the election of delegates to the national nominating conventions. Not as a matter of theory, but as a matter of plain and proved experience, we find that the convention system, while it often records the popular will, is also often used by adroit politicians as a method of thwarting the popular will. In other words, the existing machinery for nominations is cumbrous and is not designed to secure the real expression of the popular desire.

I believe in the election of United States senators by direct vote. Just as actual experience convinced our people that presidents should be elected (as they now are in practice, although not in theory) by direct vote of the people instead of by indirect vote through an untrammeled electoral college, so actual experience has convinced us that senators should be elected by direct vote of the people instead of indirectly through the various legislatures.

I believe in the initiative and the referendum, which should be used not to destroy representative government, but to correct it whenever it becomes misrepresentative. Here again I am concerned not with theories, but with actual facts. If in any state the people are themselves satisfied with their present representative system then it is, of course, their right to keep that system unchanged, and it is nobody's business but theirs. But in actual practice it has been found in very many states that legislative bodies have not been responsive to the popular will; therefore I believe that the state should provide for the possibility of direct popular action in order to make good such legislative failure.

Recall of Judges.

As to the recall, I do not believe that there is any great necessity for it as regards short term elective officers. On abstract grounds I was originally inclined to be hostile to it. I know of one case where it was actually used with mischievous results. On the other hand, in three cases in municipalities on the Pacific coast which have come to my knowledge it was used with excellent results. I believe it should be generally provided, but with such restrictions as will make it available only when there is a widespread and genuine public feeling among a majority of the voters.

There remains the question of the recall of judges. One of the ablest jurists in the United States, a veteran in service to the people, recently wrote me as follows on this subject:

"There are two causes of the agitation for the recall as applied to judges. First, the administration of justice has withdrawn from life and become artificial and technical. The recall is not so much a recall of judges from office as it is a recall of the administration of justice back to life, so that it shall become, as it ought to be, the most efficient of all agencies for making this earth a better place to live in. Judges have set their rules above life. Like the Pharisees of old, they have said, 'The people be accursed; they know not the law' (that is, our 'rule'). Courts have repeatedly defeated the aroused moral sentiment of a whole commonwealth. Take the example of the St. Louis boodlers. Their guilt was plain and in the main confessed. The whole state was aroused and outraged. By an instinct that goes to the very foundation of all social order they demanded that the guilty be punished. The boodlers were convicted, but the supreme court of Missouri, never questioning their guilt, set their conviction aside upon purely technical grounds. The same thing occurred in California. Nero, fiddling over burning Rome, was a patriot and a statesman in comparison with judges who thus trifle with and frustrate the aroused moral sentiment of a great people, for that sentiment is politically the vital breath of both state and nation. It is to recall the administration of justice back from such practices that the recent agitation has arisen.

"Second, by the abuse of the power to declare laws unconstitutional the courts have become a lawmaking instead of a law enforcing agency. Here again the settled will of society to correct confessed evils has been set at naught by those who place metaphysics above life. It is the courts, not the constitutions, that are at fault. It is only by the process which James Russell Lowell when answering the critics of Lincoln called 'pettifogging the constitution' that constitutions which were designed to protect society can thus be made to defeat the common good. Here again the recall is a recall of the administration of justice back from academical refinements to social service."

An independent and upright judiciary which fearlessly stands for the right, even against popular clamor, but which also understands and sympathizes with popular needs, is a great asset of popular government. There is no public servant and no private man whom I place above a judge of the best type and very few whom I rank beside him. I believe in the cumulative value of the law and in its value as an impersonal, disinterested basis of control. I believe in the necessity for the courts' interpretation of the law as law without the power to change the law or to substitute some other thing than law for it. But I agree with every great jurist, from Marshall downward, when I say that every judge is bound to consider two separate elements in his decision of a case, one the terms of the law and the other the conditions of actual life to which the law is to be applied. Only by taking both of these elements into account is it possible to apply the law as its spirit and intent demand that it be applied. Both law and life are to be considered in order that the law and the constitution shall become, in John Marshall's words, "a living instrument and not a dead letter."

Justice between man and man, between the state and its citizens, is a living thing, whereas legalistic justice is a dead thing. Moreover, never forget that the judge is just as much the servant of the people as any other official. Of course he must act conscientiously. So must every other official. He must not do anything wrong because there is popular clamor for it any more than under similar circumstances a governor or a legislator or a public utilities commissioner should do wrong. Each must follow his conscience, even though to do so costs him his place. But in their turn the people must follow their conscience, and when they have definitely decided on a given policy they must have public servants who will carry out that policy.

Impeachment a Failure.

Keep clearly in mind the distinction between the end and the means to attain that end. Our aim is to get the type of judge that I have described, to keep him on the bench as long as possible and to keep off the bench and, if necessary, take off the bench the wrong type of judge. Under the conditions set forth in the extract from the letter given above I would personally have favored the recall of the judges both in California and in Missouri, for no damage that could have been done by the recall would have equaled the damage done to the community by judges whose conduct had revolted not only the spirit of justice, but the spirit of common sense. I do not believe in adopting the recall save as a last resort, when it has become clearly evident that no other course will achieve the desired result. But either the recall will have to be adopted or else it will have to be made much easier than it now is to get rid not merely of a bad judge, but of a judge who, however virtuous, has grown so out of touch with social needs and facts that he is unfit longer to render good service on the bench. It is nonsense to say that impeachment meets the difficulty. In actual practice we have found that impeachment does not work; that unfit judges stay on the bench in spite of it. Impeachment as a remedy for the ills of which the people justly complain is a complete failure. A quicker, a more summary, remedy is needed.

But there is one kind of recall in which I very earnestly believe and the immediate adoption of which I urge. There are sound reasons for being cautious about the recall of a good judge who has rendered an unwise and improper decision. Every public servant, no matter how valuable, and not omitting Washington or Lincoln or Marshall, at times makes mistakes; therefore we should be cautious about recalling the judge, and we should be cautious about interfering in any way with the judge in decisions which he makes in the ordinary course as between individuals. But when a judge decides a constitutional question, when he decides what the people as a whole can or cannot do, the people should have the right to recall that decision if they think it wrong. We should hold the judiciary in all respect, but it is both absurd and degrading to make a fetish of a judge or of any one else. Abraham Lincoln said in his first inaugural: "If the policy of the government upon vital questions affecting the whole people is to be irrevocably fixed by decisions of the supreme court * * * the people will have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned their government into the hands of that eminent tribunal. Nor is there in this view any assault upon the courts or the judges." Lincoln actually applied in successful fashion the principle of the recall in the Dred Scott case.

Trust the People.

Many eminent lawyers who more or less frankly disbelieve in our entire American system of government for, by and of the people violently antagonize this proposal. They believe and sometimes assert that the American people are not fitted for popular government and that it is necessary to keep the judiciary "independent of the majority or of all the people;" that there must be no appeal to the people from the decision of a court in any case and that therefore the judges are to be established as sovereign rulers over the people. I take absolute issue with all those who hold such a position. I regard it as a complete negation of our whole system of government, and if it became the dominant position in this country it would mean the absolute upsetting of both the rights and the rule of the people. If the American people are not fit for popular government and if they should of right be the servants and not the masters of the men whom they themselves put in office, then Lincoln's work was wasted and the whole system of government upon which this great democratic republic rests is a failure. I believe, on the contrary, with all my heart that the American people are fit for complete self government and that in spite of all our failings and shortcomings we of this republic have more nearly realized than any other people on earth the ideal of justice attained through genuine popular rule. If the courts have the final say so on all legislative acts and if no appeal can lie from them to the people, then they are the irresponsible masters of the people.

The only tenable excuse for such a position is the frank avowal that the people lack sufficient intelligence and morality to be fit to govern themselves. In other words, those who take this position hold that the people have enough intelligence to frame and adopt a constitution, but not enough intelligence to apply and interpret the constitution which they have themselves made.

I do not say that the people are infallible, but I do say that our whole history shows that the American people are more often sound in their decisions than is the case with any of the governmental bodies to which, for their convenience, they have delegated portions of their power.

Just as the people and not the supreme court under Chief Justice Taney were wise in their decisions of the vital questions of their day, so I hold that now the American people as a whole have shown themselves wiser than the courts in the way they have approached and dealt with such vital questions of our day as those concerning the proper control of big corporations and of securing their rights to industrial workers.

PLANS CAMPAIGN BY AIRSHIP

Candidate For Attorney General Preparing to Do Something Novel.

State Representative Frank R. Reid of Aurora, Ill., who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general at the April primaries, plans to make the most novel campaign in the history of the state and incidentally to test the value of an aeroplane in a political campaign. Reid declares that he intends to engage a bird man to fly over the state during the time between now and the primaries, making stops at frequent intervals to distribute literature to the curious crowds which are expected to gather. Reid will not fly himself.

Reid says that he will carry out his plans provided he can get a bird man to sign a contract that he will cover the state despite the weather.

The Square Pot Furnace

Offers Greatest Efficiency

THE patented square fire pot shown below eliminates all detraction from the duty of the coal. The square bottom prevents ashes from congesting the fire box. The cutting bar smashes all clinkers.

The heat is always intense and even. The cost of operating is far below that of any other, as the effective radiating surface of the firepot is 10% to 15% more than in any other furnace of the same size. With all, the Square Pot offers more efficiency than any other make. Investigate Square Pot Furnaces, Boilers, Newport Ranges, etc., at your dealer's.

CONTEST NOTES.

The friendly race is on in earnest.

New candidates are joining the ranks each day.

District five shows a splendid opportunity for ambitious girls.

The outside districts are showing signs of life, and subscriptions are coming in on every mail.

Last week's highest vote bids fair to be passed before tomorrow night.

Each district shows practically the same relative strength; as yet no one is far enough in the lead but that she could be easily overtaken and passed.

The ever-increasing interest which is being taken in the Press contest by the public is a source of gratification and pleasure to all concerned.

Select your favorite from the following list; then go ahead and help her on her way to Europe.

The vote today:

THREE JUDGES FOR PRIZE SPEAKING AT HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Marion W. Cottle, president of the Woman's Law Club, of New York; Rev. John Y. Broek and Henry L. Hall, of this city, have been secured as the judges for the prize-speaking contest to be held at the Plainfield High School tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the Plainfield High School Alumni Association. Four young men and women will engage in the contest.

Following the speaking contest the annual meeting of the association will be held and officers elected for the coming year. Charles B. Morse is the present president of the association. Tickets for the afternoon affair can be secured from Miss Grace A. TenEyck, 302 East Sixth street, to the capacity of the auditorium.

The reception and dance of the alumni association will be held at the same place, in the evening at 8:30. Members of the association who have not received their tickets can secure the same from Miss TenEyck at the afternoon meeting.

ENDEAVOR UNION RALLY AT TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Those in charge of the rally service to be held at the Temple Baptist church, Friday night, under the auspices of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union, have arranged an attractive program, the feature of which will be an address on "The Call of the Young People," by Rev. A. M. Dixon, of Denison University. The meeting will be in charge of Frank Stewart, president of the local union. Seats will be reserved in the church for the delegates of the various societies. The program:

7:15-8:00, song service, led by Temple Baptist male quartet; 8:00-8:15, devotional exercises, led by Rev. Evarts C. Conover, pastor of the Temple Baptist church; 8:15-8:30, roll call of societies and presentation of C. E. worker's library and banner to winning societies; 8:30-8:45, announcements, appointment of nominating committee; 8:45-9:30, address, "The Call of the People," Rev. A. M. Dixon, of Denison University.

FOUR GENERATIONS AT CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Squier Observe Forty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary.

BOTH BORN IN THIS CITY

Joined In Marriage By the Late Dr. Yerkes, Then Pastor of the First Baptist Church—Mr. Squier a Retired Painter.

To Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Squier, of Astor place, Washington's Birthday has a double significance. It was on that day, forty-five years ago that the couple was married in this city by the late Rev. Dr. David J. Yerkes, then pastor of the First Baptist Church. The anniversary today is being quietly celebrated by the couple and they are receiving the congratulations of relatives and friends.

The family here is represented by four generations and when a reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Squier on Sunday, October 8, last, all but one member of the family was present. The absent one was Matthew D. Sweeny, who could not be present.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Squier were born here. Mrs. Squier's maiden name was Mary E. Allen, she being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Allen, old residents of Race street, the borough. At the time of her marriage Mrs. Squier was a member of the First Baptist church. Later she became identified with Warren chapel. Mr. Squier has always lived here and for many years has been engaged in the painting and paperhanging business.

Mrs. Squier was born in 1847 and her husband was born three later. The family representing four generations is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Wheelr and children, the Misses Ida, Edith and Ruth Wheeler; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Squier and daughters, the Misses Adria and Clair Squier; Mrs. Matthew D. Sweeny and daughters, the Misses Evelyn and Dorothy Sweeny; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron S. Brouwer and son, Aaron S. Brouwer, Jr.; Munroe B. Squier, Miss Nellie Squier, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Squier and daughter, Mrs. Raymond Lyon and son, Mason G. Squier, and Mrs. Lyon's sons, Irving and Grenville Lyon.

QUEEN COW LIVES AT BASKING RIDGE

Holstein-Friesian Owned by C. L. Roberts Just Gushes Milk and Cream.

HALF-TON OF BUTTER YEARLY

Great Record Made By Belle Netherland Johanna Puts Her at Head of All Lady Bovines In Two-Year Test.

If you have a desire to see the most aristocratic—the most butterful, the best lactated—lady bovine in this part of the country, go to Orchard Farm, Basking Ridge, owned by Charles L. Roberts, vice-president of the New Jersey Holstein Friesian Breeders' Association. Ask to see Belle Netherland Johanna, No. 62, 304 H-F. Look at her hard, for she is a wonderful cow critter.

She gave birth to a calf on August 23, 1909, at the age of six years, 10 months and 12 days. She began her yearly record on August 26, 1909 and in 365 days, up to and including August 25, 1910, her production of milk was 20,516 9-10 lbs. of milk and 1,011 14-100 lbs. butter, 80 per cent. fat. Her average per cent. of fat for the year was 3.94. She won the second prize in her class competing against all cows of the breed in America.

She gave birth to a calf again on December 23, 1910, and began a second yearly record December 26, 1910, and finished the same on December 25 1911. Her production for this second year was 22,811 8-10 lbs. of milk and 1,103 87-100 lbs. of butter, 80 per cent. fat, which crowns her the queen over all breeds in the known world in a race for two consecutive years, she having beaten the next best reported Holstein cow for the same length of time by 960 3-10 lbs. milk and 31 99-100 lbs. butter. The same cow has also to her credit a seven day butter record made last February of 30 52-100 lbs. and a thirty day record that was also made last winter of 125 59-100 lbs. of butter. She also made a record eight months after calving of more than 25 lbs. butter in seven from the association the past year than any other cow.

CYCLONIC BLOW DOES WIDESPREAD DAMAGE

North Ave. Boarding House Occupants in Panic as Gale Rips Roof From Building—Wires, Trees and Signs Down.

Closely following the pelting, freezing rain of yesterday, one of the most destructive wind storms of years swept over this vicinity beginning early this morning. In volume and violence it has not been equalled in the memory of the oldest inhabitant and the damage done will mount into thousands. Two houses in course of construction were blown down.

Not only did everything that was not nailed down immediately forsake its abiding place, but many things that were thought to be securely fastened became animated in the grasp of the rushing wind. Many window panes suffered.

The thermometer registered between 20 and 25 degrees. Flurries of snow swirled before the gale.

The tin roof of the building at 130 North avenue was blown off. The building is owned by the Rising Sun Brewing Company, of Elizabeth, and is occupied by Mrs. P. J. McAndrews boarding house. The roof went at 1 a. m. and threw the boarders into a panic. The dust and soot caused by the chimney's going filled the house with choking particles and added to the general excitement.

The covering to the North Plainfield dog pound on Jefferson avenue was carried away.

One of the large plate glass windows in the Pittis building on East Front street, occupied by the Hallet and Davis Piano store gave way before the force of the wind. A second later the sidewalk show case in front of the Duttenhoffer shoe store opposite crashed to the pavement.

Two houses in the course of erection on East Second street near Terrill road, and on West Fourth street, were leveled. A woodshed on East Fourth street, adoining the telephone building, was blown into the roadway.

A horse in Westfield was killed by contact with a broken live wire. Wires were down all over this city and in addition to the falling branches of trees added to pedestrians' danger.

The hospital fund "clock" at the North Avenue Station, showing the progress in collections, was wrested from its fastenings and dashed to bits on the concrete platform. In falling it just missed Patrolman Muir.

Awnings on many stores were ripped to ribbons; signs were torn from their fastenings and splintered on the sidewalks below. Schwed Brothers and City Judge William G. DeMeza are among those who will have to get new signs. The Warnock building on North avenue lost its skylight.

The awning on Maynard's barber shop on North avenue was blown through the window. Windows were blown out of the Coward building on Park avenue in the offices occupied by F. A. Dunham.

The roof was blown off a flat building at East Front and Washington streets, giving the people in the flots a scare.

On account of the broken wires, lights were out all over the city and in residences most of the night.

COMMITTEE PLANS FOR COMING WATER HEARING

The councilmanic special water committee, comprising F. E. Mygatt, chairman; George S. Clay, Frank L. Holt, William L. Gloak, Duncan W. Taylor and Ralph I. Tolles, met this morning to discuss plans in preparation for the hearing to be held by the Attorney-General at Trenton on Tuesday, March 5.

There are legal questions to be taken up at that time, arising in the proposed condemnation proceedings to secure a municipal water plant, which must be decided separately and independently of other questions. These refer particularly to the rights of the water company to do certain things.

At the hearing before the Attorney-General earlier in the month these questions were taken up. No decision was given at the time, the Attorney-General continuing the hearing until March 5. The water committee is anxious to learn definitely the rights of the city in relation to adjoining municipalities that are depending on the Plainfield-Union Water Company plant for their water supply.

These adjoining municipalities hold contracts with the water company, and they quite naturally will do all in their power to protect their interest, while the water company will also oppose any move to break the contracts. At the meeting of the committee today the work was entirely preliminary to the hearing on March 5.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Netherwood Reformed church will hold a cake sale Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Kennedy, 280 Leland avenue.

BRODHEAD SURE TO LAND TAX BERTH

Governor Eliminates Other Aspirants, According to Information From the Inside.

FIGHT FOR SECRETARYSHIP

Executive Said to Have Been Impelled to Take a Hand In It—To Settle It When Appointment Is Made.

With former Assemblyman Hugh J. McLoughlin and John R. Connolly, of Elizabeth, each receiving vigorous support for the appointment as secretary of the Union County Board of Taxation Governor Wilson is expected to do more than simply appoint a member of the board to succeed Frederick H. Andrews, of Plainfield, whose term expires in April. When he announces the name of the successor, it will be with the understanding that the secretary of the board has been definately selected.

That former Assemblyman Calvin E. Brodhead, of this city, is virtually certain to secure to Mr. Andrews's position has been conceded for a long time. From information obtained from sources in unquestioned possession of the Governor's determination on the appointment, all other aspirants are eliminated from the field, and Mr. Brodhead stands the fortunate survivor.

However, instead of Governor here, pressure has been brought upon here, pressurehas been brought upon him which he cannot disregard, to have the secretaryship settled when he makes the appointment. The term of Secretary Sidney W. Eldridge does not expire until May 1, and a majority vote of the board chooses his successor under the law. The latter will be only a formal affair in this case.

John R. Connolly's supporters are banking heavily on his relations with the two factions in Elizabeth. They are counting, it is understood, upon the approval of State Commissioner Dennis F. Collins, as well as the support of the anti-Collins leaders.

On the other hand there appears to be a well-expressed belief among prominent Dem ocrats in all parts of the county tuat care should be taken of Mr. McLoughlin for his services last winter. Furthermore, he is held in high estimation by Governor Wilson, whose devoted follower he was at the 1911 session of the Legislature.

Whether or not Mr. Brodhead has any decided preference is not known, but his appointment will be contingent upon his voting for the man whose friends are most successful in convincing the Governor of the claims of their favorite. M. M. Scudder is the other Democratic member of the board, and he will not object to any arrangement made in the appointment of Mr. Brodhead, it is believed.

WORK OF THE METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

Owing to the storm there was not as large an audience as had been hoped for at Vincent chapel last night when Rev. Dr. Edgar Blake, assistant secretary to the Board of Sunday Schools of the Methodist Episcopal churches, with offices in Chicago, was present to talk to the members of the three local Methodist church Sunday schools about the work the Sunday School Board is doing.

His address necessarily was largely statistical in order to show the growth of membership in the Sunday schools since the board has been at work and before it's organization in 1903. His talk was along helpful lines to teachers as well as pupils, a number of simple yet useful hints being given for teaching and learning.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First Methodist church, Rev. C. C. Cain, pastor of Grace M. E. church, and Rev. C. E. Kemble pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, were all present and assisted at the meeting, each speaking briefly on the Sunday school department of their churches.

SENATE HEARING FOR FITZHERBERT

Judiciary Committee to go Deeper in Scandal Brought to Light Yesterday.

IS WILLING TO RESIGN NOW

Affidavits Being Prepared Setting Forth the Charges Against Morris, Member, Who Will Be Invited to Appear at Hearing.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 22.—Further investigation of the bribery charges against Senator Richard Fitzherbert will be made by the judiciary committee of the senate. Senator Fitzherbert is involved in the acetylene gas scandal by offering two bills to restrict its manufacture and use.

Senator Edge, chairman of the committee, presented a report containing an opinion from Assistant Attorney General Gaskill outlining the course of procedure in the event of impeachment or expulsion proceedings being brought against Senator Fitzherbert. Senator Edge announced that, subject to the approval of the senate, the judiciary committee had decided to give a hearing at 11 o'clock next Monday morning. The purpose of this, he said, was merely to obtain facts which might make a prima facie case upon which the senate could base subsequent action.

The senate concurred in this report, and Senator Edge promised that the judiciary committee would submit its findings when the senate recovenes next Monday night. In the meantime, affidavits are being prepared setting forth all the allegations involving Senator Fitzherbert in the acetylene gas scandal. He will be invited to appear in person before the committee if he desires.

It is rumored here that Senator Fitzherbert had intimated his willingness to resign from the senate in order to prevent further unpleasantness.

GORGEOUS AND FANTASTIC ARRAY AT THE VEREIN BALL

Owing to the storm and the fact that it was the first night of Lent, the annual masquerade ball of the Gesang and Turn Verein Society was not as largely attended as similar affairs in the past. The same standard of excellence in appointment, decorations, dancing and supper arrangements prevailed, however, and afforded those present a most enjoyable evening.

It was the twenty-third annual masquerade ball of the society. The same originality, variety and number of costumes, grotesque, handsome and comical, that has marked each one in previous years, was in evidence last night. Nearly all nationalities were represented, from the original inhabitants of the United States to the natives of European countries. A Tyrolean was the best dressed man, but none dared to make a selection of the best gowned woman, because they were all so charmingly arrayed. The Yama Yama girls semed to have the call, however.

Charles Meyer, Jr., acted as floor manager and led the grand march and supper march, executing in each some new and original figures. The assistant floor managers were Jacob Schlick, Jerry Griffen and Fred Becker. John Alster was general chairman of the arrangement committee and was assisted on the reception committee by John Retzer, Fred Koller, and Eugene Renz. The music was by Suhr's Imperial orchestra. JoJhn Shroop arranged the decorations.

Kenneth and LeRoy Rockfellow, the young sons of George Rockfellow, of Watchung avenue, are suffering with severe cases of measles.

FUND TOTALS $132,176 AS CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Movement For Betterment of Muhlenberg Ends With Contributions $42,176 Beyond Original Mark.

Exceeding the most sanguine expectations of those engaged in the twelve-day campaign for Muhlenberg Hospital, which closed last night, there was reported a grand total of $132,176.49 in subscriptions for the institution. It was originally planned to raise $90,000, but the movement met with such success that a new mark was set, and $125,000 was the amount decided upon by the campaign managers to be secured. The campaign in many respects was perhaps the most remarkable in the history of the city and was marked by humorous and pathetic incidents.

In summing up the work of the various committees the figures prove interesting. The campaign started with sixteen subscriptions aggregating $32,100.00, which was reported at the banquet held at the Park Club on Tuesday night, February 6, and since then the following amounts have been raised: Women's committee of one hundred, 815 pledges, $12,079.32; Citizens' committee 1,207 pledges, $61,384.19; Young Business Men's commitee, 2,761 pledges, $26,612.98, which together with $650 added in prize money for the teams securing the largest subscriptions and the greatest number brings the grand total up to $132,176.49, and the total number of pledges, 5,402.

The Citizen's committee reported a total of $2,716.30 raised yesterday and the Young Business Men's committee reported subscriptions amounting to $1,797.76 for the same period, while the women reported $2,896.86, a total of 1,304 pledges and $7,410.92 for the day. When the announcement was made of the total work of the campaign the workers arose in a body and cheered and applauded to the echo.

There was considerable interest in the announcement of the prize money, various amounts being promised to the teams of men and women for special work. These sums were added to those already raised by the winning teams as follows:

Team No. 8, J. Hartley Mellick, $150 for securing the largest amount in subscriptions; Team No. 7, Asa F. Randolph, captain, $100 for securing the second largest amount; Team No. 9, John W. Kirkner, captain, $50 for securing the third largest amount; Team No. 5, Joseph O'Keefe, captain, $50 for reporting the largest number of pledges, 339; Division 8 women's committee, Mrs. F. D. Warren, captain, $50 for reporting the largest number of pledges, 492; Team No. 1, H. W. Marshall, captain, $50 for securing a greater number of pledges than Team No. 6, captained by George O. Stevens. Mr. Marshall's team reported 212. The box of cigars offered to the team having the largest percentage of attendance throughout the campaign at the daily dinners, was given to Team No. 2, DeWitt Hubbell, captain. The attendance report was 101.

Among the special contributors to the fund was Congressman W. E. Tuttle, Jr., of Westfield, who sent a generous sum to Samuel Bingaman, accompanied by the following note:

"I take pleasure in inclosing herewith my small subscription and I am sorry that I am not in a position to make it larger. Permit me to congratulate you and your committee upon the success you have achieved."

Among the other special contributors announced were United States Senator James E. Martine, former United States Senator John Kean and Frank Bergen.

George P. Mellick, chairman of the executive committee of the campaign presided at the meeting of workers, and after briefly reviewing the history of the campaign, took occasion to thank those who had contributed to the success of the movement. Among those mentioned were the members of the Park Club, Y. M. C. A., William R. Townsend, The Plainfield Press and Courier News for the great amount of space given to publicity; also E. B. Booth, chairman of the committee on clocks and banners.

Mr. Mellick made special mention of the work of Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney, chairman of the women who had charge of the daily dinners, as well as every assistant. The mention of Mrs. Glenney's name brought forth three hearty cheers and a tiger. Mrs. Henry C. Irons, chairman of the women's division, was also complimented as well as every member of her team.

Referring to the great success of the movement and the fund raised, Mr. Mellick said that it would be regarded as a sacred trust, and the greatest care would be exercised in a judicious expenditure of every penny. He remarked that the first contribution for the proposed children's ward was $5 given by Miss Sara Curry's camp. This was increased by $741 raised by the pupils of Miss Hartridge's school. He spoke feelingly of the great movement thanking one and all for the sacrifice of time, pleasure and other engagements, as well as business that the object of the campaign might be realized. He further praised Samuel Townsend, who was the father of the movement.

Responding to the words of Mr. Mellick, Mr. Townsend said that he was proud of every worker as well as every citizen who had joined in raising such a generous amount for the hospital, adding that there are no better people on earth than right here in Plainfield. He doubted whether the campaign record had been equaled anywhere that is the work of raising such an excess amount over that originally decided upon. There was no brass bands nor fireworks. It was just a straightforward business proposition and the people had responded nobly. In conclusion he praised Wilbor A. Bower for his great work as general director and secretary.

Elliot T. Barrows, of the executive committee complimented every woman from Mrs. W. L. C. Glenney to Mrs. Henry Johnson, who furnished the daily dinners and luncheons. He

TOMORROW BISHOP VINCENT'S BIRTHDAY

Career of Most Distinguished Methodist Has Been Remarkable.

ONCE A PLAINFIELD PASTOR

Founder of the Chautauqua Movement—"Letter Shower" Brings Greetings From Taft, Roosevelt and Other Notables.

Bishop John H. Vincent, originator of the Chautauqua Movement for popular education, and Chancellor of Chautauqua Institution, who was at one time pastor of the First M. E. church here, will receive a unique "letter shower" on his eightieth birthday, falling on tomorrow. Vincent chapel of the local First M. E. church here is named in his honor. The Bishop lives in Chicago, enjoys vigorous health, and the suggestion that this anniversary be made the occasion of a shower of personal letters has appealed to thousands of people who recognize their educational indebtedness to him. Three quarters of a million readers in all parts of the world have enrolled for the Chautauqua Reading Course since Bishop Vincent inaugurated the plan thirty-three years ago.

Fifty thousand visitors go to Chautauqua, New York, every year, and hundreds of Chautauquas modelled upon the original are held every summer. Born at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, he entered the ministry in Pennsylvania at the age of eighteen. He attended the old Wesleyan Institute at Newark, N. J., but, denied college opportunities, he not only deliberately set about to give himself a liberal education, but from his experience was able to devise a plan of self-education for adults which has become (under the name of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle) one of the greatest educational influences in the modern world.

General U. S. Grant attended John H. Vincent's church at Galena, Ill., in 1860-1. A Palestine Study Class at Rockford, Ill., was notable. The first Chautauqua Assembly in 1874 was held to broaden the education of Sunday School teachers; Dr. Vincent having established the Sunday School Quarterly and other

PLUCK ESSENTIAL WASHINGTON FOUND

Persevere and Win a Daily Press Trip Through Europe Next Summer.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY OFFERED

No Time Like the Present to Get In the Contest and Hustle For Ballots—How the Vote Stands to Date.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS.

During the past week the Contest Manager has received a number of inquiries relative to changes in the vote schedule during the contest. The Manager of the Tour Department desires to state that the vote schedule will remain the same during the entire contest without any deviation or alteration. The vote schedule as published in the first issue announcing the contest is the schedule of unchangeable condition, it will obtain throughout the entire contest. No double or vote bonuses will be given at any time during the contest. Three years is the maximum limit for which subscriptions will be accepted. 9,000 votes will be given on a three year new subscription and 4,500 on a three year old one.

Considering the fact that today is the anniversary of the birth of George Washington should serve to remind the Daily Press European Tour contestants that success always comes to those who keep everlastingly at whatever they once undertake. If the immortal "Father of his Country" had become discouraged in the dark days of the colonial strife, it is a foregone conclusion that things would be radically different with Americans today. But he did not become discouraged, we are glad to say, and after eight years of planning, striving, fighting and worrying, success crowned his efforts.

The incentive that kept Washington tenaciously combatting the British when defeat seemed inevitable should be applied by the contestants to themselves. It is not always the

EX-GOVERNOR FORT FAVORS NIGHT AND DAY CHURCHES

Former Governor John Franklin Fort told the alumni of Drew Theological Seminary at their annual luncheon that he favors a night and day church. "We have night and day banks, restaurants and a lot of other twenty-four hour things," he said. "The churches ought to keep open too. There are altogether too many closed churches, too many buildings adapted merely for one thing."

The luncheon was at the St. Denis Hotel, New York. The Rev. D. F. Diefendorfer of Newark, a former supply pastor at Grace M. E. church, North Plainfield, presided and Methodist ministers formed the majority of the men at the tables. Moderator Carson of the Presbyterian General Assembly said not as many young men enter theological seminaries now as formerly, but this did not trouble him, for he thought the quality of those entering to be better, especially in Western seminaries.

LECTURE COURSE ARRANGED BY FIRST BAPTIST CLASS

The Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church has arranged for a course of four lectures which for entertainment and inspiration are among the most promising ever offered here.

The first and fourth of the series is given by Edward A. Mead, dramatic reciter of New York City. He will render the two most popular plays of today, the "Passing of the Third Floor Back" and "The Servant in the House." Each of these are of unusual merit, "with application of a need of the hour, viz. faith in mankind and a sense of brotherhood for everybody."

The mysterious wonders of the "Electrical World" in which we all live will be described by Prof. C. H. Tyndall Ph.D., who comes fully equipped by nature, education and experience to unfold these profound realities, so simply that a child will understand and be thrilled with delight at the fascinating story exhibited by the aid of his apparatus. He will tell his audience all about "Wireless Telegraphy" a lecture delivered in many parts of this country and England.

The third lecture is by Rev. A. K. de Blois, Ph. D. L. L. D., pastor of The First Baptist Church of Boston, one of the largest and wealthiest churches of the city. He is comparatively a young man and has risen rapidly into prominence by his remarkable achievements as an educator, author, preacher and lecturer. He is an extensive traveler, keen observer and an apt interpreter of human nature. The subject of his lecture will be "Rags and Royalty."

Justice Snape's Court.

When arraigned before Justice T. H. Snape in the borough court yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Beatrice Potts, colored, agreed to pay Mrs. Benjamin Parker, also colored, for the clothing she charged the Potts woman with taking from a house on Manning avenue. The cost of the articles was fixed at $12. The cost of the trial was $3 and this amount she also paid.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

The international comedy success, "The Chorous Lady," by James Forbes, author of "The Traveling Salesman" and "The Commuters" will been seen at the Plainfield Theatre on February 24. The play concerns life on the modern musical comedy stage and one of the novelties is the famous second act, showing the dressing room of the Broadway Theatre, New York, with a score of show girls "making up" for the evening performance.

One of the features of Mildred and Rouclere's performance this season is "Mildredism," which never fails to interest. It is the game of all mind reading possibilities and has never been solved. It is introduced during the action of the play "Princess Iris" a new imaginative fantasy. Mildred and Rouclere will appear at the theatre this afternoon and evening.

It is said by eye witnesses, the production of "The Goose Girl, both in a scenic and costume way, is one of the handsomest ever offered. It will be seen at the Plainfield Theatre February 26. This can be readily accounted for, as the period and locale of the play, while of the present time, is situated in a Duchy of Austrian Tyrole, where fifteenth century costuming is still extant.

Adeline O'Connor, with "The Goose Girl," at Plainfield Theatre Next Monday Night.

School Law Change.

Trenton, Feb. 22.—By the decisive vote of 44 to 6 the House yesterday passed Assemblyman Gill's bill which repeals the minimum examination clause of last year's school law. For fifty-five minutes the legislative halls rang with the fiery eloquence of the speakers for and against the repeal of the law, principally for.

WE ANNOUNCE THE FIRST SHOWING OF

Spring Dress Goods and Silks

A showing you can rely on as being authentic because it is announced by the leading and most complete Dress Goods Department in the City. We have, for this special occasion, made a careful study of fashion's trend and find that favored weaves, this early in the season, are whipcords, serges and broadcloths and taffetas are the favorite in the silks. Colors show a tendency to soften somewhat, and cream, navy and all brown shades will predominate in favor. We mention here many of the fabrics we are showing:

36-inch Cream Hair Line Suitings at, yard 59c
45-inch All Wool Cream Serge Suitings at, yard 79c
50-inch All Wool Cream Serge Suitings at, yard ....$1.00 and $1.25
36-inch All Wool Batiste Suitings at, yard 50c
36-inch All Wool French Weave Serge 59c
27-inch Changeable Stripe Taffetas 79c
Bordered Messalines, in full dress patterns $8.50

Blue Serges, Panamas, Broadcloths, Cheviots, etc., etc.

Beautiful All-over Laces and Matched Bands

We are showing a splendid assortment of the new ideas and designs in Laces for the coming season in both white and cream and ecru; all the favored styles are here, including the much worn Venise Laces, and in many instances we have the bands in one and two widths to match. We have chosen what we thought were the prettiest designs. In the matter of price we have marked the Allovers from 50c up to $4.50, and the Bands from 10c to $1.39

Advance Showing of the Early Models in Spring Suits

The early arrivals in fashion's offering for the ensuing season. Stunning models, made of fine quality materials, which include whipcords, serges, etc., tailored on mannishly plain lines, which will be favored this season, some having white piping at collar, all having the deep lapels. In the favored shades and also the regular sizes. Prices range from $14.50 all the way up to $25.00

One of These New Spring Lingerie Dresses at 6.98

Would be just the thing for a party dress and we take it there's many of you who will be invited out before the winter's really over. They are all very handsome garments, beautifully made of only good grade materials and we have them in several styles and sizes for both misses and ladies.

Pianos & Player-Pianos

ON EASIEST TERMS— NO INTEREST TO PAY

When you begin thinking about purchasing a Piano or exchanging the Piano for a Self-Player, you should keep well fixed in your mind the fact that in no store in Newark or New York have you so many first-class makes of instruments to choose from as are presented to you here for choice.

It may be well enough to satisfy yourself by going from place to place and seeing and hearing other makes, but this tripping and touring and shopping is really wholly unnecessary when you consider the fact that every piano we sell is a first-class one—surely as good as any sold at its price—probably better—than any sold at the same price—and that the range of cost and the variety of styles are wide enough to satisfy practically every desire.

You can feel safe in the purchase of any piano we sell—there is not an unworthy make in the lot—not a piano that cannot be depended upon—not one that the makers do not stand back of—not one that we do not guarantee.

If you buy a low-cost instrument you can always trade it in exchange for a higher priced one when you get ready to buy one, or, if you buy a piano and later feel that you would like to own a self-player, we can make most satisfactory arrangements with you.

Taft Advisers Fear Effect of Roosevelt Speech.

STANDS BY THE JUDICIARY

President's Managers Do Not Fear Roosevelt Boom as Much as Radical Ideas That May Be Forced Into Chicago Platform by Progressive Element of Party.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Republicans generally here are intensely interested in Colonel Roosevelt's speech at Columbus. Advisers to President Taft are more concerned over the probable effects of the speech than the impetus it will give the Roosevelt boom. They are not afraid Mr. Taft will lose the nomination.

All of the ideas advanced by Colonel Roosevelt on the initiative and referendum, and especially on the recall of judicial decisions and judges themselves, are abhorrent to President Taft. At the White House no comment was made on the colonel's speech, but Mr. Taft's deep concern over the possibility of any of these new fangled notions creeping into the Republican national platform is well known to his advisers. So deeply does the president feel on the question of the recall of the judiciary that he will decline to accept a renomination for the presidency rather than stand on a platform which contained such a plank.

Now that Colonel Roosevelt's long awaited speech has been delivered, the president's political advisers are confident that the coming campaign is to be one in which the lines between radicalism and conservatism are to be as sharply drawn as they were in the famous 1896 free silver campaign. If President Taft is renominated the Democrats, in the opinion of the president's political advisers, will name either Woodrow Wilson or Champ Clark on a platform containing all of the modern ideas advanced by Roosevelt in his speech in Columbus.

In that event the president and his followers expect to see the business interests and the thinking people of the country rally to Taft's support as they did to the support of McKinley in the two campaigns against Bryan.

Some of Senator La Follette's ardent admirers are going around declaring that the colonel had not only kidnaped the La Follette boom, but had made away also with the Wisconsin statesman's platform, built up through many years of laborious political toil.

"I am delighted with the speech," said Senator Moses R. Clapp, one of the most progressive and militant of the Republican insurgents.

"It is a radical speech," said Senator Bristow, "but is just what we desire, and it will be popular with the progressives."

Even some of the radical Democrats had a good word for the colonel's utterances.

"It was a delightful surprise to me, and, of course, I approve it," was the comment of Senator Chamberlain, a Democrat of Oregon.

T. R. PRAISES KOHLER.

Cleveland Police Chief Man After Ex-President's Own Heart.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 22.—Three thousand people of Cleveland braved the slush and rain here to greet Roosevelt on his return to New York from Columbus.

As the train pulled into the depot it was greeted with a roar of cheers which drowned out all other sounds in the big station. Roosevelt's car was shunted to the fence which marks off the concourse, and in response to prolonged cheering the former president stepped to the platform. The sight that met the colonel's eyes was one of the wildest enthusiasm. The cheers for "Teddy" and the applause made a deafening din, in which one could not distinguish words. Chief Kohler was the first on board.

The colonel later told the chief that he would have been sorry to have left Cleveland without seeing him. He said the chief was a man after his own heart, with plenty of nerve.

COLOMBIANS HAVE NOT HEARD

Minister Ospina's Note About Knox's Visit Kept From Public.

Bogota, Colombia, Feb. 22.—The action of General Pedro Nel Ospina, Colombian minister to the United States, in notifying the state department at Washington that the visit to Colombia of Secretary Knox would be inopportune owing to the fact that Colombia's claim in connection with Panama had not yet been arbitrated, has not become known to the general public. The Colombian government has the matter under consideration, but the newspapers are either entirely ignorant of the occurrence or else comment has been suppressed by the authorities.

A strong sentiment for an honorable settlement of the Panama affair has been gaining ground all over the country without regard to the differences of views of the political parties.

Confederate Naval Man Dead.

Gainesville, Tex., Feb. 22.—Captain A. J. Meriwether, commander of the Confederate ship Niobe during the civil war, is dead here, aged eighty-nine.

—"The audience doesn't treat me right," growled the bad actor. "No," said the local manager; "I never knew it to be so tolerant."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Home Building & Loan Association

Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),
He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 109 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. Further information may be had at that time or by applying to the secretary, Arthur E. Crone, care of the City National Bank. tu-th

Plainfield, N. J., February 22, 1912.

WELL DONE!

The overwhelming success attending the Muhlenberg Hospital campaign which closed last evening is a source of profound gratification to everyone who was in any wise connected with it and to the entire community as well.

The City of Plainfield, in times past, has accomplished much that is noteworthy along the lines of charitable enterprise, but never before has there been a movement of the proportions which have characterized the hospital campaign, nor one to which the whole body of citizens has as nobly responded.

The result means much. In the first place it means greatly added efficiency in the hospital equipment and service, and this of itself marks a momentous advance in the direction of making Plainfield an ideal city of homes. While giving to Muhlenberg has generally been considered as pure charity, as a matter of fact, the maintenance of an up-to-date hospital is among the very best sorts of life insurance, for no man knows where the need of such service may become imperative.

Again, it means that those in charge of the destinies of the hospital have been brought in closer touch with the citizens at large than has ever before been the case; that there is now complete and satisfactory understanding between them; a readier sympathy, and a firmer resolve to work shoulder to shoulder for the common good.

And finally it means that Plainfield has really found herself; has discovered that no worthy thing is impossible of accomplishment if the good men and women of our city but band themselves together for its attainment.

The results of this campaign will be felt for years to come and every other deserving cause will receive an uplift and an impetus by reason thereof that could not have been the case otherwise.

The sincere congratulations of The Plainfield Daily Press are extended to every man, woman and child in the community who, either as worker or giver, helped the Muhlenberg campaign to its splendid culmination.

Within ten days of the time he committed the crime, James Springs, who waylaid and robbed Michael Weber a week ago last Sunday morning, was taken to Trenton to serve a long term. Weber's colored assailant was captured last Thursday. A confession was wrung from him by the police chief and assistant prosecutor the following day. Springs was taken to the county jail on Saturday. When arraigned before Judge Atwater yesterday the prisoner pleaded guilty. He was deserving of no mercy and he got none. The punishment meted out to him consisted of a sentence of not less than seven and a half years in prison, to pay the costs of court and not to be released until he pays back to Weber every dollar of which he was robbed. All this transpired in just ten days. Surely Jersey justice is swift.

This is the birthday of George Washington, the best known and most revered man that America has produced. He was "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen." The memory of this illustrious commander-in-chief of the Continental Army and first President of the Republic is cherished by upright men of all degrees and of all lands. The greatest tribute that can be paid to him is that England, the mother country, whose Government he drove from our shores, as a believer in the principle that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed and that all men are free and equal, today, vies with these United States in honoring his memory.

The penitential season of the Roman Catholic, Episcopal and Greek Churches began yesterday, known in the ecclesiastical calendar as Ash-Wednesday. As this day feel this year on February 21, Easter Sunday will come on April 7, there being forty days, not including Sundays in the season. Easter is what is called a movable feast of the Church since it falls on different days. It is the Sunday following the fourteenth day of the Paschal moon, and consequently the earliest day it can fall on is March 22. The Paschal moon is the same as the Jewish Passover moon, the first full moon on or after March 21. Easter Sunday is a fixed feast and therefore Ash-Wednesday is the seventh Wednesday prior thereto.

While the War of the Revolution, starting in 1776, was brought to a close in 1783, it really ended when Yorktown fell in October, 1781. During these five years, Washington as the commanding general of the Continental Army, spent one-fifth of his time on New Jersey soil, fighting battles that humbled England's pride and brought about the end of Britain's rule in this land. Hard by Plainfield two famous battles were fought, one at Springfield, the other at New Market. It was on the rocky on the southern slope of the Watchung mountain, back of Dunellen that the commander-in-chief of the American forces watched the movements of the Hessians on the plain about New Market.

Senator Fitzherbert, of Morris county, should be brought to trial before the State Senate to answer the grave accusation made against him. If guilty, he should be expelled from that body and immediately be taken into a court of justice. It appears almost inconceivable, however, that he should lend himself to such a corrupt piece of business, but as he is reported to have unblushingly made astounding admissions, no time should be lost in beginning the proceedings.

To Stay in Our Midst.

North avenue gave birth to a rumor today that the Pond Tool Works plant was to be closed down, and the business moved to another city. City Clerk James T. MacMurray, general manager of the plant, said the report was pure moonshine, without any foundation whatever.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Netherwood Reformed church will give a Washington's Birthday supper at the church tonight.

COMING EVENTS.

TONIGHT—Roucleres in "The Flight of Princess Iris," with Adele von Ohl, and her Arabian steed, "Aristocrat," at Plainfield theatre. Matinee and night.

said that the campaign had resulted in bringing the people to "one common melting pot of Democracy." He said that he would like to present a loving cup to every woman who assisted, and he personally thanked the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital for its noble work.

At this point the reports were called for from Allan Cowperthwait, who has been acting as secretary in tabulating the figures each night, and they were read by Samuel Townend. The announcement brought forth hearty applause and cheers. One interesting fact was included in the remarks of Joseph O'Keefe, captain of Team No. 5, who stated that of the 184 subscriptions reported by him, 163 represented the children in St. Mary's Parochial School, each child having made out his or her own pledge. He hoped that the committee would not fail to publish the name of each child.

Former City Judge William N. Runyon, chairman of the Young Business Men's Committee, made the concluding speech, in which he did not fail to give each and everyone due praise for the success of the campaign, not forgetting to mention Everett Colby, John Franklin Fort, J. G. Hibben, president of Princeton University; Isador Sobel, of Erie, Pa., for the impetus they gave the campaign by their stirring words at the Park Club banquet; also William R. Cock, George H. Goddard and others who for years were connected with the hospital and gave so many years of faithful service. He commented on the fine record of Muhlenberg Hospital, which he felt sure would continue, and concluded by giving an impressive word picture of the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield uniting to raise such a large sum—all for suffering humanity.

Walter M. McGee, captain of Co. H, in reporting for his company, said that of the $225 collected, $200 came from the estate of Dr. P. W. Brakeley, of Dunellen. He explained that Dr. Brakeley before his death had shown deep interest in the hospital and the contribution from the estate was carrying out the known desires of the late physician.

After Wilbor A. Bowen, who was called upon, made a few remarks, praising the workers and thanking all for their support, the audience joined in singing two verses of "America," which brought to a close the twelve-day campaign. It was stated that probably other subscriptions would be received during the coming days, and the managers want it made known that such will be given proper credit. After the close of the meeting one subscription of $50 was received over the telephone. The final reports follow:

VAN BOSKERCK-OTTERSON NUPTIALS THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Lucy Otterson, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. William Carter Otterson, and sister of Arthur Leader Otterson, will be married at 4 o'clock this afternoon to Thomas Rowe VanBoskerck, of West Seventh street. The wedding, which will be simple, and attended by only the immediate relatives, will take place at the home of Miss Otterson's brother on Evergreen avenue.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, will perform the ceremony. An informal reception will follow, after which the couple will leave on an extended wedding trip. They will reside in this city.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF LEANDER N. LOVELL

The funeral of Leander Newton Lovell, former president of the Board of Education, was held at his late home on Crescent avenue at 11 o'clock this morning. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends, including the Board of Education, representatives of the New Jersey Chapter of the Society of the Mayflower, of which Mr. Lovell was president, and New York business associates.

Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, of which Mr. Lovell was the senior elder, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

MRS. GERTRUDE ROSS IS NOW MRS. E. E. NELSON

Mrs. Gertrude T. Ross and Edward E. Nelson were quietly married at the home of the bride's grandmother Mrs. Gertrude Tier, on Bank place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, by Rev. John Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

Only the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom were present at the ceremony which was followed by an informal reception and dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will reside in this city after a short wedding tour.

WASHINGTON RESOLUTION SLAP AT ROOSEVELT?

Trenton, Feb. 22.—Patriotism broke loose in the Senate yesterday afternoon over a resolution introduced by Mr. Nichols, of Cumberland, paying a tribute to George Washington in honor of his birthday today. Senator Leavitt objected to the resolution because it lauded Washington because he refused a third term. This reference to Colonel Roosevelt did not please Mr. Leavitt and he expressed the opinion that the political insinuation was not proper. The resolution was passed.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SALADS FROM VEGETABLES.

IN making up the winter salad odds and ends of cold vegetables may be used.

Any leftover vegetables, such as peas, beans, carrots and turnips, may be arranged on a layer of lettuce leaves and served with a nice dressing.

With Fresh Vegetables.

Cabbage Salad.—Take a half cupful of celery cut in small pieces, an apple pared and cut into squares, one quarter of a head of finely shredded cabbage, the juice of a quarter of a lemon and half a teaspoonful of sugar.

Over the cabbage, apples and celery pour this dressing: Take a tablespoonful of sugar, a half teaspoonful of dry mustard, a dash of pepper and salt. Stir these into a half cupful of vinegar and put on to boil. In the meantime cream two tablespoonfuls of flour and add to the boiling vinegar, stirring all the time. After five minutes take from the fire and add a well beaten egg.

Serve the salad cold on lettuce leaves.

Of Many Ingredients.

Beans and Celery Salad.—Use one cupful of leftover navy beans, add one-half cupful of diced celery and one cupful of beet cubes. Pour in a salad bowl which has been rubbed with a clove of garlic and add French dressing until all ingredients are moist. Prepare at table and serve at once.

Mixed Salad.—This is a dish which Italian housewives favor. Take one cupful of boiled green peas, asparagus tips, string beans and the hearts of four artichokes. Canned vegetables may be used quite as successfully as the fresh ones for this dish. When quite cold place on a bed of lettuce leaves, cover with a rich mayonnaise and garnish with slices of hard boiled eggs and olives.

Varizations of Familiar Salads.

Pea and Cheese Salad.—Use equal quantities of peas and cheese cut into small bits, sprinkle with chopped peanuts and mix with mayonnaise. Serve at once.

Minced Potato Salad.—Take three boiled potatoes, a teaspoonful of parsley, half a beet, half a cooked carrot and cut fine. Mix these and sprinkle with salt and pepper and then add French dressing which has been flavored with onion juice.

FASHION STRAWS.

A New Jumper Waist That Serves Many Needs.

Blessed be the one who invented the jumper. It serves such a multitude of needs. It fits in with so many occasions. The newest one is quite smart and looks so different from the ones we have had that it could easily be passed off under a new name.

It is not round at the neck, nor does it have kimono sleeves. It is V shaped.

CIRCULAR DRAWERS FOR GIRLS.

back and front, and its two fronts cross over just above the waist and go to the back, where they finish in a flat bow.

It is worn over a blouse of dotted net or shadow lace, which is either unlined or dropped over a slip of flesh pink chiffon cloth or china silk.

A new fashion notion is the use of a bona fide bath toweling for milady's promenade costumes. This toweling material has been dubbed agaric in Paris, and by this name it masquerades very successfully as a fashionable spring arrival, but it is toweling all the same, and the border effects in which it is used made the bathroom suggestion still more emphatic.

The circular drawers that are made in one are much liked by young girls and small women who have slender figures. This model is an excellent one, as it provides sufficient width at the lower edges to be pretty and comfortable, and it is smooth over the hips.

For Damp Walls.

The walls of cupboards and pantries are often damp without apparent reason when other sections of the kitchen wall will be comparatively dry.

The best device for any wall that is inclined to dampness is to make it impervious to moisture by applying a varnish of one part shellac and two parts naphtha.

Points for Mothers

Fresh Air For the Children.

One hour of bad air will do more harm than good air for the other twenty-three will undo; therefore keep the room well ventilated every moment of the day, says the Woman's Home Companion. If the rooms are large and open into each other one or two windows in the proper place will furnish fresh air for the whole house. In a small apartment we must select one room where the windows may be opened top and bottom and from which the fresh air may circulate without causing too much of a breeze or draft. At any cost keep the air good night and day.

The temperature of the room should be 65 to 70 degrees F. A thermometer should hang in the rooms that are most frequented by the children and at the height of their heads. Overheating is the commonest error in the city. Perhaps the most usual mistakes in the country are drafty rooms and floors and cold halls.

Babies, beginning at six weeks, should be taken out for their airing once a day and later two times—in winter when the sun is high and in summer when it is coolest. At six weeks an hour a day is sufficient; at six months three or four hours is a necessity; after that the more the better.

The sun should not shine into the unprotected eyes.

The only objection to going out is extremely cold weather (below zero), rain or snow and possibly sharp winds. When this outdoor airing is impossible the baby should be dressed for the street and put in the carriage close by the widely opened windows in the sun. In the city it is as necessary to have a carriage for the baby as it is to have a bed.

The sleeping room should have one or more windows wide open at top and bottom throughout the year. The bed should be as far away from the windows as possible, in a corner out of the direct draft. A blanket may be pinned around the crib when the winter winds blow directly upon it. The room should be cold and the night clothing warm. This does not apply to sickly infants nor to those under six weeks of age. However, the delicate child often requires fresh air even more than the well child. The appetite is improved and the strength increased by good pure air. Sleep also is often induced by the airing. Many a sick child who will not sleep in the house immediately sinks into a restful slumber as soon as he is put out in his carriage. Of course there is no objection to sleeping out of doors in sickness or in health.

Children's Habits.

Habits that are formed during the first year of a baby's life remain with the child for many years; therefore it is important for mothers and nurses to take care to establish good ones.

During the first few months a baby should live as much as possible by clockwork. Habits should be absolutely regular. Food should be given at the same hour each day, not a few minutes earlier because he cries for it or a bit later because he happens not to cry and mother is busy with other duties, but on the stroke of the hour prescribed by doctor or trained nurse.

He should be put to sleep at the same time every day, the nap hour being as regular as the hours when nourishment is given.

If medicine is ordered, this must be given according to the physician's directions.

Mothers are very apt to give medicine, especially soothing remedies that relieve colic pains or quiet a teething child, whenever fretful baby cries with pain.

This is not only wrong, but also very dangerous, and sometimes results in serious illness or death.

Teach him that when mother says "No" she means no; that when he is told to do something he must do it at once, cheerfully, without fret or worry. Very young children can be taught to be orderly, to fold their clothes neatly on a chair, to put shoes away in the closet and to pick up toys that have been scattered about the nursery. They can also be taught at a very early age to be clean about their person. When little hands and faces are soiled or sticky with sweets have them washed at once.

Teach them to use a handkerchief and that the towel is the proper article to dry wet hands on.

Of course train the children to be truthful. Little fibs of childhood, if overlooked, develop into dangerous lies as the child grows older.

In all things establish good habits in your children while they are young.

Grotesque Toys.

The penchant for toys that are worse than grotesque is ever increasing and worse things have succeeded to the Golliwog and the Teddy Bear.

In fact, it seems that the last invention must be just the limit, a sinuous monkey that hops about in a lifelike fashion that is revolting.

Another toy which is calculated to give a nervous woman fits—the extremely realistic rat which is formed by a skin slipped over the hand and deftly manipulated.

We have a wholesome fear of the rodent in this capacity, even if we do not at all mind cuddling it round our neck and calling it ermine.

For the Children

A Section of a Snail's Tongue.

This queer looking picture is that of a section of the tongue of a snail. The tongue is greatly magnified to show the rasping teeth.

A snail eats by rasping off small particles with the tongue. This tongue is a narrow band or ribbon with pointed teeth set in rows across it. The common slug, often found in damp places, has more than 25,000 teeth on the tongue, which act like the ridges on a file and scrape the food into the mouth. I once watched with a magnifying lens, says a writer in St. Nicholas Magazine, a small water snail feeding as it slowly crawled up the side of an aquarium, and, although I made no very accurate count, the tongue seemed to be pressed against the glass about forty times a minute.

Man and Object.

Two persons go out of the room and, after agreeing together as to what they shall represent, come back again and sit down side by side in front of the company. One of the two takes the part of some well known person, and the other represents an object which is closely connected with that person. For instance, George Washington and the hatchet or Roosevelt and the big stick, the king of England and his crown, etc.

After the two take their seats the other players in turn ask each of them a question, to which both the man and the object must answer only "Yes" or "No" until the right person and the right article have been guessed. The first player may perhaps ask the man, "Are you alive?" The man will answer "Yes" or "No" according to the character he represents. Then the object may be asked, "Are you made of wood?" "No." Then the second player in order asks a question of each, and so on along the line until all have had a turn at questioning or until the person and object have been rightly guessed.

A Giant Baby.

The world's astronomers are now much interested in the planet Jupiter. This planet is the largest in our system, but is said by the scientists to be an infant in swaddling clothes so far as development is concerned. In volume Jupiter is 1,279 times greater than our own globe. But we are now full grown and, as some astronomers declare, on the downhill side of life. In other words, our little earth is in middle age and will soon be growing old. Great Jupiter, the king of the heavens as far as our planetary system is concerned, is not yet fit for life. From the latest observations of Jupiter it is supposed to be in the act of building, of solidifying. One astronomer says: "I have not the slightest doubt that we are assisting at the creation of a world. Under our dazzled eyes a new world is being created in the infinity, and in Jupiter we hail the world of the future."—Chicago News.

Cupid's Target—A Game.

In the game Cupid's darts are shot from a small bow by each child in turn at a heart shaped target of white with a smaller red heart for a bullseye. The one whose dart comes nearest the middle of the bullseye may receive a gayly beribboned bow and arrow for a prize.

The Two Echoes.

Two echoes, each with mouth and ears,
Lived peacefully for many years
Till one, not meaning to offend,
Said, "Let me hear your voice, my friend.
I know my voice is very fine,
But which is finer, yours or mine?"
"Mine," said the other, loud and clear.
"Mine," said the first in tones severe.
"Mine," said the other echo next.
"Mine," said the first one, rather vexed.
And "mine" was all that they would say,
And neither of them would give way.
For, though most echoes can be mute,
If spoken to they will dispute,
And I am sure these always will,
For there they are disputing still.

NEW TRIAL FOR SCHIFF VALET

Court Decision May Bar Prospect of Pardon.

WAITED FOR DIX TO ACT.

Folke E. Brandt, After Serving Five of a Thirty Year Sentence For Burglary, Again Must Stand Trial—May Be Freed on Bond In Custody of His Counsel.

New York, Feb. 22.—Folke E. Brandt, the ex-valet of Mortimer Schiff, is now in the position of a man who never served a day in prison. Justice Gerard has sustained his writ of habeas corpus and remanded the alleged burglar for trial on the original charges. The decision holds that Judge Rosalsky erred in accepting Brandt's plea of guilty because the accused did not know to what charge he was pleading.

Out of courtesy to Governor Dix, Justice Gerard waited until he learned that Attorney General Carmody's arguments had failed to move the governor and that there would be delay whichever way the governor decided.

However, the decision of Justice Gerard will not be today, since it is a legal holiday. Therefore since the order remanding Brandt for a new trial and establishing his status as a man indicted, but not actually convicted, is not yet on record, provided that the governor concludes before Friday to free Brandt, he can do so without any question arising as to his constitutional right to pardon a man who is not legally a convict. The constitution says that the governor can pardon or commute a sentence "after conviction."

Brandt, who is now in the Tombs, may be released on bail today. An application will be made then to Justice Gerard asking that the justice fix bail for Brandt and order his release. When the young Swede was arraigned back in March, 1907, on Mortimer L. Schiff's complaint that he had committed burglary and assault, Charles S. Whitman, then a magistrate, held him in bonds of $5,000, $2,500 on each charge. It is indicated that District Attorney Whitman will not press for heavy bail now. He may accept a small figure or consent that Brandt be released in custody of his own counsel. The district attorney does not seem to think that Brandt will hurry back to Sweden to go into business; he needs Brandt in the conspiracy inquiry.

Immediately after Justice Gerard acted the question arose as to what effect the decision had on the governor's power to pardon and on the pardon inquiry started by Judge Hand on Tuesday. District Attorney Whitman said that it seemed clear to him that executive clemency cannot be exercised after the supreme court order is filed. Justice Gerard, Mr. Whitman said, indisputably knocks out the conviction and puts Brandt back in the courts for trial on the two indictments against him, burglary in the first degree and felonious assault. According to the district attorney, Brandt stands now as if there had never been any court proceedings against him save the arraignment in police court and the action of the grand jury.

SANTO DOMINGO REVOLT.

Impossibility of Forwarding Mails Through Frontier Points.

Cape Haitien, Haiti, Feb. 22.—The Santo Domingo revolution is extending every day, especially in the vicinity of the frontier, where communication between Dajabon and Monte Christi is suspended. A Santo Domingan coast defense vessel left this port for Fort Liberte, carrying the mail for Dajabon, which it was hoped to reach over Haitian territory. The mail was landed and sent on, but was soon brought back again and taken on board the warship once more after it was found impossible to forward it to its destination.

Enrique Jimenes, the special delegate of the Santo Domingan government in the province of Monte Christi, was also unable to travel by road. He therefore crossed into Haiti and embarked at Fort Liberte for the port of Monte Christi.

HOLD SON'S WIFE ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Atlantic City Man Shocked and Case May Be Dropped.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 22.—Lylbourn Bowley, Sr., was shocked when he returned from the wedding of his son John M. to Miss Lucretia Middleton to find that his home had been robbed. He got a greater shock when policemen who had investigated phoned him that they had the culprit in custody and that the prisoner was his other daughter-in-law, wife of his eldest son, Dr. Lylbourne Bowley, Jr., of Chicago.

Mrs. Bowley seemed to be highly amused by the proceedings when she was brought into court to sign a bail bond. The courtroom was crowded with men and women of social prominence, with most of whom she was acquainted.

Magistrate Jagmetty set a further hearing of the burglary charge for tomorrow.

It is said she had the things removed to the home of Mrs. J. Pratt Craber.

Efforts are being made to have the charges dropped, and it is thought likely Mr. Bowley will not appear against his laughing daughter-in-law.

WHAT IS COLOMBIA'S CLAIM?

Senator Hitchcock Wants Facts In Canal Zone Acquisition.

Washington, Feb. 22.—A concurrent resolution introduced by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska directs the committee on foreign relations to ascertain and report the facts relative to the claim of Colombia against the United States growing out of the acquisition of the canal zone. He also desired all the correspondence referring to the offer of Colombia to submit the matter to arbitration.

At the request of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts the resolution was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

BRISTOW ON MONEY TRUST.

Kansas Senator Says It Is Most Tyrannical of Combinations.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Senator Bristow had this to say on the money trust:

"I think there is a money trust that is more dominating and tyrannical than any other trust that has ever been organized. No man in the United States can secure money to construct a railroad or steamship line unless it is by the consent of the Rockefeller or Morgan interests. There is no banker or set of bankers that would finance a great enterprise in opposition to those powerful interests."

Yuan Shih Kai Says He Will Never Go to Nanking.

Peking, Feb. 22.—It is confidently expected here that the arrival of Tang Shao Yi will bring about the adjustment of the question of the location of the capital of the republic. The situation in regard to the capital is crucial, Yuan Shih Kai insisting that it be located in the north, while the rebels are holding out for Nanking. Yuan Shih Kai says he will never go to Nanking.

GLOEKLER'S APPLICATION GIVES RISE TO CONJECTURE

The councilmanic license committee will meet tomorrow night to consider the various applications for licenses, especially those for the sale of liquor, prior to acting on the same at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council Monday night. There has been considerable talk about the probability of Christian Gloekler securing a renewal of his license, some people venturing an opinion that it will be granted.

There are others, however, who believe that Mr. Gloekler's application will be refused. Those who oppose a license for the place at West Front and Somerset streets, argue that there is no real need for a saloon on that corner, one of the most important in the city, and that the absence of a saloon for one year shows that the city can get along very well without one at that point.

The members of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union have arranged to attend Monday night's meeting in a body and give a practical demonstration of the strong sentiment against the granting of liquor licenses, especially that of Mr. Gloekler. The Plainfield Ministers' Association and the W. C. T. U. will also protest against the granting of licenses.

The present Common Council, with two exceptions, remains the same as last year, the changes being that Messrs. Reville and Endress have succeeded Messrs. Buxton and Montgomery. All of the other members voted against Mr. Gloekler's application last year. Whether they have had a change of heart since will be made known Monday night.

Arm Broken By Fall.

Frank O. Dunning, Jr., of Mountain avenue, is suffering from a broken arm, the result of a fall at his home a few days ago. He slipped on the steps of the front porch and was thrown heavily to the ground. He was attended by a physician.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S FATHER WAS IN THE PICTURE, TOO

BISHOP VINCENT'S BIRTHDAY

means of teaching under the auspices of the Methodist Book Concern in New York. He led in the establishment of the International Sunday School lesson system. Contemporaneous with the development of the Chautauqua idea of out-of-school education for all sorts and conditions of people, his fame as a preacher extended beyond the bounds of his own denomination. He was elected a Bishop of the Methodist Church in 1888, residing in Buffalo and Topeka. In 190 he resident abroad, retiring in 1904, but serving as preacher to Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Wellesley and other colleges, and widely called to communities for conducting unique weeks of interchurch service known as "Seven Days of Church Life." His only son, George E. Vincent, is president of Chautauqua Institution and of the University of Minnesota. He is the author of many religious and educational books and pamphlets.

Besides the "letter shower" a group of friends contribute special birthday messages on about 100 autograph cards which will be presented in a special gift box made by Tiffany. This box is mahogany lined with amethyst velvet the color of the February birth-stone, and bears gold initials. An engrossed, illuminated presentation on vellum under glass bears personal congratulations and official greeting from the board of trustees and all active members of the staff of Chautauua nstitution. The cards include messages from President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, Lyman Abbott, Dean George Hodges, Bishops Charles D. Williams, H. W. Warren, Wm. F. McDowell; President C. Stanley Hall, of Clark University; H. C. King, of Oberlin, Rush Rhees, of Rochester; W. H. P. Faunce, of Brown, John Finley, City College of New York; Professors Palmer and Peabody of Harvard; George Adam Smith, Percy Alden, M. P.; Jane Addams, Henry Turner Bailey, John Graham Brooks, and many others.

Some idea of the enormous influence exerted by one American will be gotten from the following data.

The first Chautauqua Assembly was held at Chautauqua Lake, New York, for three weeks in August 1874, for the broader training of Sunday Schol teachers. The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle which made Chautauua an all-year-round educational movement was founded in August, 1878. The number of readers since the first year 1878-9, when eight thousand persons actually enrolled their names and perhaps half as many more studied with them, has reached three quarters of a million people. Some ten thousand reading circles have been formed within the thirty-three years since its organization.

In spite of the phenomenal growth of clubs, university extension courses, denominational reading circles, night schools, etc., the Chautauua Circle still enrolls thousands of members every year. Its four-year plan of "College Outlook" appeals to people who want definate leadership, world-wide in its view point, affording distinct literary culture and easily carried out by old or young people.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

THE GINGER JAR

Without appearing to exert himself in the least, John Paul Jones, the Cornell distance star, negotiated the half-mile at the Columbia University games last Saturday night in the fast time of 1 minute 57 seconds.

Carl Morris and Jim Stewart are training for another battle to be held at the Empire A. C., New York, on March 20.

Charlie Herzog, the dashing third baseman of the Giants, signed a three-year contract Tuesday. He delayed doing so until he had a talk with McGraw about the long term and Jawn being willing to take a chance for the extended period, the ink was spread. Charlie is the first of the infield to come across.

Just before the flashlight was taken at the Elks' pig roast, the photographer requested the guests to remove their glasses. The request was promptly granted. The glasses were empty.

Let us hope the food made them mighty, for those pinners have their work cut out for them tomorrow night.

Owing to a conflicion in the dates, the match scheduled between the Elks and Knights of Columbus in the fraternal league for tonight on the Olympia alleys has been postponed.

Barry, Baker, Collins and McInnis are called the Athletics' $100,000 infield. The name is not misplaced, for there is not the slightest doubt that if any of them were placed on the block, the price brought would be a proportionate share of the amount.

Thirty-four old time ball players are reported to have died during 1911 and all of them but two left their families in comparative want, some in abject poverty. Scores of other diamond stars of days that are gone are working for rather meagre wages as the result of having squandered rather than stored the golden harvest reaped by their youthful talents.

The Yankees were further fortified in the pitching department yesterday by the addition of 190 pounds of 21-year-old Clark, christian name George. He won 14 out of 28 games last season with the Sioux City team in the Western League.

Plainfield Elks must win at least one game in the match to be rolled with the Hoboken Bills at that place tomorrow night to hold first place in the tourrament. The local pinners expect to do this and also tuck away on the win side of the score book the odd game. More optimistic bopplers look for a clean sweep of all three.

Harry M'Cormick, recently reinstated by the National Commission, is considered as "Red" Murray's most dangerous opponent for the position in the Giants right field.

LOCAL BOWLERS ENTERED IN NATIONAL TOURNAMENT

An organization to be known as the Plainfield Bowling Association was formed at a meeting of ten pin enthusiasts on the Olympia alleys last night. Twenty signed the membership roll and elected Vincent W. Nash, Jr., president, and John J. Campbell, secretary. Among the members listed are pinners from Bound Brook, Somerville and this city.

The association was made necessary by a recent ruling of the National Bowling Association, which controls the tournament to be held next month in Paterson and in which all those who joined the Plainfield organization wish to compete.

The following entries for the National tournament have been sent to Secretary Frank D. Woodworth, of Brooklyn; two men teams, Stout and Blatz; Campbell and Nash; Kiely and Koons, of this city; Mathews and Schaub, and Buscher and Meyers, of Somerville. These entries represent the Elks "big five"—the first five namer. Koons is the anchor of the Knights of Columbus quintet. The Somerville pinners make up the required number for a ten-man team.

In addition to competing in feams and pairs, all the topplers will roll in the individual contests and expect to be in the money that way just as they expect to capture some of the prizes for shooting otherwise.

—Hoax—"They say Bluffem is a millionaire." Joax—"Yes, with the accent on the air."

WILL TRY TO DUPLICATE TWO PLAINFIELDERS' FEAT

J. T. Beaman and Clarence Robbins, enthusiastic bicyclists of Westfield, are planning to emulate the feat of Sherman Haberle and Roy Adams, local pedalars, who rode to the Pacific Coast during the spring and summer of 1911. The Westfield boys began conditioning themselves several weeks ago and expect to make the start on their trip early next month.

Both athletes are widely known as long distance pluggers. They will follow the route of the Lackawanna road to Buffalo and to a friend said, that while this way would lead them through the hilly sections of the States they will cover they do not fear the task. From Buffalo the pair expects to travel through the middle west making the best possible time so that they can return in the fall.

Beaman competed in a few races at Vailsburgh last season and finished first in one event. Two years ago he traveled through a large portion of California and Mexico.

JACK MARTIN HAS BEEN TURNED OVER TO SCRANTON

According to word received yesterday, Jack Martin will play this summer with Scranton in the New York State League instead of with Rochester on the International circuit. The announcement was made by Manager Wolverton, of the New York Americans, who own Martin, that he and Outfielder Zinn had been turned over to "Buck" Freeman, manager of the Miners.

This makes two Plainfield boys with the Scranton team. The other is Louis Slocum, who has been farmed by Manager Mack, of the world's champions. Both are promising youngsters and another year in the minors, their managers feel, will just about make them fit.

Slocum and Martin are taking daily workouts at the Y. M. C. A. gym and friends who have seen them in action say that they are in the pink of condition. In addition to them Manager Freeman has also secured the services of William Dolan, star pitcher of the Bonaventura College nine for the last two seasons. He is a right hander and is 20 years old. Last season he won seven out of eight games, losing to the Providence club of the International League after allowing but six hits.

PLAINFIELD ELKS MUST FIGHT ALL THE WAY TO LEAD

The leaders in the Elks' bowling tournament, Plainfield and Hoboken, roll a match tomorrow night on the German's alleys. The local Bills must win one game to retain first place in the race which has been held against all comers for several weeks. They will fight to maintain it.

Judging from past performances of these quintets when opposing each other, one game is assured. Last year the locals took two games at Hoboken and in return dropped two in the match rolled on the Olympia alleys here. This year their meetings have resulted similarly, but took place at times when circumstances as to standing were not so important.

A large number of fans will accompany the team from here and win or lose are assured of a good time.

RUTGERS COLLEGE NINE HAS A STIFF SCHEDULE

New Brunswick, Feb. 22.—The Rutgers College baseball schedule for the coming season has just been announced by Manager E. W. Scudder. The schedule includes a Southern trip during Easter week, and consists of twenty-one games.

The schedule is a heavy one one, several large college teams being on the list. Games are scheduled with Princeton, Columbia, two with New York University, three with Stevens, Ursinus and Swarthmore. As usual, the season will close with a game with Stevens just before commencement. There are nine home games.

Willie Lewis Confident.

Willie Lewis announced yesterday that he was already down to weight for his fight tomorrow night with Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul welterweight, at the Empire Athletic Club in New York. He says that he turned down an alluring offer to go to France because he was confident he could whip Gibbons.

Syracuse Bar on Freshmen.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 22.—At a meeting of the athletic council of Syracuse University Tuesday night a rule prohibiting the competing of freshmen in track athletics was adopted. Syracuse five years ago prohibited the competition of first year students in any other sport.

SEASONED PLAYERS SLOW AT SIGNING

Baseball Magnates Have Hard Time Each Year With the Stars.

MUST USE MUCH DIPLOMACY

With ReRecruits It is Different—They Are Told to Make Good in Fast Company Before Demanding Fancy Salaries.

Signing a lot of major league ball players is no sort of employment for a man of sensitive feeling.

As there is no set scale of prices for ball playing, every man tries to pull down all there is in sight and is sure to be on the offensive when doing business with the magnates.

The manager of a ball team should never be called upon to sign the man, is the claim made by several experts.

This work is up to the president, and it is his duty to get the players signed up along the lines mapped out by the owners or board of directors.

After deciding just what the club is willing to pay the men it becomes the duty of the executive to write a pleasant letter to each player, using great diplomacy on opening the correspondence, especially where new men take hold.

To the veteran players are sent letters asking for their lowest terms.

Recruit Must Make Good.

To the young player, partially tried out, is sent a letter saying that the club will see that he receives a substantial salary if he makes good, intimating that up to the present he has shown little to warrant a very large stipend for his work.

The veteran seldom answers. The young player, however, generally drops a line to say that he knows he will make good and would like to receive as large a salary as some in whose class he believes himself to be.

Then it is up to the president to send out the contracts for the player's autograph. The young player is anything but satisfied with the stipend mentioned, but soon returns the contract, signed and accompanied by a note saying that he is much pleased to be with the club and feels sure the boys will do much better next season.

The president smiles. "I rather like the tone of his letter, and I predict the youngster will show something next season if given a little more work," says he. "Sitting on the bench never made a ballplayer, and, believe me, there will be no shirking with me next season."

Thus the youngster is signed up.

With the old player who has a few good years left it is different. He is more deliberate. He is interested in a few investments. In the fall he was favored with a goodly sum of money to pay off some mortgage or to pay down as a little advance on a piece of property purchased. The club may have indorsed his note, with no security, and have done him many favors. He may also be under obligation for a little advance money, but when his contract is received by him and the old figures, and princely figures at that, are named there is no answer from him, and the magnate is left to do some heavy thinking.

Treat Veterans Well.

Now and then a new league is talked of, and the old player smiles and stands pat.

The magnate writes another letter and receives an answer something after this style: "There is no use in considering the matter further. If you don't care to give me the money I want sell my release to some other club. I know that there are several clubs that will pay what I am asking of you." So it goes.

Star players must be handled with velvet gloves, and so the magnates write more friendly letters to them. A slight inducement may land a few of the holdouts. It depends how the boys are fixed and just how strong they are with the press and public.

There is nothing lost by holding out, as salaries do not begin until the opening of the regular season. The reserve rule holds the player. No other club will talk business with him, and the player who refuses to go south with the team to train is subject to a fine by the national commission.

At least one-third of the number of old players will go south unsigned and talk the matter over with the club officers.

HOPPE-DEMAREST 18-2 MATCH SET FOR APRIL 11.

A date has been selected for the 18.2 balkline championship match which Calvin Demarest and Willie Hoppe, the champion, are to play at the Hotel Astor. The men will come together on April 11.

—"Pop!" "Well, what is it now?" "Say, Pop, did the dog star ever have the dipper tied to its tail?"

—"I hope you are not playing politics?" said the reformer. "There is no such thing as playing politics," replied Senator Corghum. "Politics these days is work."—Washington Star.

SUGDEN'S FINGERS WERE ALL OUT OF JOINT.

Sam Crawford tells a story on Joe Sugden that, while not new, is worth repeating.

"Joe was catching and Clark Griffith was pitching in a game in Chicago one day," said Sam. "A foul tip knocked one of Joe's fingers out of joint, and he walked out to the box to have Griff pull it back in place.

"Joe extended his hand, which has the worst looking lot of gnarled fingers on it you ever saw, and said to Griff:

"'One of my fingers is out of joint. Give it a yank, will you?'

"Clark looked at the hand a moment and then ejaculated:

"'Sure, if you tell me which one it is. They all look out of joint to me.'"

P. H. S. GIRLS WIN OVER N. P. H. S. IN FAST GAME.

The P. H. S. and N. P. H. S. girls' basketball teams played the most exciting and fastest game of their season's matches in the Plainfield High School gym yesterday afternoon and resulted in a victory for the P. H. S. five 36 to 25.

The lineup follows: P. H. S., Stewart and Mehl, forwards; Douglas, centre; Rodenbaugh and Moy, guards. N. P. H. S.—Hummell and Mair, forwards; Catson and McAuliffe, centres; Smith and Debele, guards.

NOT ENEMY OF LABOR.

Newly Appointed Justice of Supreme Court Explains Decision.

Morristown, N. J., Feb. 22.—Mahlon D. Pitney, who was named for the supreme court of the United States by President Taft, took notice of opposition to his confirmation by the senate that has come from a labor organization in the west.

"I wish simply to deny," he said in a statement, "that I am an enemy of labor. As to the decision mentioned and whatever construction some may place on it, I have nothing to say, for the very good reason that it was not mine. The opinion was delivered orally and on the spur of the moment by my late father, Vice Chancellor Pitney, in 1903, when I was the junior member of the supreme court bench of this state."

USES HATPIN AS WEAPON.

With It Girl Fights Off Negro Who Knocked Her Down.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 22.—Miss Nellie Reed, twenty years old, used a hatpin to fight off a negro who knocked her down while she was crossing a dark stretch of street within a square of her home, 409 North Indiana avenue. Although slight in build, she wielded her weapon with such good effect she held the man at bay until help was in sight, then she fell in a faint.

A few minutes later a posse, led by her father, Lewis Reed, was searching the neighborhood for the negro, intending to lynch him. The police maintained a careful watch at every outlet from the city and searched the negro colony for the thug, but were unsuccessful.

M'FARLAND STAYS IN PRISON.

Convicted Wife Murderer Must Stay In Cell at Trenton.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 22.—Chief Justice Gummere refused a writ of habeas corpus applied for by Allison MacFarland, formerly of Philadelphia, recently convicted in Newark on a charge of wife murder.

The application was for MacFarland's removal from the New Jersey state prison to the Essex county jail at Newark. The application was refused on the ground that counsel did not take out the writ within ten days after sentence, as provided by law. MacFarland was taken to the state prison.

TOWN HAS BIG FIRE.

Eighteen Cows and Five Horses Were Burned to Death.

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 22.—Eighteen cows and five horses were burned to death Tuesday night in a fire at the George A. Forman farm, near Milford. Henry Kinney is the tenant.

One horse broke from its stall and escaped the flames. A large quantity of hay, grain and farming machinery was destroyed.

Dog Minds Abandoned Kittens.

Bayonne, N. J., Feb. 22.—Gyp, a dog owned by Samuel Abraham of 477 Avenue C, has adopted a litter of kittens that were abandoned and cares for them, although she has a litter of pups to look after. The dog shows no partiality.

Councilman Charles C. Randolph and William H. Abbott returned yesterday from a pleasure trip to Bermuda.

Erwin Leland, of Westervelt avenue, left Tuesday for Buenos Ayres, South America, where he will represent the American Fork & Hoe Company.

HOLD ETTOR FOR MURDER.

Labor Leader at Lawrence Bound Over to Grand Jury.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 22.—Joseph J. Ettor, Industrial Workers of the World leader in the local textile strike, and Arthur Giovanitti, his assistant, were held for the grand jury by Judge Mahoney in police court, charged with being accessories before the fact to the murder of Anna Lopizzo. The woman was killed in a strike riot Jan. 29.

OBJECT TO PIG IRON TARIFF.

Proposed Reduction Will Cause Distressing Conditions, Butler Says.

Washington, Feb. 22.—W. L. King, vice president of the Jones-Laughlin company of Pittsburgh, told the senate finance committee of the relations that existed between the United States Steel corporation and the independent manufacturers prior to 1904, when it was decided the arrangements "might be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law." Mr. King's company is the largest independent manufacturer of steel in the United States.

Mr. King said the independents always followed the reductions in prices of the steel corporation and that "the chances were the independents would follow any increase."

John G. Butler of Youngstown, O., appeared before the committee as the chief spokesman for the pig iron producers. He said the pig iron duty in the Dingley bill was cut 50 per cent in the Payne-Aldrich bill, and Underwood proposes another cut of 50 per cent. He declared that pig iron was produced in Germany and England $5 cheaper than in this country and that the Underwood duty of $1.50 a ton would cause distressful conditions in the industry.

PLUCK IS ESSENTIAL

one who forges ahead in the first lap that wins out. It is the competitor who doggedly "plugs" along no matter what anyone else does, who eventually reaches the desired goal, while the "hare" that took a nap after a quick get-away slumbered peacefully somewhere in the rear.

The Daily Press contest is still in its infancy. No one has any special advantage at this date, so the timid ones need have no misgivings on this score. A single subscription for a year means a whole lot, so take the tip and land a few while they are still plentiful. A little later on they will be spoken for, and the young woman who tacks down a bunch of possible subscribers now, will be the wise one of the contest.

The close of the great Muhlenberg hospital campaign last night is a timely example of what can be accomplished by energy and effort. When the first mark of $90,000 was set, hundreds of people said it was out of the question. Nevertheless it was quickly reached, and advanced to $100,000. Again the wet-blanket-throwers started the anvil chorus, and when this was passed and a new mark of $125,000 set, they were in danger of heart-failure. But the energetic workers kept busy in their own quiet way and at the finish of the campaign the most magnificent contribution ever made in this city was placed to the credit of the hospital—$132,000.

If these faithful workers had listened to the weak-kneed pessimists, this splendid institution would still be handicapped for funds.

Keep this in mind, fair contestant, and when you are on the broad Atlantic, bound for Europe and the pleasures which have been the dream of a lifetime, you can afford to laugh in your sleeve at those who decried your possibilities of winning.

There is no time like the present. Do not hesitate, but enter the lists immediately, and with a reasonable amount of confidence and perseverance you will gain your reward.

HUSTLING FOR TOUR BALLOTS

Number of Ballots Shows That Young Women Are Hard at Work.

CHANCE FOR THE LATE ONES

Unsapped Energy Gives Newcomers as Good a Show to Win as the Earlier Entrants—Tips for the Vote Seekers.

Today's registration of votes in the Daily Press European trip contest shows that many of the young women in the race have profited by the timely suggestions given heretofore and are beginning to realize what "hustle" means. Subscriptions and ballots continued to pour into the office yesterday despite the fact that observance of Washington's natal day was on, affording an excuse for cessation from business. The figures are proof positive that contest workers mixed patriotism with action.

The field is still open to nominations and everyone has an even chance as yet. Have your name put in and then go after the votes. Don't confine yourself to the district from

LATER REPORTS SWELL TALE OF GALE'S HAVOC

Big Wind Does Damage Over Wide Area--Blow Lasts Until This Morning--110 Mile Gait Reached--Loss is Thousands.

Reports of damage done by the wind that began sweeping this section early yesterday morning kept coming in all day from distant sections, as well as all parts of the city and surrounding towns. The weather observers in New York and Philadelphia stated that the average velocity of the gale was between 70 and 80 miles an hour, and that at times the gale blew at a rate of 110 miles.

The blow proved to be of an enduring quality, rounding out 30 full hours before spending itself. It was nearly 3 o'clock before the blasts began to die away.

In addition to the damage detailed in yesterday's Daily Press, other havoc was reported, swelling the total amount of damage estimated well up in the thousands.

Aside from the actual property loss many handsome trees were sent crashing to earth by the blow. A handsome old pine fully 150 feet high on the Donnybrook farm, owned by J. J. O'Donohue, was broken off 60 feet from the base and a windmill was demolished. At the place of the break the trunk measures sixteen inches in diameter. Street Commissioner Gavett has several gangs of men out today clearing away fallen limbs.

A cupola on Mayor Clark's residence on Jackson avenue, North Plainfield, was carried away in the gale. A chimney on the Church of the Heavenly Rest was toppled down. A beam was torn loose from J. D. Spicer's home on West Fifth street, and pounded through the roof until the plaster fell indoors.

The fire house bell tower at Fanwood gave way under the strain early in the blow. The bell is not damaged but the tower structure is damaged beyond repair.

It will be several days before the P. S. C. and Telephone company have repaired the wire breaks.

GEORGE AND MARTHA GREET GUESTS AT CHURCH SUPPER

Under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Netherwood Reformed church, a colonial supper and entertainment was given at the church, last night. There was a large attendance of members and friends of the society. The affair was arranged by a committee of which Mrs. Peter H. Wood was the chairman. Her daughter, Miss Dora Wood, presided at the piano.

As the guests arrived they were met at the door by "George and Martha Washington," impersonated by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cooper. During the evening there was an informal program of tableaux in which incidents in the life of Washington were pictured by Bedell Wills, John and George Patterson, James and Charles Carson and Raymond Hansen.

In addition there were humorous recitations by Miss Maud Disbrow, tenor solos by F. B. Mills, and selections, including the "Star Spangled Banner," by a quartet. Miss Florence Disbrow impersonated "Betsy Ross." Following the entertainment the social committee served refreshments.

MRS. MARY A. BROKAW DEAD AT EIGHTY-TWO.

Mrs. Mary A. Brokaw, widow of Brogan Brokaw, died yesterday at her home on Center street, Dunellen. She was in her eighty-second year and had resided in this vicinity nearly all her life. The funeral will be held at her late home, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and will be conducted by Rev. A. S. Phelps, rector of Holy Innocents' church ,of Dunellen. Burial will be in the Bound Brook cemetery.

PRIZES FOR BEST SPEAKERS OF P.H.S.

Awarded Ruth Maguire and Roy Titsworth at Alumni Association Contest.

RECEPTION IN THE EVENING

Old "Grads" Revel in the Opportunity to Recall School Days—Charles B. Morse Re-elected President of the Graduate Organization.

The prize-speaking contest and the election of officers were the features of the seventh annual meeting of the Plainfield High School Alumni Association held at the High School auditorium yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of members of the association, and guests, and the affair was a delightful one.

The association decided this year that instead of holding the prize-speaking contest, annual meeting and reception in the evening, to rearrange the program, reserving the evening for the reception and dance, and giving up the afternoon for the declamations and business session of the association. The change was well received and proved a success.

Two prizes of $10 in gold were offered to the successful young man and woman in the speaking contest, and this feature aroused much interest as the contestants were the pick of the High School. Miss Ruth G. Maguire daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Gabriel Reid Magure, won the prize for the young women, her declamation, "The Black Horse and His Rider," being considered the best.

Roy E. Titsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Titsworth, received the prize for the young men, the subject of his declamation being "Abraham Lincoln," by Watterson. The successful contestants were heartily applauded by their friends. The relative merits of the declamations were decided by Rev. John Y. Broek, Henry L. Hall and Miss Marion W. Cottle, the last named being president of the Women's Law Club, of New York, and associate editor of the Women Lawyer's Journal. All of the contestants displayed careful training in the art of public speaking which was favorably commented upon by those present. The Misses Marion Wean and Helen Woolley for the girls, and Burnett Doane for the boys, received honorable mention. Rev. Mr. Broek presented the prizes, complimenting the contestants for their good work. The subjects and speakers follows:

"Liberty," Henry George, Miss Marion Wean; "Abraham Lincoln," Watterson, Roy E. Titsworth; "The Black Horse and His Rider," Anon, Miss Ruth G. Maguire; "Death of Garfield," Blaine, Frank P. Cullen; "Our Nation's Flag," Beecher, Miss Margaret N. Russell; "Antony's Oration" Shakespeare, Schuyler W. Line; "The First Predicted Eclipse," Mitchell, Miss Helen L. Woolley; "Relenze's Address," Mitford, Burnett O. Doane.

Immediately following the contest, the alumni association held its annual meeting, when Charles Burdett Morse, '95, was unanimously re-elected president. Champlain L. Riley, '94, was elected vice-president, succeeding Theodore O. Gavett, while Miss Margaret V. Leggett, '10, was elected secretary treasurer to succeed Miss Grace A. TenEyck. The following were elected members of the executive committee: William D. Murray, Miss Grace A. TenEyck, Martin B. Stutsman and Orlando Lounsbury. The new ticket for election was presented by the nominating committee of which William D. Murray was chairman.

The reception and dance was held in the High School auditorium in the evening and was well attended by former graduates, who found a pleasant opportunity to renew acquaintanceship and talk over incidents of school days. During the evening Charles Suhr's orchestra rendered a popular program of dance music which was thoroughly enjoyed until a late hour. During an intermission, Ben Evans seerved refreshments.

CELEBRATE THEIR SEVENTH WEDDING ANNIVERRSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Meeker, of 167 Somerset street, gave a dinner last night to a number of their friends in honor of their seventh wedding anniversary. The feature of the evening, after dinner, were progressive games, singing, mandolin and piano duets, a reading by the hostess and dancing.

DUTCH ARMS MEN ENJOYED A FEAST

Ex-Gov. Fort, Rev. Dr. Morgan and Others Spoke at Trinity Banquet.

MAYOR CLARK TOASTMASTER

Samuel S. Swackhamer, David E. Titsworth and Rev. John Y. Broek Are Among the Other Speakers at Noteworthy Dinner.

Paying honor to the "Father of His Country," and enjoying a number of fine after dinner talks, the members of the Dutch Arms Club of Trinity Reformed church held their third annual banquet last night in the church. One hundred and fifty members and their wives and friends attended the gathering. The dinner was served by the members of the Willing Workers Sunday school class and an elaborate menu was provided for those present.

The speakers included former Governor John Franklin Fort, Rev. William H. Morgan of Newark, David E. Titsworth, Samuel S. Swackhamer and Rev. John Y. Broek. Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of North Plainfield, acted as toastmaster, and Edmund D. Young, president of the club, made a few remarks in introducing Mr. Clark. Music was furnished during the evening by an excellent orchestra of five pieces.

Mr. Fort had to make another address in Newark later in the evening, so he was called on during the course of the dinner. He took "Washington" as his theme and said in part:

"George Washington is unique in history. Each year adds to his greatness in the estimation, not only of our own people, but of all the people on the earth. Wherever Republican government is or is hoped for the name of Washington is potential. He was a soldier without per-

STOPS FAST TRAIN AT SO. PLAINFIELD

Coal Wagon Driver Halts Buffalo Express by Getting in its Way.

HIS ESCAPE VERY NARROW

Keen-sighted Engineer Shakes up His Passengers in Checking Limited's Rush in Time to Avert Fatality at Village Crossing.

The keen eye and quick action of the engineer of the Buffalo express due to pass South Plainfield early yesterday afternoon, averted a fatality. Frank Sharrot, employed as a driver for TenEyck & Harris, coal dealers, of that place, was driving over the main crossing at South Plainfield, when he noticed the express approaching.

Sharrot gave his horse a sharp crack with the whip, and at the same instant the engineer realized the danger. He quickly applied the air brakes, and although he gave the passengers of the train a severe shaking up in suddenly checking the express his stop within a few yards of the crossing saved Sharrot's life.

Sharrot had a bad half-minute when the full realization of his narrow escape came to him. The engineer was almost as much shaken over the escape as Sharrot.

MAYOR MOY IN FAVOR OF THE DARLING SITE

Inspects Proposed Sewer Terminus With Borough Officials, Who Don't Seem to Like it--City Wants Quick Action.

Mayor G. W. V. Moy, of this city; Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., and W. J. Buttfield and Alexander Milne, of the Borough Council, inspected Plainfield's proposed new site for sewage disposal works on the Darling farm in Piscataway township yesterday. It was a coincidence that the city's executive met the borough officials, for Mayor Moy had no knowledge that the boroughites planned to visit the farm.

Mayor Moy, in conversation today with a reporter for the Daily Press, expressed himself as favorable to the site, even though one portion of the farm was found to be under water. Mr. Moy said that the overflow was caused by the great amount of ice near the brook, and that water covered only a small part of the farm.

The presence of water on the tract did not impress the boroughites favorably and while they did not express their opinion publicly, it is asserted that they still favor the Cramer farm as the best site. Mayor Moy has it upon the authority of Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett that the condition found on the farm yesterday is not a serious handicap.

The fact that by the use of the Darling farm, Plainfield would be able to save $68,000 over the plan of going to the Cramer farm, appeals to the members of the Common Council, as well as Mayor Moy.

The direct saving to the city would be about $35,000 on excavation and $33,000 on the installation of siphons, etc., which would be necessary if the Cramer farm was used.

There is to be a determined effort on the part of the city to reach a final decision in the sewer matter within the next ten days.

It is semi-officially stated that should the Darling farm be used Dunellen would join in the imrpovement, thus making it possible for that borough to have the benefits of sewers.

DISTINGUISHED MEN ON THEIR ROSTER

Camp Ground Preservers Now Have Taft and Dewey as Honorary Fellows.

JOIN AT ANNUAL SESSION

Former Governor, Army Chief and Gen. Sadler also Send Acceptances to Association That Seeks to Build Washington Monument.

At the annual meeting of the Washington Camp Ground Association in the auditorium of the Middlebrook Country Club, last night, letters accepting honorary membership in the association were read from President Taft, Admiral George Dewey, General Leonard Wood, former Governor Fort, Adjt. Gen. Sadler, and E. Hegeman Hall, secretary of the National Society for the Preservation of Historic Cities.

The orator of the evening was Congressman Benjamin Humphreys, of Mississippi, who, after being introduced by State Senator Smalley, delivered a very interesting address on "How Washington Would View Present Conditions."

He was followed by George M. LaMonte, the historian of the association, who made a pleasing address on some of the historic spots about Bound Brook.

It was reported at the meeting that a bill was being prepared for introduction in Congress appropriating funds for the erection of a suitable monument upon the camp grounds. Last year the State appropriated the sum of $10,000 contingent upon Congress making an appropriation for the same purpose.

GRACE CHURCH LADIES' AID HOLDS SUPPER AND BAZAAR

The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church held a supper and bazar in the church last night that was markedly successful. The bazar was in charge of President Raymond Miller and his cabinet, of the Epworth League. The committee in charge of the supper comprised Mrs. C. H. Lippencott, Mrs. Maltby, Mrs. Darby, Mrs. Chris Stahl, Mrs. Houston and Miss Barnes.

The following women were in charge of the tables: Mrs. Charles Stahl, Mrs. George Bird, Mrs. Charles Force and Mrs. Heath. They were asssited by the following young women as waitresses: Edith Dalley, Beatrice Pope, Elva Force, Gertrude John, Edith and Elva Lippincott and Catherine Penney. The fancy table was under the supervision of Mrs. Andrew Lutkins and Mrs. J. W. A. Bauersachs. Mrs. George Nelson was in charge of the candy table and Mrs. C. H. Lippincott at the ice cream and cake table.

SHEET AND PILLOW CASE PARTY FOR HER GUEST.

Miss Mary Leveridge gave a sheet and pillow case party last night, at her parents' home, on Sherman avenue, in honor of her guest, Miss Helen Johnston, of Elizabeth. The guests, twenty-six in number, were attired in sheets and pillow cases during the forepart of the evening.

The supper favors were minature baskets, containing candy cherries. Miss Leveridge was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Charles W. Leveridge, Mrs. Walter J. Leveridge, Miss Ruth Ayres, of Brooklyn, Mrs. Nellie Harris, of Shiloh, and Miss Johnston.

President John Grier Hibben, of Princeton, one of the speakers at the banquet that launched the campaign, congratulated Plainfield on the success of the campaign in a letter received yesterday by Dr. W. H. Murray.

VETERANS JOIN COMRADE IN CELEBRATING BIRTHDAY

I. L. McVoy, of East Front street, celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday anniversary yesterday. Last night he entertained a large company of friends at his home. Among the guests were his fellow members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., who remembered him with gifts. Mr. McVoy is past commander of Winfield Scott Post. During the evening there was an informal program of music by Dr. J. F. Berg's orchestra.

One of the surprises of the evening was the receipt of a number of postcards from friends in the Soldiers' Home at Santa Monica, Cal. Mrs. Arthur McVoy and Mrs. George McVoy assisted Mr. and Mrs. I. L. McVoy in receiving the guests.

PAID HALF-DOLLAR LOAN AFTER TWENTY-TWO YEARS

Joseph Brown, of West Third street, one of the best known employes of the Potter Press Works, received a letter yesterday, which bears silent testimony to the fact that there are still some borrowers on earth who have a conscience and really mean to live up to their word when promising to return a small "touch." The envelope contained a coin card in which nestled a bright, shining, new half-doller. Mr. Brown was puzzled until he read a note accompanying it, which read as follows:

"Dear Mr. Brown—Herewith find enclosed fifty cents, which I borrowed from your wife, not your present one, and have been unable to return until now."

The note was signed, "An Old Friend." As Mr. Brown's first wife died twenty-two years ago, the borrower remembered the loan at least that long and how much more can only be conjectured.

Loses Appeal Case.

The appeal of Elston M. French from the judgment of a jury in the District Court for $440 last December, in favor of George S. Clay, executor of the estate of Harriet S. Guion, has been dismissed in the Supreme Court on motion of Charles M. Dolliver and R. N. Crane.

TAX BOARD'S SEC'Y SAFE?

Civil Service Law May Block Democrats' Plan to Get Rid of Republican.

GARDNER COLBY'S STATEMENT

Secretary of C. S. Commission Says Secretary Eldridge Can't Be 'Fired' For Political Reasons—Why Brodhead's Appointment Is Delayed.

Are the plans of the Democrats to name the secretary of the Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes to succeed Sidney W. Eldridge, the present Republican incumbent, going to materialize? This is the question which has arisen now, and the Daily Press has brought it to light by an investigation of an Ocean county case similar to the local one. As was told in last night's issue of this paper, it is reported on good authority that Governor Wilson has decided to name former Assemblyman Calvin E. Brodhead, of this city, as a member of the tax board to succeed Frederick H. Andrews, the present Republican members, who is also from Plainfield. When the appointment is made, the story which has been going the rounds has it that it will be all arranged to replace the present secretary with a Democrat, and that the appointment is being held up until that Democrat is decided upon.

In the Ocean county case already mentioned, it was determined about two years ago after several hearings by the State Civil Service Commission, that a secretary cannot be removed from the position under the county tax board for political or religious reasons. To make sure that this decision was still standing the Daily Press had its Trenton staff correspondent ask Gardner Colby, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, this morning about Mr. Eldridge's status in case of a change in the board, so that the majority on that body is Democratic. Mr. Colby said positively that secretaries of tax boards are under civil service, in the exempt class, and cannot be removed for political or religious reasons. "Written notice of removal," he added, "with statement of reasons and giving an opportunity for reply is not needed, so removal is possible on any valid reason, provided the motive is not a political or religious one."

This leaves the Democrats in a position where they will have to hunt around for reasons for turning Mr. Eldridge out of office, and it has been said that he has done his work so well that it will be difficult for them to find any other reason than that a Democrat wants the place. Because of the decision mentioned, the present secretary of the Ocean county board is a Republican, although two members of that board are Democrats.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO FUND ARE STILL FLOWING IN

The Muhlenberg Hospital campaign headquarters are now located on the first floor of the Marsh building at Park avenue and West Second street. Since the close of the campaign on Wednesday night contributions have continued to come in.

Even though the campaign is over there yet remains a great deal of work and a secretary has been put in charge of headquarters to look after the books and attend to the collections. Wilbur A. Bowen, who directed the campaign here, left yesterday afternoon.

HEEDLESS MAN KILLED BY TRAIN AT RAHWAY.

Rahway, Feb. 23.—An unidentified man was killed by a fast Pennsylvania express running west at the Hazelwood avenue grade crossing Wednesday night.

The man got under the gates, notheeding the protests of the gateman, and was caught by the flier as he stepped on the tracks.

The body was taken to High's morgue. The stranger wore a dark brown suit and tan shoes. He was about five feet six inches tall, and from thirty to thirty-five years of age. Nothing was found affording any clue to his identity.

Gave a Colonial Tea.

The young people of the First M. E. church gave a successful colonial tea in Vincent chapel, last night. The affair was largely attended. Miss Ethel Price was chairman of the general committee. All the young people were dressed in colonial costume.

THE FINAL CLOSING SALE

Of the Paris Stock of Suits, Dresses, Skirts, Coats and Waists

at one-half and more than the former low prices is now a history. The response to the Monster Removal Sale was so great that it fully met our expectations and to show our appreciations we are going to give all an opportunity of getting such great values. For no matter how low the prices are now, we made still greater sacrifices. The reason why it pays to buy now at this Final Sale is:

1st. Because the styles are the popular ones.

2nd. Because it is in a time when you need a change of clothing.

3rd. Because of the reductions of one-half and more.

It is to your gain that The Paris is moving to larger and better quarters soon.

'Plains & Fanwood.

The most disastrous wind storm in years swept the town and borough Wednesday night, leaving in its wake broken trees and limbs, the roadways and lawns being strewn with the debris. The tower on the Fanwood fire house was blown down, taking with it the fire bell; loss about $500. A garage on Scott Terry's property on Second street was picked clear off the ground and turned over into the next house. A new house being erected on Wiley avenue by Ammon Bros. was completely wrecked. The building had just been covered with sheeting. Wednesday this presented resistance to the wind which had a clear swing in that section. The result was the building was blown from its foundations. A number of handsome shade trees about "The Homestead," in the borough, were blown down or ruined.

A new house in course of erection at Graceland was blown down, the electric light circuit was put out of business and a live wire was found in the roadway on Park avenue. A man guarded the dangerous spot until the Public Service Co. could get the repair wagon. The total amount of damage in town and the borough will amount to several thousand dollars.

The Ladies' Circle of the Baptist church held a successful Washington market supper last night in the church parlors. The bracing weather wetted the appetites of the friends of the church and the tables were filled when supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pickering are entertaining out of town friends.

Westfield.

One serious mishap in the holiday wind storm was the killing of a horse valued at $300, owned by A. E. Decker, a liveryman, by a falling electric wire on Clark street. The vehicle, to which the horse was attached, was driven by John Somers, and was on its way to the residence of Frank H. Taylor, to convey several guests at a school fraternity dance. The accident occured shortly after midnight. Somers saw the wire drop and dodged it in time to Chairman R. F. Hohenstein, of the fire department, Wednesday turned "Dick," the first and oldest horse of the fire department, over to Charles Sorter, superintendent of Fairview Cemetery, who promised to give the animal a home as long as he lives. The horse had been in the department for more than ten years. Prior to that time it was in the Long Branch department for several years. The animal is about twenty years old.

The weight of ice in Wednesday's storm broke several of the electric light wires and crippled the street light service until late in the evening.

Westfield Golf Club will hold its annual masquerade at the clubhouse February 29.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

Old-Fashioned Macy's

A guide is given below to lead people who are looking for worthy low-priced goods through the Home of Values.

What is Old-Fashioned Macy's?

Oh! then it is a Bargain Store?

Why is it better than a Bargain Store?

Where do the goods come from?

Where do the new goods, the extraordinary values about which everybody is talking, come from?

What is the general character of the stocks on the Sixth Floor?

What are the objects of establishing Old-Fashioned Macy's?

It is a complete department store, where low-priced worthy goods of many kinds are sold on one floor.

No, it is not a "Bargain Store." Qualities that do not last and that will not wear, are excluded as rigorously as on the other floors of Macy's.

Because it offers goods that come up to Macy's standard, at lower prices than the Bargain Store asks for trash. Not "Bargain Goods," but Macy's Standard Goods at typical Macy prices.

From almost every department of the store—the worthy low-priced goods, in full assortments.

In addition to the staple goods from our regular stocks which have been assembled on the Sixth Floor, we have made immense purchases from leading Mills and Factories. These goods are offered at what we are told are prices unprecedented in the history of New York retailing.

The goods are mostly useful, and are all reliable. You can buy any article on the floor with confidence in its quality. We have gathered mostly the kind of goods of which the best costs but little. No fussy, ornate pieces—only solid, useful articles.

First, to offer to our customers, especially our old customers, a store where they can buy the lowest-priced, reliable qualities of all sorts of merchandise, undistracted by finer goods—a floor where every article would be a typical Macy value.

Second, to give more room to our constantly growing stocks of fine imported goods on the other floors.

Old-Fashioned Macy's makes its especial appeal to all, rich or poor, who want to buy goods of the less luxurious and more useful and substantial type—and who hitherto were under necessity to go to "cheap," unreliable stores.

Old-Fashioned Macy's enters into competition with no store now existing in New York. It fills a new niche in retailing. It offers goods of known quality only, in complete assortments, at lower prices than are generally charged for odd lots of bargain sale goods.

HUSTLE FOR VOTES

which you are entered, but canvass everywhere in the city and suburbs; a batch of votes may be had for the asking, sometimes, in a remote part of the State.

One of the chief points a contestant should keep in mind is to do "missionary" work early. If you have some friends who are halfway inclined to subscribe, see them at once. If they don't subscribe immediately on request, secure their promise before someone else asks for it. In this way, reserve strength is secured.

Speaking of late entries to the contest, it is an established fact that many successful candidates have been numbered in their ranks. The reason is apparent to all. They are absolutely fresh and bring new enthusiasm to the race.

Contestants are reminded that they have the best argument of all in asking friends to help them by the simple statement that they are getting value received for any aid given. No one has to apologize for the Daily Press. It is the city's best paper, the one that originates and does not imitate.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

A number of important engagements for Liebler & Co.'s centenary revival of "Oliver Twist," which opens at the New Amsterdam theatre on Monday night, as announced: Suzanne Sheldon (Mrs. Henry Ainley), now playing with Gertrude Elliott in "White Magic," will play Mrs. Maylie; Olive Wyndham, late leading ingenue with the New Theatre Company, will be Rose, and Courtenay Foote, last season George Arliss' leading man, Harry Maylie. In addition, Fuller Mellish has been engaged for the part of Grimwig, Eric Blind for Monks; Charles Harbury for Mr. Brownlow; Frank Lyons for Bumble and Alice Belmore for Mrs. Bumble. These engagements, with those of Nat C. Goodwin, for Fagin; Constance Collier for Nancy; Lyn Harding for Bill Sikes, and Marie Doro for Oliver, as previously announced, will make the cast exceptionally notable. Scenically, the production will be on a par with the acting, this portion of the work having been assigned to Gates and Morange, who designed and painted the settings of "The Garden of Allah." Rehearsals for "Oliver Twist" commence this morning on the roof of the Century Theatre, though no theatre has yet been determined upon as the scene of the New York engagement of the revival.

At the Astor Theatre next Thursday evening Wagenhals and Kemper will give the first metropolitan production of the new American play of character and incident, "The Greyhound;" the authors of which are Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner. This new play in many respects is a genuine novelty; five of the scenes occur on a great transatlantic steamship—an "ocean greyhound," and the leading character is a kid-glove confidence man, who is known as "The Greyhound" and who has been drawn from life. In fact the original of the character is now alive and at present out of jail; although his photograph is in every rogues gallery in America and Europe. It takes away much of the surprise and sentiment to tell the story of a play in detail, so it may be enough to say that it will be found to hold many of the thrills and surprise which have characterized other plays by the same authors and even more of comedy situations. The action is very quick throughout, as it must culminate within the brief time of the voyage of a modern ocean racer. There are fifty people in the company, and the cast has been selected with more than usual care. Among the players are Henry Kolker, Elita Proctor Otis, Robert McWade, Jr., Jennie Eustace, Douglas J. Wood, Gladys Murray, Jay Wilson, Louise Woods, Carl Harbaugh, Crosby Little, Elmer Grundin, Bernice Golden, William S. Lyons, David Burton, Carl Eckstrom, Guy Bragon and Cecil Butler.

ROOSEVELT'S OHIO ADDRESS.

That Colonel Roosevelt prepared with great care his address before the Ohio State Constitutional Convention is evident. That he meant it to be a declaration of his political belief on present day public questions is also apparent. One reading of that great speech is not enough to grasp it in its entirety. It will be commended or criticised much as one reads it either thoughtfully or only casually. That it is more or less radical all must agree. And yet, it will have to be conceded that it but voices the trend of the advanced political thought of our day. In both the political parties will be found men who have given their best thought to modern political conditions who will agree with it in all its details, and some who will feel that it does not go as far as they do. Most thoughtful men are coming to the firm conviction that this country, to continue to be prosperous, must give more thought to the human side of affairs as contradistinguished from those of property and the material.

Our country has been so prosperous and great fortunes have accumulated so rapidly in the past few years, that, to many, the ideal in government has been lost in the strife for wealth. Those days are past. The human side is now demanding attention, and the betterment of humanity —of the man in affairs—must hereafter take the place of money. We must recognize that the great utilities of the country are not the only thing for which we should legislate. What will better human conditions, what will elevate the standard of manhood, what will improve and enoble the home and the citizen—in a word what will create an even chance in the race of life, is to be the future great question for legislators.

Mr. Roosevelt puts this issue clearly. His address is democratic to the core. It breaths in every line the best ideals of a Republican—where all the people rule and in which every man must be given an equal opportunity. Further monopolistic tendencies, future stifling of competition in business, further hinderance of individual uplift and prosperity must cease. These are the key-notes of his great "Charter of Democracy." Whether we agree or disagree with all the methods suggested to meet these ends is of little concern. He has framed the issues. The battle will be around them and the result cannot be otherwise than greater good to all the people.

It is expected that when the State Senate takes up the Gill bill for consideration next week there will be a red-hot debate such as that body has not provided in many a day. The measure, which by the by, was passed by the House last week after some lively arguments, is for the repeal of that section of the new school law providing for minimum examinations. By these examinations term work is excluded as a basis for promotion and some of the friends of the school law enacted last year are up in arms because of this attack. Many, many school workers about the State, on the other hand, are heartily in favor of Assemblyman Gill's bill, which would erase some thirteen lines from the entire act. None of the senators has committed himself and therefore the interest in the discussion will be all the more intense.

Resolutions calling upon the Federal and the States' governments as well as on the Dominion of Canada to institute systematic crusades against the chestnut blight were adopted by the inter-state conference at Harrisburg, which had been assembled at the call of Gov. Tener to consider ways and means to wipe out the blight. The importance of prompt and effectual work can be seen when it is considered that timber lands valued at more than $400,000,000 are threatened by the scourge. Be it said to the credit of the Keystone state that it has blazed the way, the commission appointed by the Governor having already accomplished splendid results. Governor Wilson should take a tip from the Pennsylvania executive.

The House committee on the revision of laws is to be commended for making an adverse report on the Hennessy bill to abolish the death penalty. Its action decided the fate of the measure for when a move was made to have the bill sent to second reading the attempt met with defeat.

Evidently Henry Watterson is striving to get in a class with his fellow editor, James Smith, Jr., who bores the public by his persistently foolish attacks on Governor Wilson.

Governor Harmon refuses to make a speech at the Democratic National convention. What a polite slap at W. J. B.!

DUTCH ARMS SUPPER

sonal ambition; a statesman without selfishness and a patriot from love of liberty. At the end of the Revolution he laid aside his sword and surrendered his commission to the Continental Congress and sought the pursuits of peace; when he might, by the mere say so, have ascended a throne and become a king. When he did this he made it possible for this nation to become a Republic and forever impossible that it should have a king. Fifteen years after that Napoleon, when somewhat similar conditions did just the opposite.

"In the walks of peace, as a plain citizen, Washington at once began to mould public sentiment to secure the creation of our present Constitution. He presided over the convention which adopted it. His was the potential force which held the convention together and harmonized all differences until it was finally adopted. Gladstone, the greatest statesman since its adoption, declared this Constitution to be the greatest instrument of civil government ever struck off at one time 'by the brain and purpose of man.' Under it our Republic has prospered for a century and a quarter as none ever did before and it is stronger in the affections of the people today than at any time in our history. It is recognized every where as a model of civil liberty in government. Its great strength and vitalizing force is in the fact that its opening sentence makes it a people's document; for it declares, 'We, the people of the United States, * * * * do ordain and establish this Constitution of the United States of America.'

"It could not be made now. Conditions in the life of the Republic are so different in our day from those existing when the fathers met that no convention could be gathered together which would have the wisdom and singleness of purpose of that presided over by Washington in 1789. The great problem in our day is to preserve it in its purity. All the nations of the earth now struggling for liberty are studying Washington's character and action and taking our Constitution as a model for the formation of their chart of government.

"This republic is the admiration of all peoples who seek liberty or greater freedom. We are the example for the world. That we shall maintain this Republic as the brightest jewel in the crown of nations is not only important for ourselves, but for all the rest of mankind. Republican government is the one ideal of the universal brotherhood of men. All nations are looking to it as the eventual culmination of their governmental policy. That which Washington and his compatriots established here in this new country, all other people now see as the acme of political liberty, the natural right of every man. In a year Portugal has secured it. China is about to attain it and Egypt is longing to establish it. Let us, the descendants of the fathers, keep it with a sacred devotion, that it may continue the admiration of all."

In introducing Mr. Morgan, Mayor Clark told a number of amusing stories, and from then until the close, the various addresses were interspersed with many amusing remarks. Mr. Morgan, after telling a number of new stories, took occasion to congratulate those present upon having been born in America, "God's country," and criticised those few natives whom he termed "snobs," who claimed they were sorry they had not been born in England, and said that a large majority of the substantial citizens of this country were also sorry these people had not been born elsewhere. He said that the question of the present day was that of religion and social life, and that there was a great need for what he termed "Industrial Democracy," seeing in the latter the greatest field for operation by Christian people. He made the statement that there were more unchurched people in Essex and Hudson counties than in any other part of the United States in proportion to the population. Few people realize how much America is the "melting pot" of other nations, and that right in the city of New York alone there are more Jews than in Jerusalem, more Germans than in almost any city in Germany and more Italians than in any except three cities in their home country. He urged that because of this it was highly important for the Christian church and Christian men and women to get busy and give the gospel to those nearest to us. His remarks were concluded by an appropriate poem, "Let me live by the side of the road."

David E. Titsworth was the next speaker. He opened his remarks with a number of humorous stories, and then took as his text "Smiles." By well chosen illustrations he emphasized how much easier can be made the path of our fellow men in the world by the liberal use of "smiles," his remarks throughout being devoted to the one thought of cheerfulness. Mr. Swackhamer devoted much of his time to telling of the Dutch Arms, saying that the main object of the members was to remain true to their callings, helping others along and making the most of their opportunities. Like the other speakers he added much to the pleasure of the evening by his humorous stories.

Rev. Mr. Broek was the last speaker and he also dwelt on the objects of the Dutch Arms, taking the motto, "The Other Fellow," as his topic. The evening closed with the singing of America by the entire gathering.

Sewage Disposal.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Mr. Feickert strikes the keynote in his article on the tidewater sewerage system which appeared in a recent issue of your paper.

That intelligent American municipalities should neglect the opportunity to get together and secure for themselves a clean up-to-date sewerage system to tidewater, is beyond my comprehension. The continuance and the proposed extension of the present system of sewerage disposal, namely, the sewer bed filtration system, is not worthy of the people who make up the municipalities hereabout or for that matter, any other place.

The first cost of tidewater sewers may indeed be much greater than the extension of the present system, but my experience with automobiles teaches me that the first cost is not the end of it. The cost of maintenance has to be considered and no one can deny that the maintenance of a tidewater sewerage system will be far less than the present system. In addition to this, the tidewater system will do away with the filthy and unnecessary sewer adjuncts lying so close to Plainfield and the other municipalities, diverting to a more or less degree the development of the property, taking up land that ought to be occupied by live human beings, producers. The land lying around this section of the State is too valuable to be taken up by human refuse and is too valuable even to be occupied by dead ones.

I sincerely hope that some effort will be made by the civic organizations of the various municipalities to ge together on this important question and get busy, the outcome of which should result in a tidewater sewerage system and the promotion of the development of land throughout this beautiful section.

As a mater of fact, the State ought to run trunk sewers through these various municipalities and the municipalities should pay to connect with the same.

WILLIAM JEFFERY.

Hospital Honor Role Protest.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

It has been announced that the managers of the hospital fund campaign propose to publish what they call an "honor" list of the names of those who have aided in making the success of their undertaking so far surpassing their expectations. Will such a course serve any useful purpose? Will it not be humiliating to those who for good reasons have not been able to contribute to the good cause?

Those who have given as their means allowed will not have their satisfaction at sharing in the work increased by seeing their names in print. Why advertise, by omission, those who have not given? In the hour of triumph rather let a large spirit of generosity and magnanimity prevail. Everyone, whether he has given or not, must be glad that Muhlenberg will be able to render so much better service in the future, and everyone is proud of the institution. Why not let it rest at that?

EDWARD C. PEARSON.

Feb. 21, 1912.

Editors The Plainfield Daily Press:—On the northwest corner of Liberty and West Third streets is the Mount Olive Baptist church; on the southwest corner of those streets is a store which has been fitted up and is sued for worship by a Jewish congregation on Saturday and for a school for children on other days. On the other corner is Clark's saloon, about thirty feet, instead of 200 feet from the two places of worship and a school. What are the councilmen going to do about it? Would they grant a license to that saloon if their children attended that school? Would they if their church was only thirty feet from a drinking place? But before they cast their vote to continue that insult to an oherwise respectable neigborhood it will be well for them to remember the words of the Saviour, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethern, ye have done it unto me.

MRS. DEFOREST.

MANY FLORAL TRIBUTES AT L. N. LOVELL'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Leander Newton Lovell was held at his late home, 112 Crescent avenue, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, assisted by Rev. Joseph Orr McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel. The service of the Presbyterian church was read.

During the service the hymns, "Hark, Hark My Soul," "Crossing the Bar," and "Still, Still With Thee" were sung by a quartet.

There were many beautiful floral tributes sent by relatives and friends and by societies in which Mr. Lovell was an honored member. The burial will be made in Fall River, Mass., Mr. Lovell's native city.

MAY RECTIFY MISTAKES IN CITIZENSHIP PAPERS.

Elizabeth, Feb. 23.—Under instructions from the naturalization bureau of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Judge Edward S. Atwater, of the Court of Common Pleas, has signed an order providing that hereafter errors made in declaration of intention to become citizens can be corrected as soon as discovered.

Under the old law such errors could not be corrected until two years after the application had been filed, when the applicants made their appeals for citizenship. Then they would have to wait two more years after the mistakes had been corrected.

"TOMMY" WILSON SENDS MESSAGE TO NEW JUSTICE.

Morristown, Feb. 23.—From Atlantic City, where he first learned he had been named by President Taft to succeed the late Justice Harlan as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Chancellor Mahlon Pitney of New Jersey arrived at his home here to find the desk piled several feet high with letters and telegrams of congratulation. Among them was one from Governor Wilson of New Jersey, which read:

"My warmest congratulations. A better choice could not have been made."

"That's kind of Tommy," said the Chancellor with a smile. "He was my classmate, you know, '79 Princeton, and that was the nickname he bore with us."

Aged Missionary Dead.

Whitehouse, Feb. 23.—Word was received here Wednesday of the death of Rev. Dr. Henry Stout, seventy-four years old, which occurred at the home of his son, J. Provost Stout, at Lakehurst. He had just returned from Japan, where he was a missionary for about forty years, when he was stricken by heart disease. Formerly he was the supply pastor of the Presbyterian church at Flemington. He had spoken on missionary work in nearly all the Reformed churches in this and Somerset counties. His wife died in Japan. He has a daughter, who is located at Kobe, in that country.

LEBANON TOWNSHIP FINANCES.

Califon, Feb. 23.—The annual financial statement of Lebanon Township has been printed in pamphlet form and is being circulated among the tax payers. The report of George Reed, collector, shows: Amount of duplicate, $13,121.62; dog tax, $135.50; franchise tax, $47.89; license fees, $248.75; State school tax, $2,328.94; county tax, $3,639.83; special school tax, $2,299.32; road account, $2,414.01; For the past year there are 133 delinquent tax payers, amounting to $723.55. For the year 1910 there are twenty delinquents, amounting to $40.35. Peter C. Castner, treasurer, reports assests amounting to $7,741.94; township expenses, $1,099.31; special road work, $1,686.51; crusher account, $1,000; snow account, $1,031.02; poor account, $993.18; Board of Health, $22.47; township farm account, $79.53. The report shows a balance in the treasury of $1,629.92.

NO GUN FROM MAINE IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

New Brunswick, Feb. 23.—Mayor Morrison is in receipt of a letter from the Navy authorities at Washington, in aswer to this city's request for a gun from the Battleship "Maine," stating that there are no guns at the disposition of the committee in charge of distributing relics and hence the local request can not be complied with. The information is added that application for guns were exceedingly numerous.

As it is known that both of the vessel's masts, from which flag poles might be constructed, have already been disposed of, the field from which a choice of articles can be made, is necessarily limited. The Mayor is requested to file an application setting forth just what the city most desires in the distribution of relics, at once.

FATHER BOARDS TRAIN, FORGETTING HIS BOY

Elizabeth, Feb. 23.—John Ranco, of New York city, came to this city with his little son Wednesday night to visit friends. He went to the Pennsylvania Railroad station with the boy about midnight to take a train for home.

When the train pulled into the station Ranco boarded it, but forgot to take his son with him. The lad was found by Patrolman Conboy and taken to police headquarters. His father came here yesterday and took him home.

HEARING ON BILL TO STOP MARRIAGES BY SQUIRES.

Trenton, Feb. 23.—The Martin bill, Assembly 36, prohibiting justices of the peace from performing the marriage ceremony, will be given a public hearing before the Senate Committee on Miscellaneous Business next Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Many justices of the peace are fighting the measure, but it has been endorsed by religious civic bodies all over the State, including the Cathedral Alumni Association, of this city. The bill has passed the Assembly.

ELIZABETH SEEKS RELIC OF BATTLESHIP MAINE.

Elizabeth, Feb. 23.—Acting for the First Street Business Men's Association, Mayor Stein has made application to the United States Navy Department for a gun or other suitable part from the battleship Maine to be used as a memorial to Charles F. Faddie, an Elizabeth boy, who lost his life when the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor.

It is planned to establish the memorial in Jackson Park, which is in the downtown section of the city, where the dead sailor lived.

ROUND THE WORLD IN AN AUTO TO PREACH.

Richard Tjader Will Go on Unique Mission Covering Fourteen Months.

Richard Tjader of New York, big game hunter, who has made two expeditions into the wilds of Africa, is to make a tour of the world which is to last fourteen months.

Mr. Tjader is not going abroad this time to hunt, but to preach. He was educated for the ministry, and until eight years ago he followed that calling.

Tjader is a brother-in-law of Oakleigh Thorne, president of the Trust Company of America. He is well known in society. His marriage to Miss Margaret Thorne took place in 1899. Mr. and Mrs. Tjader made a honeymoon trip around the world and spent several months in the remote mountain districts of India. On their return they organized a missionary movement and raised funds for missionary workers. In 1907 he went into Africa and came back with 500 animal skins for the Museum of Natural History in New York and a live rhinoceros for the Bronx zoo. In 1909 he made a second trip and there met Colonel Roosevelt, with whom he since has been on terms of intimacy.

Mr. Tjader, who is a Swede, came to this country about twenty years ago and joined Dwight Moody in his evangelical tours. While a preacher he met Mr. Thorne, who took a deep interest in the religious work Mr. Tjader was doing. It was in this way that he met Miss Thorne.

Mr. Tjador, who is wealthy, is over six feet in height and weighs 225 pounds. He speaks nine languages. With a large touring car and an expert chauffeur he will visit the principal cities of Europe and Asia, stopping in each long enough to preach to the fallen and the indigent, with the aim of giving encouragement and making converts to Christianity. He will visit missionary centers in some of the out of the way places and study their needs with a view to rendering assistance.

FIND BLACK VIRGIN JEWELS.

Monk In St. Paul Monastery Suspected of Theft and Murder.

Precious stones to the value of over $50,000, which were stolen two years ago from the statue of the Virgin, known as the miraculous Black Virgin, in the famous monastery of St. Paul, in Czenstochowa, Russian Poland, were recently discovered in the store of a jeweler named Adler in the city of Lublin, Poland.

Clews were also found which led to the recovery of another $25,000 worth of jewels taken from the same statue in a house near Lemberg, in Austrian Galicia.

Father Macoch, one of the monks of the monastery of St. Paul, has now been accused of murdering his brother because he threatened to inform the authorities that he was the author of the robbery.

YALE REGISTRATION DROPS.

Number of Students In University Fifty-three Fewer Than Last Year.

The general university catalogue of Yale shows a total registration of 3,229, a decrease from last year of 53. The college has an enrollment of 1,236, an increase of 10, and the Sheffield scientific school 1,118, an increase of 101. The arts school gains 11, the music school gains 5, the medical school loses 19, and the law school loses 112. The residential returns show that Connecticut leads, as usual, with 1,069 students, followed by New York with 576, Massachusetts with 212 and Pennsylvania with 200. In cities New Haven leads with 410 students, followed by New York with 242, Hartford with 88 and Chicago with 85.

There are 86 foreign students, Canada leading with 24, followed by Turkey with 17 and China with 13.

LESS CANDY AT ANNAPOLIS.

Only the Better Kind Will Be Permitted Naval Students.

Wishing to discourage large expenditures by the midshipmen for sweets and also to supervise the kind used by them, the superintendent of the academy has promulgated a pure food regulation which prohibits candies being brought into the Naval academy by midshipmen or sent to them. The midshipmen are allowed, however, to purchase a dollar's worth each month from the academy store. It is assured that these candies will do the midshipmen no harm, though the naval students complain of lack of variety in the stock.

No inspection is made of packages consigned to midshipmen, their word that they contain no candies being accepted.

FLAGS FOR NEW CITIZEN.

Colorado Judge Gives Object Lesson In Patriotism.

An American flag 8 by 12 feet has been hung back of Judge Wilkins' desk in the district court room at Canon City, Colo., as an object lesson in patriotism to foreigners applying for naturalization. Judge Wilkins believes that with the symbol of the national sovereignty before them petitioners for citizenship will have a better understanding of what the flag means.

Hereafter Judge Wilkins will present with each naturalization a small silk flag with an explanation of its protection to those who obey the laws and the constituted authorities of the land.

BERESFORD ON THE ADMIRALTY

"The Betrayal" Flays the British Naval Policy.

COMMERCE NOT PROTECTED.

Coal Reserves, Docks and Personnel Said to Be Deficient—Not Ready For German War—Evils Will Take Long Time to Cure.

The book of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford (retired) on the British naval policy since 1902, which has been looked forward to with eager interest, is out.

The title of the book, "The Betrayal," is the keynote of the text. It contains a trenchant attack on the British naval policy of the last ten years, the evils of which, the author says, have gone deep and will take a long time to cure.

Lord Charles denounces the present scheme for the education of officers as utterly impracticable. It does not give the navy skilled engineers, he says, while the system of cramming examinations he considers useless and injurious.

Where Naval Policy Failed.

Another grave failure of the naval policy, in the opinion of Lord Charles, is the policy in regard to cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers. Eighty of these vessels, he says, went to the scrap heap in 1904, and they have not been replaced. The result of this is that these classes in 1909 had fallen by forty-five and thirty, though similar classes in Germany rose at the same time by twenty and forty.

The refusal of the admiralty to construct docks for the biggest battleships is denounced by Lord Charles as a betrayal of public trust. Germany, he says, has built big docks concurrently with her battleships, but even now the vessels of Great Britain are being left to take chances in case of emergency.

The denuding of the great trade routes of protecting cruisers and the weakening of the defenses of the Mediterranean through parsimony come under the lash of the writer. The whip descends also on the admiralty's apparent idea that it was building Dreadnoughts that would paralyze foreign powers, while as a matter of fact, Lord Charles declares, it has gradually appeared that the American, Japanese and German battleships are actually superior to the Dreadnought in fighting power.

Germany Underestimated.

Lord Charles is particularly severe on the admiralty's admission in 1909 that it had underestimated Germany's and overestimated Great Britain's building capacity. He says that the admiralty was aware of this fact long before that time, but suppressed the knowledge.

Lord Charles searchingly criticises the famous admiralty memorandum dealing with a possible invasion by Germany and the provision against such an attack and alleges that there were grave deficiencies in the coal reserves, supply of stores and condition of docks as well as in the personnel.

He concludes by making the general deduction that while individual officers were never more efficient the fleet as a whole, considering its vastly increased responsibilities, has seldom been less adequate.

LAMPOON'S HALL OF FAME.

Harvard's Humorous Paper Selects a List of Twenty.

In selecting a list of the "twenty greatest persons the world has ever seen," the Lampoon, Harvard's humorous bimonthly, includes Theodore Roosevelt, Brigham Young and Alexander Dowie. The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson also has a niche in the hall of fame.

The Lampoon, while not decrying the score chosen by Andrew Carnegie, says it considers its list, which is a mixed one, a well balanced selection.

The twenty who have found favor are in the order given: Adam and Eve, the whale that swallowed Jonah, Alcibiades the Just, Edward the Confessor, Edward who didn't confess, Brigham Young, Theodore Roosevelt, Alexander Dowie, Professor Baker, John Bull, John Morse, Richeson, Christopher Columbus, Rhinehart, Lowandes, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Napoleon, Billings and Stover.

BETTER BABIES ITS AIM.

National Congress of Mothers Begins Child Welfare Campaign.

Believing that by improving the children the nation will be brought to a state of perfection, the National Congress of Mothers is just starting a country wide campaign of "child welfare," the slogan of which will be "better babies, better parents, better country."

It is the aim of this movement to give women a comprehensive understanding of how they may be able to give their children a heritage of better health. The mothers will be instructed in the care of infants, in ventilation, in the necessity of pure milk, in the need of all that may impress itself upon the tender mind of the child.

Mrs. David O. Mears, a vice president of the congress, is chairman of the committee, and the movement will start in February.

—"The proof of the pudding is in the eating," quoted the Wise Guy. "And sometimes in the vermiform appendix," added the Simple Mug.

CAPTAIN TOWNSEND DEAD.

Inventor of Many Weather Instruments Had Very Short Illness.

Cape May, N. J., Feb. 23.—Captain Theodore F. Townsend, who for many years was the observer of the United States weather bureau in Philadelphia and who for the past four years has been located at the Cape May bureau in partial retirement on account of impaired health, is dead at his home here after a very short illness.

He was the inventor of many instruments which are now used in the weather service and was an expert in the department, being at one time located at Washington. He entered the service in 1878 in the Cape May Point office. He was a native of Cape May and aged about seventy-four years. He is survived by a widow.

Captain Townsend was succeeded as local forecaster by George S. Bliss.

BIG HAVOC AT RESORT.

Gale In Atlantic City Does Fully $50,000 Damage.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 23.—One of the worst gales that has ever swept the island worked havoc in unprotected sections. Fully $50,000 damage was done to buildings alone. In the lower reaches of the island structures were torn from their foundations and smashed to kindling wood. Philadelphia cottages in Ventnor and Margate City suffered the greatest loss. Along the boardwalk bulk windows were smashed in, costly electric signs torn from their fastenings and hurled to the esplanade. Roofs were ripped off and tossed as far as fifty feet, and a thousand windows were smashed.

GETS DIVORCE TO MARRY YOUTH

Unhappy With Husband Rich Mrs. Upjohn Went to Reno to Establish Residence.

TWO FAMILIES DISRUPTED

Francis H. Connor, Twenty Years Old, Married Woman Who is Forty-three—Boy's Father and Mother Separated Because of It.

Metuchen, N. J., Feb. 23.—Mrs. John M. Connor, wife of a wealthy retired hat manufacturer, announces that her son, Francis Henry Connor, twenty years old, had married in San Francisco Mrs. Mary Morton Pickslay Upjohn, who last Monday obtained a decree of divorce at Reno, Nev. The bride is about fifteen years older than her youthful husband.

The marriage is a final chapter in a romance which began a year and a half ago, shortly after the separation between Mrs. Upjohn and her husband, Dudley A. Upjohn, had taken place by mutual consent. The Upjohns came to Metuchen about ten years ago and had always been prominent in local society. Both husband and wife were members of the vested choir of St. Luke's Episcopal church, to which young Connor also belonged. About the time of the separation of the Upjohns, eighteen months ago, Mrs. Upjohn inherited the sum of $250,000 upon the death of her father. She purchased a large estate immediately adjoining that owned by the family of young Connor, and in a short time the friendship of the pair started gossip.

On the evening of June 3, 1911, the father of young Connor, who objected to the visits between his son and Mrs. Upjohn, ordered the latter out of his house. As a result there was a bitter quarrel between father and son, which resulted in the arrest of the latter on the charge of having struck his father over the temple with a revolver. Young Connor was held in $2,000 bail for the grand jury on his father's complaint and on the following day caused the latter to be arrested on a counter charge and placed under bonds to keep the peace.

The episode led to a breach between the elder Connor and his wife, who approved of her son's friendship for Mrs. Upjohn. After the episode Mr. Connor left his home and has since lived at the home of the rector of St. Luke's church.

About six months ago Mrs. Upjohn went to Nevada to acquire a legal residence for the purpose of bringing divorce proceedings against her husband in that state. She obtained her decree last Monday. Six weeks ago young Connor left home, and his whereabouts were unknown until his mother received a telegram announcing his marriage. Mrs. Connor immediately wired congratulations. Efforts will be made by friends to heal the breach between Mrs. Connor and her husband.

BISHOP CRANSTON HAS HAD NOTABLE CAREER

The only previous occasion on which Bishop Cranston, who wil preside at Montclair at the coming conference, presided over the Newark Conference was eight years ago at the sesion held in St. Luke's Church, Newark, in 1904. His appointment to this conference was made at a meeting of the board of bishops of the Methodist Church in November. At the same time he asigned to preside over the Wyoming Conference to be held in Scranton, Pa., April 10.

The bishop was born in Athen, O., June 27 1840. He graduated from the Ohio University in 1861 and immediately answered the call for volunteers to enlist in the Federal Army at the outbreak of the Civil War and as a private in the Third Ohio Infantry saw active service. Illness forced his retirement after one and one-half years, during which time he had been raised by successive stages to the rank of captain.

Following his discharge from the army, business engaged his attention for a while. This he soon gave up, however, to enter the ministry. He was subsequently ordained and joined the Ohio Conference and in recognition of notable service in church work was sent to the mission fields in the mountains of Colorado. There he work assiduously in the interests of the institutions of the Methodist Church.

With exception of his pastorate at Trinity church, Cincinnati, which temporarily interrupted his mission serivce, he continued in that field until 1884, when he was elected to the post of publisher of the Western Book Concern. He was elected to the Episcopacy in 1896 and his present official residence is in Washington, D. C.

Folke E. Brandt Fights a Thirty Year Burglary Sentence

WHAT promises to become a "celebrated case" is that of Folke E. Brandt, a young Swede, who a few weeks ago had never been heard of by the public outside of New York city and had for the most part been forgotten there. He had been a servant in the house of Mortimer L. Schiff, a wealthy New York banker, and four years ago was sentenced to thirty years hard labor for burglary in the first degree, to which he pleaded guilty before Judge Rosalsky. The offence was committed in the house of his former employer, whom he is also said to have assaulted. Brandt, who was under age when he was arrested, alleges through his attorney that he was allowed by the presiding judge to plead guilty to a crime which, according to the evidence heard in the case, he did not commit. Strenuous efforts have recently been made to have his sentence commuted or to have a new trial granted, and as a preliminary he was released from Dannemora prison on a writ of habeas corpus and brought to New York to appear in the court proceedings instituted in his behalf. Judge Rosalsky has permitted him to withdraw his plea of "guilty" and to enter one of "not guilty." Our illustration shows Brandt (whose position is indicated by the arrow) on his way from the prison to the train.

TURKEY TROT AGITATING RUTGERS SOCIAL CIRCLES

New Brunswick, Feb. 23.—Those Rutgers students who did the "turkey trot," "bunny hug" and like dances at the Junior Prom last week are uneasy because of a notice which appeared on the Queens bulletin board to the effect that "the following men are prohibited from attending any future dances because of undesirable conduct at the Junior Promenade."

Then follows a list of those barred, which consists of one senior, one junior, two sophomores and two freshmen. Whether or no the report is authentic is not known, but it is known that a loud protest has been raised against the "turkey trot" dance by those actively identified with the social life of the college. Rumor has it that those that indulged will hear from "those higher up" before very long.

In conversation with a student who indulged in the dance he said he did not see anything wrong in the dance, and any cause for complaint from any party. He expressed sorrow at the talk going on about it and hoped it would soon pass away. Far from thinking the dance vulgar, this student said it was a pretty dance if not done to extreme, and that "honi y soit qui mal y pense" quite covered any criticism there would be of the dance.

In the meantime the students are waiting for developments.

DRAKE-APGAR.

Califon, Feb. 23.—Miss Alberta Apgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W Apgar, of this place, and Edward Drake, of Annandale, were married Tuesday at 5 o'clock at the Lower Valley Presbyterian parsonage by Rev. James B. Dare. They were accompanied by Miss Ruth Appar, a sister of the bride, and Albert Silvers, of Annandale, who acted as best man, respectively. Following the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding dinned was served. The groom is a butcher at Annandale, where he and his bride will reside.

Change Arbor Day Date.

Trenton, Feb. 23.—Arbor Day is changed from the first Friday of May to the second Friday in April by Assemblyman Holloway's bill which was passed by the House Wednesday. It was found that the old date was too late to plant the trees and have them grow successfully.

LICENSES FOR FUNERAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATIONS

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 23.—Funeral benefit associations that pay more than $150 as a funeral benefit after July 1 next, will be required to get a license from the State Department of Banking and Insurance under a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Mr. Mitchell. They must also report their financial condition.

Under a measure by Mr. Brensinger, public streets in second class cities are to be vacated only after an ordinance has been passed by the governing body and then approved by the voters at an election.

The salary of Common Pleas Judge in counties having more than 85,000 and less than 100,000 inhabitants, would be $4,500 a year under a bill by Mr. Birch.

ODD DISEASE KILLS COWS.

Quarryville, Feb. 23. — Joseph Wilson, a farmer near here, has lost several cows by a mysterious disease, and others are sick. Veterinary surgeons are puzzled. The feed he is using will be analyzed. Yesterday ten more of his cows were in, showing the same symptoms. Dr. Grey, veterinary surgeon, of Newton, gave his opinion that the cows had been poisoned by some weed in the hay. The hay was gathered on the low meadows.

EIGHTEEN COWS AND FIVE HORSES BURNED.

Flemington, Feb. 23.—Fire destroyed the large outbuildings on the farm of George A. Forman, of Buffalo, near Milford. The farm is occupied by Henry Kinney, who lost eighteen cows and five horses in the blaze. One horse broke from its stall and escaped.

A quantity of hay and grain and the farming machinery were destroyed.

You Can Still Contribute.

The Hospital Campaign Executive Committee announced today that any one desiring to still contribute to the Muhlenberg campaign fund should send his or her contribution to campaign headquarters, 201 Park avenue, second floor. It should be clearly understood by the public that no person is now authorized to further solicit on behalf of the Campaign.

KITCHELL IS NAMED AS CAPTAIN OF NEW COMPANY

Elizabeth, Feb. 23.—This State's newest military organization, Company F, N. G. N. J., of this city, has elected Captain H. B. Kitchell, of Plainfield, senior captain of the Second Regiment, to command it. The election of first and second lieutenants and the non-commissioned officers will be held within the next two weeks.

The social organization of the new company has been effected by the election of Edwin Budd as secretary. Other nominees were A. D. Halsey and W. Dean Smith. Captain Kitchell has appointed the following committees: Recruiting, Alexander Clark, (chairman), A. D. Halsey, H. C. Robbins, Frank Lowden and E. D. Durandy; constitution and by-laws, W. Dean Smith (chairman), Robert Weir, Joseph F. Green, John Leeds and Benjamin King.

The regular drill night of the company will be Tuesday.

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES AT MT. ST. MARY'S COLLEGE

Exercises commemorative of Washington and the stirring times of 1776-1783 were held by the academic department of the College of Mt. St. Mary yesterday. The program was as follows:

Song, "America," school; essay, "Our Immortal Washington," Katharine Fagan; march and song, "As We Go Marching By," school; dramatization, "Making the Flag," characters: "Mrs. Betsy Ross," Anita Maguire; "George Washington," George O'Neill; "Mr. Morris," Gervase Morrison; essay, "The Boyhood of Washington," Eleanor Ryno; song, "The Bonnie Boys In Blue," school; recitation, selected, Margaret Ribsam; essay, "Washington at Valley Forge," Wilfrid Byrne; recitation, "Kentucky Belle," Agnes O'Connor; essay, "Washington, First President," Frances O'Hara; vocal solo, selected, Emily McCloud; declamation, Frank O'Donnell; recitation, selected, Minnie Taylor; song, "The Star Spangled Banner," school.

MOVING PICTURES SHOW BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 23.—Despite the protests of some members that its provisions were too stringent, the bill by Assemblyman Griffin, of Hudson, to regulate moving picture houses was passed by the House Wednesday. The measure requires that plans for these theatres be submitted to the city authorities and holds the owner of the propery or the tenant responsible for proper safety devices on the machines and the construction of the building.

Majority Leader Whyte and Mr. Taylor and Mr. Brensinger upheld the measure, but Mr. Watson thought it was too severe to include under it places already built and Mr. Godfrey asked that action be deferred until he could learn how the bill would affect the places in Atlantic county.

Mr. Lowy's bill, placing the assistant State auditors under Civil Service was passed, as was Mr. Groves' amending the district court act by requiring the name of the plaintiff's attorney be filed in the docket of the Common Pleas Court.

The bill by Mr. McAllister, requiring the sheriffs and surrogates to devote their entire time to their offices was defeated.

Mr. Martin's resolution creating a Hudson river bridge commission was approved, as was Mr. Richards' bill appropriating $50,000 for the deepening of Absecon Inlet. Mr. Taylor's bill incorporating Fair Haven, Monmouth county, was passed and another measure to receive approval was that by Mr. Newman changing the name of Double creek, Ocean county, to Double river.

SEWER BOARD TO FIGHT FREEHOLDERS IF FORCED.

Summit, Feb. 23.—Agreeing to take proper action in the case of any valid claim against Contractor Pasquale Cestone, of Montclair, the committee of this city and Milburn township, which is laying a joint sewer in Morris Turnpike, probably will fight in the courts any effort of the Essex Freeholders to block the work.

The committee adopted a resolution to advise the Essex county counsel, following receipt of notice, that claims will be given due consideration, adding that it considers itself responsible for the contractor only so far as to withhold money for verified debts.

The resolution was based on the claim of George W. Eager, Jr., for services as Essex county inspector. City Engineer John Stiger, directing the work, says the weather alone, and not alleged threats of the Essex freeholders in support of Eager's claim, has caused delay in the undertaking.

CHANGES IN METHODIST CONFERENCE PROCEDURE

Departures From the Conventional Order of Business Will be Radical--Outline of the Session Programs.

Radical departures from the conventional program will mark the fifty-fifth annual session of the Newark Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which opens Wednesday, March 27, at the First Methodist church, Montclair. The program, as arranged by the committee appointed for that purpose at the last session of the conference, is revolutionary in character and will effect a distinct change in procedure, if not essentially in policy. Those local Methodists, who have learned of the changes are discussing them with much interest.

Bishop Earl Cranston, of Washington, will preside at the conference. So far as the conference paper is concerned the so-called Edinburgh idea will prevail. Instead of holding devotional services at the beginning of each day's program they will be made the order of the day at 10:30 o'clock, when a half hour will be given to spiritual meditation.

Another distinctive feature of this year's program will be the centralization of its activities. The usual custom of holding allied meetings coincident to the deliberations of the conference in different churches will not be followed. Instead, all the meetings identified with the conference, with one exception, will be held in the conference church.

Of more intimate concern to the various conference organizations will be the change of program arranged for the usual anniversary services. Heretofore it has been the custom to provide for anniversaries each year of thirteen different church organizations identified with the conference. With the exception of four such organizations, which will observe their anniversaries this year as in the past, these meetings will become a quadrennial event with the adoption of the prospective program.

Much of the force of these meetings, it is urged, has been dissipated in the past by reason of the conflict arising from a multiplicity of interest. The number of anniversaries, it is argued, has heretofore been so great that the demands upon the conference delegates have been so various as to forestall unity and concentrated effort, and the desired results it is asserted, can only be effected by a change.

Because of the exceptional importance of the work in these departments, however, the new rule will not apply to the Epworth League, the Temperance Society and the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies. With respect to the other societies and organizations a rotary system has been devised whereby a schedule for a guadrennium has been outlined.

According to this scheme the organizations that will observe their anniversaries this year, as provided in the new schedule, will include only the Sunday-school board and the Centenary Fund and Preachers' Aid Society. In addition to this, however special privileges will be given during the morning sessions of the conference to representatives of the Board of Foreign Missions and the Board of Home Mission and Church Extension. Such privileges will be in the nature of twenty-minute speeches to be accorded as an order of the day.

Prominent among the questions that will thus be open to discussion and in respect to which memorials directed to the general conference will be framed, are the restoration of the time-limit pastorate, the establishing of a diocesan episcopacy and the revision of the powers and authority at present vested in the district superintendents.

As an inegral part of the administrative machinery of the church the district superintendent is a heritage of olden time. Many of his functions are kept alive as a matter of custom only, the need of his services in many particulars having disappeared with the development of the church organization generally.

The itinerant preacher is said to be less a relic of old-time Methodism, as he is in some quarters regarded, than a potential factor in the evangelistic church. In the West, where new missions are continually being organized, the itinerant system is said to be especially adapted to the forces of efficiency and with the growth and expansion of the Methodist church in new fields it is urged that a return to the old system is desirable.

HOUSE WON'T ABOLISH THE DEATH PENALTY.

Trenton, Feb. 23.—That New Jersey is not yet ready to abolish the death penalty for murder was shown in the House Wednesday when the Revision of Laws Committee made an adverse report on Mr. Hennessy's bill for this purpose. When an effort was made to over-ride the committee's stand and have the bill go on second reading, the members defeated the proposition by a vote of 24 to 26.

The annual session of the Newark Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held for one week commencing Wednesday, March 27, in the Methodist church, Montclair, of which Rev. Herbert F. Randolph is the pastor. There will be a large representation of the First, Grace and Monroe Avenue churches. It is expected that there will be considerable business of importance to engage the attention of the delegates.

Communion will mark the opening of the first day's session and with the organization of the conference the delegates will find themselves in readiness to dispose of routine business. Adjournment of the morning session will be taken each day at 12:30 o'clock and lunch will be served in the church parlors.

At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the first day the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will hold its anniversary, and at 4 o'clock President G. Stanley Hall, of Clark University, will deliver a lecture to the conference delegates on "The Adolescent Boy; His Mental and Moral Nature and Needs." In the evening Dr. Hall will again address the delegates, taking for his subject "The Feelings and Emotions; Their Education." On Wednesday evening, as well as on every evening of the conference sesions the program will be opened by a fifteen-minute organ recital.

Routine affairs will likewise occupy the attention of the delegates at the Thursday morning session, while in the afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the Woman's Home Missionary Society will observe its anniversary. This will be followed at 4 o'clock by a meeting for juniors, when Dr. C. H. Woolston, of the East Baptist Church, Philadelphia, will deliver an address to children. At the close of this meeting Dr. Woolston will give an illustrated lecture to preachers and teachers on "The Art of Object Teaching." In the evening the anniversary of the Sunday School Board will be held and a feature of this event will be the adult Bible class. Rev. Dr. G. D. Downey, of Chicago, will speak.

The only meeting to be held in other than the conference church will be that of the Laymen's Association, which will meet Friday morning in the First Presbyterian Church to elect lay delegates to the general conference at Minneapolis. In the afternoon the laymen will meet in joinst session with the clergymen at the anniversary of the Preachers' Aid Society. Among the speakers on this occasion will be former Governors Edward C. Stokes and John Franklin Fort. In the evening the anniversary of the Epworth League will be observed, a feature of this occasion being an address by President Henry McMaster, of Mount Albion College. His subject will be "The Higher Uses of Education."

Aside from the usual business session in the morning the only meeting on Saturday will be in the interest of the brotherhood service in the evening, when a massmeeting for men and youths will be held. The speaker for this occasion has not as yet been announced.

The bishop's annual sermon will be the feature of the Sunday morning service at the conference church. This will be preceded by the administering of communion. In the afternoon the ordination of elders and deacons will take place and at the close of these rites Rev. Dr. Thomas Nicolson, of New York, secretary of the Board of Education, will deliver a lecture on "Christian Education." On Monday evening the anniversary of the Temperance Society will be observed and the work of the Anti-Saloon League reviewed. William H. Berry will be the speaker.

NEW BRUNSWICK WILL HAVE A PAID FIRE CHIEF.

New Brunswick, Feb. 23.—The ordinance providing for a paid fire chief has been passed by Common Council despite the fact that two or three of the volunteer fire companies adopted resolutions protesting against any change from the present system of one assistant and two assistant chiefs elected by the department.

Under the ordinance there shall be a paid chief, to receive $1,200 a year, and devote his entire time to the department, and an assistant, who gets $300 a year. Harry J. Francis, a former chief of the volunteer department, sent in his application for the position of chief and it was referred to the fire committee. He will probably be the city's first paid chief.

Aged Commuter Dead.

New Brunswick, Feb. 23.—John Van Nest died from pneumonia at his home in French street in his 89th year. He had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad for forty years and had commuted daily to the Jersey City office. He was the oldest commuter in the city. Two children survive, Alfred Van Nest and Mrs. George Whitenack.

NEW FREE RIDE LAW PASSED BY HOUSE

Officials Must Have General Indentification Cards Instead of Passes on Railroads.

MANY MINOR ACTS THROUGH

Legislators Get Down to Actual Work as Shown by Number of Bills Passed in Both Houses at Weeks Sessions.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 23.—State officials are permitted to ride on railroads by presenting a certificate signed by the Secretary of State, by the bill of Mr. Prout, which was passed by the House Wednesday. Senator Stizer's measure to control the distribution of the recently compiled State statutes was favorably received and another bill passed was that by Mr. Godfrey which repealed an act of 1910 governing the names to be put in a deed of lands sold under a public statute.

The bill by Mr. Groves permitting incorporations not for pecuniary profit to dispose of lands was passed, and Mr. Birch's bill allowing townships of more than 2,000 population to appoint a recorder was favorably received.

Mr. Ten Broeck's measure giving wages to Deputy Turner, formerly employed at the State Prison, for the time he was in the hospital because of injury inflicted upon him by a convict.

By a party vote, Mr. TenBroeck's bill, giving the Republican president of Perth Amboy's Common Council the right to act as mayor, was passed Wednesday by the House. The Democrats who have placed a Democrat at the head of the city as a vice-president asked that the bill be not acted upon as the question is now in court. The former mayor is now sheriff, having been elected before the expiration of his term.

A bill by Mr. Anderson making it illegal for insurance companies to grant rebates on premiums was defeated by a vote of 12 to 29.

Among the bills passed by the Senate Wednesday afternoon were: The Fort Lee measure permitting the regulation of the taking of moving pictures; regulating the filing of reports by insurance companies; prohibiting automobiles and auto trucks of excess weight from using bridges; authorizing the Governor to appoint a commission of three members to investigate the corporation laws of this and other States; requiring local boards of health to visit each school once a year.

The bill for the abandonment of the Morris Canal was reported in the Senate Wednesday afternoon by a substitute which includes many of the proposed amendments. It was reported without recommendation, was ordered printed and was made the special order for next Tuesday morning. Senator Pierce also reported the grade crossing bill, Senate 14, with amendments, and it was ordered printed.

GRAND LODGE OF PYTHIANS RATIFIES THE ELECTION

Trenton, Feb. 23.—The grand lodge of the Pythians, which is in session in this city, ratified the election of the following officers, which had been chosen by the subordinate lodges:

Grand chancellor, William D. Quick, of Somerville; grand vice chancellor, Samuel A. Dobbins, of Camden; grand prelate, George H. Hild, Morristown; grand keeper of records and seals, Elmer E. Margerum; grand master of exchequer, John Patrick, of Rutherford; grand master of arms, Charles Linden, of Hoboken; grand inner guard, Howard W. Jerrell, Bridgeton; grand outer guard, Charles Vogelius, Bloomfield.

Trenton Lodge, of this city, was awarded the banner offered the lodge securing the most members during the past twelve months. Second prize, the standard colors, went to New Jersey Lodge of Mt. Holly. The individual prize was given to Edward Y. Bright, who is a member of Trenton Lodge. Mr. Bright secured more members than any other Pythian of the State during the year.

BURGLARS VISIT TWO HOMES IN ROSELLE PARK.

Roselle Park, Feb. 23.—By forcing open rear windows with a jimmy, entrance was gained to the homes of William Shuster, grocer, and Henry Huhn, of Sheridan avenue, and small sums of money stolen at each place.

At the Shuster residence it is thought that about $40 was stolen, while at Huhn's about $2.50 was taken. It is thought that the robbers were heard by Mrs. Huhn about 2:45 o'clock, when she was aroused by a slight noise downstairs, but paid no further attention to the matter.

NOT LONG TO WAIT FOR T. R.'S ANSWER

On Monday Colonel Will Reply to Governors.

QUIET ON HIS "HOT" SPEECH

Ex-President Had a "Bully" Time In Columbus, Where He Declared He Preached Mighty Good Doctrine—To Open Headquarters In New York City Next Week.

New York, Feb. 23.—"Good doctrine," is the way Colonel Roosevelt expressed himself in speaking of his speech at Columbus. He added that he had a "bully" reception in Ohio and that he enjoyed it. To a question concerning the report that he said, "My hat is in the ring," he became quiet, and it was evident that he did not care to reply.

The colonel having announced himself a radical of the radicals and laid the doubts that had been expressed by some of the almost persuaded that he was "not a real progressive," interest centered in the question as to whether he would make a personal announcement that he was seeking the presidential nomination on the platform he had set forth, and if so, when. In this connection Colonel Roosevelt was asked by all his interviewers about a dispatch from Cleveland, where he made a short speech on the return trip from Columbus, saying that when pressed by W. F. Elrick, a local Republican leader, to give "a direct answer" to the candidacy question, the colonel had replied:

"My hat is in the ring. You will have my answer on Monday."

But that was one of the matters the colonel refused to discuss.

"I told you I have absolutely nothing to say," was his invariable reply, accompanied by a real Rooseveltian snap of the jaws.

It was learned on good authority, however, that the "hat in the ring" figure of speech had been accurately reported, and the colonel's unwillingness to assume its parentage seemed to give weight to the prediction that his answer to the demand of the so called governor's conference held recently at Chicago that the colonel declare himself in or out of the nomination hunt will not contain a definite announcement that Mr. Roosevelt is or is not a candidate.

The governors will receive their answer, it is said, on Monday. Politicians who have been in close touch with Colonel Roosevelt and some of whom have "without authority" stated the colonel's position for him have said that the answer will be the same one that they have made for Mr. Roosevelt, but which so far he has not made over his own signature—that is, that he "is not a candidate and will not be a candidate, but that if the people insist upon nominating him he will accept."

Unless all political signs fail Roosevelt headquarters will be opened in the Metropolitan building, a stone's throw from the Outlook contributing editor's office, early next week. It has not yet been announced who will have charge of the headquarters, but it is understood that the national committeeman William L. Ward will be one of the active workers.

A new organization called the Young American league and said to be backed by "some of the leading progressives of the city" is announced. In its birth notice it says that "political circles will buzz when the nature and names of its supporters are known."

KNOX TO VISIT COLOMBIA.

Recall of Senor Ospina Amounts to an Apology For His Note.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The recall of Senor Ospina as the Colombian minister to Washington, as announced in press disptaches from Bogota, occasioned no surprise at the state department. While no official statement was made it was made plain that this action was not suggested in any way by the American government, which has declined to dignify Ospina's recent note to Acting Secretary Wilson with any official action whatever.

The action of the Colombia government in repudiating its minister to Washington appears to indicate that Colombia will tender a special invitation through the American minister at Bogota for Secretary Knox to visit that country. Mr. Knox will accept.

WILSON IN KANSAS.

New Jersey Governor Rouses Jayhawker Democrats at Topeka.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 23.—Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey was given a rousing reception by the Kansas Democrats at their annual dinner here. It was the largest crowd that has attended a Democratic meeting in Kansas since 1906. The Democrats are confident of winning in Kansas this year, and Governor Wilson talked their kind of doctrine and set them wild.

Engineer Drops Dead at End of Run.

Jackson, Mich., Feb. 23.—Just as he had finished his run on a mail train from Michigan City to Jackson, Thomas C. Faulkner, an engineer on the Michigan Central for thirty-five years, dropped dead.

—Little joys refresh us constantly, like housebread, and never bring disgust; and great ones, like the sugar bread, briefly often bring great satiety.—Richter.

WILLIAM M'ADOO.

Who May Be Next Head of New York Police Department.

MAY LEAD "THE FINEST."

Chief Magistrate In New York Slated For Police Commissioner.

New York, Feb. 23.—A circumstantially worded report is gaining headway that Chief Magistrate William McAdoo had been invited by Mayor Gaynor to make another try at being police commissioner.

The report is believed to have originated in the fact that both the mayor and Mr. McAdoo are in Atlantic City.

As chief magistrate Mr. McAdoo receives $8,000 a year. His term has eight years to run. He likes the place, and he is one of the most devoted friends of Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo, who, it is said., will soon retire. The police commissioner has $7,500 a year and has only two years of office ahead of him.

TELLS OF ANGEL'S VISIT.

Girl In London Has Sight and Hearing Restored.

London, Feb. 23.—Much interest is manifested in the case of Dorothy Kerin of Herne Hill, a short distance from London, who claims she has been restored to health and regained her hearing and sight as the result of a visit of an angel on last Sunday. She has now been removed to the residence of Dr. Ash, a nerve specialist, in order to enable a study to be made of her case and to get her away from the crowds which have been visiting her home since Sunday after the people had learned of the angel's visit.

The girl claims that she saw a vision of a flame and heard a voice saying, "Thy sufferings are over," and that she was able to get up and walk.

Miss Kerin, who is twenty-two years old, has been bedridden for five years with a mild attack of tuberculosis. Recently she became blind and deaf. She now sees and hears.

Her account of the angelic vision which restored her senses and relieved all pain is ascribed to hysteria by skeptics, but the facts of the recovery are beyond dispute.

LAWSON FIRST WITNESS.

Senate Money Trust Probers to Hear Author of "Frenzied Finance."

Washington, Feb. 23.—Thomas W. Lawson of "Frenzied Finance" fame may be the first witness in the senate interstate commerce commission's proposed probe of the money trust.

None of the members of the committee would say that the investigation had been definitely mapped out, and the matter will not be considered until the committee has completed its general hearings on the anti-trust law.

WILSON'S HAT IN RING TOO.

And His Head Is In It, Say New Jersey Governor.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 23.—"My hat has been in the ring a long time and my head has been in it," said Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, when his attention was called here to Colonel Roosevelt's statement made to W. F. Eirick at Cleveland.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

THE GINGER JAR

A rousing welcome was accorded the Mackmen at San Antonio. A brass band of seventy-two pieces greeted the world's champions upon their arrival yesterday.

There are now more than 500,000 racing pigeons in England, ranging in value from $5 to $200 each. Often as many as 10,000 birds take part in one of the concourse races.

Big Ed Walsh says he has pitched the spit-ball all his life and it has never given his arm the least bit of trouble. He probably pitches more of the wet ball than any other pitcher in the game.

Somebody has been bunked. The particular bat which Johnny Baker used to hit the home runs in the recent famous world's series has been auctioned off at various fairs and bazars, hangs in "thirst" emporiums and clubs in various cities and can be seen in any number of towns and hamlets where baseball fans congregate. And yet the original stick was sent to Kentucky as a pattern for a dozen bats recently, that being Baker's 1912 order, with strict orders that it be returned to him at his farm at Belle Trape, Md.

Roger Bresnahan, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, is optimistic regarding his team's chances in the 1912 race. While he isn't predicting a pennant, he has promised the St. Louis folks a first division outfit, and bearing in mind the Cards' sensational 1911 spurt, it looks as though he might make good his word.

Al Palzer and Bombardier Wells, the English chapion, are to fight in San Francisco in an open air arena on July 4, according to an announcement made by Promoter Eddie Graney. Palzer has signed the articles. Wells has accepted by cable.

Many fans concede another championship to the Athletics, "if the pitching staff holds out." And then they start to tell the reasons why it will and will not.

Detroit will always be a contender for championship honors as long as Hughey Jennings is manager and Ty Cobb puts his 50 per cent. brains, 25 per cent. eye and 25 per cent. legs into the fray.

The rumor that the mighty Matty was not to be caught napping this year, as last, and had already landed at Marlin to get in condition was proven yesterday to be mere piffle. Big Six is still at his home in New York and won't pack his grip before the last of next week.

McGraw says that it certainly looks like a great season for the game and fans and that when pennants are being passed around the Giants will be close at hand.

Kilbane changed Abie's last name to Wot'ell.

HOLY CROSS CHOIR FIVE OUTCLASSED BY N. P. H. S.

The N. P. H. S. basketball team took the five representing the choir of the Church of the Holy Cross into camp yesterday by a 51 to 17 score. The singers were totally outclassed, the team work, organization and practice of the pupils telling the tale. Had the victors extended themselves a new record for large scores may have resulted.

The lineup:

N. P. H. S.—W. and C. Taylor, forwards; VanMater, centre; Townley, Burner and Diman, guards. Holy Cross—Coyle and Moran, forwards; Wilson, centre; Harriman and VanOrden, guards.

PLAYERS' SUPERSTITIONS.

Although the successful ball player is above the average in intelligence, the best of them are superstitious as a maiden aunt.

Chief Bender, the brainy Indian pitcher of the Athletics, never throws to anyone save Ira Thomas, when warming up. Rather than pitch to another, or to the first baseman, he juggles the ball until Thomas has donned shin guards and protector.

Ty Cobb always swings three bats as he walks to the plate. The fact that one bat is so much lighter, after holding three is a truth, aside from the superstition of the thing.

Nap Lajoie always draws a line in the dirt of the batter's box before taking his position. He will not face the pitcher without this preliminary.

Always before delivering the ball, Russell Ford adjusts his cap.

Bill Donovan dislikes to strike out the first batter. He believes it the forerunner of bad luck.

—It is generally easier to locate our enemies than our friends.

HERE IS A STORY THAT WILL NOT DOWN

The announcement that Jim Jeffries is training secretly and that it is in furtherance of his announcement that if he ever found out who put the sassafras root in his tea just before the Reno horror he would re-enter the ring and never rest till he had whipped Johnson has caused an irreverent snicker. As no one ever put anything in Jeff's tea, it would take more than the skill of a Sherlock Holmes to run down the miscreant.

Those who know what went on before the Reno affair are well informed as to the real situation. In substance, according to those on the inside, Johnson was unable to get Jeff to agree to a match unless the black fellow consented to "flop." This Johnson agreed to do, but with no intention of carrying out the scheme. A few days before the battle Johnson sent word to Jeff that the contest would be fought on its merits, whereupon the mighty Jeff collapsed and never recovered till he was called on to count the loser's end of the purse. Jeff is a dead letter in pugilism now.

LEE'S MILE FASTEST EVER RUN INDOORS IN AMERICA

Harry Lee, of the Boston Athletic Association, ran the fastest half mile ever run indoors in this country at the Pastime A. C. games in the Twenty-second Regiment Armory in New York, Wednesday night. He covered the distance in 1 minute, 56 2-5 seconds.

Lee finished second in the event in spite of the liberal handicaps allowed his opponents and had he not used poor judgment would have probably finished better than second best.

SEASONED VETERANS TO ADVISE DODGER RECRUITS

According to dispatches from Hot Springs, where the Dodgers are in training, they are to have plenty of seasoned veterans to advise the youngsters. Before leaving for camp Willie Keeler was signed up, as was also Eddie Phelps, the former Pirate star catcher.

Now Cy Seymour, the former Giant outfielder and premier clouter of the National League, has showed up at camp and while he is not under contract there is every evidence of a hen being on. If he does sign the bushers with Brooklyn will have the advantage of the tutelage of the best old time outergardeners in the game.

WOULD PLACE BAN ON PUMP GUN FOR HUNTING GAME

The bill introduced into the Senate recently as a supplement to the act for the protection of game, birds and fish, to regulate their method of capture and providing open and closed season for such capture or possession, is attracting a lot of attention among sportsmen on account of its provisions.

Of late years it has been the custom of a number of hunters to arm themselves with what is known as a pump, or automatic gun when off to the fields for birds and rabbits. The result of this quick firing weapon in the hands of selfish hunters is now assigned as one of the reasons for the growing scarcity of all kinds of game, as it makes it possible for the hunter to secure more game than he really wants, reduces the pleasure of the sport and gives the animal or foul aimed at very slim chance of escaping, even if the nimrod is a poor shot.

The bill, if passed, will do away with the use of this sort of fowling piece and makes its use a misdemeanor punishable by arrest and a fine of $20 for each offence if the charge is sustained. The game wardens are authorized to enforce this law just the same as all other game laws. It will take effect immediately upon being signed by the governor if passed and a strong movement backed by the American League of sportsmen is afoot to secure its passage.

HAY IS PRINCETON'S CHAMPION GYMNAST.

Princeton, Feb. 23.—The all-around gymnastic championship of Princeton University was won at the annual interclass gymnasium meet Wednesday afternoon by A. W. Hay, of the 1913 class.

The sophomore-freshman wrestling meet was won by the sophomores, two bouts to one, the only bout captured by the freshmen being the heavyweight, which Street won in less than one minute.

BIG LEAGUE DAYS DONE FOR "BUGS" RAYMOND

The final curtain on "Bugs" Raymond's career as a Giant pitcher was rung down last night at Marlin, Tex., where the club is in spring training by Manager McGraw on account of "Bugs" falling from the water wagon. For three years past this has been happening quite frequently and each time the great wet ball flinger has been forgiven after being put through the pledge and reform degrees by the doughty little Mac. Now he is done.

After Raymond "blew up" last season, McGraw kept him under suspension and later was instrumental in having him reinstated by the National Commission. Big Tesreau, the white hope from the Ozarks, will probably get a steady berth on account of his prowess with the spit ball.

In speaking of his decision McGraw said:

"I don't think anybody in the National League wants Raymond after the stuff he pulled off in New York, and I don't knew whether I would sell him to another club to come back at me and possibly beat my club. I always felt that I was entitled to whatever good games he might pitch. I am afraid that he isn't a good pitcher any more, and he may find it hard to last even in the minors. His kind generally go quick when they start to slide back."

NEWARK'S HOME DATES PLEASE LOCAL FANDOM

After a long and stormy session in Providence, the schedule for the International League was adjusted to the satisfaction of the different club owners and managers yesterday. The schedule as adopted calls for 154 games, each team to play 11 games at home and 11 games away with each other team in the league. The season will open Thursday, April 16.

The Sunday dates secured by Newark number eighteen at home and three away. This club will also be at home twelve Saturdays, thereby furnishing fans of this city an excellent opportunity for seeing the Indians in action many times during the season.

Buffalo will be the team at the opening game. The other teams will open as follows: Toronto at Jersey City, Montreal at Baltimore and Rochester at Providence.

MAHLON PITNEY WAS ONCE STAR BASEBALL PLAYER.

Paterson, Feb. 23.—There was no man better pleased over the appointment of Chancellor Mahlon Pitney to be a justice of the United States Supreme Court than Michael J. Ryan, a fireman, of No. 4 Engine of this city. "They spoiled a big league baseball player in making Pithey a lawyer, but he's made good at the law as he would have in baseball," was "Mike's" comment.

In the early eighties Dover had a baseball team that beat everything around the State. Dover needed a crack pitcher and Ryan was sent for and became a deputy marshal of the town and began to play ball. Mahlon Pitney, then covering the first bag for Dover.

"I'd seen men cover first many times," says Ryan, "but that big fellow was something new. He was all there, had everything that much touted stars have today, except a glove. Like al men of that day, he played with bare hands. I've seen all the stars play first and never yet have I seen a man who beat Pitney at it."

"K. O." BROWN UNABLE TO PUT BALDWIN AWAY.

New York, Feb. 23.—Knockout Brown, of New York, smashed and banged Mattie Baldwin, of Boston, till he was weak and sore in a fast ten-round bout at the National Sporting Club last night, but try as he would K. O. was unable to live up to his nickname, and Baldwin, though tired and distressed, was on his feet when the last bell rang.

Brown never fought a better battle. It was a good thing for him that he was at his best, for he met the toughest fighter that he has ever faced. K. O. gained six out of the ten sessions. Baldwin had the better of three, and in one chapter the honors were even.

Brown weighed 133 pounds at the ringside, and Baldwin 134¾ pounds.

HOBBLE RULE CAUSES WITHDRAWALS FROM A. T. A.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—A large number of trotting tracks in Ohio are to be withdrawn from the American Trotting Association, it was announced yesterday, as a result of the adoption of a rule by that organization gradually eliminating hobbles in pacing races. Under the rule adopted at Wednesday night's meeting here no horse under 5 years old will be permitted to wear the straps in 1913, and none under 6 years old in 1914.

MACK AND RADIN FIRST IN ENDURANCE CONTEST

The rattle of falling ten pins on the Olympia alleys, where the annual Washington's Birthday endurance contest was held, kept pace all day yesterday with the clatter of windows and doors in the wind. Mack and Radin toppled the wood for the largest score, 3113, and won first money. Britton and Mullen returned 3105 for second place and Conklin and Mahoney finished third.

Eight teams were in the contest, which held the interest of bowling fans throughout the day. Until 6 o'clock last night Conklin and Mahoney held the lead by a safe margin, but during their absence to slip over some eats Mack and Radin passed them as did also Britton and Mullen. The C. and M. outfit battled manfully to the end to recover, making an exciting three cornered fight.

The scores returned were as follows:

Mack and Radin	3,113
Britton and Mullen	3,105
Conklin and Mahoney	3,085
Scott and Koons	2,788
Eller and Vanderbilt	2,764
Smith and Morris	2,712
Willets and Swartz	2,693
Jones and Ford	2,553

H. C. KREBS HIGH FOR WEEKLY FIVE-BACK MATCH

H. C. Krebs captured the three points in the five back bowling contest at the Park Club last night. W. E. Benjamin and Dr. H. V. Hubbard divided honors for second, each taking 1½ points as his share, as their net scores were the same.

The enthusiasts out and their scores follow:

JOHNNY KILBANE TOOK TITLE FROM ABE ATTELL

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 23.—Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, defeated Abe Attell, featherweight champion, in a twenty-round battle at Vernon, a suburb of Los Angeles, yesterday for the world's featherweight title. Kilbane won his victory in easy fashion, and it was seen early in the battle that he was the victor. Referee Eyton's decision was not questioned.

Attell put up a pretty good showing in the first seven rounds, but thereafter he was out of the running, and Kilbane with his cleverness and shifty movements, defeated him without question.

Kilbane used his right and left swings to the jaw and head with perfect skill, and his speed was remarkable. He closed Abe's eye and had him at his mercy after that.

Attell knew, it seems, that he was beaten early in the mill, for he insisted on complaining to the referee about Kilbane's holding on.

Kilbane did a bit of holding, but Abe did all the butting. Abe was outclassed and is no longer a champion.

Bush Rejects Navin's Officer.

Word was received from Detroit yesterday that Donie Bush, the little shortstop of the Tigers, has positively refused to sign the contract offered to him by President Navin. Donie thinks his club has given him a raw deal after his sensational work in the last few years, and says he will ask to be traded if the Detroit club cannot afford to pay him a salary in accordance with his natural ability.

More Honors For Adams.

Platt Adams, the former Y. M. C. A. first baseman, won the three standing jump event at the Pastime A. C. games in the Twenty-second Regiment Armory in New York, Wednesday night. He covered 33 feet 10½ inches. His brother, B. W. Adams, of the New York A. C., finished second with a mark of 33 feet 3¾ inches.

Trap Shoot Postponed.

Owing to the all day gale yesterday, the trap shooting contest of the Independent Gun Club was postponed. The wind drove the blue rocks at such erartic angles, to say nothing of the havoc it worked with the bare fingers of the gunners, that it was decided to call the shoot off until more favorable weather arrived.

IS SOUTH POLE DISCOVERED?

British Explorer Expects Word From Two Expeditions.

London, Feb. 23.—Lieutenant Sir Ernest H. Shackleton, the polar explorer, expects news from the antarctic expeditions. He points out that Captain Robert F. Scott of the British expedition on the Terra Nova and Captain Roald Amundsen, who went south in the Fram, must know by this time whether they have succeeded or failed in their quest and have returned to winter quarters.

Amundsen, according to Sir Ernest, would reach his quarters about a fortnight earlier than Captain Scott, but as the Fram is much slower than the Terra Nova both will possibly reach a cabling station within a day or two of each other.

WHILE AUTO RIDING FINDS BROTHER DYING

General Miles Sees Crowd and Stops to Give Aid.

Washington, Feb. 23.—As Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, retired, was riding by Lafayette park in an automobile he noticed a crowd in the square. Stopping his automobile, he inquired what the trouble was and was informed that a man had fainted and apparently was dying. General Miles offered his services and was shocked to find that the man lying on the ground was his brother, Daniel C. Miles of Westminster, Mass. The general's brother was dead when the machine arrived at his apartment house.

Mr. Miles was eighty-five years old and had been suffering from heart disease. He was a retired merchant of Westminster. He had arrived in Washington about three weeks ago to visit the general and had been stopping with him at his apartment.

Funeral arrangements have not been made as yet. Mr. Miles was a widower. He is survived by three sons—Arthur, Herbert and George of Montana—and a daughter, Mrs. Jesse Parker of Pasadena, Cal.

ANTI-AMERICAN MEETING.

Nationalist Party In St. Petersburg Denounces Treaty Abrogation.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 23.—Two thousand people, including several imperial councilors and members of the duma, attended a meeting of the Nationalist party which was called for the purpose of taking action on the denunciation by the United States of the treaty of 1832. The meeting was decidedly anti-American.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that all American Jews, regardless of their social position or occupation, must be excluded from Russia and that the duties on American imports into Russia should be increased.

SPANIARDS LOSE IN MOROCCO

Recent Battle More Serious Than at First Reported.

Melilla, Morocco, Feb. 23.—The fighting in this vicinity between the Spaniards and the tribesmen is more important than at first believed, when it was reported that six Spaniards had been killed and twenty-eight wounded. It is now known that sixteen were killed and sixty-one wounded.

The Kabiye tribesmen are now bringing their forces together again, and more fighting is promised.

"GOODBY," SAYS "NICK."

Father-in-law's Speech Fine, Longworth Answers, Replying to Query.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Representative Longworth of Ohio, Colonel Roosevelt's son-in-law, who is supporting President Taft for renomination, was asked:

"What do you think of Colonel Roosevelt's speech at Columbus indorsing the initiative and referendum and the recall of judges?"

"It was a fine address. Goodby," said Mr. Longworth.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

TEMPTING NUT FOODS.

We are not likely to entirely return to nuts, the food of our arboreal ancestors, till they are served in a greater variety of forms and in more attractive ways.

The food value of nuts is so generally recognized and they are so inexpensive that these few recipes for nut dishes have been collected with the hope of doing a little missionary work along this line.

The Staff of Life.

Everybody eats nut cake (when good nut cake can be got), but few know that there is such a thing as nut bread. Try it if you don't believe in its merits.

Nut Bread.—Take three cupfuls of white flour, three cupfuls of graham flour, an egg, half a cupful of sugar, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a cupful of chopped English walnut meats, four cupfuls of cold water and half a teaspoonful of salt. Put into deep pans and let stand one hour. Bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Instead of Meat.

Hazelnut Loaf.—Hazelnut loaf is a meat substitute. It requires three cupfuls of ground hazelnuts, two cupfuls of breadcrumbs, one and a half cupfuls of milk and two eggs.

Mix all together and bake. Sprinkle nuts on top before baking. Garnish the platter with parsley and serve with hazelnut gravy made as follows:

Two cupfuls of water, a cupful of rolled or ground hazelnuts, a level tablespoonful of browned flour and a level tablespoonful of white flour. Let the nuts and water boil five minutes. Salt to taste. Blend the brown and white flour in a little cold water and stir into the boiling hazelnut water. Boil a few minutes. If too thick add a little more boiling water.

Here is another meatlike dish, made with almonds:

Golden Almonds.—Half a pound of blanched almonds are required. Throw them into cold water and then dry thoroughly. Put the almonds into a frying pan in which two ounces of butter is frizzling. Fry until a golden brown, drain on a sieve in front of the fire, sprinkle with cayenne and salt and serve hot.

FADS AND FANCIES.

New Way to Wear Strings of Pearls This Spring.

It is quite the rule now to see rows of pearls uppearing from inside the collar. Formerly when pearls were used they were worn outside the high collar, but now a new style is in force, and they are worn next to the neck itself and allowed partly to hang over the front of the collar.

This fashion seems to have come into vogue because of the well known fact that pearls, in order to keep their exquisite luster, should be worn next to the skin.

A very odd and dainty short negligee is made of latticed ribbons about an inch in width in lemon color. It is trimmed with ivory toned lace.

A richly embroidered Chinese kimono is in lemon colored silk crape.

Nightgowns made in what is known as chemise style, that are drawn over the head, are liked by many girls, but there is a great diversity of taste in the matter of underwear as in other departments of dress, and this design is very new. JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls of six, eight, ten and twelve years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7322, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

SMART LACE TUNIC.

It Is Modishly Worn Over Dark Skirts.

TUNIC OF CREAMY LACE AND ECRU BATISTE.

The handsome point crochet in a rich creamy tone, in combination with pale ecru batiste, is used for this very chic tunic, which wraps around the figure in the modish manner over a clinging trained skirt of navy blue satin.

For Bridge Parties.

For some occult reason known only to the designer of this waist it has been called "the bridge blouse." Possibly the gold buttons arranged as a trimming about the square corsage is supposed to suggest the coin of the realm that at some parties changes hands in a most distressing fashion. The waist is of white chiffon cloth with a front emplecement of black tulle. A big splashing chou of scarlet tulle enlivens this chic waist.

Embroidery on Kid.

Frenchwomen are enthusiastic over the fad of using kid trimmings on their outdoor costumes. But the kid must be embroidered. Soft white or very light colored kid is used and is fashioned into belts, collars and revers bands.

Any shape that suits the fancy is used, but all must correspond. The work is done in silk and metal threads, and the raw edge of the kid is finished off with a cord of heavy thread of dull gold or silver. Any simple design can be worked out, but be sure to let the design be simple. One does not wish to cover too closely the beauty of the kid.

A favorite adaptation of the work is the loose "ceintures," or fronts, worn beneath the fashionable boleros of cloth or velvet.

The kid fits in the space between the fronts of the bolero and reaches to the belt line. It is then embroidered, using white or two tones of silk that correspond with the color of the gown.

Little loops are placed at the sides and these fastened to hooks sewed inside the bolero. Sleeve bands to match add another trig touch to the costume.

The work has many other uses besides dress trimmings. It can be made into charming opera bags, holders for various things or mounted on cardboard for picture frames, fancy boxes, etc.

NEW YORK SWEPT BY HURRICANE

Wind Has No Precedent In Weather Bureau's History.

SKYSCRAPERS STAND TEST

From the Result of the Storm Eight Persons Are Known to Be Injured From Broken Glass or Flying Signs. South Brooklyn Shore Loss Will Reach About $100,000.

New York, Feb. 23.—A windstorm of almost hurricane force swept New York for hours. Weather bureau officials say it was the swiftest bit of wind that ever played in and over the city.

The wind, the swiftest ever recorded here since the establishment of the weather bureau forty-two years ago, for one minute attained the marvelous speed of 110 miles. For five minutes it averaged ninety-six miles.

The stiffest wind, which was from the west, hitherto felt in this district, set the cup spinning at eighty-three miles on April 7, 1909.

The marvel of the blast, which was from the southwest, was that it did not smash more windows and that the skyscrapers were unaffected by its tremendous force.

Even after the stupendous spurt of 110 miles the wind did not settle down to ordinary gale force until this morning.

Eight persons are known to have been hurt, the majority of whom were struck with broken window glass or flying signs.

The gale caused much damage in Brooklyn. The large metal and glass skylight on the roof of the borough hall was blown into the street. In the Erie and Atlantic basins barges and scows which had broken loose from their moorings were drifting about helpless and unmanned, and two of them were seen bottom up between Governors island and the Brooklyn shore. It is estimated that the loss by the storm along the South Brooklyn shore will reach $100,000.

Prisoners in the Queens county jail came near getting a look at the sky when a big section of the roof of that institution was lifted from its fastenings and carried off by the gale.

The wind did damage in Astoria of several thousand dollars. Plate glass windows were shattered, roofs were blown off, trees uprooted and signs of all descriptions sent sailing through the air.

MANY VESSELS ASHORE.

Gales at Sea Create Havoc at Lambert's Point.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 23.—With only a few inches of her main deck visible above the water, the old Dominion line steamer Madison lies in the mud between Bush Bluff light and Lambert's Point, and three mud scows, owned by the Morris & Cummings Dredging company, with two men on each, are somewhere at sea, driven by a forty mile gale.

The Madison was rammed by the steamer Hippolyte Dumois, a Norwegian freighter, during a fifty mile gale.

On board the Madison at the time of the collision was President H. B. Walker of the Old Dominion Steamship company, W. H. Landon, agent at Norfolk, and several representatives of the company from Newport News. The Madison was bound to Norfolk from Newport News at the time of the collision. The steering gear of the Norwegian steamer became disarranged by the storm, and her captain could not steer the ship when the Madison came along.

The Danish steamer Hermes, was blown ashore by the high winds and is high and dry on the beach at Lambert's Point. The Danish steamer Nordsjeman, the British steamer Elswick Manor and Strathallan and the Norwegian steamer Cecil were torn from their moorings at Lambert's Point and Sewall's Point and driven ashore.

FIRE CUTS OFF MINERS.

Between Twenty and Forty Are Dead In Oklahoma Shaft.

Lehigh, Okla., Feb. 23.—Between twenty and forty miners employed in the coal mine of the Wichita Coal and Mining company, one mile east of Lehigh, lost their lives when fire broke out in mine No. 5, entombing the men. The filling up of the shafts with smoke and the failure of the machinery to work prevented their rescue.

Six dead bodies have been removed and the work is still being pushed. The fire is still raging in the mine, and it is not believed that any of those yet within the shafts can be alive.

POISON KILLS BABIES IN BROOKLYN HOSPITAL

Detectives Question Woman Said to Be Insane.

New York, Feb. 23.—The Brooklyn police are investigating the alleged poisoning of at least a dozen babies in the Brooklyn Nursery and Infant hospital at 396 to 410 Herkimer street.

Seven babies are dead and five are dying. All died, physicians say, from the same symptoms.

An autopsy on one of the bodies, performed under the direction of Coroner Edward W. Glennon, showed the presence of an irritant in the milk. The physician believes it to be oxalic acid.

Detectives started the investigation by questioning a woman who has a baby in the hospital. The woman has been working in the kitchen and was said to have asked one of the nurses for a nickel to buy oxalic acid last Saturday.

The woman, who was suspected of insanity, is said to have been dissatisfied with her treatment in the hospital and wrote letters to the trustees complaining because she was not paid for her work. She was thought to be suffering from delusional insanity by the physicians making the investigation. When examined at the hospital, however, she showed no irrationality.

BEAU WAS TOO LOVING.

"Bear" Hug Broke Three Ribs, Illinois Girl Declares In Suit.

Sterling, Ill., Feb. 23.—Miss Laura Drew, nineteen years of age, has brought suit for assault and battery against Frederick Knox, forty-eight years old, as a result of his too ardent lovemaking. Miss Drew asserts that Knox, who has been paying attention to her recently, asked her to marry him. Evidently taking it for granted that she would acquiesce, she declared, he gave her a loving squeeze, which caused her to faint, and she kept to her bed for several days. She alleges that three ribs were cracked as a result of Knox's bearlike hug.

Knox buried his second wife eighteen months ago and was divorced from his first wife eight years ago. He is reputed to be wealthy and declares that the suit is an attempt to extort money from him.

TO GIVE HEART FOR EYES.

Chemist to Wed the Nurse Who Saved Him From Blindness.

Winsted, Conn., Feb. 23.—The engagement is announced here of Miss Getha E. Wright, assistant matron of the Litchfield County hospital, to Albert L. Burwell, son of Dr. R. M. Burwell, a famous chemist.

Both were strangers a year ago, when young Burwell was taken to the county hospital suffering with terrible burns on his face and head received in an explosion in a local laboratory. Miss Wright saved his sight. Their marriage will take place after Easter.

A Poet's Custard Bath.

A custom which has now disappeared used to afford much amusement to the guests at the banquet on lord mayor's day. In the household of the lord mayor there existed the offices of jester and city laureate. On the day of the feast a huge quaking custard was made in a dish as large as a bathing machine. It was the duty of the laureate, clad in official garb, to spring from his chair into the depths of the custard, splashing the contents over the table and the nearest guests. In return for this feat the laureate was allowed to eat as much of the custard as he wished, which was probably very little.—London Tatler.

Mrs. Kawler—I suppose lodging house keeping has its annoyances. What do you do when some roomer proves an elephant on your hands? Mrs. Hashleigh—I hold his trunk.—Boston Transcript.

—Blobbs—"Guzzler is always talking about his lofty ideals." Slobbs—"Yes, but unfortunately Guzzler's lofty ideals never seem to get any loftier than a high ball."

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

DATE FOR SEWER HEARING CHANGED

Committee Asks State Board For Postponement to Later Day.

TRYING FOR FINAL ACTION

Councilmeen Would Have Subject Settled in Month to Further Spring Operations—Anxious in Borough to Join in New Plan.

In view of the new plan of the city to choose the Darling farm site for the sewage disposal works, the committee from the Common Council having charge of the matter asked the State Board of Health to postpone the hearing announced for February 27 on the plans for enlarging the city sewage beds. The postponement was granted today, and a new date will be fixed. In the meantime the committee hopes to be able to secure favorable action on the new plans to go to the Darling farm. The councilmanic sewer committee would like to have the matter settled within the next month, so that arangements can be made for beginning operations early in the spring, provided the State Board will approve the plans.

At present it seems rather doubtful that North Plainfield will join with Plainfield in going to the Darling farm, unless there is a change of sentiment on the part of the borough council. The city is not adverse to having the borough join in the latest plan, in fact, it is believed that it would welcome the borough in such a movement. This would obviate the building of two separate sewage disposal works, and inasmuch as it seems hard enough to get the approval of the State Board of Health for one plant, it is the opinion that it would be far more difficult to secure its consent to build seperate plants, particularly in the same neighborhood.

OBNOXIOUS FEATURE OF THE SCHOOL LAW

Last winter a law was passed making compulsory uniform examinations in all school districts in the State for the determination of promotion of pupils to the High School. Under this law no pupil can be promoted to the High School in any district in the State unless he passes these examinations sent out from the State Department at Trenton. The law takes no account whatever of the child's previous work or standing, and no matter how faithful he may have been or how good work he may have done in the classes from day to day, if he fails in this examination he cannot enter the High School. The law was formulated by the investigating committee, after hearing the almost universal protests of the teachers and superintendents of the State. Almost no practical educator approves of the law.

Assemblyman John F. Gill has introduced a bill (Assembly No. 250) to repeal this law and remove the burden from the children of the State. He sent out numerous inquiries to school people and to parents, and the reply was almost general in condemning the law. It is claimed that "great injury may be done to the children under the new system; that it will result in cramming for examinations; that it will remove a very real incentive to good behaviour and application to work throughout the term; that it will widen the gap between the eighth grade and the High School; that it will subject the child to needless strain; that under those circumstances, the results of the examination will be very uncertain." He also got opinions from a number of prominent educators, copy of which he include.

Special Lenten Preachers.

The special preachers at St. Stephens on Friday evenings at 7:45 o'clock during Lent, will be as follows: March 1, to be announced; 8, Rev. Thomas G. Losee, rector St. Andrew's church, Waldron, N. Y.; 15, Rev. Wiliam J. Tilley, rector Christ church, Harrison; 22, Rev. Horace R. Fell, rector St. Alban's church, New York; 29, Rev. George C. Houghton, rector Church of the Transfiguration, New York.

There will be a children's service on Saturday afternoons at 4 o'clock at the parish house during Lent.

Organ Recital.

H. J. Harold, organist of the First Presbyterian church, will give the fifth of a series of recitals before the eevening services tomorrow beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The numbers will be: Barcarolle, Tschaikowsky; Allegro, Harris; Gebet, Pache.

WORKMAN BADLY HURT AS DERRICK COLLAPSES

Section of Heavy Apparatus Strikes Phillip Pfister at the Bartle Stone Yard--Unconscious and May be Internally Injured.

Phillip Pfister, of Dunellen, employed by William E. Bartle at his stone yard at East Second and Church street, was seriously injured in the yard this morning following the collapse of a big derrick, and was removed to his home in an unconscious condition. The man may be injured internally and Dr. C. B. Lufburrow, who was summoned to attend him, has not been able yet to determine how serious the injured man's condition is.

Pfister, with other employes of Mr. Bartle, was helping to raise a four ton stone with the derrick, when an iron hook calculated to hold a weight of twenty tons, snapped, allowing a large section of the derrick to fall over and strike Pfister. The man was senseless when the other workmen reached his side.

Dr. Lufburrow was summoned at once and in the meantime Mr. Bartle and his employes did everything in their power to restore the man to consciousness. As soon as the physician arrived he had Pfister removed to his home in a carriage.

MISS VOEHL A LENTEN BRIDE THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Irene Mae Voehl, daughter of George Voehl, formerly of this city, but now residing in Dunellen, becomes the bride of Harry Martin Gnatz, of Newark, this afternoon at the Methodist church in Dunellen. Rev. William A. Knox, pastor of the church, is to perform the ceremony. Miss Mabel Farlee, of Grandview avenue, as bridesmaid, and Elliot Taylor, of Grant avenue, as best man, will be the only witnesses.

Following the church ceremony a reception is to be held at the home of the bride's father on Washington avenue, Dunellen. Only the the families and relatives of the bride and bridegroom and a few intimate friends will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gnatz will spend their honeymoon at Philadelphia and Atlantic City and upon their return will reside in Newark, where the bridegroom is employed by the Jersey Central railroad. He formerly conducted the Voehl bakery on Somerset street, this city.

The bride was gowned in a suit of gray vigoreau with hat to match. Miss Farlee wore a travelling suit of brown velvet.

MRS. NEFF'S PUPILS GIVE ENTERTAINMENT AND DANCE.

Mrs. H. I. Neff's elocution and dancing class gave a colonial entertainment and dance at the Washington School last night. There were about two hundred present to enjoy the program, in which the following took part:

Warner Neff, the Misses Constance Durant, Helen Loury, Mabel Peck, Alice Spangenberg, Robert Lee, Henry Zweifel, Sidney Durant, Richard Borden, Harry S. Kartsher, Harold Brownell, Martha L. Neeff. Miss Mollie Traynor was the accompanist.

FIRE WRECKS A NOTION STORE IN THE WEST END.

Fire of unknown origin wrecked the notion store owned by Jacob Bedell, at 659 West Fourth street last night. The blaze was discovered by Joel Pennington, a callman in the fire department, while on his way home. The damage is placed at $50 on stock and $50 on buildings.

The store occupied a one story addition on a house. Mr. Beddell with his family were asleep in the dwelling and knew nothing of the fire until the firemen broke in.

Mrs. Mary E. Mahaffee.

Mrs. Mary E. Mahaffee, widow of Raemer Mahaffee, died yesterday. The funeral will be held at 402 Park avenue, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, will officiate. The burial will be in North Plainfield cemetery.

COL. HALFORD LECTURES ON WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN

"Washington and Lincoln" was the subject of an interesting informal talk by Col. E. W. Halford, of Chicago, before the Brotherhood of the First M. E. church, last night, in which the sepaker contrasted and compared the lives of the two men. He showed that in many respects the men were alike, that both were mighty leaders, that both gave their lives for the nation and declared that the two men lived the only kind of lives worth living.

Referring to Lincoln Col. Halford recalled how he was villified, hounded, traduced and even pictured through caricatures in Harper's Weekly. He said that even Stanton referred to Lincoln as "a long arm creature." Yet Lincoln, as well as Washington, the speaker added, possessed courage, self control, without which life amounts to nothing. Their sources of strength were the same, through Almighty God. Washington believed that the nation could depend on the people in any crisis, and Lincoln was of the same opinion.

BIBLE STUDY CONFERENCES IN M. AND R. MOVEMENT

At a meeting of the Bible Study Committee of the Men and Religion Movement held in the Y. M. C. A. last evening, it was decided to hold a series of conferences and meetings in the interest of Bible Study on Saturday, March 2, and Sunday, March 3. The conferences and meetings will be held in Y. M. C. A. building and will be addressed by W. D. Stem, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Stem is one of the country's foremost experts on Bible study. He has just been named one of the eleven members of the Bible Study Commission appointed to report at the great Men and Religion Congress to be held in New York April 19-24.

Mr. Stem will lead two conferences on March 2, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening. All men teachers of men's or boys' Bible classes, all prospective teachers of such classes and all men and boys over fifteen who are interested in Bible study are cordially invited to attend these conferences. On Sunday afternoon at 4:15 in Y. M. C. A. Hall. Mr. Stem will speak to men and older boys on the topic "Every Man a Brother." This Sunday meeting is for all men and older boys. The Committee will endeavor to secure representation from every evangelical church in the city and borough at these meetings.

TEMPLE ENDEAVORERS WIN ATTENDANCE BANNER

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Temple Baptist church won the attendance banner at the mid-winter rally of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union, held in that church, last night, and the society from the First Presbyterian church was second. The winning society also received the worker's library, which was given to the Plainfield Union by the State president, J. T. Sproull, at the Atlantic City convention last summer. The awards were made by Frank Stewart, president of the local union, and were accepted by William Conger, president of the successful society.

Rev. A. M. Denison, of Denison University, who is about to enter the ministry, made the address of the evening. His subject was "The Call of the Young People," and the keynote of his talk was optimism.

The meeting was in charge of Frank Stewart, president of the local union, and Rev. Evarts C. Conover, pastor of the Temple Baptist church, conducted the devotional exercises. The musical program was augmented by the double quartet of the Temple Baptist church, composed of Ramsey Wilson, William Page, Christian Utzinger, William Conger, Frank Stewart, Clarence LaRue, John Richards and Charles Griffin. William Conger presided at the organ. Rev. Dr. W. W. Pratt closed the service with prayer.

CAN'T ORATE IN PRIMARY CAMPAIGN

Sen. Martine Will be Too Busy to Stump For Wilson Delegates.

WRITES TO STATE CHAIRMAN

He Doesen't Think His Speeches Will Be Needed, Anyway, Because Jersey Democrats Are Overwhelmingly in Favor of the Governor.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, February 24 (Special)—Senator Martine has advised Job H. Lippincott, chairman of the Democratic State Auxiliary Committee, that it will be impossible for him to deliver any speeches in New Jersey during the primary campaign for the election of delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

The committee is undertaking a campaign to elect delegates pledged to the nomination of Governor Wilson, and has asked Mr. Martine to place himself at their disposal for speaking engagements. The Senator said that the campaign will come at a time when Congress is very busy and that as it is his policy to be in his seat whenever the Senate is in session, he cannot see his way clear to provide for engagements that will take him out of Washington during that time.

"I am in hearty accord with the idea of conducting an aggressive campaign for the election of delegates to the Baltimore convention pledged to the nomination of Governor Wilson," writes Mr. Martine to Mr. Lippincott, "but at the same time I am convinced that the great mass of Democratic voters in New Jersey may now be counted in overwhelmnng number in favor of the Wilson candidacy, and that in the Presidential preferential primary they will so record themselves by ballot."

WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS ENTERTAINS SCOTT POST.

Following the Women's Relief Corps meeting at Reform Hall, last night, members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., were entertained. There were vocal selection by Mrs. Mary Pitts and Mrs. John Manley; selections on a phonograph by Harry Leash; recitation, "Don't Mention Her Name," Captain W. C. Smith; recitation, "The Woman and the Mouse," Miss Try Mattox. The committee in charge was Miss Try Mattox, Mrs. John Manley, Mrs. Mary E. Kitchell and Miss Clara Barton Smith.

Three Practical Lectures.

Three lectures have been announced at the Y. W. C. A. The first will be on Thursday afternoon, March 7, at 3:30, by F. Alvah Parsons, director of the New York School of Fine Aplied Arts, on the subject, "The Why and How of an Artistic Home." The second and third lectures wil be given on the following Thursday nights at the Y. W. C. A. at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Helen G. Fisk will talk on "Good Taste in Dress," and Miss Mary R. Farrell will give the third lecture, on "Management of the Home."

Lecture on Athens.

Miss Stone, of Athens, Greece, will give an illustrated lecture on "Athens—Ancient and Modern," in the parish house of Grace church, Monday night, March 4, at 8:15. Miss Stone has lived a great part of her life in Europe and the lectures she gives are the result of fourteen years of travel and study in Greece. The committee in charge comprises: J. Paul Nolting, chairman; G. M. Holstein, H. C. Tracy, R. A. Claybrook, J. H. Jewett, A. F. H. Streuli and W. W. Robinson.

Series of Special Sermons.

A special series of sermons will be delivered at the Park Avenue Baptist church, Sunday evenings, beginning March 3, at 7:45 o'clock, by Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, pastor. The general topic will be "The Lord's Sermon," and the themes as follows: March 3, "Will He Come?" March 10, "Signs of His Coming;" March 17, "How Will He Come?" March 24, "When and for Whom will He Come?" March 31, "The Value of His Coming."

BIG SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS TO THE TOUR CONTESTANTS

Great Opportunity Offered For Three Weeks' Effort-One Handsome Award For Leaders in Each of the Five Districts.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENT OFFER!

ONE Solitaire Diamond Ring, Pure White Perfect Stone—over ¼ karat—any setting.

FOUR Ladies' Solid Gold Watches, choice of Elgin or Waltham movement.

The contestant in each of the five districts whose vote shows the greatest gain during the next three weeks, beginning with next Monday morning, February 26, and continuing to Saturday evening, March 16, at 10:30 o'clock, will be awarded one of these handsome jewelry prizes.

The contestant in the district polling the highest vote of all during this period will receive the Solitaire Diamond Ring.

The other district leaders will be given the Solid Gold Watches.

All votes cast for the special prizes count also for the tours.

If the entrants and workers in the Daily Press European vacation tour contest don't get a galvanic shock in their centers of energy today they have touched the last conceivable notch of vim and vigor. And that isn't likely. As vigorously as they have been "going it," they haven't been hustling long enough to get up a full head of steam. Here is fuel for their energies, and it will be sure to arouse a degree of enthusiasm even beyond that already attained. The magnificent offer that the Plainfield Daily Press is this afternoon enabled to make to the young women contestants is an indication of the great interest in the affair that has been awakened throughout this vicinity by reason of activity of the women who have entered the race for the five summer European vacation tours.

These splendid special inducements described above have been purchased from our local jewelers—C. E. Vail, Carl Silbert, J. Hervey Doane, Moraller Bros. and Peter Delgyer, and will shortly be placed on exhibition in their various windows, will be given to the five women in the contest whose vote shows the largest increase between Monday morning, February 26, and Saturday evening, March 16, at 10:30 o'clock—a period of three full weeks.

Make no mistake in gaining a full understanding of this splendid offer. The contestant who now has but 500 votes or no votes at all has an equal chance to win the beautiful Diamond Ring, with the young woman who now has 12,000 or more votes to her credit, for these prizes of fine jewelry will go to those contestants who cast the largest vote during this period, as votes preciously cast will not count for the special prizes.

Also bear in mind that each of the five districts will receive one of the handsome prizes, that the district leader turning in the largest number of votes during this period will win the Diamond Ring, and that the other four district leaders will receive the Watches.

Any young woman now entered, or who may hereafter enter, will stand an equal chance with any other contestant for these special inducements, as past effort does not count for them, only votes cast in the special three weeks' period.

Of course, the votes obtained by each candidate during the competition for the jewelry, will be counted in her general total for the trips, just as though the special period had not intervened.

All the young women have an even start for these specrial prizes and the Press expects some of these young women who may be lower down in the list to make a splendid effort to get to the top and thereby not only win one of these choice prizes, but find themselves on March 16th in such a position that if maintained to the end will give them one of the great tours also, not saying anything about the high vote which carries with it the honor of appointing the chaperone.

New contestants are invited to enter the race and compete for these desirable, splendid prizes.

So young women, get busy.

The best plan is to assume the leadership in your district if possible, or at least in the front rank. Do not try to take a large lead, and, on the other hand, do not fall too far behind, always holding a proportion of your votes in reserve for later use. Bring your subscriptions to this office as soon as possible in order that you may receive the benefit of the clipped coupons, and receive the votes, which you can use at any time you wish. Remember, that you are not asking favors of those whom you approach for subscriptions, for every subscriber gets his money's worth and more. Make a list of your friends, and as soon as you have seen them, mark

ON CARING FOR CHILDREN'S EYES, EARS AND THROATS.

Owing to Dr. Norman Probasco's absence from the city, Dr. F. C. Ard addressed the Plainfield Mothers' Association in the Plainfield High School auditorium yesterday afternoon. The lecture was the third of the series arranged by the local organization some time ago.

Dr. Ard, who is a specialist on eye, ear and throat trouble, defined the care of these organs and gave simple hints and suggestions for their care and preservation. Dr. Probasco will deliver his lecture on prevention of disease during adolescence on Friday, March 22.

Make Up on Stage.

The chorus girls dressing room which forms the second act scene of "The Chorus Lady," coming to the Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight, is an exact duplicate of the dressing room at the Broadway theatre, New York, and in some towns where the dressing rooms are not well equipped the scene is utilized by the young women for "making-up," as its facilities are vastly superior to those in many playhouses.

—Mr. Geo. H. Frost has received his Ford touring car, purchased of Standard Tire Vul. Co., distributors, 38 and 40 Somerset street, on the bridge.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire's theme for the morning sermon at the Park Avenue Baptist church, tomorrow, will be "The Trysting Place," and in the evening, "Eternal Life."

MISS BOONE APPOINTED PROBATION OFFICER IN N. Y.

Miss Caroline Edith Boone, of West Seventh street, who was one of the investigators appointed by the national government to examine into the condition of working komen and children in the United States, and who recently resigned as special agent of the National Child Labor Committee, has been appointed probation officer in the Children's Court of New York city, and will leave Plainfield shortly to take up the duties of her new position.

A Strong Play.

"The Goose Girl," the dramatized version of the popular novel, by Harold McGrath, which is to be the attraction at the Plainfield theatre Monday night, is one of the most pleasing and attractive plays that will be presented here during the season. Unlike other dramatizations of popular novels, none of the effectiveness of the story is lost in the tfforts to faithfully carry out the story of the book.

Receipts for Contributors.

The committee in charge of the recent campaign for Muhlenberg Hospital announced today that receipts are being prepared for all checks and cash which have been received, and will be mailed as promptly as possible. The office of the Campaign Committee until further notice is located at 201 Park avenue, telephone 90.

GLOEKLER PLEADS FOR HIS LICENSE

Ousted Saloon Man Appears Before the Councilmanic Committee With Arguments.

HE PROMISES TO BE "GOOD"

Offers to Meet Any Conditions or Requests Made—Canvass of Councilmen Said to Show He Stands No Chance to Reopen.

Christian Gloekler, who has made application for a liquor license for his place at West Front and Somerset streets, appeared before the councilmanic license committee, last night, and informed the members that he stands ready to meet any conditions or comply with any request that the Common Council might make, provided he is given a license for the coming year. He said that he would shift the location, putting his main entrance on Somerset street, if that would meet with the approval of the Council.

Maintaining that he alone is not responsible for alleged undesirable conditions complained of about his corner, Mr. Gloekler cited the fact that there are as many intoxicated people hanging around his corner at night as when he conducted a saloon; also that inasmuch as the city allowed the Public Service Corporation to establish a transfer point for the trolleys at the corner, the city is in a measure responsible for crowded conditions.

It was suggested that the corner was as much entitled to the service of a policeman as the one at Park avenue and Front street. This idea seemed to impress the members of the committee. For the purpose of investigating conditions as stated by Mr. Gloekler, Councilman George S. Clay, of the committee, will visit Front and Somerset streets tonight.

Mr. Gloekler does not feel as though he has been treated fairly by the Common Council in that his license was revoked, without giving him a hearing and an opportunity to defend himself. This feeling is shared by others, including present members of the Council. Another argument used by Mr. Gloekler is that as matters now stand, should he desire to engage in the liquor business anywhere else in the State, he would find it difficumlt to do so, resting under the charges which caused him to lose his license here.

It is reported that he has about $6,000 worth of liquor in his building and he would like an opportunity to dispose of it. This argument was used a year ago after the license was denied Mr. Gloekler.

It is extremely doubtful whether Gloekler will be able to get a license for his present place or a new location. A canvass of the Council, it is said, has shown that there will be six votes against granting the application to four in favor. The eleventh member of the Council, John E. Dunn, is out of the city, leaving but ten to act on the applications for licenses.

Oppose Liquor License.

The Brotherhood of the First Methodist church, at its meeting last night, prior to the lecture by Col. E. W. Halford, put itself on record as being opposed to the granting of a liquor license to Christian Gloekler and adopted resolutions to that effect. The organization will be represented at the meeting of the Common Council Monday night, when action is taken on the licenses.

MRS. WALTER LEVERIDGE HOSTESS AT A LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Walter J. Leveridge, of Spooner avenue, gave a luncheon yesterday in honor of her guest, Mrs. Harriet Gaston, of Rutherford. Covers were laid for ten. Following the luncheon bridge was enjoyed, four tables were in play. Among those present were Miss Sarah Barth, and Miss Ruth Ayres, of Brooklyn; Mrs. Harriet Gaston, of Rutherford; Mrs. Nellie Harris, of Shiloh; Mrs. W. E. Johnson and Miss Helen Johnston, of Elizabeth; Mrs. C. W. Leveridge, Mrs. Roland H. Leveridge, Miss Mary Leveridge and W. J. Leveridge, of this city.

HALF-MINUTE INTERVIEWS.

Edward C. Pearson.—I want to congratulate you upon your enterprise in publishing in full in Wednesday's issue the speech of Mr. Roosevelt before the Columbus Convention. Much as people may differ as to the soundness of his views, or his trustworthiness as a political leader, the speeck is news of vital interest, and it was with surprise and pleasure that I found myself enabled to read it that evening.

Murray Hill Pipes Froben.

It is unusual for a street water main to freeze up, but it happened at Murray Hill last week. The water in the Mountain avenue main was frozen at a point where the main is exposed under a bridge, and the supply was cut off for several hours until the pipe could be thawed out.

PROPOSALS.

For furnishing crushed stone and materials for culverts and crosswalks.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield at the regular adjourned meeting held February 19, 1912, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet at the Council Chamber, No. 149, North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, on Monday, March 11, 1912, at 8 o'clock p. m., at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for furnishing crushed stone, and for furnishing materials for culverts and crosswalks as follows:

For crushed stone for the remainder of the year 1912, with the privilege on the part of the city to continue for the first three months of 1913, the bids to state the price per ton of 2,000 pounds, for furnishing the following sizes, namely:

"Binder Dust," or stone dust with an admixture of not more than 50 per cent. of clay;

"Screenings," or dust and stone which will pass through a one-half-inch mesh;

"½-inch," or stone which will pass through a 1-inch and not throught a ½-inch mesh;

"1-inch," or stone which will pass through a 1½-inch and not through a 1-inch mesh;

"1½-inch," or stone which will pass through a 2-inch and not through a 1½-inch mesh;

"2½-inch," or stone which will pass through a 3-inch and not throught a 2-inch mesh;

In such quantities, and delivered at such times and places in the city as the Street Commissioner may direct.

The approximate quantities of the several kinds of crushed stone, as estimated by the Street Commissioner, are as follows:

Binder Dust	200 tons
Screenings	100 tons
½-inch	300 tons
1-inch	2000 tons
1½-inch	2000 tons
2½-inch	1000 tons

and such estimated quantities may be taken into account in awarding bids.

The above must be of the best quality trap rock, free from soft stone, dirt or other foreign matter, and each bidder shall submit with his bid or bids samples of the crushed stone to be furnished if such bid or bids is or are accepted and guarantee that the crushed stone to be furnished shall in every instance be equal in quality and practically equal in size to the samples submitted with the bid, the Common Council reserving the right to pass on the quality of the crushed stone as well as on the prices bid.

The stone must be weighed on such scales as the Street Commissioner may direct, and a voucher or weigh bill must be delivered with every load to the said Street Commissioner or his authorized representative.

Also for furnishing the following materials for culverts and crosswalks:

Cover stone for culverts not larger than 4 feet by 2 feet by not less than 3½ inches in thickness, per square foot.

Curbing 16 inches by 4 inches, 3 to 6 feet long, per linear foot.

Curbing 20 inches by 4 inches, 3 to 6 feet long, per linear foot.

Crosswalk stone 24 inches by not less than 4 inches, 3 to 4½ feet long, Belgian edge, per linear foot.

Crosswalk stone 30 inches by not less than 4 inches, 3 to 4½ feet long, Belgian edge, per linear foot.

The approximate quantities of the several kinds of materials for culverts and crosswalks, as estimated by the Street Commissioner, are as follows:

Cover stone—300 square feet.
Curbing, 16 inches—50 linear feet.
Curbing—20 inches—300 linear feet.
Crosswalks, 24 inches—800 linear feet.
Crosswalks, 30 inches—100 linear feet.

and such estimated quantities may be taken into account in awarding bids.

All to be of the best hard blue stone, equal in quality and durability to stone from the Hudson River quarries.

No bid for crushed stone will be considered which does not include prices for all sizes of stone, and all bids must be submitted on forms which can be obtained from the Street Commissioner.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals at the time and place appointed, the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents; provided said parties or their agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Common Council.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved.

By order of the Common Council,
JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

J., at eight o'clock P. M., on Monday, the eleventh day of March, A. D., Nineteen Hundred and Twelve, at which time and place prior to the adoption of said ordinance said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council, and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council with reference to the proposed ordinance.

By order of the Common Council,
JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., February 19th, 1912.

AN ORDINANCE

To Lay Out and Open Manson Place from the southeasterly side line of South Second Street to the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street.

Whereas, The Common Council have judged and hereby do judge that the public good requires that Manson Place should be laid out and opened between the points named in the title to this ordinance, therefore

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That a public street to be known as Manson Place, be and the same is hereby ordered laid out and opened in said city as the line of said street is shown on a map made by Andrew J. Gavett, City Surveyor, and filed with the City Clerk February 5, 1912, entitled "Map Showing Proposed Laying Out and Opening of McDowell Street, Halsey Street and Bergen Street, each from West Third Street to West Fourth Street and Manson Place from South Second Street to West Fourth Street, City of Plainfield, N. J., January, 1912," to which map reference is hereby made for greater certainty.

Said street shall be fifty feet in width, as shown on the map above referred to.

The lands, real estate and appurtenances to be taken for the laying out and opening of said Manson Place (the larger part of said street having already been dedicated to the public), include that part of the property now or formerly of Samuel T. Shaw, described as follows: Beginning at a point in the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street, where the same is intersected by the southwesterly side line of Manson Place produced, and running along said side line of Manson Place produced, in a northwesterly direction, a distance of 71.14 feet to a point in the northwesterly line of property now or formerly owned by Samuel T. Shaw, said line being also the end of Manson Place as already dedicated to the public; thence along said line in a northeasterly direction, a distance of 50 feet to a point in the northeasterly side line of Manson Place; thence along said side line produced in a southeasterly direction, a distance of 73.09 feet to a point in the northwesterly side line of West Fourth Street; thence along said line of West Fourth street in a southwesterly direction a distance of 50.06 feet to the place of beginning.

The lands, real estate and appurtenances to be taken and the lines of the proposed street as the same is hereinabove ordered to be laid out and opened, are shown on said map on file with the City Clerk, hereinabove referred to and made a part hereof.

MUCH TALENT IN FIRST BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church at its annual entertainment and social, last night, presented a program of unusual interest. The committee in charge had every class in the school contribute something toward the program. The plan disclosed the fact that there is considerable talent among the members of the school.

Frank W. Jones was in charge of the program for the general committee, calling for responses from the various classes. Perhaps one of the best features of the program was the reading of an original short sketch by Miss Linda Butler, describing her last trip to Mexico.

Arthur M. Harris, superintendent of the school, in the make-up of a German, gave a humorous recitations, while Mrs. G. H. Campbell told southern dialect stories. William Holmes, baritone, sang, Frederick S. Thompson told amusing stories, John Allen gave a recitation, Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan and Miss Helen George gave two piano duets.

Other numbers included recitations and songs by Constance Harris, Dorothea Hall, Edna White and Dorothy Lunger; piano selections by Emeline Manning and Gladys Waring; piano and violin selections, Viola Staples and Grace LeMatty; recitation, Erma G. Dobbins, in colonial costume; Helen Roseberry, Anna Sherwin and Arleen Chandler.

The committee in charge comprised Mrs. Louis Matlack, chairman; Miss Helen Armstrong, Mrs. Albert L. Kennelly, Mrs. Fred Pierce, Mrs. John G. MacLaughlin and Miss May Shreve. During the evening Mrs. Albert L. Kennelly was the accompanist at the piano.

LONG LIST OF NOMINEES FOR P.H.S. ORACLE STAFF

Twenty-eight pupils from the three lower classes were nominated yesterday by the board of associate editors from which nine will be elected to fill offices as editors and business manager of the Oracle, the Plainfield High School paper. The elections will take place at assembly on March 1.

The Alumni Oracle is the last issue which will be edited by the present staff, which will retire after the elections. From the list of nominees four juniors, three sophomores, one freshman and one business manager will be elected. The following have been nominated.

Juniors—Armita Ayres, Margaret Bonnell, Marjorie Cubberly, Esty Foster, Felix Janke, Arthur Lindsey, Willard McKay, Gwendolyn Stanton, Marion Wian. Sophomores—Carter Goodrich, Kenneth McKenzie, Madelyn Moy, Bernice Rogers, Ellen Sandberg, Eynon White, Gladys Wiltsie. Freshmen—Murial Cockburn, Roger Cockburn, Dorothy Stelle, Dorothy Simons, Rose Thomas, Gladys Waring, Adelbert Witford. Business manager—John Heron, Harold Sharkey, Bradford Willard, Henry Zook.

WILBUR DAY JR. HAS KIND FEELING FOR HIS OLD HOME

Becoming exasperated at the delay of the Borough Council, the fire department of New Providence Borough has decided to provide the extra equipment needed in the department by purchasing a fire wagon from the Morristown department which the latter is willing to sell at a bargain, chiefly because Wilbur F. Day, Jr., chief of that department formerly resided in New Providence and has an interest in its welfare.

The wagon is about six years old and is in good condition, iwth rubber tires, two extension ladders, eight chemical fire extinguishers, axes, hooks, crow bars and a set of double harness, all of which can be purchased for $1,000. The new equipment will be delivered ready for use on March 5. The Morristown department recently purchased automobile apparatus and has no further use for the other wagon.

A CASUAL GLANCE AT THE SOCIAL PROBLEM.

To those who consider only the material aspects of man's condition and who do not recognize the necessity of vital principles to explain inequalities of life and lay the foundations of contentment, the contrasts presented by modern life are startling and inexplicable. Wealth too often making a seditious display of its useless grandeur, flaunting its jewelled trappings in the face of misery, taunting it with its impotence to enjoy life and provoking it to revolt. What wonder if without correct principles to guide them the disinherited of fortune welcome theories attacking the rights of property and are continually asking the troublesome question, "Why?" Why should some be ever toiling and others ever spending and enjoying what the toiler's labor has won? Why should they respect a social system which devotes the labor and sweat of the many to the pleasure and profit of the few? Why is the produce of industry apportioned in an inverse ratio to the toil; so that he who never labored gets the largest portion, while the most exhausting bodily labor can not earn the necessities of life.

No. It is not a question of money, wages and social advantages. The toiler is not discontented because he is obliged to work and walk. It is the auto of his neighbor speeding by and covering him with plebeian dust that shuts out the horizon of his joy. He can get along without an auto, but he wants to know why his neighbor cannot do without it as well. There is a well-defined feeling in his breast that he has been robbed of something. There is an obstacle in the way of his happiness. Is it the State? Then the State must change or go. Is it the existing social order? Then the existing social order must change or go. But the social order cannot go. Then it must be revolutionized. If there is no hope, but in a complete upheaval and the otherthrow of existing institutions, the sooner the struggle comes between us and the classes, the better, he says. What is the existing order? he asks. Is it so perfect and so absolute that it cannot be changed without crime or sacrilege? Is it open to no improvements? Is there no fraud or wrong mixed up with it? Was the existing order established for the whole community or for the select few? The man in the street challenges wealth, power and privilege, and insists that they prove their right to live.

But we have the police, the army and the judiciary to restrain the masses. What folly! The people are the police; the people are the army; the people control and can overthrow the judiciary. And what assurance have we that they will stand indefinitely for the accumulation or the perpetuation of those vast fortunes which center in a few individuals a power greater than imperial power and which the masses consider a menace to their peace and happiness, a ready means for bribery and corruption, a lever for undermining their liberties?

The social problem, then, is the problem of the hour; it dwarfs all others, and the man of means is the one most concerned in studying and mastering it. He above all others is the one that ought to sit up and take notice of what is happening about him. Under the protection of law he has amassed wealth and thinks that he holds it firmly and can count on handing it down unimpaired to his offspring. Whether that hope can be fulfilled depends upon the quality of education imparted to the young, on the character of citizenship developed, on the safeguards that will be thrown about the future by the wise conduct of our leading citizens in establishing centers of conservative influences and sound principles of conduct. It will not do for them to be so engrossed in business that they take no time to consider their environment.

It's easy to write essays explaining the doctrine of the respect due to property, but if there is no moral law, no morality, no religion, no future or future retribution, no God; then it is to the interest of every man to get as much as he can of what you have, provided he keeps out of the clutches of the law. It is important for those who possess anything, be it little or much, to recognize that a man devoid of moral principles, or actuated by destructive ones, is an unsafe man; that an ill-treated or a hungry man is a dangerous man. It is their business to see that a sound code of ethics be within reach of every citizen; to see that men are not unjustly treated and do not go hungry, especially through fault of theirs.

It's the man without moral principles, the ill-treated man and the hungry man who most insistently asks "Why?" and in their mouths it acquires a terrible emphasis. It is useless to tell them that the poor is as much interested as the rich in maintaining public order, and that without invoking any principles of justice and morality, self-interest alone should suffice to make them look kindly on the safeguards of social order. That is not the difficulty. This man wants to exchange places with you. He does not care to argue, he is only once more asking the troublesome question "why?" Why should he not sit comfortably at his ease in your office with his feet on the table, his head tilted back, absorbed in the luxury of a perfecto, while you sit with bare feet on the floor of a hovel, wondering where you will get work tomorrow and where the next meal is to come from. He wants to know why you are not down in the ditch shoveling mud and, he on the curbstone chatting with friends and ordering you about.

It has been facetiously said that the art of government is to keep down the arrogance of the full stomach and the rebellion of the empty stomach. Without accepting this dictum we may well believe that the representatives of government and large private interests would act wisely in concerning themselves more with what goes to make up the contentment and happiness of the people and satisfying their logical demands, in studying the social problem systematically, sympathetically and effectively, so as to realize the dangers that threaten them.

If a man is to live for this world merely, he is logical in enjoying himself as fully as he can here below, and the only consideration is not to be caught at any villiany that satisfies his vicious desires. While he is in a rebellious mood against God and man, a tempter comes to him and says: "Imbecile, coward, fool, why have you allowed yourself to be stripped? What prevents you from recovering what you have lost; what are you afraid of? You can lose nothing but your chances." With such advice ringing in his ears what is to be expected of the disinherited of fortune, who has no hope or fear to check him; no moral law to guide him; no religion to comfort him, no God to fold him to His compassionate heart? To prevent desperate deeds the intellect and heart must be reached. His soul must be touched. Without in the least condoning the desperation which results in lawless deeds, we can at least understand its origin; and if we love our kind and ourselves, we must study the problems of life sympathetically and effectively. This will enable us to get at the root of prominent evils, to see the real cause of social disorder and to realize the dangers confronting us. Some of the lawless acts committed by persons in a higher social position are the natural sequence of the education, ideals and environment of the ordinary man. Teach him that the material goods of life are the only prizes worth seeking, then deprive him of them. Let him imbibe the notion that he is as good as any other man in the sense that he has as much right to the possession of wealth as the legitimate owner; that he is unjustly deprived of his fair share, because all property, the cottage as well as the castle, is theft because he has not either. Take away from him the sobering thought of future retribution and of present conscience and even the elementary ideas of right and wrong, so outrageously perverted by wicked men; and what wholesome results can we expect? Yet who will deny that these are precisely the thoughts that are presented to budding manhood at its first contact with actual life in many avocations?

The beginner in business is tormented with the desire to get rich quickly at any cost. The successful who have acquired wealth even by questionable means are continually put before him as ideals. He is not content to await the gradual accumulation resulting from intelligence, industry, patience, self-denial and hard work; he must have at once the goods he sees others enjoy. He loses the perspective of mine and thine; he becomes in germ an anarchist, whose stock in trade is the persuasion that the rights of property and life should be ignored in the effort to reduce all to the dead level of equal possession. Under the guidance of unprincipled associates he learns to disregard conscience as a wise and safe monitor; its admonitions are nothing but hampering scruples. Convictions are nothing, affections are nothing, religion he wears as a mask to hide his distorted countenance; the fever of acquisition, the sacred thirst for gold are unquenchable.

Those who possess property have most incentive to study these questions most earnestly, to make some sacrifices of time and money for the common good and to persuade themselves that they are but the ministers of wealth and the stewards of God.

Fortunate we are here in our own city, of which we are so justly proud, in the example that has just been given us. An institution whose reason of being is to relieve distress and alleviate suffering to which the poorest of the poor are ever welcome, held out its hand for help. "We want to do more; new avenues of usefulness are opening to us and we would that you help us to enter upon them plenteously provided with relief to soothe the suffering and win a longer lease for life" And then the lesson came. In money? Yes, incidentally, money, but in that which stands above money toweringly—men of money forgot their high estate, and thought but of their brothers. First with their own generous contributions, they went among their neighbors as messengers to tell of the opportunity of benevolence. After the cares and anxieties from which wealth does not often free them they came, many of them before reaching their own homes to spend the evening hours, in house to house visitations. They have put the institution above anxiety, they have unconsciously erected a monument to their own sense of practical sympathetic citizenship, outsounding the pulpit in its sermon of benevolence and interested consideration for our fellowmen.

The moulding of the thought of our nation and keeping our countrymen in the path of safe traditions does not belong exclusively to the doctor, lawyer or clergyman; the business man is and ought to be a power; his influence will be strong in proportion to the extent of his education, and good in proportion to its correctness.

Education is a divine work which brings to mind the marvels of the first days of creation, when God wrought his mysteries of power. Just as the spirit of God moved over the face of the deep, causing a splendid creation to leap forth from dark and barren chaos; just as He drew order out of confusion, separated light from darkness, placed in the firmament the illuminating stars, drew from nothing a profusion of splendors as a reflex of His admirable perfections; so the educator soars over the dark creation of human minds and hearts. At his word darkness is dissipated, harmonies of good sweep out of chaos, the dawn of reasonable life begins, noble ideas, the stars of the soul, mount up to the firmament of thought, and a man is created, because his soul lives and responds to the touch of a master influence.

PERSONAL.

Fred Miller has returned from a visit to friends in Glen Gardner.

Dr. A. K. Brennan, of Grant avenue, has resumed practice after several weeks of illness.

Mrs. Eugene Carpenter, of Oneida, N. Y., is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson, of Park avenue.

Mrs. Juliet B. Trumphy, of New York City, has rented the property at 813 College place, and will take possession Tpril 1.

Rev. Horace P. Craig, of this city, will preach at the Wilson Memorial chapel, Watchung, tomorrow morning at 10:45 o'clock.

Howard A. Pope, of East Fifth street, has purchased the residence of F. W. Dunn, 37 Sandford avenue, and will remove there about April 1.

Harry Kartscher, of Grant avenue, a member of the draughting force at the Bond Tool Works, has secured an excellent position with the Victor Talking Machine Co., at Camden, and will remove to that city Monday.

GOING AFTER POLL TAX IN NEW PROVIDENCE.

The New Providence Borough Council has ordered a rigid collection of poll taxes. The collector has been directed to make such efforts as he can to secure satisfaction from delinquents, and theen to turn over to the borough constable the list of those who refuse to pay. It is said that a considerable number of names are on the delinquent list.

There is a common misunderstanding of the meaning of the poll tax in the valley. Some men seem to think it has something to do with voting, and that any man who does not vote is exempt from the tax. It has no relation to polling, or the polls. It is simply a tax of a dollar a head on all adult males. It is called "poll' tax because "poll" means head.

"TOO MUCH DANCING" CAUSES GIRL'S DEATH.

Passaic, Feb. 24.—Miss Catherine Yonache, eighteen years old, who said to the musicians after they had played "Home, Sweet Home," "It's the same, this is such a short dance; I wish there were some more," is to be buried tomorrow as a victim of "too much dancing."

The young woman attended a dance Wednesday night, not missing one of the twenty numbers. When she had danced the last one she went up to the leader of the orchestra and made the remark alluded to.

Upon her return home, Miss Yonache told her mother not to awaken her until noon. The mother went to the girl's room at 11 o'clock Thursday to awaken her, but she had died during the night.

WIDELY KNOWN ENGRAVER DIES AT SEVENTY-FIVE.

Thomas S. Rogers, aged 75 years, a widely-known engraver, died at 9 o'clock this morning at his home, 251 Netherwood avenue, of heart trouble, with which he had been ill for a month. Mr. Rogers formerly lived in Hoboken. Six years ago he removed to this city, where he lived in retirement. He is survived by a wife.

PLAN TWO RACE MEETS..

The board of stewards of the Watchung Hunt Club has decided to make application for a date for the annual spring race meet to be held in May, as usual, and there is also some talk of giving a second meet in July for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. The matter is now under consideration.

Funeral of Mrs. Dilts.

The funeral of Mrs. Jeremiah V. F. Dilts will be held at the late home, 1208 Lenox avenue, Monday afternoon 1208 Lenox avenue, Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie will officiate and the burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, will preach on "Washington," tomorrow night. In the morning Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, of this city, will preach.

The Plainfield Sunday Afternoon Lyceum, colored, will have a service at Calvary Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock, to meet the contribution pledged to the hospital fund.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

FASHION'S FORECAST.

Wider Skirts Not In Sight—Rough Crash Gowns.

There is not the slightest hint of wider skirts. Indeed, skirts are more tapering than ever, and, though draperies are being introduced by most of the couturiers, the fabrics are so soft and clinging and the petticoats so few that the skirt reveals the lines of the figure even more definitely than did the straight bolster slip model of the winter.

Velvet and silk are modishly combined in good looking spring gowns. The costume seen in the illustration shows how attractive this combination may be. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COSTUME OF SILK AND VELVET.

These May Manton patterns are cut in sizes for the waist from 34 to 44 inches bust measure and for the skirt from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Send 10 cents each for these patterns to this office, giving numbers, skirt 7273, and waist 7188, and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

VARIETY IN SPONGE CAKE.

SPONGE cake if a little stale is still not useless, for it may figure in the composition of many delicious dishes even in that state.

To make plain sponge cake proceed as follows:

Sponge Cake.—Take three eggs, one and one-fourth cupfuls of sugar sifted several times, one and three-fourths cups of flour, one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder, two teaspoonfuls of lemon extract, one-half cupful of boiling water.

Sift the flour, add the baking powder and sift three times. Beat the egg yolks until lemon colored; beat the whites stiff. Put together and beat in the sugar, fold flour in, add the extract and then hot water.

Pour into a buttered tin and bake in a slow oven twenty-five to thirty minutes.

Lemon Sponge Cake.—Here is one of the most delicious forms of sponge cake. Take five eggs, one and a quarter cupfuls of sugar, one and a half cupfuls of sifted flour, the juice and grated rind of half a lemon and a pinch of salt.

Beat yolks and sugar together until very light and lemon colored. Add lemon juice, grated rind and salt. Beat the whites to a stiff froth and add them alternately with the flour to the other materials.

Stir and fold in gently from the sides of the bowl so as not to break the froth.

Pour into a cake tin until it is about half full. The oven should be only moderately hot and the door should be left open until the cake rises to the top of the pan. Then shut the door and let it bake about three-quarters of an hour.

Ginger Sponge Cake.—For ginger sponge cake use two cupfuls of brown sugar, four eggs, a pint of flour, two-thirds of a cup of water, a teaspoonful and a half of baking powder, a tablespoonful of extract of ginger, and a teaspoonful of extract of lemon or lemon juice.

Beat the eggs and sugar together for ten minutes; add the water, the flour sifted with the powder and the extracts. Mix into a smooth sponge and bake in quick oven thirty minutes.

Chocolate Sponge Cake.—Here is a delicious and nutritious form of sponge cake. Heat to a sirup a cup and a half of sugar and five tablespoonfuls of boiling water. Separate six eggs, beat whites ten minutes, then beat yolks very light; add and beat together five minutes. Add sirup a little at the time and beat all ten minutes.

Add slowly two cupfuls of pastry flour, a pinch of salt a teaspoonful of vanilla and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder.

Bake forty-five minutes in moderate oven. Do not look in oven for twenty minutes.

Anna Thompson.

FOR EVENING WEAR.

Ribbon Novelties For Coiffure and Neckwear.

Here are shown some opportunities for the girl with clever fingers. The wide band shown in the illustration is for wear on the head. When properly adjusted on the coiffure the side bows should come just a little back of the ears. The ornament is made with black velvet ribbon, the border and crossbands being of silver tinsel ribbon, slightly gathered at the sides. Tiny rosebuds with leaves are made of the silver ribbon and knotted along the center of the band. The knots at the end of the band are of narrow velvet ribbon.

VELVET BANDS FOR THE HEAD AND NECK.

The other band is of black velvet ribbon and for evening wear on the neck. It is an inexpensive substitute for the dog collar and may be as wide as you choose. The imitation opals that form the centers of the starlike designs can be bought pierced for use of the dealer in beads.

The lines that form the rays of the stars were in this case of cut steel beads. Cut steel beads were also used in making the strands that fringed the lower side of the neckband.

FOR BAKING DAY.

Delectable Viands That May Be Slipped In the Oven With the Bread.

Baked Eggs.—Butter a smooth shallow baking dish. Take as many eggs as will cover the bottom, breaking them one by one into a saucer before slipping them into the dish. In this way if any egg is not strictly fresh it can be discarded before it is added to the other eggs. No broken yolks must be used, nor must they be crowded after they are in the dish. Put a small piece of butter on each and sprinkle with pepper and salt. Set into a well heated oven and bake till the whites are set. If the oven is rightly heated it will take but a few minutes and the cooking will be far more delicate than fried eggs.

Eggs With Cheese.—Take two cups of moderately thick, well seasoned white sauce and add two tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. Put half the sauce in baking dish, drop in the number of eggs desired, cover with remaining sauce and bake seven minutes.

Potato Shells.—Peel as many good sized potatoes as are required. Cut out an oval hollow in the center of each and fill this with a combination of hard boiled egg, green pepper and onions each of which have been chopped separately. Season the mixture with salt, pepper and butter and bake in the oven until the potatoes are done.

The Polished Table.

The housewife who has a highly polished table does not care to have it ruined by hot dishes. Even though one has beneath the table linen the heaviest of silence cloths there is often danger of the heat penetrating to the table.

The only way to make sure that the table will be protected is to place asbestos mats beneath hot dishes, and asbestos mats, unless they are covered, are unsightly.

One of the most attractive ways of disguising the useful mat is to make a linen cover with embroidered scalloped edges and slip this over the mat.

Before slipping the mat into the linen holder cover it with canton flannel on both sides.

Many of the table mats bought in the stores are made of straw. These, however, are not heat proof. In order to make them so one can add to them a piece of asbestos.

"SAY, KID, WHO WAS THE LADY SITTING IN THE CHAIR BY THE WINDOW?"

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worthin Saving, and Some Plainfield People Know How to Save It.

Many Plainfield people take their livse in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has cured thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Plainfield citizen's recommendation.

Mrs. Margaret Reville, 732 West Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "For a long time I was troubled by lame and weak back and I never found anything that would help me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills from Randolph's Drug Store. My back was so painful and sore that I dreaded to stoop and whenever I caught cold or exerted myself, I suffered more severely. I tried several kidney remedies but it was left for Doan's Kidney Pills, which I obtained at Randolph's Drug Store to cure me. They are certainly a most effective preparation for kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MAKING THE STATE PAY FOR POLITICAL THUNDER.

Trenton, Feb. 24. (Special.)—Criticism is being heard among State officials at the freedom with which some members of the Legislature pile up State expenses for political purposes. One illustration of the way the State is made to spend money in this connection was given a few days ago, when Assemblyman Donnelly, of Hudson County, introduced a copy of the Rapid Transit bill introduced in the Assembly an indentical bill introduced in the Senate a short time ago by Senator Fielder, of the same county.

Mr. Donnelly merely got a copy of the Fielder bill, as printed, and made the necessary change in the heading as to date and introducer, and then put the measure in the House. It was claimed that Assemblyman Donnelly hoped to reap some political advantage from having such a bill stand in his name. The measure fills twenty-six printed pages, and as under the rules of the Legislature, 400 copies of every bill are printed, Mr. Donnelly's political move will cost the State a considerable sum of money.

School Cost Lowered.

Westfield, Feb. 24.—Dr. Chauncey M. F. Egel, president of the Board of Education, is preparing a report of school conditions of the town as compared with other towns of the county and State. The board will ask for $1,000 less this year than last year. According to the statistics prepared by Dr. Egel, it costs the town $78.04 per pupil to run the schools. The cost in New York city is $98.13.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

THE GINGER JAR

Cheer up! The nipping cold here is no harder on the fingers than sticking the ends of them into foul tips at Marlin with the thermometer at 80.

McGraw wants to see a recruit named Peneifer Fullenwider. He has not arrived at camp with that name yet, but the contract bearing it was safely transported through the mail.

Hay is Princeton's champion gymnast, warbles a headline. What's in name?

In his fight with Johnny Kilbane, Abe Attell kept up a running fire of sarcasm and insulting remarks to get the new champion's goat. The loose talk failing, Attell gave an exhibition of his knowledge of the animal and outted the Cleveland lad over the eye.

Manager Somers of the Naps is being called all kinds of a philanthropist in Napland for letting George Stovall go to the Browns. The fans blame the owner for saying it was a trade. They call it a gift. St. Louis needed a first baseman and a leader with the stick like Stovall much more than a pitcher like George. First base has been a tough problem for the Brown pilots for some time.

It now really looks safe to sing, "Good-bye Dolly Gray."

Henry Groh, a Rochester boy, has packed his grip and gone to join McGraw's recruits. Hank was a whirlwind at short for Buffalo last season, until typhoid fever laid him low, but he has fully recovered his strength and gives the tip that when McGraw announces his lineup on opening day the bugs will see the name of Groh shortstop there, says a dispatch. He may have fully recovered his strength, but there are still traces of delirium.

Harry Wolverton will leave for Atlanta, Ga., at the end of next week. He wishes to have at least a week's start on his clan both to get into pretty fair shape and to have everything in fit shape for his boys when they show up. This is most cruel. The rookies hate to leave, even if quarters are uncomfortable.

The citizen who first penned "There is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip" never saw "Bugs" Raymond in action.

In addition to being a star pitcher, a crack shot, and a fairly good hitter, "Chief" Bender is now developing into a first-rate boxing referee.

The big fellows are certainly up against some tough luck in getting started in spring training. First the Giants' luggage went astray and yesterday it was discovered that the keys to the Athletics' trunks were lost.

NO MATCH FOR GIBBONS.

Willie Lewis Loses Claim to Welterweight Championship.

New York, Feb. 24.—Willie Lewis, the local welterweight, who once claimed the world's championship, was knocked out in the second round by Mike Gibbons of St. Paul at the Empire Athletic club in Harlem casino.

Lewis was no match for the wonderful western boxer. He could not land his heavy swings and also found it impossible to defend himself when Gibbons went after him. Gibbons outboxed, outfeinted and onfisugged Lew is from start to finish.

Tinker May Play Third For Cubs.

Joe Tinker, the Cubs' shortstop, upon his return to Chicago last night from a tour of the Western States made the announcement that he might be seen at third base during the coming season. Tinker said he had found a recruit for the shortstop position in Orr, and that he believes the line-up of the infield may be changed. He says he is anxious to make the change, and with Zimmerman holding out and the playing of Lennox in doubt he believes he may be given the opportunity.

College Crews at Work.

Cornell has nine varsity eights at work on the crew machines under Coach Courtney and Ellis Ward is directing almost as many combinations at the University of Pennsylvania.

Tiger Five Closes Season.

Princeton, Feb. 24.—Princeton defeated Yale at basketball Thursday night by the score of 24 to 16. Princeton ended the season in fifth place with Yale last.

—It takes a lot of sand for the grocer to make his weigh in the world.

MELVIN W. SHEPPARD, THE SPRINTER, AGAIN O. K.

Melvin W. Sheppard, the sprinter, was sworn in Monday night as a member of the Fourteenth Regiment, Brooklyn, having obtained the consent of Colonel W. B. Hotchkiss, of the Twenty-second Regiment, New York. This now leaves Sheppard free to compete as a member of the regiment or of the Irish-American A. C. in any of the sports held in local and other armories allied with the National Guard.

His first appearance was at the Pastime A. C. meet Wednesday night in the Twenty-second Regiment Armory in New York. He received a warm welcome and was a prominent contender in several events.

PLAINFIELD DOGS LARGE WINNERS AT PALACE SHOW

The Palace Dog Show in New York, which closed last night, was one of the most successful shows as well as one of the largest ever given in this country. A number of Plainfield dogs were exhibited and amongst these the Meadowview kennel entries of English setters were large winners, as were also the Borcas kennel wolf hounds and the Midlothian kennel deer hounds.

Besides a number of class wins, the Meadowview entries won the money special for brace and team classes and Louis S. Thompson's cup for the best English setter in the show, defeating English importations of the last year. Also the Lockwood cup for best brood bitch showing two of her produce; the Kompolite special for best team of 4 English, Gordon or Irish setters, and the bronze medal for winning dog and bitch, offered by the English Setter Club of America.

Ralph C. English, one of the most prominent of the central western judges, officiated, this being his first appearance in New York, but from the satisfactory character of his work, which was of the highest order, he will very likely be called upon to act again. There were more than 3,000 entries shown and the appearance of the Palace was most beautiful at night.

HOBOKEN ELKS TOOK TWO GAMES FROM PLAINFIELD

History did not repeat at Hoboken last night in the match between the Plainfield and Hoboken Elks, and as a result the locals are holding first position now by a fractional average less than one game. They only won one game, the last. Heretofore they have always annexed two. The first two were taken away by the German's in a walk.

Paterson rolling at Rutherford dropped three straight, tying Rutherford for third place with Elizabeth.

None of the "Big Five" shot to form, consequently their individual averages suffered. Campbell slipped to third place, Starr, of New York, passing Johnny and Miller, the star of the Hoboken five, who has been holding the lead. Miller did not do his usual pinning either. Captain Blatz was the only local toppler to break into the double century.

In the tenth frame in the third game, which was by far, the most exciting for the large gallery present, both teams were even. Schneider lost the game for the Germans and was roundly roasted for it as, "take all three" had been their slogan.

The scores:

RUTGERS COLLEGE GYM TEAM OPENS SEASON TONIGHT.

The Rutgers College gymnasium team will begin the season tomorrow night at Newark in a dual meet with the Columbia University squad in the Ballantine gymnasium.

Rutgers has a first-class squad of men practising in the gym daily, and it is believed by the manager and coaches that the Scarlet men have at least an even chance against their opponents. Physical Instructor Dodge assisted at times by H. S. Gies, '07, formerly at Newark, and Thompson, '08, is coaching the team.

It is hoped that Rutgers can equal or better last year's fine showing in the intercollegiates, when she took a second place. The team will meet Lehigh on March 2 and New York University on March 9, both at New Brunswick.

CARLSTROM AGAIN SIGNED TO PLAY WITH LAWRENCE

Albin Carlstrom will be back with the Lawrence, New England League club again next year, according to the latest report which states that he has signed his contract and that Manager Pieper intends to use him at first base instead of at short. His return to Lawrence is a surprise to the local fans who noted his advent to major company last fall with great satisfaction.

Carlstrom was shortstop on the Plainfield team for two seasons and in the latter part of 1910 went to Lawrence, where his work was so satisfactory as to win him a place on the same time in 1911. Toward the close of the New England league season he was taken over by the Washington American League club and played three games at the national capital, performing brilliantly at short. He followed the team on its last trip around the circuit and then returned to his home at Elizabeth, where he played Sunday games with the Tabs.

Now comes the first intimation that he will not be retained by Washington. It is also announced that "Flick" Luyster, another Elizabeth player well known here, who has been with Lawrence for several seasons, has signed with that team for another term. Luyster is a pitcher and was formerly with the old Elizabeth Stars and also the Elizabeth Atlantic League club. Like "Carl" he wound up last year in the Sunday games with the Tabs. It was generally understood that he would travel this season with the Jersey City International League club.

SHAMROCKS WON ALL THREE IN FRATERNAL LEAGUE MATCH.

The Shamrocks had no trouble in taking three straight from the Moose quintet in the Fraternal League match rolled on the Olympia alleys last night. Taylor, of the Knights, was high man for the session although some good pinning was done by members of each five.

FLEMINGTON COUNTRY CLUB'S MEETING AND ELECTION.

Flemington, Feb. 24.—The Flemington Country Club held its annual meeting in the grand jury room Wednesday evening, when the following officers were elected: President, George H. Bloom; first vice president, George W. Dean; second vice president, Thomas Bloomer; secretary, George R. Parker; treasurer, Frank E. Green; directors, Dr. C. S. Harris, Rev. H. H. Brown, Asher B. Stryker, Raymond H. Britton, George H. Bloom, George W. Dean, Thomas Bloomer, George R. Parker and Frank E. Green. The report of the treasurer showed that the club, which was organized less than a year ago, has a balance of $339.27, with all bills paid. The club will give an entertainment in the opera house next Tuesday evening.

It was decided to continue the borough league during the year and to open the season Saturday, May 11. The teams to be in the league are the Presbyterian Brotherhood, St. Mary's R. C. team, Wickcheoche Tribe, I. O. R. M., and the Baptist and Methodist baseball teams.

NEW FEATHER WEIGHT CHAMPION'S CAREER

Cleveland, O., Feb. 24.—Two years ago Johnny Kilbane, the new feather-weight campion, scarcely was known outside of Cleveland. He had been a contestant in minor bouts since 1905, but it was not until the fighting game opened in several northern Ohio towns in the winter of 1909-10 that he really began to attract attention.

First Kilbane met and conquered the best boys of this vicinity. Then importations were made from the East and West. When Tom McCarey in 1910, promulgated his elimination contest at Los Angeles, by which was to be decided who of the native feather-weights would have the right to meet Abe Attell for the championship, he was a logical entrant.

Kilbane decisively defeated Joe Rivers, Patsy Kline and Frank Conley, his close rivals, thus earning the right to meet Attell in the battle for the championship.

Johnny Kilbane was born and reared in Cleveland. He will be twenty-three years old on April 18. He is married and has a baby daughter Mary Coletta. His habits are of the best; he is a strict church member and is devoted to his family. He is the support of his blind father.

THE FORUM.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

As a contributor to the recent hospital campaign fund, will you allow me space to express my approval of Edward C. Pearson's letter in your issue of yesterday, in relation to the publishing of the so-called contributing honor roll. Such an action is entirely unnecessary and a needless expense. Those who gave to the cause did so out of pure good will toward the institution and do not seek credit for their share in the splendid result. Those who were unable to give at this time may do so later and so the campaign officials should see it in that light and never mind any partial and incomplete "honor" roll. Mr. Pearson voices the opinion of hundreds of contributors.

ONE WHO GAVE.

BLUE RIBBON FOWL MAKES WILD BREAK FOR FREEDOM

A $350 prize winning fowl, owned by Rufus Delafield, gave South Plainfield a Washington Day event that was not on the program of the day. The chicken broke out of the crate in which it was placed for shipment and letf standing on the platform at the express office.

Taking to the tracks the blue ribboner lit out at a merry clip. Of course the wind helped some and with the gale's assistance, it was giving the men and boys in pursuit the chase of their lives. Robert Hamiltom and Morris Mann were leading over the field, and were about to close in, when Mann stumbled over Hamilton's feet, and, in falling, landed on the chicken. Mr. Delafield thanked the fall-down catcher profusely. The fowl was none the worse for its run and capture when returned to the crate.

BOY FINDS "UNLOADED" GUN, KILLS PLAYMATE.

Rahway, Feb. 24.—A bullet from an old musket, supposedly unloaded, caused the death of Joseph W. Hally, twelve years old. The weapon was in the hands of Ernest Mintel third, a playmate, about the same age, who had snapped the hammer in fun.

Ernest and a younger brother, Joseph, were playing in the cellar at the Hally home, 125 East Grand street. The Hally boy was descending the cellar steps, and Ernest, having discovered the gun, pointed it at the approaching lad. He cocked the musket and to make the "shooting" more realistic, pulled the trigger to make the gun "click" as he expected.

An explosion followed and the Hally lad dropped. His frightened comrades went for help, but when a physician arrived he declared that the victim had been instantly killed.

Fruit Shortage Predicted.

Lecturing before the Union County Board of Agriculture on the spraying of fruit trees, Professor A. J. Farley, of Rutgers College, expressed the opinion that the severe winter had killed about fifty per cent. of the fruit buds and urged the spraying of the trees to save the remainder of the fruit from the insects. He advocated the adoption of a law compelling owners of orchards to spray their trees.

Train Victim Identified.

Rahway, Feb. 23.—The man killed here on the Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday night has been identified as Alfred Naylor, of Delaware. He had been employed at the Colonia Inn and was to go to the McGraw Construction Company today. Nothis known of his family.

Took Hold of Live Wire.

Woodbridge, Feb. 24.—Physicians decided yesterday to Amputate Alexander Toth's index finger on account of burns received by coming in contact with a live wire. Toth, who is twenty-five years old, lives at 73 Grove street. He was on his way home from work Wednesday when a loose electric wire blew on the back of his neck. He grabbed the live wire and was thrown down and became unconscious.

"I'm Not Married,"

I don't need insurance," a young man told a Prudential Agent recently. The Agent replied that it was only a matter of time when he would probably marry, that a policy would cost him less now---that he could in one policy combine saving for his own benefit and protect himself and his wife if he is married, and that it was advisable to secure the policy while sure of good health. The young man was convinced and applied for a 20-Year Endowment policy in

Is Music made by REASON Or by INSTINCT?

PLAYER pianos could be made to run like music boxes, when turned on, if people wanted them like that.

But people don't. More than half the joy of having a player piano lies in the pleasure of Personal Expression.

This pleasure can be had only in two ways: by working numerous "interpreting" devices, or by Instinctive control the Virtuolo way.

But how much more pleasure there is in expressing yourself, impulsively and instinctively, than there is in manipulating machinery!

We think that musical expression has to do with Feelings, Emotions, Passions, and that these things have nought to do with mechanical devices, but are things that rise and fall and flow from human beings instinctively.

Instead of trying to force you to walk a figurative tight-rope of fixed interpretation, the Virtuolo aims to lead you to express yourself in your own instinctive way—to let your instinct for expression be stirred into flame.

Four sensitive buttons to touch—that is all!

They respond to your musical desires like nerves in your own finger-tips! How this is done is too much to try to tell in advertisements. The best way to explain it is to let your fingers rest on the four expression buttons, and let the Virtuolo itself, tell you the marvels of instinctive playing. If you do this at the store where Virtuolos are sold, you will sell the Virtuolo to yourself.

VIRTUOLO

THE NEW INSTINCTIVE PLAYER PIANO

PRICES AND TERMS

(East of the Rocky Mountains)

The Virtuolo in Hallet & Davis Piano, special mahogany case, Colonial design, complete, $700. In Hallet & Davis Piano, Arts-and-Crafts case, $775. The Virtuolo in Conway Piano, mahogany or walnut, $575. In Lexington Player Piano, $450 to $485.

Terms: Three years in which to pay, if you desire. Simple interest on deferred payments. Pianos and ordinary player pianos taken in exchange at fair valuation.

"THE INNER BEAUTY"

(Send for FREE copy)

It tells how the new Virtuolo is designed to call forth your expressive instinct and respond to it. Tells how music is a language by which the composer tells you of his feelings, thoughts, imaginations. It is a book extraordinary. Richly illustrated with the world's most famous paintings inspired by music.

If you send for a copy today you'll be glad you didn't forget to send for it.

PIANOS—MANY MAKES

Hallet & Davis Pianos pre-eminent among artists since the immortal Franz Liszt praised them above all other pianos at the Paris Exposition, 1867. Price $700 up.

Conway Piano $500 up. Lexington Piano $250 up. Also fine pianos of all makes, accumulated in exchange for new Virtuolos. Terms. By our easy payments you can have your piano to play on while saving to pay for it. Write for Special Bargain Bulletin, or tell us the make and price you're looking for.

REGISTRATION AT COMING PRIMARY

Questions of Interest to Voters Are Decided by Attorney General Gaskill.

AFFIDAVIT PROVIDED FOR

Eligible Electors Who Didn't Vote at Last General Election May Express Presidential Preference by Complying With Special Form.

Questions relating to personal registration of voters for the coming Presidential preference primaries have been answered in an opinion given by Assistant Attorney-General Nelson B. Gaskill on the subject. His ruling refers both to the persons who will be required to actually file the affidavits required and the form of the affidavits.

The specific phrase of the act requiring construction by Mr. Gaskill is the opening part of Section 23 of the Geran law of last year, as follows:

"Any voter qualified to vote at a general election in this State, who did not vote at the general lection preceding any primary election to be held under this act for the selection of delegates to national conventions, may register for said primary election, and be entitled to vote thereat, by filing with the municipal clerk of his municipality, at least ten days prior to the day of the primary an affidavit in the form now required by law for registering voters for any general election."

The ruling of the assistant attorney-general is as follows:

"I beg to say that in my judgment this sentence means that any voter who was qualified to vote at a general election in this State, but who did not vote at the general election preceding any primary election to be held for the selection of delegates to national conventions, may register for such primary election and be entitled to vote thereat by filing with the municipal clerk of his municipality, at least ten days prior to the day of the primary, an affidavit made by some voter, in the election district in which the right to vote is claimed, to the effect that such person claiming the right to vote is in fact a legal voter within such election district.

"This affidavit must be a separate affidavit in the case of each application for registry; must contain the address of the affiant, and be signed by him. It is quite clear to me that the words 'may register' indicate that the registration must be consummated by the personal action of the voter desiring to be registered, and the affidavit may not be presented by any one else on his behalf.

"It is true that the act does not specifically provide the method of transmission of such affidavits by the municipal clerk to the Board of Registry and Election for use in making up the primary registry list, but the intent of the statute is quite clear that the voter shall be entitled to be entered upon the registry list by the Board of Registry and Election as a result of filing the prescribed affidavit with his municipal clerk; and it is, therefore, incumbent upon the said municipal clerk, when the period of 'ten days prior to the day of the primary' has elapsed, to transmit to the Board of Registry and Election of the various election districts within the municipality of which he is clerk, the affidavits which have been thus filed with him in order that the purpose of the statute may be carried out.

"As explanation of the conditions of the affidavit above referred to, I beg to say that the phrase 'an affidavit in the form now required by law for registering voters for any general elections' refers to paragraphs 21, 24, 32 and 35 of the election law pamphlet of 1911 as issued by the Secretary of State."

Darkness Checks Service.

Just at the commencement of the service at the First M. E. church, last night, an electric fuse blew out in the basement of the church, throwing the edifice in darkness. An electrician was summoned at once and the trouble was remedied within a short time so that there was no further interruption in the service.

FALLING PULLEY LAYS SEVEN-YEAR-OLD LOW

Samuel Lavere Paralyzed, and May be Suffering From a Broken Back--Specialist Called in to Save His Life.

Samuel Lavere, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Lavere, of Duer street, is in Muhlenberg Hospital in a critical condition, paralyzed on both sides, as the result of having been struck Saturday afternoon by a pulley that fell from the roof of a new house in course of construction at Summit avenue and Somerset street. It is feared that one or more of his spinal vertebrae are fractured.

The boy did not regain consciousness for several hours after being taken to his home. Yesterday morning he was removed to the hospital at the direction of Dr. A. H. Dundon. Dr. Albee, of New York, a widely known specialist, has been called into the case to assist him.

Samuel with a number of others, was playing about the new building in defiance of warnings from the workmen. In some manner the fastenings of the projecting beam from which a pully was suspended from the roof became loosened and the heavy iron pulley and timber hurtled down on the boy.

Chief Weiss investigated the cause of the accident, and found that it was not due to any negligence of the contractor or his men.

The boy was resting easy this afternoon with chances even for his recovery, unless internal injuries develop.

NEW TIME CARD BETTERS SERVICE

In the wholesale changes just made by the New Jersey Central in the local time-table as well as the through line, Plainfield patrons are materially affected. The new schedule went into effect at noon yesterday. While there is dissatisfaction over some of the changes, chiefly in the order which took off the matinee train from New York, which reached Netherwood station at 6 o'clock, there is an impression that in general the train service has been improved so far as Plainfield is concerned.

These changes have been made in the eastbound trains, beginning in the morning, the time being given at the North Avenue station: 7:25 now 7:22; 7:45 now 7:44; 10:11 now 9:53; 9:59 now 10:20; 1:11 now 12:58; 1:25 now 1:47; 3:11 now 2:55; 2:43 now 3:17; 4:40 now 4:36; 7:33 now 7:35. The other fast trains remain the same, and the Harrisburg train at 11:49 noon, as well as the 5:17, 6:13 and 6:29 are as before.

These changes have been made in the westbound trains from the North Avenue station, beginning in the morning: 7:03 now 6:42 to Philadelphia; 8:45, B. & O., stops on signal; 9:03 to 8:51, regular stop for Trenton and Philadelphia; 9:28 to 9:18, Somerville and Flemington; 11:48 to 11:53 to Trenton and Philadelphia; 12:38, Dunellen local, off; 2:17 to 2:56, Trenton and Philadelphia; 3:51 to 3:52, to Somerville; 5:57 to 5:58, to Somerville; 6:12 to 6:14 to Dunellen; 6:33 to 6:41 to Dunellen; 6:38 to Somerville; 6:59 to Easton; 6:43 to 6:48, Dunellen local; 7:02, Dunellen local, off; 7:12 to 7:16 to Somerville; 7:21 to 7:31 to Somerville; 8:08 to 8:14 to Somerville; 8:47 to Philadelphia; no change in trains to Harrisburg.

SCARLET FEVER INCREASE NOT CAUSE FOR ALARM.

During the past few days there have been reported to the Board of Health several cases of scarlet fever, chiefly from the West End. The Board of Health says that there is nothing unusual about this, because at this time of the year the fever is prevalent. There are now five cases in the isolation ward at Muhlenberg Hospital, mostly young people. Three of that number were admitted today. Since January 1 fifteen cases of scarlet fever have been reported to the Board of Health. Health Officer John O'Brien has thus far been unable to trace the source of the infection.

Ladies' Aid Cake Sale.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Netherwood Reformed church held a cake sale Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Angus Kennedy on Leland avenue. Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Amos Andrews and Mrs. Peter H. Wood were in charge of the sale, which netted $8 for the society.

AGRICULTURE LURE FOR SCHOOL PUPILS

Sen. Martine Thinks Government Seeds May Sprout in Young Plainfield's Psychos.

SENDS BATCHES TO MAXSON

For distribution to Pupils, Who Can Show Appreciation of the Senatorial Idea By Becoming Producers As Well As Consumers.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Feb. 26.—As an experiment in getting practical results from his Government seed allotment Senator Martine is supplying about 3,500 packages each of vegetable and flower seeds for distribution among the public school children in Plainfield. Superintendent Maxson, of the Plainfield public schools, was delighted at the opportunity of affording the pupils a chance of doing something practical in the cultivation of the soil.

Mr. Martine says that if the Plainfield experiment works out successfully this year he will enlarge the field of school seed distribution next year. He will personally size up the situation while at home in Plainfield by inspecting the flower beds and garden spots where the seeds have been planted by the children.

"My aim in sending the seeds to the public schools of Plainfield," explained Mr. Martine, "is to try to help make the children of my town producers as well as consumers. Contact with the soil, as it will come about in the interest which they will have in seeing their seeds grow to fruition, will be not only healthful and entertaining for them, but also may, I hope, start them on the road to becoming successful agriculturists."

Between now and the first of April residents of New Jersey, through the courtesy of their members of Congress, will be the recipients of one million and a half packages of government seeds distributed by the Agricultural Department. To be exact, New Jersey's quota of seeds, based on individual packages is 1,584,000, or 132,000 packages to each Senator and member of the House of Representatives. However, as prepared for shipment, six varieties of vegetable or flower seeds are assembled in a larger package, so that when they are finally distributed the Congressmen are limited to the use of 22,000 packages.

Various methods are invoked by the members of the New Jersey delegation to distribute their allotment of seeds. Several of the Representatives are sending out the seeds to individual names, which entails an enormous amount of work addressing franks. Others are sending the seeds out in lots of 100 or more packages to friends in their respective districts for distribution in their several neighborhoods. This system is followed out with the idea that the seeds receive a more discriminate distribution in this way than they would if addressed directly by the Congressman, who could not personally know but a small percentage of those whom he was favoring and whether or not they would make good use of the seeds.

Each one of the Jersey Congressmen is retaining enough packages of seeds out of his allotment to supplyall requests by mail for them, and citizens of the State who wish to be favored with the prime requisite for either a flower-bed or a garden patch can be accommodated by addressing either one of the Senators or House Representatives from their district.

Hastens to Mother's Bedside.

Miss Bertha B. Jarvis, of East Front street, left yesterday for Los Angeles, Cal., in response to a telegram informing her of the serious illness of her mother, who resides in a suburb of that city. She will remain on the Pacific coast in attendance on the patient and may possibly locate in or near Los Angeles permanently. Miss Jarvis was formerly supervisor of the operating room at Muhlenberg Hospital, but for the past three years has been engaged in private nursing in Plainfield.

COLONEL FOLLOWS HIS HAT INTO RING

Former President in Reply to Governors' Letter Says Would Take Nomination.

AWAITS CONVENTION'S CHOICE

Hopes People Will be Given a Chance to State Preference at Primaries —How He Split with Taft—No Third Party Declares T. R.

New York, Feb. 26.—"I will accept the nomination for president if it is tendered to me," Colonel Roosevelt tells the several governors who asked him a fortnight ago to be frank about it as soon as convenient. This is the letter:

"New York, Feb. 24.

"Gentlemen—I deeply appreciate your letter, and I realize to the full the heavy responsibility it puts upon me, expressing as it does the carefully considered convictions of the men elected by popular vote to stand as the heads of government in their several states.

"I absolutely agree with you that this matter is not one to be decided with any reference to the personal preferences or interests of any man, but purely from the standpoint of the interests of the people as a whole. I will accept the nomination for president if it is tendered to me, and I will adhere to this decision until the convention has expressed its preference. One of the chief principles for which I have stood and for which I now stand and which I have always endeavored and always shall endeavor to reduce to action is the genuine rule of the people, and therefore I hope that so far as possible the people may be given the chance through direct primaries to express their preference as to who shall be the nominee of the Republican presidential convention. Very truly yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

The governors to whom the reply is made are William E. Glasscock of West Virginia, Chester L. Aldrich of Nebraska, Robert P. Bass of New Hampshire, Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming, Chase S. Osborn of Michigan, W. R. Stubbs of Kansas and Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri.

HOW TAFT AND T. R. SPLIT.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The newspapers of March 5, 1909, recorded an impressive scene that had taken place in the senate chamber just after William H. Taft had been sworn in as president of the United States.

"Then the ex-president," says the Sun's account of the inauguration, "started to leave the chamber with Senator Knox as escort. As he passed around the rostrum Mr. Taft was coming down. Mr. Roosevelt ran up the steps and grasped the president by the shoulders. The president grasped his predecessor in the same way. For a second they hugged each other and then shook hands vigorously."

This occurrence was recalled by hundreds in Washington when it became known that Roosevelt has entered the race for the 1912 nomination, and the questions were asked:

"What is the explanation? What has brought about the change in the relations between these two men?"

The irritation on the colonel's part, so his friends say, began even before Mr. Taft had been installed at the White House. When Mr. Taft was making up his cabinet Roosevelt is understood to have made only one suggestion, and that was that William Loeb, Jr., who had served for years as Roosevelt's secretary, should have a place in the Taft cabinet. The assertion was being made that Roosevelt, having nominated Taft and having contributed largely to his election, would in considerable measure dictate the affairs of the administration. It was chiefly to put an end to these rumors and establish the Taft administration on its own basis that the president turned Loeb down as a cabinet possibility. He offered Mr. Roosevelt's secretary any other executive office

SPECIAL OFFERS MAKE CONTESTANTS GET BUSY

The Diamond Ring and Four Gold Watches as Extra Inducements Will Cause a Lively Struggle Among Rival Candidates.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENT OFFER!

ONE Solitaire Diamond Ring, Pure White Perfect Stone—over ¼ karat—any setting.

FOUR Ladies' Solid Gold Watches, choice of Elgin or Waltham movement.

The contestant in each of the five districts whose vote shows the greatest gain during the next three weeks, beginning with next Monday morning, February 26, and continuing to Saturday evening, March 16, at 10:30 o'clock, will be awarded one of these handsome jewelry prizes.

The contestant in the district polling the highest vote of all during this period will receive the Solitaire Diamond Ring.

The other district leaders will be given the Solid Gold Watches.

All votes cast for the special prizes count also for the tours.

LICENSES FOR ALL EXCEPT GLOEKLER

That is Expected to be the Outcome of Council Meeting Tonight.

STRONG PROTESTS PLANNED

Endeavorers to Appear in Force at the Session, and W. C. T. U. and Ministers Will Be Represented—Gloekler Their Chief Target.

The Common Council at an adjourned meeting tonight will act upon the several applications for liquor licenses. It is expected that all of the applications with the exception of Christian Gloekler's will be granted.

For the purpose of protesting against the granting of Mr. Gloekler's application, Christian Endeavorers and Epworth Leaguers of the city, as well as representatives of the Plainfield Ministers' Association and W. C. T. U. will attend the meeting. The Endeavorers hope to show the strength of the organization numerically and influence the Council thereby to refuse the Gloekler application.

Of course, the Endeavorers and other religious organizations are opposed to the granting of any liquor applications, and their protest will undoubtedly be drafted to cover all, but it is the particular aim to prevent, if possible, the granting of a license to Gloekler, not that there is any feeling against the later, but they are of the opinion that it is far better for the interest of the city not to have a saloon at Front and Somerset streets, the gateway to North Plainfield and one of the busiest corners in the business section.

Councilman George S. Clay, of the license committee, expected to visit the corner Saturday night and personally investigate conditions, but another engagement prevented. Mr. Gloekler informed the committee that the conditions complained of about his corner were as bad now as when he conducted a saloon, and Mr. Clay wanted to look into this feature of the matter.

Well, it did make quite a stir, didn't it?—that announcement by the Daily Press Saturday of the five big special prizes to be given to those contestants whose vote shows the greatest gain from today until Saturday night, March 16.

This offer has been received with general satisfaction by the young women in the Daily Press European Tour contest, and especially so by those who solely on account of their recent inactivity, may be called the minor contestants. Not having made much, if any personal effort to obtain new subscribers or to induce the present ones to pay in advance, these contestants' immediate neighborhood is still a virgin field—ready to supply its harvest of voters as soon as the young women will show that they are energetic reapers.

Every contestant starts today on an equal footing for these special prizes, as all votes heretofore cast will have no bearing whatsover. But remember that this is merely an extra inducement, a present. If you will, to the contestant in each district whose vote shows the greatest gain during the next three weeks. Every one of these prizes is thoroughly reliable and guaranteed by the leading jewelers of Plainfield to be of the finest quality. Of course all votes cast during the period will count for the European tours, just as if the special period had not intervened.

In all five of the contest districts were heard expressions such as "I am going to to try for one of these special prizes," coming mainly from those whose vote standing is not so high as that of their fellow candidates, and as a result of such determination we may expect that this opportunity will develop into real, live contestants many of whom have heretofore appeared dormant of action or passive as to their qualifications. While these may seemingly be striving only for the temporary period prizes, they will all the time have their eyes on the main chance —the winning of one of the European tours. The Tour Department manager cannot imagine a happier

HALF-MINUTE INTERVIEWS ON TAFT AND ROOSEVELT

Former Judge Nelson Runyon—Mr. Taft has done more for the good of the common people than any President we have ever had accomplished during the same space of time. That Columbus speech of Mr. Roosevelt filled me with horror; I can't understand what he is thinking of. It's simply awful.

Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton—I think that the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt will complicate the situation without relieving it. Personally I consider that Mr. Taft is entitled to the nomination, but I believe it would be hard to elect him. I am also doubtful whether Mr. Roosevelt can be elected, in spite of his immense and unique popularity. He will find a deep and widespread aversion to the third term idea. This added to other troubles in the Republican party, I believe, will carry down even so redoubtable a leader as Roosevelt.

Former State Senator E. R. Ackerman—I'm for Taft.

George P. Mellick—I feel that the friends of President Taft have every reason to feel confidence of his being the party's choice at the National Republican convention. "From the standpoint of the interests of the people as a whole," William H. Taft should be returned to the Presidential chair, and I believe every day he is winning a larger number of people to his support.

Former City Chairman W. L. Hetfield, Jr.—The sentiment here in Plainfield, the home of men of affairs and influence, is very strongly in favor of Taft and more strongly against Roosevelt. I think that's true all through New Jersey.

Mayor G. W. V. Moy—I believe the rank and file in this county want Roosevelt. The "third term" scare to my mind is not a matter of serious moment. It is a question of a "case and a remedy." If the people want Roosevelt they are entitled to have him. I think Taft has made a tremendous error in calling the independent voters of this country names. Every man is entitled to his opinion and you are unlikely to change it by abusing him.

CALM DAYLIGHT BURGLAR AT WORK

He Pays a Saturday Afternoon Visit to a Hobart Avenue House.

GOES AWAY EMPTY-HANDED

Because Mrs. Van Syckel Confronts Him Just as He Begins Leisurely Survey of Her Sideboard—Cops Get His Description.

Passersby and some of the residents of houses nearby saw a heavy-set man in a long coat go up the steps of the residence of Lamar Van Syckel, 727 Hobart avenue, at 3:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon and try the door. Mrs. Van Syckel, alone, upstairs in the house, heard the rattle of the door and went down into the hall.

She saw the man peer in across the top of the door curtain. Then the face disappeared. Mrs. Van Syckel thought it was someone who had made a mistake in the house, realized his error and gone. She went back upstairs.

A few minutes later she heard a noise in the diningroom. Going halfway down the stairs, she looked into the diningroom. The heavy-set man was standing before the sideboard.

"What are you doing in my house?" demanded Mrs. VanSyckel.

"I've got a message for you from the Central Telephone Company," answered the man.

Mrs. Van Syckel ran back to her room, where a telephone hangs, locked the door and started calling up police headquarters. She had trouble getting the connection, and running to a window called for help. J. P. W. Taylor, a neighbor, responded.

When he got to the house the heavy-set man had disappeared. An open side window with a broken catch, which had been forced with a chisel, showed how he got in. Chisel marks on a rear door showed where he had failed to force entrance before he turned to the window.

Nothing was missing from the house. To get into the diningroom the man had to pass a dog. The animal gave no alarm.

The man is described as a blonde, about five feet ten inches tall, with a smooth face and pointed jaw. His trousers below the long coat hung as if they were baggy. He had a roll of newspapers in his pocket. The police have his description.

HIS MAMMY'S STOCKING YIELDS $400 CASH BAIL

After being told that her son, Henry Williams, colored, of Cottage place, had been held under $400 bail for trial on the charge lodged against him by Fred Becker, overseer of the poor of North Plainfield, on complaint of Ruth Johnson, colored, seventeen years old, of Harmony street, the mother turned her back, gave several tugs at her stocking and drew out a roll of bills containing $450.

When Chief Weiss had recovered from his surprise he counted out the bail, and mother and son left the court together.

The trial was set down for Wednesday March 6, and will be before a jury. City Judge William G. DeMeza has been retained to defend Williams.

Mormon Hearing Laid Over.

The trial of Albert Newman and Arthur Horsley, the Mormon missionaries arrested in January for distributing literature in alleged violation of a city ordinance, was called in the city court this afternoon, but on motion of Harry C. Runyon, acting corporation counsel, was set over until May 15. At that time Corporation Counsel William Stillanm, who has all the papers in the case, will have returned.

"The Goose Girl" Tonight.

It is said by eye witnesses, the production of "The Goose Girl," both in a scenic and costume way, is one of the handsomest ever offered. It will be seen at the Plainfield theatre tonight. This can be readily accounted for, as the period and locale of the play, while of the present time, is situated in a Duchy of Austrian Tyrole, where fifteenth century costuming is still extant.

Mrs. John Jennings, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Giles, Sunday.

Mrs. H. M. Herbert spent several days in Camden last week.

Durability of Steel.

Nearly all the failures of steel occur very early in its history. A bar or a plate of steel that lasts a year in service may be regarded as perfectly durable. Continual bending backward and forward, as in what is called "panting" a boiler's end, is the most trying for steel which, according to an expert, is "tumultuous in youth, trustworthy in middle age and beyond reproach in old age."

The Running Gear.

"You say you have a new musical comedy?" asks the manager. "Have you a scenario of it?"

"Yes. I brought it along," answers the author, producing a collapsible evening hat, a seltzer bottle, a set of eccentric whiskers, pink silk tights, an artificial nose and a German dialect joke.—Life.

Deep Sea Life.

Animal life, existing under a pressure of five and a half tons to the square inch, has been found in the Tonga basin, near New Zealand, at a depth of four and three-quarter miles. The greatest ocean depth known is less than a mile deeper.

It is a great deal easier to teach an old dog new tricks than it is to make him forget his old ones.

With the Approach of Spring

Your thoughts naturally turn to Dress and the Fashions. We, as the servants of the public, have had this all important question before us for some considerable time, preparing for the opening up of the season and the accompanying demand for new Apparel, Fabrics, Accessories, etc., by judicious purchasing of what our past experience tells us you will require in the way of quality merchandise. These new goods have been arriving daily for some weeks and we are in a position now to be able to offer for your selection many items which you should be requiring, all of which you will find are of the high quality always associated with this house.

Dress Goods and Silk Section

Consequent upon moving our Suit Department to the second floor this section has been greatly added to, giving us more shelving, enabling us to carry much larger and better assorted stocks. This means that you will have a wider range of pattern, color and quality to choose from, which you will find well exemplified in the showing of new goods for Spring which we are now making, which includes Messaline and Changeable Taffeta Silks, Cream and White Serge Suitings, Stripe and Check Suitings, Serges, Batistes, Broadcloths, and many other favored weaves to be worn this season.

The Women's and Children's Ready-to-Wear Dept.

Last fall, if you remember, we moved this section to our second floor, fitting up a large space as an up-to-date apparel department, with handsome, enclosed racks, shelving, etc., and also installing the necessary comforts for the welfare of our patrons. The success of that first season in the new location gives us the assurance of your approval and has prompted us to increase our stocks in every way, to buy larger and better assorted quantities and a wider range of qualities and price.

We are now showing many of the

in many styles—all of that dependable quality of make and material—thoroughly stylish and marked at prices which make highly commendable values, ranging up to $27.50.

Advance Styles in Spring Millinery

Always first with the new and seasonable goods—we have kept up our reputation by showing some of the earliest models in Tailored Spring Hats. We have just received part of another order and they are now out on the cases for your inspection and choosing. These include Helmet and Peachbasket shapes, in tailored styles; also many untrimmed shapes which can be made up to immediate wear.

Wash and White Fabrics

We have gained space in this section by the removal of our Apparel Department to the second floor and consequently have a wider and more varied assortment of qualities and patterns to offer you in all Wash and White Fabrics—New Lawns, Dimities, Swisses, Linenes, etc., Ginghams, Percales, Chambrays, Galateas and other colored goods, all of dependable quality and but moderately priced goods that will give you lots of satisfaction and for all and every use.

Housefurnishings

With the brighter days coming the diligent housewife is thinking of housecleaning and brightening up after the long winter. Our Housefurnishing section has been enlarged, enabling us to carry a better and bigger stock of Curtains, Portieres and Draperies, Cretonnes, Chintzs, Silkolenes, Burlaps and other articles and fabrics which you will be shortly needing and we desire you to bear this in mind when making your necessary purchases and pay us a visit.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

Rose Stahl in "Maggie Pepper" at Plainfield Theatre Next Monday Night.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"The Goose Girl" at the Plainfield theatre tonight, will present to its patrons Harold MacGrath's most successful dramatized novel, which for the past year has been one of the biggest sellers in the book world. The tremendous success and popularity of "The Goose Girl" is due not only to the well written dialogues, the well conceived plots, but to the clean, wholesome atmosphere with which the story is enveloped.

How Parchment Got Its Name.

The Greeks of Pergamus are said to have first prepared parchment from the skins of the goat or sheep. They were curried, deprived of all fat, thinned uniformly by the knife, dyed or whitened and finally rubbed down with pumice stone to a smooth and even surface. Called pergamenum from the city of its origin, the new material became parchemin in archaic French and parchment in the English tongue.—National Magazine.

Squeal and Bark.

"Nothing lost here but the squeal," declared the pork packer. "Are you as economical in conducting your business?"

"Just about," answered the visitor. "I'm in the lumber business. We waste nothing but the bark."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

It Fell.

"What's that racket down there?" shouted the old gentleman from the head of the stairs.

"I think," promptly replied his daughter, "that it was Bob dropping his voice when he proposed to me."—Detroit Free Press.

Reassuring Him.

"But," said the absolutely bald old party, "can I be assured that this horse is quite gentle?"

"My dear sir," replied the tricky dealer, "he wouldn't hurt a hair of your head."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Everything we endure patiently is a key to something beautiful we could never enter otherwise.

SALAZAR'S MEN TO ATTACK JUAREZ

Chieftain Will First Ask the Surrender of City.

GOMEZ ONLY MAN WANTED

Leader Emilio Campa Declares That He Believes Madero Would Resign Once the Vasquista Army Takes Juarez; Also That General Orozco Would Soon Join the Vasquistas.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 26.—It is expected that no attack will be made on Juarez today. There are only about 700 rebels in camp, and they are at Bauche, twelve miles south. Their leader, Inez Salazar, has not as yet reached the camp, and therefore no attack will be made until his arrival with more men.

The rebel chieftain in command declares that they will first demand the surrender of Juarez and that if the surrender is not made then they mean to attack. They have cannon with them, he says, and will plant the cannon northwest of Juarez and fire down the river parallel with El Paso, just as Madero did, so that none of the shots will fail in El Paso.

The leader, Emilio Campa, declared that he believed Madero would resign once the Vasquista army takes Juarez. He also declared that he believed General Orozco would soon join the Vasquistas; that the position of Orozco was becoming more compromised every day. Campa declared that the army was fighting for Vasquistas Gomez and wanted nobody else. If any of the shots fail in El Paso, the leaders declare, they will be from the rifles or rapid fire guns of the defenders of the town.

The leaders declare that it is their intention to take Juarez and hold it as a port of entry and then march southward to Chihuahua, Torreon and eventually the City of Mexico if their revolution does not triumph before they reach the national capital.

TO FREE BRANDT ON BAIL.

Grand Jury Investigate Queer Aspects of Noted Case.

New York, Feb. 26.—The grand jury now inquiring as to whether a conspiracy landed Folke E. Brandt in prison to serve a thirty year sentence will investigate two features of the case that have been newly brought to the attention of Attorney General Carmody and District Attorney Whitman. One is, why Brandt was suddenly transferred from Sing Sing to Dannemora, although his prison record was good. The other is, why Brandt was not permitted to write letters from Clinton prison until two years after his incarceration, when there was a change of wardens. Because of this second matter Brandt was not able to appeal to United States Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota until nearly two years of his sentence had been served in Clinton prison. Senator Nelson made an investigation immediately after he received a letter from Brandt, but took no action in the man's favor because he received an adverse report from a lawyer he had employed here to look up the facts. This lawyer wrote to Senator Nelson after talking with Howard S. Gans.

Carl Fischer-Hansen, who defended Brandt, will be examined today by the grand jury. It has become known that the grand jury may not wait to hear Brandt before returning three indictments now being considered.

Brandt will be released on bail today.

RAIN OR SNOW COMING.

Colder Weather of Short Duration, Weather Bureau Says.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The weather bureau issued the following weekly bulletin:

A disturbance central Sunday in the southwest will advance northeastward to the Ohio valley today and move thence to the St. Lawrence valley. It will be attended by general precipitation over the Mississippi valley and the region east thereof, the precipitation being in the form of rain in southern and snow and rain in northern states. This disturbance will be followed by a change to considerably colder weather over all districts east of the Rocky mountains, but it will be of short duration, and it is probable that rising temperature will overspread the plains states Tuesday and the eastern half of the country by the middle of the week.

The next general disturbance to cross the country will appear in the far west Wednesday or Thursday, cross the middle west about Friday and the eastern states near the close of the week. It will in all probability be attended by general rains although snows are likely in northern states.

Chicago Skyscraper Settles.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—The Masonic Temple, one of the highest buildings in the city, is reported to have sagged eight inches in the last six months. The tenants are said to fear for their safety whenever a high wind is blowing.

At 100 Chops Cord of Wood.

Vernon, Ind., Feb. 26.—Fielden Lett, 100, celebrated his century birthday by chopping a cord of wood.

—"Do you love me, darling?" she coaxed.

"Sweetheart, I love every hair on your bureau!" he feverently answered.—Gargoyle.

POLICE AND STRIKERS MIX AT LAWRENCE

Rioting In Mill Town Quickly Put Down by Militia.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 26.—There was a recurrence of strike rioting here and a clash with the police. An attempt was made to rescue a prisoner whom Police Sergeant Monahan had arrested for refusing to move on when ordered. A hurry call was sent to headquarters, bringing a squad of policemen, followed by a detail of militia. The soldiers helped to scatter the crowd.

The disturbances were not in any way connected with the exportation of children.

The city officials gave back to the parents most of the children taken in charge Saturday morning at the railroad station as they were about to be placed on a train en route for Philadelphia.

The parents will be called into court tomorrow to answer to charges of child neglect.

Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World said that another attempt would be made tomorrow or Wednesday to send children to homes which have been found for them in other cities, principally Philadelphia. All these homes have been investigated and found to be suitable, strike leaders say.

Meanwhile leaders have engaged counsel to ascertain whether their action is sanctioned by the law. They maintain that they have acted legally and that the authorities overstepped their rights in preventing the children's departure.

FOR 23 STORY HOTEL.

Vanderbilt Interests Plan Hostelry With Stores Underground.

New York, Feb. 26.—A hotel that will be twenty-three stories high and which will possess many novel features, among them stores underground, is to be erected on the block between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets and Madison and Vanderbilt avenues.

That it was the intention of the Vanderbilt interests further to improve this property by the erection of a hotel as part of the extensive scheme for covering the Grand Central railroad yards with gigantic buildings has been rumored for some time, but the first definite announcement is just made. The new hotel will not be over the tracks like the other buildings embraced in the scheme, but it will be over the new station and will connect directly with it underground. It is for this reason that underground shops have been planned for it.

EGAN IN A NEW ROLE.

Minister to Denmark Will Lecture on Farming In South.

New York, Feb. 26.—Maurice Francis Egan, United States minister to Denmark, it is learned here, will reach New York toward the last of April on his way to the south, where he is to make a lecture tour under the auspices of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Egan has been officially informed that he has been borrowed from the state department by the department of agriculture to tell the southerners how intensive farming is done in Denmark.

Mr. Egan was formerly professor of English in the Catholic university of America, at Washington, before he was appointed to the diplomatic service in 1907. He is well known as an author and essayist.

T. R.

The Colonel has "thrown his hat in the ring" as he tersely expressed his position a few days ago when questioned whether he was in a receptive mood for the Republican presidential nomination. Now he has cleared the atmosphere completely by coming out in his characteristic flat-footed way in his reply to the Governors who petitioned him to run. "I will accept the nomination for President if it is tendered to me and I will adhere to this decision until the convention has expressed its preference," he says. Mr. Roosevelt is a shrewd man. What the average citizen would overlook, is not to be lost sight of by him. That's why he wisely selected the Monday morning papers to make his announcement. He knew that news is dull for that day and that he would get the maximum space. He was shrewd also to say as much as possible in as few words as possible for he was aware that by so doing his utterance would attract more attention.

But all this is neither here nor there. What do the newspapers and what do the public think of T. R.'s declaration? As for the press in the East, if the New York papers be taken as a criterion, the former President is going to have bitter opposition. With possibly one exception and that one not a Republican paper, the Metropolitan press is fierce in its denunciation of him. As for the rank and file of the party in the East, opinion varies widely. Mr. Roosevelt has strong supporters and he has powerful opposition arraigned against him. It all depends upon one's point of view as to where the interests stand. Roosevelt's friends declare that the money interests are against him, while friends of the President are equally positive that the monopolies are back of the Roosevelt candidacy. The next few days will tell how the mass of Republican voters view the situation.

Here in our own town, where there *is an extraordinarily large and influ*ential commuter vote, the situation appears to be much one-sided. Go where you will, nine men out of ten are enthusiastic for Taft and they are correspondingly wrothy because T. R. has entered the lists against his former warm friend. Some go so far as to say that should Roosevelt land the nomination, which they feel sure that he will not, that they will vote for the Democratic nominee. It cannot be disputed that Union county at the present time is overwhelmingly for Taft and that the county organization is working "tooth and nail" to solidify the forces for Hamilton F. Kean, its choice for delegate to the National convention.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL.

Plainfield is much agitated just now over the question of sewage disposal. There is no disputing the fact that this is an important topic, but it is not a bit more important than that of the disposal of garbage and ashes under municipal control and supervision. The prices now being charged for such service by private contractors are out of all proportion to the amount which householders and property owners would be called upon to pay, were the work done by contract with the city, and paid for by taxation. We doubt whether there is another city the size of Plainfield in the State, or the United States for that matter, where the local situation on this all important topic is paralleled. The City Council should take up the matter at once, and in earnest. They would be astonished at the low figure which would be presented, were bids asked for, for the removal of this refuse. The privilege is one which many contracting firms seek, because of the revenue derived from the bottles, paper, etc., which can be salvaged. East Orange is a city of over 34,000 people, and yet a contract has been made for the disposal of garbage and ashes for the next three years at a cost of but $18,500 a year. That is an average of but fifty-four cents a person. Any school child can see that such method would mean a great saving to those who are now being held up at the rate of ten or fifteen cents a barrel for the removal of ashes, and a proportionate amount for garbage, papers, etc.

This question has been discussed for years and each time the discussion has come up it has ended in talk. It is time for action and the City Council should tackle the problem in earnest. Even if Plainfield had to pay as much as East Orange for such service, the amount per thousand each holder of real estate would have to pay would be slightly over eight cents, on last year's real estate valuation of $22,000,000. Plainfield, however, had 14,000 less inhabitants than East Orange in 1910, and the valuations were one-half of those in East Orange, so the amount per hundred would naturally be well below the eight cent mark.

*The tunnel service under the Hud*son River and the proposed extensions in New Jersey of fast electric roads in connection therewith will bring many places in New Jersey nearer to lower New York, time considered, than some parts of what is known as Greater New York. That will mean in the near future marked increases of population in northern counties of the State, particularly in Bergen, Essex, Union, Morris and Middlesex counties. It will be necessary to have a water supply to meet the demand. From whence will it come? What is being done in that direction? Why wait for a crisis? Why not follow the lead of New York in this direction and anticipate the future? Will it ever be necessary to go out of the State for a water supply?

Some action should be taken at once to protect and preserve the water of the State for future use of the people. A water supply to meet all demands will be a very serious *question for the people of New Jer*sey. Some direct and efficient plans ought to be immediately placed before the people for their prompt action.

Let the representatives of these counties in the Legislature impress on their colleagues the importance of this question. Wake up!

During the past week the New York Herald has been printing a series of articles, describing the freedom with which crooks are working in that city. A reporter for the Herald has been going about with police officers and these men have pointed the crooks out to him. In last week's Saturday Evening Post there appeared an article under the head of "Gaynorizing the Finest," which largely explains the cause of the present crime wave in the metropolis. It is pointed out that because of rules made by Mayor Gaynor, the men hardly know what to do about making arrests, for fear they will be criticized by their superiors, and possibly by the Mayor. It certainly seems that in case of doubt about crooks the best method to adopt is one of arresting on suspicion, and not the plan of waiting until a man is caught in the act. The crooks are certainly having a gay time of it in the metropolis, and whether justly or not the Mayor is getting the blame.

Thieves are showing more signs of discriminating intelligence every day. Over in Paterson someone broke into a butcher shop on Saturday and stole a loin of pork and a leg of mutton. No effort was made to rob the safe or cash drawer. That crook knew the true value of things, all right.

ONE MAN BASEBALL.

The Game as It Might Be Played on One of Mars' Moons.

According to Professor F. R. Moulton of the University of Chicago, one man is all that would be required to play a baseball game on Phobos, one of the two moons of Mars, provided the man could live in a place without atmosphere. Professor Moulton described the manner of play in addressing a church society on the "Earthlike Planets."

"Our one man team would first take the position of pitcher," he said, "and throw the ball horizontally. The ball would go all the way around the moon. He would then have time to get a bat and strike at it. If he missed it he could take his three strikes, then put on his mask, gloves and chest protector and catch himself out when the ball came around the fourth time.

"In case he hit the ball and it bounded he could play the part of an infielder by picking the ball up as it came bounding around the moon. He then could throw to first and catch himself out on the base as the ball came around again. If he hit a fly in place of a grounder he might draw on his glove and, playing the part of the center fielder, catch himself out. A strong batter might make a home run. This would mean that he struck the ball so hard that it went beyond the attraction of this moon and struck on the planet Mars. It would be what we call 'over the fence.'"—New York World.

Pepys as an Advertiser.

Pepys as a diarist we all know, but Pepys as an advertiser is unfamiliar. An advertisement from the London Post Boy of May 7, 1700, reproduced in "Notes and Queries," gives a list of articles stolen from his residence near Leicester square and offers a reward of 5 guineas for their recovery. It is interesting to note the changes in spelling wrought by a couple of centuries—"mortmantle trunk," "broadcloth coat," "black-silk wastcoat" and "two silk handkechiefs, red and blew." There were also "four laced neckclothes." What were they—collars in an early stage of evolution?—London Chronicle.

Logic.

The man who acts on impulse is frequently placed in a position that makes him wish he had not been so hasty. One man noticed that the friend with whom he was walking had drawn very close to a horse that wore a muzzle.

"Look out!" he cried. "That horse bites. Don't you see he's muzzled?"

"Yes," replied his friend calmly. "That's why I thought he couldn't bite."—Youth's Companion.

A BIT OF NAVAL HISTORY.

Origin of the Corps of Professors of Mathematics.

Before the Naval academy was established midshipmen received their education entirely on board ship. Their technical education was obtained in the school of experience, helped out occasionally by the voluntary efforts of the older line officers. Their general education was at first neglected, but later instructors were appointed for service on ships that carried midshipmen. These were appointed by the secretary of the navy for stated periods, much as civilian instructors at the Naval academy are appointed at the present time. In 1842 a general order was issued providing that they should live and mess with lieutenants. They were commissioned in 1848, but specific rank was not given them until the general reorganization of all staff corps during the civil war.

The late Professor H. H. Lockwood, U. S. N., in some very interesting reminiscences read before the Naval Academy Graduates' association in 1893 relates how the corps of professors of mathematics came to be formed. In the early days of the Naval academy he was one of its instructors. He had had service in the army, and in the development of the course of instruction he determined, after consultation with the superintendent, to give the midshipmen a little infantry drill. This did not suit the proud spirits of the young gentlemen of that day, and to show their disapproval of this and other efforts of the professor they hung him in effigy. An investigation and a court martial followed on the charge of insulting a superior officer.

The defense put up the plea that the instructor was not a superior officer. Such a condition is hard to understand at this time, when the status of officers, instructors and midshipmen at the Naval academy is well defined, but at that time midshipmen were officers, while instructors had no official standing. The plea was technically correct, and to punish the guilty midshipmen it was found necessary to substitute charges in which the anomalous position of the professor in the naval service could not be made to enter. Upon these the guilty midshipmen were condemned and punished.

This incident led to an amendment in the naval appropriation bill of 1848 giving authority for the commissioning of twelve professors of mathematics.—Commander U. T. Holmes in Engineering Magazine.

Concrete Stays Put.

As concrete gets older it becomes harder and more durable—that is, of course, if the concrete is properly made. The usual means of wrecking a house have not the slightest effect on concrete. The sledgehammer, the drill and dynamite must be used. Acids might be used to disintegrate the concrete, but the expense would be enormous. The only thing to do is to loosen the material with explosives and then break it free from the steel re-enforcement with sledgehammers, and that is a long, tedious job.—Boston Advertiser.

Where the Money Went.

Mark Twain used to tell a story of two rich unmarried women who were attacked by scruples on the occasion of Sarah Bernhardt's visit to their town. They had always longed to see the great French actress, but the price of the tickets, $25 each, seemed to them a wicked extravagance. After talking it over they decided not to go, but instead to give the $50 to a poor couple of their acquaintance. The recipients went straight away and bought two tickets to see the divine Sarah.

His Compliment.

There was a young minister in Scotland who thought he was very eloquent and who was very ambitious. The young minister asked the old minister to come and hear him preach, and he preached a magnificent sermon. When they returned to the vestry he waited expectantly for some compliment from the old minister, which did not come. The old minister sat with beetling brows, looking at him—those beetling brows for which Dundee and its neighborhood are famous. At last the old minister did break silence and said, "Ah, mon, ye must be a proud mon the day to hae got rid of a' that weary, windy, wasteful trash aff yer stomach."

LITERARY.

Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., whose articles on the "Night Riders" of the Kentucky tobacco fields created a stir not long ago, weaves the color of the tobaco district into a gripping fiction story, entitled, "Dormouse Valor," in the March Red Book Magazine.

The March Woman's Home Companion is a big advance spring fasion number and it is filled with the latest fashion news from Paris, New ork and other great centres. Grace Margaret Gould, the well-known fashion authority, who edits this important department for the Companion, has, as usual, done her work thoroughly, interestingly and practically. Women of ordinary means can find in her pages suggestions for spring clothes that are artistic and up to date and yet economical.

Mr. William G. McAdoo explains very interestingly in the March World's Work the methods by which he has built up a street railway system that has the unusual quality of considering the public.

"Our policy," says Mr. McAdoo, "has been based upon the consisent belief that the public is reasonable—as reasonable as the average individual. This is not the view of most corporation managers. They have acted too much upon the hypothesis that the public is unreasonable. It is a mistake. The public is unreasonable only when it is uninformed."

Full of adventure and interesting and peoples, the March Wide World Magazine upholds its reputation as being one of the most unique monthlies published. A thrilling description is given of "The Eruption of the Volcano Taal in the Philippine Islands" by one of the victims who was left a cripple for life. Mr. H. J. Shepstonee writes of his experiences in exploring the Dead Sea, and "Down the Frazer River on a Raft" is the story of a wild four-hundred-and seventy-mile voyage on a rapid-strewn river—a ride that no man has attempted since the pioneer days and which will in all probability never be attempted again.

Despite the conflicts which have marked the last one hundreed years, these are as nothing in comparison with the almost unbroken series of bloody wars beginning way back in the midle ages and coming to an end at Waterloo. As compared with the centuries that precede it, that one hundred years ending in 1915 constitute a century of peace of the steady advance of justice. The great dominant fact shoud be celebrated at San Francisco in order that men may turn to the future with even greateer hope and promise.—From "The World's Peace and the Panama-Pacific Exposition," by Nicholas Murray Butler, in the American Review of Reviews for March.

On the art side the March Century is unusually varied in its interest. The frontispiece is Rembrandt's remarkable painting, "The Mill," (one of the finest of Cole's impressive wood engravings of "Masterpieces in American Galleries"), for which the happy owner is said to have paid half a million dollars; two color plates enrich an attractive paper on the quaint subject of "Samplers;" French's statue of Lincoln, intended for the capital of Nebraska, is shown for the first time and from two points of view, and included with a great variety of pictures in illustrated articles and stories, are Holbein's famous portrait of "Christina of Denmark, and Pennell's lithographs of the newly-constructed Campanile in Venice, to be dedicated in April, and of the partly-finished stately architectural monument to Victor Emmanuel, as seen across the old Roman forum.

A Simple Get-rich-quick Scheme.

Take 1,000,000 cats and get rich quick. This is the advice of the Liberte of Paris to its readers. The prescription is quite simple. A million cats will supply you with 12,000,000 kittens a year. The skins are worth a little over 28 cents each, so there you have a daily gross revenue of about $10,000. To skin the cats you will have to employ 100 men, who will charge you $2 per fifty cats. Your net revenue will thus be reduced to about $9,000 a day. It should cost you nothing to feed your cats. Start a rattery. Rats breed four times as fast as cats, so the cats can have a daily diet of four rats apiece, which is ample. To feed the rats is perfectly simple. Give them the skinned cats. One cat will be ample for four rats. The scheme works out simply and automatically. The cats eat the rats, the rats eat the cats, and you have the skins.

The Chapel of Bones.

One of the most interesting sights of Malta and at the same time rather a grewsome one is the Chapel of Bones. Guides who show visitors round the island never fail to point this out. The whole of the sides, arches and about the altar are the skulls and crossbones of the long departed monks. In niches round the chapel stand skeletons of monks in their habits. On either side of the altar stands a skeleton representing Father Time with a scythe. Standing at the rear of the chapel one cannot but admire and wonder at the regular manner in which the skulls and bones are placed.

Woman's World

Mrs. Agnes L. Riddle, "the Woman Who Does Things."

MRS. AGNES L. RIDDLE.

Mrs. Agnes L. Riddle of Denver has the honor of being the first woman elected to the state legislature from the rural districts of Colorado. Indeed, her constituents regard her as a modern Joan of Arc leading them to victory in their fight for justice and recognition due the farmers of the state.

Mrs. Riddle is the wife of a dairy farmer, and that she is a practical helpmeet is evidenced by the fact that she rises at 3 o'clock in the morning to prepare breakfast for the men on her big dairy farm near Denver, who start at 4 to deliver milk in the city. At 7 she has planned her farm work for the day, and at 8 her horse is harnessed to a light buggy and she is on her way to Denver to attend to the legislative duties of the day when that august body is in session.

Her duties there keep her at the capitol until 5 o'clock, and 6, her dinner hour, usually finds her at home again. Her evenings are devoted to the affairs of the farm. Mrs. Riddle has been for a number of years secretary of the Colorado State Grange association and during that time has done much to ameliorate the farmers' condition. In the twenty-five years since Mrs. Riddle has been mistress of the Glen Riddle dairy farm she has improved the entire farm system of the west by her efforts in the legislature and her earnest work in the grange.

It is easy to guess why this untiring worker in civic affairs is known in her native state of Colorado as "the woman who does things."

Notes About Women.

Miss Grace Sherwood of Ashtabula, the only woman member of a chamber of commerce in Ohio, is an ohi er in the woman suffrage party of her city.

The Tennessee Equal Suffrage association in convention at Nashville recently elected Sarah Barmwell Elliott as state president. Miss Elliott is one of the most prominent women in Tennessee and a writer and lecturer of national reputation.

The nine-year-old daughter of the governor of Tennessee is said to be a militant suffragette," while neither of her parents claims to be in favor of equal suffrage; a twelve-year-old schoolgirl in Kansas is reported as addressing large school meetings in behalf of votes for women, a ten-year-old girl in Los Angeles did good work for the cause during the California campaign, and a little twelve-year-old actress in New York holds suffrage meetings between acts at the theater.

A large deputation from the Council of Women of Toronto, Canada, recently waited upon the legislation and reception committee of the city council to urge that municipal voting rights be given to women possessing the same property qualifications as those required by male voters.

Votes for women are provided in a constitutional amendment introduced in the house of representatives at Washington a few days ago by Congressman Berger of Wisconsin. The resolution adds to the fifteenth amendment a clause that the right to vote shall not be denied on account of sex.

She Didn't Get It.

"There is a certain book in the library that I want," said Mrs. Sillyone to the librarian of 40,000 volumes. "I can't remember the title or the name of the author, but it is a book of probably 200 or 300 pages, and it is bound in dark green and the title is in gold letters on it.

"It is a story of a nobleman who discovers, after he has married a lady of wealth and title, that he is a changeling and that a certain blacksmith in the town is the real nobleman. A friend of mine has read it, and she is very anxious to have me read it.

"As I say, I can't remember the title of the book or the name of the author, but it is a book of about average size, and I wish that you would get it for me as quick as you can, for my husband is waiting for me in our car out in front of the library, and it always irritates him to be kept waiting. I'd like the book right away, please."—Judge.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SAGO IN VARIOUS FORMS.

SAGO is a food which is recommended for illnesses, but it is also valuable to those who are in health. It will help in a remarkable degree to build up the body, for this starch, which comes from the sago palm, has many merits of its own.

A reddish looking sago is the best. It may be used in soups or for puddings. The sago dissolves readily and forms a jelly in hot water.

A Well Flavored Dish.

Sago Soup.—Take about two quarts of good stock made with beef, veal or poultry. The stock may be prepared with any one of these meats or with all of them combined and is what is known as a good medium stock.

Wash five ounces of sago in cold water and little by little add it to the boiling stock and simmer until the sago is sufficiently dissolved to form a jelly. The yolks of two eggs beaten with a little cream and added to the soup just before serving add to its flavor and richness.

About an hour is long enough for the soup to cook, and when done there should be enough for eight people.

Of course if less soup is required the quantities of stock and sago should be reduced.

For instance, a quart of stock and two and a half ounces of sago should make enough soup for four persons.

Some Nutritious Puddings.

Lemon Sago Pudding.—Heat a pint and a half of rich milk and put into it the rind of half a lemon and allow it to boil. Strain the milk, mix with it five tablespoonfuls of sago and three ounces of sugar and simmer for fifteen minutes.

Let the mixture cool a little and stir into it two eggs well beaten and one and one-half ounces of butter.

Flavor with a little grated nutmeg, butter a pudding dish, pour the mixture in and boil for an hour and a half.

Baked Orange Pudding.—Take a pint and a half of milk, three tablespoonfuls of sago, the rind of half an orange, a tablespoonful of orange juice, three ounces of sugar, an ounce and a half of butter, four eggs, grated nutmeg and some puff paste.

Put the milk and lemon rind into a saucepan together and place it on the fire, where it may simmer until the milk is well flavored with the orange. Add the orange juice, strain and put in the sago and sugar and let it cook for about fifteen minutes.

Let this cool and then stir in the butter and the eggs well beaten.

Roll out the puff paste, line the edges of a baking dish with it and pour in the sago mixture. Bake from forty-five minutes to an hour, longer if the oven is a slow one.

SEASONABLE SALADS.

Delicious Dishes For Varying the Lenten Fast.

Nuts add much to the taste and appearance of fruit salad. A few pistachio nuts and some candied cherries sprinkled over the top are very attractive.

The following recipe for a nut salad is available at this season where hothouse cucumbers or tomatoes can be bought:

Nut Salad.—The cucumber is sliced and covered with water to which a thin slice of onion is added. This is allowed to simmer on the fire for five minutes; then a small tablespoonful of gelatin is stirred in. When removed from the fire a cupful of shelled and blanched English walnuts should be added, and it may be set aside in a mold to harden. The salad should be served with a border of heart of lettuce leaves and garnished with English walnuts.

Clam Salad.—Cook some rice for about fifteen minutes, drain, dry in a cloth and arrange it in a salad bowl with mild red or green peppers, which have been grilled and skinned. Allow six steamed clams for each person. Trim them and add them to the rice. Put over them a few fillets of anchovies, season with salt, pepper, mustard, oil and vinegar to taste.

Halibut Salad.—For this delicious dish use halibut or some other firm white fish. Cut into neat pieces about four inches square.

Lay each of these on two or three selected lettuce leaves, arrange on the fish three or four very thin slices of lemon and put over all at the last minute a heaping teaspoonful of mayonnaise dressing.

Dainty Toasts.

Tomato Toast.—Take canned tomatoes, stew them and season with sugar, salt, cayenne pepper and cream. Thicken slightly with a little flower stirred to a paste with a small portion of the cream.

Toast slices of bread, spread with butter, spread on the tomatoes while hot and serve at once.

Oyster and Clam Toast.—Take six oysters and six clams. Butter two slices of nicely toasted bread. Let the liquor of the oysters and clams come to a boil. Stir in the oysters and clams, the latter chopped. Season with butter, pepper and salt and a little cream. Pour over the toast.

SNAPSHOTS OF LA MODE.

Eastern Hip Draperies In First Style. Millinery Matters.

Among the many oriental features that have been retained in the fashions is the one of folding cloth around the hips in a snug manner. For awhile the fashion went out, but now it has increased in favor. Tunics of all kinds are wrapped about the waist and hips and crossed in front, where they are stitched down or tied into a knot according to their fabric.

Both the large collar and the big revers have dwindled somewhat in size, though still fashionable.

Fichu blouses and scalloped edges make two of the newest and most important features of the spring season, and this gown shows them both. The blouse is exceedingly smart and attractive made with the new position back. The skirt is of the two piece style. JUDIC CHOLLET.

GOWN OF TAFFETA AND NET.

These May Manton patterns are cut in sizes for the skirt from 22 to 30 inches waist measure and for the blouse from 34 to 40 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents each for the patterns to this office, giving numbers, skirt 7341 and blouse 7321, and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. Write ordering use coupon.

A Fruit Dessert.

Pineapple Sillabub.—Beat to a stiff froth a quart of cream and the whites of four eggs, keeping the eggs and cream separate. To the eggs gradually add a pound of powdered sugar, beating until smooth.

Whip in the cream. Beat into this a cupful of dissolved gelatin and the strained juice of two oranges.

Mash three large bananas and cut a pineapple in cubes. Beat these into the cream and when firm serve in glasses.

For the icing melt over the teakettle two squares of chocolate, add a cupful of sugar and boiling water, one tablespoonful at a time until dissolved. Do not use more than three tablespoonfuls of water.

Spread on cake while icing is warm.

Freshening the Air.

Before serving dinner place a bowl of boiling water, into which has been dropped a little oil of lavender, on the dining table.

This will overcome the closeness of the atmosphere and the odors from the kitchen or pantry which have penetrated into that part of the house.

A New Pique.

There is much enthusiasm in Paris over a pique in striped designs. This fabric is assured a vogue for all costumes, including the one piece frock, as well as the smart two piece suit. White pique striped finely or broadly in red is extremely smart and works up quaintly.

Serge For Spring.

Blue serge heads the list for the utility suit for spring. A close rival appears, however, in the tan serges and whipcords. The former are plain and also designed in hairline and white stripes.

—Muggins—"When I started out last night I had $150, and this morning I woke with less than $10." Buggens—"You must have had a hot time." Muggins—"Yes; it must have been pretty hot to me to have burned a hole like that in my pocket."

—Tommy—"Pop, what are the highways and byways?" Tommy's Pop—"The shopping district, my son."

Fidelity Trust Company

Come in and talk it over.

A company should be exactly what its name implies FIDELITY and conservatism are the governing principles of this institution, rendering it in every respect a TRUST company.

Possessing as it does the important qualifications of integrity, ability and longevity, it is infinitely better fitted to administer trusts than a private individual.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

IT WAS SOME STORY BUT THE CITY EDITOR DIDN'T WAIT TO LISTEN.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

SILENT MEN.

Wallenstein, Who Never Smiled, Was the Most Dramatic of All.

Washington's reserve made him stiff, formal and ill at ease in company, but it also prevented his plans from being betrayed to the enemy and the country from being deceived by his promises.

William the Silent was frugal of words, because a reserve that concealed his designs, even from those acting with him, was necessary to the independence of the Netherlands.

The most dramatic of silent men was Wallenstein, the antagonist of Gustavus Adolphus and the commander of the emperor's armies in the Thirty Years' war. He insisted that the deepest silence should reign around him. His officers took care that no loud conversation should disturb their general. They knew a chamberlain had been hanged for waking him without orders, and an officer who would wear clanking spurs is the commander's presence had been secretly put to death. In the rooms of Wallenstein's palace the servants glided as if phantoms, and a dozen sentinels moved around his tent charged to secure the silence the general demanded. Chains were stretched across the streets and roads in order to guard him against the disturbance of sounds. Wallenstein's taciturnity and love of silence that caused him to be irritated at the slightest noise was due to his constitutional temperament. He never smiled, he never asked advice from any one, and he could not endure to be gazed at, even when giving an order. The soldiers when he crossed the camp pretended not to see him, knowing that a serious look would bring them punishment.—Exchange.

PROSPECT FOR LOCAL LEAGUE NOT BRIGHT

Westfield, Bound Brook, Somerville and High Bridge, Ran Behind Last Season.

SAID THEN THEY WERE DONE

Plainfield and Scotch Plains Will Have Teams and Bound Brook May—Managers to Talk Over Re-Organization Plan Soon.

Under the influence of the balmy weather yesterday and the cheering news of the game from the southern training camps, baseball and the prospects for the sport locally during the summer were uppermost in the minds of not a few. When Manager Ernest Dorflinger of the champion Plainfield Pets came down town to get his favorite Sunday paper he was beseiged by fans who plied him with questions regarding the possibility of a league, as last summer, and what kind of a team he would put in the field.

The news the questioners got in reply was not very encouraging, but "Dorf" asked the fans to remember that it has been a hard winter, not conducive to incubating any plans or ideas relating to outdoor sports. "Now that the robins will soon be nesting," he said, "perhaps there will come a pining to hear the smack of wood on leather strong enough to fans to warrant us forming a league, or at least to put a team in the field."

The outlook for a league is some what dreary. Westfield, Somerville and High Bridge last fall flatly refused to consider any proposition that would make possible the same kind of an arrangement as last season and gave as their reasons that they do not want to smother through another for want of financial respiration. Plainfield and Scotch Plains are the only towns that broke even at the windup, and the 'Plains management says that the Sunday games pulled them through.

The same condition as to loss prevailed at Bound Brook and in addition a new difficulty has arisen through the sale of the Main street grouds to the "Holy Jumpers" who propose to erect a church thereon. If the plans are not far enough advanced to go ahead with the work this summer, Manager Newhouse will in all probability be able to rent the field for the season. In that event he will give the public Saturday and holiday games, but is not very strong for the league thing. Scotch Plains will have a club but feel much the same as Bound Brook about a circuit.

A meeting of representatives of the teams that formed the league last summer will be called in the near future to discuss chances for re-organization. It is understood that New Brunswick and Elizabeth are anxious to come in the combination but whether they would stick if less than six teams could be secured is doubted. Perth Amboy fans have also evinced interest in being asked to join, but nothing definite has been determined upon.

ANGLING ENTHUSIASM THE CAUSE OF THIS

In their enthusiasm to enjoy piscatorial pleasures in the purling waters of Greenbrook, two local votaries of Isaac Walton, Fred Gray and Elias McCreedy, betook themselves to Stine's bridge Saturday afternoon and without knowing it, fished for three hours with their lines resting on the ice. The impossibility of catching anything was called to their attention by a chance pedestrian, who happened to be not so enthusiastic.

The stream is much swollen from the recent thaw which, however, has not yet melted the thick covering of ice on the brook. The surface water rushing in is carried off on top and fills the space between the banks. Not knowing this the fishermen made their cast and waited. Nothing doing. They moved along the bank a short distance and again threw in. Same result. Other places that have always yielded a bit or two were tried. No luck.

Then they were hailed by the pedestrian and to prove that he was right, Gray cut a sapling. He could not push it through the ice which he did not know was there, a few inches under the muddy water.

JEFFRIES WIRES PLEA FOR DEFEATED ATTELL.

San Francisco, Calif. Feb. 26.—The inability of Abe Attell to "come back" has aroused the sympathy of James J. Jeffries, who sent the following dispatch to Promoter James Coffroth relative to the Attell-"Harlem Tommy" Murphy bout here on March 9:

"Jim: Don't call off Attell fight. Give him a chance to redeem himself. Worst he should have got was a draw, as he chased Kilbane all over the ring. Do this for me. Abe is still champion here, old pal.

Coffroth says he has no intention of calling off the match.

THE GINGER JAR

Almost Bock sign time!

The Elks bowlers, individually and collectively, deny that prizes for low scores have been put up and were responsible for their slump at Hoboken Friday night.

A three team baseball league is to be organized among the white, negro and Indian prisoners in the Leavenworth Kan. Federal penitentiary. They'll be known as the Braves, Blackbirds and Never Agains, no doubt.

Hyatt, the new Tiger pitcher, is the first West Point graduate to enter professional baseball. Soldiers and sailors have often broken into the game, but Uncle Sam's training school has only turned out officers heretofore.

The St. Louis Browns have a Nelson and a Hogan on the palyroll, but they are not battling and One Round of roped arena fame.

If the Giants win the National League championship again this season they will have had more baseball in two consecutive seasons than any of the others. In 1911 they went early to Texas, played almost through October and then had a session in Cuba. Now they are the first to get going again.

New baseball shoes that Charlie Dooin makes are guaranteed to steal second four times out of five or money back, excepting when he is catching.

On days when the weather will not permit baseball, Manager Callahan says he will put his men to work at soccer football. He says the exercise is fine for the wind and will take the kinks out of all joints and muscles.

If a cruel fate had not insisted that he become a star baseball player, Larry Lajoie says he might have made a million dollars driving" a hack in Woonsocket, R. I.

While things are very quiet on the circus exchange, the baseball mart of trade are glutted.

Cy Morgan, of the Athletics, has a record at last. He was derricked twelve times last season. That was high honors for the league and Jim Scott, of the Sox, was a close second with ten hoists.

Remember only 237 shopping days until Christmas.

Marlin O'Toole, the red headed pitching marvel, is a son of odd so just as sure as poppin.' Manager Clarke has issued an order that all members of the Pittsburgh Club report at Hot Springs on March 17 for the opening practice, but the O'Toole boy wants to celebrate what he calls the world's one holiday, and has asked to be allowed to report next day.

LAS VEGAS SAID TO BE PLACE FOR JOHNSON-FLYNN BOUT.

San Francisco, Feb. 26.—From an authentic source information is received that final papers have been signed by Jack Curley, promoter of the Johnson-Flynn match, for the staging of the heavyweight championship battle in Las Vegas, N. M.

It is unlikely that any official statement will be made by Curley before the first of May, and possibly not at all, in view of adverse action by the Governor of that State.

There is no question, however, that Curley has accepted the proposition made to him by citizens of Las Vegas. It is also said that July 4 has been decided upon as the date of the contest.

HOCKEY TEAM FORMED FROM MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY.

Canada enjoys the distinction of having enough players in one family for a hockey team. The Morency family of Quebec has available a complete septet and one spare man, with, if necessary, a sturdy extra goal tender in the person of Morency pere.

Last year they lost the championship of Quebec to Laval university, 3 to 2. There are eight brothers in all and they are by name Emile, St. George, Adjutor, Alphonse, Henri, Jules, Gaudiose and Ernest.

Pacers Show Improvement.

The number of pacers that have covered a mile in 2:10 is 1,224. A total of ninety-nine was added to the list last year, the largest that ever gained the honor in a single season.

New Canadian Fencing Association.

The Amateur Fencing association of Canada has just organized in Toronto.

THIS UMPIRE SHOULD BE QUITE POPULAR.

This season the town of Oxnard, Cal., will have no more umpire baiting. The coachers and the bleachers will be mighty courteous to the umpire hereafter. If they say anything it will be with hat in hand and uttered with soft accents.

How do we know? Why, the umpire hereafter is the charming Miss Ruth Jones. She knows the points of the game too.

"Three strikes—out," she exclaims in silvery tones, whereupon the batsman touches his cap, says "Thank you, ma'am," and takes his seat with pleasure and the manners of a Sunday school boy the week before Christmas.

PLAINFIELD BOYS NOW HAVE BETTER CHANCE

Jack Martin and Lou Slocum, Plainfield boys, who have graduated from local teams to the Scranton Club in the New York State League, feel very good over the recent action of the league officers in rescinding the six-player rule on that circuit and the resultant attitude of the club owners as shown by President John H. Farrell's statement, regarding the decision. Mr. Farrell makes it clear that the league is not against the young player.

"The league," he said, "is a believer in young blood, and we are going to make it a place where young players will have all the chance in the world. We are all for the young players and they should have a thorough trial to prove that they will be able to make good before we take any action so drastic as the one contemplated by the resolution."

WHAT BUYING PLAYERS COSTS IN THE BIG LEAGUES

It is estimated that half a million dollars worth of new baseball talent will be inspected by managers during the remainder of this month and in March at the spring training camps of the major league clubs in the South. This enormous sum of money has been invested in a bevy of young beauties who will be put to the supreme test during the coming weeks. When the elimination process of the unpromising ones set in there will be many a dream shattered and light hearts turned to chunks of lead in ambitious young bosoms.

The American League bought outright $117,352 worth of players from the minors last year while the National League purchases reached $135,280. In drafting, the younger organization spent $38,650 against $4[illegible],000 spent by the Nationals, making a total cash expenditure of both leagues, $366,712. If the purchased players make good enough to remain in the majors the Americans have $72,416 and the Nationals $56,200 yet to pay, making a total cost of $195,330 for the new material.

Pittsburgh was the largest buyer of any one club, the $22,500 paid for Marty O'Toole swelling the total outlay to $55,000. Brooklyn spent [illegible] showing how sincere the Superbas owned is in his effort to build a good team. The Giants outlay was about $22,000, next to the lowest amount paid, $13,000, by the Boston Braves.

YALE'S NEW STADIUM TO BE MONSTER STRUCTURE

That $700,000 will be needed for providing playgrounds and their equipment for the use of the Yale university undergraduate body was reported to the Yale corporation at its meeting recently by the committee of twenty-one which was selected to look into the general question of the erection of a stadium or coliseum for the athletic field to meet the increased demand for seats at the football games.

The report says it was determined that the erection of a "stadium" was subsidiary to the necessity of providing playgrounds for the undergraduates. To supply this need approximately eighty acres of land have been secured, directly opposite the present Yale field, at a cost of about $[illegible]0,000.

On the new land acquired will be erected a football stand not to cost over $275,000, with a seating capacity of more than 50,000. In addition there will be built a large clubhouse for the use of the students, which will contain a spacious lounging room, a grill, bathrooms, lockers and squash courts, adjoining. The rest of the ground will be laid out in football fields, baseball diamonds and tennis courts.

With the completion of the committee's plans, opportunity will have been provided for at least half of the student body to exercise at one time.

LOCAL ELKS WENT BACK IN STANDING LAST WEEK

The changes in the Elks league during the past week, both in team and individual standing, does not leave Plainfield nor the local pinners in as good positions as they have occupied at the beginning of the week for some time. While 885 still leads the race, it is by such a small margin that it has to be figured in fractions. Johnny Campbell, who has clung to second place in the individual standing for some time, now rests in fourth position.

Miller, of Hoboken, who has lead the pinners steadily and consistently for several months, was jarred loose by Starr, of New York. Greenwald of New Brunswick, put up some good pinning and passing Campbell, slipped into third place.

The other Elks with the exception of Stout also hurt their standings and averages. He gained one point. Kiely was the largest looser, going from 178-21 to 176-10. The averages of Blatz and Nash shrunk not quite so perceptably.

N. P. H. S. GIRLS' TEAM MAKES HIGH SCORE RECORD

The North Plainfield High School girls' basketball team made what is believed to be a record for high score by girls in this section Saturday afternoon, when the Perth Amboy High School girls' five was defeated 70 to 6. The game was played in Debele Auditorium. Lines and double centres were used in both halves.

The line ups: N. P. H. S.—Helen Hummel and Marion Mair, forwards, Bessie Carson, centre; Clara Smith and Edna Debele, guards. Perth Amboy—Ruth Bowgen, Clara Hanse and Margaret Conquest, forwards, Ida Dinchelacker, centre; Ella Dori and Clara Smith, guards.

TWO NEW POSITIONS CREATED IN BASEBALL

Two positions have been created in baseball which a few years ago were unheard of. These are the assistant manager, for instance, and the pinch pitcher. Most of the clubs are carrying a twirler nowadays who has the happy faculty of stopping batting rallies.

Griffith has Hughes for this purpose New York has Crandall, Boston has Hall, and the other day the Phillies secured Tom Seaton from Brooklyn for this purpose. Ed Walsh, though a regular and, in fact, star of his team, has always filled this position in addition to pitching in his regular turn, but there are few pitchers who can do this.

That many teams would be benefited by having an assistant to the manager there is no doubt, provided the proper judgment was used in selecting him.

ONE LEGGED HOCKEY PLAYER, CRACKERJACK GOAL KEEPER

One of the most remarkable men playing hockey today is a one legged player on the Grand Trunk Audit team in Canada. The freak hockeyist is Goal Keeper Adams. Although he has the use of only one of his legs, Adams, according to those who have seen him in action, plays the game remarkably well. His other leg is an artificial one.

For a man with only one limb Adams skates better than most amateurs. Keeping goal requires much agility on a man's part, and it is interesting to watch Adams defend his goal. Handicapped as he is, nevertheless he is said to be one of the best goal tenders in the league.

JOHNNY EVERS' BROTHER SIGNED FOR WILKES-BARRE.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 26.—Highly recommended by his famous brother, Eddie Evers, a younger brother of Johnny Evers, the Chicago second baseman, was today signed by Manager W. J. Clymer of the Wilkes-Barre team of the New York State League. He will be given a trial in the infield. Johnny Evers writes that he is naturally a little embarrased about recommending his brother for fear his judgment might be swayed by the relationship, but he believes the boy has the ability to make a fine ball player.

Girl to Swim Channel.

Boston, Feb. 26.—Miss Rose Pitonof, the sixteen-year-old girl swimmer, has signed contracts to make an attempt to swim the English Channel early this summer. Miss Pitonof, who is considered the champion woman swimmer of the world, will sail in June.

POLISH CHAMPION HOT FOR MATCH WITH GOTCH

After many months of wrangling it now looks as if Frank Gotch, the world's champion wrestler, will defend his title against Zbysco, the Pole. Promoters in New York, Buffalo and Kansas City have made several big offers for the go, and it is more than likely that the men will clash the latter part of March.

Zbysco has defeated every man he has met during the post two years, and he believes he has a splendid chance to win the honors from the champion.

HOPE CHAPEL BASKETBALL FIVE AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

The Hope chapel basketball team trounced the Union High School five Saturday night in the local cage, 41 to 15. The result at the end of the first half stood 15 to 2. In the second period the visitors took a decided brace, but it was too late.

The regular Hope chapel line up Tommy and Johnny Heron, forwards; Doig, centre; Wardroi and Leighs, guards, were in the game the first half and in the second Snyder relieved Leighs.

Annual Meeting P. C. C.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Country Club will be held at the Hartridge auditorium tomorrow night, when officers will be elected and reports received for the past year.

Church Fives to Play.

The Hope chapel and Church of the Holy Cross basketball teams will clash in the Hope's cage tomorrow night. This will be their second meeting of the season.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

The Indian Durbar in all its grandeur is seen in faithful reproduction at the N. Y. Hippodrome in which spectacle it is one of the striking features. Beside the potentates who are seen riding upon horses with trappings of silver and gold cloth there are slave girls, Hindoo fakirs Nautch dancers a regiment of mounted soldiery and all the animals of the orient from the sacred cow to a herd of elephants forming a pageantry which has probably never before been shown on any stage.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings" is running so very strong at the Comedy Theatre in New York as to dispel all possibility of its removal this season, although it was booked beforehand for Chicago. It thus became necessary to assemble a special organization in Scotland and this was done personally by the author, Graham Moffat. The Chicago company opened its season at the Princess Theatre over a month ago, and its all Scotch players may remain there until Spring.

"Bought and Paid For," at William A. Brady's Playhouse, is far into the sixth month of its very profitable career and there is every apparent reason to believe its life in New York is not half completed. Mr. Broadhurst's play is so nicely balanced that it appears equally distributed between men and women, as shown in the upper balcony—a part of the house where as a general thing the male sex is greatly predominant, but not in the instance of "Bought and Paid For." It may be of interest to know that the original cast now appearing in this comedy drama has been re-engaged in its entirety for next season, a fact which may serve as an assurance that Mr. Brady will leave nothing undone to maintain the high standard established in the production at the playhouse.

NEW PROVIDENCE MAY HAVE A BUILDING CODE.

At a recent meeting of the New Providence Borough Council, John H. Peck, former chief of the fire department, urged the appointment of a building inspector. W. F. Brower opposed the proposition. He said the borough was not large enough to establish and enforce a building code. W. D Clark, the fire chief, declared that a building inspector was necessary. Mayor Crane appointed Messrs. Clark, Coddington and Myers to look into the efasibility of a building code.

Simplicity, Refinement and Quality at Moderate Cost—And You Can Buy One Piece or a Complete Suite, as You Desire.

We present one of our newest designs in fine bedroom suites—an exclusive one with us, and one of which we are very proud. These suites furnish beautifully because of their good lines—the fact that they are of a design that never grows old to you.

They are built of solid mahogany and will last forever and a day. Detailed description and prices follow—

Dresser—Constructed throughout of solid mahogany, with eggshell finish; size of base is 22x42; has 2 large drawers and 2 smaller ones, wood knobs; all the drawers are partitioned between, making them dustproof; has a 24x30 best quality plain French plate mirror, which can be adjusted to any convenient angle; all corners are rounded.

Chiffonier—A match to the above dresser; made throughout of solid mahogany, eggshell finish, which is a medium dull; base size is 30 inches long and 19 inches deep; contains 4 large and 2 smaller drawers, all having substantial locks and keys, and the drawers are dust-proof; trimmed with wood knobs and toilet screws; the plain French best quality of mirror is size 18x18.

Toilet Dress Table—Made of finely selected solid mahogany, with medium dull finish, eggshell; has one large drawer with wood knobs, and a liberal size glass 18x24; nicely finished in every detail.

Bedstead—Either full size or a pair of twins; built of solid mahogany with beautiful eggshell finish; nicely marked, plain panels of mahogany, set in upright colonial posts.

Table—Top is 30 inches long; made of nicely selected solid mahogany, and in every detail it is intended to match the set.

Costumer—For the clothes; made in solid mahogany; strongly constructed in every detail; elegantly finished; double brass hooks; the pole is turned to correspond with the set.

Cheval Glass—In every detail it corresponds with the set, in the wood, finish and design; the plate glass is large, being in size 20x48, and adjusts to any desired position, for the convenience of the user; equipped with casters.

We have just received a quantity of this particular suit above described, and as an extra inducement we will offer them for two days—Tuesday and Wednesday—at extraordinarily low prices, as follows:

	Regular Price.	Special Price		Regular Price.	Special Price

BEGINNING TODAY WE WILL TAKE ORDERS FOR

Men's Spring Suits to Measure 17.50

Fully 100 Styles of Spring Fabrics to Choose From.

Trimmings and Findings Will Be of the Quality Generally Used in $30 and $35 Suits; Fit Guaranteed

We have arranged with a big tailoring concern to have with us, this week, beginning today at noon, continuing until Saturday night, some of their best tailormen, in order to give you an opportunity of having excellent Spring Suits made to your measure, at the moderate price of $17.50

The reputation of this tailoring firm is of the best and their work is invariably satisfactory.

The character of the cloths is such as goes into custom made suits at $30 or thereabouts, and the trimmings are of the grade used in $30 and $35 suits.

The tailoring will be faultless—entirely up to your expectations, else you need not accept the suit.

Fit and satisfaction are absolutely guaranteed—not a cent of risk on your part and the suit must please you else you need not take it. What could be fairer than this?

It would be impossible for this force of tailormen to make suits of such quality unless they did a tremendous business such as they expect to do with our patrons this week.

The suits will be made for men of all sizes—no matter if the EXTRA stout sizes are demanded, and the price will be the same thruout the week—$17.50. Choose from any of the hundreds of styles of fabrics and order single or double-breasted models as you wish.

The tailoring house with which we are dealing assures us that out of a thousand orders filled for another institution similar to ours there were but six failures to satisfy, which fact ought to give you ample assurance of the goodness of the work these people are going to perform for you.

Suits will be delivered in ten days or two weeks, even earlier if you are in a hurry, but you will understand that it is not easy to make up hundreds of suits in good styles in any shorter time. If you don't wish your suit at once we will deliver it when you say.

At all events don't fail to take advantage of this unusual opportunity and tell your friends about it.

NURSE DENIES SHE POISONED BABIES

Winifred Ankers Claims She Was Coerced by Police.

IN CRITICAL STATE IN CELL

Young Mother Tells Magistrate Hylan How the Detectives Visited Her and How They Forced Her to Say She Was Guilty—Hearing Is Resumed Today.

New York, Feb. 26.—The examination of Winifred Ankers will be continued today before Magistrate Hylan. She now denies that she put oxalic acid into the milk which was served to the babies at the Brooklyn nursery. She said she was unnerved when she pleaded guilty and that she would do or say anything so long as she could see her own baby.

Her chief concern now is not her own plight, but her desire to see her baby, for which she has cried ever since her arrest. The child is still at the hospital.

The authorities will not permit anybody to see Miss Ankers at the Raymond street jail.

The young woman is in a collapse at the jail, it is said. She was taken there on the promise that when she reached it her baby would be restored to her. She fainted when she learned that the promise had been used so as to get her in a cell without force.

When she repudiated her statement, which she says she made under coercion, she told Magistrate Hylan: "The detective visited me again and again, each time growing more forceful. He began to threaten me. I was in a weakened condition, but each time I said, 'I am not guilty.' He said this thing was costing the state money, and I had better confess rather than pay the money. As I had no money I decided to say I poisoned the milk."

The complaint, charging homicide, made by Detective Mackirdy against Miss Ankers, says in part:

"Deponent makes this complaint for the reason that the defendant stated to him that she committed said crime by removing the cotton stoppers in said nursing bottles and placed a small quantity of oxalic acid in each bottle; that defendant made said statement in the presence and hearing of Officer Joseph Thompson and one Louis Howard, the superintendent of said hospital. Wherefore deponent charges defendant with the crime of homicide."

WILL AFFECT MILLIONS.

English Coal Strike Almost Certain to Begin Last of Week.

London, Feb. 26. Nothing has developed to relieve the prospect of the coal strike going into effect at midnight Thursday. The irreconcilables among the miners everywhere declare that nothing short of the concession of the minimum wage demand by the mine owners will avert a great industrial crisis.

It is figured now that in addition to the million miners and fellow workers who will be affected directly by the strike some 4,000,000 other workers in various industries will be thrown out of employment.

It is stated unofficially that many of the older miners in Northumberland and Durham are enrolling themselves as special constables in the hope of restraining possible rioting by the hot-headed younger workmen.

A LAWYER IN TWO WEEKS.

Man Under Sentence Seeks Release by Habeas Corpus.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 26.—After studying law in his cell two weeks, Horace Greely Herold, under sentence to serve five years for attempting to kidnap his infant daughter, dismissed all his legal advisers and took the case into his own hands.

He mailed to the state supreme court a petition for a writ of habeas corpus that bristles with legal technicalities cited to show that he is unlawfully deprived of his liberty. Lawyers are amazed by legal knowledge shown in the document.

DOROTHY'S SISTER TO WED.

Miss Marjorie Arnold to Be Bride of George V. Lamonte.

New York, Feb. 26.—The engagement has just been announced of Miss Marjorie Brewster Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Arnold, to George Vaill Lamonte.

Miss Arnold is a sister of Dorothy Arnold, who disappeared so mysteriously over a year ago. The date for Miss Arnold's wedding has not been sent.

Southern Soldier Dead.

Huntsville, Ala., Feb. 26.—Colonel William W. Garth, eighty-six years old, is dead at his home in this city. Colonel Garth represented the Eighth Alabama district in congress in the early seventies. He was a lieutenant colonel in the Confederate army, having served on General Longstreet's staff.

Noted French Artist Dead.

Paris, Feb. 26.—Jules Joseph Lefebvre, the well known French painter and member of the institute, is dead here.

SUFFRAGISTS 40 YEARS AGO.

When Women Stormed a Senate Committee Room.

CONVENTION IN WASHINGTON.

It Terminated In a Demonstration Which Brought the Police to the Capitol—Incidents Like Those Now Occurring In London.

"Rampant Women Suffragists" is the "scare head" on the leading story of the Kansas City Times of forty years ago. The incidents of the story are not unlike those of the stories which appear almost every day in the London Times of the present.

The story is a dispatch from Washington dated Jan. 12, 1872. Many of the women who were leaders in the movement are widely known today Miss Susan B. Anthony, Mrs. Stanton, Josephine Hooper and Victoria Woodhull are mentioned as being "in the ranks that filled up the passage leading up to the committee room with grim faces and loud, excited voices." Under the first bank of the headline is the line, "Three Hundred and Odd Strong Minded Creatures on Duty Bent." The last bank of the head states that "They Refuse to Listen to Entreaties and Are Treated to Police Courtesies."

A woman suffrage convention had been in session in Washington for four days, and the story refers to the feeling of unrest and dissension "which has pervaded the very air of the city during that time." Just four years previously the fourteenth amendment was added to the constitution of the United States to give the right of the ballot to the recently freed slaves.

"All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside," says the amendment. While this was intended solely for the benefit of the former slaves, the suffragettes saw in it "the opportunity for us to throw off the shackles which have galled and chafed our oppressed sex through all time," as one of the eloquent speakers had said in the convention.

"Slaves, slaves! Tell me of the enslaved race which has knelt to the tyranny of man's oppression so long and suffered so much as we. Then if this amendment is to set the negro slaves of men upon the pedestal of equality it shall also give to women the right which has been her fondest hope and dream through all these centuries."

The convention moved in a body to the committee room of the senate, where the question was to be debated. The women gathered in the corridor outside the room to wait for the arrival of the committee. "And so numerous were the 'gentler sex' that the members of the committee could not get to their room until the sergeant-at-arms called upon the women to clear the way," relates the Times. "He expostulated with the female suffragists and besought them to consider, but all to no effect. Not one would move to either side for fear of losing her chance to get into the room.

"Finally a large force of police were summoned, and they went forward and pushed the fluttering mass of crinoline back far enough to allow Trumbull and the other senators to march into the committee room. Speeches were made by Mrs. Stanton and others in which it was argued that the fourteenth amendment gave to women the right to vote. Such a scene has never been witnessed in the capitol before and in the case of their being men there would have been numerous arrests, as there would in this case if these women had obtained their rights."

HILL EPIGRAMS.

Great Railroad Builder Raps the Politicians.

A merger of the immigration of seven northwestern states for the development of these commonwealths is advocated by James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railway.

Mr. Hill's plan has reference to the states in the recently organized Northwestern Development league. They are Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and the territory of Alaska.

"Men must work out their own industrial salvation," declares Mr. Hill, "instead of trusting to politicians to do it for them."

He calls the territory involved "the zone of plenty" and in the course of his statement makes the following characteristic remarks:

"The conduct of business in the long run is not a mere scramble for the best place at the trough.

"Whenever this country has faltered or stood still it has been through reliance upon politicians.

"When they tell you that prosperity may be created and maintained by tariffs and other artifices laugh at them.

"We need honesty enough to live within our means.

"We need to understand that the future of men and commonwealths is created out of character and intelligent effort and not by anything which any political agency can accomplish."

within his gift. The president eventually took only one man from the Roosevelt administration, George L. von Meyer, now secretary of the navy.

Roosevelt's friends themselves acknowledge, however, that one of "the offenses" which the colonel harbors against Taft was the character of a letter which President Taft wrote to Colonel Roosevelt just before he sailed for Africa.

"I owe more to Charles P. Taft and you than to any other two men on earth," or substantially these words appeared in that letter. Roosevelt's friends have made no secret of his anger over that letter. They tell you he brandished it and cried:

"Good Lord, so he puts money above brains, does he?"

With the refusal of President Taft to allow Gifford Pinchot, Roosevelt's friend, to dominate the affairs of the department of agriculture, followed by his dismissal from office, the tale bearers and the trouble makers began to get busy. Mr. Pinchot himself traveled to Italy to get Roosevelt's ear first. Roosevelt returned to this country after his African hunting trip under the impression that Taft had been backsliding from the so called Roosevelt policies, and the colonel's friends declare that his conviction in this regard has steadily been growing and that it is the real explanation of his present entrance into the race. The Roosevelt supporters insist it is a matter of principle with the colonel and a desire to save his policies and to champion the people's rights.

Taft Republicans insist, on the other hand, that the charge of backsliding is absolutely groundless and that Mr. Taft has carried out the Roosevelt policies, notably the anti-trust legislation, with a firmer hand and more consistently than did Roosevelt himself.

After the Baltimore meeting between the two last spring newspaper dispatches were sent out that Roosevelt had assured Taft that he would support him for renomination, and this was promptly denied by the colonel.

Through all of the remarkable history of the relations of these two men in the last three years President Taft up until today had insisted when talking with his friends upon taking Roosevelt at his word that he would not again accept a presidential nomination.

TALK OF HUGHES AGAIN.

Washington, Feb. 26.—President Taft and his political managers had no public comment to make on the Roosevelt statement, but to a United States senator who talked with Mr. Taft in regard to the statement the president said:

"I know we are right, and I am confident that we will be successful."

The statement was received by Republicans with varying opinions, but all agree that it was stronger and more to the point than they had anticipated. Colonel Roosevelt, in their opinion, has said not only that he would accept the nomination if it comes to him, but also, "I am a candidate; nominate me."

This decided turn in the situation has again revived talk of Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes of the supreme court. It is the belief in Washington that the president in the event of Roosevelt's gaining the upper hand in the Chicago convention would throw his support to Hughes or to some other candidate before he would see the honor conferred upon Roosevelt.

The president feels that his back has been forced against the wall, and no avenue has been left for him except a personal controversy with his predecessor and former political sponsor.

Opinions differ among the Republican progressives in regard to the effect of the Roosevelt statement on the political situation. Some of the progressives of the more conservative type declare that the statement was the biggest mistake that Roosevelt has ever made and that it, together with his Columbus speech, would drag him down to a humiliating defeat.

WILL BE NO THIRD PARTY.

Roosevelt Does Not Favor Extreme Means to Get Before People.

New York, Feb. 26.—From the Roosevelt headquarters this reply is issued to a story published in Chicago that the former president would form a new party if he failed to get the nomination at Chicago:

"Colonel Roosevelt has no intention whatsoever of forming a third or People's party in the event that the Chicago convention fails to name him as the candidate of the Republican party. Statements recently made that the former president would take such action are declared to be without foundation.

"That such a proposition has been made to Colonel Roosevelt is not denied. It is stated that the activity of the administration managers in making use of the steam roller caused several admirers of Colonel Roosevelt to fear that the Chicago convention would be packed and that the popular will of the people would find no expression there. In this event, it was asserted, it would be well to give the people a chance to express their sentiments at the polls and an independent party formed to place Colonel Roosevelt's name before them.

"From an authoritative source it is learned that Colonel Roosevelt did not look upon the proposition with favor and in effect stated that such a proceeding was out of the question."

MACK CERTAIN OF VICTORY.

Democratic National Chairman Sees Republican Split.

New York, Feb. 26.—Norman E. Mack, Democratic national chairman, grinned as he read the colonel's letter to the governors. When he handed it back to the reporter he said:

"This will make the Republican defeat more certain. Not only would Colonel Roosevelt be much easier to beat than President Taft, but the whole situation created by this sudden interjection of Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy will go far to assure the success of the Democratic party at the polls. The Republican party, it seems to me, will be split wide open with President Taft leading the conservatives and Colonel Roosevelt the so called progressive wing.

"No matter who is nominated, the Roosevelt candidacy will make more certain the defeat of the nominee."

"I'M READY!"—ROOSEVELT.

The Colonel Says "They" Must Come to His Doctrines.

Boston, Feb. 26.—Colonel Roosevelt appears as smiling and happy as a man who deliberately takes a plunge into an icy pool and comes up all panting and glowing for a rub off.

After his response to the eight Republican governors became known, Colonel Roosevelt talked for fifteen minutes with correspondents at the residence of Judge Robert Grant. The colonel was bubbling over with enthusiasm and in response to the suggestion that there is a hard fight ahead, he replied:

"I'm ready!"

There were many subjects in regard to which Colonel Roosevelt would not talk, but when asked about the portion of his Columbus speech advocating the revision by the people, in case of necessity, of decisions on constitutional points, he said:

"I think I made myself perfectly clear."

On being told that many persons had an idea that he advocated the recall of judges, he said:

"If I make any speeches during the campaign I shall make it perfectly plain what I mean. I shall reiterate what I have said and will try to make the facts perfectly plain. They have got to come to it."

KOENIG OUT FOR TAFT.

New York County Chairman Makes Guarded Reply About Roosevelt.

New York, Feb. 26.—When Samuel Koenig, chairman of the New York county Republican committee, was told that Colonel Roosevelt had followed his hat into the ring he said he guessed he had better make no comment.

"What do you think Colonel Roosevelt's strength will be in the national convention?" asked a reporter.

Mr. Koenig replied:

"I can only speak for my own county. Colonel Roosevelt will not get our delegation. It will go to Mr. Taft."

TAFT'S BROTHER CONFIDENT.

Believes President Is Best Man and Will Win.

Cincinnati, Feb. 26.—The official announcement of Colonel Roosevelt's entrance into the fight for the nomination for president on the Republican ticket caused more talk than at any time among leading Cincinnati Republicans.

When informed of Mr. Roosevelt's action Charles P. Taft, a half brother of the president, said:

"I believe the president is the best [illegible] and [illegible] beyond any doubt."

TIME FOR TEST.—PARKER.

Man Who Ran Against T. R. Not Surprised at Statement.

New York, Feb. 26.—Alton B. Parker [illegible] comment on Roosevelt's letter: "I hardly think," said Mr. Parker, "that any one will be surprised when they read this letter from Mr. Roosevelt. I felt confident two years ago that he was a candidate. I have felt sure of it ever since. I think that this is a very good time to have the country make a test of the ideas set forth by Mr. Roosevelt in his Columbus speech, a very good time."

A DUTCH RULER DEAD.

Grand Duke William of Luxemburg Had Been Ill Four Years.

Luxemburg, Feb. 26.—William Alexander, grand duke of Luxemburg, is dead. He was born on April 22, 1852.

The dead ruler of this little principality was Duke of Nassau and Count of Palatine, with about a dozen other titles. He was the son of the Grand Duke Adolph and succeeded his father in 1905. He was married in 1893 to Maria Anna, infanta of Portugal, and leaves six daughters.

The grand duke had been ill for the past four years, and his wife has been acting as regent of the duchy. He will be succeeded by his eldest daughter, the Grand Duchess Marie, who is eighteen years old.

Gave Him His Portrait.

"I went away without paying yesterday," said a clerk in a downtown business house to the manager of a restaurant where guests wait on themselves and tell the cashier when leaving how much they have to pay. The clerk then handed the manager 25 cents and said. "I didn't mean to 'do you' for the amount, only wanted to prove to my friend it could be done." "Thank you," said the manager, "but you proved nothing," and he took the young man to the desk, where he showed him this memorandum: "Look out for young fellow, light hair, glasses, low necktie, looks fresh." The young man's smile faded when he was told, "That's you."—New York Tribune.

Raised $33 for Muhlenberg.

The Plainfield Lyceum, colored held a rally service at the Calvary Baptist church yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when $33, $8 more than was pledged, was raised for Muhlenberg Hospital. The address of the afternoon was made by Rev. William Churchman, of Orange. Others who took part were Dr. J. C. Anderson chairman; William J. Douglass, vice-chairman. The Lyceum is a literary organization composed chiefly of young people. Miss M. B. Cobbs is secretary and W. G. Wright, treasurer.

ENGINE, NOT REVOLVER: SOMERSET ST. PLEASE NOTE.

When Chief Weiss arrived at Police headquarters in North Plainfield this morning he found a note written in a woman's handwriting, complaining of the patrolmen indulging in revolver practice while patrolling their posts at night. The note said that last night the neighborhood all along Somerset street was aroused and annoyed by five shots.

The chief began an investigation at once and learned that a doctor had received an early morning call to a patient in the neighborhood. While he was in the house the engine in his automobile became chilled and when started back-fired a number of times in rapid succession making a racket like the discharge of a large calibre firearm.

Another Sunday Closing Raid.

Joseph Materozza, Liberty and Fourth streets; Joseph Phillips, Grant avenue and Second street, and Mary Pascalo, North avenue and Richmond street, all proprietors of fruit, candy and tobacco stores, were arrested yesterday for alleged violations of the Sunday closing law. They will be arraigned in the city court next Monday. The arrests followe a general injection of rigidity into the Sabbath observance ordinance.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, spoke on "George Washington" last night.

DEPARTING BIBLE CLASS MEMBER GETS LOVING CUP

Members of the McWilliams Bible class at Hope chapel sprang a very pleasant surprise yesterday on Harry Kartscher, one of the most prominent workers in the organization, who has been compelled to withdraw because of removal from the city. At the close of the regular lesson period, Howard H. McWilliams, leader and teacher of the class, addressed the young man in terms of regret at his having to give up his work at the chapel and assured him that his loss would be greatly felt. In conclusion he presented Mr. Kartscher with a handsome silver loving cup as an expression of good will from the class.

The recipient responded in a fitting manner, although decidedly nonpulssed by the unlooked for incident. At the close of the Sunday school session, Superintendent Herbert Condict also took occasion to supplement Mr. McWilliams' remarks in behalf of the school.

Mr. Kartscher, who resided on Grant avenue, has been prominent in the work at Hope chapel for the past four years. Recently he has been leader of the singing at the Sunday school and vice-president of the William N. Runyon Association. He has also been active in the chapel minstrel shows and entertainments and proved a willing worker in branches of the church and Sunday school. He leaves Plainfield for Camden, where he entered upon his new duties today as one of the principal draughtsmen for the Victor Talking Machine Company. While living here he was employed at the Pond Tool Works.

MRS. ANN MATHEWS DIES AT THE HOME OF HER SON.

Mrs. Ann Mathews, aged eighty-seven years, mother of Mrs. Gano, wife of Borough Recorder M. F. Gano, of the borough, died at 11 o'clock last night at the home of her oldest son, Charles Mathews, Roselle borough, following a seven weeks illness with pneumonia. Prior to two years ago, when Mrs. Mathews removed to Roselle, she lived for six years with Mrs. Gano in the borough. Before that she lived in Somerville for many years.

Mrs. Mathews was a native of Pennsylvania, but had lived in New Jersey most of her life. She is survived by six sons, all living in this vicinity. Announcement of the funeral will be made later. The burial will be in the family plot at Lebanon, Hunterdon county.

BUZZARDS CELEBRATE SIX BIRTHDAYS AT NOTCH INN

The Buzzard's Club celebrated the birthdays of six members at Washington Inn in the "Notch" Saturday night with a chicken and beefsteak dinner. Those in whose honor the affair was arranged were Adam Jordan, Robert S. Parsons, Harry Hoffman, Alex Stryker, Harry Weiss and Wallace Martin. Edward Koechlein was toastmaster.

Helen Elizabeth Tunison.

Helen Elizabeth Tunison, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Tunison, died yesterday. She was a member of the cradle roll of Trinity Reformed church Sunday school. The funeral will be held at the residence of the parents, 500 East Second street, tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. The burial will be at Somerville.

Fall Fractures Knee-cap.

John Newman, aged 34 years, of 550 West Second street, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, Saturday afternoon, suffering with a fracture knee-cap. He was ascending the porch at his home when a loose board tipped up, throwing him violently forward. He was attended by Dr. C. B. Lufburrow before removal to the institution.

Prowler Gets 30 Days.

Michael Moore, of Haskill, N. J., arrested by Marshal Schenck for prowling about in back yards in the vicinity of Craig place and Duer street, was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail at Somerville by Recorder Gano today.

Spring Taken to Trenton.

PROBING CHARGES AGAINST SENATOR

Trenton, Feb. 26.—The charges of extortion against Senator Fitzherbert, of Morris county, were probed today by the Senate Judiciary Committee, resulting in laying before the committee practically the same allegations as were made last Tuesday. Senator Fitzherbert was present and was about the calmest person in the Senate chamber. He was represented by W. D. Edwards, of Jersey City. Mr. Edwards said the Senator would not make a statement until the charges were all on file. Dr. Ridner, who was back of the "strike" Acetylene, Gas Bills was not present but had counsel present who said Dr. Ridner denied all bribery.

At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Edwards said Senator Fitzherbert denied all charges as made and would not be heard unless a probe took place before the whole Senate. It is believed the committee will recommend a full investigation by the Senate.

POWER OF MUSIC.

A Wordless Conversation That Made Two Strangers Brothers.

An instance of music forming a base of conversation between strangers each ignorant of the other's language is given by John S. Neihardt in "The River and I." While on the Missouri in a canoe with some companions they came to a place where the Great Northern railroad touches the river for the last time for 500 miles. Here they saw two Italian hands whiling away their Sunday with fishing rods.

"I went ashore, hoping to buy some fish. Neither of the two could speak English, and Italian sounds to me merely like an unintelligible singing. However, they gave me to understand that the fish were not for sale, and my proffered coin had no persuasive powers.

"Still wanting those fish I lingered, carelessly whistling the while a strain from an opera I had once heard. For some reason or other that strain had been in my head all day. I got up in the morning with it; I had whistled it during the fight with the head wind. The Kid called it 'that dago tune.' I think it was something from 'Il Trovatore.'

"Suddenly one of the little Italians dropped his rod, stood up to his full height, lifted his arms very much after the fashion of an orchestra leader and joined in with me.

"I stopped—because I saw that he could whistle. He carried it on with much expression to the last thin note with all the ache of the world in it. And then he grinned at me.

"'Verdi!' he said sweetly.

"I applauded, whereat the little Italian produced a bag of tobacco. We sat down on the rocks and smoked together, holding a wordless but perfectly intelligible conversation of pleasant grins.

"That night we had fish for supper. I got them for a song, or, rather, for a whistle. One immortal strain from Verdi poorly whistled in a wilderness had made an Italian and a Dutchman brothers."

The Right Periodical.

Picking up a magazine, Swishbley began fumbling the pages.

COLUMBIA STUDENT TO TRAVEL ON BRAINS.

Baumer Will Start Around the World Without a Cent.

Herbert P. Baumer, a Columbia university student who has worked his way through his entire course at that institution, will start soon on a trip around the world without a cent in order to demonstrate that an education is a greater asset than ready cash. He is thirty years old and has been in Columbia five years, in which time he has taken both A. B. and A. M. degrees. He is known as the admiral because he has a pilot's license and is also an able seaman.

Baumer will start from New York and work his way to the coast by getting jobs on railroads and on boats on the great lakes. He will then ship on steamships to journey farther.

Baumer speaks French, German, Danish, Dutch and can make himself understood in a number of other languages. He is a native of Switzerland and has traveled all over the world as a sailor. He plays the violin well and has ability as a pianist.

COAL MINERS' DEMANDS.

Meeting to Be Held With Operators In New York on Feb. 27.

Committees of the anthracite coal miners and the anthracite coal operators are to meet in New York on Feb. 27 to arrange for a new agreement as to wages and conditions of work. There is talk of a general strike of the anthracite miners if an agreement is not reached.

The miners want a contract for one year only, beginning on April 1, 1912. They also demand an eight hour workday, recognition of the United Mine Workers as a party to the agreement, the right to provide a method for the collection of revenue for the organization and a more convenient and uniform system of adjusting local grievances. A minimum wage rate of $3.50 a day for miners on consideration work and $2.50 a day for laborers is demanded.

The bituminous miners have also made demands for new schedules and a two years' agreement.

SPARROWS ATE GARDEN SEEDS

Broke Into the United States Mail, They Were So Hungry.

Congressmen of western Tennessee and Kentucky who had hoped to reap a rich harvest of votes from the timely scattering of garden seeds furnished by the department of agriculture may find themselves at harvest time in the predicament of the Scriptural husbandman whose seed the birds ate up, for that is what happened to pouches full of congressional seed at Guthrie, Ky.

The pouches were thrown off for trains going west, but when they were picked up from the shed to be placed on the proper trains they were found to be perforated in scores of places and contained nothing except empty packages bearing the names and addresses of deserving and loyal constituents. Hungry sparrows, made desperate by the cold weather, had pecked holes in the pouches and eaten every grain out of hundreds of packages.

BABY HAS TWO HEADS.

Both Are Well Formed and Set on One Neck, Back to Back.

The Harvard Medical school is greatly interested in the birth of a baby with two distinct heads to Mrs. William Karnow of Cambridge, Mass.

Dr. Thomas H. Horton, who attended the mother, believes the baby will live. Both heads are well formed, although the normal head has better defined features than the extra one. They face in opposite directions, the extra head facing backward, back to back with the normal one.

The hair on the extra head is already grown, and a very fine fuzz covers part of the features. The heads set on the one neck, although the extra head is lower toward the shoulders than the normal one.

Except for the two heads, the baby is normal and well formed and not as delicate in structure as such unusual children ordinarily are.

FOR ARTIFICIAL RAIN.

Oklahoma Professor Claims Experiments Are Successful.

Professor Jamieson of the Edmond (Okla.) branch of the state normal school system, announced that he soon will make further experiments in the way of rainmaking as a result of what he says was a successful trial recently.

His recent experiments were made on a foggy morning from a high platform. He released liquid air in the form of a spray.

Result—Rain.

Next time, Jamieson says, he will use an airship for the experiment and rise above ordinary cloud height, where he expects the liquid spray to condense the moisture and cause considerable precipitation.

BORO SCHOOL BOARD SHAPES UP BUDGET

Will Ask Electors to Vote $23,500 Appropriation and $18,000 Bond Issue.

CITY BOARD RECEIVES BIDS

Building Committee Considering the Award of Contracts for Construction of High School Addition—F. T. Woodhull Elected Vice-Pres.

The Boards of Education of the city and the borough held meetings last night. The North Plainfield board met for the purpose of fixing the budget for the ensuing year.

The amount to be asked for at the annual meeting, to be held Tuesday, March 19, is $23,500. The total amount of the budget is $47,400. The difference will be made up by the money received from the State. The sum asked for this year is $1,200 less than last year.

At the annual election four members are to be elected. The places to be filled are now occupied by H. A. Woodruff, Charles I. Nash, E. A. Overton and Francis L. Bill.

The question of installing a heating plant in the Somerset School was thoroughly discussed and the plans as submitted by John A. Serrell accepted at his price, $18,000. They will be sent to the State Board for approval and the voters will be asked at the annual election to grant permission to bond the school district for this sum.

The regular order of business was suspended at the meeting of the Plainfield Board for the purpose of receiving bids for the proposed addition to the High School. The bids, as follows, were all referred to the building committee:

John C. Abbott, $28,484; J. & L. Moreland Co., $29,182; Metzger, Wells, $27,420; M. Brynes Building Co., $27,357; M. Rimmer $29376; Ross Bush Co., $27,952; Alexander Milne, $28,400.

The following amounts were bid on fire escapes: John C. Abbott, $1,200; J. & L. Moreland Co., $1,270; Metzger Wells, $1,167; M. Byrnes Building Co., $1,086; M. Rimmer, $825; Ross Bush Co., $833; Alexander Milne, $1,228.

The bids received for installing the plumbing were from Den J. Galbraith, $505, and George J. Tobin, $597. For heating and ventilating, Den J. Galbraith, $6,135 with $795 additional for installing motor; Geo. J. Tobin, $5,957 and $677 for motor; Storms & Co., $6,080 and $597 additional for motor.

Floyd T. Woodhull was unanimously elected vice-president of the board and Mr. Case, secretary. The following committees were appointed: Books, Stationary and Supplies, Buckle, Tyler and Woodhull; Buildings, Woodhull Hedges and Case; Fuel, Tyler, Hedges and Buckle.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. ANN MATHEWS.

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Mathews, mother of Mrs. M. F. Gano, whose death occurred Sunday night, will be held at the home of her eldest son, Charles H. Mathews, 561 East Third avenue, Roselle, tonight at 8 o'clock. The burial will be at Lebanon, tomorrow upon the arrival of the 12:06 noon train. Rev. S. E. Dezendorff, of Westfield, will officiate at the service. Miss Myrtle Mathews, of Newark, a great-granddaughter, will sing the favorite hymn of Mrs. Mathews.

Beside her daughter, Mrs. M. F. Gano, Mrs. Mathews is survived by six sons, Charles Mathews, of Roselle; Forrest Mathews, of Newark; John and Kinsey Mathews, of South Bound Brook; Leslie Mathews, of this city, and Irwin Mathews, of Tarkio Mo. Five of the sons with the eldest grandson will act as pallbearers.

Strong but friendly rivalry is now prevailing in the Daily Press European Tours contest, as the candidates have settled down to work in earnest. The special prize period as announced Saturday afternoon has stimulated some of those who have not been as active as others, for they realize that all start on an equal footing for the specials, although the voting for the tours continues as though the special period had not intervened.

This evening one candidate is leading, tomorrow night another may be leading; in fact the uncertainty of the contest is one of its interesting features. It is becoming delightful

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN OPEN MEETING AND A LECTURE

Mrs. Clara S. Laddey, of Arlington, president of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, was the speaker at the meeting of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield in the Babcock building yesterday afternoon.

It was announced that an open meeting of the league is to be held at the Babcock building, at 8 o'clock, on the evening of Friday, March 1, at which the principal speaker will be Mrs. Clara Bewick Colby, former editor of the Woman's Tribune, of Portland, Oregon.

She will show how all classes of women will be benefitted by having the ballot. Her address will be especially timely in view of the fact that a bill is now before the State Legislature for an amendment to the constitution, giving women the right to vote. Everyone who is interested in State and civic progress is invited to come to this meeting, the business women of Plainfield particularly, for to self-supporting women more than anyone else is the subject of suffrage of vital importance.

It was also announced that on the afternoon of March 15 there will be a musical lecture recital by Mrs. William Victor Goldberg, at the residence of Mrs. Isaac Schwed, 1147 Evergreen avenue, the subject being Humperdinck's "Konigskinder." The proceeds will be used for the work of the State Association.

Mrs. Laddey told of the rapid growth of suffrage interest in the east as well as the west, and spoke very hopefully of the outlook for the suffrage bill at Trenton. She urged every woman who stood for suffrage to go to Trenton on the day of the hearing for the bill before the committee to which it has been referred. The date of this hearing will soon be announced.

Mrs. Laddey referred to the speechmaking tour of the State which is to be made by Mrs. Colby. Her first speech will be in Plainfield, at the meeting on Friday evening.

READY FOR RECOGNITION SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST.

Arrangements are virtually complete for the recognition services for Rev. Dr. Phillip B. Strong, the pastor-elect at the First Baptist church, on Tuesday night, March 5. Rev. Dr. W. B. Wallace, pastor of the Temple Baptist church, Brooklyn, will make the address.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Lawrence, of the North Orange Baptist church will speak as the representative of the New Jersey Baptist Association. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will represent the local Baptist denomination, while Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, the dean of the local clergy; Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, and Rev. J. Y. Broek, of Trinity Reformed church, will be among the Plainfield ministers to take part. Howard M. Case, organist of the church, is preparing an elaborate musical program.

ASSEMBLYMAN GROVES' TWO SCHOOL MEASURES.

Trenton, Feb. 27.—Two bills to correct defects in the new school law of last year were introduced in the House last night by Assemblyman Groves, of Union county. One makes legal the appointment of Boards of Education of nine members and the other legalizes appointments made by mayors of boards under last year's act. Question of the constitutionality of the old law had been raised.

MORRIS SENATOR MUST FACE A TRIAL

Judiciary Committee Finds That Fitzherbert's Offense Justifies Proceedings.

HE MAY NOW BE EXPELLED

Affidavits Submitted at Preliminary Hearing Tell of Propositions to Kill Gas Bills—$5,000 is Mentioned.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 27.—The senate judiciary committee investigating the charges against Senator Richard Fitzherbert, Democrat, of Morris county of attempted extortion from the Commercial Acetylene Gas company of New York in connection with two bills limiting the manufacture and use of acetylene gas in New Jersey, which bills, it was alleged, would be withdrawn for a consideration, reported the result of their findings following a hearing upon the charges.

The committee declared the senator guilty of such an offense as is inconsistent with the trust and duty of a member of the senate and recommended that he be tried by the senate on the question of his expulsion from the upper house.

The report was adopted by the senate, and a later date will be fixed for the senate trial of the senator from Morris. The trial will be in due form and with full legal effect, the senate having power to summon witnesses and compel testimony.

Affidavits were submitted by Edward L. Katzenbach, representing Oscar J. Ostby, general manager of the Commercial Acetylene company of New York, and M. K. Wisehart, a New York reporter. The affidavits contained sworn statements of the testimony submitted at the original hearing on the acetylene bills.

Mr. Ostby's affidavit told of Ridner's calls upon him and of the proposition to kill the acetylene bills. Ridner said that as Ostby was familiar with the practice of killing legislation of this kind he ought to know what it would take to "fix" legislators behind legislation of this kind.

In his testimony Ostby told of all his dealings with Ridner and of the proposition to kill the bills for $1,500, $500 for himself and $1,000 "where it would do the most good." Ostby related Ridner's threat that if the money was not forthcoming he would have to drop the matter.

The last affidavit by Mr. Ostby told of the visit of Wisehart, the reporter, and Ostby to the Morris senator at the Trenton House and of Fitzherbert saying that if Ostby turned over $5,000 to him the bills would never be heard of again and that he would take charge of the matter. At no time was it said that Senator Fitzherbert asked for the money for himself.

Senator Edwards said, "If you were honest why didn't you turn a man out of your office who wanted you to bribe a man?"

Ostby replied, "I wanted this matter fixed right, so my company would not be troubled again."

Dr. George Spencer Ridner, who was connected with Senator Fitzherbert in the graft charges, was not at the statehouse, but he was represented by Jacob L. Newman, a Newark lawyer.

"Dr. Ridner has absolutely nothing to conceal or to be afraid of, and as there has appeared in the press of the state of New Jersey many misleading statements concerning his connection with this transaction, he desires to place himself at the disposal of this honorable committee to afford them every aid that is in his power, so that his conduct in this matter may be thoroughly vindicated."

WILSON URGES INCOME TAX RATIFICATION NOW.

Trenton, Feb. 27.—Pointing out that a large majority of the states have already voted in favor of an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for an income tax and stating that it would be a conspicuous service to the country if New Jersey might add her vote to that of the other states, Governor Wilson sent to the Legislature last night a special message urging the ratification by this State of the proposed income tax amendment to the constitution.

FINDLAY LOSES SALOON LICENSE; GLOEKLER AGAIN 'TURNED DOWN'

Salvation Army Captain and Councilman Holt Denounce Findlay---Councilman Reville Fearless in His Arraignment of Violators.

The Common Council at its meeting last night renewed ten liquor licenses, refusing to grant the application of Christian Gloekler at West Front and Somerset streets, and denying a renewal to Alexander D. Findlay for his saloon on East Second street, between Park and Watchung avenues.

There were ten members of the Council present; John E. Dunn was the one absentee. Councilmen Tolles and Gloak alone voted for Mr. Findlay's application. The vote on the applications were as follows:

Alexander D. Findlay — Against—Messrs. Clay, Endress, Holt, Mygatt, C. C. Randolph, Taylor, Wilson, Reville. For—Messrs. Gloak, Tolles.

Christian Gloekler — For — Messrs. Endress, Gloak, Reville, Wilson. Against—Messrs. Clay, Holt, Mygatt, C. C. Randolph, Taylor, Tolles.

Michael, Watson, E. C. Westcott, Godfrey J. Weinman and Eastern Bottling Company—For Messrs. Clay, Gloak, Holt, Mygatt, C. C. Randolph, Taylor, Wilson, Tolles. Against—Messrs. Endress, Reville.

Hotel Kensington, Queen City Hotel, Jacob Blimm, Jr., H. F. Windham — For—Messrs. Clay, Gloak, Holt, Mygatt, C. C. Randolph, Taylor, Wilson, Tolles, Endress. Against—Mr. Reville.

Frank Linke and John C. Clark—For—Unanimous vote.

The Common Council at its adjourned meeting last night, not only turned down the application of Christian Gloekler for a saloon license at West Front and Somerset streets, as foretold in the Daily Press ,but gave everyone a genuine surprise by refusing to renew Alexander D. Findlay's license for his saloon on East Second street. Michael Watson and J. C. Clark, both applicants for renewals of saloon licenses had a narow escape from losing their privilege to go on in business.

Councilman Patrick J. Reville caused something of a stir by making a bitter attack on the Watson saloon, and incidentally hinting at what he though was the real reason for the council refusing Gloekler a license a year ago, which he said was not because he was accused of selling liquors to minor, but because of an incident in the fall campaign of 1910, which every member of the council knew about at the time.

Attack on Findlay's

Councilman Frank L. Holt and Captain A. S. Hewitt, of the Salvation, made the attack on Findlay's saloon that was responsible for the applicant losing his license. Both characterized the place as the worst licensed saloon in the city. Captain Hewitt vividly pictured its alleged evils and emphasized the assertion that the proprietor of the saloon violated the law in that he sold liquor to habitual drunkards, men who were on the "blacklist" in all drinking places in the city.

The liquor licenses were granted as follows: Eastern Bottling Company and Frank Linke, wholesale; Michael Watson, Godfrey J. Weinman, Ellsworth C. Westcott, Joseph C. Clark, Jacob Blimm, Jr., saloons; Peter Floersch, Queen City Hotel; John H. Kitchen, Hotel Kensington, and Henry F. Windham, Hotel Waldorf.

Fully a half hour before the meeting was called to order President R. I. Tolles, the lobby was filled to overflowing with representatives citizens. It was estimated that nearly four hundred persons were present.

Protest Impressive.

It was the greatest demonstration on such an occasion within the memory of those present, and before the meeting it was conceded even by the friends of Mr. Gloekler that he was beaten and could not get a license. Four votes were the most that anyone was willing to grant him in forecast.

Among the more prominent persons present were Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church; Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, and Rev. J. Y. Broek, of Trinity Reformed church; Alexander Miller, also of the Congregational church; former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield; Samuel Bingaman, of the First M. E. church, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin, of the Temple Baptist church; General Secretary H. E. Parker, of the Y. M. C. A.; George H. Batchelor and John G. MacLoughlin, of the First Baptist church.

In addition there was a large representation from the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union, led by Clarence B. LaRue, and the Epworth League, beside members of other churches and religious organizations, all of whom were there to protest against Christain Gloeckler's application in particular, and all aplications in general.

Numerous Petitions.

After the meeting was called to order, numerous petitions in protest, all aimed at the Glockler application directly and all others in general, were presented. These included protests from the Seventh-Day Baptist church, the Mt. Olive Baptist church against the Clark saloon at Liberty and West Third street, because it is only fifty feet from the church; the Dutch Arms, of Trinity Reformed church; the Y. M. C. A., representing a membership of 250 men and boys; the Rahway and Plainfield Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, the Brotherhood of the First M. E. church; the Women's Christian Temperance Union, representing 200 members while Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, representing the Plainfield Ministers' Association, and Clarence B. LaRue, representing the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union, both spoke and presented formal petitions in protest from both organizations against the granting of a license to Gloekler.

After Councilman F. E. Mygatt moved that the Council proceed to act on the licenses, Councilman Patrick J. Reville moved that Mr. Gloekler's application be presented and the members of the Council be given a chance to express their opinion.

Applications Taken Up.

The applications were then taken up, Gloekler's first, when Councilman W. W. Wilson, chairman of the license committee, moved that it be granted. Councilman Charles C. Randolph seconded the motion.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson then spoke briefly, explaining that he was present as a citizen and taxpayer, also as a representative of the Plainfield Ministers' Association to protest against the Gloekler application. He quoted from a recently published article in the local newspapers written by Corporation Counsel W. M. Stillman protesting against the liquor business and read an admonition given by City Judge W. G. DeMeza to an offender; in which he was quoted as saying' 'I hope you will learn a lesson and keep away from the booze.'

Dr. Anderson added that what was desired was to keep booze away from men. He then read the resolutions adopted by the Plainfield Ministers Association protesting against the granting of Gloekler's application, in which several reasons were given why it should be refused, namely, that the saloon is not needed, that there are ample accomodations for the general public elsewhere, that Gloekler was accused of selling to minors, and that the condition of Gloekler's corner has improved to such an extent that public sentiment is against a saloon there.

"Thumbs Down" for Gloekler.

In conclusion, Dr. Anderson said that he hoped the Council would refuse to grant all applications where it was found that the liquor dealers were not living up to the law.

Clarence B. LaRue, on behalf of four hundred Christian Endeavorers, entered a protest against all licenses, and especially that of Gloekler's, and in closing his remarks asked all present who agreed with him to raise their hands. A large majority of those present went up, and this was followed by loud applause.

Representing the Men's Conference Bible class of the First Baptist church, George H. Batchelor entered a strong protest. He said that the class has a membership of 125 men, ranging from 25 to 60 years of age and at the session of the class yesterday resolutions in protest were adopted. In his opinion any man who had violated the law should not be given another license. He said he was opposed to the sale of liquor because it is contrary to the law of the common brotherhood and for the reason that the Bible says: "Cursed is the man who putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips and maketh him drink."

Alexander Millar also entered a strong protest against granting Gloekler's license, explaining that there are a sufficient number of licensed places and no man need go thirsty.

Former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield, in addressing the Council, said that there was many sides to the liquor question, but he was present in the interest of the "north side." He recalled a speech he made before the old Board of Trade sometime ago, in which he took a stand against granting a license to Mr. Gloekler. The latter was present at the meeting.

"North Plainfield gives Plainfield largely of its resources," continued Mr. Smalley. "Our people spend their money in Plainfield, and there is some slight return due North Plainfield. Plainfield does not return this money and that is the reason it is hard to run our government.

"I advocated the widening of Somerset street to Front street, which would be a benefit to the general

BURGLARS CALL ON SIX HOUSEHOLDERS

Four Dunellen and Two Plainfield Residences Objects of Raiders' Attack.

GET TWO DOZEN FRESH EGGS

Except for That Haul the Booty Secured is Not Valuable as Swag Goes—Watchdog on the Job at One Place.

Two houses in Plainfield and four others in Dunellen just over the city line on Jefferson avenue, were entered by burglars at an early hour this morning. Two houses yielded a small amount of booty while practically nothing was taken from the remainder. Two dozen fresh eggs were among the swag secured.

The residences entered were those of the following: Isaac J. Stites and John Doty, Dunellen avenue; Mrs. Jane Apgar, Front street, and John Titus, Front street and Jackson avenue, all in Dunellen and Sidney Craig and Edwin Craig, Myrtle avenue, Plainfield. In each instance, entrance was effected by forcing a window or rear door.

At the Sidney Craig house, the intruders carried off two new overcoats, $5 in change and two dozen fresh eggs. At the Titus home, $12 in money was purloined and at the Apgar home a few pieces of silverware. The men had forced a window at the Edwin Craig home but were interrupted by the family dog, which set up a furious barking. Mr. Craig was roused up in time to hear someone scampering off in the darkness.

LIEUTENANT PETERSON IS ELECTED CO. K'S CAPTAIN

Major W. B. Martin, under orders from military headquarters, conducted an election of a captain and such vacancies as existed in Co. K, last night. First Lieutenant Charles A. Peterson was chosen captain to succeed H. B. Kitchell; Second Lieutenant Nathaniel Hort was elected first lieutenant; Sergeant Arthur R. Phillips was elected second lieutenant and Private Oliver R. Pearson, Jr., was made sergeant. George B. Howell and Charles S. Wilson were elected corporals.

Co. K is eleven years old today, the organization being mustered into service on February 27, 1901. Following the election Captain W. Kempton Browning gave a talk on "Hygiene and Marching."

LENTEN SERVICES ARRANGED AT WEST END CHAPEL.

Rev. Frederic L. Green, pastor of Hope chapel, has announced a series of Lenten services. He will deliver a series of sermons on Sunday mornings at 10:30, on "Christian Faith," as follows:

March 3, pastor's anniversary sermon; 10, "The Optimism of Faith;" 17, "The Foresight of Faith;" 24, "The Faithfulness of Faith;" 31, "Present and Future Faith."

Under the auspices of the Men's Club of the church, the pastor will give a series of addresses on Sunday evenings of Lent on the general theme: "Character Studies in Passion Week," as follows:

Marc 3, "Pilate the Neutral;" 10 communion service; 17, "Peter the Blunderer;" 24, "The Three Intimates of Jesus;" 31, "Joseph of Arimathea; the Disciple Who Came Late."

Councilmanic Routine.

J. S. Dahl asked the Common Council at its session last night for permission to remove a building from 763 Kensington avenue to 702 Webster place. The matter was referred. Residents in the vicinity of West Eighth street, west of Grant avenue, petitioned to have a sewer extended to the pumping station on Monroe avenue. This was referred. An invitation was received to attend the New Jersey Conference of the Charities and Corrections at Orange and the matter was referred to the committee on public affairs.

Fined For Keeping Dog.

William Sanders, colored, of Grove street, was sentenced to pay a $5 fine or serve five days in the borough jail by Recorder M. F. Gano, this morning, for harboring a dog without a license.

Miss Mirian H. Van Horn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Van Horn, of Central avenue, was operated upon for appendicitis at Muhlenberg hospital, yesterday. Her condition today was reported favorable. Miss Van Horn has been attending Swarthmore College, where she is a sophomore.

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

Dunellen & Vicinity.

The first regular basketball game in the Presbyterian chapel was played last night in the presence of a large and delighted crowd of spectators. The contestants were the Whittier School five and the Monarchs. The latter won by a score of 20 to 17. The games was well played throughout and in the first half the Whittiers had the best of the argument. The score stood 8 to 3 in their favor at its close. In the second half, the Monarchs rallied. Adrian Dealaman leading the side with brilliant work that turned the tide. O'Leary and Victorson were the stars for the Whittiers. The game was refereed by A. K. Naugle. The teams were lined up as follows: Whittiers—William Victorson, Arthur O'Leary, Kenneth Dealaman, William Gangloff and DeWitt Swackhamer; Monarchs—Adam Dealaman, Alfred Day, Ben Cole, William Martin and Allen Frederick.

The Jersey Central's new time table, which went into effect Sunday, makes a number of changes in Dunellen trains. The borough people benefit particularly in the late afternoon and evening service from Plainfield. Otherwise there is no material difference than the old schedule.

Proprietor Alexander Stillwaggon, of the Lake House, New Market, will shortly begin the erection of an eight-room addition to his hotel and add improvements that will make it one of the finest country hostelries in this part of the State.

The building committee of the First Baptist church met Sunday night and completed arrangements for the proposed dining room and kitchen addition. The improvement is to cost about $800.

Foster Sofield, of New Market, who was overtaken by illness while at work in his blacksmith shop last Thursday, has recovered sufficiently to be about again.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peck, who have been spending the winter in New Market home the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Minerva P. Chamberlain, who has been residing on Lincoln avenue, has taken possession of her newly completed residence on Center street.

A series of illustrated and instructive lectures will be given in the Seventh-Day Baptist church commencing Saturday, March 2.

The Barfus Auto Bus service between New Market and Plainfield has been discontinued because of insufficient patronage.

It is possible the Master Builders' Association will take a hand to have the validity of some of the provisions of the ordinance tested in the higher courts.

The Westfield Council will hold a special meeting this evening to consider the passage of an ordinance to compel owners to muzzle their dogs.

Congressman W. E. Tuttle, Jr., made a short stay at his home town Sunday, returning to Washington yesterday.

TWO CIDER TESTS.

The First One Was Rather More Convincing Than the Second.

In all glorious New Jersey it is generally admitted there is no cider to equal that of Farmer Marshall. But he is notable for other things besides. It is said that he would very much rather receive than give—in short, that he is a stingy old rascal.

Young Peterson had heard of this, but he was a young man who had considerable faith in his own powers of passing on the gentle hint, and to some sportive companions he had boasted that he would get a drink of cider out of the old man without actually asking for it. As such a thing had never been known to happen in living memory, there were plenty of takers, and the next day Peterson drove over.

"Morning, father," said he. "Fine orchard you have here."

"Aye," said the farmer.

"They tell me, too, that you have a very fine press."

"Aye. 'Tis the best in all Jersey."

"Pretty good cider you get, I suppose, eh? But I dare say I've tasted better."

"Not in your born days. Tom"—this to his son—"get an' draw a mug o' cider."

The luscious beverage was brought, and with a smile of triumph young Peterson held forth his hand to take it.

But the farmer's hand got there first. He drained the mug and then handed it to the visitor.

"There!" he remarked. "If you think you've ever met the like of that cider just smell the mug!"

FINDLAY LOSES LICENSE

public. A saloon at Front and Somerset streets has been a nuisance for fifty years, a positive nuisance. I doubt if its necessary to come here and protest against an application for a saloon at that corner. A year ago when it was denied there must have been good reasons for the action and if it should be renewed now there must be good reasons for doing so. I question whether any man can stand up now and give good reasons in favor of granting this license. It is not a question of a man, but conditions, and it would be an outrage to renew the license. I am not going to beg the Council to refuse the application, for I think the members have too much good sense to do otherwise."

The announcement that Gloekler had been refused a license bp a vote of 6 to 4, was greeted with cheers and applause. Then followed action on the other applications. There was considerable of a sensation when Michael Watson's application was presented, for it was the signal for Councilman P. J. Reville to open an attack on that applicant.

The Fourth ward member declared that Watson had repeatedly violated the law over and over again, and he begged the Council not to stultify itself by voting for his application. Mr. Reville said that on an election day a few years ago, Watson had acted as a gang leader in the second district of the Fourth Ward, and had abused and insulted him when he was a candidate for Council.

"Watson's place is a den and a dive, nothing more nor less," declared Mr. Reville. "He sells the vilest liquor." At this point President Tolles interrupted the councilman by asking, "How do you know?"

Mr. Reville questioned the right of Mr. Tolles to question him on the point, adding that it was up to Watson to decide that question, with all due respect to the president. Continuing, Mr. Reville said that Watson had already killed three or four men through the stuff he sold.

Replying to Mr. Reville, Mr. Holt said that when the saloon zone was established, Watson and Clark were the only ones outside. That condition exists now and he could see no special reason why their applications could be refused just now, but added Mr. Holt, "If I am in the Council next year and Clark and Watson apply for licenses I will vote against them."

Councilman Clay said that he felt the same as Mr. Holt, although he was not certain what he would do a year hence. He said that if Mr. Reville would bring his objections before the Council in the proper way he would vote against the applicant, adding that he had heard of no objections to either Clark or Watson. He said that with all due respect to Dr. Anderson, the Council must license saloons here; they can't be abolished under present conditions.

Continuing the discussion on the question, Mr. Taylor said that if Mr. Reville would move to lay Watson's application on the table for investigation he would second the motion.

"It is the duty of the license committee to investigate those things," declared Mr. Reville, 'and Mr. Clay is a member of that committee."

This remark led Councilman C. C. Randolph to say that a complaint was made against Christian Gloekler, was presented to the police department, and there had been no complaint against Watson.

Mr. Reville chafing under the opposition to his stand, made the lobby sit up and take notice, when he declared that if he had the facts he could tell why Gloekler did not get his license last year. It was not because he sold to minors, said Mr. Reville, "but was due to an incident of the fall campaign of 1910, known to every member of the Council."

This statement brought Mr. Taylor to his feet and he emphatically declared that he had voted against Gloekler's application from honest conviction. If Watson had violated the law he would vote against his application whether it bore any political significance or not. That was his position.

The surprise of the evening came at this point when Alexander D. Findlay's application was refused. Councilman F. L. Holt made an attack on the place, declaring it to be the worst in the city. He said that fact was common knowledge. He recalled that there were several votes against Findlay's application last year, and the proprietor was given a warning as to conditions. Mr. Holt said there had been no improvement and he would vote against the application.

Captain A. S. Hewitt, of the Salvation Army, followed this up with a bitter arraignment of Findlay's saloon. He said that liquor was sold to habitual drunkards, men who were on the "blacklist" who could not obtain liquor in any other place in the city. He pictured drunken men loafing about the saloon and in the vacant lot opposite, blaspheming and otherwise disturbing the neighborhood. He said that patrons were constantly seen going from the place carrying liquor in pails and bottles, and he had been obliged to ask the aid of the police to remove drunken men from about the Salvation Army building.

The captain said that the saloon was demoralizing to the neighborhood, women were patrons of the place, drunkards gather there and he asked the Council to remove this means from drunkards to get liquor.

Mr. Reville inquired as to whether the license committe had investigated the Findlay place. Councilman Wilson said that he had received no complaint, which led Mr. Reville to protest against the action.

When the vote was taken on the Gloekler and Findlay applications the lobby broke forth in cheers and applause, which caused President Tolles to call for order.

PROBE NEWARK FIRE.

Both Fire and Police Departments Are Investigating Stable Blaze.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 27.—The police and fire departments are investigating a fire that started in the stable of Solomon Goldberg. Five horses were suffocated.

It is declared by Battalion Chief McDermit that there was evidence of a fire having been started in each of the five stalls by candles lighted several hours before. They were placed in such a manner, he said, that when each burned down it set fire to the hay. Goldberg was in New York on Sunday night attending a wedding and did not return here until after the fire. No arrests were made.

COPS MUST HELP WHEN BLIND PERSONS WHISTLE

Newark, N. J., Feb. 27.—Following an example setb y Pittsburgh and Chicago, the local Police Board has decided to grant permission to all blind persons to carry whistles which bring to their assistance any policemen within hearing.

The application for the permit to carry whistles was made in behalf of the Progressive Blind Men's Club of New Jersey. The fact that Pittsburgh and New York have granted such permission was called to the attention of the board and it was pointed out that such a privilege would be greatly appreciated. In the application it was stated than on many occasions blind people are refused assistance across streets by pedestrians because they think they will be solicited for alms.

The whistles to be used will be of a different sound than those used by patrolmen at trafic centres.

When the new order goes into effect, which will probably be March 1, it will be the duty of all patrolmen when they hear a whistle of a blind man to go to his assistance and help him across streets.

With the Approach of Spring

Your thoughts naturally turn to Dress and the Fashions. We, as the servants of the public, have had this all important question before us for some considerable time, preparing for the opening up of the season and the accompanying demand for new Apparel, Fabrics, Accessories, etc., by judicious purchasing of what our past experience tells us you will require in the way of quality merchandise. These new goods have been arriving daily for some weeks and we are in a position now to be able to offer for your selection many items which you should be requiring, all of which you will find are of the high quality always associated with this house.

Dress Goods and Silk Section

Consequent upon moving our Suit Department to the second floor this section has been greatly added to, giving us more shelving, enabling us to carry much larger and better assorted stocks. This means that you will have a wider range of pattern, color and quality to choose from, which you will find well exemplified in the showing of new goods for Spring which we are now making, which includes Messaline and Changeable Taffeta Silks, Cream and White Serge Suitings, Stripe and Check Suitings, Serges, Batistes, Broadcloths, and many other favored weaves to be worn this season.

The Women's and Children's Ready-to-Wear Dept.

Last fall, if you remember, we moved this section to our second floor, fitting up a large space as an up-to-date apparel department, with handsome, enclosed racks, shelving, etc., and also installing the necessary comforts for the welfare of our patrons. The success of that first season in the new location gives us the assurance of your approval and has prompted us to increase our stocks in every way, to buy larger and better assorted quantities and a wider range of qualities and price.

We are now showing many of the

in many styles—all of that dependable quality of make and material—thoroughly stylish and marked at prices which make highly commendable values, ranging up to $27.50.

Advance Styles in Spring Millinery

Always first with the new and seasonable goods—we have kept up our reputation by showing some of the earliest models in Tailored Spring Hats. We have just received part of another order and they are now out on the cases for your inspection and choosing. These include Helmet and Peachbasket shapes, in tailored styles; also many untrimmed shapes which can be made up to immediate wear.

Wash and White Fabrics

We have gained space in this section by the removal of our Apparel Department to the second floor and consequently have a wider and more varied assortment of qualities and patterns to offer you in all Wash and White Fabrics—New Lawns, Dimities, Swisses, Linenes, etc., Ginghams, Percales, Chambrays, Galateas and other colored goods, all of dependable quality and but moderately priced; goods that will give you lots of satisfaction and for all and every use.

Housefurnishings

With the brighter days coming the diligent housewife is thinking of housecleaning and brightening up after the long winter. Our Housefurnishing section has been enlarged, enabling us to carry a better and bigger stock of Curtains, Portieres and Draperies, Cretonnes, Chintzs, Silkolenes, Burlaps and other articles and fabrics which you will be shortly needing and we desire you to bear this in mind when making your necessary purchases and pay us a visit.

American Express Company Figures Made Public.

OVERCHARGE COMPLAINT.

Commissioner Lane Scores Practice of Company In Charging at Both Ends of the Line For Transportation of Packages—Gross Receipts $40,000,000 a Year.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Since 1868 the American Express company has received from patrons $598,158,930. This company was organized in that year with not a cent of capital, according to figures presented at the interstate commerce commission hearing here.

The hearing in the commission's investigation into the express companies was resumed in this city, two witnesses being heard—Charles S. Ludlam, an expert accountant employed by the American Express company, and J. H. Bradley, vice president of the company. Questioned by Attorney Frank L. Lyon, who represents the commission, and by Commissioner Lane, Mr. Bradley was unable to explain satisfactorily why the express companies made so many overcharges. In the case of one company it has been shown that it made 3,000 overcharges in one day and collected in one year $67,000 as overcharges.

Commissioner Lane stated that he had on one occasion sent a package to himself from another city to Washington, prepaid the charges, beat the package to Washington, and then had it presented to him with a demand for payment a second time. He said that the commission had hundreds of complaints of double charges.

"It is a universal complaint," said he, "that in the case of the adjustment of these overcharges, or those that are adjusted, there is considerable delay, and from personal experience I know that the express companies in making them act as if they were doing a favor, as if it were a gratuitous service. We are going to find a way to remedy these things."

Statistics introduced in evidence showed that the American express company began business in 1868 practically without a cent of actual money, but down to June 30, 1911, had disbursed as dividends to shareholders the sum of $43,500,000. The company's net income from its investments purchased from earnings has been $26,000,000.

According to the figures, also, the total investment of the company at the present time is $10,339,803. The gross receipts of the company are approximately $40,000,000 per annum.

"AUNT DELIA" IS SORRY.

Miss Torrey Sure, However, That Taft Will Win Again.

Millbury, Mass., Feb. 27.—Miss Delia C. Torrey, aunt of President Taft and familiarly known as "Aunt Delia," is not pleased at the announcement of former President Roosevelt that he will accept the nomination for another term if it is offered him. Miss Torrey, who is eighty-seven years old and who returned Saturday from a visit to the White House, when asked what she thought of the Roosevelt statement, said:

"I am very sorry Colonel Roosevelt has decided to be a candidate for the presidency again. I feel sure he will be defeated and that my nephew, President Taft, will be renominated and reelected for a second term. I think the president has done nothing to cause the people to go back on him, and while I am a woman and do not know much about politics I think public sentiment is with President Taft and will carry him through all right."

PROBE QUEBEC DISASTER.

American Detectives In Canada Suspicious of McNamara Gang.

Montreal, Feb. 27.—That the Quebec bridge, which fell into the St. Lawrence river Aug. 29, 1907, killing sixty-four men and doing millions of dollars damage, was wrecked by agents of the McNamaras is believed to be the theory on which American detectives in Canada are now working.

William J. Burns has visited Canada several times during the past year, having been here and in Ottawa, and it is known that his attention has been called to the possibility of the connection of the McNamaras with the terrible catastrophe in 1907.

ANOTHER FRENCH DUEL.

Anti-Republicans Meet Without Much Blood Being Shed.

Paris, Feb. 27.—Another duel was fought, this time between two anti-Republicans, Paul de Cassagnac, editor of Autorite and an imperialist leader, and Charles Maurras, a royalist agitator.

The latter was wounded in the arm, but challenged De Cassagnac to meet him again when his arm is better.

Both men were agreed that the republic must go, but quarreled over the form of government which should take its place.

New York, Feb. 27.—President C. S. Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad evidently thinks the Westchester (N. Y.) commuters a mighty grasping lot. He said that some of them "wanted to ride free and a chromo thrown in."

It was before the public service commission, second department, that Mr. Mellen delivered himself of his views on commuters. He was there to answer certain questions the Westchester commuters wanted answered in the matter of the raising of commutation rates in their county.

COAL OPERATORS MEET THE MINERS.

Little Hope That Strike Will Be Averted.

New York, Feb. 27.—Following a four hour conference of representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, there were indications this morning that a strike of the 180,000 miners in the anthracite coal region would be declared to enforce the demands of the men.

But it was made clear that the exact situation as regards a strike cannot be determined until after the joint conference of the operators and the mine workers this afternoon.

An eight hour working day, recognition of the United Mine Workers' organization in certain districts, a 20 per cent advance in wages for all employees and pay for coal mined by the long ton instead of by the carload, are among the demands made by the men.

The railroad and other companies interested in the conference this afternoon are the Philadelphia and Reading, George F. Baer, president; the Lehigh Valley, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Erie, the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the New York, Ontario and Western; the New York, Susquehanna and Western; the Pennsylvania Coal company, the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company and one independent operator.

Representatives of the mine workers here are headed by President John P. White of Oscaloosa, Ia.

PREDICTION BY M'KINLEY.

Taft's Campaign Manager Sure of President's Renomination.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—That President Taft will be renominated by the Republicans at the national convention in June in spite of the open candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for a third term is the emphatic prediction made by Congressman William B. McKinley of Illinois, who is directing the president's campaign.

This forecast was indorsed also by David B. Forgan, president of the Taft Club of Illinois, who has just returned from Washington.

"The announcement of the candidacy of former President Roosevelt will not make the slightest difference in the world in the campaign that is being carried on for the renomination and reelection of President Taft," said Congressman McKinley. "Mr. Taft will be renominated at the Chicago convention. Of this there is to my mind not the slightest shadow of a doubt."

PROMOTING PUPILS

To the vast majority of educators and the preponderance of those who have a practical and not merely a theoretical knowledge of school work, the provision of the Frelinghuysen law of 1911 authorizing the State Board of Education to "prescribe minimum examinations throughout the State for graduation from grammar schools and for admission to high schools and high school departments" is radically unfair. By it the whole year's work of a pupil counts for naught. He is to be judged solely on what he shows that he has learned by being put to a test. One reason alone suffices to illustrate how unjust is the provision. It is that many, many pupils, who have done conscientious work during the terms and who have been excellent in deportment, completely "fall down" when subjected to an examination. Because of their physical make-up, they become so frightened and wrought up to a nervous tension that it is impossible at an examination to do themselves justice. The major reason is, however, that a teacher knows thoroughly by the end of a school year whether the pupil is fit to be advanced.

The director of education at the Iowa State University, Frederick E. Bolton, strikes the right chord when he says: "I feel sure that the examinations for promotion from the elementary schools to the high schools, and the examinations for graduation from the high school should be left entirely to the local schools. The decision that a child may pass from a given grade to the next higher grade should in general rest mainly with the teacher in charge of the subject. Of course principals and superintendents should have final authority, but even they should rely largely upon teachers. I believe this plan makes for greater efficiency than any externally applied examinations can do."

Professor Frank McMurry, of the Columbia University Teachers' College, holds precisely the same views on this subject. He says: "The plan of promoting children on the sole basis of an examination is a good hundred years behind the times when viewed in the light of modern educational theory. It is a fine example, showing how far practice may lag behind theory."

Hundreds of other educators throughout the country take the same identical position. It is pleasing to know, therefore, that the Assembly has passed the Gill bill which would eliminate this objectionable feature of the Frelinghuysen law. Added satisfaction will be felt if the Senate takes like action and Governor Wilson—and there is the stumbling block, puts his "o. k." on the measure.

THE RIGHT MAN.

The Fifth, New Jersey, Congressional district is now represented at Washington by a Democrat. This should not be. The district is strongly Republican. A delegate, whose political principles are of the Democratic persuasion, cannot truly represent a Republican constituency. Naturally the question arises, then how did the Fifth district come to agree upon him? The reason is obvious to anyone acquainted with conditions when he was a candidate.

At that time, hundreds and hundreds of good Republicans wanted a change in the State administration. They preferred Woodrow Wilson, a Democrat, for Governor. His position as a man of great intellect and personality, and above all his brilliant speeches, won their favor and incidently their votes. In their eagerness to vote for him they cast a straight Democratic ticket rather than make any mistake in cutting it for the Republican congressional nominee and thereby have their ballots thrown out. It was a Wilson landslide in this district. Despite the unusual popularity of the Republican Congressional candidate, William N. Runyon, the latter was caught in the deluge. That's why William E. Tuttle, a Democrat, is at Washington.

Former Judge Runyon made a splendid campaign. He was admirably equipped for the office to which he aspired. President Taft even went to the length of addressing the Republicans of the district, through former State Senator Ackerman, urging loyalty to the party, setting forth incidently that he was anxious to have the popular Plainfield man's support at the Federal Capitol.

Some months hence, the Republicans of the Fifth district will be called upon to name their choice for congressional candidate. Fortunately, all the qualified Republican voters will have a say. There will be no dictation and the race is open to all. It is to be hoped and it is to be expected that they will decide upon Judge Runyon. He fought a losing fight and he went down to an honorable defeat; a defeat for which he was in nowise responsible. Search where it will the party cannot do better than to select the Plainfielder as their standard bearer.

GOVERNOR ON "L. O."

Friends of local option can count Governor Wilson among their champions. The Governor does not go the limit, however, for he is unwilling to have the issue made a plank in his party platform. His excuse is, as he says himself, that subjects of this kind, social and moral, "are not suscptible of being made parts of a party program." In such position, he argues, they cut the lines of party organization and party action athwart to the utter confusion of political action in every other field." All other issues, under such conditions, are thrown in the background, he continues, and, accepting this view, he declares that he "can never consent to have the question of local option made an issue between political parties in this State." The agitation is to his mind essentially non-political, non-partisan, moral and social in its nature. Surely, the Governor is for local option, but not so ardently as to make the anti-saloon advocates throw their hats in the air and give "three cheers and a tiger."

The Common Council is to be congratulated on its disposition of the various liquor license applications. Such action shows a spirit of independence highly commendable. What was done was for the good of the community's fair name. The people are grateful.

Keep it up, Councilman Reville; you're the right man in the right place.

A HUMAN ENIGMA

The Count of St. Germain, a Famous Old World Impostor.

CLAIMED TO BE IMMORTAL.

He Dazzled the Court of Louis XV. and Said He Had Lived 2,000 Years and Had Concocted an Elixir That Would Keep Him Young and Alive Forever.

One of the greatest impostors in the annals of France and that the court of any nation has had to deal with was the Count of St. Germain, whose life is written down as one long mystery and tastes much more of fiction than of fact in its relating. Who he was no one knows nor where he came from nor what finally became of him. He suddenly appeared at the French court of Louis XV. in 1748. He had an affable and convincing way about him and succeeded in winning friends. Just who introduced him or how this handsome, brilliant stranger came to be introduced into the court circle is a mystery. It was at the period when the most rigorous etiquette was maintained and ancestry counted for much and every title of nobility had to be thoroughly authenticated before it was accepted.

No one knew St. Germain nor had ever heard of him when he made his debut at the French court, although he spread the report that he was 2,000 years old and was able to convince many of the more susceptible into believing it. He had no records to show that he was entitled to the name of count; he had no visible means of support and yet he took up splendid quarters in Paris and lived at an extravagant rate. The French court had had some experience with adventurers and were more or less suspicious; but, in spite of the fact that they knew nothing about him, St. Germain was received with open arms and the king made him his boon companion. Mme. de Pompadour, the reigning beauty of the court, consulted him freely on affairs of state and society. So powerful did he become that dukes and ambassadors were among his closest friends and bitterest foes.

Finally St. Germain's claim to immortality became the general discussion among all who knew him or had heard of him. He claimed that he would never die, for had he not already lived 2,000 years, and naturally he was pointed out as the wonder of the age. He spoke every language then known and one as fluently as the other. He had a positive genius for chemistry and astounded the world by discoveries he made—or pretended to have made—along this line. The most monumental of all his fakes was the story he told of how, having been born close to 300 years before Christ, he had found age creeping up and determined, through his skill in chemistry, to concoct the liquor that would keep him always alive and young. The man's perfect and intimate knowledge of all history led many people to believe this wild statement. He would relate personal narratives of Nero, Dante, Francis I. and other notables of former centuries.

St. Germain also claimed to possess a secret of turning baser metals into gold and of making precious stones. His untraced wealth and the fact that he fairly blazed with diamonds lent credence to his stories. He was so clever in the workings of his fakes as not to be detected, and he was never proved to be a swindler, a gambler or a spy, though he was charged with being all three.

He was about fifty years old at the time of his appearance at the French court. He carried everything before him while he remained there, but he was restless and finally drifted from court to court and later is credited with having become the boon companion of the Landgrave, Charles of Hesse, and is reported to have died in Schleswig-Holstein in 1780.

But did he die or is he still living? Naturally he is not alive, but no one ever knew what became of him. Grosley, an eminent scientist and fellow of the Royal society, believed he saw St. Germain in a French prison during the reign of terror in 1794. Lord Lytton in 1860 met a man who seemed the embodiment of the old count. Van Damme writes of a mysterious "major" who was in the court of Louis Napoleon in 1855, who was of no known nationality, of undiscovered origin and with plenty of money from a source none could learn.

A man must have possessed exceptional ability as a faker and must have had the trick down to an art to have fooled such intelligent men as Andrew Lang, Lord Lytton, Grosley and many others, and for that reason he must be put down as one of the most monumental fakes of history.—Philadelphia Press.

The French Monarchy.

History concedes that Clovis I. was the real founder of the French monarchy, although his father, Childeric, held some sort of tribal rule over part of the country which was destined to become France. Clovis was a progressive king and vastly extended his domains during the period of his rule, from 481 to 511. He made endless war on surrounding tribes and took territory right and left by conquest. In 493 Clovis took Paris by storm, and thereupon that city became the permanent seat of the French government.

MAKING GOLD PENS.

The Metals That Are Used and the Process of Manufacture.

The tiny tip of white metal seen on the under side of the point of a gold pen may be of platinum, but it is more likely to be iridium. Iridium is a very hard metal, and it is expensive. It costs about four times as much as gold. The purpose of the iridium tip is, of course, to give the pen a more durable point.

The gold pen maker buys his gold at the assay office in bars of pure 24 carat gold, which he melts and alloys with silver and copper to the degree of fineness required. Gold of 14 carats is used in the manufacture of the best American gold pens, that being the degree of fineness deemed most suitable for pen use, but good pens made in this country for sale in France are made of 18 carats, the French government requiring that all articles exposed for sale in that country as made of gold shall be of not less than 18 carats.

The gold from which the pens are to be made is rolled and rerolled until what was originally a thick, heavy bar of gold has been rolled into a thin gold ribbon about three feet in length by four inches wide. Then this gold ribbon is put into a machine which stamps out of it pen shapes, all still flat. Then on the top of each of these pen shapes is fused the iridium point, and then the shapes go to a slitting machine, which cuts the slit in the pen. From the slitting machine the pens go through another, which gives them their rounded, familiar pen form, and then the pens are ground and polished and finished ready for use.

American gold pens in fountain pens or as dip pens are sold in every country in Europe in competition with pens of British or of German manufacture, and under the same competition they are sold throughout the world in South America, Africa, Japan, China, wherever pens are used.—New York Sun.

Hats In Elizabeth's Time.

The oldest material used for hats is felt, which was in use at the time of the Conquest, while in the Canterbury Tales a merchant is spoken of as wearing "a flaundrish beaver hatte." Ladies probably did not begin to wear hats until about the tenth century, if so early, and then it was the lofty head dress draped with some material, which it must have been most trying to keep on even indoors and quite impossible to wear in a wind. According to the "Anatomy of Abuses," written in Queen Elizabeth's time, ladies' hats were very nearly as perplexing then as they are today. "The fashions be rare and strange, so is the stuff whereof the hats be made divers also; for some are of silke, some of velvet, some of taffettie and some of wool, and which is more curious, some of a certain kind of fine haire, these they call bever hattes, of XX, XXX or XL shilling price, fetched from beyond the seas, from whence a great sort of other variety do come besides." In the reign of Henry VIII. hats assumed a "greate richnesse and beautie," but in the time of the first James they became even more ornate, jewels of price and occasionally small mirrors being used in their adornment.—London Spectator.

Don't Blame Your Collar If It Doesn't Fit

Ten chances to one it doesn't fit because it is not properly laundered. Our method of laundering collars produces a beautiful satin finish and shape each collar just as it was when new.

Not only that, but every shirt and garment we launder is laundered to fit just as the maker intended.

SPECIAL OFFER TEMPTING

and exhilirating in its excitement. The contestants are all good-humored and their endeavors will be worthy and sincere, meriting the loyal support and active assistance of all their friends.

In a contest of this kind exaggerated stories as to the vote-getting ability of the different contestants are apt to be circulated, but this should not disturb any candidate, as all have an equal chance and are on an equal footing. It is now, as at every step of the way, anybody's race, and the leadership depends solely on the vote-getting ability of the contestant herself. Some may have a larger army of friends work for them than others. That is their good fortune. But after all it is merely a question of personal interest. The race is not for the indifferent candidate, but for the one who recognizes the benefit and value of the tours and really tries for them. Think of what it means to be the privileged one to take the two months' trip to Europe from one of the districts, visiting the principal cities and points of interest in the old world. This shall be the privilege of the one securing the highest vote in each district. Shall it be you? And in addition to this, the opportunity of winning one of the valuable special prizes is within the grasp of every candidate, no matter what her standing is today.

The special prizes are all of the highest quality, and are absolutely guaranteed by the dealers from whom they were purchased. They are now on display in the show windows at these jewelry stores:

Diamond Ring—Charles E. Vail, 238 Park avenue.

Gold Watch—J. Hervey Doane, 115 Park avenue.

Gold Watch—Carl Silbert, 219 West Front street.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

EGGPLANT COOKERY.

EGGPLANT will not taste nice unless before cooking it has been soaked in salt water to take out the bitter flavor. It should be sliced for soaking.

Fried eggplant is the most popular because if the preliminary work of taking out the acidity has been well done it can be prepared to both look and taste well.

For Frying.

The simplest way of frying eggplant is to put the slices into a frying pan with butter and after one side has been browned turn it to cook on the other side. Another and more elaborate method is this one:

Browned Eggplant.—Cut the slices about a half inch thick and rub each with salt. Put the slices in a dish and pour cold water over them. Let them remain in the water several hours with a weight to keep them under. Then rinse and dry.

Season, dip in beaten egg, then in sifted cracker crumbs, and fry in drippings, lard or butter until a golden brown.

The egg mixture may consist of one egg to a tablespoonful of milk beaten together.

A Daintier Method.

Steamed Eggplant.—First steam the whole plant instead of soaking it in water. When tender, but not soft, drain and let cool. Then cut in slices one inch thick. Let them lie in salt water two hours before frying them. Dip each slice in beaten egg seasoned with pepper, cover with dry, coarse breadcrumbs and fry in deep fat or saute in a frying pan in a little bacon or salt pork drippings.

Eggplant Croquettes.—Put an eggplant into water and let it boil until it is soft. Then take out the inside, season and make into little cakes, dip into egg and crumbs and fry in hot fat.

Baked Eggplant With Vegetables.—Cut the eggplant in two, scoop out the inside, leaving about half an inch of pulp and skin.

Take a couple of tomatoes, an onion and a green pepper. Chop these separately. Then mix them together with the minced inside of the eggplant.

Add to these some breadcrumbs, a little minced parsley, salt, butter and pepper. When smooth fill the hollowed eggplant with this, butter the top and bake for about thirty minutes.

In a Worn Suit.

To revive the appearance of a dress that is shiny in spots a bit of distilled white vinegar diluted in water rubbed on with a white woolen cloth will raise the nap and give it a look of newness that will make the suit of good service for some time to come.

—Teacher (to little boy)—What's a suburbanite?

Little Boy—A suburbanite is a man who lives in the city and sleeps in the country.—Judge.

FOR EASTER WEAR.

Lace Blouse With Long Fichu Ends.

AN ODDLY DRAPED BLOUSE.

The coat of this blue silk serge tailored suit being removed, the oddly draped blouse is revealed. This blouse is of cream shadow lace, and the long fichu ends hang below the cutaway fronts of the coat.

Boudoir of the Kisses.

One of the strangest boudoirs in the world is that belonging to the Princess Abamelsk-Lazarew of Florence, Italy, a member of the Russian family of the Demidoff.

The small room is in the famous villa of Pratolina, outside Florence, near Fiesole, and all the pictures, furniture, lights and ornaments represent the osculatory art. In the backs of chairs are cherubs in the act of kissing each other; in the chandeliers are pairs of doves with their beaks touching. Even the electric bell on the table near the princess' couch is made of two little peasant figures, and the sound comes only when their lips touch. There are dainty pictures of all the great love scenes in history and romance, the leavetaking of Romeo, the farewell of Mary Stuart and David Rizzio, the Huguenot lovers, Launcelot and Guinevere and their unhappy followers, Francesca da Rimini and Paolo. The cushions of fine embroidered silk or tapestry show rustic love scenes wherein the actors are saluting each other in vigorous fashion. The princess has passed years in gathering her Cupid trophies, and her room in that wonderful villa is filled with the treasures of the Medici.

Middy Suit For the Wee Laddie.

Every small boy should have a middy suit at least once in his career—if only for the sake of a photograph in it to be kept for grownup years.

OF BLUE SERGE AND WHITE BRAID.

This suit of blue serge, with white braid and embroidered chevrons, is very nautical and pleasing indeed for this purpose.

Georgia Girl In Japan.

Miss Marie De Jarnet Norris is a Georgia girl who has lived a great deal of late years in Japan and writes most entertainingly of her work in that country. She is a portrait painter. She painted the portrait of Princess Murokama, whom she describes as a most cultivated woman, a philosopher, priestess and poet. She also painted the portrait of Prince Katsura and other members of the royal family and is enthusiastic in her praise of them.

Carved on the Tomb of Ingalls.

This extract from Ingalls' essay on "Grass" is carved on the glacial bowlder which marks his last resting place: "When the fitful fever is ended and the foolish wrangle of the market and forum is closed grass heals over the scars which our descent into the bosom of the earth has made, and the carpet of the infant becomes the blanket of the dead."

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

MARTIN SHERIDAN PRAISES BEATTY

World's Greatest Athlete Thinks Saucer Scaling Beatty's Forte.

PLACE ON TEAM ASSURED

Can Now Output Ralph Rose and Patrick McDonald Swedish Style, Which Calls for use of Both Hands Best of Each to Count.

Martin Sehridan, the world's greatest all-around athlete, thinks very highly of Russell Lawrence Beatty, known as just plain Russell Lawrence when a resident of this city until a year or so ago, as evidenced by the tribute paid the youngster by the hero of several Olympic contests when he heard that Beatty is training for the trial events to make the team to represent America at the coming Olympiad in Sweden.

While shot putting is Beatty's specialty, Sheridan thinks discus throwing is his forte and advises the youngster to stick to the saucer scaling sport, believing that in this he will make his greatest mark. It is not because Ralph Rose, the California Giant, and Pat McDonald, of New York, will oppose Beatty in the shot putting contests that Martin suggests the switch, for he says that Russell can beat them both in heaving the missle Swedish style, left and right hand, the best put of each to count.

'Most of the sport followers think it will be Jim Duncan, Ralph Rose or Muchs of the Chicago A. A. that I will have to beat next summer if I want to retain my discus laurels,' said Sheridan. "That may be true, but in my mind Russell Beatty, the Columbia and New York A. C. boy, is the one who will give me the stiffest fight. He is one of the most powerfully and symetrically built athletes I ever saw. Look him over and one will find he hasn't a weak spot in his make-up.

"Beatty is there with the brain as well as the brawn. He already has scaled the saucer within a few feet of my world's record. He is studying the fine points of the game all the time. Sooner or later he will master the art of manipulating the saucer correctly. When he does he will hurl the platter feet further than I ever will throw it. Beatty also is improving in shot putting right along. I wouldn't be at all surprised to see him beat Rose.

"As a matter of fact Beatty did break Rose's world's 12-pound shot put record. He did it at the last indoor national championships. One of the near-sighted judges, however, called the put a foul, but it was as fair a put as I ever saw. Beatty took the matter in a sportsmanlike manner. He is a gentleman and a fine sportsman. If ever I get licked I hope it will be by Beatty or a fellow of his calibre."

NEW PROVIDENCE A. A. ELECTION AND SEASON'S PLANS.

New Providence, Feb. 27.—The annual meeting of the New Providence A. A. was held Sunday afternoon at the home of the secretary, Otto F. Adams. Officers were elected as follows: Arthur G. Balcom, president and manager; Otto F. Adams, secretary; William Woodruff, treasurer; Nicholas H. A. Krayer, official scorer, and Leon G. Parcellis, captain.

The management considered the proposition of fitting up a grandstand in the rear of centre field on the Passaic Oval grounds, after leveling and improving the entire outfield, which, last season, was in poor condition.

The opening date was set for May 11 and the game will be with a nearby team. Mr. Balcom announced that he would try to prepare a schedule similar to that of last year, which included Chatham A. C., Summit Y. M. C. A., Madison Y. M. C. A., Madison B. B. C., Mendham, Bernardsville and several teams from Newark.

Treasurer Woodruff reported a balance from last season.

It was decided to repeat last year's celebration in honor of the Fourth of July with a parade in the morning and athletic games and baseball in the afternoon and possibly a band concert in the evening.

No Bar to Giants-Athletics Games.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 27.—Speaking unofficially, Chairman August Herrmann of the National Baseball Commission, said today that while there was nothing in the rules of organized baseball that would prevent ante-season exhibition games between the Philadelphia world champions and the New York National League team, yet he did not believe Connie Mack was contemplating such a series. "I do not believe Mack will take the chance of being defeated,' said Herrmann. "Why should he, even though the games would be purely exhibitions? However, if he is seriously thinking of such a thing I cannot see why the National Commission should even be consulted."

THE GINGER JAR

Judging from the thunder last night, something fell on the back of winter. Lets hope it's broke.

Forty-four days more, muttered the fan as he rubbed his eyes this morning.

The Texans who have visited the camps of the Giants and Athletics are impressed by the methods employed by the managers in teaching the rookies. Mack stands around in citizens clothes, his own, and don't miss a move. McGraw dons a uniform, also his, hits the dirt and does other actual exercise to illustrate his point.

Manager Mack is not making any predictions on the championship. He was induced to say, yesterday, that unless much mistaken it would be a hard fight for his club this season.

Abe Attell is credited with saying that if he was ever beaten for the championship he would rather have Kilbane do it than any other man. And Johnny did it.

Report has it that Harry Wolverton is after a catcher named Mitze, pronounced "mits." Some name that, for a catcher. Almost as appropriate as Kling.

A man who can pick the world's best ball players deserves a place in the Hall of Fame.

There's always plenty of room at the top in baseball. That's one of the games of life in which a pull plays a minor part. It's one of the games where individual ability means everything.

Pitcher Jim Brady is claimed by the Boston Nationals, as well as Milwaukee, and the national commission will be called upon to straighten out the tangle.

"I have only one regret after a glorious baseball career," said "Deacon" White. "I wish that I had played fifty years merely to show that I could."

Hub Pernoll, the young pitcher with the Tigers in 1910 and sent back to the Pacific coast last year for more experience, is going to have another chance to show what he can do in fast company.

"Kitty" Bransfield feels that he is still good enough for the big show, and says he will not stand for being sent to Louisville by the Cub management.

Boston has a .300 batting outfield for next year.

This is rather premature, but it was heard the other day: "Bet you the Giants will take the first from Brooklyn.

771 for 3 Games.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 27.—A new world's bowling record has been established. It is held today by James Smith, of Buffalo. In the sixth annual tournament of the Canadian Bowling Association Smith rolled 771 for his three games. The old record was 705, held by Tom Haley of Detroit. Smith also broke the world's record for all events, rolling 641 in the team, 648 in his score for the singles. His average was 228 and 8-9 for nine games. Haley held the former grand total record of 1,961.

New Motorboat Record.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 27.—The Oregon Wolf, owned by John E Wolf, of Portland, holds the world's motorboat record for thirty miles, making the distance in 42 min. 14 2-5 seconds. The best previous time was 44 minutes, 34 1-5 seconds, by the Dixie IV, owned in St. Louis. The Oregon Wolf's average mile was 1 minute 24 4-5 seconds and her fastest mile, 1 minute 23 2-5 seconds. The Wolf is a 250 horse power boat with the only nine-cylinder motorboat engine in existence.

Add Two Clubs to Virginia League.

The cities of Newport News and Portsmouth have been added to the Virginia League, it having been decided at a meeting held in Richmond to increase the league from six to eight club. Richmond, Danville, Petersburg, Norfolk, Lynchburg and Roanoke retain membership. The eight-club arrangement is to stand for one year only.

Hoppe Posts Forfeit.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—The date and place of the 18-2 balkline championship match between Willie Hoppe, the champion, and Calvin Demarest, the challenger, will be named this week. Hoppe accepted the Chicagoan's challenge yesterday, when he posted a $250 forfeit.

ELKS LOST TWO GAMES; HOBOKEN NOW LEADS RACE

That the Plainfield Elks bowling team has not yet regained the stride lost last Friday at Hoboken was evidenced last night at New Brunswick. The champs outrolled the local Bills in two games giving them a set back in the standing that gives Hoboken undisputed right to first place in the league.

In the second game New Brunswick totaled 1,022, within four pins of their best mark for the season. Plainfield took the last game by fifty-six pins. Things had not been going good in the other two rolled. If it was not one in the "sewer" it was another, until all the pinners had located the place to keep out of and had their eyes trained on the right place to hit.

A delegation from the local lodge accompanied the team, making the trip by special trolley, and as is usual after all matches, the brothers gathered around the festive board, to console the losers and compliment the victors.

FIFTY CANDIDATES OUT FOR PRINCETON BALL TEAM.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 27.—Princeton's baseball candidates, to the number of fifty, reported for their first practice in the cage yesterday afternoon. Bill Clark, ex-manager of the Albany Club of the New York State League and former catcher of the New York Giants, directed some limbering-up stunts of a very rudimentary nature and looked over the material. Capt. Sterritt and Worthington were the only men of last year's nine to report today, but Sam White and Pendleton, who won distinction on the Princeton gridiron last Fall; Parker and Carter, the remaining regulars, will be out before the end of the week.

The pitching staff is weakened by the loss of Woodle and Steve White who shouldered the brunt of the work last season.

Loaded Bowling Ball Doomed.

William Kirk, president of the National Bowling Association, issued a call yesterday for the annual convention of the organization in Paterson on March 28. There will be several important changes in the rules to be considered, one being the abolishment of the loaded ball, already forbidden by several local associations, but still permitted in the National tournament. Arrangements for the tournament, to be held in Paterson March 9 to 30, are under way, fifty experts being at work transforming the large auditorium into an academy of fourteen new alleys, and a carload of new pine has arrived. The closing of the entry list, which was to be tonight, has been postponed until Saturday. The officials report the prospects of nearly 2,500 bowlers participating.

Pat Dougherty Quits Baseball.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Pat Dougherty for seven years left fielder for the Chicago American League baseball club, today voluntarily quit baseball. In a letter to President Comiskey, Dougherty declares his reason for retiring is that he has all the money he needs and does not care to play ball any longer. "If my services are needed to help out the Sox, call on me," he said in his letter, which was sent from his home at Bolivar, N. Y. Before coming to Chicago Dougherty played with Boston and New York Americans.

Murphy is in Optimistic Mood.

President Charles W. Murphy, of the Chicago Cubs, is going to start the baseball season in not only an optimistic mood, but a charitable one. His charity pertains to his home town. He made a statement last night, based on the material of his own and the White Sox teams that he would not be surprised to see the world's championship again fought out in Chicago.

BRITISH GOLFERS ISSUE CHALLENGE

Duncan and Ball Seek Four Ball Match For World's Title.

ENGLISH ARE REAL EXPERTS

James Braid and Harry Vardon, Who Have Accepted "Defi," Realize Extreme Difficulty of Winning—Game Gives Two Chances to One.

The latest challenge in foreign golf circles to cause considerable talk is that of the two British professionals, George Duncan and Tom Ball. The challenge of these experts is made worldwide and is for a four ball match.

Relative to this announcement a foreign authority makes the following comment: "Their records show that they have seldom played in public without springing a surprise of one sort or another on the spectators, and in a match of the sort specified the capacity to spring surprises is almost as valuable as steadiness. The rules of golf state that the game is played by two parties, each playing his own ball. Therefore those who maintain that multiball affairs are not golf in the strictest sense of the word are not correct. If they go further and say that such games are never worth playing they are wrong. For golfers of the highest skill the four ball match is, it may be surmised, dull.

Gives Two Chances to One.

"Before the ball is struck from any tee the probability is that the hole about to be played will be halved, for it is unlikely that both the partners composing the side will break down in driving or approaching. The sole effect produced by the worst of errors in the longer shots is that at the holing one has two chances of getting down a put, the other only one. Golf being, as has been shrewdly remarked, a game of risks, it follows that its character is entirely altered when serious risk does not occur until the balls have been played on to the putting green. The probability is that the greater the sum of figures attached in the club's handicap list to the names of the parties engaged in a four ball match the more enjoyable does it become and the greater the importance of the result.

Young Player Jeopardized.

"We do not suggest that experiments should be widely made to demonstrate the truth or falsity of this surmise. The consequent blocking of greens is a prospect not to be faced with equanimity. One thing is undoubtedly true. It is that a young player seriously jeopardizes his chance of becoming a champion if he continues to play four ball matches regularly after he has reached a certain stage of proficiency. At that period he ought to be training himself to face responsibility without the support of a partner and his ball.

Wager Shows Up Question.

"The fact that the challenge issued by Duncan and Ball has not been taken up shows in which direction the truth lies. It may be, as some hold, altogether immoral to take money on the issue of any game. But it is certainly true that a wager has a wonderful faculty for revealing facts and exposing fallacies. It is in a sense an easily accessible court of appeal. The present position shows that Braid and Vardon, the strongest opponents of the challengers, realize that they have much to lose by defeat and little to gain by victory. If the challenge had been to a foursome it is most unlikely that it would have remained unaccepted."

—It is possible to be happy without knowing it, but you can't be miserable that way.

N.P.H.S. FIVE CHAMPIONS OF SOMERSET COUNTY

The North Plainfield High School basketball team secured the championship of Somerset county yesterday afternoon by defeating the Bound Brook five in the local Y. M. C. A. ymnasium 44 to 30. The game was the playoff of a tie for the title. Fast playing and good team work by both teams featured the contest, which was witnessed by a large pupil following of each school.

In the first half N. P. H. S. held a comfortable lead of 12 points. Nothing daunted by the odds against them, however, the B. B. H. S. five went at their opponents from the call of time on the second half and set a pace that made the victors extend themselves to the limit to maintain their advantage.

The Taylor brothers, forwards for the borough quintet, garnered fresh laurels by their efficient shooting. Dunning roved over the enclosure in any but an aimless manner and was Johnny on the spot when needed most. Townley and Burner were most effective in their guarding, worrying not a fittle the B. B. forwards and spoiling many times and oft a sure shot. Freeza was the big noise for the visitors, putting all the energy and enthusiasm of his makeup into the match to the finish.

The lineup: N. P. H. S.—W. and C. Taylor, forwards; Dunning, centrfe; Townley and Burner, guards. B. B. H. S.—Freeza and Matthews, forwards; Heagney, centre; Mingle and Capano, guards.

KILBANE AT PRESENT BUSIEST BOXER ON EARTH

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 27.—Johnny Kilbane is about the busiest boxer in America. The responsibilities of his new position are piling up so fast that the Cleveland colt seriously considers a private secretary to help out Manager Jimmy Dunn.

The new featherweight champion is playing "Three a Day" at a local theatre, with theatrical managers all over the United States telegraphing rich offers for his services.

Abe Attell is clamoring for a return match, a fact that prompted Eddie Graney, of San Francisco, to wire as follows:

"Will give purse of $10,000 for Kilbane-Attell battle any day after Attell-Murphy go in the month of March."

Manager Dunn makes the following statement in regard to the plans for the champion:

"We will not talk business with Attell for six months at least. Kilbane is entitled to make all the money possible out of his new title. Abe looks as easy as any featherweight we see, and he can have a return match eventually. Promoter McCarey has a right to this contest, as he gave Johnny the championship go.

"I see that Attell prevailed upon Jim Jeffries to send out telegrams saying that Abe was entitled to a draw and should be considered the champion. Say for us that we consider this the cheapest bit of play ever made by a whipped man."

Twirl to Dummy.

The pitching talent at New York University is employing a novel method to get into condition. The twirlers are twirling at a dummy batter, which has been rigged up in the baseball cage. The pitchers acted on the suggestion of Albert Jube, the football coach. Capt. Nixon thinks this method in teaching the boxmen how to locate the plate will have good results. Active practice for all candidates has now begun.

Baptist A. C. Victorious.

The Trinity Juniors were defeated by the Baptist A. C. basketball team last night in Debele's Audiorium, by a 16 to 9 score. The line up: Trinity, Dawe and Moore, forwards; Patrick, centre; Kirch and Debele, guards. Baptist A. C., Thickstun and Huelston, forwards; Marsh, centre; Chandler and Krausse, gurds.

Woman Tennis Star Married.

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 27.—Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, woman tennis champion of the United States, was married Saturday to George William Wightman, son of a capitalist of Brookline, Mass. Miss Hotchkiss met Wightman last summer on the courts of the Longwood Club in Boston.

MR. BRYAN'S ESTIMATE OF LINCOLN'S ORATORY.

In analyzing Lincoln's characteristics as a speaker one is impressed with the completeness of his equipment. He possessed the two things that are absolutely essential to effective speaking—namely, information and earnestness. If one can be called eloquent who knows what he is talking about and means what he says—and I know of no better definition—Lincoln's speeches were eloquent.

He was thoroughly informed upon the subject; he was prepared to meet his opponent upon the general proposition discussed or upon any deductions which could be drawn from it. There was no unexplored field into which his adversary could lead him. He had carefully examined every foot of the ground and was not afraid of pitfall or ambush, and, what was equally important, he spoke from his own heart to the hearts of those who listened.—W. J. Bryan.

Made-to-Measure Suits $17.50

Matching the Suits that Tailors Usually Ask $30 For Fabrics All-Wool Fit Guaranteed

The special force of measurers and designers began yesterday the work of making-to-measure fine suits for men of all sizes for only $17.50—a remarkably low price for suits made of cloths and trimmings of such character.

We expect every day this week to be very busy taking measurements. Will you be among the wise ones and come early?

The character of the cloths is such as goes into custom-made suits at $30 or thereabouts, and the trimmings are of the grade used in $30 and $35 suits.

The tailoring will be faultless—entirely up to your expectations, else you need not accept the suit.

Fit and satisfaction are absolutely guaranteed—not a cent of risk on your part and the suit must please you else you need not take it. What could be fairer than this?

It would be impossible for this force of tailormen to make suits of such quality unless they did a tremendous business such as they expect to do with our patrons this week.

The suits will be made for men of all sizes—no matter if the EXTRA stout sizes are demanded, and the price will be the same thruout the week—$17.50. Choose from any of the hundreds of styles of fabrics and order single or double-breasted models as you wish.

Suits will be delivered in ten days or two weeks.

EXPLAINS THIRD TERM SPEECHES

"Consecutive" Is the Word Roosevelt Now Uses.

WILL SUPPORT NOMINEE.

At Boston Ex-President Gets Actively Into Ring Where His Hat Has Been For Past Week—Says Taft Is a Reactionary.

Boston, Feb. 27.—The Roosevelt campaign began here when the colonel, who announced before leaving New York that his Boston visit was not a political one, jumped into the ring, hat and all, and led off with a speech delivered before the house of representatives. Then he went to the senate chamber and said a few words there. He did not call upon Governor Foss while at the statehouse.

Colonel Roosevelt explained to callers his position on the third term. What he meant when he said in 1904 and repeated in 1907 that he would not accept a renomination for a third term under any circumstances was that he would not accept a third consecutive term. He also is said to have told his callers that he did not believe President Taft has the confidence of the people and that he had grown reactionary in office.

"It must be clear to any reasonable man that the precedent which forbids a third term has reference solely to a third consecutive term. It grew out of the fact that a president of the United States under the present system of electing delegates can, if he knows how to use the machinery at his disposal, renominate himself, even though the majority of the party is against him.

"But after he has been out of office for a term he has lost control of that machinery. He is in the position absolutely of any private citizen. The machinery then is in the hands of the man occupying the office of president."

The colonel was asked if he would support the nominee of the Republican national convention at Chicago, and to this he replied:

"Of course I will.

"Now with reference to the recall of judges and judicial decisions. Why, out west they have said, because I expressed my belief in the judicial system in Massachusetts, that I was too conservative. It is a little surprising, isn't it, that here in Massachusetts they should think me too radical because I approved of their system.

"As far as the recall of judicial decisions, what I said relates, of course, to constitutional questions, and I do not believe the people will be misled on that point. The idea that I had in mind the recall of all decisions is too absurd for serious consideration.

"My position is that the people, who make the constitution, have a right to review the decision of any small body of men who say that constitution means something other than they think it does."

Asked why he refused to support President Taft for a second term, Mr. Roosevelt said he did not believe the president had the confidence of the people.

"A great many people believe," he said, "that they need a strong man at the helm—a man who grows progressive in office, or at least one who does not grow reactionary."

He believes that President Taft has grown reactionary in office and turned more and more away from the people.

T. R. HEADQUARTERS OPEN.

New York Managers at Work For Delegates.

New York, Feb. 27.—Right here in Manhattan borough, where the New York Republican county committee only recently declared for the renomination of President Taft by an overwhelming majority, Roosevelt headquarters are open today.

Tons of Roosevelt campaign buttons are all ready for distribution. There is to be a literary bureau and a publicity bureau and the swiftest sort of campaign methods. These Roosevelt headquarters are on the twenty-fourth floor of the Metropolitan tower and are in charge of Oliver C. Carpenter. Colonel Roosevelt is not to give much attention to them. He is to remain at the Outlook office. William L. Ward, Republican national committeeman for the state; William Halpin, formerly president of the New York Republican county committee, and others of eminent ability as practical Republican politicians are to be in charge of the new headquarters. The primary purpose of the headquarters is to complete the machinery in the efforts to get Roosevelt delegates in New York county and throughout the state to the state convention to be held at Rochester on April 9.

Although the county committee under President Koenig has declared so overwhelmingly for the renomination of Taft, Republicans in the county committee declare that this action was taken before Colonel Roosevelt announced his candidacy. Ward's friends and Halpin's friends say that Roosevelt's public announcement would undoubtedly make a difference in the complexion of the delegation from New York county to the state convention.

DEMAND SURRENDER OF JUAREZ IN MEXICO

Force of 400 Defends Town and Battle Is Expected.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 27.—A strong force of Mexican rebels is now surrounding Juarez, across the river from this American city. They are under command of Emilio Campa. Antonio Rojas and Inez Solazar secretly joined him, with several hundred men.

The surrender of Juarez has been demanded.

In communicating the message the rebels declared that the city would be attacked if not yielded by the Madero garrison. Warning was given that Americans and other foreigners must quit Juarez at once for their own protection.

A peace commission which will attempt to persuade the rebels not to enter Juarez has gone to Bauche, fourteen miles south of here.

Mexican Consul E. C. Llorente says Pancho Villa and 500 loyal state troops are on the way to Juarez from Chihuahua and that the rebels may be attacked in the rear at any time.

JUST A FLIRTATION.

Ethel Croker Breen Divorce Suit Being Contested.

New York, Feb. 27.—The suit of Ethel Croker Breen, daughter of Richard Croker, for a divorce from John J. Breen, the riding master, is on trial before Supreme Court Justice Goff and is being contested at every step by counsel for Breen, who has sued Richard Croker and his sons for $100,000 damages for alienating the affections of his wife.

Maud Diehl, twenty-two years old, a telephone operator in a hotel at Toronto, who came to testify for Breen, insisted that although she was in Breen's room in the Grand Union hotel at Toronto on Sept. 5 last she did nothing wrong. Miss Diehl is the only corespondent whose name appears in the complaint, although there are charges concerning other women unnamed. Miss Diehl said she had come to New York with her fiance to say that she had merely indulged in a little flirtation with Breen and that he had kissed her once while she was in his room.

DEPLORE T. R.'S CANDIDACY.

Former Governor and One Who Would Be Out For Taft.

Portland, Me., Feb. 27.—Henry B. Cleaves, former governor of Maine, discussing the Roosevelt letter, said:

"It is much to be regretted that former President Roosevelt has announced himself as a candidate for the presidency. His candidacy does not seem to be in harmony with his former statements upon this subject and is contrary to his repeated declarations."

Adam P. Leighton, the probable Republican candidate for governor and former mayor of Portland, said:

"I hope to be a delegate to the Republican national convention and to have the honor of casting my vote for President Taft, believing as I do that he ought to be renominated and elected. I regret the decision of Colonel Roosevelt. I do not believe he will be nominated."

MAGNET MARVELS

Modern Giants That Raise Tons of Metal at a Time.

LIFT BILLETS HOT OR COLD.

A Single One of These Monsters With Invisible Magic Fingers Will Do the Work of Half a Hundred Men—The Magnet In Medicine and In Surgery.

Those who have watched a toy magnet lift up pins and needles and marveled not a little at the unseen power that causes the bits of metal to jump might well be excused for standing aghast at the sight of a modern giant magnet picking up several tons of iron and steel from the scrap heap and conveying it with ease and rapidity to the melting furnace beyond.

So great has been the commercial development of the magnet that it can lift five and a half tons. These giant magnets used in iron and steel mills can pick up hot as well as cold billets, and a single one of this character will displace half a hundred workmen.

A further improvement may be noted in the combination of skull cracker and magnet. The skull cracker is a huge pear shaped ball of iron suspended by a chain to a hook and steel ropes. This skull cracker is dropped with great force on scrap metal to be broken up for remelting. It breaks the metal into conveniently small pieces and is lifted up and down by the magnet until the scrap is reduced to proper size. Then the invisible fingers of the magnet gather up the small pieces and carry them to the melting furnace. The entire operation is accomplished in one-hundredth of the time formerly required by manual labor.

More recently magnets have been employed in the milling industry to pick out small particles of metal that frequently get into flour and cause explosions through friction when they come in contact with the big rollers. Not a particle of metal can escape the powerful magnets suspended over the chute through which the grain passes.

In mining and metallurgical work the magnet has become an indispensable labor saving agent. The magnetic separation of ores has saved thousands of dollars to mining companies. When the rocks are crushed and pulverized powerful magnets gather up the infinitesimal parts of metal released from their beds and convey them to the smelting furnace. Quantities of ore can thus be saved from old tailings that were formerly considered pure waste.

Recently commercial magnets were employed for the novel purpose of raising sunken treasures. A big cargo of nails was lost in twenty fathoms of water, and the loss seemed irreparable until some enterprising genius raised them easily and cheaply by means of a magnet suspended from a derrick by steel cables.

In the most improved commercial magnets hollow steel castings are used, in which magnetized coils are placed. The latter are built up of alternate layers of copper and asbestos and insulated from the cast steel frames by thick sheets of mica. A magnet of this construction is proof against heat and cold and free from the danger of short circuiting. There is nothing combustible used in its manufacture, and it can gather up a ton of hot scraps of steel with comparative ease.

But the invisible fingers of the magnet can pick up the most delicate splinter of steel no larger than a sewing needle as easily as it lifts a huge iron or steel beam weighing a ton or two. The small magnets have therefore found as great a field of usefulness as the big ones. In all trades they are employed for handling pieces of metal too small for fingers to pick up easily.

In a medical way they are used successfully for extracting iron or steel cinders from the eye and also for drawing out of the body needles and pieces of metal that have found lodgment there. A dressmaker who had inadvertently swallowed a dozen needles was operated upon in this way with entire success. For several days she was placed under a powerful magnet until every needle had been drawn from her body.

In a therapeutic way magnets have proved of value in destroying ulcerous and cancerous growths, and even blood diseases of some kinds have yielded to their curative effects. A man with the point of a dagger broken off in his body had it removed by a magnet. Another patient had been suffering from a painful ulcer on the chin for many years without finding relief. He was finally cured by treatment with a magnet, which drew from his chin a lot of steel filings that had caused all the trouble. The filings had found lodgment in a cut in his face one day when working before a turning lathe. No immediate trouble had followed, and the man had forgotten the incident until the magnet drew them out and gave the ulcer a chance to heal.—George E. Walsh in Chicago Record-Herald.

A Pertinent Question.

There are great men who cannot spell, and small people who object to them. "Spell 'cat,'" said the teacher to the boy at the tail end of the class. "K-a-t," replied the boy. "Silly," replied the teacher. "Can't you spell cat?" "Well," replied the sensible boy, "what does k-a-t spell?"—London Chronicle.

SENATOR POINDEXTER.

Author of Resolution For Federal Probe of the Lawrence Strike.

STRIKE UPROAR IN SENATE.

Bailey, Root and Others Object to a Federal Probe.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Senator Poindexter of Washington on his return from a personal investigation of the conditions at Lawrence, Mass., introduced a resolution in the senate for an investigation by the department of commerce and labor, with particular reference to whether aliens had been arrested while seeking to pass into another state.

Objections poured forth from Senators Bailey, Gallinger and others. Senator Root sought to block it with the inquiry whether any foreign government had made complaint.

Senators Gallinger and Bailey contended the state of Massachusetts was perfectly competent to deal with the situation.

STRIKERS' CHILDREN MAY GO TO CAPITAL

Congressman Berger Plans to Hear Youthful Witnesses.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 27.—Strike leaders announce that in view of a proposed investigation by congress into conditions here the plan of sending children to Philadelphia today had been abandoned. This decision was arrived at in consequence of the receipt of a request from Congressman Berger of Wisconsin asking if several of the strikers and some of the children could be sent to Washington to appear at a congressional hearing. A message was sent to Mr. Berger saying that it could be arranged and that the party would start as soon as word was received from him.

The mothers of the children whose departure for Philadelphia was prevented by the police on Saturday will be brought into court on charges of child neglect.

At a meeting of the strike committee it was voted to send a subcommittee of three to Washington to inform the foreign ambassadors as to the manner in which foreigners are treated by the local authorities.

The Home Building & Loan Association

Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:

If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion).
He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 100 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. Further information may be had at that time or by applying to the secretary, Arthur E. Crone, care of the City National Bank. tu-sh

IDLE MEN WERE USEFUL.

They Broke the Fall of Girls Who Were Trapped in a Fire.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 27.—Girls and men fairly rained out of the second story of the three story brick building here, when fire broke out on the first floor, cutting off the escape of the operatives on the upper floors. All had to drop from the second story windows.

That a number were not seriously hurt was due to the fact that the streets nearby were filled with idle men, who rushed to the scene and broke the fall of those who dropped. Two girls were taken to the hospital suffering with minor hurts.

The scene of the panic was in the works of the Consolidated Button company. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

FORD

WHAT IS A GUARANTEE?

A GUARANTEE is a promise to make good.
A PROMISE is worth exactly as much as the promiser.
A PROMISER who hasn't already made good can't promise to make good.

This is a plain proposition. Recall it to mind the next time you read the catch-phrase: "Our car is guaranteed for one year," or, "Our car is guaranteed for a lifetime." Remember—the lifetime of that car stops just at the point where the guarantee begins.

There is one guarantee that always holds good. It is

THE GUARANTEE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT.

That is the guarantee Henry Ford puts on his cars.

That is why more than one hundred thousand Ford cars are in use today.

That is why your car will be a Ford, if you believe in efficiency, economy, endurance and service.

Ford Distributors and Branches in all the principal cities and towns in this country are at your very elbow to give you the service we maintain.

SAW THE COLORFUL ORIENT ON PARADE

R. H. Hood Back From India With an Account of the Durbar.

ITALY'S TURKISH CAMPAIGN

Tremendous Task on the Latin Government's Hands, Says the Returned Traveller; War No Tempest in a Teapot, But Real Fight.

Completing a four-and-a-half month trip to Europe, Asia and Africa, Richard H. Hood, one of Plainfield's leading citizens, has returned to his home on Stelle avenue, following one of the toughest passages he has ever encountered in his extensive ocean travels. Incidentally, the Cunard liner "Lusitania," on which he was a passenger, encountered the heaviest seas of her career and took longer to make the trans-Atlantic run than she ever did before. She docked in New York on Saturday. The big ship ordinarily reaches New York in four-and-a-half days, but because of heavy fog in the Mersey and the terrific blows of last week, she took a full seven days for the voyage. Plainfielders whose safely anchored homes trembled during Thursday morning's 100-mile-an-hour gale, can appreciate what the leviathan swung against when the same bluster struck her well out at sea. Her wireless apparatus was carried away and despite her great tonnage she was tossed about like a little boat.

Mr. Hood's trip included extensive stays at Delhi, India, where he witnessed the great Durbar; saw Cairo, Tripoli, Monte Carlo, Paris and other notable places. He was accompanied home from France by Mrs. Hood, who had been spending the winter in Italy.

In speaking of his travels to a Daily Press reporter today, Mr. Hood gave a highly interesting account of the Delhi Durbar. This magnificent spectacle, which in reality means the granting of a public audience to the native chiefs by the British monarch, is one of the most brilliant spectacles of modern times. It gives the Indian potentiates of whom there are nearly a hundred, an opportunity to swear allegiance to the English crown and renew their obligations to their new Emperor. The Durbar just passed began on December 7 with the state entry of King George V and his retinue of attendants. The procession accompanying the arrival of the royal visitor was magnificent. Brilliancy but meagerly describes the native costumes, the rich trappings and the scarlet uniforms of the military, which collectively have no parallel in the world. One hundred thousand people witnessed the reception to the chiefs in a huge amphitheatre on December 12, all but 3,000 being Orientals. Mr. Hood had an excellent view of the ceremonials and also of the closing processions two days later, another riot of colors and display of power.

The East Indian at the present time, Mr. Hood remarked, is practically in a satisfied state of mind regarding his lot. The unrest of five years ago is gradually wearing away and if certain distrubing influences from the outside can be properly regulated, he will eventually become a model subject.

While in Cairo, Mr. Hood was much struck with the vastness of the Italian campaign against the Turks. It is costing the former government $300,000 a day for maintenance with practically no action. This is made impossible at the present time because of the supply problems. The troops can be landed at Tripoli, but it is a tremendous task to rush them into the desert regions where the enemy is intrenched. Every box or bag has to be carried many miles by camel. This is one reason why the Italians have pushed the campaign, but Mr. Hood declares that anyone who thinks the war is a tempest in a teapot has another guess. It is a much more serious affair than Americans realize and once the supply trouble is overcome the cable despatches will cary news of an entirely different character than that of the past few months.

BORO STREET COST IN 1911 TO BE EXPLAINED

Former Mayor Smalley Energetically Seeks the Opportunity to Tell Councilmen How Much-Discussed Excess Came About.

At his own request, former Mayor of North Plainfield, Newton B. Smalley, will appear before Mayor Clark and the Borough Council Friday night to explain the manner in which the street appropriation was exceeded during his last term by more then $3,000.

The reasons occasioning Mr. Smalley's request was a paragraph in the report filed by Suffern & Son, the auditing firm whose accountants went over the borough's books and the comments that paragraph caused. The paragraph said it was impossible to give a detailed report on the street work cost because the auditors had been unable to secure the necessary items and the comments this part of the report has caused to be made.

Those to whose attention this statement had been called and who have publicly expressed their views regarding it have received personal letters from the former executive requesting them to be present at the meeting.

Mr. Smalley saw Mayor Clark yesterday. The Mayor said the privilege of the floor would be granted unless the majority of the councilmen refuse consent, which isn't likely.

The street appropriation for the borough last year was $7,000. The sum expended was $10,329. This difference has been the subject of many discussions by voters since the first of the year and in addition has attracted attention from the present Mayor and Council.

Those who are close to the administration assert that it is the direct cause for the change in managing the street commissioner's office by which it is expected the department will be conducted at less expense than heretofore.

STEVENS MUSICAL CLUBS CONCERT GREAT SUCCESS

The concert given by the Stevens Institute Musical Clubs at the Plainfield High School auditorium, last night, under the auspices of the P. H. S. Athletic Association, was a decided success; the fair being largely patronized. The clubs rendered a popular program, after which there was dancing. Music was furnished by Charles Suhr's orchestra.

The patronesses and patrons of the concert were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Buttfield, Rev. and Mrs. Richard S. Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. Frank T. Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Burton P. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. David N. Mauger, Mr. and Mrs. Willard S. POLICE IN THE SENATE TO PROTECT GEBHARDT

Trenton, Feb. 28.—Calling of policemen to a session of the New Jersey Senate marked the Hunterdon county Democratic feud between the Gebhardt and Pidcock factions yesterday afternoon, the action being taken at the request of the Senator in executive session. Senator Gebhardt reported that threats had been made against him and it was thought best to have officers on hand to prevent a personal encounter.

The threats were made, it was claimed, by former Senator James N. Pidcock, who has long been the bitter enemy of Senator Gebhardt.

GRADE CROSSING BILL GOES THROUGH SENATE.

Trenton, Feb. 28.—By the vote of 15 to 2, the amended Pierce grade crossing bill, one of the big measures of the present session, was passed by the Senate yesterday afternoon. The vote was as follows:

Ayes — Colgate, Edge, Fielder, Gaunt, Gebhardt, Hand, Johnson, Leavitt, Lewis, Nichols, Pierce, Prince, Read, Slocum and Smalley.

Nays—Barber and Davis.

Priest Burned Fighting Fire.

Raritan, Feb. 28.—A fire in the sacristy of St. Bernard's church destroyed vestments and other property of much value and would probably have consumed the ancient edifice but for the timely discovery of the flames by Rev. J. J. Zimmer, the pastor. The priest was confined to his bed yesterday as the result of his efforts to save his church after the fire alarm system of the town had failed to work.

Surprised Mrs. A. W. Billian.

Mrs. Andrew W. Billian, of 325 East Second street, was given a surprise party at her home, last night. There were about twenty guests.

TUTTLE DECLINES TO BE A DELEGATE

Because Senator Martine is Expected to be Sent to Baltimore at-Large.

EXPECTS TO WIN NEXT FALL

Satisfied That the Proposed New Districting Plan Will Not Prevent Him from Being Successful in Campaign Against Republican.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Representative Tuttle, of the Fifth New Jersey District, returned to Washington yesterday after having been in New Jersey for several days in political conferences at Elizabeth and Trenton. While in Elizabeth Mr. Tuttle had talks with a number of prominent Fifth District Democrats about the National delegates from that district to the Baltimore convention. Mr. Tuttle will decline to be a delegate on account of the fact that he lives in Union county and that Senator Martine, who also lives in Union, is expected to be one of the delegates at large.

It is probable that the district delegates from the Fifth will be W. R. Lind, of Dover, and Charles Kittenhouse, of Hackettstown. The former is manager of the Dover Stove Works and the latter is editor of the Hackettstown Gazette, and secretary to Mr. Tuttle.

In Trenton Mr. Tuttle obtained a line on the Republican plan for redistricting the State. He says that the Republican idea of taking the lower part of Warren county, which is now in the Fifth District, and adding it to the territory now forming the Fourth District, with Mercer, Hunterdon and Somerset, will mean 1,000 Democratic majority more than the Democratic strength in that territory without Warren. If the Republican plan goes through the Legislature Mr. Tuttle will have to seek re-election from the voters of Union, Morris and the upper part of Warren county, and within those lines he calculates that he would be able to put up a successful fight against the Republican candidate this fall, altho the district will be classed as normally Republican.

All the New Jersey Democratic Congressmen are anxiously awaiting the redistricting bill, and as soon as it appears in the Legislature they will decide upon some definite plan of using their influence in connection with this legislation.

SUFFRAGISTS WILL BE OUT IN FORCE AT BILL HEARING

The equal suffrage organizations of the State, comprising the women who desire to vote, are planning for a big demonstration at Trenton, Tuesday morning, March 12 at 10 o'clock, when a public hearing is to be held on the joint resolution introduced in the House yesterday by Assemblyman McAllister, of Cumberland, looking to the amendment of the State Constitution for women's suffrage. A similar resolution is pending in the Senate. The constitution will have to be changed and it will be three years before the vote is taken.

Mrs. Clara Bewick Colby, of Portland, Ore., has been engaged to spend a week in the State campaigning in the interest of the bill now before the Legislature. On March 12 a special train will carry the State suffragists to Trenton, and a large delegation is expected to go from this city. This is the first time in the history of the State that the women have received such recognition and they are elated.

Those who appeared at Trenton yesterday to ask for the hearing were Mrs. Geo. T. Vickers, of Jersey City, president of the Equal Franchise Society of New Jersey; Mrs. Clara V. Laddy, of Arlington, president of the State Suffrage Association; Mrs. Philip McKim Garrison of Llewellyn Park, president of the Women's Political Union, of New Jersey; William L. Saunders, president of the Men's League of Plainfield, and Champlain Riley, of Plainfield, the secretary of this league. They are the members of the joint legislative committee of the State federation having the matter of the resolution in charge.

As today's vote will show, the quest for subscriptions and coupons goes merrily on in the Daily Press European Tours contest, the announcement of the generous special prize offer having given an added stimulus to the battle. There are five special awards—one for each district—and they will be presented to those candidates whose vote shows the greatest gain during the next three weeks, or up to Saturday night March 16, at 10:30 o'clock. The solitaire diamond ring will be given to the contestant whose vote increase is the greatest of all the districts and a 14-karat gold watch goes to the winner in each of the remaining four districts. This offer is entirely independent of the European Tour, and affects it in no way whatsoever. Every candidate starts on an equal footing for the specials but the votes count for the tours just as though this special period had not intervened.

Two months in Europe with all expenses paid by this paper, a delightful personally conducted tour in charge of Thomas Cook and Sons is something to which any woman could look forward to with the most pleasurable anticipation, and upon

WATSON PLANS ACTION AGAINST COUNCILMAN

Saloon Man Charges Reville With Slandering and Defaming Him in Speech at License Meeting--Retains W. R. Coddington.

Resenting the remarks made by Councilman Patrick J. Reville at the liquor license session of the Common Council, Monday night, Michael F. Watson, the Grant avenue saloon-keeper, has retained former City Judge W. R. Coddington to begin legal action against the official.

The allegation made by Mr. Reville that Mr. Watson "conducted a vile place" and that "four men have been killed by the vile stuff sold over his bar," are particularly objected to, but other references by the councilman have bred equal indignation on the part of the saloon man.

Just what proceedings will be adopted, neither counsel nor client was prepared to say this afternoon, owing to the limited time for consideration.

When questioned by a Daily Press reporter, Mr. Watson said that he considered the councilman's attack as "unwarranted and absolutely malicious." Then he referred his interrogator to his counsel.

Judge Coddington said it was true that proceedings were to be commenced and intimated that Mr. Reville might be called upon to prove some of the charges he made or stand suit for slander and defamation.

"When an official expresses himself in such positive terms as Mr. Reville did" said Judge Coddington, "he should have the proofs in his pocket. His remarks contained numerous allegations which are slanderous and we propose to set Mr. Watson right before the public."

In his address to the Council when the Watson license application was brought up for consideration, Mr. Reville said among other things, that Watson had violated the law over and over again, that on an election day a few years ago, Watson had acted as a gang leader in the second district of the Fourth ward, and had abused and insulted him when he was a candidate for Council.

Mr. Reville said Watson's place was a "den and dive, nothing more nor less;" and that he "sold the vilest liquor and had killed three or four men through the stuff he sold."

HALF A CENTURY AS A MAN OF LAW

Nelson Runyon Rounds Out Full Fifty Years in His Chosen Profession.

DEAN OF PLAINFIELD'S BAR

Studied In His Brother Enos' Office, and Became His Partner On Admission to the Bar—Still In Active Practice.

Nelson Runyon, senior member of the legal firm of Nelson and William N. Runyon, has just rounded out his fiftieth year as a member of the New Jersey bar. He was admitted to practice as an attorney in Trenton in February, 1862, and three years later received his counsellor's papers. Since the latter time he has been an active practitioner in Plainfield and now has the distinction of being dean of the fraternity.

Mr. Runyon first delved into Blackstone in the office of his oldest brother, the late Enos W. Runyon, and when the latter temporarily removed to Newark, he studied under the late Cornelius Bolce, at that time Plainfield's first lawyer. He completed his preparation with his brother, forming a partnership with him after his admission to the bar. The firm of Enos W. and Nelson Runyon remained intact until the senior partner died in 1883.

The brothers were located at various times in the Pruden building, now Scheuer's; the Alberti building and the present City National bank structure. Nelson Runyon removed to his present offices in the Vanderveek building in 1889 and nine years later admitted his son, former City Judge William N. Runyon to partnership, the firm name being Nelson and William N. Runyon. Mr. Runyon, senior, also served a term as city judge from 1880 to 1883 inclusive.

At the present time, Mr. Runyon is in active attendance on his legal duties and enjoys the distinction of being one of the most energetic lawyers of his years in the State.

MRS. CADMUS OBSERVES EIGHTY-NINTH BIRTHDAY

Miss Rachael Cadmus, of East Front street, quietly observed her eighty-ninth birthday at her home, yesterday afternoon. Because of her impaired health, due to a severe fall last summer, the celebration was limited to a family gathering. There were also numerous congratulatory messages from friends in and out of Plainfield.

Miss Cadmus was born in the Greenbrook section just below Washington Rock and has always lived in the vicinty. She has occupied her present home on East Front street, adjoining the First Presbyterian church, for the past seventy-five years. She has always been of a retiring disposition and a characteristic that has limited her circle of friends. Her family originally owned by grant from the English crown a large proportion of the land in the west end of North Plainfield and about Dunellen.

Thomas S. Rogers Buried.

The funeral of Thomas S. Rogers was held at his late home on Netherwood avenue, yesterday afternoon. It was conducted by Rev. Horace Craig, of this city, and was attended by many relatives and friends. Burial was made at Hoboken.

Col. Bain to Speak Here.

Col. Bain, of Kentucky, has been secured by the W. C. T. U. to address a mass meeting at the First Baptist church, Sunday afternoon, April 7, at 4 o'clock. His subject will be "What I Would do if I Had My Life to Live Over Again."

Savitz at Convention.

County Superintendent J. J. Savitz is in St. Louis attending the convention of the National Association of Public School Officials.

WILSON WILL SPEAK AT FRIENDLY SONS' DINNER

Governor Woodrow Wilson will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick to be held in Y. M. C. L. A. Hall, Elizabeth, on Saturday night, March 16. He will speak on the subject of "Our Country."

Other speakers and their subjects will be as follows: Rev. Joseph M. Mully, president of St. Peter's College, "The Lay We Celebrate;" Judge Robert Carey, Jersey City, "Jew Jersey;" Dudley Field Malone, New York city, "Friendly Sons;" Dr. John J. Walsh, dean of Fordham College, "Influence of Irish Character on National Destiny."

WATER PRESSURE AT FIRE INVOLVED IN DAMAGE SUIT

Somerville, Feb. 28.—The liability of a water company in the event of failure to furnish adequate pressure in case of fire is involved in a suit on trial in the Somerset County Court before Judge Vail. The plaintiff is Michael Baum, proprietor of the Carbon Stove Works of East Somerville. The stove plant was destroyed by fire about three years ago. Behind Baum is said to be the Insurance Underwriters' Association, which paid a loss of $8,500 when the stove works were destroyed.

One detail of the defense is that the contract does not require than any standard pressure be maintained.

When Baum's stove works were destroyed the plant of the Somerville Iron Works, nearby, was also wiped out.

It is contended by Baum that had the pressure been adequate the firemen could have fought the blaze successfully.

FIGURES AT ANNUAL SESSION

House Committee Spends $10,985 and Green Committee $6,048; Baseball Committee Runs Through $73.50.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Country Club was held at the Hartridge Auditorium last night. These officers were elected:

President, Leighton Calkins; vice-president, J. P. Stevens; secretary, George S. Clay; treasurer, S. D. Lounsbery, trustees, three years, S. D. Lounsbery, J. P. Stevens, R. H. Cox; chairman house committee, R. H. Cox; chairman green committee, J. E. Erickson; chairman of golf committee, R. S. Rowland; chairman tennis and grounds committee, S. W. Merrihew; chairman building committee, J. P. Stevens.

The trustees and officers will meet Tuesday night, March 5, to take up matters for the coming season. D. R. Rowland, H. J. Cochran and E. H. Ladd, Jr., were named as the nominating committee for 1913.

The annual report of S. D. Lounsbery, treasurer, showed the club to be in excellent financial condition. Items included in the amount of expenditures are as follows:

Green committee, $6,048.80; Golf committee, $407.30; tennis and grounds committee, $1,922.59; house committee, $10,985.76; baseball committee, $73.50.

The income shows receipts of $16,1[illegible] from dues and locker rents; $919 from initiation fees, which together with money received from the various committees, house charges, etc., brings the total up to $24,349.[illegible]85. The cash statement shows receipts of $25,511.93, and disbursements the same with a balance of $16.33. The club's assets are $38,303.39, and the liabilities the same.

President Calkins, after the reading of the reports by the various chairmen, stated that David T. Kenney, who a year ago had been appointed a committee of one to see Thomas N. McCarter, of the P. S. C., about extending the Arlington avenue trolley to the clubhouse, had sent word to him that he could report progress and hoped to have the improvement made. Mr. Calkins said that on one occasion when he accompanied Mr. Kenney to Mr. McCarter's office, he could see no encouragement.

The president's report showed a total membership of 745. With the increased revenue it was possible to make several improvements. Work on widening the driveway was begun last fall and will be completed this spring. It is hoped this year to have the course completed the full 6,000 yards, the regulation length.

SURPRISED ON THEIR SIXTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert, of 954 West Fourth street, were given a surprise at their home, last night, in honor of the sixth anniversary of their wedding. The evening's program comprised games, dancing, vocal and instrumental music, and recitations.

There were vocal solos by Messrs. Lawrence Barrett, James Moore, John Yose, Archie Gilbert, Miss Agnes Brown, Miss Louise James, Mrs. James Gilbert; also short stories by James Moore; piano selections by Miss May Ardern. The affair was arranged by Miss Louise James. There were guests present from Westfield, Elizabeth, Dunellen, North Plainfield and this city.

Infant Girl's Funeral.

The funeral of Helen Elizabeth Tunison, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Tunison, was held at the parents' home on East Second street, yesterday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. John Y. Brock in the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends. Burial was made in Somerville.

Suffers From a Fall.

Charles E. Ketcham, of Westervelt avenue, is slowly recovering from injuries received in New York last Thursday when he fell at the entrance to a subway on a slippery pavement. His hip was badly bruised and dislocated. He is still confined to his home, but expects to be about next week.

PERSIAN BAZAARS

Curious Business Methods of the Oriental Shopkeepers.

HAVE NO GENERAL STORES.

One Merchant Will Sell Only Muslin, Another Nothing but Silk, Another Spices, and So On—Water Is Difficult to Obtain and Is Very Expensive.

One curious thing about the bazaars of Persia, writes Mrs. Mary A. C. Colquhoun in the Los Angeles Times, is the fact that all the shops of one kind are grouped together, and so we speak of the "cloth bazaar," the "hat bazaar," the "shoe bazaar." There are both wholesale and retail shops, but there are no department stores as in America, nor is there such a thing as a general grocery or dry goods store.

One grocer keeps spices only, another tea, coffee, sugar, etc.; one dry goods merchant will sell you muslin, another broadcloth, another silk. There are no large manufactories in Persia. It is common to have a small factory and a shop together or side by side.

All the metal utensils used in the country are made of either brass or copper. These substances are hammered into shape. A stroll through the bazaar where this work is going on gives one the impression that pandemonium has broken loose.

Different kinds of bread are made in the bazaar. One kind which is especially liked by the people and which can be obtained fresh at almost every hour of the day is called "non-i-sangak," literally little stone bread. It is made by pouring the dough on very hot pebbles, which bake it quickly and give it a crisp crust. Of course it is thin, not more than a quarter of an inch in thickness. The sheet is about a foot and a half wide by two and a half long.

Near the bazaar where this bread is baked you will usually find a place where mutton chops are being cooked on skewers over a charcoal fire. Any one desiring a lunch will buy from the baker a sheet of the thin, crisp, freshly baked bread, then a few "kabobs," as the chops are called. Wrapping the chops in the bread, he will proceed on his way, eating his lunch as he goes.

As you walk through the bazaars or stand to examine or purchase goods, especially if you are a foreigner, you must expect to be jostled, not only by crowds of curious pedestrians, but also by caravans of horses and donkeys and even of vicious camels. You will perhaps have to wait also for the shopkeeper to finish his prayer.

Foreigners usually go to the bazaars not to purchase things, but to see oriental life, and in the bazaars are to be seen many interesting phases of it. When you really wish to buy something you will find the peddler, that supreme nuisance of America, your best friend. He will bring to your door anything that you wish to see and give you all the time that you desire in which to examine it.

You must needs be a haggler to deal with any merchant in Persia, but usually you can make a better bargain in the quiet of your own home than you can make in the bazaar.

Save for one month in the year the bazaars, even in the capital of 350,000 people, are never open at night. During the month when the Persians fast all day it is customary to do some marketing, some business and much visiting at night. Then the food bazaars, tea shops and so forth are open. Pedestrians with huge lanterns of oiled paper and people in carriages give an appearance of life and gayety to the streets which is quite unknown at other times.

Many occupations which in western lands are carried on in shops are in Persia carried on in the open air. This is due partly to the poverty of the people, partly to the warmness of the climate, partly to the fact that the Persian is pre-eminently a social being and—with the exception of his domestic life, which is lived in great seclusion behind high walls—he likes to be with his fellow men.

The barber, for example, seldom has a shop and never really needs one. At any street corner you are likely to stumble over a man sitting on a ledge of the wall and being shaved or having his hair cut. It is your one opportunity for seeing a man with his hat off, but as you look at his tonsured pate you do not regret that your opportunities in this direction are limited.

The only things that are free in Persia are air and sunshine. Water—not only in the cities, but everywhere—is one of the most expensive commodities and one of the most difficult to obtain. The entire water supply of Teheran comes from the snow on the mountains north of the city. It is brought for a distance of many miles in underground watercourses. There are thirty-four such channels which enter the city.

At various places as they pass along there are openings into these. Through these openings the water is dipped up with a leathern bucket and poured into a goatskin bag, which is slung over the shoulder of the private servant or the professional water carrier. Nothing is more common in the street than a sight of one of these carriers.

GOVERNORS FOR TAFT TOO.

PAINTED OUT HIS HEAD.

Revenge of Carolus Duran on His Pupil, Sargent.

When John S. Sargent, the famous portrait painter, studied in the atelier of Carolus Duran in Paris his teacher showed his fondness for him by painting in his head in the great ceiling of the Luxembourg palace. Even after he branched out for himself his master often sent for him to come over to his studio and pose, his hands having especially won the admiration of Carolus Duran.

The time came, however, when Sargent could no longer answer the beck and call of his teacher, for he was getting work of his own to do, which would not allow him to leave his studio at a moment's notice. One day, it is related, Carolus Duran sent a hurry call for him, and when he received a note saying that Sargent was compelled to decline his request owing to pressing work he was furious.

A few days later a friend, to whom he had confided his anger at his recalcitrant pupil, asked him: "Well, how is it with Sargent? Have you made up? How is he?"

"Ah, no," said the painter, and he looked sad and his shoulders went up. "How is it with Sargent? C'est fini!" Another shrug. "C'est fini! It's all over! I have been to the Luxembourg. I went and got a ladder, and I painted out his head!"

A Notable Day's Work.

Robert Burns composed his masterpiece, "Tam o' Shanter," in one day in the open air. Burns went out of the house in the morning and, not returning, his wife joined him in the afternoon with her two children. Seeing that he was "crooning to himsel'," she forebore to interrupt him, but stayed in the fields at a distance, where she could see him. She observed him wildly gesticulating and at times fairly leaping with joy. She said to Allan Cunningham, the poet, after her husband's death, "I wisht ye had seen him; he was in such ecstasy that the tears were happing down his cheeks." He committed the poem to writing by the riverside and went into the house and read it to his wife at the fireside with great triumph—one of the most notable day's work ever done in Scotland!

A Fool For a Fool's Mission.

The government was contemplating the dispatch of an expedition to Burma, with a view to taking Rangoon, and a question arose as to who would be the fittest general to be sent in command of the expedition. The cabinet sent for the Duke of Wellington and asked his advice. He instantly replied, "Send Lord Cambermere."

"But we have always understood that your grace thought Lord Cambermere a fool."

"So he is a fool, and a —— fool, but he can take Rangoon."—"Collections and Recollections," by One Who Has Kept a Diary.

Reply of a "Beardless Boy."

When Keppel, a commodore at twenty-four, was sent to demand an opology from the dey of Algiers for an insult to the British flag he took so high a tone that the dey exclaimed against the insolence of the British king for charging a "beardless boy" with such a message to him. Replied the beardless boy, "Were my master wont to take length of beard for a test of wisdom he'd have sent your deyship a he goat."—London Standard.

STATE SENATE PASSES IMPORTANT MEASURES

Trenton, Feb. 28.—Senator Fielder introduced in the Senate yesterday afternoon a bill increasing the salaries of the vice chancellors from $9,000 to $12,000 a year. He already had in a bill increasing the salaries of the chancellor and chief justice to $13,000 a year and of the associate justices to $12,000 a year.

Among the bills passed in the Senate were: The Fielder bill requiring the custodian of school funds to deposit them in a bank or banks designated by the school board; the Fielder bill providing a pension of $1,200 a year to any widow of a former Governor and applying to the widow of former Governor Werts; the House bill prohibiting sheriffs from transacting business of the office after their terms expire; permitting the New Jersey State Hospitay in this city to exchange certain lands for lands of the Trenton Country Club.

On motion of Senator Leavitt, the privileges of the floor were extended to Congressman Ira W. Wood, of this city, who was visiting the Senate.

Senator Read submitted a numerously signed petition from residents of Camden county asking that the limited franchise act be amended by extending the time limit, so as to permit the extension of trolley lines in rural districts.

PETE BROWNING'S BATS.

They Still Served the Old Slugger After He Quit Baseball.

One of the oldest and most eccentric characters baseball has ever produced was old Pete Browning, the famous slugger, who played with Louisville around the eighties and later joined the Cleveland club in 1890 during the Brotherhood war.

Pete was a little off in his roof garden and had only one idea in his head day or night. Anything that concerned his precious batting average was meat and drink to him. It made no difference how many fly balls he dropped or let get by him as long as he landed two or three safe ones during a game.

Bats were a mania with Browning, and whenever he could pick up a club which suited him it was added to his enormous collection. So many were gathered at various points on some of his trips that he sometimes was forced to pay excess baggage on the prizes.

According to Van Haltren, it was Browning who introduced the habit of rubbing down a bat with tobacco juice, which custom is followed to this day by many of the players. The idea is to roughen the surface of the stick and prevent so many fouls slipping off one side or the other.

Browning, who was a great user of the weed, used to polish down his sticks in this way without any apparent reason until he commenced to believe that it made a difference with his hitting, and after that no wagon tongue of his ever escaped a coating of the obnoxious fluid.

Other players took it up in the hope of emulating Browning, and now it is a common custom throughout the country.

When Pete retired from the game all the bats, relics of former days, were still in his possession. In order to keep them always in his sight Pete had them turned down to a uniform size and used them as posts for the baluster in his house.

To the day of his death they remained the most valued of his possessions. —New York World.

ENGLISHMEN'S GAMES.

Quaint Hindu View of the Beating and Kicking of Balls.

Some amusing descriptions of East Indian life are given in Mrs. Penny's book, "The Rajah." Here is a Hindu servant's opinion of the English devotion to ball games, given to four ranis—princesses—whom he was trying to enlighten:

"The English," he said, "all play ball. Some beat balls with iron shod sticks, standing in the fields and striking with sufficient force to break a man's skull; some beat the ball with a long bit of wood in front of three sticks that represent their gods, some with corded spoons over a net wall, some with long handled hammers as they sit on horses; some kick the ball with their feet. The balls are of all sizes from a small orange to a man's head."

"By whose orders do they kick and beat balls?" he was asked.

"By order of their pujaris," the syce replied, "and he must know, because he serves the writing sahib."

"Why should such an order be given?" asked the second rani.

"They are a fierce and warlike people, those English, who must be always fighting and beating some one. It is by this means only that they are prevented from killing each other."

"But the Missie Sahib—would she, too, beat and fight?"

"She is strong. Who knows? At Bombay and Calcutta the English ladies beat balls over the wall of net. They do it that they may bear children fierce and strong like their fathers. When the babies are but a few months old they give them balls to beat with their little hands and to creep after as soon as they can move by themselves."

A Queer Monument.

A monument erected in the Straglieno cemetery has a very curious history. It is that of an old woman of Genoa, who made a living by selling strings of nuts in the streets. By frugality and industry she succeeded in amassing a small fortune in this way and then commissioned a well known sculptor of Genoa, Luigi Orengo, to make a life sized portrait of her in marble just as she appeared at her pitch in the streets. This statue she ordered to be placed in the famous Straglieno cemetery, probably the largest in the world.—Wide World Magazine.

Sweet and Hard.

The Royal band was playing for the king, Louis XIV., the "Miserere of Lully." The king was on his knees and so was the whole court. His majesty kept the awkward attitude until the end of the hymn. After rising, the king turned to the Count de Grammont and asked how he found the music. "Very sweet to the ear, sire, but very hard on the knees."

Dogs Know.

"I don't know why it is that whenever I pass a place where a dog is kept the animal rushes out and barks at me as if I had no right to be on earth. Others can pass the same place and never be molested."

"Well, I can account for it only on the theory that it's mighty hard to fool a dog."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Frightful Thought.

Mrs. Wayback (on first ocean voyage)—John, I just heard a man say that if this boat was put up on end it would be higher than the Washington monument. If they're going to do anything like that we'd better get right off!

MEN OF WEIGHT.

Only Three of This Notable Eleven Were Under 200 Pounds.

On Aug. 10, 1778, General Washington and ten other officers of the Revolutionary army were weighed at West Point, N. Y., and the result is preserved in an item from the English magazine Notes and Queries. Only three of the eleven weighed less than 200 pounds. The heaviest was Colonel Swift, whose 319 pounds made him head the next, General Knox, at 280, by thirty-nine pounds, but Knox was only twenty-eight years old.

Then follow Colonel Michael Jackson, 252; Colonel Henry Jackson, 238; General Lincoln, then forty-five years old, 224; Lieutenant Colonel Humphreys, 221; Lieutenant Colonel Huntington, 212.

General Washington, forty-six years old, weighed 200 pounds and was followed at quite an interval by Lieutenant Colonel Cobb and General Huntington, who weighed 182 pounds each.

It is amusing to note that the heaviest man's name was Swift and that of the lightest General Greaton, who is credited with 166 pounds, 163 less than Swift's record.

The total weight of the eleven, 2,485 pounds gives 226 pounds as the average, but Swift being omitted the other ten averaged only 217 pounds.

They were certainly men of weight and substance and a heavy team—if we may compare them with a modern football eleven—that might well challenge comparison also with our modern military men.

FITZHERBERT TO MAKE DEFENSE

Friends of Accused Senator Want Him to Resign.

EASIEST WAY OUT, THEY SAY

Attorney General Wilson Will Conduct Case For the Senate—Trial Will Be Held Saturday Unless Resignation Prevents.

Trenton, Feb. 28.—The trial of Senator Richard Fitzherbert of Morris by the senate as a whole next Saturday morning on charges of attempted extortion from the Commercial Acetylene company of New York, in connection with alleged "strike" bills to restrict the manufacture of acetylene gas in New Jersey and prohibit its use on railroad trains, is the chief topic of conversation about the capitol.

Attorney General Wilson will conduct the case for the senate, and the judiciary committee is empowered to subpoena witness through the sergeant at arms of the senate and his assistants. The defense asked until next Monday for the preparation of its case.

It is regarded is significant that Senators Edge and Read, two members of the judiciary committee, were instrumental in having Assistant Attorney General Gaskell draw a tentative committee report declaring that Senator Fitzherbert was guilty of misconduct and recommending his expulsion. Messrs. Edge and Read were members of the committee which heard the original charges against Fitzherbert and which heard him make the admissions which are regarded on all sides as the chief obstacles to his acquittal.

There are rumors that the trial would probably not take place. Leaders said they still hoped the senator would see the wisdom of issuing a statement making out the best possible case for himself and setting forth that his usefulness as a senator was over and resign his seat. Senator Fitzherbert is still apparently determined that there shall be a trial.

GEBHARDT ASKS POLICE AID.

Senator From Hunterdon Fears J. N. Pidcock, His Rival.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 28.—There was another sensation in the legislature when Senator William C. Gebhardt of Hunterdon county charged that threats of bodily harm had been made against him and asked for protection. A secret session of the senate was immediately held, and police guard was provided the senator, against whom charges of jury tampering were made last week.

Word came to Mr. Gebhardt that James Nelson Pidcock, a rival Democratic leader in Hunterdon county, had come to Trenton to look for him. When Pidcock appeared at the capitol and began going through the various rooms in search of the senator Gebhardt decided to take no chances and left hurriedly through an exit in the cellar. He went to his hotel, the Trenton House, and remained there until time for the afternoon session, when two policemen in uniform were called to accompany him to the statehouse.

Pidcock did not return to the statehouse. When Gebhardt was ready to leave two officers escorted him and his wife back to the hotel. There it was found that Pidcock had engaged rooms, so the senator and Mrs. Gebhardt went to the Hotel Windsor.

These occurrences are the latest developments in the feud that has long existed in Democratic circles in Hunterdon county.

STORM IN SOUTH JERSEY.

Trees Uprooted, Streets Flooded and Creeks Freed of Ice.

Gloucester, N. J., Feb. 28.—The recent rainstorm did much damage in south New Jersey. Trees were uprooted and many streets were flooded.

The ice has been carried away on Big Timber, Mantua, Woodbury and Raccoon creeks. The residents here were given a scare when the fire alarm bell at the city hall was tolled. It was at first thought that lightning had struck several buildings in the town, but there proved to be only a small fire at Burlington and Cumberland streets.

BOY IS DYING OF RABIES.

Wound Was Cauterized When Dog Bit Samuel Loff a Month Ago.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 28.—Samuel Loff, a nine-year-old boy, of this city, who was bitten on the leg by a dog a month ago, is dying with rabies in the City hospital.

The boy's wound was cauterized at the time he received it, and nothing further was thought of it until a few days ago, when the wound began to trouble him. A doctor had him removed to the hospital, when his trouble was diagnosed as rabies.

Sussex to Have No Peaches.

Newton, N. J., Feb. 28.—There will be no peaches this year and maybe none for two or three years or long enough for new trees to be grown to the fruiting age. Growers all through this section declare that the extreme cold weather has been fatal to trees.

TAXICAB BANDITS CONFESS TO POLICE

Five Now In Jail and Five More Are Wanted.

New York, Feb. 28.—Five men are under arrest and five men are wanted for the daylight taxicab robbery in Trinity place on Feb. 15. Two prisoners taken last are Eugene Splaine, who was arrested in Memphis, and Joseph Lamb, known as "English Scotty," who played an unimportant part in the holdup. The other prisoners are Geno Montani, the taxicab driver, who still insists that he is innocent; Jess Albroza, a sharp featured Italian, who has confessed, and Edward Kinsman, the amateur boxer and bartender, who has made a detailed confession to Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty of everything that happened while the holdup was being conceived and planned and what occurred after the two bank messengers had been left unconscious in the taxicab, even to the division of the $25,000.

The police are searching for three Italians, known as "The Brigands," the chief of whom is known as Matteo; a character known as "Dutch," who is described by the police as the "Spark," because he set the stage for the holdup, and gave the signal when it was to begin, and a youth called "Joe the Kid," who had been carrying messages for the street bandits, but on the day of the robbery helped boost Dutch into the taxicab as he was slipping to the street.

WILL HEAR STRIKERS.

House Committee Sets Saturday to Probe Lawrence Affairs.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The senate wrangled for two hours over the resolution introduced by Senator Poindexter of Washington calling for an investigation by the department of commerce and labor into conditions growing out of the strike at Lawrence, Mass. An effort was made to table the resolution, Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire making the motion and this was voted down, 37 to 24. The resolution was finally displaced under the order of business and went to the calendar.

The house committee on rules fixed upon Saturday for a hearing of a committee from the strikers. This hearing will be on resolutions pending in the house proposing an investigation into conditions at Lawrence.

WIRELESS ON SUBMARINES.

Two New Vessels Will Test Efficiency of Apparatus.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 28.—The new submarines E 1 and E 2, now here receiving their torpedo outfits, are the first government vessels of this type to be fitted with wireless. These boats will try out their wireless apparatus on their way to Norfolk this week. These tests will be watched with intrest, as it is to prove the worth of such apparatus on submarines.

Both boats will leave either tonight or Thursday on their 600 mile run south, which will be broken with a short stop at New York for supplies.

MINISTERS SIMPLY "MISTER."

Baptists Drop "Reverend" and "Doctor" For Plainer Titles.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Baptist ministers of Chicago will hereafter be addressed as "mister" or "pastor," according to a resolution adopted at the meeting of the Baptist ministers' conference.

"This idea of addressing ministers of the gospel as doctors, reverends and such titles is obnoxious," said Judson B. Thomas, pastor of the Austin Baptist church, moderator of the conference, "and I favor an entire elimination of all titles excepting plain 'mister,' or, if preferred at times, 'pastor.'"

A FITTING CELEBRATION.

During the first week of September, 1913, the fiftieth anniversary of the emancipation will be celebrated in Philadelphia, the cradle of liberty. Many of the States of the Union will participate in this demonstration which will fittingly picture the advancement made by the colored man since he was set free by the war measure of the noble Abraham Lincoln. Very properly, the Senate of New Jersey has formally approved a measure introduced by Senator Leavitt providing for a commission of seven members, three of whom shall be colored men, to represent New Jersey at the exhibition. The bill carries with it an appropriation of $20,000, but it should be remembered that the commissioners are to serve without compensation. From an educational point of view, the exhibition will be as interesting to the white man as to the negro.

"Most of us," says the Trenton True American, "pay little attention to the industrial side of the colored citizen. He has been recognized as a factor in politics and religion. What he has accomplished in agriculture, in manufacturing activities, in art, science, the trades and the various lines of industrial and religious education, in this State, has not been shown, either in statistics or material exhibits. New Jersey can well afford, we believe, to join with Pennsylvania in this movement which is calculated to impress the people with the importance of President Lincoln's magna charta, and what it accomplished for the development and betterment of the talents and lives of the colored people."

After all, the Local Optionists are to be given a hearing. Seantors Leavitt and Fielder reported this bill yesterday to the Senate and immediately Senator Nichols moved that it be referred back and the advocates of the measure being given an opportunity to express their views Senator Leavitt, thereupon offered an amendment that the hearing take place before the entire body. He intended this as a joke, but the joke was on the joker for the amendment was carried in a jiffy. On a measure so important as this one both sides should be heard and the Senate has only acted fairly in arranging for the anti-saloon people to have their say. Any attempt at suppression only makes more friends for this or any other cause. It is so with the women's suffrage question; the more it is ridiculed the stronger the movement becomes.

When we said that Councilman Reville was "the right man in the right place," we meant that whatever might be his opinions he expresses them freely and fearlessly and on the floor of the Council chamber—not behind closed doors. That's what the public wants. There should be more done in open session and less in executive session. When W. S. Tyler was a member of that body, he did not hesitate to express his mind on measures before the Council and he didn't go into the ante-room to do it either.

"It costs very little," says the Philadelphia Record, "to give advertising a fair trial if the experiment is conducted in the light of the experience of other advertisers who have charted the way. The novice can determine with almost absolute accuracy how much space he ought to use, what he ought to put into it and what newspaper is most certain to yield satisfactory returns."

Yuan Shih Kai was officially notified yesterday of his election to the Presidency of China. Why should not our Government be the first to recognize the new sister Republic?

TELLS PARENTS HE OPPOSES EXAMINATIONS

The Parent-Teacher meeting last night in the North Plainfield High School was largely attended, parents being present from as far away as Mt. Bethel. Lindsey Best, principal of the Plainfield High School, delivered the address, touching on four of the most important features of school life for the pupils and teachers.

Mr. Best discussed athletics and the social life of the pupils, saying that organized play and social recreation under proper supervision were much more beneficial than if the children were permitted to follow their natural bent.

Regarding examinations he said that he did not believe in a final examination to qualify for entrance to the High School, because on the day it was to fall perhaps a pupil would not be feeling as well as on other days and would fail, whereas if physical conditions were better the mind would be more active and alert.

Mr. Best said that the teachers should watch the parents to see that the children were properly clothed and fed and not permitted to work or play too much. On the other hand it is just as necessary for the parents to watch the teachers to see that the children are being properly trained, and not given too much work, thereby overtaxing their capacity.

SOME ELECTION BILLS COME BEFORE SENATE

Trenton, Feb. 28.—The slender Republican majority of one in the Senate had its first real test yesterday afternoon when Senator Nichols served notice upon his colleagues that he would not vote for the Leavitt bill amending the corrupt practice act passed last year as a part of the campaign for pure elections. A hot debate was being held over the question of passing the bill, but when it became known to the Republicans that Senator Nichols would not vote for it, thus insuring its defeat, Senator Leavitt had it put back on second reading. It will be amended and then the Republicans will make another attempt to pass it.

Senator Leavitt advocated the passage of the bill, which permits the transportation of voters to the polls in automobiles or other vehicles by volunteer workers; permits the hiring of halls by any citizens for campaign purposes and other election methods expressly prohibited by the new law. Senator Fielder, of Hudson, led the fight against the bill. He insisted it would only open the way to a lawful disregard of the provision of the corrupt practice act, which was passed to purify elections. He claimed it would permit the expenditure of money without restraint in the interests of candidates and would completely nullify the good effects of the law passed last year.

RAYNER ATTACKS T. R. UTTERANCES

Calls Judicial Recall Most Dangerous.

SAYS MOTIVE NOT CORRUPT

Maryland Democratic Senator Makes Notable Speech In Senate In Which Doctrines Advocated by Ex-President Before Ohio Constitutional Convention Are Criticised.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Columbus speech of Colonel Roosevelt was attacked in the senate by Senator Rayner of Maryland, a Democrat. It was a notable speech, and in it the senator held as "seditious" and as a most dangerous doctrine his advocacy of the recall of judicial decisions.

"People who regard this merely as a flippant and impulsive utterance of a candidate for public office who is trying to attract public favor are making a great mistake," he continued. "In my judgment the ex-president has been reflecting over this proposition for years.

"Why not have a complete anarchy?" asked Senator Rayner. "Why have only partial anarchy? Why not carry this beautiful system to the utmost limit of its complete perfection?"

Senator Rayner recalled that several years ago during Roosevelt's administration a prominent member of the New York bar delivered an address contending that when the constitution invests executive power in the president it gives him unlimited executive power, giving him the same prerogative as the czar of Russia.

"When the president heard of this address," said Mr. Rayner, "he sent for the author of this frantic proposition, embraced him, extended to him the hospitality of the executive mansion, showered on him his presidential benedictions and informed him that he was the only lawyer whom he had ever met who had the proper conception of the constitution of the United States."

Senator Rayner turned then to Roosevelt's entrance into the field as a presidential candidate.

"There was no need," said he, "of any persuasion whatever to induce him to enter the field. There was no dragging of Cincinnatus from the plow, and there was no necessity that any Mark Antony should thrice offer him the crown. He is willing to come with his own crown and frame a constitution of his own in accordance with the charming and alluring platform he has promulgated.

"I would almost be willing to make a new treaty for Chinese immigration if they would accept him in exchange. This would be a splendid opportunity for him to start a Chinese constitution framed upon the plan that he has outlined. I regard him as the most unique and picturesque character in all American history.

"The last conversation I had with him was in relation to the case of Colonel Stewart, whom he had charged with certain temperamental infirmities. He informed me that, being commander in chief of the army and navy of the United States, he would not pay the slightest attention to any law that congress passed and that he had a perfect right, if he wanted to, to sentence Colonel Stewart to death.

"Mr. President, this is exactly the line of thought he has followed in his address before the constitutional convention of Ohio. He is simply advocating a martial law. We know what he will do in the future from our experiences in the past. He held his party in congress under absolute vassalage and subjection, and he will revive his attempt to place the judiciary under his influence and control.

"I am not exaggerating the situation. He is perfectly sincere, and his motive is not a corrupt one, and he will do this because he is possessed with a mad fancy that this is and ought to be an executive government, that the powers of the executive ought to override those of the legislative and judicial branches of the public service."

Messler put the dying dog out of its misery with a bullet.

DEBATE ON SMALL BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS MEASURE

Trenton, Feb. 28.—Another long debate on the Hudson smaller freeholder bill was carried in the House yesterday when Senator Fielder's bill was brought up on third reading. Mr. Simpson raised the question of the constitutionality of the clause that specified a board of nine members, believing that this phrase made it special legislation. Mr. Hennessy declared that it had been charged that enemies of the measure had inserted these phrases. He thought friends of the measure should have handled it. The suggestion was then made that the bill be sent to the attorney general for an opinion. Mr. Brensinger said the courts were the places to have the opinions given. After more debating the measure was passed with two dissenting votes, Mr Agnew and Mr. Davidson, both of Hudson.

A fight has been carried on to make this bill mandatory instead of carrying a referendum.

WOMEN TO BOWL.

The members of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, D. of A., will enjoy an evening of boxball on the Matthews alleys, Madison avenue, tomorrow night. The proceeds will be added to the council's relief fund. The members will meet in front of the Babcock building at 7:45. At the regular meeting of the council next Tuesday night three candidates will be initiated.

Bakery Inspector.

Trenton, Feb. 28.—Assemblyman Ford's bill permitting the appointment of an expert baker for the State Factory Department and an expert to inspect blowers in factories was passed. These men are to devote their time to the bakeries and shops, as it is believed they will do better work than one with only general knowledge.

MEASURE IN HOUSE AIMED AT THE 'QUACKS'

Trenton, Feb. 18.—To better protect the public, Assemblyman Gill introduced in the House yesterday a bill permitting the State Board to revoke licenses for the practice of medicine of persons who publicly advertise special ability to treat or cure chronic or incurable diseases. Mr. Groves has a bill to provide that no map, chart of land, etc., showing streets shall be accepted for filing in the county clerk's office unless the governing board of the municipality shall approve the plan.

Railroads will be permitted to issue free transportation to chiefs of police under another bill by Mr. Groves. Among those particularly interested in this bill is the chief of police of Newark. Not less than four newspapers may be designated to publish the financial statement of the county collector in the various counties under the bill of Mr. Radcliffe.

A bill to permit turnpike companies in Cape May county to charge more for the use of roads in view of improvements they are to make was introduced by Mr. Hildreth.

Mrs. Annie Moore and Miss Lillian Chandler, of West Fifth street, were among the guests at a luncheon and bridge whist given by Mrs. Fred G. Curtis, of Orange, yesterday.

THE FORUM.

The Old Days.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Permit me to raise my weak voice in protest against the way you are mutilitaing the good old Daily Press. I have read it with interest the many letters commending the new order of things are always best? There is things are always best. There is nothing good in these days when women are nothing but caricatures. There are no mothers any more, nothing but brazen suffragetttes. No more children—upstarts which masquerade under that name are not children. Not as I used to know them.

They tell you to be progressive, but there is no progress so good as sticking to the old things, for old times, old customs, old ways are best. My friends, I tell you there is nothing so good nowadays. Leave us a little of the good old Press, the paper I've read for thirty years.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

CONCERNING CREAM PUFFS.

WHILE we may not care for our cream cakes as Alice in Wonderland liked hers, with plenty of pepper, a recipe or two may not come amiss.

For instance, try these:

Homemade Cream Puffs.

Vanilla Cream Puffs.—Take a cupful of hot water and one half cupful of butter boiled together. While boiling stir in one cupful of sifted flour.

Remove from the fire and stir until a smooth paste. When cool add three unbeaten eggs, stirring five minutes.

Drop in spoonfuls in buttered tins and bake in a quick oven for twenty-five minutes.

For the cream take one cupful of milk, one half cupful of sugar, one egg, three tablespoonfuls of flour. Cook thoroughly and flavor. When the puffs are cold cut open and fill with cream.

Orange Cream Puffs.—Stir into a pint of boiling water three cups of flour, one cup of butter rubbed smooth. After it is cooled stir in five eggs, one at a time, and bake in small tins, half filled, about fifteen minutes.

Cream, two eggs, one cupful of sugar and a small cup of flour boiled with a pint of milk until thick. Flavor with extract of orange. Split the puffs and spread the cream between the parts.

Lemon Cream Puffs.—Into half a pint of cold water stir until smooth one and a half cupfuls of flour, turn the same into a pan with a small cupful of butter, cook and stir all the time until well done.

When cooled add four beaten eggs, beat well and drop the dough in small round balls on a tin so that they will not touch one another and bake them. They will then probably be hollow balls. Cool them on a paper soon as possible so they will not sweat.

For filling take half a pint of milk, two beaten eggs, half a cupful of flour or corn starch, rub them smooth and add a cupful of sugar. Cook it in a saucepan set in hot water. Stir well. When cool flavor with extract of lemon. Open the puffs with a sharp knife and insert the custard.

Filling For Cream Puffs.—A simple filling for cream puffs may be made thus: Take two cups sugar, one cup flour, one quart milk, four eggs. Boil the milk. Beat the eggs, sugar and flour together and stir into the milk while boiling till the mixture is thickened. Flavor. Let it cool and then fill your cakes.

in white. The rough linen opens at both sides, not only in the usual slash toward the foot, but also in a slit at the hip, showing the taffeta as though it were a petticoat.

The simplest dresses are the prettiest for the younger children. This one is made in just two pieces, with underarm seams and shoulder seams that are closed for a portion of their length only, the closings being made under the shoulder straps.

Good Form

Social Amenities of the Schoolgirl.

If there is one way more than another in which a young girl can show bad form it is in the way she treats the men acquaintances of an older sister. Sad to relate, the type of pert younger sister exists, even flourishes, unless there be a strong hand to put her down. And because older persons frequently laugh at her and the girl succeeds in "fussing" her older sister the younger one considers herself a huge success and continues in a manner or with lack of it calculated to create a prejudice against herself that only long years can wipe out.

If there is ever a time when a young girl will do well to keep herself out of the way it is when the friends of her older sister are present. Grownup persons, parents and their friends have a certain toleration of children, little or big, which girls and boys of nineteen and twenty cannot be expected to have. There really isn't any use in a little sister making herself unpopular, even if she does create a laugh while so doing, and there is no question that she will be heartily under the ban of an older sister whom the other makes a target for her sharp tongue or whose secrets she "gives away" because the child thinks they are funny.

To tell the truth, it is not only the grown girl who will appear better by the younger one's absence, but the "little sister" herself will gain greater popularity. Grown girls and men who go to see one of their own set do not care to have their time and attention monopolized by one who is too young for their notice or at least whom they consider to be such. Yet because they are well bred they must be polite to her, being annoyed proportionately.

One great objection to a young girl's being with her older sister's friends and probably the strongest reason why she should not be is the almost irresistible temptation to talk personalities, frankly to tell what she knows, not always stopping there, but unconsciously exaggerating. It is not at all improbable that the others may find this amusing, even instructive, in the side lights thrown on the characteristics of older sister and her friends, but that, as a rule, is far from desirable. If it is a joke the younger girl tells or a personal fact that would be unknown save for her it is remembered in the set of acquaintances and also that the younger one divulged.

The listeners may be highly interested at the time, unwittingly flattering the juvenile talker by their attention, but it counts against her later, just the same. Not only does she make herself vastly unpopular with her own family, but outsiders are prone to consider her a "terror," saying, "She ought to be suppressed," themselves developing a fear of her tongue that makes them prefer her absence to her presence.

The same is true if the younger sister refrains from personalities and merely occupies the attention of her sister's friends in other ways. She puts herself forward then undesirably. She gains the reputation of being pert, and instead of their regarding her as a sweet and attractive young girl they think of her as one to be avoided.

The surest way out of the temptation of being funny at the expense of an older sister and her friends is to keep away from where they are.

That does not preclude "having fun" with the older sister when there is no one else about.

Dress Etiquette.

"Last night," said the woman who notices things, "I was at a big affair and sat next the most disagreeable woman I have ever yet experienced. And it was all because she was wearing a hat."

"I know," murmured the aesthetic girl, "just how an ugly hat makes you feel about loving your neighbor."

"But this," went on the woman who notices things, "wasn't an ugly hat. It wasn't even a shabby one. On the contrary, it was an expensive and up to date affair, and when its wearer's features were in their everyday pattern I have no doubt that it was becoming. The trouble was that all the other women present were not wearing hats at all, but sat in all the formality of bare heads and shoulders. It was one of those affairs which are not easily classed, when you have to guess at the correct attire and every other woman has guessed differently from the one who had come in a hat.

"Instead of making the best of a blunder and taking her hat off, this woman seemed to be trying to convince herself that her guess had been right after all and that all the rest of us were foolish creatures who dressed beyond our incomes and our stations. The effort made her furious. I thought her a most pathetic and humiliating spectacle. I am sure that we exaggerated the importance of dress."

"So do I," said the woman who notices things. "Then we might have time to get something that really satisfied us, if only once in a lifetime."

"I think," the youngest woman put in as she crossed one slim ankle over the other, "I should choose a white wool sweater and a white skirt. As I wouldn't have any other outside garments, I could afford to have them washed as often as I liked."

"I would have a silk gown for summer and a soft woolen one for winter," said the woman who notices things. "They would both wash and both be embroidered."

"THE GROWTH OF PUBLIC SENTIMENT"
BY
MRS. LOUISE BRYAN DORR.

No cause can remain stationary in the face of persistent study, agitation and effort; either it will grow to deserved success, or it will die because seen to be valueless when put under the limelight of public opinion.

The great leaders of the Anti-Slavery and Equal Suffrage movements sixty years ago, Wendell Phillips, Willam Lloyd Garrison, Henry Ward Beecher, Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Mary Livermore, Francis Willard and a few others, were practically unsupported by public sentiment at the outset.

They lived to see the shackles stricken from the slave and the emancipation of woman more than a prophesy because of the growth of public sentiment as the result of their work.

What splendid battles they fought against heavy odds for the higher education of woman, for her right to earn her own living as she choose, her right to share equally with her husband in the custody of her children and in the control of their mutually earned property! How their patient souls would have rejoiced in the sixth star recently added to woman's political firmament and in the rapidly lengthening roll of believers! How they would spur us on to fresh endeavor pointing the way and glorifying the end to be attained. The dead, they live for us.

No greater evidence of the tremendous growth of public sentiment in favor of woman suffrage has been shown in recent days than in the changed attitude of the press of England and America. In the current number of the Independent (Feb. 22), Ida Husted Harper has a very able and informing article on the "Woman Suffrage Crisis in Great Britain." She tells us that in 1869 the women of England organized to obtain the complete franchise; that they worked through strictly constitutional methods for the next thirty-five years without apparently being one step nearer their goal. "Then Mrs. Pankhurst stepped from the ranks and formed the militant association which soon broke down the dead wall of indifference and put John Bull on the defensive. That contest sent nearly a thousand women to prison and set the whole world to talking woman suffrage.' Only recently, however, has the English press raised the boycott against the suffrage movement. This, Mrs. Harper tells us, "has been rigid and absolute by the majority of papers which never mentioned woman suffrage except to notice in a distorted way some sensational feature. Now it is occupying columns of space and calling out leading editorials in all of them."

In America even the most casual observer must have noticed the change in the attitude of the press, both as to the amount of space given and the spirit of comment. Suffrage news is eagerly sought and women prominent in the cause are fairly besieged for interesting items, photographs and personal "stories."

In New Jersey the State Suffrage Association, organized forty-two years ago, by Lucy Stone, and reorganized twenty-one years ago, has now twenty auxiliary leagues with four others just forming. It has now combined with three other younger State organizations, the Equal Franchise Society, the Women's Political Union and the Men's League for joint effort in legislative work.

The first woman suffrage resolution was introduced in our State Legislature on February 13, by Senator Gebhardt, of Hunterdon county, and referred to the judiciary committee. The concurrent suffrage resolution was introduced in the Assembly at Trenton yesterday. A hearing will be held on Tuesday, March 12, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Included in the New Jersey organizations are some of the most prominent men and women of the State, persons of the highest culture and attainment, but they are not more eagerly sought nor cordially welcomed than are the great rank and file of men and women whose deeds are not heralded and whose names are seldom heard.

There is still a great wall of ignorance and apathy to be broken down. Equal suffragists are confident that if men and women can be induced to listen, to read and to think, that the support of the great majority can soon be obtained. Hence fine speakers are being sent all over the United States, printed pamphlets distributed broadcast, newspapers and magazines flooded with timely articles. In that connection it is interesting to note that on next Friday evening, March 1, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the Babcock boulding, and under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, an open meeting especially for business men and women will be held. This is the second of a proposed series of evening meetings especially for those employed during the day. The principal speaker next Friday evening will be Mrs. Clara B. Colby, of Washington, D. C., formerly of Portland, Ore., who has been recognized as one of the most brilliant lecturers and journalists. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, where she won the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy. She established and successfully conducted for some time the Woman's Tribune. One one of her trips to Europe she carefully studied political conditions and was treated with marked consideration by the officials of the great city of Glasgow, where she made a special study of the municipal life of that great city. Her addresses are said to be dignified and scholarly, her manner pleasing, her arguments deep and logical but so fair and conservative as almost inevitably to carry conviction. This lecture in Plainfield next Friday night is the beginning of a sort of "whirlwind campaign" throughout the State, in which Mrs. Colby will be used constantly to arouse public sentiment in favor of the woman suffrage bill recently introduced into the New Jersey Legislature. Mrs. Colby's itinerary is as follows: Plainfield, Friday evening, March 1; Passaic, Saturday afternoon, March 2; Jersey City, Sunday evening, March 3; New Brunswick, Monday afternoon, March 4; Trenton, Monday evening, March 4, Riverton or Moorestown, Tuesday afternoon, March 5; Camden, Tuesday evening, March 5, Bridgeton or Wanonah, Wednesday afternoon, March 6; Vineland, Wednesday evening, March 6; Cape May, Thursday, March 7; Atlantic City, Friday, March 8.

At the last named place it is expected that Mrs. Colby will appear before the Library Association of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, which hold their joint annual convention at Atlantic City on that day.

In the Woman's Journal of February 24, Florence Kelley, secretary of the National Child Labor Committee urges that everyone interested in "votes for women should read the two illuminating little volumes, one on Juvenile Delinquency and Its Relation to Employment and the other on the Condition of Women and Child Wage-earners in the United States. These volumes (718 of Senate Doc. 645), are distributed by Senators and members of Congress, but as Congress unfortunately limited the edition to 2,000, some effort is required to obtain them. These and the preceding volumes prepared by Charles P. Neill, U. S. Commissioner of Labor, show that in spite of the nation-wide agitation during the past twelve years, we have in our Republic thousands of children still working by day and by night; thousands of boys and girls exposed to the utmost moral danger, all of them deprived of the education which is their right. In closing a long and profoundly stirring article on "The Abolition of Child Labor," Florence Kelley says: "Women have no more weight with the State judiciary in New York than with the city school authorities. The judges are elected by men for very long terms and are personally unknown even by name to most of the otherwise intelligent women in the State. They are of course, utterly beyond the reach of petition and persuasion." How long would such a state of things continue if mothers could vote?

A year ago the whole civilized world was much stirred over the disclosures relative to the white slave traffic, and a great international conference was held in Paris, where, on May 4, 1910, and international white slavery resolution making the crime an extraditable one, was drawn up, to be presented for ratification to all nations. The United States did not participate in the convention and when on February 23 the German Reichstag passed the first reading of a law ratifying this resolution, the Associated Press tells us that "Deputies of all shades of political opinion deplored the non-adhesion of the United States to the convention.

Women of America have you no responsibility in this matter? Does not public sentiment need to be aroused still farther?

Mrs. Annie Bristol Sloan, of San Diego, Cal., speaking before the Bonneyvane Pennsylvania Woman's Suffrage Association recently described the unexpected and pleasant change in her relation to the world when she became a "citizen" by virtue of the recent enfranchisement of the women of California. She said "There is a certain self respect never experienced by women that comes to one on becoming a citizen. Now I look about men with pride and feel that this is my town, my State and my country. I have a hand in making the laws. The war cry of the 'antis' that men will lose reverence for women that vote is all nonsense. To the chivalrous attitude which men have toward us has been added a large measure of respect that is a pleasant experience." She advised the suffragists not to be discouraged by the apparent indifference of a large number of women. "The suffrage meetings in California were not largely attended, she said, but as soon as the vote was given them they turned out on every side to register and take advantage of the privilege granted them."

Recently, an effort was made by the "antis" in New York to induce the "antis" of California to use the referendum and demand another vote of the people on the question, hoping that the recent decision at the polls concerning woman suffrage would be reserved. To their disgust and amazement the most prominent woman anti in California replied: "No, we have the ballot now; we are going to see what we can do with it!" Equal suffrage sentiment is growing now by leaps and bounds.

The Legislatures of Wisconsin, Kansas and Oregon have agreed to submit the question to the people and the suffragists of these great States feel almost certain of success. Even the conservative South is honeycombed with suffragist sentiment. In Maryland nearly a thousand suffragists crowded the State House during the last week, and one woman, Mrs. Donald R. Hooker, offered to bear all the cost in the Legislature would submit a suffrage amendment to the voters. Even Cuba, supposed to be one of the strongholds of feminine subordination, is being agitated by its women on the question of equal suffrage and Norman Shuster, just returned from Persia, is telling of the powerful efforts being made by the veiled and hidden women of that country to take a hand in the government.

'From Greenland's icy mountains,
From manyd a palmy plain,
They call us to deliver
Their land from error's chain."

Mrs. Harper says of the English situation: "Great Britain could just as easily prevent the ocean from beating upon her shores as to turn back the tide of women's determination to have a voice in the government." The men of America will never allow the women of this country to be less emancipated than those of England! Nor will the Chinese Republic, just born, be far behind in this matter. Says the great Dr. Sun in a recent letter to a Paris feminist: "It will be my first care to give Chinese women a higher and nobler education with a view of enabling them to exercise civic rights." Surely "the world do more."

Taft Thanks N. J. Senate.

Trenton, Feb. 28, (Special)—The Senate last night received a communication from C. D. Hille, secretary to President Taft, acknowledging the President's receipt of the resolution adopted by the New Jersey Senate approving the appointment by the President of Chancellor Mahlon Pitney as United States Supreme Court Justice. The letter thanked the Senators for their endorsement.

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

JAMAICA RIOTERS ATTACK NEW YORKERS

With Auto Tools Strikers Are Beaten Off at Jamaica.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 28.—For many hours this city was practically in the hands of a mob in consequence of the riots caused by an increase made in their fares by the Canadian company that owns the street railways here. In the collisions between the police and the populace two men were killed, the governor, Sir Sydney Olivier, was struck with a brick, and more than thirty persons were injured, some of them severely.

In the rioting Americans were not spared, but rather were attacked. One party of American automobilists had a desperate fight to escape with their lives.

This party consisted of Captain and Mrs. Fritz Joubert Duquesne of New York city and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wortley of Brooklyn. They were driving through the city when a group of men hurled a shower of bricks and stones at them and then attacked them at close quarters. Mrs. Duquesne was hit by one of the stones and is said to be in a serious condition.

Captain Duquesne armed himself with a hammer from the tool chest, and Mr. Wortley with the handle of a jack. They knocked two of the rioters unconscious and beat the rest until they took to their heels. The two assailants who were injured were taken to the hospital.

CHINA ASKS INDEMNITY.

Threatens Bombardment of Batavia if Dutch Don't Pay.

San Francisco, Feb. 28.—Chinese warships have been ordered to Java under instructions to begin a bombardment of Batavia if the Dutch government doesn't pay an indemnity for the killing of Chinese, said to have been attacked by Dutch soldiers.

In an ultimatum sent to the Dutch government by Provisional President Sun Yat Sen it was declared that an attack on Java would be begun if the indemnity is not paid within a week. This information was received here in a private dispatch from Dr. Sun's private secretary to the Chinese Free Press.

Advices to the Chinese newspapers here declare that the attack on the Chinese by Dutch soldiers, news of which was received from Nanking, was made without provocation and that three Chinese were killed and many others arrested.

Artificial Snow.

A curious instance of the formation of artificial snow was witnessed on one occasion in the town of Agen, in France. A fire broke out in a sawmill when the temperature was 10 degrees below freezing point. The water thrown upon the fire was instantly vaporized and, rising in the cold, dry air, was immediately condensed and fell as snow. With bright starlight and a strong northwest wind blowing, the whirling snow above and the raging fire below, a brilliant spectacle was presented.

ELKS' 'BIG FIVE' NOT DISCOURAGED

Expect to Lead Race Again Soon as Future Matches Are Easy.

HOBOKEN'S SCHEDULE STIFF

Germans Meet First Division Teams Away While Locals Are Rolling Those With Lower Standing, on Home Alleys.

The Elks' "Big Five" are not at all peeved over the loss of two games at New Brunswick Monday night and do not figure on remaining long in second place as a result. When the smoke of battle had cleared and the matter was being calmly discussed on the ride home, schedule books were consulted and show that there are many reasons for not feeling discouraged. Quite the contrary, as chances for winning the cup are good.

Thursday night the Queensboro quintet will roll a match on the Olympia alleys and the 885 five count on taking all three as the visiting team is next to last in the league standing. After that there will be several other matches with teams not reckoned as strong as the locals.

While the Plainfield pinners are rolling these games, Hoboken, now leading the race, goes up against some of the more powerful contenders, such as Newark, New York and Rutherford, to say nothing of the champion New Brunswick wood spillers, who will be met on their home alleys March 19.

It is etimated that HoboKen will not be able to win as many games out of their scheduled meetings as Plainfield and in this manner the locals hope to again take the lead and that by a safe margin. Of course Elizabeth and Rutherford are liable at almost any time to become formidable, but these teams, too, have some of the stiffer ones, to put away before they can jump into first place.

CY YOUNG AT HOT SPRINGS; 17TH ANNUAL SPRING TRIP.

Old Cy Young has arrived at Hot Springs to get in condition for his twenty-third season as a big league pitcher. This is Cy's seventeenth annual visit to the Springs, but the veteran is not a bit backward in telling friends that he expects a successful season.

"It got away badly with Cleveland last year," is the way Cy explains it, "but after I went to Boston I rounded into shape, and, if I do say it myself, I think I pitched some good ball for Tenney's team. At any rate, I am feeling very good now, and I venture to say that I will win more games than I will lose this season. When am I going to retire? Say, boy, ask me something easy. I haven't begun to think of quitting. Why should I when the old whip is so good?"

SIGNS ENTIRE FAMILY TO PREVENT HOMESICKNESS.

For the first time in the history of the diamond a baseball club has insisted on signing an entire family. The contract of Pitcher Harry Gardner which was received recently by the Pittsburgh club, was not passed over to the "coast blacksmith" for his signature this season until he agreed that he would bring to Pittsburgh with him his wife and baby.

President Dreyfuss of the Pirates insisted on this for the reason that last season the young fellow suffered so from homesickness that he failed to show all the "pep" the club management believes is in him.

SCALPING BILL PASSES NEW YORK ASSEMBLY.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Assemblyman Bush's bill, designed to prevent operations of ticket speculators at baseball games, passed the Assembly Monday night. The measure requires baseball admission tickets to have the price printed upon them, and prohibits their sale at an increased figure.

The bill was introduced as a result of the ticket scandal incident to last fall's world's championship series.

HERE IS A $50,000 QUARTET OF DIAMOND STARS.

Four baseball players who cost $50,000 will be watched with interest this year and may or may not prove a good investment.

They include Marty O'Toole, the Pittsburgh pitcher, who cost $22,500; Bill Kelly, his battery mate, who brought $6,500; "Lefty" Russell, purchased by Connie Mack for $11,000 two years ago, and Russell Blackburne who put a dent of $10,000 in Comiskey's bank roll.

Mexico Tennis Tourney.

The City of Mexico tennis tourney will occur March 31 to April 6.

—Read the Plainfield Daily Press.

THE GINGER JAR

Willie Keeler beat St. Patrick to it. The Wee one will celebrate his natal day March 16.

Consistency thou are a jewel! Howard Craig, the local diamond star, was the only one of the late Westfield team to play the full season. In all 67 players were hired and 66 fired.

The pitchers at the New York University are twirling to a dummy for practice. Many a pitcher has thought that of a batter and didn't need the practice either.

They met on the courts and courted. Now they are married. That is the story of Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, the woman tennis champion and George William Wightman.

Kilbane at Present Busiest Boxer on Earth, screams a headline. He was busy enough for all purposes Thursday night, February 22, and wasn't celebrating Washington's birthday either.

North Plainfield has a championship basketball team. Now Elks, get busy and land another championship five for Plainfield. South Plainfield may then get the fever and come across with some champs too.

Yale has too much baseball timber according to report and 35 candidates, enough for three teams, have been dropped. The Queen City would be able to use some of them.

The Montreal Club has been fined $200 for allowing a paper in that city to publish the International League schedule before the date of publication agreed upon. Our hearts go out to the bright young man who scored that scoop.

And still they all positively assert that, absolutely, there are no prizes offered for low scores.

"We've got the penanant cinched," they say in the Smoky City. Have cards printed and hand them to strangers as they land when the flag is up. Otherwise they would never know it.

BASEBALL IN NEWARK WILL START EARLIER TOO

Newark is following the lead of the New York baseball teams in starting the contests earlier this season than heretofore. The fans there are divided as to the hour. Many of them want the time fixed at 3:30 o'clock while clerks, bankers, and brokers have asked that the same hour, 4 o'clock be unchanged.

In order to best satisfy the majority, Manager McGinnity and Secretary Solomon have decided to start the mid-season games at 3:45 o'clock. The series with the western teams will begin at 3:30. If this plan works well it is likely to remain in force throughout the season. Ladies' day has been changed from Wednesday to Tuesday as the team will be at home but six Wednesdays and the owners want to give the fair fans the greatest number of weekday attractions possible.

Collarless Uniforms for Cubs.

Manager Frank Chance, of the Chicago Cubs, having figured out that baseball shirts made without collars are fifteen degrees cooler than those having them, has ordered two sets of uniforms for his players without this adornment. A unanimous mail vote among the veteran players decided against the collars. The home uniforms will be of cream color with a blue stripe. The traveling garment will be of solid blue.

Cut in Yale Squad.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 28.—Captain Merritt, of the Yale baseball team, yesterday ordered the first varsity cut down of the season, reducing the number of candidates from seventy-five to forty. The battery staff numbers fifteen. The squad will work on the floor of the New Haven Casino until outdoor play at Yale Field is possible.

Yankees to Wear Stripes.

A slight change will be made in the home uniforms of the Yankees this year, as a black pin stripe will run through the regulation white shirts and trousers. The stockings will be blue and maroon. The traveling uniform will be gray, the same as last year.

—Don't put your pleasure before your business unless you want to lose both.

SORE ARM BAD FOR BALL PLAYERS.

A ball player feels just as good or bad as his arm feels. If his arm is sore he is sore all over.

This is the theory of Manager Harry Davis.

"Therefore," says Davis, "the big job on the spring training trip is to keep the players' arms right.

"I have never seen a player who could bat, field or run the bases up to his standard if his arm was sore," continued the Nap boss. "Most players are down in spirit to boot if there is a kink in their arms, and a dispirited player is always below form."

Y. M. C. A. COLLEGE TEAM TO PERFORM HERE

The appearance of the gymnasium team of the International Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield, Mass., in the local Y. M. C. A. gym tomorrow night, promises to be one of the biggest events in indoor athletics that Plainfield has been treated to for some time. The fact that Charles Line, formerly asssitant physical director at the local institutions, is a member of the squad, adds local interest.

The team is composed of twelve thoroughly drilled and efficient athletes, who have passed a rigid examination in all the stunts that indoor athletes are called upon to perform. In addition to the drills and calesthenic exhibitions, with and without apparatus, there will be musical numbers by members of the squad. These will consist of mandolin and guitar selections.

As a further variety to the program the young men will go through a series of active dances that combine skill and grace. This feature is given special attention in some gymnasiums now and greatly adds to a program such as will be presented.

HOPE CHAPEL FIVE WON AGAIN FROM HOLY CROSS

The Hope chapel basketball team deefated Holy Cross last night in the Hope cage by a 25-21 score. This is the second meeting between these teams and the second victory for the west-end five. The contest was nip and tuck from start to finish. Clean snappy tactics featured the work of each player and a noticeable improvement was noticed in the team work of the singers. The score at the end of the first half stood 13 to 10 in favor of the victors.

The lineup: Hope chapel—T. and J. Heron, forwards; Doig, centre; Snyder and Leighs, guards. Holy Cross—Coyle and Moran, forwards; Bechtel, centre; Wilson, Harriman Kline and VanNorden, guards.

NEW BRUNSWICK ELKS WON TWO MORE GAMES.

Rolling on the Rahway Elks' alleys last night, the champion New Brunswick five took two games of the match, the first and last, by the same figures, 86 5to 820 and 831. Rahway piled up 862 in the second game winning out by 27 pins.

Harkins got high scores of the session, hitting the wood for 210 in the second game and 211 in the third. Greenwald made 200 flat in the last contest, the only other pinner to break into the double century zone.

Local Matches of Interest.

The Ponies and Butchers will roll a match tonight on the Olympia alleys. Friday night the Elks and Shamrocks will meet in a Fraternal League match.

POSSIBILITY OF FULL PAID FIRE DEPT. IN WESTFIELD

Westfield, Feb. 28.—With a $14,000 equipment of automobile apparatus Westfield faces the possibility of supplanting the present volunteer fire system with a paid department, conducted on the same lines as the Plainfield department.

At the present time there are four full paid firemen and it is estimated that the services of six men will be required should the volunteer department be wiped out.

A majority of the volunteers will naturally oppose the proposition, but in the opinion of town officials, the fire fighting force must be put on an efficient basis. As matters now stand, it has been said by fire officials that at least half of the volunteers do not respond to alarms.

The matter of a paid department is under consideration by the fire committee and when the 1912 budget is adopted by the council an increased appropriation for the fire department is expected.

When Fire Chief Decker was approached on the subject yesterday by a reporter he refused to be interviewed.

THINKS AL PALZER HAS IT ON FLYNN

Tom O'Rourke Says Boxer is Best Heavyweight He Ever Handled.

BETTER THAN TOM SHARKEY

Says Palzer's Record Will Prove That He is Most Promising "White Hope" Although Fighting Only a Year.

"Al Palzer is the best heavyweight boxer I have ever handled, greater than Tom Sharkey when the sailor was in his prime. This may seem high praise to accord a man who hasn't been fighting a year yet, but if any of the fans will go over Palzer's record he will find that in that short space of time he has emerged from the ranks of the hopeless white hopes into the brigade where he stands alone as the most capable boxer among the white fighters of today."

In those words Tom O'Rourke, the manager of Palzer, paid a glowing tribute to the prowess of the man who came to the front on the wings of a right hand uppercut with which he knocked out Al Kaufman.

"When Palzer meets Flynn, if they ever have a bout, he will defeat him. Flynn will not find Palzer as easy a mark to punch as Carl Morris was at Madison Square Garden. In the first place, Palzer is just as tough a human being as Morris. So much for ability to withstand punishment. But where Morris is weak is the hitting line. Palzer is strong. Palzer has 60 per cent more driving force behind his blows than Morris. He hooks his blows, whereas Morris curves them. Palzer has a better straight left than Morris, and his judgment and precision of distance are much finer. Therefore I have no hesitancy in saying Palzer will whip Flynn."

"If things turn out as you predict will you be willing to match Palzer against Johnson?" was asked.

"Not on your life," was O'Rourke's quick retort. "Palzer at present does not know enough for Johnson. He will need at least two years' experience to be a finished fighter. When I match him with Johnson—and I intend to do so at some future date—Palzer will be good enough to win the title."

Jack Got Even.

A judge, presiding one day in court, asked a sailor whether he saw the plaintiff strike the defendant.

"Who is the plaintiff?" asked the sailor.

"Pretty man you are," said his honor, "that you don't know the plaintiff from the defendant! Well, where did you see the man strike him?"

"Abaft the binnacle," said Jack tar.

"Where is abaft the binnacle?" inquired his honor.

"Pretty judge you are," responded Jack, "that you don't know abaft the binnacle!"

Sulzer's New Story.

Congressman Sulzer of New York has stopped telling after dinner stories. The New York congressman and J. Adam Bede, the Minnesota wit, were speakers at a banquet in Washington not long ago. Bede held the floor for an hour and told some amusing yarns. When Mr. Sulzer arose he shook his Henry Clays at the guests and started out to win the humor Marathon himself.

"I will first tell you a story that Adam never heard," he began and then launched into the recital of an anecdote so aged that everybody in the audience could call it by its front name. Mr. Sulzer hadn't progressed very far when Representative Stanley of Kentucky reared up and in a hoarse whisper, heard all over the room, said:

"Why, Bill, Adam invented that story."

—Lots of people look down on others from a mighty slight elevation.

A Sharp Line Hit That Men Will Grab—

Pajamas

VALUES TO $6 AT 89c
$1 to $5 VALUES AT 25c

If there's any statement in this big "month end" announcement that you might be justified in doubting it is this declaration that we are going to sell Pajamas for men worth as much as $6 a pair for only 89c.

We won't blame you a bit if you doubt it, but we beg you not to disbelieve it—and ask you to come in tomorrow and see how true our statement is.

A year ago it took only a few hours to clear out a similar lot of Pajamas—there wasn't a garment left of the lot.

It will be the same way tomorrow for these are fine garments—and we bought them cheaply only because they were ends of lines, mismated suits and the like—but, jimminy, they're fine Silks and Silk Mixtures, and Soisettes and Pongees—some of French Flannel, Cheviot and Madras—and none are worth less than perhaps $3 a suit, lots worth $4 and $5, and plenty are $6 suits—and you can buy any of them for the insignificant sum of 89c.

It's only a question of how many suits you want.

441 Suits—matched—89c.
150 Suits—unmatched—65c.
171 Coats—no pants—25c.

The latter are of French Flannel, Pongee, Silk Mixtures, etc.

WOULD WAIT ON PUBLIC OPINION

Bacon Wants Democratic Convention Postponed.

ROOSEVELT IS THE CAUSE.

Georgia Senator Favors Giving People Time to Express Preference of Nominee to Run Against T. R. Should He Win From Taft at Chicago.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt has caused a startling development. It became known that Senator Bacon of Georgia had started a movement to postpone the Democratic national convention for probably a month from June 25, the scheduled date, or a week after the Republican convention is held in Chicago.

Senator Bacon has conferred with various Democratic senators and finds them of the same opinion as himself. They believe Roosevelt will be nominated by the Republicans and that a change of plan on the part of the Democrats is imperative. This is the most striking testimony yet offered as to how the Democrats view the Roosevelt announcement and how they think the country will take it. They have been favoring the nomination, feeling that they can defeat him easily.

"The announcement of former President Roosevelt," said Senator Bacon, "makes it imperative that the Democratic national committee meet speedily and postpone the Democratic convention three weeks or a month."

The position of Bacon and the others is that the Republicans will nominate Roosevelt, and that the Democrats thus would have ample time to wait and see how the public takes the nomination. Presumably, if Roosevelt is nominated the Democratic plan would be to nominate a conservative like Harmon or Underwood. It is denied that the movement for postponement is in the interest of any particular candidate.

The general feeling of Republicans here is that the fight will be so bitter that the chances of party success in November must be greatly lessened. Democrats hail the big split in the enemy's ranks with joy.

At the same time, there is apprehension in the Democratic camp that if Roosevelt be nominated he will be elected. This is seen in the disposition of the Democrats to attack Roosevelt from every angle; to harass him and try to weaken him in the eyes of the country.

MACK NOT CONCERNED.

Democratic Chairman Don't Care Who Is G. O. P. Nominee.

New York, Feb. 28.—Chairman Norman E. Mack of the Democratic national committee, says that he has not heard of any proposal to have the Democratic national convention postponed.

"We have a week now," he said "after the Republican convention has named its candidate before we select ours, and if they should nominate on Thursday, say, we would have eight or nine days, as we may not nominate before Friday or Saturday. And if there were any need for more time the convention could adjourn to give such time as seemed necessary, and meanwhile we would all be there on the job."

Mr. Mack continued that he did not see any great difference to the Democrats whether the Republicans nominated Taft or Roosevelt.

"If they nominate Taft," he said, "the Roosevelt Republicans will knife him. If they nominate Roosevelt the Taft Republicans will knife Roosevelt."

The Democratic national committee will not meet again until the night of June 24 unless it is specially called for an earlier meeting. The committee on arrangements will have two or three meetings before that time, but this committee has no power to change the date of the convention, a matter which is entirely in the hands of the national committee.

NOT ALL OIL SWEET.

Pure Food Board Makes Ruling Misbranding.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The pure food board has made a ruling on the subject of "What is sweet oil?"

"It is held," said the board, "that any oil other than olive oil is misbranded when sold under the name 'sweet oil.' It is not correct, for example, to label cottonseed oil as 'sweet oil' and then elsewhere on the label describe correctly the true character of the oil."

CONGRESSMAN BINGHAM.

Who Is Desperately Ill at Philadelphia Home.

Copyright by American Press Association.

BINGHAM CANNOT LIVE.

"Father of the House" Desperately Ill, Physicians Say.

Philadelphia, Feb. 28.—Physicians in attendance upon Congressman Henry H. Bingham at his home declared his condition is critical and said that he has very little chance of recovery from the attack of a complication of heart affection and kidney trouble, which caused the "father of the house" to return from Washington last Friday.

ROOSEVELT IS ANGRY.

Colonel Denies He Called Taft a Reactionary.

Boston, Feb. 28.—The colonel lost his temper several times today. This morning his first move after hearing how the New York and Boston newspapers handled his speech was to increase the membership of the Roosevelt Ananias club because several had quoted him as saying that in his opinion President Taft was reactionary and had lost the confidence of the people. He resented the closeness with which the reporters pursued him, and at the entrance to the Hasty Pudding club in Cambridge he threatened to smash the cameras of two photographers when they focused their lenses on him.

"That story is an unqualified and seemingly a deliberate falsehood. I never mentioned President Taft's name. And let me tell you some more:

"I've been treated very kindly by the newspaper men in Boston, but if anybody tried to tell you in the third person that I said this or that you'll be pretty safe in putting it down as false.

"I'll talk for myself, and I'll talk in the first person, and I'll talk directly to you. I'll know then what I'm talking about, and you'll know too."

The colonel had declared his intention of making a "straight out fight" for the presidential nomination, but he declared with emphasis that he will not be drawn into a personal controversy with President Taft.

This forenoon Colonel Roosevelt had a talk with Professor Barrett Wendell, Brooks Adams and a few other literary men. At noon he attended a meeting of the board of overseers of Harvard college. Later he had lunch with some of the progressives and left for New York on the 3 o'clock train.

TRIP THRO EUROPE

the realization of her dream be in no way disappointed. The Cook company stands in a class by itself as a tourist agency, and is able to give many delightful conveniences which could be procured by no other company. Its itinerary, as heretofore announced in the Daily Press, is comprehensive and complete, embracing practically every city and country in the old world which appeals most strongly to the feminine mind. England, France, Germany, Holland, Belgium and Switzerland are the countries which will be visited, all the principal cities in these countries being included.

Once more the Daily Press management wishes to state that everything connected with the contest is absolutely fair and aboveboard, and when we say that every vote is filed and open for inspection it does not seem that there is any room for an argument. In any affair of this magnitude there are bound to be those who will get out their hammers and start to knock, but if there is any knocking to be done, come to this office and knock on the contest manager's door. If he is not able to convince the most skeptical that everything is fair and square and that there are no favorites, there is a free trip to Europe in store for every candidate on the list.

The time for every contestant to get into action is here. Do not hesitate any longer, but start today in the quest for votes, and if the right spirit is manifested you will be sure to be there at the finish. No one has a lead which may not be easily overcome, so the best plan is to get busy and overcome the lead of those who are ahead. Subscription blanks and other literature may be had at any time upon application to the contest manager, and the office will be open every night from 7:30 until 9:00 for the convenience of contestants.

WHY I AM FOR ROOSEVELT

By EX-GOV.
JOHN FRANKLIN FORT

(Reprinted from World's Work for March.)

You ask me to give a statement of reasons why Mr. Roosevelt should be nominated."

The first reason arises out of the political conditions of the time. Both the great parties are divided into factions which are strongly opposed to each other as the parties themselves are to one another. Socialism only, which made great strides in the last election, is united. The only man who can get practically all the support of all factions in the Republican party is Mr. Roosevelt. He is sufficiently progresive to stand for the things which make for progress, and is sufficiently conservative to conserve existing interests which are right while advancing in popular governmental policies. He believes in conservation in the sense that Dr. Hibben, the new president of Princeton, defined it, namely: "progress without the loss of essential values."

No other man can mould the thought of our public life as he. There is no one else whom the people follow so gladly and in whom they believe so intensely. They believe he is sincerely their friend and that he wishes the government to be conducted solely on lines which will give to all an equal chance in the hard struggle for existence. They know that no man who asks a fish will be given a stone if he can help it. They believe that he first attempted to check conditions to which, rightly or wrongly, the masses of our people are opposed. They believe that he stood, as President, for industrial honesty; for the elimination of watered stock and worthless securities; for the principle that only that which has value should be sold; for the same treatment for the man who works for his daily bread and gets his wages by the sweat of his brow as for the man who capitalizes the output which that labor produces; for honest corporate management; for just laws for the factory operative, the railway employee, the mine worker, the lumber-jack and the mill-hand; that he thinks as much of them and their interests as he does of their employers; in a word, favors the "square deal" for every one.

Others may be as capable of doing this as Mr. Roosevelt, but the people do not believe it, certainly do not know it. They have tried him, and these are times when the average man feels that he does not want to take any chances. These are days when there is a feeling abroad that every man does not have an equal chance. It may not be true, but it is believed, and the people do not care to experiment. They want to be sure that the President of this nation is a man in whose justice and fairness of purpose they have an abiding faith, that whatever arises, every man wil be treated equally, get just what is coming to him—no more and no less.

These things relate to our domestic conditions. Our foreign policy needs him. He knows the nations of this earth and their rulers as no other man does. He is democratic to the core. He is in sympathy with all peoples striving for Republican government. He will stand for American ideals, for the spread of our commerce, for restoring our flag on the seas as of old, so that Americans will not be humiliated by not seeing it on more than a half dozen craft of any kind, at any point, in the fifteen thousands miles of ocean highway between the Strait of Gibraltar and the Golden Gate. He would put it in South America or in the Orient, or have it fly in the ports of the world.

Our diplomacy needs him. It needs him badly. The Persian incident has humiliated an American without word of protest so far as the people know. China is struggling for freedom from the corrupt Manchu dynasty. Her appeal to the greatest Republic on earth gets no word, even of sympathy, in answer to her Macedonian cry. Not intervention, not recognition, for the time neither of these may be proper; but why not an expression of our belief in a Republican form of government and our sympathy for those struggling for it? Do we not believe in our own principles? Is it to go out that our sympathies are with those who would throttle our form of government if they could? If we cannot do anything to help, is it necessary for us to give countenance to the diplomatic acts of those we know, to a moral certainty, only seek to divide a nation among themselves?

It is safe to say that Mr. Roosevelt holds no such views of this Republic or its duty. The nations of the earth concede us to be a world power. Mr. Roosevelt will give us our rightful place and rightful influence at the council table of the nations of the world.

He could settle the tariff problems on equitable and just lines. It is generally believed that he wrote or suggested the tariff plank in the platform of the Republican party adopted in 1908. He would keep it. He would make no makeshift legislation which would keep that promise in letter but break it in fact.

The man who toils for what he gets believes that he is paying more for his clothes, food, and all the necessities of life than he should because of unfair legislation. He wants that corrected, and he believes Mr. Roosevelt would do it.

The Trust problem is as far, if not farther from settlement than ever it has been. There is no definate and effective policy. The decrees of the courts have not, in public belief—and all thoughtful men agree with it — done anything to correct any evil that existed. What have they changed? Possibly conditions cannot be corrected. To admit this is to reflect on the government. But has any one suggested a remedy that can be really considered an enforceable one?

Mr. Roosevelt's article in the Outlook, only a few weeks ago, was like a clarifying chemical poured into dark water. It cleared the situation —control, government regulation, supervisory power; in a word, full publicity of everything, and official restraint from doing that which is wrong. He stood for that until he left office four years ago. He stands for it now. The Congress is ready now to enact it. Elect him, and it will. He never did an act that harmed honest business or honest business methods. He never will. Methods are unimportant. Results and confidence are what are needed. No other man can so surely give both. His policy as to conservation had popular approval. The people believe it has been abandoned, at least in part, and they wish him to reaffirm and re-establish it. They wanted to re-elect him in 1908. They see now they were right then and that he was wrong. They wish to do now what they were not permitted an opportunity to do then. He has had but one term. True, he filled out part of the term of Mr. McKinley, but during that interim continued McKinley's policies literally. He did not attempt to make that period any part of his administration. He made it McKinley's as no other vice-president coming to the presidency under like conditions ever did.

He had but a single term of his own. The policy of his one term was so good and its results have been so far-reaching, that the people are demanding another like it. Time has changed the views of many. Many of those who felt uncertain about some of Mr. Roosevelt's policies from 1904 to 1908 have since realized how wise and beneficial to the people they havebeen. Time has developed them. It is not every man who has the far-sightedness to see the end from the beginning. He has always been right. He is right now.

He is a devout man, a godly man of godly purpose, whose life and utterances give expression to his belief in an over-ruling divinity in all things whether personal or national. He has stood for spiritual uplift during his whole private and public life, and the people want a further application of his homely religious principles in our governmental affairs and civic and business relations.

He should be called again, for a second term, after four years of private citizenship which have helped his point of view, in order that he may:

1. Conclude the work of industrial honesty and establish a wise, firm policy for its regulation, on a flexible basis which will protect the public from exploitation and assure the rights of all.

2. Re-establish our commerce on the high seas at this time, when our financiers, manufacturers, merchants and wage-workers need the markets of the world.

3. Finish our foreign policy and affairs on a basis that all nations will respect and that will give vitality to our affirmation of our belief in a Republican form or government and of our sympathy with all people seeking to establish free government everywhere.

5. Assist in revising our obsolete shipping laws and put our flag on the high seas that our commerce may be carried in American bottoms.

6. Stop discontent and unrest among our people politically and otherwise and restore confidence to commerce.

7. Bring back to power a united Republican party animated by justice and Lincolnian principles of government, founded upon the will of the people and the promotion of popular rights.

In Mr. Roosevelt, the American people believe, are to be found elements representing the blood and iron of Bismarck, and the intellectuality and statesmanship of Gladstone, coupled with the great heart and sympathetic spirit of Abraham Lincoln. He is the one accepted, unique idol of the people. They see in him typified the true representative American, and they will rally to his support as to none other, and give us once again a united, enthusiastic and victorious party.

These are the reasons why Mr. Roosevelt should be nominated and elected, with or without his consent, in this year of grace nineteen hundred and twelve.

FRANCE IS IMPATIENT.

Seeks Quicker Action in Morocco Negotiations.

Madrid, Feb. 28.—Reports received from Paris state that France is impatient at the slowness of the Franco-Spanish negotiations in regard to Morocco. Unless an agreement is arrived at shortly France will be compelled to organize the administration of the new protectorate and appoint a resident general before the agreement has been concluded.

TAKES HIS PLACE ON DISTRICT BENCH

Walter L. Hetfield Formally Seated as Judge of the Plainfield Court.

LARGE FLORAL HORSESHOE

Sent By Local Lawyers, Who Attend Court In Force to Honor New Jurist—Speeches By Outgoing and Incoming Judges.

Walter L. Hetfield was formally seated as Judge of the Plainfield District Court this morning, succeeding Judge William Newcorn whose term has expired. In assuming the bench Judge Hetfield made a brief speech, following one delivered by Judge Newcorn.

Members of the Plainfield Bar Association presented the incoming jurist with a large floral horseshoe. He was also presented with bouquets and a baskets of flowers from a number of friends, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hood and former Councilman V. L. Frazee.

Nearly all the lawyers of the city and borough were present in court this morning and prior to the opening held a short informal meeting. Judge Newcorn remained on the bench beside Judge Hetfield during the trial of a number of cases.

In pronouncing his valedictory, Judge Newcorn thanked the members of the bar for the uniform courtesy extended the court and expressed his appreciation of the good feeling which at all times had been evident. It was a matter of personal gratification, he said, that Governor Wilson in his wisdom had seen fit to appoint Mr. Hetfield whom he felt would at all times discharge the duties of the office with fairness and impartiality.

Judge Hetfield's salutatory was brief. After thanking the members of the bar for the floral tribute, he said he hoped that during his administration, the same kindly feelings that had marked the relations between his predecessor and the lawyers would continue.

The position was taken with full realization of its responsibilities, Judge Hetfield said, and it was his ambition to hand the office over to his successor when the time arrived, with the consciousness that he had exercised its functions to the full letter of the law. He thanked Judge Newcorn for his expression of confidence and complimented the retiring jurist for the able administration of the court during his term.

STATE BOARD WILL HOLD SEWER HEARING MARCH 5

Mayor G. W. V. Moy received word today from the State Board of Health that it had fixed Tuesday, March 5, as the new date for the hearing on Plainfield's plans for a new sewage disposal site on the Darling farm in Piscataway township. The hearing was set over from February 27.

The special committee from the Borough Council appeared before the State Board of Health yesterday and presented plans for a sewage disposal works to be located on the Zvolneck farm, the first one considered in the present sewer agitation. A hearing on this proposition will be granted soon by the State board. Just why the borough plans to return to the Zvolneck farm, after being so strongly in favor of the Cramer farm as a site, has not been explained. As yet the borough has not signified any intention of joining with Plainfield in going to the Darling farm.

"Third Floor Back."

Edward A. Mead, of New York, will give a recital at the First Baptist church tonight under the auspices of the Men's Conference Bible class. He will recite in monologue from that famous and popular play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," in which Forbes Robertson scored such a success. Mr. Mead gave this recital before the Ministers Association, of New York, a few days ago, and it was considered both entertaining and remarkable. Mr. Mead also gave the recital at Trinity church, Cranford, last week.

Special Lenten Sermons

Begining Sunday night and continuing for five consecutive Sunday nights, Rev Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preach a series of special sermons on the general topic, "The Lord's Second Coming." The themes will be as folows: March 3, Will He Come?" 10, "Signs of His Coming;" 17, "How Will He Come?" 24, "When and for Whom Will He Come;" 31, "The Value of His Coming."

Reason Why Walter, Jr., Smiles.

MAY HAVE STREET CUT FOR NEW SCHOOL SITE

Councilmanic Committee to Consider Suggestion For Solution of Southeast's Problem --Estimated Cost Something of a Facer.

The latest move on the part of the Board of Education in its effort to secure a site for a new school in the southeastern part of the city is the suggestion that the city extend Third place through the lowlands of a portion of the Martine tract so that a building can be erected there.

This has been suggested to the councilmanic street and sewer committee and will be considered at a meeting of the committee tonight. There is opposition to the proposed improvement on the ground that it would cost the city about $10,000, and some of the councilmen are of the opinion that it is too much money to expend to make possible the erection of a school.

The section was visited this morning by Councilman Fred Andress, City Treasurer W. F. Arnold and a member of the Board of Education, with a view to learning the exact conditions. Another site on Kensington avenue has also been suggested, and still another suggestion is that the new school be located in the vicinity of Randolph road and Woodland avenue.

The Board of Education in choosing a site is compelled to get one where sewer connection is possible, and this fact has been somewhat of a drawback in making a selection. It is likely that a represenative of the Board of Education will attend tonight's meeting of the street and sewer committee and discuss the question of making the proposed improvement.

KILLED ON TRACK WHILE ON WAY TO PLAINFIELD

Jacob Ludwig, aged 38 years, of Newark, a prominent manufacturer of automobiles and carriages, was killed this morning on the Lehigh Valley Railroad just west of Elizabeth, while driving his automobile from Newark to Plainfield. Mr. Ludwig, according to eyewitnesses seemed to lose control of his machine at the point of the accident, the auto making a sudden turn and crashing through the gates protecting a railroad crossing, just as an eastbound local came along.

The automobile was completely wrecked and the owner instantly killed. There was a physician on the train and he gave first aid but quickly discovered that the man was beyond hope. An ambulance was summoned from the General Hospital, Elizabeth, and the dead man was removed to the morgue in that city.

Mr. Ludwig resided at 22 Osborne Terrace, Newark, and in addition to being prominent in the auto and carriage trade, was especially active in church work. He was a member of several lodges in Newark.

ENDEAVORERS OF 7TH DAY BAPTIST CHURCH ENTERTAIN

"A Perplexing Situation," was the title of an amusing sketch given at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, last night, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. During the scenes there was an informal program of music and recitations.

Those who presented the sketch were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Davis, Frank Langworthy, Miss Helen Ford Miss Maudella Ford, Miss Helen Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, Roy Titsworth, Raymond Burdick, Theodore Davis, Miss Anna Stillman and Miss Mildred Greene.

Roy Titsworth recited Watterson's essay on "Lincoln," which won the $10 prize at the Plainfield High School Alumni Association speaking contest, and he also sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. William C. Hubbard. There were violin solos by Mrs. Violet Truell-Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard. During a social hour which followed ice cream and cake was served. Miss Ethel Titsworth was chairman of the social committee in charge. The sum of $28 was received through the heart-shaped bags distributed among the Endeavorers and their friends.

Lecture on "The Philippines."

ELIZABETH FIRM TO BUILD BONNIE BURN POWER HOUSE

Bids were received by the Union County Board of Freeholders, yesterday, for the construction of a power house at "Bonnie Burn" Sanitorium, and the M. Byrnes Company of Elizabeth, the lowest bidder, recieved the contract. The company's bid was $23,685. The other bids follow: Charles Ellenbacher, Elizabeth, $29,300; Alexander Milne, Plainfield, $26,501.04; Metzger & Wells, Philadelphia, $24,450. The work at the sanitorium is progressing satisfactorily and the freeholders believe that possession will be possible by June 1.

BOROUGH RUNAWAY TEAM RUNS INTO TROLLEY POLE

A team of horses belonging to Peter Fatouras, a fruit peddler, and attacked to his wagon, ran away from in front of Conroy's blacksmith shop on Somerset street yesterday afternoon. They were thrown by colliding with a trolley pole at Jackson avenue and were easily caught.

The wagon pole was broken and a wheel smashed, but the horses were uninjured.

The society will hold a St. Patrick's Day social at the home of Mrs. Gifford Cooley, on Rockview avenue, March 22.

SUNDAY OPENING PETITION IN BORO

Grocers and Butchers to Receive an Appeal For Sabbath Forenoon Sales.

HINT OF IRONY DISCERNED

"Those Back of the Movement" Say Mayor Clark's Lenient Attitude Toward Other Borough Businesses Gave Them Their Cue.

A petition to the butchers and grocers of North Plainfield asking them to keep their stores open until noon on Sunday is being circulated among the borough citzens. The recent action of Mayor Clark in permitting a number of other places of business to remain open Sunday mornings is advanced by those back of the movement.

In securing signers the argument is advanced that as the warm weather approaches it would be a great convenience to the residents to have the roasts for their Sunday dinners come fresh from the butcher's ice box, or the vegetables, fruit, green goods and other perishable food stuffs, to be procured from the grocer at th etime they are wanted rather than to be purchased the previous day and kept over night.

The attitude of the merchants, to whom these petitions are to be presented differ widely as to how much recognition should be given the request. As a rule the grocers and butchers are glad to have the one day in the week to themselves, particularly as Saturday is a long hard day and the rest on Sunday is very acceptable. In reply to this argument the petitioners say that if the request is granted the two day's business hereto fore handled on Saturday would be divided, making the former day much easier.

POLICE WILL RIGOROUSLY ENFORCE LIGHTING LAW

The practice of riding bicycles or driving vehicles at night without the proper display of lights, has become so prevalent recently that the police have commenced an active crusade. Hereafter special vigilance will be maintained for the apprehension of offenders and punishment inflicted as provided by the city ordinance.

The attention of Mayor Moy has been called to the contempt many wheelmen and drivers have for the light ordinance, resulting in his issuing an order to the police. It has been stated that several accidents have occurred because of the absence of lights, while narrow escapes have been numerous. An enforcement will result in protection to those breaking the law as well as those observing it.

LAYWER FAINTS IN MIDST OF DISTRICT COURT TRIAL

George H. Haines, a Newark lawyer, was looking up the law on a disputed point during a trial in the District Court today when he sank to the floor in a faint. Martin B. Stutsman, who sat nearby, with the assistance of several others, carried him to the retiring room and administered first aid. Judge Hetfield adjourned court and the case went over.

After restoratives had been applied Mr. Haines regained consciousness and was taken to Mr. Stutsman's home. Late this afternoon he felt well enough to return to his home in Newark.

In a case tried by Alfred Cozzie, a colored lawyer, decision was reserved. Thomas Jones, of Newark, sued Charles Singer to recover commissions alleged to be due on work performed.

The Franklin Stone Co. was awarded a verdict against Joseph Manhattan for materials furnished.

GERMANY TO BE FEARED BY OUR MANUFACTURERS

W. L. Saunders Gives His Observations on American and European Wages and Efficiency--Effect of the Tariff.

Germany is the most formidable competitor of the United States in the manufacture of machinery declares William L. Saunders, D. Sc., of North Plainfield, in an article in this week's issue of The Iron Age, which is out this afternoon. Mr. Saunders gives its readers the benefit of the fund of knowledge he obtained while making a five months' trip around the world. His observations are from a machinery manufacturer's viewpoint and the president of the Ingersoll-Rand Drill Company gives his particular attention to American and European wages and efficiency.

The Iron Age article follows:

Any one who travels for the first time over new fields with his mind free and his interest centered upon business conditions in manufacturing is a very poor judge of things; but a man who goes over beaten tracks from time to time with the same ends in view and with experiences to steer him should be competent to draw comparisons and to reach conclusions with some degree of accuracy and value.

The manufacturing world is not large and that part of it which makes machinery is a comparatively limited held. The land of this world is more largely given up to agriculture than to any other purpose. Farming does not concentrate population or build up large cities. The products of the soil are greater in value than anything else that is produced, not only because the people are fed, but through the income derived from nature's products. Railroads are mostly made possible and profitable through agricultural conditions. The same may be said of shipping and of a great many other forms of business which add to the wealth and prosperity of the people. But next in importance to agriculture in every country is the development of its manufactures.

Manufacturing Centres Not Built on Cheap Labor.

In looking for causes which have produced great manufacturing centers two things stand out prominently, favorable natural conditions and markets. A plentiful supply or crude labor is not a condition of such great importance as is popularly supposed, because where there is an abundance of labor and where it is cheap the best and most productive manufacturing does not exist. Take, for instance, China and Japan. All have a plentiful supply of cheap and

HONOR MEMORY OF A GOOD MAN

Tribute to Late Leander N. Lovell at Crescent Avenue Church.

PASTOR'S HEARTFELT EULOGY

Influence of a Potent Life Is Eloquently Recalled By Men Who Felt Its Force In Their Church and Civic Life.

Paying a tribute to the memory of the late Leander N. Lovell as a man, a citizen and a church member, fully five hundred people gathered at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last night. The memorial service was held in connection with the regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting, and those who spoke of Mr. Lovell and his work were the minister, Rev. Dr. John Sheridan Zelie, John Leal, Dr. Ellis W. Hodges and W. D. Murray.

In his remarks, Dr. Zelie said that he wished to speak of Mr. Lovell in the relationship in which everyone there present stood, that of a member of the Christian church. "What that relationship may come to be in a human life I have never seen more splendidly manifest than in the life of Mr. Lovell," said the sepaker. "In this day, when the value of this relationship so fluctuates in men's thoughts when the great vows are so lastily held in light esteem, the heart of every member of this church the hearts of all of us, have been strengthened by the consecrated steadfast way in which he fulfilled, through a long life, and to the very end, the relationship to which he committed himself years ago.

"When I think of Mr. Lovell it is always the Church of Christ which comes into view. I knew that he was associated with many other great interests that he held offices of great responsibility and honor elsewhere, but it always seemed to me that the church received from him the very highest affection and the best of his service. In all things he has been as it were a conscience to us. In every direction the standard of church life has been raised by his faithful influence. In our enterprises his courage and faith have made them seem more possible. We could not think of this church without thinking of him.

"He won as great a Christian influence. It came to him simply as the result of a great faith which worked out through all the ordinary duties and opportunities of life. As was just recently said of that great theologian Dr. Fairbairn, we may say of Mr. Lovell: 'He knew that

MESDAMES TITSWORTH GIVE TEA AND RECEPTION

Mrs David E. Titsworth and Mrs. Charles Potter Titsworth, of Madison avenue, gave a tea and reception yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Agnes Babcock, of Leonardsville, N. Y., sister of Mrs. Charles Potter Titsworth, who is visiting here for a few weeks.

The home was simply, but attractively decorated for the affair.

There were about forty guests and all thoroughly enjoyed the informal socialbility which was which was a marked feature.

During the afternoon there was an informal program of music, which added to the pleasure of the guests.

JUDGE AND MRS. NEWCORN ENTERTAINED AT WHIST

Judge and Mrs. Wiliam Newcorn, of West Front street, entertained a company of friends at their home, last night, whist being the feature. There were three tables in play.

Mrs. Adolph Tepper received the first prize for the women, and William Mendelssohn, of New York, the first prize for the men. The rest of the evening was devoted to vocal and instrumental music and dancing. Supper was served.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Tepper, Mr. and Mrs. Max Tepper, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schuldenfrei, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. William Mendelssohn, of New York city.

In the Borough Court.

DISBURSEMENT OF BIG FUND BEGUN

Hospital Heads Order Floating Indebtedness Paid With Contributions in Hand.

STEP TOWARD NEW WARD

Committee on Construction of Children's Department to Be Appointed—Board Thanks Public and Records Sense of Responsibility.

Echoes of the big fund campaign, which ended February 21, with $132,000 pledged to the Hospital, were heard at the March meeting of the Muhlenberg Board of Governors last night. The meeting was largely attended.

Following reports from the Campaign Executive Committee regarding subscriptions obtained during the campaign, the governors authorized the immediate paying off of the floating debt out of the proceeds of cash already received by the campaign fund.

The appointment of a building committee was also authorized to consider plans for the new children's ward.

Resolutions were adopted thanking the public and the campaign workers for the splendid response to the hospital's appeal, and expressing the governors' sense of the responsibility imposed.

In part the resolutions were as follows:

"Whereas, The Board of Governors are deeply sensible of their responsibility and obligation to see that the people's money is carefully and judiciously expended.

"Now, therefore be it Resolved, That the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital do hereby express to the citizens their deep appreciation and thanks for the self-sacrificing devotion of the workers and well wishers of the Hospital, and for the most generous gifts of the contributors to the fund; and they do further express their intention to use the funds so contributed conservatively and wisely.

"Be it further Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting and a copy thereof sent to each of the newspapers in the city of Plainfield."

MAYOR ORDERS POLICE TO STOP YOUTHS LOAFING

Responding to written and verbal complaints lodged with him by prominent citizens, Mayor George W. V. Moy today took the preliminary steps to put an end to the practice young men make of loitering in the business section Sundays, and incidentally making a general nuisance of themselves. Scores of them have been in the habit of congregating in the store entrances and trying to outdo each other insulting passersby or catawauling back and forth across the thoroughfares. West Front street between Park and Madison avenues, between Park and Madison avenues, of the rowdies a gauntlet being formed for respectable persons to run all along the block. The Sunday evening churchgoers have been particularly incensed at the humiliation to which they have been subjected.

In taking up the matter officially, Mayor Moy has issued instructions to the police to absolutely prohibit the practice. Hereafter no one will be allowed to loiter in the hallways and entrances on the Sabbath and those disturbing the quietude of the day by yells and hoots will be summarily dealt with. The complaints came from widely different sources, but in each instance they specified the same sort of hoodlumism.

BEGINS LECTURE SERIES ON STORIED PALESTINE

The first of a series of illustrated lectures on "Palestine," by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, was given at the church, last night, before a large audience. The lectures are designed to give "a better appreciation of a country from which issued a unique literature of universal appeal to human life and action." The views are furnished by Underwood & Underwood, and being originals are unusually fine.

The topic of last night's lecture was "From Hermon to the Sea," the views picturing the valley of the Jordan from Mt. Hermon to the Dead Sea, together with the historical and Scriptural references identified with the various localities. The rector spoke of the location and tracing of the sources of the Jordan river from Mt. Hermon to the sea at Galilee.

The lecture on Wednesday night, March 6, will be on the subject, "Round About the Sea of Galilee," and will include a walk around the shores of Galilee and search for marks which call up memories of Jesus. The other lectures will be given on Wednesday evenings, March 13 and 20.

MANY LAWYERS AT FUNERAL OF THEODORE B. BOORAEM.

New Brunswick, Feb. 29.—The funeral of Theodore B. Booraem, late prosecutor of the county at his residence, on Clifton avenue, yesterday, was very quiet and simple, though very largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased.

There was a large representation of the Bar Association of this county, as well as lawyers from outside the city, with whom Mr. Booraem had been intimately associated.

The service was conducted by Rev. John A. Ingham, of the Second Reformed church, of which Mr. Booraem was a member. A quartet of student members of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity of Rutgers, to which Mr. Booraem belonged, sang.

LENTEN MISSIONARY SERIES AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH BEGUN

The first of a series of Lenten missionary meetings, conducted by Mrs. E. F. Feickert, was held in the parish house of Grace church, Tuesday afternoon. The general topic was "The People of Our Own Race at Home and Abroad." Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard read a paper on "The Snow Trails of Alaska," while Miss Egan gave a review of "The Church's Mission to the Mountaineers of the South," taking the place of Mrs. E. Vicars Stevenson.

There was also a paper on "Our Own in Foreign Lands," by Mrs. C. L. Sykes. The current topic was "Women Workers in the South and Alaska." The second meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon, March 5, when "The Black Man and the Red Man" will be considered. There will be papers by Mrs. Allan Cowperthwait, Mrs. A. E. Barclay and Mrs. S. K. Monroe.

GERMANY TO BE FEARED

intelligent labor, which through proper training might be made to produce iron and steel products, for example, equal to the English, American and German products. Yet no such results have been derived, and the reason usually given is lack of capital. It is not the true reason, because if it were true that to cut labor in two would save money and add to profits in any line capital would flow in that direction. Capital for manufacturing usually concentrates itself as near as possible to the markets where each particular product is consumed; and the very fact that it does so concentrate itself means so great an enlargement of these markets, through increased population and prosperity that new fields are not sought.

Efficient Labor the Basis of Success.

In mechanical things, at least, skilled labor is the esential basis of success in manufacture. The first and largest item on the cost sheet is the item of labor, and the maker who thinks that because this is true he should turn to a country where labor is cheap will surely court disaster. Efficiency of labor and the best tools are the requisite to supremacy in any line. Efficient labor comes through the work of a life time and cannot be made in a day. It is furthermore plain to those with the world's experience before them that just in proportion as labor becomes more efficient and as tools become more productive does the price of labor go up, and this is the chief thought which has impressed me during a recent trip around the world.

England was up to recent years in advance of any other country in mechanical manufacturing. The United States with higher labor and Germany with lower labor have both made considerable headway against her. In the case of the United States cause labor was higher, but in spite of it and because of other conditions the headway has not been made be- which have compensated for higher labor. In Germany the progress has not been because of lower labor, but through the spirit of her people, coupled with good engineering and business energy and push, equal to that of the United States—if not greater.

Higher British and German Labor Costs.

It is worthy of notice that while the price of mechanical labor in the United States has stood comparatively still, or has had but a moderate advance during say, the last 20 years, the price of similar labor in Germany and England has increased at least 100 per cent. Mechanical labor in Germany, which is today one-half that of the United States, was but one-quarter 20 years ago.

It is usual to attribute this to the growing strength of labor unions, and it must not be forgotten that labor unions have added materially to the strength of labor in the countries mentioned. But labor unions are only strong where they are able to exercise at least some control over the situation, by limiting the supply, by legislation or otherwise. In a country like Japan, for instance, labor is so plentiful, both male and female, that the efforts of unions to control are made hopeless. A manufacturer there who might be disposed to rebel against labor union requirements would draw from the large outside held and cultivate new men rather than submit.

Japan's Low Priced and Inefficient Labor.

In such large plants as the Imperial Steel Works of Japan mechanical labor costs about 30 cents a day for men and 15 cents for women. Women in Japan in many cases replace the men, except where heavy work is required. In a copper smelter in Japan I saw a young girl handling the levers by which the transportation cars are shifted. For this she received 10 cents per day. The man who lifted the metal from the car was receiving 20 per day. Yet it is a fact that notwithstanding these astonishingly favorable conditions, so far as labor is concerned, the Imperial Steel Works, for instance, do not pay, though the product is equal to that produced anywhere else. One naturally looks for a reason for this, because the steel works are located at tidewater and transportation in ships is not expensive. The conclusion is inevitable that this labor per unit is of very low efficiency and that it cannot be made efficient except through long years of experience and with markets sufficient to warrant a large product in each form of finished material. Here we come to the revelation of the true reason of American progress in these lines. Our markets are so close and so fruitful that the single high-priced man working on a single thing each day gets the labor unit of cost down and this fact has enabled American manufacturers to compete in foreign fields.

We must not, however, lose sight of the gradual and pronounced increase in the cost of labor in foreign manufacturing countries. Should Japan, for instance, ever reach prominence in her steel manufacturing we may rest assured that at that time her labor prices will be increased several hundred per cent.

Germany a Competitor to Be Feared.

Japan is not a manufacturing country and is not likely to be within the life time of those who may be interested in this subject. So the practical question to consider is, which country is it that threatens English and American supremacy; and in considering this let us look into the reasons. The answer is plainly, Germany. The Germans are natural mechanics. They are intelligent, resourceful and they work like beavers. Their intelligence is initiative and inventive. They are inventive not only to the extent of originating things, but they have the greater faculty, from the commerical standpoint, of taking advantage of things which may have originated elsewhere, improving them, perfecting them and making the best possible use of them.

There is nothing altrustic or sentimental about the German manufacturer. He goes for the thing that is best and he studies the best and cheapest way to produce it. The German mechanical engineer is equal if not superior to any one working in the same field. He is a student of detail. He takes nothing for granted; he finds out what has been done elsewhere, how far it goes, and he studiously and on practical lines seeks ways and means by which to go one step further. Take the steam engine, for instance, which we are accustomed to look upon as an American product. It was invented in England, but the invention of anything mechanical is only the first step toward success. Watt, Newcommen, Cdrliss and others carried the engine through succesive steps of higher efficiency until we in America practically laid down on the Corliss, thinking we had reached the limit of efficiency for the reciprocating type of machine. The Germans did not stop; and it is fact which can hardly be disputed that today the reciprocating engine has reached a higher stage in Germany than anywhere else in the world. Through the use of poppet valves, steam heating and by greater attention to details the Germans are offering and proving by tests reciprocating engines at an efficiency of about two pounds of steam per i. h. p. better than American or English manufacturers. I do not refer to the Diesel and other special types of reciprocating engines but to the regular steam engine, which, notwithstanding the turbine and other means of producing horsepower from steam, still holds its place in the largest field and with the highest efficiency under general conditions of service.

German Wages and Efficiency Both Raising.

The steam engine is only used to illustrate the point, which is that German growth, which might almost be said to be supremacy in certain mechanical fields, is not due alone to German cheap labor. At the present time German labor is cheaper, but it is going up faster than the labor of England or America and its unit of efficiency grows in the same proportion as the price increases. German manufacturers are located under favorable conditions for material and markets; they have plenty of iron, coal and limestone at their doors, and large shipping, with markets extending throughout Europe, Asia and South America. The product is on a large scale in those lines where experience has been extensive, and they have the brains, the push and the money to reach other and even competitive countries.

Tariff Applications.

This brings us to the all-important question of tariff. The American tariff has heretofore been prohibitive. Shall we now take down the bars and admit German products, which will surely come? Are American manufacturers in mechanical lines ready to meet this competition on practically equal terms? Have they had time enough to prepare for it and it is their fault if they are not ready?

In the first place, every fair man will acknowledge that if we are to remove the mountains we should begin on grains of sand and that whether we are protectionists or free traders a condition exists and has existed for a large period of years which has materially aided the building up of American industries. That condition is one of high protection. All plans have been made under it. The wheels of our works have been turned to it and the avenues are paved for it; so that whether we are ready or not no concern should be put to the test of a sudden and radical change in well-established conditions of business. Time should be given to prepare for the assaults of a business enemy, and justice in this line can only be done by taking down the bars one at a time, with sufficient time in between to safeguard the property of the people and to maintain the stability of our industrial conditions. True protection is that which protects those industries only that require it and without providing the opportunity for monopoly abuses.

BILL PERMITS SHERIFFS TO CUT TOMBSTONES OFF

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 29 (Special—With just the required number of votes, the House yesterday passed Assemblyman Gill's bill which will allow dealers to place a lien on monuments, headstones and cemetery structures when such are not paid for. Thirty-one votes were cast in favor of it and 13 against it. The introducer expained that there might be some sentiment against the measure but that he had considered it carefully and approved of it as a business proposition.

He asserted that the bill was desired by the State Monument Association.

Mr. Prout thought the undertaker and dealer in shrouds should be included and spoke ironically generally on the bill, saying that sentiment prompted him.

—There are now fifty-five patients under treatment at Muhlenberg, the largest number in many months.

PERSONAL.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will have aniniation at its meeting tonight.

Miss Jessie Perrine, of Newark, is spending a few days at the home of the Misses Muir, of Grant avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Murray, of Madison avenue, returned today after a three weeks' stay at Atlantic City.

Miss Margaret Holly, who underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital a few days ago, is reported to be improving.

Miss Olive L. Schriebwels, of East Sixth street, has returned to her duties with the Nursing Bureau after two months' illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ellis, of West Fourth street, are the happy parents of a seven-and-a-half pound girl, who came to their home Monday.

Miss Lela Mickel and her brother, Clifford Mickel, of San Francisco, Cal., are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Eugene A. Gross, of Truell Court.

Mrs. Wilbur H. Rogers, of West Seventh street, is confined to her room by a threatened attack of pneumonia. A nurse is constantly in attendance. Mr. Rogers, who had his right arm broken in two places by a back kick, while cranking his automobile, was able to resume business this week.

MOTOR LEGISLATION HANGING IN BALANCE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Feb. 29.—The fate of the Stickel automobile reciprocity bill, which was reported out of committee yesterday by Senator Colgate, after some amendments had been made, is still hanging in the balance. The amendments provide a 50 per cent. increase in fees and increase the fee on trucks of more than two tons by making a flat $10 rate. Although this meets the objection of some of the Senators, who said that the automobilists should pay a greater share than they now pay to maintain the State roads, there are still other objections to be met.

A number of the legislators have declared themselves against reciprocity because it abolishes the power of attorney. They contend that this is a safeguard to the pedestrian and should not be abolished. The supporters of the bill say that if the bill provided for the power of attorney it would not be a reciprocal measure, because no State in the Union that boasts of reciprocity has that provision.

Along the southern and western part of the State objection is made to the bill because it will enable residents of Pennsylvania to use the good roads of New Jersey, whereas the people in this State cannot make use of the Pennsylvania roads because of their poor condition.

It is believed that considerable difficulty will be experienced when the bill comes up on final passage next week. Senator Colgate, who believes in the measure, is hopeful of its passage and declares that it will be adopted by the upper house.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"Maggie Pepper" which comes to the Plainfield Theatre Monday, March 4, was written for Miss Stahl by Charles Klein, and he entitles it a department store romance. These organizations in which may be obtained all sorts of goods have become little communitiecs in themselves and the little world in which their people live is one of great interest. Mr. Klein has told the story of "Maggie Pepper" in the audience from first to last.

It is the big human note that Rose Stahl puts into her playing which wins the sympathy and approval of her audiences. That was demonstrated in "The Chorus Lady" and even more specifically in "Maggie Pepper." Charles Klein's play of department store life in which Henry B. Harris will present Miss Stahl at the Plainfield Theatre, Saturday, March 4. Her "Maggie Pepper" is a very interesting study of the sort of girl who comes out of a department store life, for this one began as a cash girl and when the play opens she has advanced through merit to the post of assistant buyer in the department she works.

PUBLIC HEARING FOR LOCAL OPTION MEASURE.

Trenton, Feb. 28, (Special).—By a surprising turn of affairs in the Senate yesterday afternoon the local optionists got a favorable vote for a hearing on their bill, after the holding of a hearing had been prevented last week by the unexpected reporting of the bill the day after it was introduced. The friends of the bill got more than they wanted, for the Senate, by the vote of 14 to 2, decided to have the hearing before the entire body as a committee of the whole.

The vote was as follows: Favoring the hearing—Colgate, Davis, Edge, Fielder, Gebhardt, Hand, Johnson, Leavitt, Lewis, Low, Nichols, Pierce, Slocum and Smalley. Against—Read, Silzer. Absent—Barber, Fitzherbert, Gaunt, Price. Not voting—Prince.

PENNSYLVANIA ECHO OF CALIFON BANK BREAK.

Califon, Feb. 29. — Word was received here yesterday from W. M. Calvert, United States Postal Inspector at Scranton, Pa., stating that James Reade, alias Waltham Jimmy, had been arested for a postoffice burglary at Sailesburg, Pa. Mr. Calvert asked for infomation to present to the court relative to the attempted burglary on the Califon National Bank February 21, 1909.

The local bank was atacked by three men. The safe door was blown through partitions and into the street. The explosions aroused the citizens, who frightened the burglars away before they got to the strong box. Through the American Bankers' Association Waltham Jimmy was arrested in New York and identified as one having been seen in this vicinity at the timeof the attempted burglary. Becaue of technicalities Governor Hughes would not sign the extradition papers to bring him to New Jersey. When arrested in New York he gave his name as James Reade and said he was a coal miner of Scranton, Pa., The American Bankers' Association has been notified of his arrest and will look after the local bank's interests.

WOODMAN ASKS $10,000 FOR INITIATION HURTS.

Much interest on the part of Woodmen centres in the pending trial of suit instituted by John Albert Hetzel, of Bloomfield, against Camp 10262, Modern Woodmen of America, in which $10,000 damages are sought because of injuries Hetzel alleges he recievd in an initiation ceremony. The suit will probably come up for trial in the today Circuit Court.

The incident which forms the basis of the suit occured August 26, 1910, and followed application made by Hetzel for membership in the camp. At the command of officers of the lodge, Hetzel avers, he was put trough a series of "tortures" among which was the application to his body to a "slap-stick," on which was a thirty-eight caliber blank cartridge.

Bullet Lodged in Coat.

Summit, Feb. 29.—While at Maple street and Park avenue, Joseph Flynn of 5 Woodland anevnue heard a rifle report and the next instant felt a slight pain in hsi left shoulder. Flynn hurried to the police station, where an examination revealed that he had not been injured, but a twenty-two caliber rifle bullet was found lodged in the padding of the left sleeve of his overcoat. The police learned that the shot was fired accidentally by Raymond Obrig, seventeen-year-old son of Theodore Obrig, of Oak Ridge avenue.

PRIEST INNOCENT CAUSE OF FIGHT

Passaic Parishioners Mix Things In Street.

WOMEN JOIN FREE FOR ALL

When Those Who Attended Service Left Church They Found 800 Other Poles Outside and Two Crowds Mixed—Police Called and Disperse Mob.

Passaic, N. J., Feb. 29.—Bibles, prayer books, hats, collars and fragments of dresses and cloaks littered the street in front of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church in Passaic after 1,500 parishioners, most of them women, had finished clubbing each other and being clubbed by the police.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Julius Manteuffel, over whom the squabble started, escaped from the church to the rectory under guard while his parishioners were busy fighting one another and dodging the sticks of the police reserves.

The church is one of the biggest in the Newark diocese. It has about 9,000 parishioners, all Poles. Father Manteuffel was appointed pastor three weeks ago, and many of his congregation didn't like it. They thought that the proper successor to Father Valentine Chlebowski, who died six weeks ago, was one of his assistants, Father Stanislaus Kruzek. After Father Manteuffel, who is a German, was sent to them as pastor they protested without avail to Bishop O'Connor of the Newark diocese.

Father Manteuffel did not appear at services. He remained in the sacristy and sent an assistant priest to the sanctuary to preach the sermon. The service went on peacefully.

When the 700 parishioners who attended the service filed from the church, which is at Parker avenue and Monroe street, they found about 800 of their comrades, men and women, standing without. The two crowds merged. There were 1,500 Poles, and all but about 300 were women. There were shouts of "Where's the pastor? "Where's the pastor?" until Father Manteuffel appeared at the door of the sacristy, surrounded by his under priests and a guard of loyal parishioners. He started walking swiftly toward the rectory.

"The pastor had better leave the church for good or he'll be killed," an excited Pole shouted. Instantly several men who disagreed with him leaped at him and bore him to the ground. It was apparent at once that in the mob there was a minority strongly in favor of Father Manteuffel. Women hooted the priest as he moved toward the rectory, and other women leaped at them with eager fingers. Hair was pulled freely, and garments were torn.

The police arrived, and the crowd was driven several blocks from the church and scattered.

HEDGE INVOLVES TOWNSHIP.

It Is Out of Line, but So Are Scores of Others.

Edgewater Park, N. J., Feb. 29. The objections made to the hedge of Frederick Brooks on Park avenue, by other residents of this colony has acted as a boomerang. Some time ago Brooks tore down an old fence in front of his property and replaced it with a hedge. His neighbors insisted that he had placed it beyond his property line.

As a result the township committee ordered him to replace it on the original line or tear it down. Brooks got busy and learned that his neighbors had curbed in more ground than they were entitled to. The township committee has notified all the residents of the township that they must relay their property lines in conformity with the plans originally outlined.

LEGACIES TO CHARITY.

William Pennington Made Bequests to Institutions.

Paterson, N. J., Feb. 29.- The will of William Pennington, admitted to probate in the surrogate's office, includes legacies to charity and to education.

The Paterson General Hospital association, St. Joseph's hospital, Paterson Orphan asylum, Old Ladies' home of Paterson, Paterson Eye and Ear infirmary, Fanny Hobart Memorial Day nursery and St. Joseph's Orphan asylum are to receive $1,000 each. $2,500 is left to Yale university and the same sum to the Kingsley Trust association of New Haven, Conn. To his friend Dr. Henry Parke $3,000 was bequeathed and $1,000 to another friend, C. Frank Kircker. The rest of the estate, valued at $400,000, is left to two brothers.

Five Died In Auto—Fined $250.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 29.—Frederick Foster, the wealthy Trenton youth, driver of the ilfated auto which plunged into the canal at Brookville on the night of Jan. 13, causing the death of three girls and two young men, was fined $250 in Central police court for driving the auto without a license.

Another Knock at Cupid.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 29.—The state senate passed the bill prohibiting justices of the peace from performing marriages. The bill had already passed the house.

JUDGE W. J. POLLARD.

Whose Pledge Plan For "Topers" Is Adopted In Germany.

ADOPT POLLARD PLAN.

German States to Make "Topers" Take the Pledge.

St. Louis, Feb. 29.—Judge William Jefferson Pollard, who devised the Pollard pledge plan by which "topers" are released from police courts on taking the pledge to abstain from drinking for a specified time, has received word that the states of Lippe and Hessen and the city of Braunschweig, Germany, have officially adopted the system of dealing with inebriates.

Since his retirement from the bench of the police court here Judge Pollard has devoted much of his time to furthering his system of promoting temperance.

BOY A WOMAN'S AID.

Youth of Sixteen Admits Part In Brooklyn Burglaries.

New York, Feb. 29.—Mrs. Ida Kershaw, a good looking young blonde, was held for the grand jury in the Gates avenue court on a charge of burglary. With her was held on the same charge, James Stearns, a boy of sixteen, who, in a confession to the police and to Magistrate Hylan, accused the woman of having planned the burglary which he admits committing. He also accused her of having fed him morphine for several months past.

When the magistrate announced his action Mrs. Kershaw's sister, Mrs. Jessie Duryea, was seen passing a handkerchief to the woman under arrest. The police found that the handkerchief contained a large package of morphine, enough, a doctor said, to kill several men. It was confiscated.

An additional charge of forgery was made against Mrs. Kershaw by Mrs. Louisa Hillts of 784 Madison avenue. Mrs. Hillts used to board at the home of the Stearns boy's mother at 975 Gates avenue, and Mrs. Kershaw lived there at the same time. Mrs. Hillts accused Mrs. Kershaw of having taken her bankbook and forged a check for $[illegible].

The Stearns boy, when he was examined by the ambulance doctor who treated Mrs. Kershaw for hysterics in the police court this morning, was pronounced to be a victim of drugs. He was taught to use these, he says, by Mrs. Kershaw.

BURDENS LIFTED.

From Plainfield Backs—Relief Proved by a Lapse of Time.

Backache is a heavy burden;
Nervousness worries one out;
Rheumatic pains; urinary ills;
All are kidney troubles—
Daily effects of kidney weakness.
No use to cure the symptoms,
Relief is but temporary if the cause remains.
Cure the kidneys and you cure the cause.
Relief comes quickly—comes to stay.
Doan's Kidney Pills help the kidneys.
Here's proof that you can verify.

A. K. Mattis, 127 West Fourth street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I gave Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement five years ago after receiving a cure through their use, and today I confirm all I then said in their praise. My cure has been permanent." (Statement given January 20, 1911.

On August 28, 1905, Mr. Mattis said: "I was troubled for years by a dull backache and pains in my head. I believe that my trouble was due in a great measure to a bad fall I had. Nothing seemed to help me and when I read of the good work Doan's Kidney Pills were doing in similar cases, I got a supply at Randolph's Drug Store. Their use drove all the aches and pains and my experience gave proof of their merits."

THE MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

When a recent Legislature passed a bill compelling a non-resident of New Jersey to procure a license before a wedding ceremony could be performed, it rid the State of a scandalous condition for the law has almost put an end to the runaway marriage. Now a still stronger safeguard has been thrown around the sacred ceremony, the Legislature yesterday having sent to the Governor a bill prohibiting justices of the peace from performing the rite. And be it said to his credit, the Governor lost no time in affixing his signature to the measure.

The disgraceful situation was general throughout the State. Justices of the peace, many of them unfit to hold the office, made a practice of soliciting couples to be married by them. Some carried regular notices in the "personal" columns of such New York papers as will accept any sort of advertising and ask no questions. Down in Hudson county justices of the peace even employed "runners" to bring couples to them. The sordid and contemptible "squire," in fact, went to any length to get his hands on a few filthy earned dollars. In many instances no questions were asked and no attempt was made to find out whether there were any valid objections to the marriage.

Small wonder was it then, that the decent people of Hudson arose to protest against the condition and demanded that the justicees of the peace be prohibited from continuing to perform the marriage ceremony. The movement started there spread rapidly through the State, receiving not alone the formal approval of religious bodies but from the public generally. The bill, fathered by Assemblyman Martin, received the endorsement of the House in due time and was sent over to the upper body, where Senator Fielder, also of Hudson, championed it. He had the able assistance of the President of the Senate, Dr. John D. Prince. But Fielder didn't need any assistance. The measure passed without a dissenting vote.

The Legislature might well have gone a little farther; it should have abolished the office of justice of the peace altogether. There are too many of them shockingly ignorant and only too suspectible to "influence."

"As organizers women are superior to men and their balances are usually on the right side of the ledger," said Rev. Dr. George Edward Reed, former president of Dickinson College, in an address before the Wilmington Equal Suffrage Club, of Wilmington, Delaware. "We are not making such a howling success of government," he continued, "and we need women's help to help purify the conditions that exist. Polling places are loathsome places and it is a blistering, burning shame that respectable men are compelled to go to such places to cast their ballot. If we had women voting we would clean them up.

"Women have the same mental grasp as men, and when it comes to running a municipality, which is nothing but city housekeeping, women have the advantage of men because of their training in that line."

We venture to assert that the majority of college presidents and members of college faculties favor "votes for women." They view the question not from the standpoint of a practical politician, but from that of a student of government.

Those who so much enjoyed Father Rogan's editorial on "A Casual Glance at the Social Problem" last Saturday will be glad to know that Dr. Maximilian P. E. Groszman, probably the best American authority on the atypical child, will be the contributing editor next Saturday. He has chosen an excellent topic for his discussion. The Saturday Contributed Editorial feature is attracting unusual attention in the community. Don't miss any of them.

So United States Senator James E. Martine is too busy at Washington to take the stump for Governor Woodrow Wilson during the pre-convention campaign for the Presidential nomination? It is not a case of ingratitude as any friend of the likes on earth to do as much as to talk. Yet, somehow he has been awfully quiet during the present session of Congress. Why is it?

Naturally all women are interested in mothers' work at home and in civics. Therefore, it will repay them to read the column conducted in this paper on Thursdays by the Plainfield Mothers' Association, which also gives interesting news and comment of the Parent-Teacher Association efforts. This column will be found today and on every Thursday on the women's page.

Congressman Tuttle, according to a dispatch from Washington published in these columns yesterday, says he expects to win as a candidate for re-election next fall. There is no mistaking the fact that the Westfield man is "all wool and a yard wide" but the district is normally Republican. "Aye, there's the rub!"

Nelson Runyon, the dean of the Plainfield bar, has rounded out fifty years as a barrister. A half-century as an honorable member of an honorable profession is to his credit, and he is still hale and hearty. May he live many years to continue his work as a shining light of the local bar.

Our compliments to the new District Court Judge Walter L. Hetfield. May his career on the local bench be a shining one.

Good news for T. R. Chancellor Day has let loose again and this time he aims his guns on the Oyster Bay man.

Both Will and Teddy have a string of Governors, but how about the other 14,711,440 voters?

HONOR MEMORY OF GOOD MAN

earnestness of principle was the main thing in life, and that nothing could make up for the want of it.'

"How gently and quietly his influence was exerted! It was not through many words, for he spoke sparingly. It was not through outward signs of activity, for he was very quiet, but the inward man and the Christian faith that was in him worked outward and were felt by many who never knew him or spoke with him and they were strengthend and refreshed by his spirit and example."

John Leal, who had been associated with Mr. Lovell for thirty years in the work of the church was the next speaker. In the course of his remarks he said that in paying tribute to Mr. Lovell "we are simply uttering some of the thoughts of our hearts, to which we all assent, though some of them may be unspoken." As a man, Mr. Leal said, Mr. Lovell was endowed with a strong character, being a leader, although without arrogance or self assertion. He was indenpent and fearless, yet always fair and courteous toward those who differed from him." The speaker also called attention to the fact that Mr. Lowell never uttered unkind words, was above suspicion as to motives, treated men as though they were actuated by a singleness of purpose, was calm, even and self possessed. "I do not remember a single word of his, uttered unadvisidly, which had to be recalled; nor an act which needed an apology."

Speaking of Mr. Lovell as a citizen, it was said that he gave in generous measure his time and resources for philanthropy, charity and public good, filling numerous positions of trust and honor. Attention was called to the fact that one of his monuments is represented in the buildings and equipment of the public schools, his labors in that line having been appreciated by the citizens. Mr. Leal emphasized the fact taht this evample will prompt young men to be unselfish of time and energy in public service. As a friend to all of us he was undemonstrative, unassuming, trusted, firm loyal, inspiriing in us the best things. No one who knew him will not cherish lasting memories of the intimacy."

Dr. Hedges was the next speaker. He said:

"One of my earliest recollections in connection with this church is of coming to the prayer meeting, and seeing there a dignified, erect, gray-haired gentleman who was always punctually in his place and who through all the years was the minister's right hand man in the help and support he gave to those meetings.

"Who of us does not remember his clean cut, forcible and logical remarks on the topics for the evening, and his prayers, how the echoes of them ring in our ears even now! Starting out with his favorite invocation, 'Our ever gracious Heavenly Father,' how he besieged the throne of grace. Approaching his Father reverently yet familiarly, he not only asked for favors as we are all apt to do when we pray, but he gave a large place to thanksgiving to God for his manifold blessings. God had made his goodness to pass before him and Mr. Lovell had a conviction of that goodness. How earnestly, how eloquently he pleaded for those best gifts, how importunately he asked for those things that are necessary both for the body and for the soul. And back of it all was the real goodness and honesty and sincerity of the man.

"We felt that his were no idle, perfunctory words, but that they squared with his aspirations and his life. When he prayed for a broader charity we knew that he had it already. When he prayed for the extension of God's Kingdom among the heathen we knew that he had willingly given his own son for that very work. When he prayed for the carrying of our religions into all the activities of daily life we knew that that had been his constant practice through all the years. He often asked that we might grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, and surely that prayer was answered at least for him. He had an abiding faith, and it was with a confidence begotten of that faith that he approached the throne of grace.

"His prayers are a rich legacy which he leaves to this church. He has told me more than once how much he enjoyed the prayer meetings; that whatever they meant to others to him they were a necessity and a help that he could never willingly forego, and when some time ago he learned that he could hope to live but a short while, he showed the same fortitude and courage that had always been his.

"'I have had more years given to me already than I was entitled to,' he said, 'and it is all right,' and he said it as cheerfully as he would say 'good morning.' He was of Puritan descent and he had a Puritan conscience to the end. When he became unable to retain any food he was urged to take some champagne.

"'Yes, that would be fine,' he said, 'but it is no way for me to end my days by drinking champagne,' and he didn't take it. There was no repining at his fate during his illness but time and again he spoke of how much he had to be thanked for. And when the final summons came for him to go up higher just as gladly and expectantly as any one of us answers the bell that calls us to morning service in the house of God even so he, answered the call and went to the service of song and praise with his Master whom he had so long loved and trusted."

Mr. Murray told of how he had enjoyed his acquaintance with Mr. Lovell, and said that two characteristics had been emphasized throughout his life, one of firmness, and the other of tenderness. In the latter connection it was stated that his heart was always open to those who wished for his aid. The speaker paid a similar tribute to that of those who preceded him.

PROGRESSIVES OF UNION WILL BOOM ROOSEVELT

Elizabeth, Feb. 29. — Colonel Roosevelt's annoucement that he will accept the nomination for the Presidency if it is tendered to him has caused considerable activity among the Progressive element of the Republican party in this county, and it now appears that Hamilton F. Kean will have much opposition to his candidacy for delegate to the Republican national convention.

Former Congressman Charles N. Fowler is out for T. R. He has made a trip to Oyster Bay, and with George L. Record, Everett Colby, and former Governor Fort he is doing everything possible to help the colonel's third term boom in New Jersey. It is believed that there is an underground Roosevelt organization in the county backed chiefly by Fowlerites, and that within a short time it will be behind an anti-Kean and anti-Taft fight.

JERSEY POLICE CHIEFS TO BE ELIZABETH'S GUESTS

Elizabeth, Feb. 29.—Chief of Police George C. Tenney, president of the New Jersey Police Chiefs' Association, and who is to be host on Monday to about forty visiting police chiefs and their friends, has completed arrangements for the gathering, and from the plans as outlined, the affair will be of importance to the chiefs both from the business and the social standpoint. Chief Kiely, of Plainfield, is a member of the organization, and is expected to attend the assemblage.

Everything possible for the entertainment of the visitors will be done while they are in Elizabeth. Beginning with a business session in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the session will extend through into the evening, when a banquet and reception will take place.

The State Chiefs' Association, which is akin to the International Police Chiefs' Association, was formed about a month ago at a meeting in Newark, when Chief Tenney was elected to the presidency.

The business session will be called to order in the chamber of City Council at 2:30 o'clock by Chief Tenney. At 3 o'clock there will be an address of welcome by Mayor Stein, in which he will extend the greetings of Elizabeth and the hospitality of the community. Another guest who will be present at the business meeting is Major Richard Sylvester, of Washington. Major Sylvester is president of the International Association of Police Chiefs and is superintendent of police in Washington.

WESTFIELD SOLONS PASS DOG-MUZZLING ORDINANCE.

Westfield, Feb. 29.—(Special).—Because of the prevelance of rabies among dogs in Union County, the council at a special session adopted an ordinance compelling owners of dogs to muzzle their animals. The dog catcher and police were instructed to pick up all stray dogs and place them in the pound. They will be kept three days andunless claimed by their owners, the animals will be killed by gas.

Rahway Oglers in Distress.

Rahway, Feb. 29. — The police have been otified that ogling must be stopped. They have been instructed to order along all street mashers, regardless of age, and to arrest those that fail to obey. Street flirting is now subject to $5 fine.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

EXCELLENT SEED CAKES.

SEED cakes may be as rich as you please. If you know how to make Madeira cake, proceed as for that, add caraway seed and serve.

A Rich Cake.

This recipe will provide a rather rich cake:

Spiced Seed Cake.—Use one pound of butter, six eggs, two tablespoonfuls of baking powder, three-quarters of a pound of sifted sugar, pounded mace and grated nutmeg to taste, one pound of flour, three-quarters of an ounce of caraway seeds and half a cup of cream.

Beat the butter to a cream, dredge in the flour, add the sugar, mace, nutmeg and caraway seeds and mix these ingredients well together. Whip the eggs, stir to them the cream and beat the cake again for ten minutes.

Put it into a tin lined with buttered paper and take from one and a half to two hours.

Light and Sweet.

Raised Seed Cake.—Take a pound of flour, half a pound of butter, three quarters of a pound of powdered sugar, a half cup of good yeast, four tablespoonfuls of cream, nutmeg, a pinch of soda dissolved in hot water, two tablespoonfuls of caraway seed, one-fourth of a pound of citron shredded fine. Mix the flour, cream, half the butter (melted) and the yeast together, work up very well and set to rise for six hours.

When very light work in the rest of the butter rubbed to a cream with the sugar, the soda water, and when these ingredients are incorporated the seed and the citron.

Let it rise three-quarters of an hour longer until it almost fills the pans and bake steadily half an hour if you have put it in small pans, an hour if it is in large loaves.

Nursery Seed Cake.—This cake is so plain that it is wise to serve it to the children instead of one of the richer varieties. Put half a pound of flour into a bowl, then take three ounces of butter and rub it into the flour; add to this two ounces of sugar, a teaspoonful of baking powder, a teaspoonful of caraway seeds and mix all with a wooden spoon.

Break an egg into a cup and beat it up with a gill of milk, pour this into the dry ingredients and work all to a stiff paste; put in a greased tin and let it bake for an hour.

When the cake seems baked run a knife into the center of it, and if it comes out perfectly bright the cake is done. Set on its side on a sieve to cool.

Advice For Business Girl.

Eat the very best food your means will allow. Remember that you are working for your bread, and after you have earned it buy it. Good food comes back in firm flesh, pink cheeks and good spirits, which make you far more attractive and successful than any garment you could possibly buy.

Drink lots of water. If you are afraid of taking on too much weight do not drink with your meals, for that is the time when weight is added.

When working do not eat a heavy lunch. Have a good breakfast, because by the time you get to your work that is partly digested, but if you have a heavy lunch you are apt to feel sleepy. The big meal of the day should come at night.

In these cold days dress warmly. It is true that woolens are not beautiful, but they keep your skin a pretty color, with a smooth, even flow of blood, and they keep you from using up your energy and power in trying to keep warm.

Don't get jaded or overtired. There is no salary big enough to recompense you for that. Sacrifice a little salary for a position less trying if necessary. Ordinary work should not overtire a woman. If it does it is a sign she is not in good condition—she is not getting enough sleep nor food nor fresh air.

Gave Good Weight.

The very latest trick of the trade was taught to the young butcher by the marketman who gave him his first employment. The old dealer pointed to trays of beef, lamb and pork trimmings beneath the counter.

"When customers ask to have all the waste that has been cut from their own meat wrapped up with their order, be sure to put in a few of these trimmings besides," he said. "Most always they want the scraps sent home so they can weigh the whole business and find out whether they are getting full weight or not. Enough extra pieces to tip the scales half an ounce beyond the supposed weight won't hurt anybody, and will give us a good name."

Shortly after that the new clerk heard one frugal housewife say to another, "Oh, why don't you trade at Blank's? He gives such good measure; often almost an ounce more than you pay for."

The clerk smiled.—Boston Herald.

—Teacher—Now, children, are your fathers mammals or invertebrates?

Child (timidly, after a painful silence)—Please miss, they're all Republicans in this ward.—Baltimore American.

—"Is my hat on straight?" "No, one eye shows."—Life.

VOGUE POINTS.

Favorite Styles In Blouses For Wear With Tailor Mades.

A favorite fashion in blouses for wear with the tailor made is a design known as the bib blouse. Made of silk or crepe de chine, the blouse has a bib of fine lace or net arranged like a baby's tucker. The style, however, is only becoming to women with smooth white necks.

COAT WITH BROAD COLLAR.

High transparent collars are back again on blouses of all kinds for all occasions. The collars when of lace are usually edged with a narrow band of the blouse material running along the top, the cuffs being to match. In most cases there is some kind of frill in the front of the blouse, together with narrow tucks or box plaits.

The coat that is cut to wrist length is a spring favorite this season. Such a coat is smart in effect and generally becoming. The model illustrated is finished with a big collar and a front trimming that is entirely individual.

CHARMING MODEL IN RED AND WHITE FOULARD.

It takes but a few yards of the new wide foulard silk for a dress this year, so simple and scant are the new models. This dainty little dress is of a spotted foulard, with a red pattern on a white ground. The bib shaped panel at the front of the bodice extends down over the skirt and widens out to form a deep band at the foot. The religeuse collar, girdle and cuffs are of red satin, matching a tone of the foulard. The hat is trimmed with red roses and purple pansies.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association.

Contributing Staff.
Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

Under the auspices of the State Committee on Social Purity, Dr. Robert M. Wilson, of the University of Pennsylvania, spoke on the subject of "Social Prophylaxis," at Camden, N. J. Unusual interest was shown in the subject and many joined the State Society for the Prevention of Social Diseases.

A meeting of the executive board of the Plainfield Mothers' Association was held yesterday afternoon at the Plainfield High School to discuss plans for future work and complete details for the evening meeting to be held in April on the subject of "Child Hygiene."

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Irving-Jefferson School, of which Mrs. G. O. Stevens is president and Miss Petrie vice-president, has planned a social meeting for this month. The spirit of co-operation between teachers and parents in this association is shown by the large attendance and informal discussion of school and home problems.

A committee to represent this association has been appointed to The Friendly Visiting Committee of the Charity Organization consisting of Mrs. J. C. Pierson and Miss Elizabeth White.

Dr. Frank C. Aid, who spoke informally for the Plainfield Mothers' Association, on the "Prevention of Disease in Eye and Ear," gave many suggestions to mothers who attended the meeting. The next lecture will be given by Dr. Edward Krans on March 8 at the High School.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Bryant and Lincoln Schools met in the science room of the High School on Thursday, February 29, at 3:15 p. m. Miss Griffin gave a talk on her visit to England, illustrated with stereopticon views.

The Bryant School Association has invited the mothers of the Lincoln School to join its association.

Mrs. Howard Runyon has been appointed as publicity committee for Bryant School.

An outlook committee is appointed by each association to report what organized parents are doing throughout the world.

In Denver the Mothers' Congress has over 400 members who have always supported Judge Ben Lindsay in his work for the children. Parent-teacher associations have been formed all over the city. One principal requested the organization committee to form such an associatian in the Italian and Jewish section, herself taking the presidency until the mothers can be taught to govern themselves. The principal says that she has found nothing so helpful as mothers' clubs; that new friendships and happy hours come into the monotonous lives of these mothers and that all wrangling and gossip ceases as soon as a club is working.

New York is busy with playgrounds. The Albany Mothers' Club has equipped and is maintained four playgrounds with an average attendance of 300 children daily. Parent-teacher associations are being organized and the problem of a sanitary luncheon for the High School has been solved.

In Buffalo the mothers' club is working for liquid soap, paper towels and medicine cabinets for every school in the city and for censorship of moving pictures and nickleodromes.

Massachusetts is working for a child-welfare department in Washington and for the mothers' pension bill. The Boston Sunday Herald publishes the news of the Mothers' Congress as a regular Sunday feature. There are now fifty parent-teacher associations in Masachusetts with a membership of over 3,000.

In Tennessee the mothers are working for free text boks and in the meantime suplying them for children unable to purchase them; free libraries, emergency clinics, rest rooms for teachers and pupils have been established. The Knoxville Mothers' Association has been working faithfully for the public highway and good roads law. One day of the State Fair was given to Mothers' Congress and was used to awaken the interest of parents in child-welfare movements.

It is obvious that the average tax payer would be moved to demand the extermination of that form of vice which has been declared illegal * * * * did he once clearly comprehend that it is responsible for the disease which costs him so dearly. (Jane Addams in McClure's.)

The sixteenth child welfare convention of the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations will be held at St. Louis, Missouri, March 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24. "The Responsibility of the Home" will be the general topic for this convention.

STRIKERS OFF TO CAPITAL.

Fifty From Lawrence Will Attend House Hearing.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 29.—A party of fifty or more men, women and children operatives who worked in the woolen mills here and who have been on strike for more than seven weeks will leave for Washington today for the purpose of testifying at a congressional hearing in the troubles in the textile industry.

One of the federal investigations, that concerning the alleged illegal action of the police in preventing a number of children starting for Philadelphia last Saturday morning, has begun. Special Agent William C. Danneberg of the department of Justice was sent to Lawrence by District Attorney French of Boston upon orders from the attorney general's office.

Mr. Danneberg's mission is to ascertain if the police action was in violation of the interstate commerce law, whereby people are permitted to pass freely from one state to another.

The plan of sending children to Philadelphia has been given up for the present. A statement was given out in behalf of the mill owners in which they denied all responsibility for any detention of children who were being sent out of the state.

RUMOR THAT WILSON WILL LEAVE CABINET

Taft Is Said to Be Seeking New Secretary.

Washington, Feb. 29.—It is learned that President Taft has offered James Wilson's portfolio, that of secretary of agriculture, to three different men since the Florida Everglades scandal was taken up by the house committee and that as soon as his successor is definitely determined upon Mr. Wilson will leave the cabinet.

Additional light was thrown not on the Everglades scandal, but on the proposed exploitation of the Lake Mattamuskeet marsh lands, in North Carolina. John Selp, a North Carolina landowner, read to the committee the originals of the letters, showing that Willet M. Hays, assistant secretary of agriculture, sought to make money out of the marsh lands, which had been passed upon favorably by J. O. Wright, then a department engineer.

Solicitor McCabe of the agricultural department read a statement on behalf of Hays admitting the charges.

Mr. Hays, according to Solicitor McCabe, became interested in the lands from a sociological standpoint, but discovered he might make some money and telegraphed Wright to reserve $100,000 in stock for him and his friends. This investment, Hays figured, would net $500,000 or more.

TWO MORE FOR HOLDUP.

Owners of Saloon Where Money Was Divided Are Arrested.

New York, Feb. 29.—Jimmy Push and his partner, Robert Ello, who run the saloon at 208 Thompson street, where the $25,000 taken from the messengers of the East River National bank was divided after the holdup of the taxicab in Trinity place on Feb. 15, are locked up at police headquarters. Push and his partner are charged with assault and robbery, although there is nothing to connect them with the actual holdup.

No Time For Intervention.

Washington, Feb. 29.—After a long discussion of the Mexican situation in the senate committee on foreign relations the committee decided that for the present there is no need of intervention by the United States.

Boston Merchant Killed by Train.

Newton, Mass., Feb. 29.—John R. Shapleigh, a prominent tea and coffee merchant at Long Wharf, Boston, was killed by a train.

—Dare to do right—and you will generally find yourself left.

The Home Building & Loan Association
Offers Cheap Interest for a Home Builder or Buyer

It figures out about like this, as a series will run out in twelve years:
If $2,000.00 is borrowed (other amounts in same proportion),

He pays $10.00 a month dues for 144 months	$1,440 00
He pays $10.00 a month interest for 144 months at 6 per cent	1,440 00
Entrance fee, search, etc., about	25 00
Total amount paid	$2,905 00
He has the use of	2,000 00
At a cost for 12 years of	$ 905 00

Which is actual net interest of only 3¾ per cent. per annum.

This is on a basis of 6 per cent. When no money is on hand, the Association will provide money for the borrower at a very slight premium.

The regular meetings of the Association are held at its rooms, 109 Park Avenue, on the third Monday evening of each month. New series are opened at each regular meeting. NO MORE MARRIAGES BY JERSEY'S JUSTICES

Trenton, Feb. 29.—After the Senate yesterday afternoon by the vote of fourteen to two had passed the bill prohibiting justices of the peace from performing the marriage ceremony, the measure was sent immediately to the Assembly, where it originated, under suspension of the rules. Then it was rushed to Governor Wilson and he signed it, making it a law. As the act provides that it shall take effect immediately, every justice of the peace in New Jersey is now shorn of the right to marry persons.

TO CONTINUE VIGOROUS FIGHT ON TUBERCULOSIS

The executive committee of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield and North Plainfield met at the Charity Organization Society rooms, last night, to decide upon the heads of several committees and discuss plans of work for the year. It was decided to ask the pastors of the city and borough churches to say something about the work of the society on Sunday, April 28, which is to be observed throughout the country by the church as "Anti-Tuberculosis Day."

Plans for holding a public meeting and entertainment in the near future were discussed, announcement of which will be made a little later. At that meeting there will be several prominent speakers.

Mrs. Sherman B. Joost has been made the head of the visitors' committe, which also has charge of the Friday afternoon classes at which Dr. Krans discusses means of prevention and cure for tuberculosis. Dr. H. D. Corbusier was appointed chairman of the survey committee, whose duties are to keep as complete a record as possible of the cases of tuberculosis, and conditions, while Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite was made the head of the publicity committee.

"The White Crusader" the league's monthly paper, edited by E. F. Feickert, will continue to be used as a means of spreading valuable information about the work and arousing interest among the people in support of the league. In the absence of William S. Tyler, president of the league, Leighton Calkins presided at last night's meeting.

PLANNING A NEW KIND OF SUNDAY MEETING FOR MEN

In the Y. M. C. A. auditorium next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock there is to be started a new sort of men's meeting under the leadership of Henry W. Herrman. Until recently Mr. Herrman was one of the leaders and teachers of the Men's Conference Class at the First Baptist Church. For many years he has cherished the desire and hope to start a work of some sort among men (non-sectarian and fraternal) which might be conceived in such a kindly and helpful spirit, with such spiritual earnestness and yet with such a genuinely broad fellowship, that it might truly be a memorial of the late David Sinclair, a Dayton, O., Y. M. C. A. leader, who first led Mr. Herrman into Christian work.

Mr. Herrman desires to gather together a group of men in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium "in a spirit of friendliness, a class but also a brotherhood, not in name but in spirit. A class of men, regardless of creeds or no-creeds, truly fraternal, democratic, who believe in God and in man and are willing to read and study the word for mutual benefit; men who want to spend a pleasant Sunday afternoon under the influence of good music, now and then to see informing pictures, to hear straight talks on things worth while."

The Y. M. C. A. announcement of the class says of it: "The object of the class is to create a social center for fraternal men, a place for men to spend a pleasant Sunday afternoon where they will get a genuine welcome on a manhood basis. There are no dues and there will be no dues, no collection plate. This is no mission, there are no ulterior purposes, no propaganda, no appeals for men or money or membership."

The members of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, Daughters of America, will meet at the Babcock building at 7:45 o'clock tonight, and adjourn to Matthews' bowling alleys on Madison avenue, where they will engage in a bowling match. The council will have initiation next Tuesday night.

MACK RELATES A RUBE WADDELL YARN

Eccentric Pitcher Deserted Game to Go to a Fire Seen From the Lot.

CLIMBED CENTRE FIELD FENCE

Was Never Contented on the Bench and When Not Pitching Played in the Outfield—Was a Good Fielder, Too.

Connie Mack tells the following story of that great but eccentric left hander Rube Waddell. He says:

"We used to put Rube in center field when we weren't pitching him. He never wanted to sit on the bench, and we had to humor him or he wouldn't have stayed on the lot, that's all. He was a bully fielder too. One day we were having quite a battle with some team, and Rube was covering center field for us. We were being hard pressed. With only one out, the other team filled the bases in the fifth inning and a brace of good batters were up. We had two strikes on the man at bat, and then something happened.

"A black cloud of smoke appeared in the sky back of center field fence and a little later a blaze. Then came the clashing and clanging of fire bells and the clatter of horses' hoofs. I happened to look in the direction of the blaze. High up on the center field fence I saw Rube perched, looking at the blaze, silhouetted against the red glare of the conflagration. I let out a blast that nearly woke the dead. Rube heard me and looked around. He seemed undecided for a moment as to his next move, but he wasn't long in making up his mind. With a broad grin and a graceful salute of his hand, as if to say, 'So long, fellows!' he hastily dropped from sight on the other side of the fence and was on his way to the fire."

"I LET OUT A BLAST THAT NEARLY WOKE THE DEAD."

DOGS ON EXHIBITION IN WEST FRONT STREET STORE.

In the windows of two drug stores on West Front street are dog exhibits that are attracting considerable attention. In he window at the Randolph store is a live dog valued at $2,000. Shaw's store is showing a mounted one, said to be the smallest dog in the State.

The live animal is Bizzie B., American Kennel Club No. 103119. He is a Boston bull and is shown surrounded by many of the ribbons and medals he has won. In 1910 he won the Eastern and Western championship at the Cincinnati bench show. Bizzie B. is a product of the Merrit Kenneis at Lexington, Ky., and is owned by James H. Steffen.

The mounted exhibit was bred by Mrs. Stehnenson, of Lincoln.

JEFFRIES SAYS HE NEVER SENT THE ATTELL TELEGRAM.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 29.—James J. Jeffries, in a signed statement, denies a report that he telegraphed James Coffroth in San Francisco that Abe Attell should have had a draw in his recent fight with Johnny Kilbane, and that Attell still would be recognized as featherweight champion.

"Referee Eyton's decision was the only one possible," says Jeffries statement. "Kilbane honestly defeated Attell and earned the championship. Immediately after the fight I advised Attell to keep still; that he had been beaten by a better boy and that 'knocking' would do him no good. I sent no message to Coffroth or any one else."

For Uniform Golf Balls.

Chicago, Feb. 29.—Prominent golf authorities have signed a petition asking that delegates of the clubs managing the amateur championship consider the question of making all the entrants use balls of the same material and structure. The document, it is said, is considered of vital importance to the game.

THE GINGER JAR

Hooray for the baseball stars in stripes!

"Smiling" Jimmy Montross expects to pitch semi-pro ball again this summer, having an offer from a Bayonne team under consideration. His brother Charlie is out of the game, he said, on account of business.

Groom, with the Washington team, is the same pitcher St. Mary's club of this city had in 1903.

The services of Lieut Fred Van-Auken, of this city, as coach for the Navy team at the present time would be a big help. Lieut. Van-Auken entered the academy from the Plainfield High School, and repeated his performance as star pitcher on the school team during his junior and senior years at Annapolis.

Charles Dooin, manager of Fogel's Fearless Fellows, has two lines of endeavor open to him after his baseball career is over. He is a shoe salesman and his father-in-law has a large grocery business in Rochester.

Pete Cregan, said to have been the highest paid left fielder that ever donned a Plainfield uniform, was also said to be the most graceful fielder, surest hitter and covered more ground than any other importation, even to the present day.

Pete and Dooin are quite close to each other and were team mates on the Rock Island, Ill., team several years ago.

Rube Oldring, who played here under the management of Philip Dabb, is considered a fixture in centre by Connie Mack, who expects even better things of the Rube this year than last. Each time he meets anyone from Plainfield, all of his friends here are inquired for.

"Battling" George Mallen, the former Westfield player, who won his sobriquet on account of his agressiveness, expects to be bench manager of a team in that town this season.

Eddie Collins, of the world's champions, played on a class team at Columbia with Ralph Schoonmaker, of this city, and said that Ralph had the makings of a good player.

Hal Chase thinks that Birdie Cree, the Highlanders' outfielder, will show up much better the coming season as a batter and that he will be something of a sensation in the fielding line os well.

Lou Criger, the veteran catcher, who was the battery mate of old Cy Young so long, and who later played with the Yankees, will take charge of the young pitchers of the St. Louis Browns this spring. He has not been signed by the club, but simply engaged for six weeks to help in the coaching.

It is said on good authority that Al Sharpe, the old Yale player, balked at a one-eyar contract to coach the Cornell football eleven, and that a three-eyar term has been arranged. The papers are likely to be signed any day.

Hugh Jennings, manager of the Detroit American League baseball team, is in Ithaca, N. Y., to give his advice to Coach Coogan in the selection of the candidates for the Cornell varsity baseball nine. He must be trying to square himself for some of the comments he is credited with having made about college built players.

Chicago paid more money to visiting ball teams in the American League last summer than any other city in the league. Detroit came next, and Detroit fans are up in arms against the assertion that Detroit is a poor ball town.

JACK MARTIN TO TRAIN WITH ROCHESTER TEAM.

The deal between Managers Ganzell, of Rochester, and "Buck" Freeman, of Scranton, whereby Jack Martin was to have been turned over to the latter team on the New York State circuit, seems to have fallen through. Yesterday Jack received a letter from Manager Ganzell to report at Anniston, Ala., on March 17.

Martin and Lou Slocum, the pitcher farmed to Scranton by Connie Mack, are both in fine shape and are having daily work-outs in the Y. M. C. A. ymnasium.

LOCAL BALL CLUBS OF THE DAYS AGONE

Old Stars Say Baseball Waned With the Passing of the Crescent Club.

AND NEVER FULLY 'CAME BACK'

Difficulty in Building a Representative Team Nowadays Would Not Exist if Old Enthusiasm Prevailed. Stars of Other Times Assert.

Incidental to the growing discussion regarding the prospect of Plainfield having a representative baseball team this summer comes talk of the old days, and the enthusiasm centred in the sport at that time. The assertion has been heard here and there that if the same feeling prevailed now, there would be no trouble at all in putting a good team in the field.

Not a few of these stars of other days are still interested in the fortunes of the game, locally and otherwise. Their only regrets are that for them playing days are over, and antiquated relatives, whose passing furnished excuse for absence from business on sunny afternoons, are growing scarce.

In the minds of not a few, the real baseball days of Plainfield began with the advent of the old Crescent Club in the 'eighties. That organization had a brilliant career and set a pace that has not been equalled since, and contemperaneous with it were a number of other fast teams playing in and about the city.

Probably the most notable among these other clubs was one composed of employes in Potter's press works and known as Potter's Team. The nine was in existence during three seasons, 1885, 1886 and 1887. The lineup as remembered yesterday by Amos Andrews, who starred on it, was as follows: Tom Buckley, pitcher; Charles Meyers, catcher; George Babcock, first base; John Evans, second base; Amos Andrews, third base; Peter Schneiderwind, short stop; James Evans, William Mosher and George Zeisz, outfielders. "Gamey" Nelson also caught at different times and when he did Meyers went to the outfield.

Games were played with Annandale, Elizabeth, Dunellen and other nearby clubs, as well as the nine from the old oilcloth works which was located on North avenue. Dennis Carney, now in the employ of the gas department of the P. S. C. was the star pitcher for the oilcloth team in its palmy days, and his team was one of the hardest the Potter's had to contend with, although all the contests were marked with plenty of rivalry.

While in a reminiscent mood yesterday Mr. Andrews told of how he played with Ned Hanlon, former manager of the Brooklyn team and a famous Oriole of Baltimore's halcyon days. Hanlon and Mr. Andrews were boys together in Norwich, Conn., and played on the same team. Young Hanlon learned many of the fine points of the game from Andrews. The Byrnes brothers, of Eight Bells fame, were also members of the same team and used to do handsprings, that later became familiar to theatregoers all over the country, on the diamond between innings.

The George Babcock mentioned as playing first base is not the young Union County Assemblyman. That George Babcock left Plainfield many years ago and has not been heard from for a long time. The two Evans brothers are dead. The Potter players remaining in this city now besides Mr. Andrews are Mr. Buckley, Mr. Meyers, Mr. Zeisz, Mr. Mosher and "Gamey." Mr. Schneiderwind lives in Dunellen.

HAWAIIAN SWIMMER'S REMARKABLE SPEED.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 29.—Duke Kahanamoku, the Hawaiian swimming ever seen in the tank at the present time for the purpose of entering the try-outs for the American Olympic team, Tuesday gave one of the greatest exhibitions of wimming ever seen in the tank at Weightman Hall. Besides breaking the tank record for a hundred feet, he also defeated John K. Shryock, the intercollegiate champion, in the 100-yard swim, covering the century in the remarkable time of 57 1-5 seconds. His time for the 100 feet, which is the length of the tank, was 14 1-5 seconds.

AMERICAN OLYMPIC TEAM WILL SAIL ON JUNE 14.

New York, Feb. 29.—It has now been definitely decided that the American Olympic team will sail from here on June 14. The boat, the Finland, will call at Antwerp on June 23 for a stay of two days, and will arrive at Stockholm on June 29, the day the stadium will be officially opened. The athletic events will begin on July 6. The Finland will leave for home on July 20. The committee plan to take 100 athletes and 250 additional passengers.

WILL OPPOSE SUNDAY BALL AT SCOTCH PLAINS

That Scotch Plains is to have a baseball team this summer is certain and it is just as certain that there will be opposition to Sunday playing. Manager Joe Alberts has been quietly formulating plans for several weeks, it is understood, and according to the arrangement made last year has an option on the same grounds.

Rev. Franklin K. Mathiews must have anticipated that an effort would be made to give the fans Sunday exhibitions for he has already been to see the owner of the property where the diamond is located to have him refuse the use of the grounds for Sunday playing this season. Nothing as yet has been done by either the owner or manager Alberts regarding this protest.

Last year when the grounds were secured it was with the understanding that the field could be had this season under the same conditions. The club went to considerable expense in laying out the diamond and erecting bleachers under these circumstances. The place is well off the main road and there are not any houses nearby.

It is understood that Rev. Mr. Mathiews does not protest against the Sunday games because they have been attended with any disorder, but because in a sense it is a business carried on in violation of the Sabbath observance law.

OLYMPIA PONIES WIN TWO FROM BUTCHERS.

The Olympia Ponies took two games from the Butchers on the Olympia alleys last night and dropped the third by 178 pins. All the Ponies had a maligant attack of slumperitis in that contest except Morris, who hit the wood for his highest score. Watts for the carvers showed real come back quality in the same game, spilling the pins for the highest mark of the match, 200 flat.

677,000 AUTOMOBILES IN USE IN THE UNITED STATES.

From time to time estimates of the extent of automobiling in the United States have been made, and, without the support of authoritative figures, have been accepted as pleasant flights of imagination. Yet it appears that the most enthusiastic statisticians have fallen short of the marks, for motoring has assumed a vogue greater than had been dreamed of by those who have essayed to follow its progress in this country.

There are 677,000 automobiles in use in the United States, according to figures furnished by the various secretaries of State to The Automobile, which recently conducted an extensive campaign to obtain the data. If any figures could be more authoritative they would be those furnished by the federal government, but its census is made only once in five years, and fails to enlighten for any length of time with regard to such a fast growing industry.

McGRAW'S PARDON ASKED FOR RAYMOND BY BUG'S WIFE.

Marlin Springs, Tex., Feb. 29.—Manager McGraw, of the Giants, intimated yesterday that he would try to get the National Commission to reinstate "Bugs" Raymond, the eccentric twirler. If the ban is lifted "Bugs" will probably be sent to a minor league club, as McGraw insists he can never play with the Giants again.

Mrs. Raymond wrote a pathetic letter to McGraw saying that the family was in want and urging him to give her husband another chance. McGraw was touched by the note but replied that the best he could do was to try to get him a position with a minor league club, if the National Commission would reinstate him.

COACH SHIFTS STROKE ON PRINCETON CREW.

Princeton, Feb. 29.—Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth, the Tiger rowing coach, made a change in the seating of the eight yesterday afternoon which may have a decided effect upon the chances of the Princeton crew in its races this spring. Captain Rauch, who has been rowing seven on the machines, and Higgins, stroke, exchanged places. As Rauch rows port and the Tiger machines have a starboard stroke, it was necessary for "Fitz" Fitzpatrick, the Princeton boatman, to tack a port stroke oar on the varsity machine. As a consequence there is the peculiar sight, a nine-oared eight.

NEW BRUNSWICK WANTS DAVE DRISCOLL TO RETURN

Dave Driscoll made a visit to his old stamping ground in New Brunswick Tuesday night at the invitation of the directors of the Amusement Company of that place. During the pow-wow the magnates made Dave a proposition to come back to the old town and give the fans the baseball exhibitions they crave. The confab broke up without any definite answer being received from old Foxy, although he admitted feeling flattered over the offer.

When Driscoll was supplying New Brunswick with a team and managing the same, several seasons ago, that town had the best baseball it has had in years. The ventures made by others since have been nowhere near as successful, hence the offer.

It is not likely that Dave will close with New Brunswick until after he has conferred with Manager Dorflinger of the Plainfield team. Dave played first base nearly all last season here and always furnished players when they were needed for the nine. The outs brought out were high priced men, but always delivered the goods and were worth the price.

ELKS LEAGUE BOWLING NOTES

The leading Hoboken five took three games from the Newark Elks in the match rolled last night on the Newark's alleys. The scores were 905-856, 950-838, and 917-893. Miller's scores were 213, 208 and 206. Kellar was the only other German pinner to get the double century, making 215 in the second game. Kock, of Newark, made 218 in the third contest, the only Newark wood spiller to get in the double zone. Hoboken now has a lead of five games on Plainfield.

The Queensboro team will roll Plainfield tonight on the Olympia alleys in an Elks' league match.

The Hoboken and New York quintets meet tonight on the Hoboken alleys in a schedule meeting of three games.

MISS MARGARET BLANCKE DEFEATED FOR TENNIS CUP.

Miss Margaret Blancke, who made her home at Truell Hall last summer and was active in the tennis matches on the hotel courts, was defeated in the final round of women's singles for the Pinehurst, N. C., Country Club February cup at that place yesterday afternoon by Miss Helen Barnett, of New Haven.

Miss Blancke with her sister, Miss Agnes Blancke, are spending the winter at Pinehurst and will return to Plainfield late in the spring. Miss Agnes Blancke participated in several of the tennis competitions at the Park Club and Country Club last summer as well as a Truell Hall, where meritorious playing won her several awards. Both young women have relatives and an extensive acquaintance here.

N. P. H. S. Freshmen Win.

The North Plainfield freshmen basketball team defeated the Plainfield High School team yesterday afternoon in Deisele's Auditorium, 28 to 11. This was the second game between the fives and the second victory for N. P. H. S. The lineup: N. P. H. S.—Tomlinson and Day, forwards; VanMeter, centre; Abrams and French, guards. P. H. S.—Rosenson and LaRue, forwards; Day, centre; Dealaman and Hirsh, guards.

SECOND MEN AND RELIGION SERIES AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The second series of conferences and meetings under the auspices of the Plainfield North Plainfield Men and Religion Committee will be held in the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday and Sunday, March 2 and 3. They will be in the interest of Bible study and will be led by W. D. Stem, of the Pennsylvania Sunday-school Association. The conferences on Saturday will be held at 4:30 and 8 p. m. On Sunday afternoon, Mr. Stem will address a meeting in Y. M. C. A. Hall. His topic will be "Every Man a Brother."

Mr. Stem is recognized as one of the country's foremost experts on Bible study. All men teachers of either men's or boys' Bible classes, all prospective teachers and all men or older boys interested in Bible study are cordially invited to hear Mr. Stem.

Organize B. Y. P. S.

Rev. E. W. Roberts, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church, organized a Baptist Young People's Society at the church, last night. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. M. Alexander; vice-president, E. Wilson; secretary, Mrs. J. Jayes; treasurer, Miss Sadie Jones; organist, Miss Rachel Alexander; assistant, Miss Margaret Stewart; corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Kline; chairman special committee, Miss B. Cohen. After the business a musical program was enjoyed.

School Bills.

Trenton, Feb. 29. (Special)—Boards of Education will be allowed to provide instruction for persons over twenty years of age under a bill by Mr. Groves which was passed in the House yesterday. This will enable them to provide courses for adult foreigners. Mr. Groves' bill, which would have persons who fail to have defective children treated medically, adjudged disorderly, was lost.

ENGLISH MINERS' STRIKE CERTAIN

Further Conference Will Not Avert Lockout.

BOTH SIDES ARE IMMOVABLE

Premier Asquith Confers With King George With Reference to Special Legislation—To Grant Miners Federation Power to Keep Mines In Condition to Be Worked Later.

London, Feb. 29.—There is nothing today to indicate that the further conferences to be held by the mine owners and miners with the representatives of the government will have the effect of averting a total strike of all miners. The mine owners are immovable, and the miners are equally firm, notwithstanding the moral victory they have gained in obtaining recognition of the minimum wage principle by the government and a majority of the mine owners.

Premier Asquith conferred with the king on the coal situation at Buckingham palace. There will be a special meeting of the cabinet to take action on the strike. The governmental papers say that an announcement in regard to special legislation in case of a strike may be expected after the cabinet meeting.

The miners federation will probably be authorized to do whatever work is necessary to preserve the mines by ventilation, pumping and caring for the horses.

The government in its negotiations, after expressing the belief that some of the underground employees of the mine owners cannot earn a reasonable minimum wage, proposed to the conferees that the disputants in each district meet with the government's representatives and fix a minimum rate. If a settlement cannot be reached in a reasonable time, then the government shall decide the points at issue. The mine owners of Northumberland, Scotland, South Wales and other places, comprising 40 per cent of all those involved, rejected these proposals. As stated above, 60 per cent of the mine owners accepted them, but the miners rejected the proposition.

More than 40,000 more miners have quit work, making nearly 100,000 who are out now. The official time for the strike to begin is midnight tonight.

BRANDT FREE ON BOND.

Valet's Accuser May Be Allowed to Appear Before Grand Jury.

New York, Feb. 29.—Mortimer L. Schiff, Howard S. Gans and former Police Inspector William McLaughlin will, after all, be permitted to testify before the grand jury which is now inquiring as to whether Folke E Brandt was the victim of a conspiracy.

Brandt was released on $7,500 bail.

District Attorney Whitman will consent to the appearance of Schiff, Gans and McLaughlin provided Judge Crain assumes the responsibility. If Judge Crain thinks the witnesses would not be automatically immuned under the penal law if they signed a waiver of immunity the district attorney will call the three men.

In answer to questions he said, among other things, that he did write a letter to Mrs. Schiff while a prisoner in the Tombs, which Mr. Schiff has thus far refused to make public. He declared it contained no reflection on any women, and he preferred that Mrs. Schiff should give that letter to the public.

Brandt said that when he called on Mr. Schiff in his office on the morning of March 11, 1907, Mr. Schiff received him in a friendly manner. Brandt repudiated the confession he signed in Schiff's office that morning.

TRIES TO KILL TO ROB.

Negro Attempts Murder of Aged Woman; Confesses.

New York, Feb. 29.—Within less than twelve hours Frank Cooper, a negro elevator man who was employed in the Riviera apartments, at 2441 Seventh avenue, attempted a cold blooded murder in an effort to rob an aged woman who was alone in her rooms in the apartment house, spent half of the money he had taken in midnight crap games, was seized by the police and had made a full confession of his crimes to Inspector Hughes at headquarters. He described in detail how he had beaten Mrs. Huebenor with his fists until she became unconscious and then had dragged her apparently lifeless body into the bathroom of her apartment and turned on all the gas jets in sight to insure against her living to be a witness against him.

Mrs. Huebenor, who was in her eighty-first year, will recover from the brutal injuries she received at the hands of the negro.

Taft on T. R.'s Trail.

Washington, Feb. 29.—President Taft is going to follow Colonel Roosevelt into New England. He will speak in Boston on March 18, this engagement having been made some time ago. The president announced, however, that he had extended his trip a day and will visit Nashua and Concord, N. H.

Weather Forecast.

Fair today and Friday; colder today; brisk northwesterly winds.

FIND DYNAMITE UNDER CAR FROM LAWRENCE

Cunning System to Assure Explosion Fails.

Philadelphia, Feb. 29.—Enough dynamite to wipe out the Philadelphia and Reading railroad yards was found beneath one car in a train that had brought thirty cars of woolen goods from Lawrence, Mass., where the textile workers now are on strike against the American Woolen company and other mill owners.

The sticks of dynamite were arranged along the axle of the car in a cunning system which provided for their explosion after the train had been under way several hours, and only the hitching of a little string is believed to have prevented heavy loss of life and the blowing of the entire train to splinters.

Railroad officials, fearing that dynamite has been attached to other cars now in various parts of the country have sent out a general alarm for inspection of freight trains before they are allowed to proceed.

NEW STEEL TRUST PROFIT.

Union Supply Stores Clear 100 Per Cent Profit.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The Union Supply company is the most wonderful money maker of all the subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation. This is the concern which is supposed to sell goods to steel trust employees at prices lower than they could secure elsewhere and which was described before the Stanley steel committee by Percival Roberts, Jr., a steel corporation director, as having "done more for laborers than any other agency in the United States."

Yet this quasi-philanthropic concern, according to an exhibit submitted to the Stanley committee in connection with the report on the steel corporation's books and minutes made by the committee's expert, Farquhar J. MacRae, earned $4,339,140 in eight years on a capital of $500,000. The concern's average profits were 100 per cent, which is far above the earnings of any other subsidiary corporation of the steel trust.

T. R. CARRIES CORNELL.

Students Outvote Faculty and Defeat Wilson.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 29.—Although the 200 members of the faculty who took part in the two day mock presidential election conducted by the Cornell Daily Sun stood by their fellow academician, Woodrow Wilson, the undergraduate vote, supplemented by the co-eds, put Theodore Roosevelt at the top of the list for first choice for president. Roosevelt got 721 votes, Taft 524, Wilson 515, La Follette 84, Clark 77, Harmon 63, Hughes 29 and Bryan 21.

The faculty's first choice vote was: Wilson, 94; Roosevelt, 34; Taft, 27; La Follette, 9.

The co-eds gave Roosevelt 46, Taft 38 and Wilson 35.

In the second choice list Woodrow Wilson leads all comers with 483 votes, Roosevelt 243, Taft, 420, La Follette 214.

The faculty's second choice vote was heavily for Wilson. Dr. Andrew D. White cast his vote for Taft.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY PRESS

OUR WILL REPAY FOR EFFORT

narrow margin. Miss Singellton in district No. 4, retains the honor of polling the highest vote, but her present mark of over 23,000 may look small before the close of the week. Each of the five districts shows activity on the part of some candidates who have not yet polled a high vote, but who may cast an avalanche of ballots at any time. There is no candidate who has a lead hard to overcome, so watch out for the "dark horses."

Get busy. She "who hesitates is lost!" Men who have achieved marvelous success in the business world have done so only by grasping an opportunity at the psychological moment when the best results would follow. The same principle should be applied to everything one undertakes—seeing the opportunity and taking advantage of it before it slips away. The ones who have nothing to prevent them from competing in the Daily Press European Tours contest, and who have not yet taken advantage of the splendid offer by securing votes, will regret that they passed up this chance of perhaps a lifetime to take one of the most delightful pleasure and educational trips ever offered to enterprising young women.

Scores of the young women who have been fortunate enough to win one of these trips offered by other papers have voluntarily expressed their appreciation upon their return, and all are unanimous in the statement that "they would have worked ten times as hard had they known the beauties of the tour." And the itinerary arranged for the winners in the Daily Press contest is more comprehensive and complete than is found in the large majority of contests of this kind—two months in Europe and the tour includes England, France, Germany, Holland, Belgium and Switzerland.

Then there are the five special prizes to be considered. They are not directly connected with the tour, merely rewards of merit for those who get the greatest results during a period of three weeks. The beautiful solitaire diamond ring which will be given to the contestant whose vote shows the greatest gain of all may be seen in the window at Vail's jewelry store on Park avenue. The four solid gold watches which will be given to the other four district winners are on exhibition at the jewelry stores listed at the top of this column. Every special prize is of the highest quality and is fully guaranteed by the jewelers from whom they were purchased.

The European tour and the special prizes should be sufficient to stir the young women of Plainfield to make even greater efforts to take advantage of this most generous offer. No contestant can expect her friends to become enthusiastic in her behalf unless she shows some enthusiasm herself. All that is necessary to win is to GET BUSY, KEEP BUSY AND LEAD.

SPECIAL PRIZE VOTE.

When the ballots were counted last night, the following named young women were found to be the leaders for the five special prizes:

Cost of Living Figures.

Trenton, Feb. 29, (Special)—Assemblyman Ford's bill requiring bakers to wrap bread in wax paper was defeated by the House yesterday. The introducer held that the measure was needed to protect the food from unclean bread boxes, but Mr. Watson said it would raise the cost of living to have such an act.

PROVISION FOR NAMING PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS

Trenton, Feb. 29.—Provision for the nomination of Presidential electors are contained in a bill introduced in the Senate yesterday afternoon by Senator Leavitt, of Mercer. After the Senate had adjourned he said the bill was necesssary because of the situation created by the passage of the Geran election law. The new bill was drafted according to suggestions made by William M. Johnson, of Bergen county, former assistant postmaster-general.

Under the old law Presidential electors were nominated at a State convention calleed for the purpose by th State Committee, but the Geran law has changed this and made another method necessary.

The Leavitt bill provides that the electors shall be nominated at the State convention created by the Geran act. This convention is composed of the holdover member of the Senate, the Senatorial and Assembly candidates and in the case of the dominant party, the Governor. The State convention meeets on the second Tuesday following the primary election and if this bill shall pass, the electors will be chosen at that time, both the Republicans and Democrats making the nominations the same day.

The new measure makes the State Committee of each party the agent for the respective electors, although under the Geran act the State committee can take no part in the State convention. The bill has a further provision, which is that the electoral candidates shall not be required to file the statement of campaign expenses provided in the new corrupt practice act. This will undoubtedly encounter fierce opposition from the Democrats who are friendly to Governor Wilson, on the ground that it would open a loop hole for a return to methods which the corrupt practice act abolished and thus tend to break down one of the things which has brought purer elections.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The members of the senior class of the Plainfield High School will give the junior class a reception on Saturday evening, March 19. This is an annual affair. The committees follow: Music, Viola Garda, chairman; Margaret Hawkins and James McNabb; refreshments, Schuyler Line, chairman; Jessie Stewart, Effie Beekman and Burnett Doane; patronesses, Mabel Foster, chairman; Marguerite Shotwell.

As copies of one of the plays that was to be presented as the annual senior play cannot be purchased in this country and could not be imported soon enough, it will be necessary to choose some other play. A number of other plays have been considered. Samuel Howe, who will coach the players, witnessed the performance of "Oliver Twist" in New York last night and is strongly in favor of the class giving this play.

Both Pests?

Trenton, Feb. 29, (Special).—Some wonderment was expressed in the Senate yesterday what relation there was between Republicans and mosquitos, when a petition was presented from the Third Ward Republican Club of Arlington asking for the passage of a law creating a commission for the extermination of the insect. It was finally decided, unofficially, that the Republicans desired the extinction of the mosquitos so they could give all their time to fighting the Democrats.

To Talk on Poultry Raising.

F. Warren Sumner, of the Union County Poultry Association, will give a talk on "Artificial Incubation and Brooding," before the members of the New Jersey Poultry Improvement Association, at its meting in Jr. O. A. U. A. M. Hall, Tuesday night, March 5.

A Washington Monument.

Trenton, Feb. 29, (Special)—The Senate bill creating a commission to erect a monument at Washington's Crossing was passed by the House yesterday. The measure was introduced by Senator Leavitt.

New Jersey Will Be Represented.

Trenton, Feb. 29.—The Governor yesterday signed the Nichols bill, providing an appropriation to send a Jersey delegation to the celebration of the battle of Gettysburg anniversary.

Trackless Trolley.

Trenton, Feb. 29, (Special).—Senator Smalley, of Somerset county, yesterday had his trackless trolley bill sent back to the Committee on Corporations in the Senate. He said he desired to have some minor changes made in it.

Arbor Day Date.

Trenton, Feb. 29 (Special.)—The Holloway bill changing Arbor Day from the first Friday in May to the second Friday in April was passed by the House yesterday.

For County F. B. Hospitals.

Trenton, Feb. 29 (Special.)—The Silzer bill permitting Boards of Freeholders to establish county hospitals for tuberculosis sufferers was passed by the Senate yesterday.

OFFICIAL MINUTES OF THE BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

The Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union met at the Courthouse, Elizabeth, N. J., Thursday afternoon, February 1, 1912, at 2:30 o'clock.

Director Cady and all members present.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur the reading of the minutes of January 1 and 4, 1912, was dispensed with and they were approved as per printed copies on members' desks.

Communications.

Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union county, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Dear Sirs—Receipt is acknowledged of yours of January 9, in re. resolution of the Board of Freeholders on the subject of lighting the County road. In reply thereto, beg to advise that this matter is already under consideration as far as this company is concerned, and we expect to close contract shortly covering the requirements of the ordinance referred to.

January 10, 1912.

Yours very turly,
MORRIS COUNTY TRACTION CO.,
O. G. Schultz, Secy. and Treas.

On motion by Freeholder Smith this communication was received and ordered placed on file.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Last evening, January 22, 1912, at a meeting of the Township Committee of the Township of Linden, N. J., the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Township Committee of the Township of Linden, N. J., does hereby petition the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union to take and accept as a county road all that portion of Wood avenue, lying in the said township, extending from the boundary line of Linden Borough, southerly to a point at or near tide water, and from the line of the Borough of Linden on the north, northerly to its intersection with Raritan road; and also, all that portion of Raritan road extending from its intersection with Wood avenue, westerly to its intersection with the State aid road known as Centennial avenue, in the Township of Cranford.

January 23, 1912.

Yours very truly,
G. S. EVERETT,
Township Clerk.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this communication was referred to the County Road Committee.

A communication from the Public Service Gas Company requesting permission to lay a six-inch gas main through a bridge over Green Brook at Sycamore avenue, between Plainfield and North Plainfield, and also between the counties of Union and Somerset, was read, and on motion by Freeholder Wilbur this request was referred to a committee of three to be appointed by the Director, and county engineer, with power.

The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Wilbur, Doane and Hennessy.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Union County, Elizabeth, N. J.:

Gentlemen—Not withstanding the fact that my books have been examined, by the Committee to Settle with the County Collector, quarterly during the period from January 1, 1907, to December 31, 1912, and they have made their reports to this board, certifying to the correctness of my books and accounts, yet I feel that the taxpayers are entitled to an audit by a certified public accountant of unquestioned reputation. I therefore respectfully ask that a resolution be adopted authorizing the appointment of a committee to engage a certified public accountant for the purpose of examining my books from January 1, 1907. Said accountants to report the results of their audit to this board.

This course, I believe, is in line with the present accepted practice in all progressive municipalities.

February 1, 1912.

Very respectfully,
N. R. LEAVITT, County Collector.

This communication was on motion by Freeholder Smith received and placed on file.

ADOLPH H GRUENER,
J. LOGAN FAY,
Committee.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders:

Gentlemen—Your Committee on Bridges at Russell road and at Hunter avenue, Borough of Fanwood, would report that the site has been examined, and it was found that the present bridges are in bad repair and should be replaced with new concrete bridges.

Your committee would therefore recommend that a new concrete bridge be built at Russell road, 66 feet long, 2 feet 6 inches span, and that a new concrete bridge be built at Hunter avenue, 90 feet long, 2 feet 6 inches span, the total cost of the work not to exceed the sum of $750

February 1, 1912.

Signed by the committee,
BURTON P. HALL,
J. LOGAN FAY,
CHARLES A. SMITH.

On motion by Freeholder Jones this report was received and ordered placed on file and the recommendations contained therein were on roll call, adopted, 19 ayes and 0 nays, Freeholder Acken not voting.

Gentlemen — Your Committee on South Avenue Bridge, Cranford, over the Rahway River, have met on the ground and have made a careful examination of the present bridge. It has been found that the present bridge is narrow for the traffic at the place, and it is also found that under the heavy street cars the present bridge deflects from normal conditions considerably. Your committee is of the opinion that a new bridge should be erected there.

The county of Union has an agreement with the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company to the effect that when a new bridge shall be mutually agreed upon each party to the agreement shall pay one-half of the cost of the bridge. This agreement is dated August 10, 1899.

Your committee and the county engineer has taken this matter up with the Street Railway Company and your committee has received assurances that the company is also of the opinion that a new bridge should be erected.

The following resolution is therefore presented:

Resolved, That the committee on this bridge be authorized to procure plans and to advertise for bids and to award the contract and have the work completed of building a new bridge over the Rahway River, at South avenue, Cranford, N. J., providing the Public Service Street Railway Company agrees in writing to pay the one-half portion of the cost of the same, as set forth in the agreement of August 10, 1899. The cost of the one-half portion chargeable to the county of Union not to exceed the sum of $6,000.

Signed.
GEO. G. TELLER,
BURTON P. HALL,
W. A. BOURDON.

On motion by Freeholder Wilbur this report was received and ordered placed on file, and the recommendations contained therein and resolution attached were on roll call adopted, 19 ayes and 0 nays, Freeholder Acken not voting.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Acken:

Resolved, That the county collector be authorized and directed to pay John Wolke the sum of six thousand dollars on account of Rahway River Bridge, in Clark Township, when said bill is properly approved by the committee in charge of said work.

On motion by Freeholder Krouse this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Smith:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine into the condition of and need for the rebuilding of two small wooden bridges on Rahway avenue, Westfield, and the probable cost of same and report at the next meeting.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Gruener adopted unanimously. The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Smith, McMane and Fay.

By Freeholder Smith:

Resolved, That the Director appoint a committee of three to engage a certified public accountant for the purpose of examining the books of the county collector from January 1, 1907, to December 31, 1912, at a cost not to exceed one thousand dollars.

On motion by Freeholder Randolph this resolution was on roll call adopted unanimously. The Director appointed as said committee Freeholders Smith, Meisel and Jones.

By Freeholder Krouse:

Resolved, That when this board adjourns, it adjourns to meet on Thursday, February 15, 1912, at 2:30 p. m.

This resolution was on motion by Freeholder Krouse adopted unanimously.

2nd Anniversary Sale

Sample Shoe Department

"Queen Quality" Spring Boots, Oxfords and Pumps

Queen Quality

THE FAMOUS SHOE FOR WOMEN

This unusual shoe sale marks the Second Anniversary of the Opening of Our Permanent Sample Department.

The addition of this department to our already large collection of distinctive footwear has given to the women of Newark and vicinity the opportunity to save many dollars on high grade foot covering that is above the ordinary in character.

This Second Anniversary Sale offers unusual advantages because "Queen Quality" Shoes are seldom offered for less than the regular prices, $3.50, $4 and $5, and never before in any Newark store but this.

The styles embrace button, lace and blucher boots, with cloth and kid tops; also button and lace Oxfords, plain Pumps and One, Two and Three-Strap Pumps. The choice includes gunmetal, patent colt, vici kid and black suede. SIZES FROM 1 to 8. All the popular toe shapes; some with tips, some without.

Not over two pairs to a customer.

No 'Phone or Mail Orders Filled.
